Sales Tax Reminder

Alfred University is a tax-exempt organization within New York State. Any merchandise shipped to AU from another state is a tax-exempt purchase and the exemption certificate can be used with hotel accommodations.

The University is also tax exempt for merchandise that you physically purchase in the following states: Connecticut, Florida, and Massachusetts. These exemption certificates cannot be used for hotel stays.

The University is also tax exempt in New Jersey for both merchandise and hotel accommodations.

At the time of a purchase the cardholder must tell the vendor they are tax exempt and present a tax exemption certificate if necessary. If the cardholder does not do it then it is their responsibility to contact the vendor for a credit. Most vendors will credit back the tax once they receive a tax exemption form.

For most Internet purchases you make you will see sales tax at the final checkout so you will need to contact the vendor to receive the sales tax credit.

We cannot stress how important it is to let the vendor know at the time of purchase that you are making a tax exempt purchase for your organization. These additional costs are also depleting your departmental budget.

The tax exemption certificates are available on the Procurement Services Web site link listed below under forms.

Foreign Film: 'The Diving Bell and the Butterfly' (2007) PG - 13

Tuesday, June 29 at 6:45 p.m.
Nancy Howe Auditorium at the David A. Howe Public Library, 155 N. Main St., Wellsville

Remarkable portrait of Jaen-Dominique Bauby who wrote his best-selling memoir despite suffering a stroke that paralyzed his entire body except for an eyelid. The film (U.S.-French) creates an amazing world of memory, fantasy, and self-realization as the viewer is put inside the author's consciousness. Rated PG - 13.

This library-sponsored film is free and open to the general public.
