Africa Bridge Founder, Barry Childs, to Speak

Barry Childs will speak at 6 p.m. today in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center. Between 2000 and 2001, Childs conducted over 70 interviews with Africans: children, people living with HIV/AIDS, health care workers, government officials, journalists, educators, consultants, non-governmental organizations, and members of the business community to assess the needs of African leaders in fighting HIV/AIDS. Out of those interviews came Africa Bridge, the organization he founded that is devoted to developing innovative approaches to helping those affected by HIV/AIDS.

Argentieri autopsy report sent to District Attorney

A story in Thursday's Hornell Tribune says the autopsy report on Thomas Argentieri is now in the hands of Allegany County District Terry Parker, who will decide if the case should go to the Grand Jury.

Argentieri, a senior in the College of Business, died Dec. 9, 2007, apparently of injuries sustained during a fight at a private party at an off-campus house.
