University community to collect supplies for Binghamton school

Alfred University Student Affairs and the division of Education at Alfred University are teaming up to provide relief for families who have been devastated by the recently flooding in central New York, with special focus on helping the 500+ students who were enrolled at MacArthur Elementary School.

Starting immediately, we will be conducting a donation drive to support MacArthur students. MacArthur, in Binghamton NY, was severely damaged by the recent flooding of the Susquehanna River, and all the students have been relocated to other schools. Classrooms and libraries were completely flooded, and MacArthur will likely be closed for the entire school year. Needed supplies include standard classroom materials, school supplies and office supplies. To donate, please contact Kathy Woughter for a list of requested supplies, or simply purchase and donate standard supplies that teachers and children need for school. Donations can be dropped off at the Center for Student Involvement in the Powell Campus Center throughout the week.

THE BOTTOM LINE ON CLIMATE CHANGE
TRANSITIONING TO RENEWABLE ENERGY

8:30 a.m.-6:30 p.m.
Wollman Hall, Eugene Lang Building
65 West 11th Street, 5th floor
The New School

Economists will join leading U.S. & E.U. government officials, geoscientists, policy analysts, and business leaders to discuss how transitioning to renewable energy will affect the fragile U.S. and global economies.

Panelists Include:

Ottmar Edenhofer, Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC)
James Hansen, NASA Goddard Institute for Space Studies
Peter Schlosser, Earth Institute at Columbia University
Artur Runge-Metzger, European Commission
