BISHOP BRENT DISCUSSES EDUCATION IN ADDRESS BEFORE STUDENTS

Widely Known Divine Points

Out Trend of Young America's Training at Y. W. Y. M. Open Meeting

On Sunday evening in Kenyon Memorial Hall, Bishop Charles B. Brein, bishop of the Diocese of Western New York, address students and guests. Bishop Brein discussed the importance of education, particularly the role of religion in shaping a person's character. He emphasized the importance of moral education and the need for students to develop a strong sense of values. The bishop's speech was well received, and the audience gave him a standing ovation.

FOOTBALL STARTS SEASON WITH VICTORY

Win Practice Game From Mechanics Institute

FUMBLES KEEP SCORE 14-0

The Purple and Gold won the initial game of the season at the Mechanics Institute of Rochester on a rather loosely played game on the Alfred field Friday afternoon, by a score of 14-0, touchdowns being scored by Witter and Ahern and a safety being credited to R. Campbell. It was the first game for both teams and was marked by many fumbles on both sides. The two were about evenly matched as to weight, but the team from Rochester was a harder worker in no real danger, made many long gains through the opponent's line, while the Rochester team reached almost entirely to end runs and forward passes.

It was a treatise day for a game as there was a high wind, and at the close it was evident that there was a slippery field.

This fact. with the luck of the practice on the part of the opposing team gave the contest an appearance of slowness.

"Kiddie" Witter, an old Varsity backfield man, had an easy time of it for the gridiron with his old-time speed and aggressiveness, but he was forced to retreat from his previous form for quarter on account of injuries.

Ahern, who is a member of the first team, was shifted to the backfield where he made many spectacular gains through Rochester's line. Down and Golan, the backfield men, showed great promise, an intercepted pass made by Golan being one of the features of the game.

The detailed play was as follows: Following a good start, Alfred's running end R. Campbell scored a touchdown five yards from the goal line on a high wind. The final touchdown was scored by Alfred's Witter on a pass reception. Joe蔑 Campbell was finally brought down on the forty yard line and the Purple put a point on the board.

The first period proved that the Purple warriors deserved a larger score, for Ahern, replacing Witter in the backfield and also by safety backs, had the ball sixty yards straight down the field for another touchdown. The final kickoff was followed by Alfred's gaining the ball on downs and losing it on another fumble. At the end of the game only one of the original Alfred linemen remained in position, substitutions having proved too much for an almost entirely different team.

The score by periods:

Alfred —— 0 6 6 0 — 14

A Gateway—Electrical

ONLY a forty-foot gateway bounded by two brick pilasters and ornamental lamps, but it is unlike any other gateway in the entire world.

For back of it is the General Electric Company’s main office building, accommodating 2300 employees. And just next door is its main laboratory with the best equipment for testing, standardizing and research at the command of capable engineers. Then down the street a mile long—are other buildings where electrical products are made by the thousands of electrical workers who daily stream through.

Through this gateway messages and representatives from a score of factories and over fifty branch offices come and go every hour—an endless chain of coordinated activities carrying on and enlarging the scope of over a quarter century’s work for the betterment of mankind.

What a story this gateway would tell, if it could, of the leaders of the electrical industry and of ambassadors from other industries and institutions—and from foreign lands. The story would be the history of electric lighting, electric transportation, electrified industries and electricity in the home.

The special premedical and pre-dental courses have attracted a large number of the men, about 26% having registered for these courses.
The mass meeting in Ay Hall Thursday night was one of the best attended and properly conducted meetings we have ever had. Starting promptly at 7:30 cheer leader McMahon didn't let things get a single moment. Interpersed between the songs and yells were words from the members of the music and short talks by Dr. Russell Ferguson and Coach Westover.
President Davis attended the reception given by the former graduate manager, Prof. Bennhoff, and to Coach Westover and former student William Worthington whose reception was quite apparent from the connection in the halls and the length of the receiving lines. Miss Florence Bowden, president of the W. Y. C. A. and Donald Burdick, president of the V. Y. C. M. A. extended the welcome of the Associations to the new students. President Davis supplemented these words of welcome and emphasized the moral and spiritual values in the lives of the students. The program included a viola by Prof. Wingate and a viola selection by Benjamin Volk affected the musical part of the program.

Underclass Banquets Again Considered
At the student body meeting to be held tomorrow morning after Assembly, the question of underclass banquets will be reopened. Last spring the students voted down the $100.00 Prize Banquet, suggested by the trustees, but accepted amendments reducing contest hours during banquet week from a total of 76 on four days, to thirty hours on three days of the week. In spite of this modification and the new rules barring upperclassmen and limiting the distance to a radius of five miles decided opposition to any such contest is still coming from faculty, trustees and the athletic advisory board.

That the traditional banquets, and solicitation for donations, are not evil in the eyes of the students as far as the viewpoint of their older well-wishers, was proved by the defeat of the proposed alteration of the banquet rules. Tomorrow morning the first step toward another victory will have to be taken, when Stan Banks, president of Students Association, reads the following article in the Campus Bugle. Next week when the question comes up for vote, President Davis will probably address the undergraduates in another attempt to show that, without contested money, the students should be healthful, happy and wise.

The banquet rules, as they now stand, are found in Article 4: Section 1. Underclass banquets are to be held during the period between 2 P.M. and 11 P.M. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, starting on the third Tuesday in October. This part shall apply also to any preparation, except as stated in Section 3, for a banquet by any number of members of the class. There shall be no amplification of a banquet before 1 P.M. of the day on which it is to be held.

Following sections give rules concerning totals, formal preparation and means of obtaining and announcing the victory.

Frank L. Bartlett becomes Trustee of Alfred University
At a meeting of the Board of Trustees, in the one hundred and twenty-junior year of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Building, 1 Madison Avenu, New York City, on Monday, September 26, Frank L. Bartlett, president of the Exchange National Bank of Olean, was elected Trustee of Alfred University to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Frank Hurlburt Smith.
The Trustees have, for some time had under consideration the selection of a trustee from Cattaraugus County. Mr. Bartlett was the unanimous choice of the Board, and his entrance upon the Board is a matter of great importance to the University, and all the citizens of western New York, are to be congratulated.
