

THIEL WILL PRESENT, 1926 AGAIN CHAMPIONS STRONG OPPOSITION

Varsity Confident of Victory

The Varsity will face another tough battle this week when it lines up against the fast and heavy Thiel machine Saturday afternoon at Greenville, Pa.

Thiel has a fast, heavy, well-seasoned squad. The line is probably much heavier from end to end than the Alfred line. The back field is fast and experienced. The Greenville gridsters have also developed this year a well oiled and smooth-working hard-hitting machine. Steam-roller tactics as well as trick plays are used by the Pennsylvania lads, thus the Alfred line as well as the back field will have to be constantly on guard if Thiel is kept from scoring.

So far this year the Lutherans have had extraordinary success, having been defeated only by Carnegie Tech. Buffalo bowed to Thiel 15 to 3, and Geneva, last year's champion of the class B colleges in Pennsylvania, fell before the Thielensions 28-3.

The foregoing facts fully emphasize the point that Alfred has a battle on her hands. Despite the fact that the purple squad is somewhat crippled a result of the last two games she will take a strong and fighting aggregation to Greenville, and with an ordinary amount of good fortune will put a bad kink in the Thiel winning streak.

FIRE THREATENS NEW LAB

Hot Tar Spreads Blaze

DAMAGES SLIGHT

An uncommon fire starting from the outside damaged the new laboratory building last Thursday morning. Mr. Fenner's men were boiling tar close to the back of the building when the wooden plug of the boiler burned out and let the hot tar escape. Catching fire, the tar ran rapidly, spreading the flames over the rubbish and the back of the building. Fearing the fire would get up under the building to the joists, the men poured water on the inside. Fire on the outside and water on the inside broke many windows but saved the joists. An alarm was put in but all aid was unnecessary by the time the "fire force" arrived. The building was not yet insured. The damage amounted to 62 broken windows, a blackened building which was easily cleaned, and the loss of 25 gallons of tar.

There was also some injury to the unwieldy fire cart on its head-long rush to the fire. This remarkable and demoniac engine for fire prevention has an impish aversion for the middle of the road. By the time it reached Babcock Hall it took to the by paths head over heels,—result: one acid can broken, a wheel sprung, and an injured pride. Treatment in Alfred Blacksmith shop.

Freshmen Trounce Ag Victors 26-0

MOORE '26 STARS

To hold the undisputed championship of Alfred University the college freshmen need only defeat the winners of the Junior-Senior game next Friday, having defeated the Ag School champions last Friday 26-0 and the college Sophomores 60 earlier in the year.

Two of the four touchdowns in last Friday's game came as the result of the terrific line plunging of Moore, the Freshman. In the last quarter Moore broke through the Ag line and ran thirty yards for final score.

The sensation of the contest was a forward pass from Blair to Welch who snatching the oval out of the air, raced thirty-five yards for a touchdown.

HARRIERS DEFEAT BUCKNELL

Alfred X Country Runners Make Great Showing

LIMIT SCORE

Finishing the course eight abreast, "Doc" Ferguson's hill and dale runners defeated Bucknell by the highest possible score 15 to 40 in the face of what was believed by many to be certain defeat, last Friday afternoon.

Making all due allowances, for the weakness of the Pennsylvania team which was composed mostly of new men, who were running their first race on a course which is much more hilly than that of Bucknell, the performance of the Alfred men is still remarkable.

Although the visiting team which had suffered from the long and tiresome trip of the day before, soon found itself left far in the lurch. Nevertheless the Pennsylvania lads stuck doggedly and all finished with great spirit though several minutes behind the Alfred team.

The runners finished in the following order: 1. Cole (A), 2. Lyons (A), 3. Smith (A), 3. Wood (A), 3. Navin (A), Weiner (B), McNutt (B), Ware (B), Massina (B), Hendrickson (B).

ATHLETIC COUNCIL NOTES

Freshmen To Play in Hornell Thanksgiving Day

This is the first time in years that the Freshmen have proved a real success on the gridiron. Owing to this fact, Director Champlin has scheduled a game with Hornell High School for Thanksgiving day to be played at the Maple City Park in Hornell. Although this is contrary to the rules of the Athletic Association, it has been decided that the game shall be played as previously arranged.

It is hoped that the Freshmen will continue their success and come through the season with a clean slate, also that every member of the University present during the vacation, will witness the game and root the yearlings to victory.

The mass meeting before the Thiel game will be held on Wednesday, the 22d instead of Thursday on account of a theater party which will be held by the Klan Alpine, in Hornell on Thursday evening.

ALFRED BOWS TO ALLEGHENY

Pennsylvania Team Outclasses Purple

LOBAUGH RUNS 90 YARDS FOR TOUCHDOWN

Fighting against the heavier and faster Allegheny eleven, the Purple and Gold warriors escaped a white wash by scoring a touchdown in the last thirty seconds of play in their annual gridiron clash, at Meadville, last Saturday. Score 33-7.

Cocky and confident from their recent string of victories, the Meadville boys played a fast, snappy game. The line was powerful and the backfield fast. The wonderful line interference and Pitt system of criss-cross completely smothered Alfred's ends and tackles, at times. In all, the Allegheny eleven presented the smoothest working machine that the varsity has faced this season. Playing the game every minute, they were out to pile up a score.

Except for the first quarter, the Alfred gridsters played an excellent defensive game. With the score 20 to 0 against them at the end of the opening quarter, Alfred fought the Alleghenians bitterly for each yard. More than once the powerful Allegheny eleven came to a halt as they neared Alfred's goal line. With R. Campbell, Robinson and Fraser out of the game early in the first half and Ahern, McMahon and Johnson out in the second half, this defense was all the more remarkable. Outclassed completely, they did all that an Alfred team could do, they fought.

In the last two minutes of play, Allegheny in an attempt to put another touchdown across, began to hurl forward passes. After two of these had been broken up, Lobaugh, standing on Alfred's ten yard line intercepted the third pass and aided by fast interference, carried the ball ninety yards for Alfred's sole counter.

Alfred's only sign of offensive occurred following the kick-off after Allegheny's third touchdown. By the old shoestring play, McConnell hurled a long forward pass to Bliss who carried the oval forty yards before being downed. Here, unable to advance the ball by rushing, Alfred attempted a forward pass which Allegheny intercepted.

While the team suffered several minor injuries, nothing of a serious nature is reported. The entire squad will be in shape for the Thiel game, Saturday.

DEAN TITSWORTH READS

Last Wednesday afternoon in the English room in Kanakadea Hall, Dean Titsworth read some selections from Herman Melville's "Moby Dick." As a "curtain raiser," he chose a chapter from "Light Interviews with the Shades," a recently published work of Robert W. Jones, son of Dr. Jones, of Hornell.

The passages from "Moby Dick" were presented in a sympathetic manner, and all those who were fortunate enough to hear the Dean's interpretation of them, could not fail to be impressed by the power and strength of the author.

FIRST NUMBER OF ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

The first number of the Alfred Community Entertainment course was presented Nov. 14 by the delightful character portrayalist and story-teller, Roseltha Knapp Breed. She received unusual response from the audience.

Her program consisted of intimate and vivid character sketches of real people of many different types—both humorous and pathetic, both children and those other children called grown-ups. Her pleasing personality, her realistic and humorous portrayals, her histrionic ability make her popular as an entertainer and dramatic impersonator.

ALFRED CERAMIC GUILD

The Ceramic Guild of Alfred, under the management of Miss Laura Stillman, is getting ready for its annual Christmas sale in December. There will be an attractive variety of bowls, flower holders, vases, and jars for sale. Orders are now being taken for pieces especially desired, and it is suggested that any further orders be given within the next week in order to have them filled for Christmas.

An exhibit from the School including an exquisitely fine group by Prof. Binns, has gone to the Normal School at Oswego, N. Y. At the Smithsonian Institute Museum in Washington, D. C. some of the work of several of the members of the Ceramic Guild is being shown, and it is hoped that the annual fall-winter exhibit of the New York Society of Craftsmen in the Art Center, New York City, will include some of the work produced here in Alfred. By keeping in touch with as many as possible of the organizations promoting the production of Arts and Crafts, the members of the Guild are stimulated by the work of others, and become acquainted with the field they enter after graduation.

The Guild Council this year includes Mary Irish as president, C. Fredora Moore as treasurer, and Anna Merrill, Catherine Neuweisinger, Evelyn Tenyson, Ruth Whitford, and Clarice Davis.

THE POULTRY, EGG, FRUIT AND POTATO SHOW

Last Wednesday and Thursday was the scene of Ag School's most successful shows in a number of years. Excellent exhibits of all produce and stock were shown in the basement, first and second floor with an overflow egg show in the Library. The fruit show was probably the most attractive of all, having a large and colorful exhibit from different sections of the Ontario Fruit Belt. S. J. Kirkpatrick, a former student, sent in nine bushels of apples and pears for exhibition and after the show, Pres. Davis was given a bushel, the Ag Faculty got some fruit, about a half bushel a piece and the rest of Kirkpatrick's exhibit was distributed among the students at Friday's Assembly. A unique feature of the egg show was the plates of eggs showing the market grades of eggs and the current prices. This exhibit was prepared by the Poultry Marketing class under the direction of Prof. Geo. S. Robinson. The potato show was well represented as was also the poultry show. Dr. E. V. Hardenburg gave a lecture on potatoes, Prof. Oskamp on fruit for the home orchard, and Prof. Powell gave two talks on poultry. All three of these men are connected with the State College at Cornell. This year's show was a great success and well attended and all members of the Faculty and students who helped are to be congratulated.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE GIRLS HOLD A FUNERAL

Thursday morning at Assembly a public funeral was held in Ag Hall. Dame Drudgery was the "corpse" and the girls were the "pall bearers." Bringing the corpse in on a stretcher, a funeral song was sung over Dame Drudgery's body and then she was borne out of the hall to the tune of a funeral dirge. The girls came back after the burial and gave a song on the different jobs of house work, such as sweeping the floor, washing the windows, baking and sewing. Mrs. Clarke was in charge of the funeral, Miss Titsworth assisting. Preceding the funeral services, Miss Titsworth and Ethel Burdette sang a duet. The Domestic Science girls are: Gladys Kinyon, Elma Terry, Genevieve Martiny, Edna Weaver, Eleanor Weaver, Ethel Burdette, Vera Lake and Doris Clarke. All of the program was exceptionally good and the girls are to be congratulated as well as Mrs. Clarke and Miss Titsworth for the originality of their program.

BENNY VOLK ENTERTAINS AT ASSEMBLY

Prof. Wingate brought our old college friend, Benny, over to play last Monday at assembly. Benny's "rep" as a violinist is not new to those who have attended Assembly dances, and other occasions where he and his orchestra have played. His program was well arranged and no flaws could be picked in his playing. It is sincerely hoped that Benny will come over and play again before the year is over and he is lost sight of altogether. Prof. Wingate accompanied at the piano.

Clifford Cone '21 was in town during the Ag exhibits. "Bill" Newcomb '22, and wife were in town last Thursday attending the annual Ag exhibits. Bill brought a load of Addison High School boys up for the potato show.

TAU SIGMA ALPHA (Ag Girls' Club)

"Billy" Ames spent the week-end with Julia Lain at her home in Hornell.

Misses Edythe Spalding and Ruth Kinyon returned to their homes at Middleport, N. Y., Monday, much to the sorrow of Si Brookins.

Mrs. Fred Batty visited her daughter Margaret at the Morton House last Monday evening.

Betty Stow and Gay Kinyon attended the cattle show at Hornell last Wednesday. No stock was bought.

Mrs. William Newcomb of Addison was a guest of Tau Sigma Alpha at luncheon on Thursday.

The Domestic Science girls are becoming very proficient in the art of cooking. Their latest achievement is the substitution of apple sauce for cream in coffee by one of the best known of the Department.

The High Schools judging teams were treated to a surprise and a feast last Thursday noon by the Domestic Science girls. An excellent luncheon was served and prepared by the girls. About forty were served. So Brookins was observed looking around the third floor for the best cook after the luncheon and was discovered washing dishes in the same pan with one of the most popular girls. Who is she?

DIRECTOR CHAMPLIN SPEAKS AT C. L. C. A.

Sunday evening, Nov. 12th, Director Champlin spoke to the Christian Association on "Citizenship." He gave some very good advice, as to our duties as citizens and told just what those duties should be. He said that we should be of some benefit to our home communities and aid in seeing that every boy and girl had the benefit of more than a high school education. Our laws are not adequate in education and there are still many things to be done, towards giving every boy and girl a proper education, regardless of social class. He also stated that another one of our duties was to get to the polls and cast our vote as citizens no matter what the election was held for, because that is one of the duties of a real American citizen. He said that while in school, we should begin to prepare ourselves as future citizens and that every citizen has certain duties, both socially and politically and should contribute something to his community.

THETA THETA CHI

Misses Mary Mead and Avis Pratt were guests at dinner Tuesday evening.

Florence Luhrs was a guest at dinner Thursday evening.

Mrs. Wesbecher spent the week-end at Morgan Hall.

Miss Landwehr was a guest of Mrs. Seidlin at dinner Wednesday.

Beatrice Hunt and Delora Sanford were in Hornell Thursday.

Miss Sanford was a guest of Lillian Martin at dinner Thursday.

Ethel Hayward and Joyce Baldwin were in Hornell Saturday.

Betty Robie was in Cuba this week-end.

Margaret Kinney has been quite ill recently.

Winnifred Stout visited the Hall last week.

New books received at the library: "Iva Paine" by Etta Greenapple; "She and the Shiek" by Ritta Lotta Bosh. (Saturday Evening Post).

Choice of a Career

From the Yale News

THE NINETY-FOUR

Someone, probably an insurance agent, was quoted recently as saying that from the mass of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose to the Polo and butler class, perilously near the top of the financial ladder. Five others became comfortably off and found themselves after twenty years at the small yacht and chauffeur stage. The other ninety-four presumably congregate in the great section of the American people who drive their own Buicks to the golf club. In other words, dreaming about being a rich man is one thing, and making the grade is "something else again."

Yet the ninety-four presumably work just as hard as the sumptuous six. Their business is the axis on which a small and uninteresting world revolves. They have become devotees of the dollar and when that fickle deity deserts, have nowhere else to turn. Jammed in a dull, straight rut of business they can never leave the road and jump the fence into finer fields of life. This, then, is the portion of ninety-four men out of every hundred now on the campus.

The answer to the problem lies in the proper choice of a career.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.

"Library, a place appropriated for holding a collection of books kept for use and not for merchandise. It may also be a study," says Webster's International Dictionary. Let's look over the definition. "A place appropriated." yes, our library represents an appropriation of at least $70,000, "for holding a collection of books" — no comment, "for use and not for merchandise"—a tremendously significant phrase.

To whom it may concern—and it concerns every student and representative of Alfred University—the library of Alfred has become, or will become if present conditions prevail, a place not where books may be used but as an empty vault where books may have been. Do you know that students and even some members of the faculty violate the honor system daily when they "sneak out" books without having them properly catalogued? Do you know that those same persons are committing a theft and a serious one? What are they stealing? Why, time and twine at Alfred are as limited as the proverbial hen's teeth,—labor—it takes much work and trouble to find books which aren't—, money—each book costs on an average of one dollar, while many tomes cannot be replaced for love of money; it is not necessary to enumerate further. Carelessness, you say, yes but it's a dangerous kind of carelessness. Do you want to allow people in your own private libraries, who have a careless habit of allowing your books to accompany them out and away? Should a score of people suffer for one person's "carelessness?" Again what's the use of paying a capable librarian if you don't respect the rights of his office?

Every book has a card index number. What for? Why to keep the history books from becoming too intimate with the books on philosophy or natural science. When the librarian goes for a book he naturally expects to find it or at least ascertain who has it. If you "forget" to get "signed up" for a book, who besides yourself knows where it is?

For the use of all students reserve shelves are placed in the library, set aside for particular departmental work. Reserve books are placed on these shelves for use. Perhaps a dozen students will need the same book. When one "careless" student willfully sneaks a reserve book out how can the rest of the class get the assignment?

Lamentable it is that the librarian cannot act as a police force and patrol the precincts of the library on the lookout for absent-minded students who hurry away with reserve books and others without leaving a hint as to their whereabouts. But, you say, Alfred has the Honor System. Then why not maintain it? Report all cases of violation of library rules. After someone has been forbidden to enter or use the library, will the rest of us cease to be careless? Why have an Honor System that won't work in the library as well as in the class room?

Suppose each student appoints himself a committee of one to help preserve the dignity, the worth, the use of that institution so necessary to every one—the building set aside as a non-merchandised establishment.

A STUDENT.

FACULTY FROLIC

It is rumored about town that the Hippodrome with its spectacle of brilliant scenic effects and entertaining actors has nothing—on the gala dress of the Agricultural barn as it was decked out for the faculty frolic last Saturday evening.

It comes to us at second hand that never in the history of the University has the faculty enjoyed such a spirited romp in which all members of the teaching staff from the oldest to the youngest have been able to cast aside the mask of professorial dignity and indulge in such a delightful session of sheer fun.

Many participated in the faculty blowing contest and there was a distinct hush, followed by a long roll of applause when the prizes were awarded to the champion blowers. Another feature of the evening was the jousting contest in which long rows of faculty members faced each other on saw horses and trotted out gallantly on their steeds into the lists awaiting the blast of the horn immediately upon which followed one of the warmest encounters on record since the days when the Black Knight stormed up that unsurmountable hill from the top of which beamed forth the much coveted castle of Chalucet. The ladies present seemed to feel that there was a humor to the situation much the same as did those ladies who attended the great mortal combats of the days of Claudius. It must be we are tottering on the brink of a terrible period of abject decadence, for the members of the fair sex to view with glee such a glory contest. The noble knights vied with each other in their feats of physical strength, but the only trouble was they had no helmets and several received most excruciating blows upon their konks and were forced to retreat to the far side of the lists rubbing their alabaster domes and mumbling virile ejaculations as they cantered off on their steeds. The excitement became so tense and the gregarious and convivial instinct so highly developed, that one of the fair ladies, fairly reeling with excitement and hysterical laughter, slipped from her moorings, tearing her wearing apparel, and spilling her glass of cider as she slid to the floor of the court (the barn, spouting a stream of nectaric cider into the ethereal atmosphere like a sperm whale.

The record time for the peanut contest was 2-58. The winner of the prize in this contest pushed a peanut with his nose the entire length of the barn floor in this record time.

This event had no sooner closed when several members of the company burst out upon the floor from the dressing room attired in beautiful folk-dance costumes, and the cheering thereafter for the next few minutes was immense. Then came the first primitive dance—a most aesthetic little skit—the folk-dance of Dahomme, Africa. It was a very natural and most graceful little thing savoring of real art and nature. The dances of all nations followed. It was an educational, instructive and above all interesting program. The Hawaiian dance of the Muses and the Dahomme dance, won the prizes. These were executed with perfection by two of the most charming members of the faculty. No tea was poured, but cider was drunk in abundance.

The ceiling was arched in fan vaulting and mid-way down the nave of the barn was unveiled a most gorgeous and sumptuous electrical organ upon which were played all the latest hits in songdom, while the members of the party frisked across the floor on roller skates, as many happy hours sped by.

After this had gone on for some time, one of the members who had been out in the transept at the refreshment stand lumbered in the hall where all was merriment and drummed on one of the chairs in order to gain the attention of the gathering. Reaching his hand into his pocket he said, "How much is the National Debt—I'll pay it." A most enjoyable evening was had and everyone went to his home, happy.

NO BASEBALL!

Sometime in the past an editorial was published in the Fiat concerning Baseball. It contended that Baseball should be considered seriously this year before it was outcast, as a varsity sport.

At a meeting of the Athletic Council last Wednesday evening, it was decided to leave Baseball out of the list of Varsity sports for this year for the following reasons: 1. The Baseball season in Alfred is necessarily a short one because of weather conditions. 2. Because of Track coming at the same time, conflicts would be numerous. 3. No collegiate games could be scheduled at this late hour for this year. 4. Ten colleges in this district do not play Baseball at all. 5. Last but not least,—the strain on the financial end of the Association would be a great one, since expenses will run higher this year because of the addition of Cross Country Running, also because much money has been expended in football equipment and other necessary supplies.

Regardless of the fact that many of the councillors are ardent baseball fans and admirers, it was decided to count baseball out of this year's sports, for the foregoing reasons.

It is hoped this decision of the Council will not create much dissatisfaction among the students after a study of this field has been accomplished.

FIRST POEM OF CONTEST IS SUBMITTED

The following is the first poem to be submitted to the Fiat editor in this year's contest. Ten dollars will be awarded for the best poem of the year.

The judges are to be Dean Titsworth, Prof. Binns and Dr. Adamec. As it is desirable that the name of the author be unknown to the judges, all poems shall be submitted to the Fiat editor:

You're as pretty as flowers that bloom in June,
Your manner's as light as beams from the moon,

Mademoiselle.

Your smile has tiny nooks of charm,
Many people it could disarm,
But—oh—does it do no harm,

Mademoiselle?

Your blushing cheeks are soft and round,
A lovelier face could scarce be found,

Mademoiselle.

Your sweet, blue eyes are large and dark,

Your merry glances men may mark,
But is there one tender spark,

Mademoiselle?

Your rippling hair is rich and bright,
Your pearly brow would an artist delight,

Mademoiselle.

Your lips are a roseate hue,
They're full and perfect and winsome,
too,

But—oh—are they true,

Mademoiselle?

You were meant for laughter and for play,
Made to dance the hours away,

Mademoiselle.

No real love your heart can sever,
You're as fickle as airy zephyrs ever,
But more than frivolous?—Never!

Mademoiselle.

ALUMNI

What's the matter with the Alumni?

They're all right,
Who's all right?
Part of the Alumni,
Who says so?

We do.

Who are we?

Alfred Alumni

Way back to '76.

Here are some of the alumni who are trying to help Alfred make her name greater. Those from out-of-town who attended last Friday's, Nov. 10, football game were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nichols, Chester Feig, Hon. and Mrs. J. J. Merrill, Clifford Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Walter King, Dr. Bliss, and daughter, Carl Hopkins, Fred Whitford, Ruth Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harrington, Miss Kinney, Mr. Newton.

Many of these people don't miss a game played in Alfred, and we surely can call them loyal.

Our only means of continued communication among the alumni is through the Fiat Lux. How many of us help support it? We know of at least one instance where the sample copy of the Fiat was sent to an alumnus of about twenty years ago who without a word or murmur sent the required amount of money for subscription. How much do you suppose he gets out of the Fiat? At least he is an Alfred helper. Are you one? Help out by contributing articles for the alumni page, by attending football and basketball games, by subscribing for the Fiat Lux. Don't be a back number by not boosting Alfred and its alumni.

Mr. and Mrs. Latimer Steele were in town over the week-end.

Miss Iola Lanphere came for the Delta Sig dinner Nov. 11, and the first Assembly dance Saturday evening.

THAT SCORE BOARD

Students and townspeople are all pleased at the revival of the custom of ringing the chapel bell. Now if something could be done with the score board!

BRICK

Mildred Faulstick, A. U. '22, was the guest of Marion Woodward this week-end.

Seven of the Brick girls went to Hornell Tuesday night to hear Harry Lauder.

The presidents of the Christian Associations gave an informal party for the Cabinets and those who had helped in the recent drive, in the under-class parlors on Wednesday evening. Everyone reported a very enjoyable time.
