

FIRE AGAIN VISITS ETA PHI

Fraternity Suffers Second Fire in Twenty Days

For the second time in twenty-one days fire drove the Eta Phi Gamma fraternity from its home, when last Saturday night, the house formerly owned by V. A. Baggs and temporarily rented by the fraternity, caught fire and the rear of the house severely damaged. Aside from slight damage from smoke, furniture and household goods, belonging to the fraternity suffered very little.

Exactly three weeks ago Saturday night the house owned by the Eta Phi Gamma caught fire, the entire third floor completely gutted, and the southeast corner burned to the ground, resulting in a loss of $9,500 partially covered by insurance. In addition to building damage, smoke, fire and water caused a $1,250 furniture loss which was fully taken care of by insurance. The fire of three weeks ago broke out on the third floor of the house near a chimney, and is thought to be the result of a defective chimney flue, while that of Saturday started about a gas light in the kitchen.

Leaving the house early to attend the basketball game the fraternity members left the house empty for several hours. Although it is claimed that all lights were carefully turned down, it is thought that the gas came on later in the evening causing the fire.

At ten o'clock several people in the village smelled smoke, but it was not until nearly eleven that Carlyle Prentice, a sophomore in college, turned in the alarm. The Crandall Hook & Ladder Co., who were at that moment holding their annual banquet, lost no time in appearing on the scene.

In spite of the excellent work done by the firemen, the fire which had gained considerable headway, was not entirely extinguished until nearly 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

INCREASE IN ATHLETIC FEE

Due to the fact that the University is to change from the present system of three terms of school a year, to two semesters, some action regarding the payment of student's athletic fees was found to be necessary. The present fee is $3 per term. At the last meeting of the Athletic Council, a resolution was adopted which proposed to change the fee to $5 per semester. This, for the entire year is but an increase from $9 to $10. This resolution will be voted upon by the student body following Assembly next Wednesday:

Resolved, "That the athletic fee beginning with the fall term of 1923, shall be increased to $5 a semester."

FRESHMEN TAKE TWO OUT OF THREE

Holiday Trip Through Pennsylvania Successful

During Christmas vacation the Freshman basketball team journeyed through the mountains of Pennsylvania, playing three games, winning the first two and being defeated in the last, by a one point margin.

On New Year's night the "Iroquois" team, of Bradford was defeated to the tune of 30-23. The Iroquois are an exceptionally fast aggregation rating very highly in their section. While in Bradford the team was entertained at the homes of Paul P. Lyon '96 and Rev. W. W. Dailey.

On Tuesday the American Legion team of Rigway were put on the short end of a 25-23 score.

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL IN ALFRED

Fraternities Get Together

Thursday night, Jan. 11, representatives from the four different college fraternities met in the Seminar room of the library to talk over and make plans for an inter-fraternity council. Although nothing was definitely decided in this meeting, steps were taken toward the drawing up of a constitution and a meeting called for, two weeks from that date.

Alfred has long felt the need of such an organization and with the rise of a new fraternity it was deemed the proper time to begin this movement which will develop as new fraternities arise.

For several years faculty and fraternities have at different times, tried to establish this council, but always these attempts have been squelched. However, it is believed that this attempt will succeed and in due course of time an inter-fraternity council will be established.

PRE-ASSEMBLY DANCE

Large Crowd Returns From Vacation

Academy Hall was the mecca of all pleasure seekers, Monday evening, Jan. 8th, when the regular pre-assembly dance was held there. The weeks of vacation had only served to heighten every one's enthusiasm and good humor, and the hours till midnight passed all too swiftly. Volk's college orchestra furnished the music.

SENATE NOTES January 10

The meeting was called to order by the president; the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Likewise, Freshmen will please observe Article II, Section XII, under Campus Rules which states that "All Freshmen shall keep off the grass on the Campus west of Kanakadea." The fact that there is snow on the grass is not a means of getting around this rule.

DR. RAINE GIVES ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

Famous Explorer Talks on Alaska

Edgar C. Raine, the Alaskan explorer, delivered his interesting address on "The Lure of the North," before a good sized and most appreciative audience in Firemens Hall, last Thursday evening.

Mr. Raine has spent the last twelve years in Alaska and Siberia, and during the World War he was chosen as the chairman of Draft Board of Alaska.

The lecture was accompanied by slides of the beautiful region of the northland. The speaker told of the six weeks of continuous day which he experienced on his northern trip and of his novel experience of witnessing a football game at eleven o'clock at night. He exhibited slides of very fine vegetables which were raised 200 miles above the Arctic circle. The romance of the frozen north lived in the minds of his listeners as Mr. Raine gave his narrative of his work with the people, the dog teams and the country.

It is hoped that Alfred may again in the not far distant future, have the pleasure of listening to other speakers of the same merit exhibited by Mr. Raine.

ASSEMBLY ADDRESS

Dr. Ferguson Speaks on Athletics

Last Wednesday, the Assembly was pleasurably entertained by "Doc" Ferguson of the "Steinheim and points west." Dr. Ferguson chose as his topic, Athletics, putting emphasis on track.

Having recently attended the National Collegiate Athletic Convention held at New York, the speaker was able to talk quite readily on the more recent developments in the Athletic world.

After giving minor details on the conference, the real surprise was sprung. To show that Alfred is winning recognition among the colleges as far as track is concerned. Dr. Ferguson told of an invitation to send men to a cross-country meet at Syracuse.

The credit for this recognition should go largely to Dr. Ferguson for his work in putting out a winning cross-country team in Alfred.

CONCERNING "CAR 69"

Few gifts from friends have been so completely gratifying, pleasing, and surprising, as the one I recently received from "the car 69." May I express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the group of which I am ever the more proud,—"car 69."

INVADING PENNSY TONIGHT

Purple Squad in Best of Condition

OPEN SEASON WITH FOUR DAY TRIP

With two practice games safely put away, the Purple basketball squad get into real action this week when they make a swing into the Keystone state, playing Allegheny, Westminster, Thiel and St. Bonaventure.

While getting away to a late season start, the Varsity quintet gives all indications of being the fastest five to represent Alfred in the past few years. The squad has been hard at work since January 1st, under Coach Wesbecher, who is extremely anxious to encounter some of the colleges that have taken Alfred's scalp in the last two seasons.

As they play four college quintets this week, the trip will be a real test of Alfred's strength and, in a certain sense, a forecast of whether Alfred is to rise in the basketball world this season. The entire four teams to be met on this trip defeated Alfred last season and so nothing will be left undone to bring back favorable scores. The first game of the trip which will officially open the season for Alfred, is with Allegheny at Meadville on Tuesday evening. Here they will undoubtedly meet the stiffest opposition of any game on the trip. On the following evening they meet Westminster at New Wilmington. Thursday night the Varsity will attempt to settle many old scores for Alfred when they go to Greenville to meet Thiel. Swinging home from here, they play St. Bona at Allegheny on Friday evening.

The two practice games this past week have been a great aid to the squad in getting into shape. These games have given the Varsity five an opportunity to get used to each other and have been of wonderful aid in the developing of their floor work. In addition to this, they have enabled Coach Wesbecher to get a line on his material and to get a smooth working combination together.

The twelve men on the squad selected from the Inter-class League, trials are Gardner, Chamberlain, Lobaugh, Babcock, Peterson, Lahr, McConnell, Youngs, Johnson, Borden, Welch, and Hinchcliffe. Of these, seven men are Freshmen, who promise well for basketball here in the next three years.

Of the first string men, Gardner, is the only veteran. As captain Don will be the main factor in keeping the team together and on their toes. Always a hard fighter, he shows improved form this year and gives much indication of working smoothly with the new combination and being the main cog in the defense.

Chamberlain, his running mate, is a tall powerful built guard. While never losing his forward, he is apt to be found at either end of the court and will without doubt, be no small factor in the point getting of the Purple quint.

Lobaugh, fast floor man, plays a fast, hard game at forward. Always following the ball he is an accurate shot. If he maintains the form exhibited thus far, he will undoubtedly prove the highest point-getter for the Varsity. In addition to this, Lobaugh nets the majority of his tries from the foul line.

As a running mate at forward, to Lobaugh, Babcock is all that can be desired. Fast on his feet he handles the ball remarkably well. Babcock can be depended upon to net some field goals each game.

Peterson, the rangy, well built center, shows promise of being developed into an excellent man for the pivot position. Few centers will be met who will be able to secure the tip-off on him. In addition to this, Peterson is one of the important factors in the floor work of the Varsity.

With this line-up to start each game and the other seven men on the squad to pick from, Alfred can expect to place a fast working five on the floor and come through the season with a fair record.

ALFRED 27, HORNELL 7

In the opening game of the season, the Purple quintet easily defeated the Hornell State Highway Department team at Academy Hall last Wednesday, 27-8.

Both teams showed lack of practice, though the Varsity had the game well in hand at all times. The entire Alfred squad was given a chance to get in the game. As a practice game it was all that could be desired.

While, perhaps, the varsity five did not work as evenly as had been hoped, too much could not be expected from the opening game. Lobaugh proved the individual star of the evening, playing a fast hard game and netting five of the nine field goals.

The line-up:
Alfred
Babcock (4)
Lobaugh (17)
Peterson (2)
Chamberlain (2)
Gardner

ALFRED 32, BOLIVAR 30

In a fast and hotly contested game, Alfred defeated the Bolivar Semi-Pros last Saturday evening at Academy Hall 32-30.

The Bolivar five, led by "Chief" Witter, formerly of Alfred's fame, put up a hard fight at all stages of the game. Substitution of cold men in the Varsity line-up in the closing minutes of play gave them their opportunity and they seriously threatened to take the lead. Alfred led 14-8 at the close of the first half, Bolivar, however, had better luck at netting the ball in the second half, B. Fairbanks securing five field goals while "Chief" netted four.

The line up:
Alfred

Lobaugh (12)

Tractor Course

Any Ag student wishing to learn to run a tractor and the general care of one, will hand his name in to the Director as soon as possible. This course will not include Tractor mechanics, but will just cover the general care of the tractor and each student will get a certain amount of actual running of a tractor.

Students subscribing to the Fiat for only one term and wishing to renew their subscription this term please notify Jack Humphrey, the Ag business manager.

Country Life

Country Life elections will be held tonight and be followed by a short program.

Mr. C. Belknap of Syracuse was a guest of Don Atwater at the Theta Gamma House over the week-end.

At the first meeting of the term of the C. L. C. A. Dorothy Schroeder was elected president. She asks for the support of all Ag students by their attendance every Sunday night. The same idea of bringing in an outside speaker each Sunday night will prevail, but at least one Sunday night a month will be devoted to a discussion among the students about Rural Religious problems.

After completing a year of Freshman duties, the following men are not required to wear their Freshmen caps for the remainder of the school year: Frederick Foster, Hugh Wilson, and Claire Mann.

Attention Ag Students

From the beginning of this term, attendance of all Ag students is required at Assembly. Four cuts are allowed but after missing Assembly five times, if no proper and legitimate excuse is offered, the student will be dropped from classes. This ruling was made because of the failure of many of the students to attend Assembly and, in doing so, missed important announcements that were made. This new ruling was explained in Assembly last Friday morning and there will be no excuse for a student not knowing it.

BRICK NOTES

Freddie Vossler underwent an operation on her foot during the vacation. She was able to attend classes again on Monday.

Mizpah Owen was called home last week by the death of her father.

Hazel LaFever fell while coasting Friday evening and broke her arm.

Margaret Prentice is rooming at the Brick for the rest of this year.

Margaret Jones of Hornell and Elizabeth Dean of Wellsville, both of whom are new students at Alfred, are welcomed as Brick members.

OF PISA

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipsedixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Suleiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right, of experimental evidence. Suleiman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science, which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

With four of the Varsity quint this season, Freshmen, the basketball situation in Alfred may be said to be at least unique. That the best men have been chosen, there seems to be no doubt. While, perhaps, somewhat lacking in experience, the general opinion on the campus seems to be that the infusion of new blood into basketball is what is needed to properly revive this sport in Alfred.

For two seasons, basketball in Alfred has been a sad failure. To say that this has been the fault of Coach Wesbecher is in no sense true, nor does his opinion appear to be common. For at no time has he had real basketball material to work with. He has done all that could be done under the circumstances.

But this year gives indication of a favorable change in the situation. While the Coach still faces the difficult problem of building up a winning combination from green men, he nevertheless has the best material to work in that Alfred has had in recent years. And yet while realizing that a foundation for future years is being laid this season, it is not, however, unreasonable to look forward to and to expect a much more successful winter of basketball than Alfred has experienced in the past two seasons.

All this, however, cannot be achieved by the team or squad alone. The students, too, must get out of the basketball rut,—that rut of losing. Alfred has had winning teams before and she can have them again. This year she is represented by a new team who have had no opportunity as yet to get this spirit instilled in them. Is it fair to them that we give them any chance to absorb such a spirit? With a new team we must realize that it is up to the students to produce new support. Then let us have no more of this staying at home when another team is here to battle the Varsity quintet. No more of this half-hearted cheering. No more of this attendance at basketball games as a social function, entirely.

Sometime, somewhere, someone has said, "Education is the process of using one's mind in the making of knowledge; it is also the process of providing conditions which necessitate the using of one's mind in the making of knowledge." As we begin a new school term, it is perhaps "altogether fitting and proper" that we introspect a bit and endeavor to determine what we believe to be a fair definition of education,—what it is, what it means to us, what it suggests to others. Some of us have ably survived the terrors and tempestuous seas of finals, some of us have survived the waves of first term marks, others of us have merely survived and still others of us have not. Perhaps we can say our success or failure depends upon our interpretation of the word defined above, surely we can say our breasting or failing to breast the waves is the result of the effort or lack of effort put forth in our college work.

Suppose we grant, for argument's sake, that some of us didn't get the grades we deserved,—that some of us were over-paid, others under-paid,—marks are not a sign of the wealth or dearth of a man's education, though they are a "rough" estimate of how much he studies. Our position on the ladder of a college training depends upon whether we push or ride or drag our feet. Some of us strive through honest effort to get the most and best of our opportunities, to use advantageously the material gleaned, sorted, and spread out for our use, by those who have given years for the promotion of the subjects taught. Those students have pushed. Again, there are those of us who are content to take what comes easily without much effort, who are content to ride upon past laurels and just slip through the gates of the point system which determine our stay at Alfred. They are the riders. Then there are those of us who will not partake of the essentials supplied unless those ingredients are handed out on a hand-carved, guaranteed not to rip, rust, or run down at the heels, silver platter. They are the ones who drag their feet and retard the progress of the college and all its members. Those students are a detriment to themselves and their classmates. Of course all failure is not due to lack of study. Adversity in one form or another nips many an energetic student's plans and hopes. Those of us who are so unfortunate are not failures. They are merely set-backs.

It is the duty of every college student to ask himself or herself whether or not he or she is getting the most and best out of his college life, intellectually, socially, and physically; whether or not he or she is grasping opportunity by the forelock and improving his or her time, energy, and money, whether or not he or she is putting into practice the ideals and ideas "thus far so nobly advanced" so that his or her talent is making for the good of the group. We take out just what we put into our college education. Let us not forget that, when we come to college, the instructors and teachers are not here to hand us out our educations complete, finished, and well-rounded. They provide the opportunity, guide in the short-cuts, help us to select and cull out the valuable from the great bulk of material from which we may draw at will, and teach us how to best use what we choose. The rest is up to us. Suppose we decide now whether we will push, ride or drag our feet. Then will we know where each of us stands on the rungs of the so-called ladder of educational possibilities. Let's "use our minds in the making of knowledge and meet adequately "the conditions provided for the using of our minds."

CAMPUS PERSONALS

President Davis, who has been in Chicago during the past week, is expected to return today.

Dean Titsworth talked on "Mark Twain" before the Home and School League of Wayland, Jan. 10.

Miss Bessie Lee Gambrell, Professor of Philosophy and Education at Alfred, 1909-12, and who has since been head of this same department at New York State Normal College, has recently been appointed assistant professor at Yale Graduate School.

In view of the general low grades characterizing the first term of the college year, it behooves us, as students of a university of the first class, to profit by our mistakes of the past term by making a sober conscientious effort at diligent study in the present one. For the middle term are scheduled a large number of events both social and athletic—probably a larger number than in either of the other two terms. This only emphasizes the necessity for a greater effort in the scholastic phase of our college education. Students of college grade should be mature enough in judgment to decide what functions they can patronize without detriment to study and should, this term especially, put this judgment in force.

Accompanying the increase in registration in the college there will be a call for more and more data to be placed on the college calendar and this will only make more necessary the exercise of good judgment as to which ones and how many to attend. Students who were especially low in grades last term will realize the necessity of a better arrangement of study hours and will, no doubt, make corrections accordingly. Others should take warning and not allow themselves to be placed in similar positions this term.

In the spring there is the intangible something which lures students away from study and for which we know no remedy. However, there is a remedy which can be applied to the defects of last term with success. Let's apply it.

February the 15th at Firemens Hall the Ladies' Aid Society plans to put on "Clarence," a most engaging and happy-go-lucky comedy in four acts, by Booth Tarkington. The characters are chosen from high school students, faculty, college students, and townspeople. The play is directed by Mrs. Mix for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid and promises to be as enjoyable as "Little Women" given last year so successfully. The characters are always carefully and pertinently chosen in these plays. The following papers have remarked:

"Clarence is Tarkington at his best, a real delight."—New Journal of Commerce.

"Clarence deserves a place along side of the best American comedies of today."—New York Commercial.

"Clarence is a comedy of pure delight, the best of this sort of American life."—New York Globe.

COMING TO ALFRED!

Mrs. Laura B. Garrett of New York is coming to Alfred for a few days in the middle of February. She is going to address a college assembly, a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the high school, the high school girls, the high school boys, the college girls, and the college boys. Mrs. Garrett is well-known in towns and cities near either New York or Philadelphia, for in these two cities she has done and is doing her greatest work. Those few who have either heard her talk or who have heard of her work are deeply interested in making her stay here a complete success in every way. It is an opportunity which no one should allow himself to miss. Mrs. Garrett's message is a vital one—she deals in a sympathetic and wholesome manner with Social Science, Social Conduct, etc. She comes highly recommended by many of our leading educators in the east, and there is every reason why Alfred should avail itself of receiving much in the way of benefit from the fruits of her labor. It is through the generosity of the college, the Parent-Teachers Association, the W. C. T. U. and the Brick girls that the Christian Associations are able to bring Mrs. Garrett here.
