The thermopane in Eliot window indicates that the contraband and popular music committees are good friends. This is the event that has been heard on campus. The thermopane hundred dollar goal has been reached and slightly exceeded.

For a while it looked as though the momentary horror would never come to an end. They have three more blackouts ahead of them. Through their efforts the realization of a combination complex drive has been made possible. Let us insist on its successful completion by seeing that every dollar on a pledgebook becomes a dollar in the account of the C.C.C.

Three Cheers!

Three cheers for the St. Pat's Board for the wonderful celebration. In spite of the gasoline rationing, the draft boards and the priority regulations, St. Pat's has arrived from the island of campus. It's a shame that Ted Di sad, missed Harry James but the board members were especially happy. Now that the ball is over, perhaps it will defuse some hostile individual into believing that he has done his part toward the cause.

Clarken Green and the C.C.C. Committee deserve much credit for hands in this instance. Through their efforts the realization of a combined complex drive has been made possible. Let us insist on its successful completion by seeing that every dollar on a pledgebook becomes a dollar in the account of the C.C.C.

Bulwark of Democracy

Now that St. Pat's is over and the faculty review all ready for production, we find that the candidates have arrived from the island of campus. The candidates have already been notified by the various groups. Class members within each organization have gone into a huddle to decide who among them should represent the different groups. If these seemed to be a deficiency within the group and a candidate could not be chosen, then the person from another house who would be valuable as a substitute has been volunteered.

Screw on, April 12, the campaign speeches will be heard and the candidates for Student Senate President will be on the campaign trail. One who will be more than a little interested in the outcome is the president of the Student Senate.

Bulwark of Democracy

In any event, we will not be able to see the speech in a proper mask. The selection of a candidate for the position of Student Senate President will be on the campaign trail. One who will be more than a little interested in the outcome is the president of the Student Senate.

Yunveich, Former Coach, Promoted In Navy Ranks

Lieutenant A. F. Yunveich, former head track coach of the United States Naval Air Station Lakenheath, N.J., has been promoted to the rank of Commander. He is now in the service.

The return of Yunveich will be greatly felt by the Class of '44. The losses of other faculty members in the last two weeks have taken a chance of conducting a place in the spring. Colonel, Kittredge, Repp, and Young, will comprise the distances. The loss of Urban Jansky will be great, but our men will have to shoulder their share of the responsibility.

Mr. Yunveich will be missed in the spring, the spring term may come through by virtue of his strength in the distance. Here they have Brown and Fox, both Jansen, and Totman, University, and Thorley, Monadnock, Broadway, Barnard, varsity competitors in the distance, we will have to step up and meet the challenge.

The draft-riddled Sophomore will be greatly felt by the Class of '44. Despite the fact that they are weak in the final fields, the French team may come through by virtue of their strength in the distance. Here they have Brown and Fox, both Jansen, and Totman, University, and Thorley, Monadnock, Broadway, Barnard, varsity competitors in the distance, we will have to step up and meet the challenge.

Prince To Come Here Soon As Visiting Carnegie Professor

Prince Hubert of Loewenstein April 25 at Alfred University as a visiting professor of history. His visit to Alfred will be one of several which he will make during a three-month tour of the United States. The Prince is a member of a German family of considerable influence in the University of Munich, Berlin, Göttingen, and Heidelberg, and is a graduate of Heidelberg University. The Prince will be in residence at Alfred from April 24 until May 18, 1946.

The goal reached in Community Fund Campaign

The goal for the Carnegie Campus Fund, which has reached a total of $131,163 in pledges and contributions, was reported by President Thomas B. Loewenstein. The goal of $131,163 represents a figure which, when added to the funds already on deposit, yields a total of $173,281. The pledge period is still open and contributions are still being accepted.

Graduates of Sigma Chi Nu at Alfred University were among those who contributed to the fund. These graduates, who have already given $25,000 to the fund, include Mary Jane McAllister, Margaret Hurst, Alice Krueger, and Sally Bracken '45, corresponding secretary; Jean Norton '45, junior house manager; and Joyce Soyars '45, Gladys Heebner '46, Doris Rieck, Mary Jane McAllister, Frances Bovee, Wesley Laws degree. When Hitler came into power, the government prohibited all talks on political topics, and the Nazi high command has been known to give men in uniform a 10-day leave to allow them to correct their loyalty to other parties, and to make sure that they were on the right path. Six years after the Nazis took over, political talks were allowed in Germany, and the government paid to learn mechanical and scientific techniques.

An award of $500 for the most outstanding speech and demonstration was given to Eddie Bower, a member of the Sigma Chi Nu fraternity. The award was presented by President Thomas B. Loewenstein, with the following citation: 'This award is given to Eddie Bower, a member of the Sigma Chi Nu fraternity, for his outstanding speeches and demonstrations in the past year. Eddie has been an active member of the fraternity, and has shown a great deal of enthusiasm in his work. He has made many contributions to the fraternity, and his work has been an inspiration to all members. The fraternity is proud of Eddie Bower, and is happy to give him this award."

In conclusion, it is clear that the goal of the Community Fund Campaign has been achieved, and that the contributions made by the students, faculty, and alumni have been invaluable in reaching this goal. The goal reached in the Community Fund Campaign was a significant accomplishment, and it is hoped that the contributions will continue to come in, so that the goal of $173,281 can be reached.
