ALFRED REPRESENTED AT A FORENSIC CONFERENCE

Debating is Fostered by New York State Colleges

Father Alfred may soon come into his own as a scholarly man. He is the latest in a string of lecturers at Syracuse University, who have been outstanding in their field. The recent debate between Alfred and Union Colleges has already attracted a number of students from all parts of the country.

Representatives of both colleges selection a subject for a full three hours and brought together their most interesting ideas. The forensics would be able to make a speech that would be a credit to both schools.

A Forensic League would not only be a benefit, but also a profit. The members would always be in demand and would be able to present their ideas in a pleasing manner.

Some time during the current year, after the debate is over, the League would meet and discuss the subject of the debate. The meeting would be open to all interested parties.

ALFRED'S PREMIER TRACK MAN TAKES FOURTH IN THE DECATHLON

McConnell places at the Penn Relays

Alfred's premier track man takes fourth in the Decathlon.

The track season was exceptionally strong for Alfred. Not only did they win the track meet, but they also placed highly in the Penn Relays. This was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the team.

The team's performance was also notable for the high number of students who took part. Not only were there track runners, but also cross-country runners and field athletes who contributed to the team's success.

The track season concluded with the Penn Relays, where Alfred placed highly in several events. This was a reflection of the team's hard work and dedication throughout the season.

The Penn Relays were a major event for Alfred, and the team's performance was a testament to their hard work and dedication. The team's success was also a reflection of the strong support they received from the school and community.

CONFESSIONS OF A SENIOR

As the vital hours approach when, with my classmates who have weathered the two years of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior grades, I look upon the horizon of the great and moral customs of society, on the one hand, and the variety of the social life, on the other, I see a desolate waste of time. Yet, despite this, there are many students in this university who do not consider these their own. One group think that because they are candidates for degrees, that they are superior to another group who are not candidates for degrees. If such a spirit was predominant could it be said with any foundation that ours is the "Golden Rule" college?

It has been charged that the interests of the Agricultural school are not our interests. Then, who were the first ones to unanimously vote a special assessment to send our cross-country team on a special trip last year? Where do we get our better men? If you look into the Ag records you will find that, as well as we, pay an athletic fee to support the university teams. Good athletics that come to our school are just as eager, if not more so than we, to support our varsity. In fact, some would come to the Ag school when they cannot get into college in order that they may play on the teams.

A word here as to the technical status of the school will not be out of place. It is to effect a junior college of agriculture, which prepares students to go on to a more advanced college, where they will receive degrees for their work. If enrollment continues large enough in the future, there may be degrees granted in our own Ag school. This is one of the advantages just as much as is the college or the premedical school, handled by the same treasurer that handles the college finances, and President David is president of the Ag school just as much as he is of the college, or any other school of the university.

Consequently, how can there be any grounds, in keeping with Alfred's ideals, and in keeping with actual conditions, for such a marked distinction between the Ag students and the college students? We might better that we stay away from college rather than learn here how to become knowledges.

A CHANGE IN POLICY

In an effort to abolish campus politics, the board of directors, after the present management of the Fiat Lux, is submitting the following constitution and by-laws. That because a system such as has been outlined will allow forever those who perform in the college, the new system will make no effort to all at all in its publication.

Competition alone can raise the standard of any activity. If this system is adopted, perhaps some degree of political activity will be aroused and the entire burden will fall on one or two who get no further credit than to be called "politicizes.

We hope that other groups will follow our example and make this campus of at least any one of the sort of electorizing or propagating.

CONSTITUTION OF THE FIAT LUX

(College)

The Fiat Lux is the official publication of the students of Alfred University. It is the medium thru which we can announce, express, and attain the ends of the students and alumni are made public and are preserved.

The Staff

The editorial staff shall consist of the editor-in-chief and six associates, at least one of whom shall be a woman.

The reporter, the editorial assistant shall consist of a business manager and two assistants.

The editor shall make assignments, select the copy he desires, and shall have the final word in determining the policy of the paper. On the day of publication he will call a staff meeting at which time he will make assignments to the various sections of the paper.

Appointment

Freshmen who wish to try for staff positions will give their names to the editor who will keep a list of such persons which will be available to other members of the staff. It would be advisable to co-operate with the Freshman English Instructor in determining the qualities of those persons and learn of others who promise future ability.

Provision has been made to allow ability following the constitution of the editorial staff to act as reporters. No candidate shall be appointed who has been subject to a trial period for one year.

The new staff will fill the vacancies in our papers with reporters who have shown particular promise ability and enthusiasm, preferably juniors and seniors.

The time of all appointments shall be during the first week in May, at which time the new staff will assume control.

The assistant business managers shall be appointed by the staff from a list of six presented by the manager who will pick men who have been fully equipped in the execution of duties. Initially the routine week of the student who has been an assistant or manager selected for manager is elective position the follower will automatically remain an assistant of his own choice, in which case he is entitled to a vote on the board of managers.

Admission to the staff will be granted to 10 persons at least two of whom shall be women.

The assistant business manager will become business manager except in a case where both men are eligible when the one shall be appointed by the managing editor for the purpose of carrying out the duties of his position and the wishes of his staff.

Vacancies

All vacancies in staff positions demand the right of the original staff. The number of the staff may be filled by the editor for the position of the retiring manager. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the editor for the purpose of carrying out the duties of his position and the wishes of his staff.

The resignation of a member of the staff may be accepted by the president for the purposes of the resigning manager.
