

Energy efficiency in industry topic of Environmental Studies Speaker Series talk

11/07/17

ALFRED, NY Michael R. Muller, professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at Rutgers University, will speak at next week's Environmental Studies Speakers Series, scheduled for 12:20 p.m. Friday (Nov. 17) in Room Lecture Hall, Science Center, on the Alfred University campus.

Muller will deliver a presentation titled "Opportunities for Energy Efficiency in Industry." The program is free and open to the public.

Muller's research interests include energy system design, renewable energy, and power engineering.