D. G. Klinger President Of Phi Psi Omega

At the meeting of Phi Psi Omega Monday evening May 7, the officers for next year were elected as follows: Daniel Klinger, president; Harold Boulton, vice president; J. Enfield Leach, sec-treasurer; and Lloyd Larson, historian.

The programs published by the fraternity for the events of Interscholastic Day will be on sale today. Places for the annual Phi Psi Omega Commencement dance, are nearing completion, and bid fair to make it one of the outstanding dances of the season.

NEW PRESIDENT

Daniel G. Klinger

PECKHAM, ENGLISH JOINT WINNERS AT SPEAKING CONTEST

As joint winners of second place in the college speaking contest at Alumni Hall, Wednesday under the auspices of the Student Policy Committee, William T. English '31 and Pearl Peckham '30 received awards of $25 each, while Gladys Seguin '31, winner of third place, was awarded $10. The original first prize of $50 was waived by the judges, who considered none of the speeches as being worthy.

In addition to the above students, Wesley Van Buren '30, Joseph Clavelle '28, and George Bliss '28 were entries. Despite the fact that the entries for the contest were few, much interest in the revival of public speaking at Alfred was manifested by a fair sized audience.

The selection presented by Mr. English was "The People's Choice". The presentation was well made from the point of delivery and poise although its content did not equal that of Mr. Bliss' selection, "Some Peculiarities of our Economic Life".

Miss Peckham's treatment of, "Experimental Hypnosis" was appealing as well as interesting and instructive, although it was more of a lecture. Her poise and presentation were good.

Miss Seguin's composition, "The Price of Success" was rich in allusions and effectively given. It approached the type of presentation which speaking contests feature, although it was light in content. Mr. Clavelle spoke on "The Eagle's Soaring Flight". Much of the material of the composition was lost in the blackboard explanation accompanying the oration. In the delivery, Mr. Clavelle acquitted himself creditably. "The Constitution of the United States,"

COMMENCEMENT DAY CELEBRATION WILL COVER FIVE DAYS

Commencement Day is June 13. The celebration will cover a period of five days. This period will begin June 9, and will close June 13. The Footlight Club will hold the center of the stage, Saturday night, in a play by Martin Flavin, entitled "Children of the Moon." Those who will take part in the performance are, Jane Waldo, Mary Day, Pearl Peckham, Donald Pruden, Harold Gullberg, Lee Cottrell, Irwin Cohen and Dighton Burdick. The play is being coached by Mrs. Romon F. Reynolds.

The Class Day exercises will take place Tuesday afternoon, and will be followed by the alumni banquet in the evening. The following day, the commencement exercises will be held at Alumni Hall. Frank Pierpont Graves, New York State Commissioner of Education, will give the Doctor's Oration and will receive an honorary degree. Robert W. Higby will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Law. Mr. Higby is a member of the New York State Board of Regents.

The Senior Oration will be given this year by Raymond Francis. Following the exercises in the auditorium, a luncheon, buffet-style, will be served in the classrooms on the ground floor of Alumni Hall.

given by Wesley Van Buren, was a fair representation of delivery, poise and content, the last being, perhaps, the most evident.

The judging board consisted of Dr. Charles F. Binns, chairman; Dean J. Nelson Norwood, Professor Ada Becker Seidlin, Francis Williams, Betty J. Whitford, John Devitt, and Leonard P. Adams.

Mrs. Baines Of Detroit, Mich., Introduces Stained Glass As An Applied Art To The Ceramic Society At A Recent Meeting

Introducing the Ceramic Artists to a phase of applied art with which they had been hitherto unacquainted, Mrs. Baines of Detroit, Mich., lectured informally on "Stained Glass" at the Ceramic School recently.

Mrs. Baines' father, Mr. Heaton, is widely known for his excellent work in stained glass, which he produces in his studio. From her experiences as her father's only assistant, Mrs. Baines gained an unusual and intimate knowledge of the subject, of which she spoke in an interesting and instructive manner, illustrating each point as she progressed.

Stained glass may be colored glass, unpainted on the surface, or it may be transparent glass painted and shaded on the surface. In making a window of stained glass a sketch must first be made, arranging the pieces so that the curves will not be too difficult to cut, and so that they do not vary too much in size. Next a full size drawing is made from the sketch, and the sizes and shapes of the pieces are carefully recorded. From this drawing two tracings are made, one is numbered and named as to color, to serve as a general guide and another is used as a pattern for the actual cutting of the glass.

In the choice of the glass the texture and shading must be considered. The undulations or smoothness of the surface make the piece useful in different patterns, and the depth of color determines its position in the

"HONOR SYSTEM" WILL BE BATTLE GROUND FOR LAST FROSH-SOPH WAR

The season's last Frosh-Soph contest will be the underclass debate, which is scheduled to take place at the college assembly May 31. The battle ground will be "Alfred's Honor System" with the Sophomores on attacking the system, and the Freshmen defending this part of the Alfred's student government system which has provoked so much discussion the past few months. The judges have not been chosen.

CAMPUS COURT JUDGE

John Enfield Leach

J. E. Leach New Judge Of Campus Court

J. Enfield Leach will preside over the Campus Court next year as a result of the election held at the regular session of the court Tuesday, May 8. Alfred J. Voorhies was elected alternate judge. Robert B. Bassett and Paul E. Conrath will be attorneys with Smith Wright as alternate. The jury will be selected next Fall.

Two Freshmen were tried by the new court for violation of rules. Howard Hussey, charged with reading a paper in assembly during the singing of the Alma Mater, was fined 50 cents and warned while Edward Cauger was given a warning for failure to tip his cap to upperclassmen.

PROFESSOR WARREN SPEAKS ON "DEBTS" AT LAST ASSEMBLY

Assembly period last week was particularly enjoyable. Professor Warren, of the faculty of Mansfield Teacher's College spoke on "Some Debts We Owe". Professor Warren is a real humorist and, though his lecture was full of humorous anecdotes, he also gave a great many "chestnuts" to chew upon.

Professor Warren stated that there are three types of debts which a person owes—legal, spiritual and moral. Of all these debts a person is most careless of the spiritual debt. There are five controls—ideas, ideals, habits, skills and attitudes. These things a student should get from his college education. Failures are caused by wrong ideas.

Professor Warren fittingly closed his lecture with a short poem, the theme of which was, "The sound of a sigh don't carry well, But the lilt of a laugh rings far."

PROFESSOR CONROE CONDUCTS CHAPEL

Chapel exercises last week were conducted by Professor Erwin A. Conroe. During the first part of the week he discussed the philosophical viewpoints in poetry and demonstrated with several readings. He concluded his talks with a characterization of several personalities in the Bible.

DR. H. L. FAIRCHILD SPEAKS AT DINNER OF GEOLOGY CLASS

Dr. H. L. Fairchild, one of the foremost geologists of the country, and a former professor of geology at Rochester University, was the guest of Professor Fred W. Ross, Friday during which time he attended a dinner of the geology classes. Professor Ross, as toastmaster, introduced Dr. Fairchild, who spoke briefly.

In part, Dr. Fairchild said: "Every person should know something of the earth, plant life, and atmosphere. This means they must study Meteorology, Geology, Botany and Zoology. Mark Twain said that everyone complained of the weather, but nobody did anything about it. We always have weather, and should learn of the behavior of storms and the atmosphere. Recently nature has become a subject of study. We are a part of nature just as the trees and plants, and we need to obey the laws of nature and must study to appreciate it."

Professor Ross then introduced Professor Donald L. Burdick, who talked of the possibilities for the study of Botany and Geology. Following this, several members of the Geology class, including "Rudy" Eller, Edwina Smith, Ronald Richards, Pete Bliss, Mary Rogers, Grace Dassance, and Pearl Woolever spoke.

Alfred Takes A Hand In Quelling Civil War Between The Sons Of Erin During The Building Of The Present Erie Railroad

Alfred, the builder and mother of men, has often received her due homage for valuable contributions to the arts and sciences. Seldom is it, however, that an institution of culture and learning steps forth from academic and scientific fields and ventures forth into the realm of deeds of brute strength and brawn; deeds necessitating strength and physical courage. Yet such is the happy honor that once befell Alfred, as told by Horace L. Crandall, alumnus, and now deceased.

It seems that the Erie railroad was just being built. In those days, railroad construction gangs consisted principally of Irishmen. The advance guard of 1000 pick welders was no exception to the rule. A camp of Irishmen, one must know, is a latent battery of dynamite. This is true now as ever. Worse yet, it seems that part of the gang were from the County Cork, while part was from the Downs. What could be more inevitable. Surely enough, either from geographical differences or because of natural pugnacity, the two factions engaged in an embryonic scrap which soon developed into a regular shillalah fight "direct from the auld countrie." In the terrible fracas, two men were killed while several others were badly wounded.

The students of Alfred then were called upon to quell the riot. The 'stalwarts' of Alfred, armed with all sorts of weapons from horse pistols to horse whips descended upon the embattled sons of Erin and in a very short time had the situation well in hand. About a dozen of the ring leaders were arrested and confined to the Alfred jail.

A mob of rescuers gathered near Alfred Station and marched in force to the jail with the firm intention of liberating their incarcerated brethren. However, at the sight of an armed student guard, placed around the prison, they decided to "live and fight another day". Such was the intimidating force of Alfred students of yore! Such was their valor in times begone!

The Loyalty Medals

Students will be given the opportunity to honor their two most loyal Seniors at the assembly Thursday by voting them the Loyalty Medals. The elections are not popularity contests but the intelligent selections by the student body of the man and the woman whom that body deems most representative of the ideas and standards of Alfred University and who have served the University in the most loyal manner to the best of his or her ability. This is the time that Alfred rewards its hero and heroine and not its most beautiful, best-dressed, etc, candidates.

For many years, Phi Psi Omega, the men's honorary fraternity, has awarded the Loyalty Medal to the Senior man who by the vote of the student body was selected as the most deserving. This year, Phi Sigma Gamma, the women's honorary fraternity, likewise will award a Loyalty Medal to the Senior woman who is voted as deserving by the student body.

Six men and six women have been selected by the staff of the Fiat Lux as the foremost candidates for the medals. On another page, the last four selections have been run along with the extra-curricular activities of the other eight candidates. There are several other Seniors who are worthy candidates but the Fiat has limited itself to the selection of six nominees for each medal.

Standardized Hates

"Don't standardize Rollins! Don't standardize our grades! How can we have a 'perfect small college' if we are to be standardized to death.

"All very well said, but have you stopped to think for one minute about the real standardization that is killing Rollins—standardized hates? What is the idea of all these hates that exist between sororities?

"When a list of future officers for any organization is posted, the first thing to run through one's mind is—'Is she a sorority sister?' not 'Is she the most capable?' Why should we 'hate' to vote for a girl outside our own clique!

"Be true to your sorority! What does it matter if you ruin your college and down all the worthy organizations as long as you favor a sorority sister that you are affiliated with, either as active member or adviser?

"If we are ever to succeed, this sheep-like 'hating' between sororities must stop; then a finer Rollins will take the place of this kindergarten of petty children."

The above is an editorial appearing in The Sandspur, the weekly newspaper, published by the students of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. It was written by a co-ed of that institution and has been copied in the publications of several southern colleges. Although the editorial emphasized that tension among the sororities on the campus, it can apply to all Greek-letter fraternities in all colleges. In a comment on the same article, Southern College paper said:

"Don't be so narrow-minded that you can't see any man but the one with your pin on. . . Can't you see that your group can be no better than your school? If your college is low rating, surely your fraternity will not rise to any great height. Your college is judged by the men and women that it turns out. . ."

A similar condition exists at Alfred. The fraternities are not working together for the best of Alfred University. Petty grievances should be dropped to give the greatest good for this college. The fraternal groups are secondary to the University. Alfred can not hope to grow and progress except by the cooperation of all its various organizations.

If you're dumb—stop here.

If you go to the right people to start with you will never, never get into trouble, but try and tell that to some of the goofs on this campus. Our roommate went down to the big city the other day and we went with him and he bought a pair of shoes and we told him that he should get them one size larger and he said "You are crazy" in a loud voice and so we did not finish our advice but believe us we are getting even now, because he is suffering something fearful, and we could have helped him too, if he had listened, for we were going to tell him that Scotch grains are very tight, when he so rudely interrupted us.

Paul Shipman Andrews, Dean Of Syracuse Law School, To Be Speaker

Dean Paul Shipman Andrews of the Syracuse Law School will address the the assembly this week on "The Opportunities for the Law trained Man."

Dean Andrews is considered to be an able speaker and has a fine professional and social background. He has spoken before many college audiences and is held in high esteem by all who have heard him. Dean Andrews was scheduled to speak at a previous assembly, but through some misfortune he was unable to be in Alfred at that time.

During the period, elections of the Seniors for the Loyalty Medals, and of the student and faculty members of the new Student Life Committee will be held.

Positions Open

Positions for competitors for assistant business managers, managing editors and reporters on the Fiat Lux are open to all students. Applications should be made to the head of the department.

STAINED GLASS WINDOW LECTURE TO CERAMISTS

pattern. When the glass has been chosen, the patterns are laid on and the glass is cut by means of double shears which allow for the size of the lead strip which is used in assembling the pieces.

If the glass is to be painted, two kinds of color may be used, pigment which is dark brown, or shading paint which is a stain applied to the wrong side of the glass. Some glass is transparent with a thin strip of colored glass fused to it, giving it its shading and color. The painted glass is then put in a kiln and fired to 1200 degrees F.

When the pieces are ready to be assembled, they are placed in position on a solid wooden frame, and each piece is very tightly bound by flexible lead tape which is grooved on each side, so that it fits over the edges of the glass.

TETE A TETE

I see by the Sunday Book Review that: "We are 'All at Sea' said 'Napoleon' and 'Disraeli' to the 'Devine Lady' as they sped across the 'Moving Waters' of the 'Restless Pacific' in the 'Showboat' toward the 'Shores of Romance' where dwelt 'The Glorious Apples' with 'The Chaste Diane' in a 'Tarpaper Palace.' This palace was also the home of some other 'Historic Hussies' who served 'Old Wine in New Bottles!' to 'Elmer Gantry' and 'Dracula.' When the 'Showboat' landed they went across 'The Bridge of San Lins Rey' with 'Drawn Swords.' They found 'A Man Who Knew Coolidge' in 'The Closed Garden' with 'Galahad'; who not content with knowing all about 'The Private Life of Helen of Troy' was trying to see that 'Bad Girl,' and 'Diane at the Bath.'

"What an 'Ambition!'" said 'Disraeli.'

"'I'll Tell the World,' replied 'Napoleon' who had caught sight of 'The Virgin Queen' sleeping on an 'Empty Bed' beside 'Jeanne d'Arc.'

"'There's the Hard Boiled Virgin' who hates 'Cromwell'" said 'The Devine Lady,' but just then 'The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse' appeared chasing 'The Three Musketeers' and some 'Daughters of India' who had eloped with 'The Pope of the Sea' for a chaperone. Just then 'Count Luckner, The Sea Devil' dropped some 'Dynamite' which blew them all down to learn 'Etiquette' from 'Sulamith' and the other 'Ladies in Hades'

Toujour gai's my motto kid.

—El Gullo

When the pieces are in place, the joints of the lead tape are soldered together on the wrong side, and the outer casing added—the window is then complete and ready for shipment.

The Ceramic Guild was well repaid for its efforts in arranging for the lecture by the interest taken in it, and the satisfaction expressed by those who heard Mrs. Baines talk.

MOTHER KING GIVES PARTY TO SENIOR MEMBERS OF KLAN ALPINE FRATERNITY THURSDAY NIGHT; SQUARE DANCE ONE OF NOVELTIES OF EVENING

Mrs. Margaret King, better known to Alfredians as Mother King, gave a party to the Senior members of Klan Alpine in honor of their approaching graduation, Thursday evening at the Fraternity house. The guests passed a merry evening with dancing, cards and delicious refreshments. One of the novelties of the evening was an old-fashioned square dance lead by "Curly"Saunders. Towards the end of the evening, the Seniors presented Mother King a mahogany library table, as a token of appreciation of all that she has done for them, and been to them during their four years in Alfred.

HARRY N. SACKETT NEW PRES. OF CLASS OF '31

Leaders for the coming year for the Class of 1931 were elected last Tuesday evening as follows: president, Harry N. Sackett; vice president, Garnett G. Blackmore; secretary, Lewis C. Obourn; and treasurer, Frederick A. Neiger.

KENNETH E. SMITH NEW PRESIDENT OF CERAMIC SOCIETY

Kenneth E. Smith was elected president of the Ceramic Society for the coming year at the final meeting of the year last week. He succeeds William Collins. The other officers are Dean H. Fredericks, vice president; William G. Lewis, secretary; and Milton D. Burdick, treasurer.

FLORENCE NIGHTENGALE HONORED AT INFIRMARY

The tea given at the Clawson Infirmary Friday in honor of the day set aside for Florence Nightingale proved an enjoyable occasion on the college calendar. In spite of one case of measles, a number of students attended. It was a great disappointment to all that Dr. Marcus Clawson could not arrange to be there.

Infirmary News

Miss Lydia Conroe reports one case of measles; the victim this time is Helen Ellis, and a case of quinsy, Wilbur Carr.

THE PI ALPHA PI SPRING FORMAL IS "A HUGH SUCCESS"

"History repeats itself" lost its ominous tone when for the first time in three years the Pi Alpha Pi's Spring formal was enjoyed without the usual contributions of snow, rain, or hail. The formal gathering of pretty frocks and smart tux, unhampered by galoshes and gloves, made its way Saturday evening to the Hotel Sherwood in Hornell, where a combination formal dinner and dance was enjoyed. The strains of Fitch's orchestra furnished admirable inspiration for the dancers, while the banquet was not to be ignored.

During the evening Mary Newcomb and Audrey St. John made away with two attractive prizes, while Desmond Devitt and Theodore Greenfield added cigarette lighters to their possessions.

Mrs. B. C. Davis, Dean Dora Degen, and Miss Ida Harris chaperoned the party.

KAPPA PSI HAS ANNUAL BANQUET IN WELLSVILLE

Kappa Psi Upsilon entertained at the Wellsville County Club at the annual Spring banquet and dance, Saturday. The fraternity brothers and their ladies left Alfred at 5 o'clock. During the course of the banquet three of the victorious Varsity track men arrived. This advent was greeted with much applause to which Claude Voorheis responded in a terse, forceful speech.

After the fraternity song had been given, the group adjourned to the club rooms where dancing took place under the delightful music by the Bradford Collegians. The evening was brought to a colorful close with showers of confetti and balloons.

Sophs And Juniors Bet On Who Will Draw The Larger Crowd Thursday

Sophs and Juniors are betting on who will draw the bigger crowd at the class parties Thursday night. Inasmuch as it is the last chance for either Frosh or Seniors to be given a party by their sister classes until the Frosh become Seniors, both classes expect a large attendance. Those in charge insist that a "reckless air" and "stepping up" spirit shall predominate and the only other fee for entrance being a mind for mischief.

ALFRED DEFEATS ROCHESTER TRACK MEN AT FIRST MEET OF SEASON BY 80-46 SCORE

Danny Klinger Individual High Scorer
With 14 Points; Fredericks Close Second
With 13; Capt. Jenks Stars For Rochester

Alfred trackmen easily scored a 80-46 victory over the University of Rochester athletes on the Rochester track Saturday. The Purple and Gold representatives captured eight first places and 11 seconds in the 14 events. In two events, the discus throw and the two mile run, the Rochester men did not place.

Although it was a windy day for the meet, some of the races were run in exceptionally good time. Getz stepped off the mile run in 4:32 3-5, and in the half mile he tied with Zschiegner in 2:6 1-5.

In the pole vault, Henry of Rochester failed at eight feet, after Voorheis and Klinger had been successful. Klinger continued to raise the bar until he had cleared it at eleven feet, in perfect form.

During the trials for the javelin throw the javelin was broken. There being no other available, the distance already recorded were used as the finals.

Dan Klinger was the individual high scorer with fourteen points annexed by taking first place in the pole vault and the discus throw, second in the broad jump, and third in the javelin throw.

Dean Fredericks was second high score man for the meet, garnering thirteen points in six events. He won the shot put, placed second in the high jump, third in both high and low hurdles, and third in the discus throw and the broad jump.

Captain Don Jenks starred for the U. of R. team, winning both the high and low hurdles. Stevenson, who won the high jump, is a good man, having cleared more than six feet earlier in the season.

Only Fifteen Vote For Wrestling As Major Sport Here

The constitution of the Athletic Association was passed recently by a large majority. There were 185 votes in favor of the whole constitution while 35 were opposed to the clause which stated that the cheer leader should be a Senior. Only 15 votes favored wrestling as a major sport. Each of the other articles were commented upon by a few students.

Smethport High Defeats Frosh At Meet Held Fri.

Combating one of the most evenly balanced teams in this section Friday, the Frosh tracksters bowed to Smethport High, 70-52. The combination of Potruzzi, Studholme, and Scott was too strong in the field events for the yearlings to overcome. Considering the poor condition of the Smethport track and jumping pits, the winning times and marks were good.

Much credit is due Steele of Alfred, who took two firsts and a third in three events. Galizio, running against exceedingly fast competition, garnered a first place and two seconds in as many events.

High scoring honors went to Scott and L. Patruzzi who collected 19 points each. Steele and Galizio with totals of 13 and 11 points ranked third and fourth respectively.

Summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Patruzzi (S); Van Dusen (S), second; Steele (A), third; Time 10 3-5 sec.

220-yard dash—Won by Steele (A); Staiman (A) second; Van Dusen (S), third; Time 24 sec.

Half mile run—Won by Harmon (S); Galizio (A), second; Obourn (A), third; Time 2 min. 21 sec.

Mile run—Won by Harmon (S); Galizio (A), second; Denning (S), third; Time 4 min. 58 3-5 sec.

MEET TO BE THE LARGEST IN N. Y. STATE THIS YEAR

Alfred University's Twentieth Annual Interscholastic track and field meet with an entry of 36 high schools and academies, including 311 athletes, promises to be the largest meet of its kind held in this state this year. Teams will represent the following schools: Alfred, Alleghany, Almond, Attica, Binghamton Central, Bradford, Buffalo-Bennett, Buffalo East, Buffalo-Hutchinson, Buffalo-Fosdick Masten, Buffalo-Tech, Corning Free Academy, Cuba, Cook Academy, Coundersport, East Aurora, Falconer, Geneseo, Hamburg, Hammondsport, Hornell, Little Valley, Lock Haven, Naples, Niagara Falls, Olean, Rochester-East, Rochester-Tech, Salamanca, Sardinia, Silver Springs, Wellsville, Whitesville, Pike, and Canistota.

Manager D. E. Devitt announces that the meet will start at 10 o'clock with the preliminaries, and that the finals will be held in the afternoon. Instead of the call system used formerly the meet will be run on a time schedule. There will be a specified time for each event and it will be each coach's duty to see that his entries are on the mark at the scheduled time.

Dr. Russell S. Ferguson, former track coach at Alfred, will officiate as referee and starter. "Doc" enjoys a state-wide reputation as an authority on track matters. Considerable credit is due him for Alfred's present high rating in track and cross country circles.

Keen competition is expected from Lock Haven, Pennsylvania interscholastic champions, and from Niagara Falls, winners of the 1927 interscholastics. The Cataract City sent only five athletes last year and took the cup. This year, they boast of point winners in Moran, pole vaulter, and DeLorenzo, a stellar sprinter.

In connection with the meet, a stock-judging contest will be held at the barns of the New York State School of Agriculture. Loving cups and cash prizes will be awarded to the highest individual and team scorings.

The girls' public speaking contest will be held tonight and the boys' contest is scheduled for tomorrow night at 7:30 in Alumni Hall.

Judges will be selected from members of the faculty and the English department. Entries have been received from Hamburg, Salamanca, Painted Post, Wellsville, Springville, and Binghamton. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded in each contest.

NOTICE, TREASURERS!

The treasurers of all student organizations connected with the college are requested to bring their books to the undersigned to be audited as soon as possible.

SPORT LIGHTS

Being ranked as the second best team in the Conference last year, the Rochester boys counted on exchanging places with our champions this season. But sickness and ineligibility robbed them of several points last week. Metz, who holds the college record for the century, and Steele, stellar javelin thrower, were barred from the meet with a few teammates. With these men back in the lineup in the return meet here the Purple and Gold will have a much harder struggle than it had Saturday.

Gym was pleasantly surprised last week to see Walt Hulse merrily frolicking over the high hurdles. For a man who has never hurdled before Hulse certainly is progressing rapidly. When one thinks of Walt Gibbs and Walt Hulse as hurdlers, he can realize that there must be something in a name.

The fact that the indoor tennis finals were contested by underclassmen certainly is promising. Alfred has never been synonymous with good tennis teams and now is her chance. She has two full years to develop these men into the nucleus of a truly representative team for any medium-sized college.

The fast time of 3 min. 45 sec. in which the Frosh ran the mile relay in the interclass meet was considered far better than could be expected. Rumer from a reliable source, coming from the dirt track of the Hornell Fair Grounds, is telling the world that a Hornell High School quartet can cover the distance in 3:50. When this group invades Merrill Field a week from Thursday, the Frosh may expect trouble in store for them.

Outlook Good For Middle Atlantic Track, Field Meet

Contrary to the annual dope, Alfred's tracksters are rated a consideration in the Middle Atlantic Track and Field Meet at Haverford Pa., Friday and Saturday, when the locals will meet the keenest competition of the season. The outlook for a place on the scoring list is comparatively bright, inasmuch as Alfred has several veterans in its lineup.

From the squad, which captured a tie for fifth last year, the Purple and Gold outfit has lost but one of its point winners. Local supporters expect that Captain Ladd, Fredericks, Klinger, Boulton, Getz and Zschiegner will place in a good share of the events.

On paper, New York University, last year's champion, Haverford, and Swarthmore are heavy favorites for the team trophy. Alfred, Lehigh, Rutgers, and Union also have enough potential strength to warrant giving them serious trouble. Other team entries are Bucknell, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, John Hopkins, Lafayette, Manhattan, Muhlenburg, Washington and Jefferson, and Delaware.

Rutgers, five times winner of the meet heads the victors, with Lafayette a close second with four wins, Lafayette has been runner-up seven times. The preliminaries for the meet are scheduled for Friday, and the finals for Saturday.
