Better and More Beautiful Buildings

Plans for another new building for the campus have been completed. A committee of the Board of Trustees, last week, decided to build a new gymnasium which would be better and more beautiful than the plans made for the completion of the present Davis Gymnasium.

It will be magnificent structure of a classical design. It will contain a large basketball court for gym work and social events, a swimming pool, and offices for the athletic department. Only $40,000 is needed to cover the cost of building. If this can be raised before August when the final plans are returned by the architects, the start of the building will be made.

The Board of Trustees are to be congratulated on their progressive steps in beautifying the campus. This building is a part of the program for a bigger and better Alfred.
