

CHARLES T. GWYNNE IS NAMED TO GIVE DOCTOR'S ORATION

Charles Thomas Gwynne, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, of the State of New York, has been approved by the Senior Class of Alfred University to give the Doctor's Oration at commencement in June.

Mr. Gwynne is a native of New York City, and has participated in the business activities of the city more widely than is possible for most men. He has been connected, in early life, with the Edison Phonograph Works, the United States Express Company and the Pratt and Whitney Company. In 1894 he joined the executive offices of the Chamber of Commerce of New York State, where he has held the positions of assistant secretary, secretary, vice president and secretary, and in 1924 became executive vice president, and as such the executive head of the organization.

He is a member of the Advisory Committee of the School of Business of Columbia University, of the New York State Historical Society, and the New York City Historical Society. He is a director of the American Arbitration Association, a trustee of the Museum of the Peaceful Arts, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He was head of the delegation sent by the Association for the Establishment and Maintenance, for the people in the City of New York, of Museums of the Peaceful Arts, to make a survey in motion pictures of the Industrial Museums of Europe, and has published an extensive report of that survey.

He is a man unusually well fitted to give in the Doctor's Oration the basic principles of America's business development, and Alfred is fortunate in securing him for this commencement address.

Postpones Initiation

Because of an address by Kirby Page, the Alfred Biological Society felt obliged to postpone its initiation ceremonies which were scheduled for last Wednesday evening. Another date has not yet been decided upon.

Founders' Day Brings Back Memories of Alfred of Days In President Allen's Time

The arrival of Founders' Day brings to the students, an inkling of appreciation of the struggles and gradual rise of this institution, and to the alumni, the memory of those men who figured most prominently in its development. The two thoughts are synonymous in their source, for the latter most certainly caused the growth of the college.

President Jonathan Allen stands out as one of the most vital characters in the history of the University. He was the youngest pupil of the Select School founded in 1836 and served as president of the college from 1867-1882. His personality was very attractive and compelling,—but one which could create terror also! In every branch of educational work he emphasized the spiritual rather than the material values.

Through his training for the ministry, he developed a melodious, yet sonorous voice and excellent diction. As a result of this background, he

KLINGER AND MILLS LEAVE FOR NATIONAL CONFERENCE IN WEST

Daniel G. Klinger and Harriette J. Mills were the delegates chosen by the student body to represent Alfred at the Fourth Annual Meeting of the National Student Federation of America, which will be held at the University of Missouri the rest of this week.

Klinger is president of the Student Senate and Miss Mills is president of the Junior Class.

The aim of the congress is to bring the most prominent students in the country together to discuss their college problems. Alfred's delegation is interested in the honor system. It is hoped that many valuable and constructive ideas will be brought back to Alfred as a result of the conference.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC GIVEN AT CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

A worthwhile program of Christmas music will be offered by the choir and members of the Union Church Sunday evening of December 16, at 7:30 o'clock. The program will include varied selections of vocal and instrumental music, including solos, carols, and anthems. It is hoped that everyone who is interested will come and share these "tidings of great joy."

MISS MARGARET PRENTICE IS MARRIED IN NEW YORK

Word has been received of the marriage on Nov. 27, of Miss Margaret L. Prentice, '26, to Lawrence Danckaert of New York City. Both young people are designers in the employ of Tiffany's Ecclesiastical Studios, and expect to make their home for the present at 230 East 15th Street, New York. Mrs. Danckaert was graduated from the art department of the Ceramic School and has won an enviable reputation in her line of work.

Holds Bazaar

Under the auspices of the YWCA, a Japanese Bazaar was held on Dec. 5 and 6 in the Brick parlors. The bazaar was a great success, as most of the articles were sold on the first day.

DR. DOWNING WILL ADDRESS STUDENTS FOR FOUNDERS' DAY

Dr. Augustus S. Downing, Ph. D., L. D., will be the speaker for the Annual Founders' Day program to be held at assembly on Thursday, Dec. 13. Dr. Downing is one of the foremost educators of New York State and in this capacity he has held many executive positions of note.

He is a member of the committee on selection of Rhodes scholars from New York and a member and former department superintendent of the National Educational Association. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity and of the National Council of Education.

Due to the eminence of Dr. Downing's position in the educational world, the address, "Appreciation of Higher Education" will be appropriate to the occasion.

BETA PI KAPPA BIDS SEVEN UPPERCLASSMEN TO FRAT MEMBERSHIP

Beta Pi Kappa announces the pledging of seven new members, four Seniors and three Juniors. The Seniors are: Gordon Lewis, James Mulroy, William Lewis, and Nathan Tucker; Juniors: Harold Karthaus, Robert Bassett, and Donald Lynn.

They will be formally initiated at the next meeting of the fraternity, Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock. The initiation will be held at Delta Sig house.

Beta Pi Kappa is a national honorary fraternity open to ceramic students of the upper classes, eligibility to membership being based on scholarship, interest in ceramics and character.

107 STUDENTS HAVE LOW GRADES, 48 NOT PASSING

One hundred and seven students out of 491 in college have an index of below 0.5. This is a smaller number than last year at the midsemesters. There are fewer Freshmen with an index below 0.5 than the previous year. If these marks had been final there would have been 48 bust outs.

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR KANAKADEA ARE NEARLY COMPLETED

The 1930 Kanakadea is well on its way to definite book form. The White Studios' photographer has been on the campus for the past week obtaining photographs of the student body for this year book. The entire staff is busy at work preparing surprises for the readers of the annual.

Now, during these ten days before Christmas is the time to hand in subscription either to the representative in the house or at the desk at the entrance to Alumni Hall before or after assembly.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO BUILDINGS, CAMPUS DURING FALL

The general improvement on the campus for the year has been installed between the Brick and the steam plant. The purpose of the tunnel is to cut down the loss of heat and to provide for the making of repairs without digging up the campus.

An addition was completed to the steam plant this summer and another boiler installed. This greatly improved the efficiency of the plant.

Apipe line is being run from a spring back of the Steinheim to the steam plant. This will furnish water for the boilers and here will no longer be any necessity for relying upon the town supply.

At present a cooler room is being added to the rear of Burdick Hall. The room adjoins the kitchen and has been built for the purpose of keeping food and milk.

The addition which is being made to the gym will be finished in time so that it may be used at the beginning of the second semester.

The damage to the infirmary which was caused recently by fire has been repaired. The kitchen has been rebuilt and refinished. Workmen are now engaged in refinishing the dining hall and reception room.

The sewer which the township has lately installed will be a direct benefit to the college in that it will make an easier and more sanitary method of disposing of refuse.

Emphasizing the fact that what the world needs most is a moral and political equivalent of war, Kirby Page, well known lecturer and editor, brought his topic "Why Men Fight" to a close at the assembly period Thursday.

Mr. Page gave an inspiring and analytical survey of the question of war, its worth and causes, Wednesday morning. He began his discussion of the subject, by refuting the common belief that war is inevitable because man has a fighting instinct and his human nature cannot be curbed. Setting forth the idea that war is caused by politics lagging behind economics, by stupidity and confused thinking, the lecturer went on to show the dependence of nations upon each other and the necessity for world peace.

He spoke on some length on nationalism, which though paradoxical transcends the barriers between human beings. Explaining the deadliness of propaganda, Mr. Page showed how cartoons and newspapers heightened the possibilities of conflict. Decrying this journalism, he carefully proved that nations fight because they are victimized by ideas and political dogmas. He described the dogmas as national interest, military necessity, national sovereignty and national patriotism.

Continuing his discussion of the same subject on Thursday, Dr. Page pointed out the two philosophies of defense: one, the maintenance of armaments; the other, the peace system. Breaking down the contention that large armies and navies guarantee safety, he broached the idea that the world should adopt a plan for peace which will consider facts rather than theories, superstitions and fears.

He laid the blame for war upon emotion and prejudices which have been created by propaganda and accentuated by forms of nationalism. "The peril of war is not a peril be-

Old Letters Reveal Alfred In Its Early Days; Second Teacher Paid $25 a Month

There has recently come to light some letters of historical interest to Alfred University. These letters were found in an old trunk from the attic of one of Alfred's first settlers. These letters were written on foolscap and are folded and sealed with wafers which were used before envelopes came into being.

The first of these letters is dated Alfred, January 12, 1837, and was written by Mr. Orra Stillman to a Mr. Manchester of Buffalo. Mr. Stillman writes:

"A select school was commenced in the upper village by Mr. Church, a man of very good education. It is held in an upper-room in the dwelling owned by Hartshorn and Greene. It consists of thirty-six scholars, (David and I are of the number) who generally pay good attention to studies which are, reading, writing, mathematics, grammar and philosophy. The terms are $2.50 per quarter for the common studies and $3.00 per quarter for philosophy . . ."

"Most of our inhabitants have the sweet anticipation of living to see a railroad through this despised and frostbitten country. If this should be the case it would be of great help to us about importing our grain, but it is not likely that we shall ever have any to export . . ."

The second of these letters was written by Mr. David Stillman while he was attending a Seventh Day Baptist Conference at Berlin, N. Y. The first half of the letter is a personal note to his son, the second half is a matter of business to a Mr. Maxson. In this letter which is dated Berlin, September 7, 1837, Mr. Stillman says: ". . . I have contracted with James Irish to teach a school for $25.00 per month, 24 days a month. He must be boarded at one place at our expense and this is the best I think that we could do. The school is to commence the first Monday in December."

An interesting passage follows in a note appended to this letter by Armanda, Mr. Stillman's daughter who had accompanied him to the conference:

". . . I am in Robert Davis' chamber where there is neither table nor stand and am standing up by the chest and scribbling these words with the same o'd pen that you made. It is now nearly ten o'clock and I am every moment expecting to see a girl coming after the candle to light someone else to their nocturnal rest . . ."

cause of the nature of the people, but it is due to what the people are taught," said the editor.

Dr. Page's plan for world peace is an intelligent, political, equivalent for war, one which has technique and procedure in setting controversies. He suggests adequate treaties for conciliation, these treaties offsetting war by providing for a "cooling off period" in which facts are balanced against consequences. Other suggestions for peace were arbitration, judicial decision, series of conferences to bring delegates from different countries and a cleaning house for emerging action.

The immediate panacea for the curing of war traditions and destinies lies in building up the structures of international peace, supplying adequate political substitutes for war and delegelizing and outlawing war.

The most important task, said Dr. Page, was that of placing laws on the side of peace, rather than on the side of war where it now stands. He advocated the ratification of the Kellogg-Briand treaty, a renunciation of war and reduction of armements.

"The discussion which we make" concluded the speaker, "will affect the destiny of the human race. If we are indifferent and allow ourselves to drift we will become a peril to the rest of the world." He left the platform admonishing the students to put their minds and lives to the worthwhile task of substituting a peace system for a war system.

Dr. Page gave a series of addresses in Alumni Hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Only a small audience of students and townspeople attended these lectures.

Dr. Page spoke on the religious aspect of life. On the first night he used as his topic "Conscientious Wickedness," in which he stressed the point that many good people have favored some of the worst things.

After showing the examples of the slave keepers, business men engaged in the liquor trade, the Inquisition of the Middle Ages, and the Crusades, he led up to his attack on war between nations as it is carried on today. During the course of the lecture, Dr. Page stated:

"There has never been a generation more cruel than the present generation and the evidence is the recent World War. Both sides were basing their excuse in the war on a false premise—that they were fighting the opposite side for country, civilization and the kingdom of God."

Dr. Page advocated the Doctrine of Christ: "That only those methods are justifiable that are consistent with the ends that are sought."

On Thursday night, Dr. Page spoke on the topic, "Is the Religion of Jesus Practical?" which was a sequel to the talk of the night before. He showed that Jesus in spite of all the prejudices, hate and fear about him, lived according to his own teachings: To live each day as if the kingdom of God had come.

In closing, Dr. Page issued this challenge, "Live today as if the kingdom of God has come and be willing to take the consequences."

Dean J. Nelson Norwood and Dr. Charles F. Binns spoke a few words of appreciation for the excellent series of talks, at the close of the last meeting.

Dr. Page also spoke in several classes during the two days and at an open forum, Thursday afternoon.

MANY FRESHMEN ARE OUT FOR ACTIVITIES SAYS ADMINISTRATOR

Statistics obtained from the Campus Administrator show a total of 104 Freshmen men registered in the Department of Campus Administration and of this number more than one-half are exempt from campus duties, either because of physical defects or extra curricular activities. This extra curriculum consists of football, basketball, cross country, wrestling, band, Fiat Lux work, cheer leading, and trainers.

The greatest number of those excused by the department were out for football. The members of the Frosh team were: Dominick Varone, Francis McCourt, Wadsworth Giller, Julius Capowski, George Mooney, John Green, Burton Chubb, Sidney Delaney, John Grantier, Carlton Sixby, Wallace Clark, John Keats, Kenneth Robinson, Arthur Haynes, Nathan Kahn, Stephen Patterson, Aurelio Mazzarella, Stockton Bassett, George Monks, Francis Gagliano, Joseph Shostak, Dale Lockwood, Thomas Havens and Kenneth Dunbar.

Those out for cross country: Benjamin Lipschitz, Lester Vance, Pryce Thomas, Stephen Warde, Robert Knobbs, Bernard Saltzman and Alex Weinberg.

Trainers: Joseph Duffy, Michael Durante, Laurence Greene, Robert Hoehn, William Wright, Melvin Spaulding, James Birdsall, and Maxwell Weinberg.

Cheer leaders: Harry Mahnken and Francis McCourt.

Band: Robert Fleishner, Robert Hallenbeck, and Eugene Guinta.

Wrestling: Robert Stanton, John Grantier, Louis Beyea, James Birdsall, Laurence Hopper, Lyman Harwood, and Lewis Graham.

Fiat Lux: Robert Flint, Leston Fitch, Peter Galanti.

This is the first time that so many have been excused for extra-curricular in the history of the Campus Administration and it shows that most of the Frosh are out to do their bit.

OPINIONS

I was extremely interested in Kirby Page's addresses. Despite this fact however, I found myself falling asleep in assembly last Wednesday and Thursday. It is only natural to fall asleep when the atmosphere one breathes is hot, fetid and odorous. If wide-awake, alert audiences are desired in the future, let us have a few opened windows and a little fresh air to dispel the vaporings of over five hundred respiring individuals, assembled in close contact in assembly. —"El Gullo"

FIAT LUX SERVED STUDENTS DURING TIME SINCE 1913

Prior to 1913 Alfred University had no weekly, student operated, newspaper. Before that time a monthly paper had been published, but it was of a literary and social nature and was issued irregularly.

About this time the leading American universities began to publish weekly and even daily newspapers if the demand warranted it. Alfred, in keeping with the general trend, did likewise. On Oct. 13, 1913, the "Alfred Weekly" was distributed among the students. It was eight by ten inches in size and contained eight pages. The officers were: Robert S. Garwood '14, editor-in-chief, T. D. Tefft and H. C. all, associate editors, and I. A. Klaus, business manager.

The name of the publication was changed to Fiat Lux after a name contest won by Donald Clark '14. The name was chosen because it was the most distinctive and the most typically "Alfred." The University seal was adopted as the insignia of the newly christened "Fiat Lux."

During 1914-1915 the editor-in-chief was C. Aaron McCoon, who had been an assistant the year before. Grover Burbank was business manager.

There is no record of the activities of the "Fiat" for the year 1915-1916.

For the year 1916-1917 the officers were: Edward E. Saunders, editor-in-chief, Ernest H. Perkins, managing editor. Due to their efficient management they not only wiped out a

The 1928 Fall Campaigns

Athletic campaigns of the Fall of 1928 have gone down in history to remain as a page in the annals of the University. They are a set to be looked back on not with any large degree of regret and to be moaned as wholly unsuccessful.

Some may argue that those records may have been better. And that is true. But to reason still farther, nothing is perfect and therefore it would be out of the question to argue for that end.

The season is past. It cannot be undone. In judging the athletic activities, for those who care to make such a judgment, the fairest way is to compare it with the preceding season. In that sense, it is almost unquestionable, to state that the 1928 campaigns in the two Varsity sports have shown an improvement over those of 1927. It is not casting any reflections on the athletes of a year ago, as they tried as hard as those of this year.

In cross country, Alfred realized its goal. The Middle Atlantic title was brought back to this school. It was the crowning victory of a successful season. The record of five victories and one defeat in dual meets, the championship of the district A. A. N., and the splendid attack for the national A. A. U. title is one of which a college of the size of Alfred should be proud.

Football also has a splendid record. On paper, the scores may look pretty uninteresting to the ordinary reader. But the team had a past to fight down. Following a steady decline from 1916, the local gridiron teams dropped to its lowest level in 1927 with a record of eight defeats and one tied game and no scores to its credit. An upward climb was started this year. That alone should be one of the greatest credits that can possibly be attributed to a team.

Sunday Stay-At-Homes

The question has been raised lately in faculty and the student groups whether or not the old saying, "The end justifies the means" is applicable to the Alfred Union Church. It is essentially a college affair—of the students, by the students, for the students—yet if one were to judge from the attendance and interest shown, he might wonder just what function it could boast.

The service is non-sectarian, and can be modified or changed at any time to meet the specified or changed at any time to meet the specific requests of the students; the pastor is selected by the students and talks directly to them; and the choir, which is composed entirely of college personal, is doing excellently this year.

What more could the fair young co-eds or their boy friends desire? Is it possible that they don't know of the existence of the Union Church? Do their weighty responsibilities overbalance the worth of a Sunday service? Are they all Agnostics or Materialists? Or are the strains of a good anthem and a few hymns too much for them to bear? The consistently poor attendance seems a deplorable thing in a college of this size; yet a perfunctory or "duty" attendance would rob the service of its value.

An effort is being made to make the service more worthy in the eyes of the student body—a program is being planned which should arouse much enthusiasm, were it given a fair chance. But it cannot function without support—why not make an effort to be present? you will at least be able to boast of an open mind and individually decide the stand you wish to take in the matter.

King Alfred the Great

Some More About It

For over four score years and three, our sports have gone unnamed While younger schools just springing up have made their nicknames famed. We've had the spirit and fighting lore—but it seems a little tough That we only hear "The Purple" when the going gets quite rough, You hear about the "Trojans" and "The Sons of Old Eli" The "Wolverines" and Badgers" too, you know as well as I. There's lots of other names to add, each school has made its choice— And don't you think that the "color scheme" should not be put to voice.

For instance there is Rochester, and "Yellow" is its name. And though the team may fight real hard, the name is still the same. Just think how much it'll mean to folks when after all is said They hear the time-worn "Purple" is yielded and instead They're called by a real old fighting name which makes you stand and cheer, When that fierce yell sweeps along the crowd and rings out sharp and clear. This is just a little hint, that's all, but to give the things a start, I suggest that we all get to work, and take it right to heart.

And if you want some further proof, or things that's called as that, Just think of the Saxon Ruler and you'll agree right off the bat. And another thing that's wonderful, which you can truly state,— That of all England's rulers, he's the only one called "Great."

I make the motion, and so forth, and if you all agree— Then we'll drink to the "Loyal Saxons" and give them three times three. And as New Year's Day is coming, let's make a resolve strong;— That the war-cry of the Saxons shall be our Battle-song. J. H. M.—

Fraternity Bidding

Fraternity bidding will start Friday morning at 8 o'clock for Freshmen and students just entering college this semester. Bids for the various fraternal groups will be mailed at that time, not to be returned before 8 o'clock of the morning of the following Monday. These rules are in the constitution of the Men's Interfraternity Council of which Alpha Zeta chapter of Delta Sigma Phi, New York Beta chapter of Theta Kappa Nu, and Kappa Psi Upsilon are members, and are observed by Klan Alpine Fraternity which has withdrawn.

The receivers of bids will be called on to make one of the greatest decisions in their college careers, a choice which will undoubtedly have a bearing on their future life. Some may go one way and some another. Recently a pamphlet was sent out from the college office to aid prospective pledges in judging between the fraternal organizations.

Whatever decision is made, it is up entirely to the individual to the step he is to take. During the past eight weeks, the new students have been able to judge the fraternities on the campus. They have seen fraternal life at its best and should be able to pass upon it, wisely and sanely.

Prospective pledges—weigh this question diligently and with a great deal of care. Make your decision as fairly as you can.

Strolling Around the Campus (With "Mac" and "Gin")

We would suggest that Buckley retaliate by advertising for something to elongate the distance between his roommate's knees and feet. Of course, he's irresistible "as is," but we just can't see him in a crowd.

We wonder what excuse Purgatory will have to "comeovah," now that they've finished painting Sigma Chi's walls.

Somebody says that Callahan, Gaulrapp, Heohn, Sixbey and Quailley are the latest pledges at Sigma Chi Nu.

Kappa Psi-ers say that Koragan is a sketch. What's wrong with that picture.

How do you suppose Verne Sisson got the bum eye? Maybe he got "Caught in a door"—eh MacMahon?

We would like to sympathise with Theta Chi on the death of Petunia, but anything we could say would be just too catty.

Did you see the line-up of toilet preparations on George Mooney's dresser the night of the Burdick Hall party? The source of his sex appeal, no doubt.

After hearing the Alma Mater sung by the girls in assembly, we know what those funny noises are we've heard at the Brick lately.

That's All!

Foreign Students Meet

A group of 48 foreign students visited Swathmore on Nov. 1. The number included representatives of 27 countries of the world. All of whom are members of the International Institution of the Teachers' College of the University of Columbia.

China led the list in number of students of education, nine having come from that country. For many of these students, the Swarthmore-Deleware football game was the first contest of its kind they had ever seen.

Alfred Closes Successful Season In Fall Sports

COACH HEERS' MEN END SEASON WITH 2 WINS, 7 DEFEATS

Purple Registers Victories Over Clarkson and Edinboro—Suffers One-sided Loss to N. Y. U.—Rest End With Close Scores—Loses Five Veterans.

1929 marked one of Alfred's most successful grid seasons in the past few years. It showed a team with scoring power and a strong, defensive line; but, above all, an eleven full of fight and team spirit.

Unfortunately, the team started their schedule away from home by playing Hamilton College at Clinton. The Purple lost by a 14-0 score, but gave evidence of strength which could easily be brought out later in the season. The visitors staged a terrific comeback in the last quarter, but were unable to score although the ball was in their opponent's territory during the entire period.

On the following Saturday, the Varsity journeyed to Rochester for its annual tilt with the Yellow. Alfred continually outplayed the Kodak City eleven but weakened in the last half under the line smashes of Straub, Rochester's Sophomore half-back. The final score was 7-0 which should furnish a source of vengeance for next year's battle with the Yellow.

Alfred's hopes for victory rose when they met Juniata at Huntingdon, Pa. Although they faced a greatly improved team, their inability to kick goals cost them a win or a tie, and sent them home on the short end of a 13-12 score. Captain Fredericks made the first touchdown to break a scoreless record of some thirteen games.

The next weekend saw the Purple in Niagara Falls opposing Niagara in its second conference game of the season. The mountaineers were completely outclassed and half heartedly allowed the conference champs to smother them in the mud with a 33-0 score.

A muddy field greeted the Purple then for its debut on Merrill Field when it faced an undefeated Edinboro eleven. Two costly fumbles gave the big scarlet team an advantage of two points in the second quarter. Alfred tried hard but was unable to score until "Marty" Staiman intercepted a pass to run 60 yards for a touchdown and a victory in the last two minutes of play.

Hobart invaded Merrill Field next to face eleven fighting demons. The heavy Orange team was perplexed by Alfred's determined line and resorted to Gulick's long, accurate passes and brilliant broken field running to gain a hard earned 26-7 victory.

N. Y. U., the strongest team in the East, then swamped the Purple 71-0 in a one-sided affair. Coach Heers used two full teams and saved his men for the following game with Clarkson Tech.

The Purple then chose Merrill Field as the spot and picked Clarkson as the victim for its next home victory. After the Engineers had played their trumps in the first quarter, Alfred completely routed the up-staters with a 37-0 score. It was the largest Alfred score since the 16-0 Buffalo victory five years ago.

Then to conclude a long and trying season, the mountaineers went to Meadville to face an inspired Allegheny eleven. The Blue and Gold took advantage of a soupy gridiron to score four touchdowns and a safety for a 27-0 victory. The Purple fought hard, fumbled, frequently, and consequently failed to get anywhere.

GRADUATING VARSITY LETTER MEN

ARMSTRONG HEADS VARSITY ELEVEN FOR NEXT SEASON

At a past season football meeting last week the Varsity squad unanimously elected Lee Armstrong to captain of the 1929 eleven. Armstrong, who is a Junior, has held the center position for the past two seasons.

Five Seniors severed their last connection with active football service at the meeting. Dean Fredericks, the retiring captain, saw active service for four years and has gained quite a reputation in the Little Ten Conference as a punter and a consistent line plunger.

Lee Cottrell, all-conference center in 1926, with his 190 pounds of fight will be sorely missed because of his defensive and offensive strength.

Danny Klinger, end, leaves a hard position to fill because of his aggressive offense and reliable defense.

Al Voorhies shifted from halfback to guard this year, put up hard driving games. His experience and hard tackling will leave a huge gap to be filled next year.

Lloyd Larson went out for football this Fall and gave a good account of himself in the back field. While inexperience and injuries proved hard to overcome, "Gus" showed to good advantage all season.

ATHLETIC SQUADS ARE TREATED TO BANQUET BY VARSITY "A" CLUB

Members of the Varsity and Freshmen football and cross country squads at Alfred University were tendered a banquet at the Hotel Sherwood in Hornell on Friday, Dec. 7, by the Alfred Varsity "A" Club, co-operating with the Athletic Association. There were 80 members and guests present.

After dinner they adjourned to another room where moving pictures of the Army vs. Alfred cross country race and the Middle Atlantic were shown by Dr. Russell S. Ferguson. These pictures showed the members of the team in action.

Dr. Ferguson gave a talk in which he stressed that to develop a good athletic team in Alfred must be done through loyalty. This was followed by short speeches by Coach E. A. Heers, the athletic director, and by James A. McLane, assistant director of athletics, Lloyd W. Larson spoke a few words. It was announced that Emil Zschiegner had been elected captain of the cross country team next year.

After this the basketball members proceeded to the Armory to practice and the rest adjourned to the movies.

Klinger, and "Al" Voorhies have donned the Purple and Gold moccasins for the last time. But they have left Coach Heers with a self-confident team composed mostly of Sophomores and the distant future gleams brighter than ever.

Court Men Show Fine Ability in Practice Contest in Hornell

They shall not pass. This byword became the order of the day at the Hornell Armory when the Alfred Varsity cagers romped all over the Company K five to pile up a 97-31 score. The first string quint started the practice and led by Larson practically held the soldiers scoreless while they sank the equivalent of 47 points.

A substitute team continued the heavy scoring spree by bettering the Varsity's total with 50 points tally. However, the second team's defense proved decidedly weaker and the Hornets slipped at least 25 markers through the hoops.

All in all, the squad's scoring average was fattened considerably when Larson tallied 29 points. The remainder of the Varsity scored as follows: McGraw, 7; Boyd, 8; Hulse, 17; Latronica, 9 points. Pomerantz led the remainder of the squad with 10 scores, Wenger 9; Reed, 4, while MacFadden, Hill, Steele, and Turner tallied a basket a piece.

Allegheny College has a new organization, the Blue and Gold Key, which made its appearance at a recent game there. This club has been organized to promote pep and to take care of the visiting teams. The boys were distinguished by their hats, which were white felt, with a band of blue and gold, and a gold key on a blue background. The club intends to aid the college and the fraternities towards a newer and greater sportsmanship. A spirit such as Allegheny has would aid Alfred in becoming a greater Alfred.

CHICK ZSCHIEGNER ELECTED TO LEAD VARSITY HARRIERS

Emil Zschiegner will lead the Varsity cross country team next Fall following the election held Friday night. "Chick," who is a Junior, is the most outstanding runner of his class and the honor bestowed on him was well deserved. Zschiegner entered college from Wellsville High School with a fine record as a miler. Coach Lampman started the boy out on the hill and dales.

During his first year he ran a fair pace over the mountains, but weak feet hampered him in his Sophomore year. This last year he stepped out to race with the best. He holds the Niagara District of the A. A. U. title in cross country.

The harrier team will be dealt a severe blow when graduation rolls around. Four of the premier runners will leave the local institution. But then, as in past years, the mediocre runners, will strive to step in to fill in the gaps. Doc Ferguson will have a fair size bunch left over from this year, but it will be nowhere the size of those in past years.

ELECT NEW MEMBERS TO VARSITY "A" CLUB

Thirteen members of the 1928 Varsity gridiron squad and the student manager were voted the award of the major "A" insignia at the regular monthly meeting of the Athletic and Governing Board this week.

They are: Captain Dean Fredericks, Lock Haven, Pa.; Lee B. Cottrell, Brooklyn; Daniel Klinger, Friendship; Alfred Voorhies, Nile; Gus Larson, Johnsonburg, Pa.; all of whom will be lost to the squad next year through June graduation, Captain-elect Lee Armstrong, Alfred; John Kickham, Granville; Fred Neiger, Ridgway, Pa.; Eugene Bryant, Macedon; William Crisafulli, Brooklyn; Martin Staiman, Brooklyn; James MacFadden, Warsaw; William Clarke, Niagara Falls; and J. Enfield Leach, Salamanca, student manager.

The Freshmen at Mercer University were not as fortunate as those at Alfred. After they had lost their annual class rush they were made to form a line and, with the aid of Sophomore paddles, marched down to the town pond and took a nice cold plunge. Not satisfied with the above proceedings the second year men made the yearlings entertain them and the public at large with numerous songs and aesthetic dances.

DR. FERGUSON HAS EXCELLENT TEAM ON HILL AND DALE

Runners Capture Three Big Meets and Five Duel Contests—Lose One Meet To Army—Four Veterans Leave Team.

Probably never in the history of the sport at Alfred, has the season looked so black at the start and ended so bright as the past one which Doc Ferguson and his handful of harriers have just closed. Dr. Russell S. Ferguson, after an absence of two years, returned to Alfred to coach his favorite sport.

Three of Doc Ferguson's previous teams report to the first practice. The trio of Boulton, Brown and Getz had helped carry Alfred's colors to its first Middle Atlantic in their Freshman year. They were the only runners who had been trained under Doc but their record was not as impressive as when he had left the school. There were also Zschiegner, with a fair record, May, with a record at Illinois, Newlands, with plenty of injuries and a few more who showed signs of being runners.

Hobart was the first opponent. It was downed by a perfect score. But Captain Getz and Former Captain Boulton were way back, allowing the less experienced runners to clinch the victory.

A trip to Springfield amounted to a win but it was the result of team work that scored the triumph. Zschiegner captured first with the rest of the squad registering the 25 to 30 victory.

Next the Varsity tackled Cornell, winner of many honors in the past. The neighboring institution put up a strong fight but the team balanced by Captain Getz in second place won 26 to 29.

Colgate brought a strong squad to Alfred but was turned back 18 to 37. Getz, Boulton and Zschiegner tied for first. Vance, a frosh, stepped out to show his stuff by scoring fifth for Alfred.

Rochester was downed, like Hobart, by a perfect score.

Then came the New York State conference. Rochester put in Kraai, its best runner. Getz and Boulton tied for first. Zschiegner sprinting for the tape, came in third, one second behind the leaders and one second ahead of Kraai. May and Newlands completed the local scoring by crossing the finishing line tied for sixth, and making the low score of 19 points.

The Army was the next opponent. The Varsity stopped West Point on the way to the Middle Atlantic and lost 22 to 33, the first duel meet defeat since St. Bonaventure won the by the same score two years ago.

Then came the supreme test. Matched against N. Y. U., Union, Lafayette and several other colleges, Alfred captured the Middle Atlantic State Collegiate Athletic Association meet in New York City. Here team balance showed its results. Getz and Zschiegner took fourth and fifth with Boulton, May and Brown coming in seventh, eighth and ninth to score a total of 33 points.

Against the best in the country the next day, the Varsity was unable to finish better than seventh in the National Senior A. A. U. The runners showed the strain of competing in two major meets in two days.

After returning home, five runners journey to Buffalo to win the Niagara District A. A. U. championship with 30 points. Zschiegner with a beautiful finish, captured first place. May and Boulton tied for fourth with Galizio and Vance completing the scoring.

BASKETBALL IS WELL UNDERWAY ON LOCAL COURT

Coach E. A. Heers has been drilling his basketball men for the past few days and has uncovered some fine material for a classy team this year. This year's team will most likely include Gus Larson and "Pete" Turner at the forward positions. Both are letter men. Gilbert Boyd or Frank Steele will occupy the center post. Both men are over six feet tall and both are experienced court men.

Wait Hulse and Jack McGraw, last year letter men and Lee Cottrell who made his letter two years ago are the leading contenders for the guard positions.

McMahon and Fabianic, last year letter men will not try for this year's team.

Other men who have been out for practice include: Jimmy MacFadden, Paul Webster, William Pomerantz, Sam Wenger, George Hill, Kenn Reed and Marty Staiman.

Coach Heers has reserved the Hornell Armory for Monday and Friday nights where some of the college games will be played.

Coach McLane, who is at the helm of the Frosh basketballers, has picked a probable team which will start on Thursday night against Cuba High School at the latter's court.

Following some practices at the High School gym, Coach McLane has picked Ken Sicklen, former Islip High School player and Joe Shostak, formerly of Morris High School as the tentative forwards. Dale Lockwood, tall center, of Ridgeway, Pa., High School looks well at the center post and it is probable that Francis Gagliano, formerly of Central High, Valley Stream and Keith Bush, of Jordan High will occupy the guard posts.

Many other fine basketballers have reported to Coach McLane but because their index is low they will be unable to have a place on the team.

Former Alfred University Stars Opposing Varsity

STAR ALUMNI TEAM OPPOSES VARSITY IN GAME TONIGHT

An experienced Purple varsity will open its basketball season tonight at the high school gym. Regardless of their showing in Hornell last Friday, Coach Heers proteges expect a hard fight from the grads and are none too confident of victory.

The alumni present an unusual combination with three former Varsity captains, Ken Nichols, Art Foti, and Don Fenner. Ray Geary, former Frosh Captain, Art Dunn, Schlosser, Pat Perrone, and Miles Wright complete their line-up. The grads have met with considerable success this season and defeated the strong Delta Sigma Phi fraternity quint last week with a 33-25 victory.

The varsity will meet another powerful aggregation at the University of Rochester this Friday. The conference champs will engage the Purple again on Dec. 1, at the Hornell Armory. Then five days later, Alfred will try to take over Cornell at Ithaca. Returning home then the Purple and Gold will wind up their prevacation campaign in Hornell against Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on Dec. 22d. R. P. I. scored a one-sided victory against the Purple at Troy last year and the local team will stage a desperate effort to make up for their loss.

To Those Who Have Led the Way

(Dedicated to Founders' Day)

They were the Builders of Life and Hope,

Their work has been for the best. The Faith they have shown in all Mankind,

Has caused that work to be blest. They were the Builders, but first, they too

Were students young and gay; And this is the message they pass on to us

Who are in their place today.

"Though far your duties will lead you in life,

Though you'll travel the wide world through;

You will never forget, the special deeds

That God would have you do. And when Alfred's name is listed,

And its inspiring story is told;— You too will feel that heartfelt urge,

To serve the 'Purple and Gold'!"

If a team scores 97 points in forty minutes, and its defense is so weak that the defeated team can roll up over 30 points themselves what are the winners going to do against a strong defense or a good offensive five?

The above question refers to the Varsity practice game in Hornell last Friday. The game did not necessarily show the Varsity's scoring power, but it did demonstrate scoring ability. At the same time, a quintet continually on the offensive cannot carry on an effective defense. Not having seen the game, the writer can only say that the game resulted only in a good, whirlwind practice session.

Believe it or not, but for the first time in over a decade Alfred's grid-ders elected a town boy to the captaincy. Stranger still, even ancient history does not record the manager-ship and captaincy both going to town boys in the same year.

Intercollegiate wrestling rules have changed somewhat since last year, the principal change being the provision for a 165 pound class. This change is hailed by just about everybody except the managers. With the schedules all completed and the contracts duly signed, the guarantees pay the expenses of only seven men instead of eight. The uproar may be long, loud, and lusty, but the financial loss during the season should only jump a hundred dollars more.

Booing the referee seems to be a necessary evil, but the Big Ten universities are forming a pledge for the good riddance of the jeering. This step could be used to good advantage in the East, but while there's a will there's a way; such as seeing him after the game.

debt of $280.89, but had a balance to show at the end of the year.

Harold Nash was elected editor-in-chief for 1917-1918, but resigned Nov. 23 to join the army. He was sent to the American Balloon School of the 51st regiment. He was succeeded by Julia Wahl, the paper's first woman editor, who managed the paper successfully for the remainder of the year. E. Fritjof Hildebrandt, at present assistant professor of Industrial Mechanics, was business manager, but resigned to join the army. He served in Aero Squadron "C," located at Ebert Field, Lonaki, Ark. He was succeeded by William H. Reid '20. When the law was passed forbidding the operation of all industries on Monday, the Fiat Lux was distributed on Saturday.

Because all of Alfred's able-bodied men joined the army, the work of managing the "Fiat" fell to the women. Marion Ross was elected as editor-in-chief for 1918-1919. William Reid was her assistant.

Frobisher F. Lytle was editor-in-chief for 1919-1920. Elmer Mapes '20, was business manager. The staff paid special attention toward securing student support and as a result the students voted to increase the price of the Fiat Lux to $2.25 per year.

During 1920-1921 J. Clair Peck, who had been president of his Freshman class, was editor-in-chief, but resigned in the middle of the first semester. Ray Witter succeeded him. Leon B. Coffin was business manager.

The late Robert F. Clark was editor-in-chief for 1921-1922. I. A. Conroe, at present professor of English and Public Speaking at Alfred University, was associate editor. Charles C. Clark was business manager. It was at this time that industry began to return to normalcy and the staff again delivered the paper on Tuesday.

Lloyd N. Lanphier was editor-in-chief and John Mahan was business manager for the year 1922-1923.

During 1923-1924 Max Jordan was editor-in-chief and Harold Rogers '25, as business manager.

Donald F. Pruden was editor-in-chief with Chester E. Taylor as business manager and Dighton G. Burdick as managing editor for the year 1927-1928.

chief, Kenneth E. Smith, business manager, and Ernest W. Clement, managing editor. The staff considered increasing the size of the present paper and published two editions of six column size on Nov. 13 and 20 respectively. However, the project was given up because of the great additional expense.

Although Alfred University's first weekly newspaper started on a supposedly unlucky day (Oct. 13, 1913), yet its growth has been sure, even though it has been intermittent at times. At present the Fiat Lux staff consists of more than forty members.

FOOTLIGHT CLUB WILL GIVE FINE PLAY AT ALUMNI HALL ON MONDAY

The Footlight Club will give its first performance of the year on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock at Alumni Hall. The play to be presented is, "The Goose Hanks High," by Lewis Beach. Certain changes have been made in the original cast which have necessitated hard work on the part of the director and actors.

The complete cast is as follows: Bernard Ingals James Morris Eunice Ingals Pearl Peckham Noel Derby Ben Morris Rhoda Annette Clifford Julia Murdoch Ortense Potter Mrs. Bradley Frieda Smigrod Hugh Ingals William Murray Ronald Murdock Harold Huffcut Lois Ingals Edwina Smith Bradley Ingals J. Enfield Leach Dagman Carroll Dorothy Hallock Elliott Kimberly Bud Cohon

The action of the play takes place during Christmas vacation and is therefore particularly appropriate for this season of the year.

RUSH PARTIES ARE HELD DURING WEEK WITH EACH FRAT HAVING ONE NIGHT

In accordance with the best fraternal traditions of Alfred the various fraternities will entertain prospective freshman pledges at a series of rush parties during the coming week. The Theta Kappa Nu will open the series with a party on Monday night. This will be followed by Klan Alpine on Tuesday, Kappa Psi Upsilon on Wednesday, and Delta Sigma Phi on Thursday.
