Prospectus

The eternal triangle composed of coach, players, and student body, again as always, presents its definite aspects in the athletic situation to come. At the upper apex of the figure is the coach, who, as the power behind the throne of football, must be at least one jump ahead of the rest, must be there with the goods, instinctively and intelligently all of the time. To meet the stringent demands which the entire reconstructive policymust incur will be a task to try the mettle of any man. Moreover, it places upon those who determine the choice of a coach a responsibility all the more delicate for the numerous adaptations to be made.

Alfred needs a man with so forceful a nature, so determined an attitude, so relentless a will, that he can command the respect and co-operation of every man on the team and every rooter in the stands. He must be an organizer with a knowledge of football strategy which will stand the team in good stead, and he must back up that intelligence with a spirit and an ability to handle men which will inspire them to fight to win every minute of the game. Rumor has it that several coaches of varying degrees of success come within the range of Alfred's selection, so from that standpoint the future may well be looked to with optimism. And yet—which one is the man for the job? Inasmuch as general opinion is quite universally modelled upon that of the men in the football togs, it might be well, in making the final choice, to consider the judgment of the 1930 players as influential and representative of the group.

A worthy coach, however, would wage a futile battle against losses, had he not the confidence of his machinery behind him. For this reason the men on the team should cultivate an open mind, and an unbiased outlook, forgetful of past failures. They should be willing to act with the coach, and to maintain a respect for his principles and his methods which will incorporate strict training and rigid adherence to rules. Lastly, they must be willing to purge themselves of fraternity prejudice and selfish objectives to make of the team a victorious unit.

The third angle of the triangle, formed by the entire student body, ought to include a morale which looks for triumphs instead of explaining defeats, which frowns upon broken training and poor sportsmanship, which, in short, supports the coach and the team with a thoroughly constructive attitude.

The situation as a whole is inter-dependent upon the three factors, yet the latter are determined by the first. In the coach's hands are the reins of the athletic seasons, in him is the example of initiative and grit that marshals men to victories; upon the choice of him rests the satisfaction, the college spirit, the loyalty of students in the next few years to come.

Let us hope for the selection of the right man for leadership in Alfred's athletics; then when our hopes are fulfilled in the best possible manner, let us prove by our response that we are worthy of the best.

Honor System

In connection with athletic problem, it might be well to keep the ball rolling. Is the honor system, as operated, a worthy tradition? So far as the most of us are aware the system is not highly spoken of by anyone. All seem to consider it a detriment rather than an asset to the college.

There are reasons for its failure to function. Who will squeal even if he does see illegal procedure? No one. Human beings are human beings in college or out of college. College merely sharpens the crooked mind. It is difficult to bend a tree when it is nearly grown.

Who wants to study if his neighbor in examinations does not, and can secure better grades then he himself can by working? Does not one bad apple spoil the barrel?

Do statistics show anything? In an Economics Life class a vote was taken recently. The ballot was arranged with numbers ranging from one to four. One represented "no cheating observed"; two, "little cheating"; three, "more cheating"; and four, "considerable cheating." This referred to a quiz given the previous day. The result of the ballot was as follows: One, eleven; two, twenty; three, two; and four none. Of course to judge from this it would be necessary to know what had happened in the previous classes and in other courses of the college. A collection of such data would be interesting.

The answer to the whole situation is no doubt that anything is better than nothing and that it looks good in the handbooks and the catalogue. These reasons are no doubt justifiable. It is also, no doubt, true that if one is clever, shrewd or nervy enough to get by without doing the work, he is entitled to what he can get. And again it might be harder on some less gifted. Perhaps it is a humane system after all.

VITAL STATISTICS OF OUR CAMPUS

1. 450 students have eight o'clock classes.
2. 440 students rise for their eight o'clock classes at seven fifty.
3. 2 rise as seven fifteen.
4. 8 rise for their eight o'clock classes at eleven o'clock.
5. Three students have their lessons prepared.
6. 400 know the lesson, they should prepare.
7. 475 students don't catch the joke to their mid-semester marks.
8. 474 have good reason not to.
9. Three wouldn't if there was any.

TRY TO BELIEVE IT

1. Fifty percent of the married people in the world are women.
2. F. Phksij of the Fiji islands, turned three flip-flops from the top of a tree without breaking a suspender button.
3. The Smithsonian Institute has no support from its alumni.
4. The Knights of Columbus were no longer than they are today.
5. If the nicotine were extracted from a cigar, and taken by one, it would kill four people.
6. Pfutj Kkrodhtimdkj of Hawaii, caught 4008 punts in 1926 without the aid of a flashlight.
7. If all the boxcars used by Armour and Co., in one year were put end to end, it would be foolish.
8. If all the Alfred men were placed side by side at a banquet, they would reach.
9. If all the match boxes used in New York City in the past year were piled one on top of another, they would probably fall over.
10. It is rumored that the band at Spala College consists of forty drums and a Jews harp.

INTRA-MURAL MEET GOES TO BURDICK HALL

Burdick Hall led by Pat Hughes won the Intramural cross-country run last Wednesday, by a perfect score. By this victory Burdick Hall becomes custodian of the Russell Ferguson trophy for the second consecutive year. Only two fraternities entered teams in the race, Kappa Psi, and Klan Alpine.

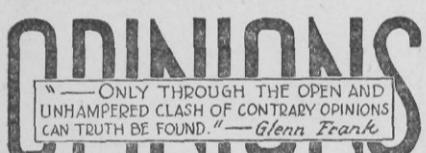

The Frosh cinched the verdict by putting men in the first three places thus completing their low team score of six. Kappa Psi lined up second in the results with a score of 16, and Klan Alpine third with a score of 24. Line of Finish:

1. Hughes, B. H.
2. Cibella, B. H.
3. Goethius, B. H.
4. Lawrence, Kappa Psi
5. Perry, Kappa Psi
6. Splitt, Klan

SOPHOMORE GIRLS SOCCER CHAMPIONS

The Freshman girls' soccer team was forced to accept defeat in the Frosh-Soph game Thursday at Merrill Field. The sophomores scored two goals in the first half despite the determined efforts of their opponents. However, in the second half the Freshmen succeeded in making one goal and prevented the Sophomores further scoring. Since this was the decisive game between the two classes the Sophomores held the soccer victory for the season.

Miss Natalie Sheppard, girls' gym instructor, expects to begin the girls basketball practice immediately after Thanksgiving recess.

Editor, Fiat Lux—

The past season of football with its potential victories and actual losses has ended in one of the most shameful defeats an Alfred team has faced—or not faced. When the Purple can hold their opponents 6-0 in the first quarter, are they to be complimented upon the gentlemanly attributes which allowed 50 points to pile up against them in the second half? Is it a fine type of manhood that loses well instead of fighting like..... to win?

The letter read in assembly was doubtless written in a spirit of sympathy for a badly-beaten team and a badly-beaten school—for a team that had the stuff and couldn't come through with it on the final test of the season. Taken in such a way it is perhaps acceptable, but taken in the other light of congratulating a team that hasn't the spine to bite back, to fight in any way against the ignominy of such a defeat—it is the height of sarcasm—and only when taken as such is it a spur to the group of men who laid down on the job at Albright. There's not a man on the team but would blush at so misdirected a compliment or so well-directed a dart.

The team is the coach in a mirror, they say. Then, what will the mirror reflect next year? Give us a man who can make fighters of a beaten team, and you'll find the men eager for the fray every time. After three or four years' workouts we know the type of man we could go the limit for—can we not be allowed to voice our opinion when the time comes for sending out the contract? Who wants to play again on a losing team? Give us a small part in insuring that element so necessary to future victories, and we'll show you a team next year with the right kind of morale and the grit that wins victories.

Varsity Man.

N. S. F. A. RELEASES HONOR SYSTEM NEWS

Continued from page one System. Under the Honor System, broadly speaking, the students are given absolute freedom from surveillance by faculty members or proctors. It is assumed that the students are honest, and they are dealt with on that basis. Their signature to papers, or in some instances to a special pledge, vouches for the fact that the work represented to be his own was done by the student himself, and by him alone. His word is his bond.

Those colleges which use the Honor System, as a rule, believe that it is efficacious in instilling into students a love and respect for honest dealings one with the other; that it is a vital force in the building of character in students; and that it inculcates into the college youth strong and lasting principles of good citizenship that will serve him well in after-college days, when he has left the protecting influence of college professors and fellow-students, and the wholesome deterrent effect of student disapproval of shoddy conduct.

On the other hand, many colleges, in fact a majority of the colleges of the United States, do not favor the Honor System. They see no advantages to be derived from it; they consider such a system to be a license to the students to cheat. They think that its advantages are greatly outweighed by its disadvantages; they consider that such matters are academic, and that they should be handled by paid faculty members rather than by students whose experience is comparatively limited and whose judgement is not fully developed.

Between the Honor System, in which faculty control is nil, and the system of faculty espionage, in which student control is nil, are many intermediary systems. In some colleges the Honor system is in force in certain departments; in some it applies to matters outside the classroom; but in most of them the Honor System attempts primarily to regular honesty in scholastic work.

A number of colleges are in the midst of a great upheaval on account of the problem of the Honor System. A few have abolished it within the last few years. A few others have installed it. Others are seeking information concerning it in order that they may try to install it, or if they already have it, in order that they may make improvements.

At the Fourth Congress of the National Federation, the Honor System was one of the most important problems discussed. As a result of the discussion and recognizing the potential value in the Honor System as an educational institution, the N. S. F. A. decided to urge colleges and universities to fully acquaint themselves with the Honor System and to take steps toward introducing it; or, if they already have it, to better it as much as possible.

With this end in view, and with a hope that the students of the country will give some serious thought to this problem, the Committee on the Honor System for the N. S. F. A. is releasing this series of articles. The chairman of the committee would be glad to receive inquiries concerning the system or opinions concerning it at Box 958, University, Alabama.

WEE PLAYHOUSE

The "Wee Playhouse" met at the home of Mrs. Ramon Reynolds Wednesday, November 20. Twenty-five members were present. They discussed possible dates for the production of a play, and Mrs. Heers read a one act play. The next meeting will be held December 4.

NOTICE

Individual names will not be placed for identification of Fiats sent to members of the student body. The word "Student Boxholder" at the top of the first page will be sufficient for the distribution of the paper in Alfred. In case you do not receive your issue drop your name and complaint in the Fiat Box in the Restaurant and the matter will be attended to.

The Fiat meeting for this Wednesday night will be postponed until the first Wednesday following the Thanksgiving vacation.

By Wutz

At this particular time of the year the Alfred Athletic Program is weak as far as games are concerned, however the period is not for long as the basketball schedule opens up on Dec. 7, which is about a week after the student body returns from the Thanksgiving recess.

Under the guidance of Miss Shepard the Girl's athletic program is being built up and may some day assume a position of importance on inter-collegiate schedules. Some of these athletes of the fairer sex are all for playing football, basketball, soccer, lacrosse, baseball, and even would like to see a rowing team here. Well as long as the Kanakadea is but a meandering, foul-smelling brooklet the latter sport is slightly out of the question.

Hobart, alas and alack, they have tasted the bitter medicine of a season devoid of a win. Saturday, Rochester took them over to the tune of 14-0.

Just why there were only three teams in the Niagara A. A. U. meet is not evident. However the cold climate surely played a big part in keeping the competition down.

LIBRARY WELCOMES STUDENT REQUESTS

"Once upon a time,"—how often in your childhood have those magical words carried you far and beyond the narrow limits set by material bonds! Now that you are older, there is corresponding book taste which may be satisfied in friction. Perhaps you are taking literature courses to help you to a better appreciation of the story wealth of the world. If so, you will find examples in the Library to supplement them.

Do you merely want an entertaining book to smooth out the kinks caused by the days irritation? Ask the librarian for a list of your favorite sort, be it stories of the sea or adventure, the newest fiction, the most cheerful, or any other type in which you may be interested. If he does not have the list he will make one.

Then there is the book club you joined. Is it short stories, American novels, or the most worthwhile books by modern writers which you want to review? Suggestions will be made by the Readers' Adviser in Fiction. Why not make your library your book a week club?

First Kanakadea Dance Enjoyed By Large Crowd

Despite the temperature of the gym, the student body made merry to the tunes furnished by Larry Harrington's Blue Rhythm Kings at the Kanakadea dance Thursday evening.

Professor and Mrs. Conroe, Professor and Mrs. Boraas, Professor and Mrs. Seidlin and Chaplain and Mrs. McLeod were the faculty guests.

A COMPARISON

An editorial in Fiat Lux of 1915, in discussing the Honor System stresses points which remain as thorns in the honorable side today. It reads:

"Does our honor system come up to your own ideal of a real honor system? Do you think the elaborate provisions for espionage which we have sought, inconsistently enough, to combine with the principle of honor, are justifiable? Or do you think that an honor system should be based purely on honor for honor's sake? Think these things over."

Two lonesome seals on an iceberg stood
One sad as he could be,
The other tried to cheer him up
With thoughts of days to be.
"What makes you sob", asked the brother seal,
"Why do you cry and cry?"
To think I'll be," came the sad reply,
"Just a sealskin coat by'm by."

CAMPUS PERSONALS*Pi Alpha Pi

Nice dance, Klan!
Wednesday dinner guests were Julia Laidlaw, Katherine Lathrop, and Alice Thornton.

We certainly miss "Sooner."

Agnes Rutherford was an over-night guest on Friday.

Edwina Smith spent the week-end at the house.

Sigma Chi Nu

Chaplain and Mrs. James L. McLeod, Professor and Mrs. Wendell M. Burditt, and Professor Lelia E. Tupper were dinner guests this week.

Grace Dassance '29, and Bea Schroder '27, spent the week-end at the house.

The girls enjoyed the Klan party Saturday night.

Faculty Women

Mrs. McLeod, who has been visiting her parents in New Haven, Conn., returned home last week.

Mrs. Clarke and Dean Degen entertained at Bridge in their home on Saturday.

Miss Tupper, who has been ill for a few days, has recovered.

Theta Theta Chi

Arlene Albee, Doris Marley and Virginia Williams were dinner guests on Wednesday evening and Verna King stayed at the house over Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLeod were guests at Morgan Hall on Sunday.

The Klan party was enjoyed by all who attended.

Buck is sorry to lose his playmate. We enjoyed having a glimpse of Maribelle.

Theta Kappa Nu

Congratulations to the cross country team.

Fire chief Grantier and his men saw action Friday night when they were called to put out a blazing chair in Carr's room.

"Don" Gardner is to be principal at Canisteo High School in the near future.

Bottom, Carr, Grantier, and Messimer attended a dance at Geneseo Saturday night.

Brick

Clark Whitman, Paul Webster and Jerry Atwood were dinner guests at the "Brick" on Sunday.

Miss Eunice Keppen of Castile, N.Y., was a week end guest of Caroline Sutherland.

The Brick was rather deserted this week, as many of the girls are going home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Brick was pretty quiet Thursday evening on account of the Kanakadea dance.

Klan Alpine

Brother Ralph Austin '14, was at the house last week.

Tubby Leach and Charley May were at the house for the party Saturday night.

Jim McConnell and Tommy Thompson's brother were guests at the house over the week-end.

If Rudy could play football the way he dances what a broken field runner he would make.

Jim Coe was in Yarmouth for the week-end. So Gullbergh says.

George Hill went home again this week.

Kappa Psi Upsilon

The house congratulates Burdick Hall on winning the Intramural cross-country meet.

Muller, Nielson and Krause were early vacationers, leaving on Friday for their homes.

The boys report an enjoyable time at the Kanakadea dance.

Henry, Eugene and Harlan visited Naples, Saturday on business.

Dinner guests this week were Murray, Greve, Merck, Lewis, Goethius, Towner, Muller, Hammond, Anderson, Berls, and Stuart.

"Dutch" remained in Alfred during the week-end.

Delta Sigma Phi

We wish to congratulate the Cross Country team for the perfect score they tuned in last Saturday.

Thanksgiving Party At Klan Alpine Is Peppy

The merrymakers at Klan Alpine's party Saturday night, Nov. 23, were led by the syncopation of Van Order's orchestra to a lively celebration of Thanksgiving.

This event brought back many a lumnus. The chaperones were: Mother King, Prof. and Mrs. Conroe, Prof. and Mrs. Rusby, Prof. and Mrs. Titworth, Prof. and Mrs. Saunders, Prin. and Mrs. Clarke, Prof. and Mrs. Amberg, Mr. and Mrs. Harder and the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Orvis, and Chaplain and Mrs. McLeod.

Hats Had Real Value In Alfred, Years Back

The college youth of today, in many respects is at a distinct disadvantage in comparison with those of fifteen years ago. A tangible example of this appears in this notice, which was printed in the Fiat Lux at that time.

"To the winner of the singles in the tennis tournament which is now going on, B. S. Bassett, the clothier, will give a choice of any soft or derby hat in the store."
