

Alfred University psychology professor to discuss death at Bergren Forum

4/10/18

Danielle Gagne

ALFRED, NY At the April 19 Bergren Forum, Alfred University associate professor of psychology Danielle Gagne will give a talk titled “The Changing Landscape of Death.”

Gagne will discuss how the demands of contemporary society have influenced “traditional” death-related practices in America.

The Bergren Forum, sponsored by the Division of Human Studies, is held at 12:10 p.m. each Thursday the University is in session in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center. It is open to the public, free of charge. Attendees may bring their lunches; coffee and tea are provided.

For the April 19 Bergren Forum, attendees are invited to get their lunch at the Community Table dining area (located next door to Nevins Theater), where the Alfred University Support Staff Council is holding its “Tacos for Textbooks” fundraiser. Proceeds from the sale of tacos and nacho dishes will benefit the Gail Walker Book Fund, which was established in memory of the late Alfred University professor of psychology. The fund honors Walker&s love of books by helping students in need with textbook purchases.
