

ATHLETICS REORGANIZED UNDER GALLOWAY

ALFRED DOWNS NIAGARA 33-21 EARNING SECOND PLACE IN LEAGUE

Alfred University quintet wound up a most successful season last Saturday night by defeating Niagara in a New York State conference league game to a 33-21 count. Demonstrating a powerful attack, the varsity swept to an easy victory over the strong Niagara five. Alfred led at half-time, 19 to 9.

The Heer's men displayed a wonderful exhibition of pass work, making the game exceptionally fast and interesting. Keen shooting by Fenner, versatile guard, led the Saxons in scoring with eleven points. Clark was outstanding for Niagara.

With only a few minutes to play Heers rallied his entire reserve squad into action.

Through their brilliant victory, the Purple and Gold clinched for themselves a well earned second place in the New York State Conference League. Their only defeat in the conference was suffered at the hands of Buffalo's fast quintet.

Frosh-Soph Plays On Thursday Promise Variety

In keeping with its annual custom, the Footlight Club will present on Thursday evening four one act plays in which only Freshmen and Sophomores are participating. The plays are: "Wreckage," "The Grey Overcoat," "A Girl to Order," and "Evening Dress Indispensable." The casts have been announced in a previous issue of the Fiat Lux. The plays are under the direction of student members of the club and promise to provide an evening of variety and entertainment. The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Variety and Simplicity Mark Week's Chapel Work

Chaplain McLeod gave excellent chapel talks during last week's meetings. His subjects were varied and pertinent. They included, "Self Denial", which pointed out that denial should be common coin everywhere in the world; "Happy Days" which stressed happiness in a spiritual way; "Gimme", in which Chaplain McLeod philosophized that man is really not selfish when a real sacrifice is needed; "Passing the Buck" was illustrated by reference to Polonius' admonition to Laertes—"To thine own self be true". The talks were completed on Friday by a talk on "Indifference".

WEE PLAYHOUSE PRESENTATION "DOVER ROAD" IS REVIEWED

Sophisticated English comedy is one of the most difficult types of drama for amateurs to produce. Nevertheless, the Wee Playhouse most successfully presented such a play last Wednesday evening, Feb. 26, when they gave "The Dover Road", by the versatile Mr. A. A. Milne.

Dependent as it is upon crisp dialogue, delicate situation, and subtle wit, this play afforded splendid scope for the actors who proved equal to the task of interpretation in every instance.

Mr. Heers took the part of the leading man, Mr. Latimer, with excellent

BOOST BASKETEERS AT BENEFIT GAME!

An opportunity for Alfred Students to display their brand of mid-winter athletic enthusiasm is being offered tomorrow night, when a benefit basketball game between the Frosh team and the non-graduating members of the Varsity team is scheduled in the gym. The game, which promises to be a hotly contested one, inasmuch as predictions regarding the material for next year's team will undoubtedly result, has been arranged by Coach E. A. Heers as a benefit function, the returns of which will be used to buy gold basketballs for members of the 1930 near-championship team.

Alfred now holds second place in the conference league, with a chance for first, should Rochester beat Buffalo this Friday. This is one of the best records Alfred has made in some time and it is for the purpose of rewarding the men who worked faithfully for it, that the Coach has arranged the contest between Varsity and Frosh.

An admission of twenty-five cents per person will be charged for the evening's worth of keen sport and entertainment.

Sigma Chi Nu Gives Last Party of Rushing Season

Sigma Chi Nu received the applicants for reportership on the yellow sheet newspaper Tuesday evening at six o'clock. The star reporter was chosen and a mystery was solved. Then the reporters were given a banquet. Following this the reporters completed a number of tasks assigned to them. At ten-thirty the office of the Yellow Sheet closed and the reporters left amidst a downpour of confetti.

Dean of Women Speaks At Salamanca Convention

Dean Dora K. Degen journeyed to Salamanca on the evening of February 14 as principal speaker on the program for the Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet of that community. Of especial note was the presence of an Alfred graduate, George Place, now superintendent of schools in the Salamanca District, and of Amelia Tubbs, who also names Alfred as her Alma Mater.

The fact that the mothers of numerous Alfred students were present particularly interested the dean, who thus increased her contacts with the home environments of the student body.

ALFRED IS REPRESENTED AT CONVENTION OF DEANS

Representing Alfred for the fourth time at the National Convention of the women Deans of Colleges and Dean Dora K. Degen learned that the cooperative type of student government as it is used here compares favorably with that of other schools, and, in fact, is deemed the most satisfactory arrangement in practice at the present time.

The convention, the seventeenth which the organization has had, numbered over 350 delegates from colleges in thirty states extending from coast to coast, and was held at the Chalfonte and Haddon Hall Hotels, Atlantic City, February 19-22. The delegates were classified according to the type and size of institution represented, and were directed to divisional meetings dealing with social problems specifically related to their own. Several of these discussions centered upon sororities; the housing of students; character education; and the psychological view point;—all embodying discussion which proved fruitful.

The "high-lights" of the meetings included two addresses by Mr. English Bagby on "The Emotional Factor in Human Adjustment", in which he

BASKETEERS ELECT STEELE

Frank E. Steele, '31, of New York City, was elected to captain the 1930-31 Alfred basketball team, at a meeting of the squad members following the Niagara game Saturday night.

Steele, who played for Textile High in New York, was All-New York City center during his junior and senior years. He has been one of the mainstays of the Purple quintet the last two years, seeing action in all but two games during this time.

MRS. W. L. AMES REVEALED AS DONOR OF NEW SOCIAL HALL

Coming as a complete surprise to members of the Alfred Alumni group gathered at a banquet at Daytona Beach, Florida, Saturday evening, Feb. 22, the announcement of the name of the donor of the Social Union Building was made by President Boothe C. Davis. The building which was donated to the University last fall anonymously may now be recognized as the gift of Mrs. William L. Ames of New York City, a trustee of Alfred University who has contributed generously toward the growth of Alfred in times past.

The Social Union Building will come as an answer to an evident social need in Alfred—that of a gathering place for the students in common. It will undoubtedly work a great change in the campus life of the future, and will bring with it a reorganization of rules and privileges in keeping with its use. Construction on the main section of the building, which will cost $25,000, will begin early this spring and will probably be completed by the opening of school in the Fall. Wings on either side will probably be added in the future to care for the growing needs of the school, and make it in every way possible a facsimile of the old Allen homestead on Pine Hill, on the site of which it is to be erected.

"PURPLE KEY" TO UNLOCK HOSPITALITY TO VISITING TEAMS

Under the personal direction of Chaplain McLeod and the A. U. C. A., definite plans have materialized for the formation of the "Purple Key Society", a student organization for the purpose of acting as official hosts to visiting teams and to welcome participants in the Inter-scholastic meets.

The members of this society will not only take over some of the former duties of the Athletic Managers such as finding eating and lodging places for visitors and take charge of their baggage but will act as guides about the campus and tend them every courtesy that should be shown a visiting friend.

The Purple Key Society will be composed of ten Sophomores, two members selected from each fraternity and two non-fraternity men. They will act as representatives of Alfred University and membership in this society will be considered one of the highest honors on the Campus. Each member will be designated by a white cap with a purple key on it.

It is planned to appoint the charter members of the society by "tapping" them in Assembly this Thursday. Prospective members will be voted on by the A. U. C. A. board. Next year, the members will elect their successors who will be taken into the society on "Moving Up" day.

COLGATE STAR APPOINTED NEW COACH; McLANE, PHYSICAL EDUCATION DIRECTOR

ALFRED TO BENEFIT BY COLGATE SYSTEM OF COACHING; LINE COACH TO BE NAMED

With the acceptance of Heers' resignation, and the appointment of John "Ghost" Galloway, former Colgate star, in his place, Alfred University will have a complete reorganization of Athletics and Physical Education. Besides the appointment of James A. McLane as Director of Physical Education, a new line coach, who is yet to be named, will be engaged. It is likely that the lineman will be a Colgate man, who has played with Galloway. With this combination Alfred will have the benefit of the Colgate system and of two Varsity coaches next year.

In the reorganization of the athletic situation, the position of Director of Athletics has been abolished, and the new position of Director of Physical Education substituted. This officer will have charge of all Freshman and Sophomore, or other physical education, for which college credit is given. Galloway, as head coach will have charge of Varsity football, basketball and track, and will be responsible for these sports. He will be assisted by a line coach during the football season. This coach is yet to be named.

This program was outlined after the meeting of a committee of Trustees of Alfred University, at Daytona Beach, Fla., on February 21. The committee accepted Coach Heers' resignation which is to take effect at the end of the present college year.

Ceramic Society Hears Report On Papers Read At Convention

Reports by John Gallup and Karl Smith, delegates to the Toronto Convention, marked an interesting meeting of the Ceramic Society on Tuesday evening. Approximately 25 attended.

Gallup gave a brief resume of the papers presented by the White Ware Division, the Enamel Division, and some of the papers presented by the Glass Division. He exhibited a sample of a new kind of gypsum which is more dense and stronger than the plaster now in use.

Smith reported on the papers presented by the Refractory Division and some of the papers of the Glass Division. He also gave some interesting facts aside from the transactions of the convention.

Gallup and Smith spoke of an interview with J. B. Smith, the head of the school of ceramics at Penn State. Mr. Shaw gave information on the new type of brick which can be made in any size without warping, the size being limited only by the facilities for handling. He predicts that this material will eventually be used in the construction of roads.

University as an outstanding football man. He is a backfield player, and as a Colgate star, has a reputation for skill and speed. Galloway was a member of "Andy" Kerr's all-eastern football team, which, one year, competed against an all-western team in a charity football contest in San Francisco. He is a letter man in football, basketball and baseball and has had valuable track experience.

Considerable comment has been expressed by the newspapers on Alfred University's new athletic program. A neighboring paper voicing general sentiment on the reorganization of athletics here says, "His (Galloway's) acquisition as a coach will add considerable to Alfred's athletic fortunes."

The committee announced, also that Professor Paul Orvis of the Agricultural School has been appointed graduate manager for next year. He succeeds Norman H. Stolte.

STATE SECRETARY OF "Y" SPEAKS TO STUDENT ASSEMBLY

An inspired and sincere address was given in Assembly last Thursday by James Ellenwood, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., on progress in the spiritual and moral world.

He commenced by stating that most people think that this is primarily a day of mechanics because people can witness the great wealth of improvements but Mr. Ellenwood stressed that in the realm of thoughts, ideas and convictions, the triumphs are equally as great and significant.

In this field of religion and morals one or two ideas are gaining force, he pointed out. Men are developing a personal religion and while it is not as strict as former creeds they are finding opportunities to express what they feel. Secondly, men are getting away from the pagan god of business. In conclusion Mr. Ellenwood maintained that in spite of the fact that men have veered away from religious forms more people are talking and applying religion than ever before.

A CHALLENGE

With the selection of a new coach, Alfred University has well answered the challenge thrown before it by alumni and student opinion. The entire matter of success in athletics now rests upon the student body, IF the coach was a detrimental factor. We can have no more "kicking". We must have BOOSTERS. We can answer the challenge of the college only by putting out winning teams—and to do that we need SOMETHING besides another coach. We need 500 students at each and every game; we need snappy men cheer leaders; and we need faculty support. And from EVERYONE we need a spirit that lives, talks and breathes ALFRED! This is the recipe, and the only one that will justify the appointment of a new coach. We leave it to the coach to put out a team that will play for Alfred rather than for individual laurels.

ALFRED BENEFACTORS

The Fiat Lux proudly takes this opportunity, on behalf of the student body, to thank Mrs. William L. Ames, of New York City, for her gift of the Alfred University Social Center, which is to be constructed in the near future. Mrs. Ames, has, in the past, contributed much to Alfred's progress, and in this gift of a much needed building Mrs. Ames sets up a monument to her altruism which inspires both student body and alumni to aid in making Alfred University, the school that it is fast becoming—an excellent college in all respects.

CHOOSE WELL

The women of Alfred University will be asked this week to make a pertinent decision, in the matter of selecting a group with which they will likely spend the rest of their college career. Choose with precision and thought. Select the one you WANT and embrace it sincerely, if you are bid; do not take your second or third choice merely to belong to a sorority. Alfred University is fast becoming a school in which the small prestige attendant a sorority woman or fraternity man on this campus is passing. Choose well or do not choose.

TERPSICHORE WINKS

No more have we to sit around the Brick and sorority house on our Saturday evenings! Chats and bridge parties pass! A recent ruling allows girls, when entertaining in on Saturday evenings, to dance. The students look upon this concession as sensible and are grateful for another step in the emancipation of social restriction. Further progress in solving the Alfred social problem can only come by the student non-abuse of this privilege. The students appreciate the broadening outlook of the committees studying the social conditions, and accept their judgment with respect.

asserted that, while psychiatry is often found helpful, common sense had proved itself an essential in dealing with such situations. "The Psychological Approach to Student Problems" was the lecture contribution of Dr. Mary Wentworth McConaughy of Mt. Holyoke, who illustrated the value of an understanding mind. The topic chosen by Mrs. Juliana Haskell of Columbia University, "Intimate Reflections", was replete with example of her manner of treating with difficult cases. The phase of student government covered by Georgia White of Carleton College dealt with programs and policies, and proved of interest to the group.

entered into almost every phase of the social and governmental problems which were discussed. "The delegates as a group believed that the importance of the understanding and use of mental hygiene to the college student of today could not be overestimated, and that many college failures are directly due to a psychological upset."
The fact that the cooperative form of student government which exists at Alfred was considered particularly fine, should give the organization on the campus greater confidence and prestige. Throughout the interview, Dean Degen expressed a keen satisfaction with the convention as a whole, and as regarding the many personal contacts made possible with the deans of other colleges.

OPINIONS

Editor, Fiat Lux:
Preferential bidding! What does it mean to you. To some people it is a mere formality, to some is a hope and a disappointment, but to others it is a careful weighing of ideas and ideals. These people are the only ones who really fulfill the purpose for which it was intended. Will it work out? This next week is to be the test of Preferential bidding and its success depends on the spirit with which every girl enters into the completion of its plan.

It is up to every Frosh girl to decide for herself and she should do so knowingly and fairly. Preferential bidding, if used in the right way, should bring more happiness and satisfaction to both sorority and non-sorority girls. After all, it isn't the name that counts, it is what that name means to you personally that gives us most in life.

Last Wednesday evening The Wee Playhouse presented "The Dover Road" by A. A. Milne. The play was performed with a fine sensitivity by an exceptionally good cast. The staging, costumes, etc., left nothing to be desired. In short it was a worthwhile entertainment.

Was it rewarded with a well deserved full house? It was not. Where were all those students who bewail the lack of recreational facilities at Alfred? Can it be that an ordinary "movie" held more attraction for them, or was it just a general apathy on their part? The faculty which should set an example in its patronage of desirable efforts on the campus was only

INTERSORORITY COUNCIL PUBLISHES RUSHING RULES

By request of the Intersorority Council, the following rules governing the bidding of members are set forth:

The "week of silence" begins on Sunday, March 2d, and continues until March 10th. During this time there is to be no formal rushing, that is, Sorority women are not to entertain Freshmen women, in any manner, and there is to be no conversation pertaining to Sororities.

On March 6th, each Freshman girl, and all others whose names may have been sent in to the secretary by the Sororities, are sent preference cards. These cards must be returned to the Secretary, Chaplain James McLeod, by 6 P. M., Sunday, March 9. On Monday, March 10, at noon, each sorority sends bids to those girls who have stated their preference for that sorority.

Any questions in regard to these matters will be answered at once if referred to the Secretary of the Council.

FRESHMEN NOTICE

The following rule was passed last year in assembly by the student body but was omitted in this year's handbook, "Freshmen may not wear mustaches." Please be governed accordingly.

meagerly represented in the pitifully small audience. It was an injustice to ask anyone to appear before such a block of unoccupied seats.

If the reception of this play is an indication of the interest manifested for cultural things by the Alfred Student body, one may well feel sorry for their contribution to the intellectual heritage of the race.

VARSAITY DEFEATS HOBART 32-14 IN LAST HOME GAME OF SEASON

Fenner, McGraw, Latronica and Fabianic Play last Home Game of Career

The Varsity chalked up a 32 to 14 victory over the Hobart Five last Thursday night for the final home game of the year. The Purple and Gold quintet found their match about equal in the first half when the Hobart outfit showed an aggressive attack and powerful defense.

Fenner, flashy guard, scored the first basket of the evening by receiving a quick short pass from Steele. Throughout the first half Hobart threatened to take the lead, their passes being cleverly executed. Holding the Hobart offensive well in check, the Saxons afforded one of the best exhibitions of the season, leading by a 10 to 7 score at half time.

Latronica, who aggressively obtained plenty of points from his guard position, slipped down the floor for three baskets and three free throws, while McGraw netted three baskets. Fenner, Latronica, and McGraw, playing their last home game for their Alma Mater, led the attack with brilliant passing and cutting. Gulick, Hobart's blonde captain, guarded Steele closely enough to allow him to score on only a pair of baskets and free tosses.

Leading by a slender margin of 10-7 at the end of the first half, the Saxons spurred in the third quarter to double their score. Both teams substituted in the game before the final whistle.

PUNISHMENT IS DOLED OUT TO ERRING FROSH

On Wednesday night, twenty-one Freshmen came before the campus court as result of various offenses.

Palmieri was reported for wearing a mustache. Since there is no rule in the Freshman handbook prohibiting this, the Court decided that the mustache must be off by Tuesday.

Felli pleaded not guilty of not giving matches to an upperclassman. The verdict, was not guilty.

Adler, Buckley, Ben Bentley did not appear at the Sun Office for campus duty. Bentley was acquitted.

Greeves failed to tip his cap, and did not attend a Varsity game. He was found guilty and sentenced to wear a sandwich sign reading "Varsity games before dates."

William Duke failed to attend the game. As this was his third offense, the suspended sentence was lustily enforced, by a sound paddling.

Murray was found guilty of not attending the varsity game. Injuries supposed to have been received from football were the cause of his absence.

Hubner, Armour, and Hallenback were found guilty of not attending the varsity game. Cibella, Pilato, Sherman, Travis, Egger and Joyce were excused for legitimate reasons.

Weisner left the Cortland game without a Frosh cap, was smoking and walked on the Campus. He was paddled.

Perryman was found guilty for not tipping his cap to an upperclassman and was sentenced to wear a ribbon on his Frosh cap.

Joseph was found guilty of attending the game without the customary black tie. He was sentenced to wear a 15 inch black bow tie and a red ribbon on his cap.

Barton was found guilty of contempt of court and was sentenced to wear a sandwich sign reading "Frosh Men Should Be Seen and Not Heard" In addition he received a paddling.

Tea was served at 3:30, after which Ferne Green delegate of the Guild, told about the convention. been heard in local plays. Her enunciation was quite perfect and not a syllable was lost. Emulation of this art is badly needed here.

The part of Eustasia, the wife presumably left at home, but actually on a little eloping expedition of her own, was played most amusingly by Mrs. Heers. Her kittenish ways and baby-talk brought laugh after laugh from the audience. Her costumes were most becoming and one of them was really striking.

The two young men in the case were played by Mr. Amberg and Mr. Harder. Mr. Amberg did a difficult part well in his interpretation of the changeable Leonard. His voice was not always quite clear, but he brought out all the humor of the part. Mr. Harder, as the disillusioned Nicholas, was delightful.

Dominick, the butler, whose chief duty was to enter and exit no less than twenty times, was played inimitably by Mr. Fraser. The shade of difference between his manner toward the guests, aloof and impersonal, and toward Mr. Latimer, as confidential servant to his master, showed what real acting can convey.

In addition to the speaking parts, there were four servants played by Mrs. Drake, Mrs. McLeod, Mr. Boraas, and Mr. Drake. Precision of movement and absolute lack of confusion, even in close quarters, enabled them gracefully to manipulate the serving of a supper of several courses, to three people, without a false step. The livery of the men servants and the lavender and white uniforms of the maids added pleasing colors to the scene.

Perhaps the only point at which the players revealed any amateurishness was in their inability to wait for the laughter of the audience to subside before continuing their dialogue, and some excellent lines were lost. This is a fault of which all amateurs should beware.

The scenery, executed by Mr. Harder with the assistance of Mr. Beckerman, left nothing to be desired. Mr. Harder's ability to design sets, equalled by his skill and industry in carrying out his ideas, is a great asset to the Wee Playhouse, one which is gratefully acknowledged by the members. In this instance, a spacious and luxurious interior, architecturally beautiful, made a fitting background for the aristocratic bearing of the players. Flowers and exquisite table appointments added to the charm of the picture. Lighted candles were wisely placed at the sides of the scene and in no way interfered with the comfort of the spectators.

Miss Hewitt, as president of the Wee Playhouse, gave much time and effort to helping with this production, while Miss Fosdick, Miss Tupper, Miss Whitford, and Mr. Potter rendered various services.

The last but most important tribute must be paid to Mrs. Reynolds, the director, to whom all credit must be given for the absolute finish which made this play, as did one other for which she was responsible, stand out vividly among Alfred productions. Her faithful attention to detail and insistence on accuracy, and her eye for the beautiful and effective, made the technique of the play apparently without a flaw. Mrs. Reynolds is the play-director par excellence.

The discriminating audience enthusiastically demanded curtain calls, and were heard on all sides in high praise of the play itself and this almost faultless performance.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

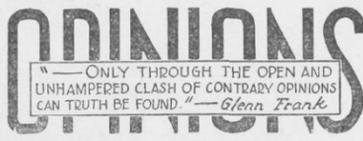

46% of all college men and 23% of all college women in the U. S. earn part or all of their way thru school?

44% of Bulgarian college students have little more than $10.00 a month for their complete expenses?

Bennington College in Vermont, in 1932 will be a "place of freedom" rather than of restriction for girls and will have a mid-semester vacation lasting from Xmas thru Washington's Birthday in order to allow the students to form wider contacts and to give special attention to majors?

Editor, Fiat Lux:

If your readers would not consider "opinions" as attempts to find fault, but understand that they are written to promote better conditions here, suggestions might cut ice more quickly.

The social conditions at Alfred are at a critical point. The legitimate times for college functions are Thursday and Saturday nights. It seems to be the policy of the "powers", that there shall be no dancing on Thursday nights. There is an average of 37 Saturday nights in the year, from the time instruction begins in September until commencement in June. Eleven of these must be cancelled to allow for examination periods and vacations; the first two in the year would be considered too early for practice. This leaves 24 open Saturday nights, in which to crowd the following: allowing each fraternity and each sorority two informal and one formal parties a semester (some are wanting more), would consume 42 dates; Soph-Frosh party; Frosh-Soph party; Brick Prom; two Burdick Hall parties; Kanakadea Banquet and Junior Prom; class parties; two or three Kanakadea dances; Hallowe'en party; Interfraternity dance; and to say nothing about the Saturday night basketball games, wrestling matches, and possible night football games. This year's calendar is so overcrowded now that there are many dates which schedule two fraternity parties for the same night. Is this fair to the fraternities? The Junior Prom is not on the calendar yet and all the dates are taken. Will the Juniors have to give up their Prom this year?

In order to do business successfully, the supply should cover the demand, or at least equal it. But here at Alfred, the demand is twice as great as the supply. What is the result? One continuous hectic fight for dates on the calendar, the breaking of traditions and "two-party nights," a big hinderance to interfraternity spirit.

This is the situation. What can be done about it? Sectarianism and non-sectarianism have been discussed in this column in previous issues and I think that everyone is acquainted with the situation. The opening of Friday nights for social functions seems to be the only solution to the problem.

With the coming of better football and the new buildings it is not only natural but necessary that social life take this step forward to keep up.

Think what it means! Why not try it out?

Senate Discusses Minor Matters

At the meeting of the Student Senate on Tuesday night the question of whether or not Adler, Joseph and Elliott, should wear Freshmen regalia, was discussed, decision being reserved until next session. Despite the fact that Rind, Leiberman and Weisner are transfers, it was decided that they should conform with Frosh regulations and dress accordingly.

Evidence of the fact that Alfred is superior to Southern California in its friendly attitude, is shown by the fact that the latter found it desirable to institute a "Hello and Smile Week."

The girls of the University of Boston show considerable independence toward the new fashions instituted by Paris designers. One alumnus, member of the class of '81, complimented the co-eds upon their "emancipated legs" and said that "in addition to being unsanitary, the long skirt does not become a two-legged animal."

RECIPROCITY

(Belated material for February 14)
Come girl, you know I burn for you;
You know I'm longing to caress you;
You know what things I spurn for you—
And you—you bid me be a brother!
You're young, my child, and cold, I guess you
Don't realize I yearn for you—
And one good yearn deserves another.
