

JUNIOR ANNUAL PROGRESSES AT CLOSE OF YEAR

Although little has been said concerning this year's Kanakadea, Lewis R. Beyea, Editor-in-Chief, reports that the annual all ready is nearing its final stages. While none of the sections are completed as yet, the book awaits the group photographer in order that the different parts of the book can be arranged.

Mr. Beyea announced that during the week of December 8th, the photographer would arrive from the Arthurs Studios in New York City for the customary group sittings. At the same time those Seniors who have failed to arrange for their sittings will be given their last opportunity to have new individual photographs appear in the book. He also announced that a time schedule would be posted at least three days in advance of the time scheduled for the proposed sittings.

Robert L. Flint, Business Manager, also reported that the early stages of the business side of the annual have been a financial success thus far. Contracts for the paper, cover, printing and photography are signed and all that remains deals with circulation. He also showed that the advertising department is rapidly getting under way and that during the past two weeks Frank Valenti, Advertising Manager, and his staff have been showing speedy results. Further financial backing of the year book will be stressed during the Junior Follies and the Junior Prom. The proceeds of these functions are deposited in the Junior Class treasury and are used whenever necessary in defraying the expenses of the book. Further information revealed that the Kanakadea resorted to the sale of football programs for the first time this year with highly gratifying results.

At the present time the Kanakadea Staff is striving to complete all of its written work before the deadline which is set for December 18th. During the Christmas Holidays the editor intends to take care of all of the minor details concerning each section in an effort to have the work at the hands of the printers by February 1st. The only editorial duties concerning the annual, after that point will rest with the athletic section, which can not be finished until the conclusion of the basketball and wrestling seasons. The book will be presented at the Kanakadea Banquet in the spring.

OPPORTUNITY OFFERED WOULD-BE PUBLIC SPEAKERS IN EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM WITH PROF. IRWIN CONROE IN CHARGE

The Y. M. C. A. Educational Committee of Hornell presents an opportunity for all men and women to become better equipped to emulate the speaker who has the ability to speak convincingly both in private and in public, which can become a distinct commercial and social asset.

The local Y. M. C. A. has conducted these public speaking classes most successfully during the past two years. Several of Hornell's leading concerns including the New York Central Electric Corp., and Hornell Gas Light Co., have considered these classes of great value from the standpoint of equipping their employes to better represent them, and have made it possible to have a number of their employes take the course.

Not only are the two text books of value for study, but are a distinct asset to one's personal library. Prof. Conroe devotes a great deal of time

RESIGNS FROM STAFF

Mary Brown Allen

Associate Editor Leaves Fiat

Miss Mary Brown Allen '31, who has served during the past year as an Associate Editor of the Fiat Lux, announced her resignation from the Staff last week. Her reason for this retirement was based on the fact that she has given three years of service to the paper and that numerous extra-curricular activities are requiring an overabundance of time.

Miss Allen reported to the Staff in 1927, and earned a well deserved promotion from a competitor to a reporter's rank in 1928. In the spring of 1929, she received a unanimous election to an associate editorship in charge of the feature department of the paper. A short time later Miss Allen was transferred to the general news department, where she has been assigned up to the present time. Miss Allen's resignation was accepted with the deepest regrets of the Staff.

Miss Allen is a member of Theta Theta Chi, treasurer of the Ceramic Guild and Phi Sigma Gamma.

TITSWORTH TO SPEAK ON FOUNDERS' DAY

President Paul Emerson Titsworth of Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland, will feature the Founders' Day program in Alumni Hall this Friday morning. Dr. Titsworth's last appearance as a speaker in Alumni Hall dates back to the Commencement Exercises in 1927.

The speaker graduated from Alfred with the class of 1906 and later served his Alma Mater as Dean of Men until the spring of 1924. At that time he accepted the presidency of Washington College, which position he has held ever since. Dr. Titsworth is a member of the Modern Language Association and Klan Alpine Fraternity.

CERAMIC GROUP MEETS TO VIEW FILM SHOWING

Tuesday evening the Ceramic Society met in Alumni Hall to see the moving picture on the manufacturing of fireclay refractories. The picture covered not only the manufacturing of the refractories, but also the application of these refractories in industry. The picture was loaned to the society by the United States Bureau of Mines, Department of Commerce. The film was produced through the courtesy of Laclede Christy Products Company.

From the mine, either surface or sub-surface, the fire clay is dumped in huge piles. There it is allowed to weather for about three years. After the weathering the clay is ground, screened pugged, and pressed. The green brick may be formed by the dry press, stiff mud, or repress method. Special shapes are made by hand. The bricks and this special shapes are fired in continuous tunnel kilns, after being dried in dryers which are heated from waste heat from the tunnel kilns. Three days after the clay has been brought to the plant the bricks are ready to be shipped.

Fire clay products are used wherever there is great heat used. In the manufacturing of pig iron the fire clay bricks are used to line the smelter. In the open hearth for steel, refractories are again used. The glass pots that are used in the glass industry in which to melt the batch of glass are lined or made from fire clay. The foundation and fireboxes of power plant boilers are made from fire brick. All tunnels are lined with some type of refractory. Many of these kilns use special shapes that must be made by hand. In fact the present civilization could not exist without fire clay refractories.

Social Hall Committee Announces Rule Changes

Dean Degen wishes to announce that the time schedule for the afternoon open hours at the Susan Howell Social Hall reverts back to its former schedule of from 4:00 P. M. to 5:30 P. M. The one hour and a half period was lengthened by the Hostess Committee three weeks ago to allow the students to enjoy longer privileges of the hall from 3:30 P. M. until 5:30 P. M., but the hall has been practically empty from 3:30 until 4:00 P. M.

Burdick Hall Holds Social Smoker

The first social event of the season at Burdick Hall took place Saturday night, November 29, in the form of a highly successful smoker. The reception room was attractively decorated with banners and pennants of the different high schools represented in the group. The guests began to assemble at 9:00 P. M. and were conducted on a tour of inspection by the reception committee. Shortly afterwards, the guests adjourned to the reception room, where several games of bridge were inaugurated. When the evening was well in progress, a three course dinner of peanuts, doughnuts and cider was served, accompanied by the delicate strains of the radio.

Following this wholesome repast, cigars and cigarettes were distributed. The guests included Monks, Servatius, Morse, Bauer, Barton, Hammond, Sixby, McCourt and Hewey. Comment was passed that the "Villa Burdick" has been greatly improved in comparison with previous years.

PUBLICITY BUREAU MAKES REPORT

The Bureau of Publicity in filing its quarterly report last week announced some startling discoveries. It found acknowledgement of 54 write-ups in the metropolitan dailies. A. James Coe, Secretary of the Bureau, stated that, while metropolitan news articles were more or less the objective of the department, he was unaware that this amount of Alfred news in Gotham had been published thus far.

At present Mr. Coe is corresponding with high school papers, forwarding items concerning high school grads who are enrolled in the local student body.

CERAMIC GUILD TO HOLD ANNUAL FESTIVAL ON FOUNDERS' DAY, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 5, IN AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL BUILDING

The Ceramic Guild is holding its annual Christmas Festival, Friday, December 5, on the top floor of the Agricultural building. The students in the School of Applied Arts, after several weeks of preparation under the supervision of Guild members, are completing the decorations which will represent a street of a medieval village. This street is to be lined with small shops from which the pottery, textiles, toys and block-printed wrapping papers are to be sold. One of the rooms is to represent the village inn, where tea and coffee will be served by costumed attendants.

The choir, which has become traditional of the festival, is in charge of Edith Sickinger this year. This unit will sing in front of the village chapel. Miss Nelson is supervising the festival with the assistance of the following committee chairmen: Margaret Lyons in charge of the toys; Teresa

RUSHING SEASON DRAWS TO CLOSE IN NEAR FUTURE

Since the initial week of the school year, Alfred's closed season has been in progress and within the next few days it is scheduled to draw to a close. At that point the actual rushing season will be in order with each fraternity entertaining its prospective pledges with rushing parties which take place from Monday, December 8, until Thursday, December 11. During that time each fraternity will be given its last opportunity to exploit its merits and to acquaint the Frosh with its respective members.

The long-awaited bids will be issued at 8:00 A. M. on Friday, December 12. Each fraternity and Freshman then will undergo the so-called "silent period" when neither party may be approached upon any matter which pertains to bidding. This period will last until high noon on Monday, December 15, although bids may be returned as early as 8:00 A. M. of that day. However, all bids, will be returned before the beginning of the Christmas holidays.

The Men's Interfraternity Council requests that each fraternity man and prospective pledge consult the College Handbook to avoid any possible infractions of the rules governing rushing. The council wishes to warn all students that any such violations will receive speedy punishment by the council itself. The council also wishes to remind the student body that it can exert full control over interfraternity and rushing difficulties. There will be a special meeting of the council this evening to make a final interpretation of rules before the actual rushing period will begin.

This council hopes for full-hearted support from the different fraternities during the next two weeks and hopes that all students will co-operate as well.

The dates of the various rushing parties have been established on a rotating basis, Klan Alpine having held first position last year and Delta Sigma Phi the last. For the 1930 season Delta Sigma Phi is allotted the lead-off position on Monday, December 8. Klan Alpine is scheduled for the following evening while Theta Kappa Nu and Kappa Psi Upsilon follow on Wednesday and Thursday respectively.

The council desires to caution all Frosh and fraternity men to fix time schedules for study and rushing that will prevent any resultant confusion and disorder during the next two weeks.

Manieri in charge of block-printed papers and cards; Frances Greene of the textiles committee; Dorothy Hallock of the pottery; Myrtle Kelm of the candies and Avis Stortz of the refreshments.

Dorothy Hallock and Frances Greene, members of the Class of 1930, who are carrying on Ceramic work at the school, are major contributors to the sale. Each class, however, is to be given a part in the execution of the festival plans. The Sophomores are constructing the booths from which the sales are to be made, while the Juniors are to supervise the costumes and the inn's kitchen with the Freshmen doing the odd jobs.

The festival presents a wonderful opportunity for the purchase of Christmas gifts and cards as well as a chance to view the work that is being done at the school. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Founder's Day

The 94th Anniversary Founder's Day exercise will occur on Thursday, December 4th, instead of on Friday, December 5th, in connection with the regular Thursday Assembly period at 11:30 o'clock. The Founder's Day Address will be given by President Paul Emerson Titsworth, LL. D., of Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland. His topic will be "What is a College For?" The public is invited to share with the college the privilege of this program and the address of Alfred's former Dean.

Fraternity?

Within the next two weeks Alfred's Campus will see a long and tedious rushing season come to a close. The college will view its fraternities at their best in a desperate termination of the longest pledging campaign of any college in Western New York.

Freshmen will be hurried from one house to another; timid souls will be swelled by the hearty back-slapping of husky figures of Varsity "A" repute; first impressions will be lost and, as is usually the case, some yearling will join a unit to which he should never belong. The Freshman mind will in a fortnight be reduced to a maze before a concentrated rush of Fraternity.

This 1930 season is not one iota dissimilar to those of the past. It is with this belief that we contend that the same generalities apply to the present as well as they have in former years. We present a number of unbiased considerations for the Freshman by which he may judge as best he can during the next few days.

What is the expense and can I afford it?

Will this group or that one retain its apparent cordiality after I accept my pin? If not, then to what extent will it be reduced?

How well do I know these men?

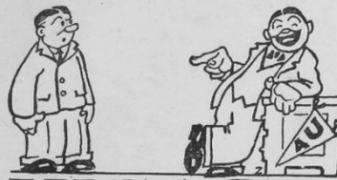

Are they a "type" and if so, are they my "type"?

Should I follow my classmates or join the house that I like the best?

Am I judging the surface or looking ahead?

Am I being bluffed or are they telling me the "straight goods"?

In short, which Fraternity shall I join?

Pork Au Gratin

Run a fresh ground through the victrola, and soak the remains in vitriol for three hours. Remove to oven and bake to hot sweat. Rub down with Turkish towels, and garnish with toilet water. Serve in garbage cans.

New Baked Beans

Carefully scour each bean with a fresh can of Ox-blood polish, rub in some carbolized salve, and set aside for oxidation. At the end of twenty-four hours pray beans out of pot, and shoot out of Daisy air rifles. Gather up the light, fluffy, nutritious flakes, and serve on rhubarb leaves.

Scorned Beef and Scabbage

Granulate one dozen frog legs, preferably bow-legged, and massage with Menne's Talcum Powder until soft and pliable. Throw into bath tub and add two cupfuls of coal dust, stirring constantly. When all is well mixed, place in refrigerator to set. Serve with pick and shovel.

French Salad

Chop up two quarts of fresh toadstools, and add a pint of choke cherries. Serve with live shrimp in a pale blue dish. Garnish with smelling salts for guests' convenience.

Corn on the Cob

Each ear must be prepared separately. Soak in cement for two hours, and then paint well with Le Page's glue. Lay aside in cupboard for three weeks and serve with crow bars. Guests will derive much pleasure trying to dislodge the kernals. Cobs may afterward be sold to thugs for billies.

Siberian Souse

Mix well two quarts of lemon skins, a pint of sour milk, one dill pickle, two egg shells, and a pound of fresh chopped turnips. Smother with pressed spinach, and serve in rusty clam shells. Lay low for two weeks.

SPORTS SCRIBE REVIEWS CROSS COUNTRY SEASON

Evidences of a strong Varsity cross country team were early noted when practically the whole squad reported for pre-season training over a period of two weeks. This early seasoning showed its effects later in the season when the team went through a schedule, matching strides with fifteen teams, losing only to a strong Cornell squad and a fighting Army team.

The Alfred harriers opened the season with a run against Geneva College on the local course. The team had little trouble in overcoming the Pennsylvania runners and took the meet handily by a 17-38 score, thus keeping their record of no defeats on the home course intact.

The following week the Saxon team invaded Ithaca, where the strong Cornell squad took the Purple into camp by a 22-33 score. There is no doubt that the Alfred team could have done better against this team, but it was a little early in the season for the local hill-and-dalers to have reached their best form.

Four days later the Purple and Gold harriers again tasted defeat, but this time victory was within their grasp, losing out to Army by one point, the final tally standing 27-28 in favor of the Cadets. At the half-way mark it appeared that Alfred had the meet won, but the West Point team closed with a rush; the first ten men (five from each team) all finishing within a minute.

On the same trip, two days after the Army meet, the Alfred team hit its top form and convincingly trounced St. Stephens and Williams in a triangular meet. Alfred rolled up a perfect score while St. Stephens was second with 49 points and Williams third with 56. To top off the exhibition, Hughes broke the course record by about two minutes while the other Alfred men also followed suit and bettered the standing record.

At Colgate, the Saxons almost repeated the orgy of the week before. Hughes led the pack home to better the record by a minute and four seconds, while Razey and Vance also broke the record by about four seconds. The Colgate team thus tasted its first defeat of the season by a 20-35 score.

For the seventh successive time, Alfred retained the championship of the Little Ten Conference, which meet was run at Rochester. Here the Alfred men placed in second, third, fourth, sixth and seventh positions for the low total of 21, while Hamilton was runner-up with 43 points, and Hobart and Rochester trailed with 71 and 74 points respectively.

As a fitting climax to a successful season, the Saxon team copped the Middle Atlantic cross country title in impressive style. Showing superb team-balance and conditioning the Alfred harriers scored in fourth, fifth, seventh, ninth, and thirteenth positions, with only fifty-one seconds separating the first and fifth Alfred runners. Manhattan made a strong bid for first place honors when Schacklette and Ryan finished first and second respectively, but lacked the balance which the Purple and Gold harriers exhibited. Union could do no better than take third place honors, while Lafayette, Lehigh and Rutgers finished far in the rear.

The squad will lose but one man by graduation, Captain Galizio. However, the present yearling class will send up a stellar runner in the person of Ten Broeck. Lyons, Hubertus and Tolbert also show possibilities of Varsity calibre. Next year should see even a stronger Alfred cross country team than the present champions.

COE TO PICK ANOTHER ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Two years ago as Sports Editor of the Fiat Lux, A. James Coe selected his first All-American football eleven, basing his choice on individual football reputations and upon the sound of the player's name. Such choices as Strong of N. Y. U., Post of Stanford agreed with the best of All-American selections.

"But what's in a name?" he says. Armstrong and Kickham of Alfred, Hitt and Hammer of Arizona and Slaughter of Gettysburg appealed to the imagination as vividly as Grantland Rice's soundest judgment. A similar All-American aggregation will be listed in the Fiat Lux next week. Mr. Coe would appreciate any possible nominations for the eleven positions.

VANCE RUNS IN YMCA MARATHON TO TAKE NINTH

Lester Vance, a lone representative of Alfred's Varsity cross country champions, journeyed to Buffalo last Thursday in quest of further laurels. The Saxon harrier entered the 33rd annual Thanksgiving Day handicap marathon to place ninth in a select field.

Although Vance was the ninth man to cross the finish line, he was the second man in consideration of elapsed time over the five mile course. The 17 runners were given handicaps of from one to four minutes while Vance and Ives Gehring of Syracuse University started from scratch with no handicap advantage at all. Gehring who turned in the fastest time for the event, placed fifth.

The course which was covered in comparatively slow time offered treacherous footing in the inclement weather. The city streets were hard and icy while the fields were soggy in parts and slippery as well.

Matmen Prepare For Busy Year

With the prospects of one of the most successful seasons in wrestling history in sight, a last call is being made for contestants in the 165 pound and unlimited classes, the only weak spots that are apparent on the squad at present. Although Captain Flint with Grantier and Rothstein are the only lettermen out, the remaining weights are well taken care of and the team gives promise of being one of the strongest in the past few years.

Practice has been temporarily suspended due to the low water supply, but as soon as the gymnasium is opened, the squad of thirty men will resume their workouts in preparation for the eliminations for the first match on the schedule.

Manager Fred L. Chubb reports that his schedule is not complete as yet, although there are seven meets which have been contracted definitely. At present the matmen will open their schedule at home against Mansfield in the second week of January with trips to Rochester and Colgate before the examination period begins. During February the grapplers will make a home stand against Rochester and Michigan State, and they will stage a trip to New York City for encounters with Brooklyn Poly and C. C. N. Y., as well. In the early part of March the Purple will invade Cleveland for matches with Case and Western Reserve. A home duel with Chicago is pending. It is planned that the Michigan State and Chicago meets will be held in Hornell and Wellsville to accommodate the crowds.

Edward H. Cauger, president of the Alfred University Intramural Association, requests that all teams desiring to enter in the Intramural Basketball League file their entries during this week. Entries may be filed with Cauger or with Dale Lockwood, secretary and treasurer.

INTRAMURAL COURTLIGUE GETS UNDER WAY

A meeting of the association is scheduled to be held at the Davis Track and Field House this Friday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. It is necessary for each team which is entered in the league to be represented by two men apiece.

CAMPUS PERSONALS

Theta Theta Chi

We are pleased to announce the initiation of Marie Fleischauer and two honorary members, Mrs. Florence Allen and Mrs. Marion Galloway. The house seemed empty and cold this week-end with half of the girls away for Thanksgiving.

Pi Alpha Pi

Annette Clifford spent the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of Ruth Mitchell.

Ruby Robinson, Agnes Woodburn, "Kay" Chamberlain, Isabel Moore, "Greta" Coit and Eudora Perry spent the week-end at home.

Burdick Hall

Jerry Parente made an attempt to "bum" his way to New Haven, his home town; but when he reached Binghamton, he was too cold for that most famous of "sports" and returned pronto.

A wonderful Thanksgiving dinner was most heartily enjoyed by the boys.

Klan Alpine

Over half of the boys liked the one-day Thanksgiving recess so much that they took a four-day jaunt instead of one.

The Klan wrestling team also journeyed to Sayles street last week-end. Brothers "Beanie" Adams '28, and Emerson Chamberlain '28, spent Thanksgiving Day at the house. Both are graduate students in Cornell.

Beta Phi Omega

"Cal" and "Joe" migrated home to Turkey.

We wish to thank Mrs. Henshaw for the splendid Thanksgiving dinner.

Beta Phi Omega is pleased to announce the initiation of Julius Capowski, Frank Mazza and Louis Palmieri into membership. It also wishes to announce the pledging of "Al" Ravegno.

Sigma Chi Nu

There were only a few girls left in the house after the week-end exodus.

Spooks haunted the house Saturday night—see Louise Twohill for details.

Marie Duval from New York City and Sue Ann Parker of Baltimore called at the house during the week.

The girls congratulate the cross-country on their great climax to a successful season.

Kappa Psi Upsilon

Prof. and Mrs. Burditt gave a Thanksgiving Eve party for the boys who did not go home. Now the boys are thankful that they remained in Alfred.

Alumni Lawrence and Reed spent the week-end hunting turkey in Alfred. Chauncey stopped for the evening while on his way to more remote parts of Allegany County.

The house detective has been fired because he reported that he had found that cold weather was here.

Kappa Eta Phi

Some of the boys enjoyed their turkey dinners at home in the city;—more power to this marvelous machine age of ours, eh Adler?

This practice of employing cats for study purposes in Anatomy lab. will have to be abolished according to I. H. Roberts. It seems to interfere with his endocrine glands.

How's your "cat" complex coming along I. H.?

Well, it has been definitely decided, that Nat Kahn is converted. Roberts has finally made him a Bohemian.

By the way, have you noticed Kahn's "spats" lately?

Delta Sigma Phi

On Tuesday night Delta Sig entertained the faculty members, alumni and guests with a Thanksgiving dinner at the house. Those who attended were, President and Mrs. Davis, Director and Mrs. Champlin, Dean Norwood, Professor and Mrs. Potter, Professor Cortelyou, Professor and Mrs. Bennet, Dr. Hugh J. Ryan, Mr. P. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Lamphere, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lobaugh and Kenneth Nichols.

Delta Sigma Phi takes pleasure in announcing the pledging of Mr. P. Lyon.

Congratulations to the cross country team.

"Wutz" Rauber and Alvin Dunbar dropped in for short visits during the week.

College Office

President Davis was out of town during the latter part of the week, attending the convention of the Association of Colleges and Sunday Schools of the Middle Atlantic States and Maryland. The convention was held November 28th and 29th, in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Dr. Hancher and Miss Willard of the Hancher Organization of Chicago were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Miller, Thanksgiving Day.

Infirmary

Ruth Kenyon is rapidly improving from her appendicitis operation.

Notice

The date of the Ceramic Guild's annual Christmas Festival has been changed from the fourth to the fifth of December in order to avoid a conflict with a joint meeting of the three women's clubs in Alfred.
