

Junior Class Holds Election

On Thursday, October 1st, at Kenyon Hall the Junior Class held its first business meeting, led by Marie Heiserodt, president. As a result, Dante Vazzoli was elected chairman of the Junior Follies, and Phylbia Sheheen, chairman of the Junior Prom, so that work on both these activities may start immediately.

Each Junior was warned to pay any back dues.

Defiance College Changes System

Defiance College has abandoned the old system of iron clad punishments for campus offenses. Doctor Vernon W. Lytle, new president at that institution, has thrown out the old disciplinary rules and has substituted for them the recommended action of expert psychologists and psychoanalysts. To supplement the psychologists and aid them the college has the services of a staff of medical and sociological experts. Under this new system the standard of dormitory and campus conduct of the students will be what society ordinarily expects of a young man or woman in the home or as a guest in the usual household.

DR. ROTH PRESENTS TRAVELOGUE IN ASSEMBLY

At the conclusion of the dedication of Bartlett Memorial Dormitory for Freshmen, Dr. Robert E. Roth gave a lecture in picture and story. His subject was "Wonderland of South America". Countries visited were Brazil, Colombia, Chile, Peru, and Ecuador. He discussed by illustration the industries, agriculture, home physical geography, customs, crops and railways. The fact that the scenes were shown in natural color made the pictures more interesting.

VARIED CHAPEL PROGRAM PROVES INTERESTING

The first week of regular chapel has shown a marked increase in attendance. The seats have been taxed to capacity every day, some students being forced to stand.

The talks have been to the point and thought provoking, and have aroused much favorable comment.

On Friday, Oct. 2nd, Chaplain McLeod spoke on the possibilities and dangers of missing various opportunities which come day by day, simply because the person in question feels unequal to the task. He stressed the fact that much of life may be wasted by too intensive drilling. Gen. McVork was used to illustrate this for he was so busy making preparations for attacks instead of carrying them out that he lost many a battle. Chaplain McLeod summed up his words with a striking poem, the gist of which was that one should do what ever comes each day, instead of waiting for the tomorrow that never comes.

W. S. G.

The Woman's Student Government held a meeting Thursday night, Sept. 24, in the underclass parlors at 7:15 for the purpose of acquainting the Freshmen with the rules of the organization.

HARRIERS TO MEET HOBART FRIDAY

Alfred University's Middle Atlantic and State Conference Championship cross country team will defend the tradition of twelve years of victorious home meets next Friday afternoon against Hobart. The harriers from Seneca Lake have never been a great source of worry to the Saxon squad, but this year have a large turnout, which might bring forth some stiff competition for the veteran Alfred hill and dalers. Hobart, having run against Syracuse last Saturday, holds a slight advantage in that this is Alfred's initial meet of the season. However, this is more than compensated by the return of Alfred's Varsity of last year.

Captain Hughes, veteran of two years standing, will be ably supported by Vance, Warde, Razey, Cibella, TenBroeck, Lyons, Wessels and Tolbert. These men will probably be the starting line-up. Coach McLeod intends starting a ten man team; but, as yet, has not decided on a tenth man.

Seventeen Frosh answered Coach McLeod's call for cross country men and are gradually developing into typical Alfred harriers. A large part of the squad has had previous track experience and many have also run cross country. Cook Academy, their first opponent, will try out the fibre of the new yearling squad and will undoubtedly uncover much hidden timber for future Saxon teams. Meets

New Members of Faculty

Harold O. Burdick, A. B., A. M., has been appointed Associate Professor in Biology, succeeding Miss Flora Scherer, who has been instructor the past two years. Professor Burdick graduated from Milton College and received his master's degree at the University of Wisconsin; he comes here after two year's experience in teaching at Milton.

Another Milton graduate comes here in the person of L. R. Polan, A. B., instructor in mathematics, filling the position left vacant by Miss Starr. Mr. Polan has been doing graduate work at the University of Virginia Lellan was used to illustrate this for he was so busy making preparations for attacks instead of carrying them out that he lost many a battle. Chaplain McLeod summed up his words with a striking poem, the gist of which was that one should do what ever comes each day, instead of waiting for the tomorrow that never comes.

A new instructor in the Romance languages is Marie Louise Cheval, B. A., A. M. Miss Cheval is a graduate of Akron University and received her master's degree from Middlebury College. She has also studied abroad at the Sorbonne, in the School for the Preparation of French Teachers.

Natalie Shepard, student assistant in physical education in 1929-30, has been appointed part-time instructor in the department.

The assistant nurse at the Infirmary this year is Hazel Kenyon R. N., this is the first year that the Infirmary has had two registered nurses.

BARTLETT MEMORIAL PRESENTED TO ALFRED

The Frank L. Bartlett Memorial Dormitory for Freshmen was formally presented to Alfred University on Thursday morning, October the first, by Miss Florence W. Hatch, a representative of the donor, Mrs. Nancy Bartlett Laughlin of Paris, France.

The Hon. Hamilton Ward, of Buffalo, a former attorney general of New York state and donor of two endowment scholarships in Alfred University, addressed the assembly. Mr. Ward enumerated the various economic problems of the day and impressed the young men and women of Alfred that the problems of the nation are constantly changing and each generation must be ready to meet them. Mr. Ward stated that the desires of our forefathers were merely for freedom and that they did not have an established wealth and bank system. Now we are interdependent. The cherished personal freedom protected by our Constitution has been necessarily surrendered because of interdependence. It is now a topic of the day whether our freedom must now be changed to mean more freedom for the government to enable the nation to meet the economic conditions with which we are confronted in such a crisis. This great republic may be too hampered by shackles that were needed when we had just emerged from the tyranny of a king. Our constitution provides for not only amendments, but also a general revision, and Mr. Ward insinuated that this might be the solution to our present problem. The speaker concluded his address with two biblical quotations from "Leadership in Country Life" by President B. C. Davis, "If ye be willing and obedient ye shall have the fruits" Continued on page three

CERAMIC SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The Student Branch of the American Ceramic Society at Alfred University called a special meeting Thursday evening, October 1st, to present the picture "Development of Anthracite Coal". This meeting was held in the Laboratory Hall. It was well attended for a pre-season meeting and the society feels that it is beginning a very successful year.

Dr. Charles Binns gave a brief address in which he told the society that he owed much of his early success in the United States to the American Ceramic Society and that he urged every student in the Ceramic Department to take as much active part in the doings of the student branch here as possible.

The picture depicted the formation of coal from its beginning as plant and animal life some millions of years ago in the ages of huge animals and tropic vegetation through the changes caused by the great movements of the earth's surface and the terrific heat and great pressure produced by the changing climates and deposits of sand and silt. The first product in this change was peat. This was followed years later by lignite, then bituminous coal, then anthracite, all formed from the carboniferous materials that were deposited on the surface of the earth centuries ago.

Student Life Committee

A short organization meeting was held Wednesday at 4:00 P. M. September 30th. This was the first meeting of the year and was called primarily to elect the officers for this school year 1931-1932, and to formulate general programs for the major activities in the way of social events.

Those present were Dean Norwood, Dean Degen, Chaplain McLeod, Prof. Ildra Harris, Sidney DeLaney, Annette Clifford, and Frederick Morse. Frederick Morse was elected chairman of the 1931-1932 committee.

A discussion of the current campus problems was carried on for some time. It was decided that Dean Degen and Frederick Morse should have charge of the social calendar for the year. The oft reoccurring problem of dances on Saturday night came before the committee. A discussion of the possibilities of having dances on Thursday evening in preference to Saturday was held. The administration feels that there will be no granting of later hour privileges and advance the belief that while dancing is allowed in the social hall, dances and dancing are not synonymous.

The Kanakadea Organization of the Class of 1933, have received tentative permission for a dance on a Thursday evening but as yet the date has not been set.

Dean A. B. Kenyon

DEAN KENYON FINISHES LIFE OF SERVICE

Alpheus Burdick Kenyon, who died in Alfred, September 15, 1931, was born at Potter Hill, Rhode Island in 1850. He used well such limited school facilities as were provided in his home community, and in addition learned the carpenter and ship-builder's trade, at Mystic, Conn., where his home was for a time. His ambition for an education led him to enter Alfred University in 1868, at eighteen years of age. He earned much of his expenses while in college by doing janitor and carpenter work. Three winters he dropped out of college to teach terms of school. In 1874, he was graduated from college with the Continued on page three

SAXONS TO MEET STRONG BUFFALO TEAM SATURDAY

Buffalo University's eleven will engage in their first conference tilt against Alfred next Saturday night at Merrill Field. Both teams have dropped their first two games, although Buffalo played schools much larger than itself. Carnegie toppled the Bisons 25-0 and last Saturday Dartmouth ran roughshod over them 61-0, while Alfred lost to Hamilton 7-6, and to Rochester 12-6.

Coach Galloway expects the Bulls to give his charges plenty of opposition, especially since they have last year's 20-0 defeat to avenge. Cotton, Beyer, and Malanowicz will probably be the big guns in the Buffalo backfield, while Hoffman is the mainstay in the line.

Murray, varsity end, who has been out of the game because of injuries for the past two weeks will no doubt see action Saturday night. This is the only probable change in the starting line-up for Alfred.

FROSH MEETING

Last Wednesday night at their first meeting the Freshman class elected temporary officers. For president they chose Philip Comstock; vice president, "Huck" Bassett; secretary, Evelyn Zeiler.

A Word to the Freshmen

The hundred and fifty odd Freshman who are here this year are new to the atmosphere and to the spirit of Alfred. Many of them will probably drop out during the four years, but to those that remain, in particular and to the others in general, just a few words. Although you are new here and perhaps a little unused to college life, don't allow yourself to fall into the defensive reaction of "cockiness". It isn't the spirit for Freshman and isn't the attitude they should have. Many more friendly associations and enjoyable contacts can be made through genuine courtesy than through the "chip on the shoulder" attitude. Upperclassmen are really human in most cases and are willing to do anything they can to make the path a little easier and more pleasant and perhaps a little more worthwhile if they are known in the air of friendship.

A college education consists of more than a knowledge gained through books. The broadening influence of social contacts has much to do with the sweeping aside of narrow, uncosmopolitan ideas and prejudices. Be open, keep a receptive mind, a mind willing and eager to think, build up your personal code of ethics, remembering that right and wrong are relative and not absolute and that individuals differ because they are individuals.

Freshman Initiation?

During the past two years one of the few traditions left to Alfred has gone by the board. Traditions are the hold that an institution has upon its Alumni, they supply the something that makes an old grad come back to the scenes of his four years existence upon a campus, they are responsible for the interest that an alumnus has in the additions to the college campus, in the games the football team plays, in the results of track meets, and in the policy of the administration. The Freshman initiation was last held in the fall of 1928, when the present Seniors were introduced to college life by that medium. Everyone enjoyed it, upperclassmen and Frosh alike, although we wouldn't say so at the time.

Surely it will not be allowed to lapse and die out again this semester, if it is not held this year it will probably never be seen again for it would die with the graduation of the last college generation to experience it. To the Student Senate and the Phi Psi Omega an urgent request is made to revive this weakened and dying custom.

New York, (IP)—A lowering of economic standards in the teaching profession has been caused by "over-feminization and a lack of adequate publicity in the school system," Dr. Willard S. Elsbree, associate professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University said, in a survey on "Teachers' Salaries," released by the Columbia Bureau of Publications.

(IP)—Although it has one of the smallest of all standing armies among the great nations of the world, the United States last year spent more than any other nation on armaments. Other nations spent for arms in the order: Soviet Union, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, India, Germany, Spain.

(IP)—Ohio leads all the states in the number of colleges. It has 41.

Pittsburgh, Pa., (IP)—Henry Smith Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, warned colleges in his annual report this summer that continued exploitation of football as a college money-making game, would lead to governments taxing colleges as profit-making organizations.

South Hadley, Mass., (IP)—Speaking before the tenth annual meeting of the International Student Service at Mount Holyoke College here, Dr. Walter M. Kotschnig of Austria said he believed the unemployment situation could be blamed on the colleges for their failure to cope with vital economic problems.

The boys are so they eat only three times a day.

Y. W. C. Notes

Friday, October 3rd, marked the date of the first freshman tea, given at the Brick by the Young Woman's Christian Association. Mrs. Degen, Mrs. Middaugh, Miss Ford and Miss Harris, as well as the staff of the Young Woman's Christian Association were hostesses for the occasion.

Kappa Psi Upsilon

Welcome Frosh!

Krius has completed a fine job of redecorating the house. Several amateurs are now busy at their own rooms which give promise of some rare color combinations.

Alumni back for home Coming Day were, Straight, H. Bridge, Adams, Flint, Koby, Getz, Kinzie and Chapman.

Bartlett Dorm

The following upperclassmen hold responsible position at the Freshmen dormitory: Lew Ohburn, who is steward and also a cointiler; other councilors are Art Gaisk, Al Brown and Charles Burdick. Eb Razey is head waiter.

As yet the boys in Bartlett have not organized as a separate group, rather they intrude themselves to their advisers and lepers, the councilors.

Theta Chi

A first week of excited preparation and we prepare to settle down to another year at A.U. Any doubts as to whether or no we were in Alfred instantly vanished the moment the water supply was shut off and left us with pleasant reminiscences of last year.

Garnett Blackmore, Ruth Potter, "Mich" Kneerim, Mary Rogers, Helen Pound Ingsley, Betty Whitford, and "Dray" Breeman Lukes came back to share a very happy Home Coming Day with us.

Kla Alpine

Among the alumni who returned for the Home Coming game were: James Sadler, Harold Gullbergh, Charles May, James Coe, "Dan" Gridley, Leland Peter, Emerson Chamberlain and John McConnell.

Charles Phillips, of Rochester, was a week-end guest at the house.

James Sadler and Harold Gullbergh '31, are attending Cornell University for their Master's Degree.

What do Beye's frequent trips to Almond mean?

Good luck against Buffalo this week, Varsity. Remember last year's game!

Igma Chi

Those enjoying the first week-end away from Alfred were Gertrude and Cecilia O'Connor, Margaret Place, Mary K. Da and Virginia Richter.

Mrs. Sante spent Friday visiting her sister in Geneseo.

Miss Chell and Miss Ford were guests for dinner and the evening on Wednesday.

Afore-said Wednesday seems to have been a popular day for callers. Mrs. White and Mrs. McCline, of Hornell, paid a visit to Mrs. Santee.

The annex is very decidedly completing the final stage of its metamorphosis. New wall paper has been adding local color to the already attractive harmonies.

FRIDAY NIGHT RECITAL

A Vesper organ recital will be given every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:00 at the Union Church.

OPINIONS

"— ONLY THROUGH THE OPEN AND UNHAMPERED CLASH OF CONTRARY OPINIONS CAN TRUTH BE FOUND. — Glenn Frank

Student spirit! What does it mean? Does it mean cheering madly when the team puts across a good play? If course it does. But has it not entered your minds that there is a far more important time when the team needs support? When a team is winning, they are naturally fighting hard; they have confidence, courage and fight. Cheers and yells show the student appreciation and perhaps gives fight to the team. But when the team is losing! Then is when your fight yell should ring out! Then is when the encouraging chant, "Hold that line! Hold that line!" should penetrate the ears of those fighting boys. Why? Because that is when they need support and spirit shown. It makes the team feel that then the student body is really in back of them.

Instead, what do we have? When good play is executed or a touch down put across, everyone yells themselves hoarse. But when the game is reversed and the opponent run the S ons ragged, everyone sits with a lot face and sighs, "Too bad!" Is that the right kind of spirit?

It is easy for anyone to cheer when his or her team is winning; but it takes something more than spirit to cheer in the face of defeat, and that is what Alfred's student body needs. What do you say? This week shall we show some real spirit and let our team know that winning or losing, we are supporting each and everyone of them.

degree of Bachelor of Science. By his industry, sterling character and scholarly attainments he had established himself in Alfred for life.

Immediately upon graduation he was appointed Instructor in Mathematics, and in Industrial Mechanics, and soon gained rank as Professor. For some years he held both of these positions. In time, however, he turned his entire attention to mathematics in which he had gained an enviable reputation as a teacher, and he continued through life as an outstanding teacher of mathematics.

Professor Kenyon was granted a brief leave of absence on one or two occasions for graduate study at Cornell University. In 1877, Alfred University conferred on him the degree, Master of Science, and 1905, the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

In 1890, he became Registrar of the college, and retained this position until 1908, when he was appointed the first Dean of Alfred College. After the death of President Allen in September, 1892, he served as Acting President until the election of Rev. Arthur E. Main as President in the spring of 1893.

In 1920, at the age of seventy years, Dean Kenyon retired from active teaching and became Dean and Professor Emeritus, having given Alfred University forty-six years of active service, the longest period of consecutive service in Alfred's history, exceeding the length of service of President Allen by three years.

Upon his retirement as Dean and Professor of Mathematics in 1920, he was elected a trustee of the University, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and President of the Corporation, which positions he held until his death. Dean Kenyon has been a Director and Vice President of the Alumni Association for many years. He has also been a member of the Seventh Day Baptist Education Society for many years, and was for a long time its Treasurer.

Professor Kenyon was married in 1873, to Mary Veola Babcock, who proved a life companion of rare charm and personality, and contributed her full share to his distinguished career of educational and public service. She preceded him in death by a little more than one year, in June, 1930.

In the passing of Dean Kenyon Alfred University and the community have lost a man whose career has been inseparable from the life and progress of Alfred for over sixty years, and whose wisdom, loyalty, and devotion are an imperishable legacy. His name is held in appreciative and loving memory by thousands of alumni who have been his students, and by hundreds of others who have been his colleagues in college and community activities.

BARTLETT MEMORIAL

President Davis gave a brief history of the dormitory and the Alfred Campus.

Through the influence of his dear friend, Judge Hatch, Frank L. Bartlett became a member of the board of trustees. In June, 1922, Mr. Bartlett at a board of trustees meeting, expressed a wish to see a home for the Freshmen constructed. His untimely death the following December left his plans unfulfilled.

Mrs. Nancy Bartlett Laughlin, daughter of the late trustee, with the co-operation of her friend, Miss Hatch, daughter of the late Judge Hatch, has carried on her father's work and presented the dormitory to Alfred University as a memorial to her father. The beautiful building is now completed, handsomely furnished, and filled with men. This building is the first large gift of the Centennial Fund, and signifies therefore, an epoch making period of progress on the campus. It enrolls the names of Nancy Bartlett Laughlin, a devoted daughter and generous donor, and Frank L. Bartlett, an esteemed trustee and affectionate father, in memorial lines that were dear to his heart.

Miss Hatch represented her friend, Mrs. Laughlin, who is now in Paris.

EXCHANGES

Although Harvard continues to put Yale locks on the doors of her buildings the name, "Yale" must not hereafter appear on the locks. The University has made a contract with the makers of Yale locks, which specifies that the name will be omitted.

She presented the building to Alfred University as a memorial to Frank L. Bartlett, who was born in Belfast 73 years ago next Christmas day. He attended Friendship academy. Because he realized the necessity of education he became interested in higher knowledge. He was a prominent banker of New York state. His great desire was to provide a comfortable home for Freshmen at Alfred. Although living in Paris, Mrs. Laughlin has given much thought and careful suggestions to this project. It is a fine and useful memorial, which perpetuates the memory and fulfills the wishes of her father.

Orra S. Rogers, president of the board of trustees, accepted the gift, and expressed to Miss Hatch the great thanks for this and the determination of the trustees to carry out her wishes.

Social Hall

Greatly to the enjoyment of all those who attended the game last Saturday night, the social hall was open for dancing until 11:45. The social hall was also used as headquarters for the alumni who returned for the home coming day. Forty-three were served at dinner Saturday evening, and many of them traveled a great distance for Alfred's Homecoming program.

ALFRED BOWS TO ROCHESTER 6-12

For the second time in as many starts, Alfred's Varsity football team went down to defeat, when the powerful Rochester eleven overcame the local's six point lead and won 12-6 at Merrill Field last Saturday night. Alfred scored early in the first period when Obourn raced 37 yards and Grantier crashed over for the touchdown. Rochester evened up the score in the second quarter when Drojarski and Warner reeled off big gains to leave the teams deadlocked at the half.

The Yellowjackets powerful forward wall paved the way for Rochester's 75 yard march for the touchdown that gave them the victory. Drojarski and Warner were again the big guns for the visitor's offense. Warner scored both of Rochester's touchdowns.

Homecoming Day brought back a large group of Alumni, which helped swell the crowd to about 2500.

First Quarter

Captain Smith kicked off for Rochester to Merck on Alfred's 38-yard line. Obourn tried the end for no gain and Grantier went through the line for 2 yards. Merck gained 2 more on a run from kick formation. Obourn kicked to Rochester and Robinson nailed the receiver on Rochester's 15-yard line. Warner went thru the line for 3 yards. Rochester drew a 5-yard penalty for offside. Smith got off a quick kick to Obourn, who ran from the 50-yard marker to the 13-yard line. Merck gained two more thru the line. Obourn added 9 on a reverse. Grantier hit the line and on the next play went over for a touchdown. Obourn missed try for point. Obourn kicked off to Warner, who was brought down on his own 25-yard line. Warner hit line for 2 yards. Drojarski skirted end for 15 more. Warner went thru the line for 4 yards. ### FROSH FOOTBALL

In answer to Coach McLane's call for freshmen football candidates, the Class of 1935, turned out 55 strong to comprise what is probably the biggest yearling football squad in the history of the school. Not only is the squad large in numbers, but there is a wealth of weight and speed, which augurs a successful season for the youngsters.

Preliminary work has been devoted to calisthenics, instruction in rudiments, and placing the men in their respective positions. Forty men survived the first cut. By the end of next week Coach McLane expects to cut down the squad to thirty-five.

The weak spot at present is the center position. Not one candidate reported for this position and as yet no one has been definitely put in that place. For the rest of the line, Odessa, Mitchell, and Smigrod look good as ends. Hansen and Cohen are promising prospects for tackles, while Mann and Bevacqua will probably see action as guards. Clark and Wallace are the likely choices for halfbacks, with Dworette calling signals and Button at fullback. The kicking assignment will probably fall to Hansen, Bassett, or Wallace, who have been doing most of the punting.

Coach McLane is well satisfied with his squad and is eagerly pointing his charges for the first game of the season against Hornell High School on October 17.

CAMPUS COURT

The Student Campus Court will resume its activities under the leadership of Dale Lockwood, who will, with his staff advocate a strict enforcement of Freshmen rules. The purpose of the Court will be to uphold Alfred traditions and campus rules.

The first session of the Campus Court will be held tonight at Kenyon Memorial Hall where a large group of undergradmen will be brought up for trial as offenders against such traditions and rules.

The constitution of the Student Campus Court is arranged according to Parliamentary Law. The guilty may be subjected to ridiculous conspicuousness in the sight of the public.

The members of the Sophomore class at North Carolina State are endeavoring to outlaw drinking at that institution. It is said to be the first voluntary action of the kind taken in a state institution.
