

GRAPPLERS CLOSE SEASON WITH 151-2-141-2 WIN OVER ST. LAWRENCE

Overcoming the individual scoring power of St. Lawrence University, a balanced Alfred University wrestling team concluded its 1931-32 season here in the Davis Track and Field House Saturday night with a close 14½-15½ triumph.

Although the Canton aggregation registered two fall victories, two time decisions and a default, the Saxons were on the long end of the score. Three draws were recorded in the 118, 135, and 175 pound classes.

The matches, the roughest witnessed at Alfred this year, forced Referee Seidlin to caution the grapplers many times. Grantier and Van DeWeyhe staged a brief boxing show that was quieted by the referee.

The spectators were in a constant turmoil due either to the roughness or the spectacular qualities of the grappling itself. The three draw decisions also gave rise to much excitement when the outcome was so uncertain.

Benza and Benack in the 118 pound division sized each other up for the initial two minutes and then from referee's position, got down to earnest work. The Bantam Saxon grappler seemed to have the edge over his wary opponent, but failed to secure a sufficient time advantage in two extra periods.

Perhaps the most scientific and outstanding match was in the 126 pound class between Vezzoli of Alfred and Gault of the visitors. Only the wrestling skill and ability of the cagy Vezzoli enabled him to stay with his man the length of time he did.

From the 135 pound class, the card began to take on the aspects of a rough and tumble. When Yunnizzi of the Larries failed to gain any advantage over Stanton, he resorted to butting his opponent in an effort to overpower him. Neither man secured a decisive advantage so the referee called the match a draw.

Davidson in the 145 and Graham in the 165 pound classes took three points each for Alfred with time victories. Neinhardt time and again tried to evade Davidson, who consistently threw him to the mat but could not wring out a fall win. Degeronino was out-classed by Graham but managed to stick through without being thrown.

Captain Felli was forced to the bench. He had no opponent and annexed five points through default. Grantier and Van DerWayhe with the opening signal started roughing it up. A slight dispute was settled and they continued on until the last minute of the fray, when Grantier incensed by a blow from Van DerWeyhe, extracted a tooth from his opponent. The match was declared a draw.

The final bout between Lockwood of Alfred and Roberger of St. Lawrence went two minutes with both men up. Lockwood won the toss and went to the mat on the defensive, 42 seconds later Roberger was awarded a fall victory.

KAPPA PSI GIVES GYPSY RTY

The Social Hall was beset by a band of fantastically-dressed gypsies last Saturday night for Kappa Psi's pledge dance. The atmosphere created by the red and blue lights, by the gayly-colored costumes and by the tunes of the "Pyrex Pirates", made every one enter into the spirit of the gala occasion.

Professor and Mrs. Wingate, Professor and Mrs. Campbell, Professor and Mrs. Burditt and Professor Bond acted as chaperones. Alumni as guests were Henry Allison and Gene Bryant.

During intermission the new pledges were formally met by each chaperone.

FIVE MAN TEAM WINS RELAY IN BUFFALO

A dark-horse Alfred University relay team went to Buffalo, Saturday night, defeated four other Western New York college teams and returned home with a great, big, silver loving cup that has inscribed upon it, "Winners of the Half-Mile Football Relay Run".

'Twas surprisin indeed. Few of the 5,000 people who witnessed the indoor novelty athletic show in Buffalo's 174th Armory had even known that the Eagle's Lodge, sponsors of the meet, had invited an Alfred team to compete against Buffalo, St. Bonaventure, Canisus and Niagara schools.

Came time for the football relay, after bicycle races and other events had been run off. Opinion favored Buffalo, Niagara or St. Bonaventure for victory, while little or nothing was said about Alfred. Anyways, five men lined up on the board track with footballs in their hands.

Robinson, stellar Alfred gridiron end, was lead man for the Saxons. With the starting gun, he leaped to action and led the nearest man around that 220 yard lap by a one yard margin to pass the pigskin to Buckley, who continued around the same distance even.

Buckley slipped the ball to Vance, who opened wide. He made up the difference and on the back lap gained three yards by the end of the lap. Jay Ryskin took the ball and the distance advantage, held both for the remaining 220 yards and rushed across the finish line ahead of Canisus and St. Bonas' men for victory.

It was an exciting race and when it was finished few people asked questions. They knew Alfred had won the race and except for a few expressions of condolence for the cellar Buffalo and Niagara teams, the galleries showed their enthusiasm and support of the Saxons with rounds of applause and cheering.

DEAN DEGEN ATTENDS DEANS CONFERENCE

Dean Dora K. Degen represented Alfred University at the annual conference of the National Association of Deans of Women at Washington, D. C., from the seventeenth to the twentieth of February. Over three hundred deans from the United States attended the meetings, held in the Mayflower Hotel.

The general theme of the discussion was "Squaring with the Changing Social and Economic Problems". Madame Comelia Sorabji, president of the Federation of University Women at Calcutta, India, was guest speaker, and her address on "Squaring with the Changing Problems in India," showed that the problem is a changing one.

In order that they might discuss phases of the problem peculiar to their particular types of institutions the deans attended group meetings for college deans, university deans, teachers, and girl's advisor in high schools.

The universities at Pittsburgh, Syracuse and New York are now offering courses to train young women for positions as deans. Several students majoring in such courses attended the conference.

The deans were received at the White House by Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

CERAMIC SOCIETY DISCUSSES PLANS

The Ceramic Society met in Laboratory Hall at 7:00 P. M., Thursday, Feb. 25th. The moving picture "The Wizardry of Wireless" was shown.

A discussion of ways and means to increase the interest in the organization was conducted. Among the suggestions that were offered were the following: An engineering smoker, an engineering weiner roast when the weather becomes more stable, talks by the upper classmen aimed to give the underclassmen an idea of what they were going to need if they continued the course in Ceramic Engineering, debates on subjects pertaining to the ceramic industry, and the securing of outside lectures.

Following the discussion a brief account of some of the happenings at the convention of the American Ceramic Society at Washington was given. The next meeting will be Wednesday, March 9th.

NOTICE

Beginning next week, there will be published in the FIAT LUX the number of members of fraternity, and sorority houses, also the Brick and the Dorm. A list of the number of KANA-KADEAS ordered in each house, and the resulting percentage for that house, will also be published.

The following people will take your orders:
Richard Hill
Robert Foote
Lucile Bailey
Ruth Baker
Walter Merck
Ernestine Barry
Ralph Klingler
William Samuelson
Van Ostrander
Olive Jenks

FROSH COURTSTERS BOW TO GENESEO NORMAL 39-35 IN SPIRITED GAME

DR. BINNS HONORED BY GUILD DINNER

Tuesday evening, the members of the Ceramic Guild met at the Social Hall for a farewell dinner given in honor of Dr. Chas. F. Binns, who has recently retired from his position in the Ceramic School.

Between courses, speeches were made by officers and members of the Guild. Miriam Bender gave a talk on the Washington Convention to which she was recently a delegate. She mentioned various members of the Art Division who were at the convention and who are planning to visit Alfred in the near future.

Prof. Binns was introduced by Marion Borroughs, president of the Guild and gave a brief summary of his trip to Richmond where he visited a settlement house where several former Alfred graduates are teaching.

Dorothy Hallock announced that there were to be two Ceramic sales, one taking place at Easter and another in June.

Betty Rogers, presented a twenty-five dollar gold piece to Prof. Binns on behalf of the Guild, stipulating that he use this money for his garden.

In the course of the evening, the guests were entertained by a few of the old English ballads sung by Prof. Binns and accompanied by Mrs. Seidlin, who later played a few classical compositions.

The supper was supervised by Wilma Smith and served by the Freshmen members of the Ceramic Guild.

The banquet was concluded with initiation of the Guild. Theola Kilburn, Hazel Watts, Mary Train, Doris Marley, Maxine Armstrong, Wilma Smith, Ruby Robinson and Lamakina Bakker were made apprentices. Wilma McLean, Gladys Heard, Bernadine Smith and Betty Rogers were initiated as journeymen.

FROSH TO MEET GENESEO WESLEYAN

In a return game on their home court, the Purple and Gold yearlings will have a chance to avenge the defeat suffered early in the season at the hands of Geneseo Wesleyan, Friday night. The larger court should enable the Frosh to use their plays in defeating the Lima aggregation.

In the previous encounter, the Saxons were severely handicapped by the small, inadequate court. Geneseo maintained a five man defense through which the Frosh were unable to penetrate. As this mode of play is useless on a large court, the visitors will probably shift to a man for man defense. Both teams are fast cutting and pivoting aggregations, while the Saxons in addition use a series of block plays. These plays should greatly increase the Frosh scoring power.

In the Geneseo Normal game, the yearlings showed the fighting spirit and smooth organization that has been lacking in their previous efforts. Continuing this teamwork, they will be able to utilize the individual talent of the squad in a more successful manner.

Coach Lobaugh is going to spend the remainder of the week in polishing up the plays in an effort to secure greater teamwork. The first year men will also concentrate on foul shots. Each man is practicing this last week with a determination to end the season successfully.

Place your order for your 1933 Kanakadea.

Geneseo Normal's cagers avenged a previous defeat here a few weeks ago, when on their own court Saturday night they nosed out the yearlings of Alfred University in the last three and a half minutes of play. The final score was 39-35.

Although the Saxons took the lead in the middle part of the second quarter and reigned supreme until those fatal twilight minutes, they were slightly the better combine at all times. A small court and an opposing zone defense were the fundamental reasons for defeat.

The contest was fast, perhaps too fast for the size of the court. Referee Baker of Rochester displayed cat-eye technique, however, and was forced to call some 35 fouls in addition to a few technicals to keep the game in check.

The Saxons met the zone defense style of playing for the second time. It proved effective on the regulation high school court with the lanky Geneseans protecting their basket as though a wall had been erected across the floor.

Captain Adessa played the most consistent game for the Saxons. His defensive playing was outstanding, while many offensive drives originated with him. Whaley was the big gun in scoring with 16 points; Java and Hanson played their usual cool games with Button coming in for his share of honors. Magnafreda, who was substituted early, was the nucleus of Geneseo's offensive, scoring 12 points.

In the early minutes of the game, the home team piled up a 7 to 0 lead before the Saxons settled down to fight doggedly to make the count 7 to 5. From this point on until the last four minutes of play in the half, it was nip and tuck with first one then the other scoring, but with Geneseo holding the lead.

Then, Adessa scored from the floor to make the tally 14-13. A foul by Whaley deadlocked the ledgers, while baskets by Hanson and Button sent the Frosh into the lead for the first time. A field goal by Whaley and a foul by Adessa with Geneseo scoring once put the count at 21-16 at half-time.

Geneseo came back to show the same dogged spirit that Alfred showed earlier in the game. It was not as brilliant or fast-rising as that of Alfred's, however, and not until those last few minutes did their barrage prove effective.

Alfred was leading 33 to 30, when Geneseo tied with a long field goal and a foul. With the gymnasium a bedlam of noise and spurred on by rejuvenated hope, the home combine led by Magnafreda sank two baskets in a row hardly before Alfred could regain themselves. After each team had scored on fouls, Geneseo attempted to freeze the ball. The play was Continued on page four.

THETA KAPPA NU GIVES PLEDGE DANCE

Theta Kappa Nu gave its annual pledge dance in the high school gym on Saturday night.

The committee in charge of the general arrangements was composed of Robert Hallenbeck (chairman), Norman Annis and Theodore Cobb. Ted Van Order's Orchestra from Hornell furnished music for dancing from 8-12.

The faculty guests and chaperones for the occasion were: Professor and Mrs. Hildebrand, Professor and Mrs. Orvis, Professor and Mrs. Nease, Professor Crandall and Professor Harris.

Among the alumni present were: Donald Fenner, John Call, and "Doc" Hubbard.

Frances Rogers '30, has accepted a position in the occupational therapy division of the Georgia State Hospital in Milledgeville, Ga. This department is new, and Frances has the interesting task of developing it among the white women of the Institution.

Mrs. Stetson Sherman, Susan Crandall Sherman, '88, died at her home in Wellsville, Feb. 4th, after an illness of some months. In her will, Mrs. Sherman left ten thousand dollars to Alfred University.

Mr. and Mrs. Revere Saunders of Darlington, Pa., are the parents of a daughter, Elizabeth Ann. Mrs. Saunders is remembered as Helen Brundige.

Niel Mills '31, has accepted the pastorate of a church in New Market, New Jersey.

Several of Alfred's alumni are in the Japanese-Chinese war area in Shanghai, and nearby towns. Their friends and relatives have received recent dispatches to the effect that all are safe. Dr. Grace Crandall and her co-worker Dr. Palenburg are in charge of a hospital in Liuho some little distance from Shanghai, while Miss Susie Burdick, Miss Mabel West, Alfred graduates and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis and family are in charge of a school in the city of Shanghai, on the opposite side of the International Settlement from the scene of hostilities. Mr. and Mrs. Sutton are in Foocheow, farther south, where Mr. Sutton teaches in the University and Mrs. Sutton (Dr. Ellen Holmes) is administering aid as a medical missionary.

MIXED CHORUS TO BE ORGANIZED

Professor Wingate is instituting a new project in organizing a mixed chorus of fifty or sixty voices. The first meeting will be held Tuesday, March 1st, in his studio in the Green Block. All those interested in such a proposal are asked to attend the meeting.

Y. W. C. A. PROGRAM

During the membership campaign, led by Gladys Heard, the Y. W. C. A. has gained many new members. An initiation service will be held for them next Sunday evening at the regular hour.

The program committee for March and April is Ruth Norwood, Mary Olney, and Georgia Grow.

Three one-act plays are to be presented in Utopia sometime during March. Betty Stillman, Georgiana Kennedy and Ruth Kenyon are the committee in charge. The plays which have been chosen are: "Betty, Behave!", in which the mischievous Betty is forever playing pranks on her chums at boarding school, and finally they turn the tables on the culprit; "A Pair of Lunatics" who meet in an asylum and each mistakes the other for an inmate; and "The Right Answer". A girl-shy but very eligible young bachelor who must marry as a matter of business necessity falls into the snare set by his prankish sister and eight of her girl friends. The young man finally learns why wives aren't picked out with business office efficiency.

Mr. Harry E. Harding, United States Commissioner, has been secured as speaker on next Thursday's assembly program. Mr. Harding will have as his subject, "Prohibition—and the United States Government".

The last few week's Spring like weather has been wonderful for the dispositions of Alfredians, except those who have to use Pine "Street", we use the word advisidly, whenever they or friends of theirs have occasion to drive to Bartlett Dorm, the Ag School, Theta Nu or to the Chem Building. Spring rains and March thaws and frosts and contractor's trucks have done a wonderful job of making the road into a cowpath. Ruts six and eight inches deep, as winding as a corkscrew, present a fearful ordeal for any self-respecting spring or shock absorber that may be driven over or through them. A great many people like and desire thrills, but just the same a great many of those people like to ride in cars that keep their four wheels in the accepted proper position and which do not change places every few feet.

A few days work with several men and a little of the machinery that is available would do much to metamorphose navigation into transportation, in so far as Pine Street is concerned.

A Bostonian was showing a British visitor the sights of the Hub. On passing the Bunker Hill Monument and not wishing to make any pointed reference to the fact that at one time we had been fighting with our cousins, merely indicated the monument with his thumb and said, "Bunker Hill".

The Englishman looked at the hill intently and asked, "Who was Mr. Bunker and what did he do to the hill?"

"You don't understand," Boston replied, "This is where Warren fell".

The Englishman screwed his monocle into his eye, leaned back and looking at the top of the towering shaft, remarked inquiringly, "Killed him, of course?"

CAMPUS TIDBITS

By Pat Hughes

Sid DeLaney recovered his dog from across the Kanakadea last week, and had a hard time getting him home. Nice work, Sid!

Ann Whitfield blew out a fuse in her uncle's bicycle pump early yesterday afternoon. Tough going, Ann.

Johnny Grantier won the Algebra game last Friday.

Sox Bassett moved into the village Wednesday, bringing with him his stock of spring heifers. Glad to see you with us again, Socks!

Billy Nichols is saving up for a new dress. Hope you get it, Billy!

Bill Fuller attended the food sale over at the Almond Grange, but was refused admittance.

"Stokes" Brown went to Hornell, Tuesday, to acquire a little local color, but he came back immediately. Wonder why, "Stokes"?

Annette Clifford burned out the battery in her new flashlight this morning. Better watch it next time.

Steve Warde passed another uneventful week.

Senator Knox was confined to the Infirmary all week with a bad case of housemaid's knee, and callouses on the gums and pulse.

Ken Robinson tossed the 16-pound shot into some tall grass behind the Davis Field House and it hasn't been found yet. The A. A. made him pay for it.

At exactly 15 minutes, 5 3-7 seconds past four o'clock Saturday A. M. in Alfred, N. Y., nobody grumbled or complained about anything.

Intersorority Council

On Thursday, Feb. 25, a meeting of the council was held in the Brick upperclass parlors for the purpose of determining the penalty for any person breaking an intersorority council rule during silence week.

Professor Burditt has acted as clerk for the council this past week, receiving preferential slips from the freshmen girls and notifying the different sororities of the girls they have received.

Infirmiry Notes

During the past week a good many of our colleagues spent a day or so at the Infirmiry. Norman Annis was confined in the Infirmiry from Tuesday to Thursday with a cold. George Buckley, also stayed at the Infirmiry from Thursday till Saturday with a cold. Miss Adelle Rogers has been ill with the grip and is still under care at the Infirmiry.

Brother Whiteman visited his uncle, Dr. Karl von Wehnegan, of Buffalo, over the week-end.

Nice going, teams.

Theta Kappa Nu

Nice match, wrestling team! Alumni brothers Fenner, D. Young, Hubbard and Call attended the pledge dance Saturday night.

We enjoyed having as chaperones, Prof. and Mrs. Nease, Prof. and Mrs. Hildebrand, and Prof. Crandall and Miss Harris.

We were sorry that several of our pledges were absent from the dance, due to the basketball game.

Now that Ryll is back, we have a barber in the house.

We think Bill Welch has turned detective. At least he wanders around when the lights are turned out.

George Monks, Wadsworth Giller, Dick Gaulrapp, and "Shorty" McCourt left Thursday morning with Chaplain McLeod for New York, where they spoke at a student conference. Influenced by this New York migration, Karl Hammann and Don Noe followed on the railroad.

Brothers Obourn, Dunbar, Hewey, DiCandia, Kingsley, and Gagliano traveled to Buffalo with the basketball squad, Friday. Vance and Warde followed the next day to participate in the Football Relay.

Pledge Brothers Adessa, Hillwig, Hanson, Mitchell and Hopkins went with the Frosh team to Geneseo. Brothers Spreen and Klinger also visited the Normal School.

Fine finish, wrestling team.

Better luck next time, basketball teams.

"Wutz" Rauber and "Dutch" Cripps made a surprise visit to the house this week-end. Seemed like old times to have Rauber's sallies floating around the house.

OPINIONS

ONLY THROUGH THE OPEN AND UNHAMPERED CLASH OF CONTRARY OPINIONS CAN TRUTH BE FOUND.—Glenn Frank

To the Editor:

In an article which appeared some time ago in the Fiat, regarding the seminar rooms on the second floor of the library by one who signed himself "Frosh", the librarian is of the opinion that if there are any Frosh prepared to do research work the main floor of the library is adequate to meet any such demand. The rooms on the second floor were originally intended for seminar rooms where students might pursue special lines of work under the direction of their professors. In every case admission to the rooms was by card countersigned by a member of the faculty. Some time later, owing to the fact that the faculty did not make general use of the rooms, they were thrown open to the students who wished to study quietly and unmolested. This privilege has been abused so frequently of late that it was thought best to close the rooms altogether temporarily. Now, if there are students who can be relied upon to use these seminar rooms properly in keeping with the original intention and not as smoking parlors or for other purposes not compatible with good library usage and can assure the librarian that they will be thus used arrangements may be made whereby admission to them may be granted by procuring keys at the office. Furthermore if there are students who may have complaints to make or who may desire further information regarding this whole question, the librarian will be very glad to have an interview with any such student in his office. He is confident that the students will appreciate the situation and co-operate in every legitimate way with him in maintaining good usage of every library privilege.

C. R. Clawson, Librarian.

Now that we have some real honest to goodness talkies why not make wider use of the equipment. Last year we had Einstein's "Theory of Relativity," and other silent films can be obtained at a low or negligible rental. The department of education is probably aware of the films in which outstanding educators demonstrate in talking pictures the most modern methods of teaching various subjects.

Then, too, count me in for Sunday evening programs. Why not have some of the religious, educational or wholly entertaining films. Even with my Puritan background I can't see anything objectionable about Ben-Hur, William Tell, Shakespeare, or to be a little more modern—Will Rogers, in Business and Pleasure, Arliss in The Man Who Played God and others I have read about. I could stand a little news and even a Mickey Mouse without being any the worse in my efforts in learning.

What do you say? Let's have church. Let's go to Hornell—and what'll we see. The management says it is open to suggestions. I hope these few are acceptable.

Have you ever stopped to examine the origin of political parties; not from the historical viewpoint but from your own experiences in college? It has always been said, that the habits you form in college will stick with you throughout the rest of your life. After one election period in college one realizes that "truer words were never spoken".

At election time it is not the ability of the candidate at stake that matters, but the prestige of the social unit to which he belongs. At the nominating meeting each unit tries to nominate one member of the house, often regardless of his ability to fulfill the position. Another unit nominates their own candidate and one from the first unit, just to split the votes. If one member from the former does not withdraw, the race is almost won for the latter.

Another trick of the game is to have two separate houses running for two separate offices on the campus. There is a mutual agreement that one house will vote for the other house if the former will back up the latter in getting the office that they are after.

The elections are nothing but a series of childish plays. "If you'll do one thing, I'll do the other." An individual does not have the right to his own opinions as to how to cast his own ballot. If his house has pledged to back up another, for loyalty to his own house he must vote the way they say, regardless of the person to be elected. It does not appear that the character, personality and capability of the individual are the qualities that are sought after and stressed when the candidates are put into office.

To the Editor:

There have been many and interesting discussions on World Topics taking place at the Social Hall every Sunday night. When the idea was first introduced it was accepted with much gusto. But as is the fate of all new things and ideas, the novelty soon wore off, and the attendance at these meetings is ever dwindling faster and faster.

Alfred students speak of the narrowness and bigotry on the campus and yet when the opportunity presents itself for advance, cosmopolitan ideas to replace those localized ones, no advantage is taken of it. Do the students want these Sunday night meetings or would they rather that they be discontinued? Since large groups are those in which a greater number of ideas may be interchanged, why not come out and support an extra-curricular activity from which you yourself can derive some benefit. Don't allow walking and — to be your only pastimes! Avoid stagnation! Do something for that mind of yours—come out and participate in the discussions this very Sunday.

CO-ED BASKETBALL

In the last two preliminary games, played Wednesday, Feb. 24th, the Sophs beat the Seniors 17 to 13, and the Frosh took the Juniors over by a score of 20 to 14.

The schedule for the finals has been revised so that the Seventh Day girls may play in all the games.

The schedule:

Monday—Feb. 29th—Frosh- Soph Juniors-Seniors
 Wednesday—Mar. 2nd—Sophs-Juniors Frosh-Seniors
 Wednesday—March 9th—Frosh-Junior Soph-Seniors

MCLEOD ATTENDS PRE-COLLEGE CONFERENCE

Alfred University was represented by Chaplain McLeod and George Monks at the Pre-College Conference, which was held at Flushing, L. I., Feb. 26th and 27th, under the auspices of the Hi-Y Club of that city.

Attending the conference were representatives from many New York State high schools and colleges, who contributed to the discussion of problems confronting the average high school student contemplating college as well as those which arise during the pursuit of a higher education.

INTERFRATERNITY GLEE CLUB STARTED

The Interfraternity Glee Club has held several meetings during the past few weeks; the Club is under the direction of Mrs. Reynolds. The members have been practicing a few songs and it is expected that these numbers will play an important part in the Junior Follies.

SOCIAL HALL

The Social Hall has been the scene of many events during the past week.

On Tuesday evening the Ceramic Guild held a dinner in honor of Dr. Binns.

Saturday evening Kappa Psi held its pledge party which proved to be a gay occasion.

The usual Sunday evening open Forum was held where the students discussed many important current problems.
