

Gill and Carty to present Bergren Forum

3/16/05

Dr. William Carty, a researcher, and John Gill, an artist, will give the Bergren Forum for March 24. The title of the forum will be "The Synergy of Art and Engineering." Their forum will focus on the mutually advantageous conjunction of art and engineering. Gill will emphasize the art aspect and Carty will emphasize the engineering aspect. Gill is a professor of ceramic art at Alfred University, as well as chair of the division of ceramic art. He has worked at the university for 21 years. Carty is a professor of ceramic engineering at Alfred University and a researcher whose work focuses on whitewares. He is a member of the faculty of the School of Engineering. The forum, like all Bergren Forums, will be free and open to the public. It takes place at Nevins Theater, in Powell Campus Center at 12:10 p.m. Coffee and tea are complimentary and people are encouraged to bring bag lunches.
