Apply Again
For Prayer At Lunch

The following argument appeal for reinstatement at Buffalo State Teachers College, America, is of the time that the reinstatement has not been sent to the Board of Education in the United States, and that the time has come again to request that the Board of Education grant Sends the prayers for a second year.

When the “Prayer” comes, what will American do at home? What will the people of the world do? Will America of the world, begin the answer. America will do what we are Americans. That is the very essence of democracy. It is the bedrock of all our rights and all our freedom.

When the “Prayer” comes, American elderly will be standing in the shelters of the city, when the elderly walk out the doors of the shelters, have many soldiers, many persons, and the old will not be able to reach the shelters.

Miss Smith succeeds Russell Smite, 45, and Miss; and Miss Wilson will be chosen as the President of the Junior Class. Last week’s meeting was attended by the old and new members of the Council. This year’s Council consist of Priscilla Ann W. ’44, Sigma Chi; Doris Comfort and Jeanie Moore Dever ‘44, Sigma Chi; Margaret Rettig ’44, Sigma Chi; and Isabel Smith, Sigma Chi. The Council next year will consist of Dora A. Albury, Doris Rivett and the following Sophomore council is elected:

President—Jeanney; Secretary—Libby Smith; Treasurer—Drake; Auditor—J. E. Taylor; Vice-President—Dorothy Smith.

Learn The Facts

There is a lot of talk around campus lately to the effect that Alfred might not reopen next fall. We hear discussions on the topic every day, and we hear it from everyone. Everyone is talking about it but does everyone actually know the facts?

We realize that since our country is at war, conditions here on campus are, and will continue to be different. We are aware that the number of students attending Alfred this fall will probably be far less than that in previous years. We are aware that the athletic program, cut down to a minimum for safety reasons, is necessarily smaller and later because of a definite lack of men, in practice and in theory. We are aware that indifference on the part of many students has made it impossible for us to have certain things that do not mean that Alfred will close. These factors do not exist in Alfred University alone. They are prevalent in colleges all over the country. Our task is to urge all to try to do the best they can through, and it will survive this one.

In this country we have a jaded innocent unless given genuine reasons. Why not use the same logic in regard to Alfred? This University will open next fall. It will not close unless we are notified by the proper authority in the near future.

America

What is America? This is a question very difficult, if not impossible, to answer, because America is so much and so changing from day to day. America is what she seems to be at any given time. She is a mosaic, a vast and varied mixture of races, colors, ideas, people and problems. She is a kaleidoscope, presenting various pictures day to day. America is a giant kaleidoscope, presenting various pictures day to day. America is a giant kaleidoscope presenting various pictures day to day. It is amazing that so many widely different people and ideas can live so harmoniously together under one flag and that the effects of the world can be shared with so much freedom.

The most concrete, although not the most important, factors in the American scene are the changes that are going on in the world at large. As long as the majority of the American people are keeping in mind the fundamental American idea of equality, America will continue to be a great united country.

Another idea, inseparable from the American idea, is that it is possible to make a new system of things. The idea of the new system is not necessarily new, but in the minds of the people, in the hearts of the people, the idea is new. It is the idea that the old system is no longer good enough, and that a new system is needed, and that the new system is possible. It is the idea that the new system is possible, and that the new system is better. It is the idea that the new system is better, and that the new system is possible.

One View

By Alvin Glaser

In this column last week, I stated that the masses—the laborers, farmers, and other groups—must join hands and work together if they are to attain their objectives. In this week's column, I wish to speak of the mass demonstrations and the mass movement for peace. If these events are to continue, the organized interest groups must continue in the office. The other group that will be heard and used by the interests in the future is the organized internationalism.

Wills writing from the picture is clear and the people are clear. The people are all behind the movement, and all are aware of the movement. The people are aware of the movement, and they are all aware of the movement.

Your Deal

In your gone by, it has spread like wildfire all over the state, the country, the continent in all your time, Alfred has been able to escape this dread disease. Once you catch a little infection of it and grow, and then you're doomed, you've been attacked. It's dumb, white body and mind. No doc- tor can save you from it. I'll put out a few more of the positive things to be noted in the future, the first...

The members of the Junior Class in the Ceramic Design Department were on their plant trip during the week of April 26. They spent the first three days at the ceramic convention in Pittsfield and from there they visited several of the industrial ceramic plants in the Ohio Valley, New York, and Tennessee. For the remainder of the week, they were guests of the companies.

Footlight Club Elects Officers For Next Year

Margaret Long '45 was elected president of the Footlight Club at a meeting held at Alumni Hall last Thursday night. Other officers elected at that meeting were Rhoda Leech '46 as vice-

Secretary, Marcia Fisher '46 as business manager and Gordon Swanson '46 as armament officer. Following the meeting, the Footlight Club met and selected a group of make-up work, conducted by Dorothy Roberts '44, editor of the Footlight's monthly magazine, Art and Crafts. The first meeting was attended by 25 members.

The purpose of the new organization is to provide a nucleus for the study of ceramic work, and to encourage the production of ceramic art in the community. The group will be active in all phases of ceramic work, including the study of techniques, the making of ceramic objects, and the appreciation of ceramic art.
