New International Relations Club To Operate With Program of Speakers, Next Year

UNDER AUSPICES OF CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT

The contagion of local groups in achieving national recognition seems to be prevalent on the Alfred campus for the past three weeks. Two weeks ago the Footlight Club announced their acceptance to membership by Theta Alpha Phi, National Dramatic Organization. On Tuesday, May 9th, the Alfred Peace League became an International Relations Club. The main purpose of these clubs, of which there are approximately four hundred in the United States, is to study and discuss international relations, to fix the attention of the student on those underlying principles of international conduct, of international law and of international organization which must be agreed upon and applied if peaceful civilization is to continue.

The International Relations Clubs are groups of college men and women organized under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

A speaker, usually a foreign representative to the United States is sent to address all of the schools which have an International Relations Club on their campus. Each group receives from twelve to fifteen of the newest books which are appropos of the subject each year, to be used by the members.

The new organization is just getting under way and will not start any definite program until the next school year, when it is hoped that Alfred will rank among the outstanding of the clubs found on any American campus.

Dr. Binns Cites Fairs As Stepping Stones In Ceramics

World fairs were cited as stepping stones in the history of ceramics by Dr. Charles F. Binns of Alfred, who spoke last night at the preview of the second annual Robineau memorial ceramic exhibition at the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts.

"It was at the Chicago world fair in 1893, that the movement for individual production of clay ware by studio workers was begun," Dr. Binns said. "In that same year Mrs. Robineau began to experiment with porcelains. China workers began to experiment with clay work slowly and gradually until the St. Louis world fair in 1904, when a new impetus was received."

Their industrial value was pointed out by him in "suggestions for manufacturers, who see things which offer to them new ideas for professional work."

Gerald Keenan To Render Violin Recital, Sunday

Prof. Ray W. Wingate invites the students and public to a Violin Recital by Gerald Keenan, Eastman School of Music '33, in Social Hall, Sunday evening, May 21, 1933, at 7:30 to 8:30. Miss Mildred Brasted will accompany Mr. Keenan.

Mr. Keenan played a concerto of his own composition last week with the Eastman Orchestra, directed by Dr. Hansen, at the Eastman School of Music. Dr. Hansen is known to direct only the best and his recommendation should induce many to come and enjoy the concert of this finished violinist.

Volavy Scores Success In Distinctive Recital At Alumni Hall

Marguerite Volavy, the famous Bohemian pianist, who gave a recital at Alumni Hall last Tuesday evening, held her audience entranced through an hour and a half of colorful and spirited music from the old masters. Madam Volavy announced her own program from the stage; her command of English was excellent, and her decidedly individual accent heightened the interest of its delivery. She had chosen, she said, to take her program in chronological order; the first group consisted of composers of the seventeenth century; the second of the eighteenth; the third of the nineteenth, and the last from the late nineteenth and present-day composers. The most vivid impression of Madam Volavy's playing is of her complete assurance and masterful control. She played without notes, and swept through the swift movements of Caprices and Schorzos into the force and surge of Smetana's "On the Seashore" with equal ease and composure. As one of her reviewers wrote of her, she seems to possess the power and force of a man pianist. The audience was so enthusiastic that it recalled Madam Volavy for two encores.

Following the concert, Mrs. S. R. Scholes entertained at a reception in honor of Madam Volavy.

Lehman Definitely To Be Present At Dedication

President Davis has received definite word from Governor Herbert Lehman that he will be present to dedicate the new building of the Ceramic College during Commencement Week. Other persons who have accepted invitations to be present and give speeches include: A. B. Blininger, Dr. J. J. Hostetter, president of the American Ceramic Society and Professor C. W. Parmally, the head of the department of Ceramic Engineering at Illinois State University.

GLEE CLUB TO END CONCERT SCHEDULE

Alfred University Glee Club appeared in four neighboring high schools today to entertain in the respective assemblies. On Friday, the wearers of the Purple will be seen in three more schools to culminate their program of more than sixty separate concerts.

Among the schools visited today were Greenwood, Jasper, Woodhull and Addison. On Friday, the Glee Club will entertain Arcade, Delevan and Warsaw.

So great has been the success of this Glee Club that they have had to extend their program and have had many repeat offers. However, scarcity of time has forced them to limit the remainder of their program to the above schools. It is felt that the success of these men has shown neighboring students the spirit that prevails at Alfred.

Foreign Students In U. S. Colleges Discussed In Assembly

"Our Unofficial Ambassadors" was the subject of the speaker, Mr. Hurrey in the Assembly, Wednesday.

Mr. Hurrey is greatly interested in the problems of students in other lands. The present day interchange of collegiate students from one country to another is gradually bringing about remarkable results.

The American Campus is in the limelight as no other in the world for attracting students from all corners of the globe.

Despite all this there are three things which tend to keep these groups apart. The first is language. This is especially noticed among the Japanese. Lately there has been some question as to whether Esperanto will become the universal language or not. The answer to this seems to be more or less in the negative.

The second reason is the difference in the manners, customs and social characteristics of these people. We Americans are too egotistical. Other lands take far greater interest to adopt our customs than we do to adopt theirs. Such things as our table manners and religious problems cause great confusion to our foreign visitors.

France is still the great educational center for students from all nations although Germany is becoming very cordial to such scholars and is making Continued on page two

Fiat Lux Staff Holds Annual Election At Gothic

The annual elections of the Fiat Lux editorial and business staff will be held Tuesday night at the Gothic. At this time the new editor-in-chief and business manager will be elected. Two competitors and reporters will also be moved up one position, according to the popular vote.

At the last meeting, a motion was passed that the editorial staff be empowered to cast votes for the election of the new business manager as well as on the rest of the staff. However, the present business manager will recommend his successor. As in the past all members of the staff with a standing of reporter or better will be allowed to vote for the editor.

Forensic Society Elects New Set of Officers

At the last meeting of the Forensic Society, William Butler was elected president, Mary Olney vice-president, Marie Marino recording secretary, Martha Cornish corresponding secretary, and Ralph Jacox treasurer.

Plans for next year were brought up and discussed, and it was decided not to limit the club to debate only, but to bring in all forms of public speaking.

A campaign for new members is to take place early in the fall in order to help the club carry out its proposed future program.

No further meetings will be held this year.

A budget for the Fiat Lux was decided upon at a meeting of the Student Senate, Wednesday, May 10th at Social Hall. The Fiat editor will definitely receive a salary of $150 per year, the business manager $100, and all editors will gain some college credit in English.

The Senate also voted that beginning next year the Freshmen are to wear their caps at all varsity meets. It is believed that this new ruling will aid in Freshman service and create a better school spirit.

At the same meeting a letter from the Student Committee for Freedom in Education from the University of Cincinnati was presented by the president. This committee is seeking the cooperation of every college campus against the Hitler movement in Germany. Great antagonism has been exercised against the Jewish race, and it is widely felt that measures should be taken to prevent further persecution. No action was taken upon the matter, it being referred to Jay Ryskind for investigation.

Nominations for officers of several campus organizations were made by the Senate and others will be named at a later meeting.

The method of procedure in making these nominations is as follows: nominations are handed in by the various groups before May 1. After that date no nominations may be made unless a senate member makes them.

Each candidate nominated is discussed as to ability, interest, and scholarship, and an elimination takes place until the number selected agrees with the constitution of the Student Senate. The names of those chosen are kept secret until the day of election.

The Student Senate expresses a great hope that every student will cooperate in furthering the success of this new plan and that only those best fitted will gain campus offices.

ALFRED REPRESENTED AT N. Y. GEOLOGICAL FIELD TRIP

Alfred University was well represented at the Ninth Annual Field Trip of the New York State Geological Association. Four students, Jay Ryskind, Donald Noe, Dante Vezzoli and Robert Spreen, made the trip in the company of Professor and Mrs. Ross.

Representatives from every college in New York state met at Newburgh, Thursday night, to go by auto from there to New York City. Various stops were made along the way to study the ground and rock formations. At these designated points, the New York State Geologists and Marshall Kay of Columbia, pointed out and explained the interesting features.

In the evening, the group attended a dinner at the Faculty Club of Columbia University at which various features of geology were discussed. The following day, the trip was continued through the Palisades and Staten Island.

FRESHMEN!

Freshmen, here's your chance! The last issue of the Fiat Lux for this year will be called the Freshmen issue and will be put out by you Freshmen. It will come out just before moving up day, and will be your last official act as Freshmen. All who are interested in such an opportunity and would like to write for it, should meet in the Gothic on Wednesday evening at 7:00 P. M., and you will be organized into the respective departments.

Elections

"The old order changeth"—and the election season is here again. During the next two weeks students will be deliberating—"who is the man for this office?" Let us hope that they will discriminate wisely in casting their ballot, for it is important that we have leaders and officers who are dependable and efficient. Generally a student accepts an office with a certain amount of pride to think that he has been chosen by his fellow students. However, if he realizes that he was elected because his fraternity "put him through" there should be detracted all glamor of the position.

There is a movement started in Alfred to correct some evils of the election system. The Student Senate is attempting to definitely sponsor a system of "closed" politics on this campus. Let's grow up, forget past prejudices and cooperate with them by casting for the man!

OPINIONS

"—ONLY THROUGH THE OPEN AND UNHAMPERED CLASH OF CONTRARY OPINIONS CAN TRUTH BE FOUND."—Glenn Frank

To the Editor:—

A boy whose pregenators were members of the most intelligent race in the world came to a small college town. He had been there only a day or so when he was made to realize that he, for some reason or other, was not on a par socially with his classmates. He was a good student and had an average degree of athletic prowess which were presumably the two outstanding qualifications for a successful college career. Being a healthy, normal chap he decided to ask a girl to attend a local college function. The telephone was put in operation and the young lady who was asked promptly accepted with pleasure and even went as far as to thank the boy for his invitation. The young man considering the matter closed made his plans for a very pleasant evening.

On the following day the girl learned that the boy was of the same race as that terrible person, Jesus Christ. In panic she seized the phone and tactfully informed the young man that a sudden call from home, etc.—. The young man expressed his regret and the process was repeated. The girl in her own eyes has preserved her self respect. The boy in his helplessness over a situation which he could not control becomes bitter. Do you blame him? The girl is perfectly willing to date a "blind" provided he has the usual requirements, being a gentleman, etc. She is frequently found in chapel, not that it isn't beneficial, because her sorority likes to keep up appearances and by the large number of these occurrences they seem to be just appearances. She is one with the Scribes and the Pharisees who worshiped from the housetops in order that the public note their piety. I do not wish to leave the impression that this is always the case. I do, however, wish to emphasize the fact that a college campus is one place where race prejudice be not minimized but eliminated.

To the Editor:—

"An outstanding artist," says the Berliner Tageblatt. She has played before the crowned heads of Europe, yet when Madame Volavay does Alfred the great honor of playing on her very campus in order to make it possible for the proverbial "broke" college student to hear good music—a mere handful of people make their appearance.

The audience last Tuesday night at Alumni Hall was comprised principally of townspeople and faculty members. The students who were present could literally be counted.

If Alfred students have no desire to hear fine music, let them come out and say so, which will be less embarrassing to this cultural institution than to have people demand more of the finer things and then, when they

FOREIGN STUDENTS IN U. S. COLLEGES DISCUSSED

For the last ten years the number of students coming to this country has gradually increased. Last year there were 10,000 from 100 different countries here in the U. S. Oriental students have found in graduating that it is their duty to take back with them our ideas of modern education. This year there are extremely interesting groups from various countries—especially Germany.

Why do we treat these international friends as we do? More and more we should realize their tremendous influence upon our nation.

First of all, they are rising to the greatest heights in the problems of our political life.

They are also influential in our foreign commercial and trade relationships. They introduce in their native lands, when they return, articles of the United States. We Americans are making them go faster, but are we making them grow better?

Then too, they are significant in the field of public health and athletics. They return to their homes and establish modern playgrounds based upon those in this country. Greatest of all, perhaps, is their influence in promoting world peace.

They stimulate us in language and literature, they tell us about geography, they arouse us to travel—to see our country as they see it and thus they help us decide what to do with our lives.

Let the Latin American teach us something of the beautiful, the aesthetic—the Indian teach us the devotion of religion and the Japanese something of alertness and patriotism

TWO SCHOLARSHIPS DONATED BY WILL OF RUDIGER

Probing of the will of the late Eugene A. Rudiger, Sturbridge, Mass., shows that a bequest of two $1,000 scholarships has been left to Alfred University students.

Under a residue clause effective after the death of his step-daughter, Leona I. Greene, a bequest of $1,000 is left to Alfred University library.

The two scholarships are to be known as the Max and Amanda C. Rudiger fund in memory of his father. Descendants of his family have prior rights to the scholarship benefits, and after them, any worthy students.

Did you know one of the town clocks looks into the Rosebush windows? And is its face red?

Various honorary fraternities are going to tap in assembly this Thursday—bring your own pretzels.

There's a rumor that the abnormal psych class rushed some of the prospective Alfred students at Elmira Prep. Its always hard to break a bad habit.

When Doc Cortelyou opened one of his classes by taking out his copy-righted cards, young Illingworth piped up, "you need jacks or better, prof."

IN OTHER COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

When a student burns the traditional "midnight oil," sacrifices opportunities "to paint the town red," and plugs at his homework for the sake of earning a high scholarship index, he is paving the road to success in later life. Such a conclusion is reached by President Daniel L. Marsh, Dean Everett W. Lord of C. B. A., and Dean Arthur H. Wilde of the School of Education, all Phi Beta Kappa men, who maintain that college scholarship is a significant index to later success in life.

In an attempt to keep operating expense at the lowest figure consistent with efficient management, eight of the eleven campus sororities at Butler University have announced drastic cuts in membership and maintenance costs.

ALFRED SPIKEMEN TROUNCE CORTLAND NORMAL 81-41

CLARK AND WHITMAN TIE IN POLE VAULT; WHALEY TAKES FIRST IN JAVELIN THROW

Alfred University spikemen went to the fore as they turned the trick on Cortland Normal to the tune of 81 to 41 here at Merrill Field, Friday afternoon. Looked upon as a warming up for the state meet to be held in Rochester next Saturday, the Saxons welcomed the stiff opposition in some of the events.

Especially was this true in the field events, where Alfred's team is the weakest. Charlie Clark again came to the fore, however, to keep the Purple colors flying on a par with those flaunted by the invaders. One of Alfred's mainstays, Newell "Red" Wallace did not compete, because of a spiked ankle, which he received in the Colgate meet.

Despite the fact that Alfred's leading dash man, Wallace, was forced to view the meet rather than participate, Alfred came through in fine style. Charlie Clark took the 100 yard dash in a good time of 10.1. The 220 proved a humbug, however, with Merck garnering only a second place for the Purple.

In the 880 Alfred scored a clean sweep, as also was the case in the mile run. In the half mile event Corsaw, Wessels and Java swept across the finish with hands clasped, giving Corsaw the right to a varsity letter. Barney Oldfield, a freshman, was permitted to run the mile and battled it out with Java of Alfred, who took first place. Oldfield placed second but his place did not count points. Cibella and Ricker of Alfred tied for second and split the second and third place points between themselves.

In both of the hurdle events, Alfred took first places. Riley had an easy time of it in the low hurdles, while McNamara of the Saxons came in second. Mitchell garnered the initial berth for Alfred in the 120 yard high event. Henning took third.

The pole vault and the broad jump were the two best events of the day, however. Clark was forced to his utmost by Whitman of Cortland in the pole vault. Both men went 12 feet to tie the new college record set by Clark last week and to tie themselves up for a split on the first and second place points. On one of the trials after the 12 foot mark had been reached. Clark almost cleared, only knocking the bar down with his arm.

In the broad jump, Clark again was shoved by a Cortland man, Miller and as a result recorded the best leap of his career—21 feet 4 inches, which proved by a foot to make him the better man over Miller, who placed second. Third place in this event also was taken by a Cortland man, Noble.

In the high jump, Whaley and Clark tied for first at 5 feet 6 inches. Both could probably have gone higher but with all Cortland men eliminated decided to let it go knotted up. In the shot put event, Alfred won a second place with Chamberlin inches behind the first place, Ockershausen of Cortland. In the javelin, Alfred took two first places with Whaley in the initial berth and Ben Towner, placing second. Towner also took a third in the discus.

Alfred Trackmen To Enter Little Ten Conference At Rochester, Saturday

Alfred University trackmen are undergoing last minute training, this week, for the Little Ten Conference Track Meet to be held at the University of Rochester Campus, this Saturday. Hamilton looms as the biggest competitor for top honors with a record of two successive wins to defend.

As usual, the Saxons will enter this meet with a powerful track team that is weak in the field events. Development of Whaley and Towner in the discus and javelin, however, has helped to balance the team power. Clark and Wallace are expected to bear the brunt of the scoring and are looked to turn in some record breaking performances, with favorable weather.

Niagara has recently withdrawn from the Little Ten Conference and will not likely enter a team. Rochester should upset some of the scoring and change the dope sheets. However, it is bound to be a close contest between Hamilton and Alfred with the one and two point places deciding the outcome.

We know you haven't missed us while we've been away, but as the school year draws to a close we felt that a few slants as the splendid track team before the State Meet would be of interest to the student body. Incidentally, Rochester is not a great distance and the team deserves your support.

In a narrow margin victory over the Flower City team, a defeat from a well balanced Colgate squad, and an easy victory over Cortland Normal, we can see little more than an even chance of capturing the Conference Championship again. The lack of balance in the Rochester meet was evident, but in the meet last Friday against the normal school team, Coaches Galloway and McLane had reason to be encouraged with the improved performance of Whaley and Towner in the javelin, and Chamberlin in the shot. We look to Captain Merck, Wallace, Wessels, Clark and Java, to continue the last good work and grab a sufficient number of track events to offset the strength of Hamilton, Niagara, St. Lawrence and Rochester in the field. It is entirely within the range of possibility that while those schools are splitting points in the field, the Saxons can build up a good lead in the running events.

The unusual in track is a tie score in a duel meet, yet Princeton and Yale pulled that stunt last Saturday, when the Orange surprised the very strong New Haven team with a tie, at 67½ points. The running of Bonthron of Princeton was little short of miraculous. There is not another man in the east capable of such performances as he staged in winning the 800, 1500 and 3000 meter races in one afternoon. In each race the competition was keen and he was pushed to crack time in all three.

Cornell looked very strong against Colgate and Syracuse, but were nosed out by a well balanced Penn team on Saturday. The I. C. 4 A meet will be one of the best with the East at least having a look in for the first time in years. It is quite likely that Stanford's strong weight men and Southern California's sterling runners will return the Championship to the East, where it has been all too long.

Rutgers won the Middle Atlantic with Lehigh and Swarthmore taking the next two places. We regret that Manhattan will no longer compete in this conference, but they have outgrown the prescribed size. They are not a team for the big boys to conjure with but e'er many years have passed they will be.

Did you note the fate of Broaca the Yale pitcher, who thought himself too valuable to pitch more than one game a week? Yeah! Smoky Joe Wood, the Yale Coach fired him,—and—they haven't lost a game since he departed. That is one of the joys of coaching a team in a big school. No pampering of spoiled boys. Let 'em go.

One of the floats in the University of Buffalo Moving Up Day parade depicted a shot gun wedding with University of Buffalo personalizing the groom and the State Conference the bride. Rochester played the role of the farmer. Well you know the story. It won't enhance University of Buffalo in the eyes of Rochester, but there is more truth than poetry in the farcical representation.

Soft ball has met with greater approval in the Intramural League than many thought. Now if we were only on daylight time it could be a twilight league. But it would be pretty tough for those folks with seven o'clocks to have to go to class in the dark.

COLGATE WINS TRACK MEET TO SUBDUE SAXONS, 85-46

CLARK BREAKS POLE VAULT RECORD; WERNITZ BETTERS JAVELIN THROW

Colgate defeated Alfred University 85 to 46 in a dual track and field meet here Tuesday afternoon. Both schools matched about even in the track events, and it was not until the field results began to roll in that the Red Raiders forged ahead.

A cold, steady drizzle of rain fell throughout the entire afternoon, as a couple or three hundred spectators stood in the bleachers to watch record-breaking performances in the pole vault and javelin events, as well as a thrilling two mile run.

After eliminating Galbraith of Colgate at 11 feet 10 inches, Charles Clark of Alfred vaulted 12 feet to break his 11 foot 9 inch record of last year. Clark, who is from Bath, easily cleared the bar and at the level on the standard which was the highest. He carried the brunt of the Saxon scoring in the field, chalking up 12 points.

George Wernitz of Colgate was the other record-breaker performer. He is the man, who a week or so ago came within five inches of the Penn Relay record to win the javelin event with a throw of some 204 feet at that carnival. Against Alfred and despite the blinding rain that confronted him, Wernitz tossed the stick better than 198 feet.

Wernitz was a perfect picture of coordination as he poised himself and then slowly ran or trotted to throw the javelin. All of his trial throws were better than 190 feet, and on one occasion he tossed it better than 200 feet, but fouled in so doing. His record toss betters that set by Friedman of Geneva, at 194 feet two years ago, and the one of 157 feet set several years ago by an Alfred man.

Newell Wallace flashed the Saxon colors in the major part for Alfred in the track events. Wallace took first place in both the dashes of 100 and 220 yards, as well as a third in the broad jump for a total of 11 points. As anchor man on the relay team he did a marvelous piece of running, although the lead that Colgate had established when he took the baton was to large to overcome.

Merrill Phillips of Olean, running the 120 yard high hurdles for Colgate, took first place in that event. He had

WOMEN'S SPORTS

TENNIS

The Girls' Tennis tournament is progressing slowly due to the rainy weather which has made it impossible to play off the matches.

Laura Williams, manager of this sport, said last Friday, that, weather permitting, two rounds in the inter-class singles and open doubles would be played off before the week-end was over.

A consolation round will be scheduled as soon as the first round is over.

It is necessary that the participants cooperate with the manager in the matter of playing off their matches so that the tournament may be completed in the remaining three weeks.

rather an easy time of it and led his second teammate, who was battling it out with Mazzurella of Alfred, by several yards to the tape.

A soggy track made the times look bad. Considering this fact, however, those that were clocked in were good. This was true of the distance events with Wessels of Alfred showing superb form in the half mile and Cox of the visitors demonstrating outstanding ability in the mile and two mile runs.

The half mile event was a thriller. Wessels took the lead and held it easily for the first lap and a half. On the last lap, however, Thompson of Colgate made a vain effort to pass the Saxon runner and almost did on the last turn. Wessels, however, pulled a brilliant sprint. Corsaw of Alfred, had much the same obstacle to confront with for third place and made a similar showing to keep his Colgate opponent at his heels.

The two mile run was just as much a thriller as the half mile and perhaps a bit more spectacular though. It was won by Cox of the Red Raiders, who nosed out Java on the last of 10 laps. Java led all the way until the last trip around the cinder pathway, when Cox opened up a beautiful sprint to finish some 15 yards in the lead.

Although neither scored points, Cibella of Alfred, and Clay of Colgate, staged a brilliant neck and neck run the entire last lap. Both men must have thought they were battling for third place and a lone point for their team, because both gave their all to finish, especially Cibella of the Saxons who did finish inches ahead of Clay, and then collapsed into the arms of his waiting teammates.

The high jump went to a good height of five feet nine and three quarters inches, taking into consideration the soggy footing. Clark of Alfred and Risley of Colgate tied for first. Two Colgate men placed first and second in the 220 low hurdles.

Clark and Wallace of Alfred and three Colgate athletes, Wernitz, Cox and Klauer were the iron men of the meet. Wernitz with firsts in the javelin and shot put and a second in the discus was high scorer of the meet with 13 points. Clark of Alfred with 12 was second; Wallace of Alfred with 11, third. Cox had 10.
