

AU Professor to Read Original Work at Women's Studies Roundtable

3/09/00

Alfred, NY -- Susan Morehouse, associate professor of English at Alfred University, will read a short work of original fiction, "The Way We Live Now," during the Women's Studies Roundtable scheduled for 12:10 p.m. March 24 in the Knight Club in the Powell Campus Center. Her presentation is part of Alfred University's second annual "Writing for Your Life" conference that gets under way March 23. The Women's Studies Roundtables are a monthly series sponsored by the Women's Studies Department. They are open to the public free of charge.
