Ag-Tech Institute Gives
Added Life To Campus
With 59 New Students

Convocation Will Feature Addresses By Co-Director Parish, President Norwood

Seventy-nine Ag tech students invaded the Alfred University campus Monday, October 2, on the opening day of the fall term of the School of Agriculture (College of Liberal Arts) which these students were on campus last year, leaving fifty-nine who are living in Alfred for the first time.

This year's group of students will participate in all of the college general arts activities, campus programs and preparations that will take part in all of the college general arts activities, campus programs and preparations.

At the convocation the new students will be introduced to the Campus Daily News and the campus magazine and will be served and the University organized.

Various events are being taken by these new Ag tech students. Fifty-two are students; four are transfer students; forty-two special students; seventeen in laboratory science; and four in rural engineering. In addition, four of these are transfer students taking a senior level course, rural social welfare. Among the twenty-nine students are four who have taken summer school courses.

The new students are living in five dormitories in the Alfred Village.

The boys who are enrolled are residing in different places in town. Those who are enrolled are residing in a number of places. Among the four who are enrolled are residing in different places in town.

New Nurses On
Alfred Campus
Thirty-four new nurses are now on campus at Alfred, bringing its total to 195. Of these, 135 are enrolled at the Olean Hospital School of Nursing and 34 at the Alfred University School of Nursing.

The new students will spend about a year.

Etructor, accompanied the nurses to Reading Hospital, Reading, Pa. Then she plans to return to Alfred to complete her study of nursing.

Mrs. Louise Dreher, Nursing Arts instructor in the Mathematics department, is on leave during the fall year and will be teaching in the University's other departments.

Professor L. R. Polan, of the Mathematics department, is on leave during the spring year and will be teaching in the University's other departments.

Professor H. R. Boraas, professor of Physics, is on leave during the fall year and will be teaching in the University's other departments.

Dr. A. T. Goble, professor of Physics, is on leave during the spring year and will be teaching in the University's other departments.

Dr. Norwood reminded the students, the main limitation being the age of those who have taken summer school courses.

The golden gate to Alfred's huge storage of knowledge, fun, and friendship opened upon a short while ago to admit many students.

Many of you freshmen and transfer students already have come inside and adjusted yourselves to some degree. Yes, you already have acquired the friendly "Hello" which characterizes our campus. You have learned when the mail comes in and when it goes out. You have relayed the frequent announcements that come over the loud speakers in hard seats in Alumni Hall striving desperately to hit half-way com-

We need you. Yes, we need and want every single person to be freshmen, sophomores, juniors or seniors, to work on the脱贫致富.

There is but one essential requirement--interest. We can overlook many shortcomings in talent and ability if we know that you are interested enough in the脱贫致富 to make it a college paper you can be proud of.

Positions on the staff are open to everyone. Reporters are needed in all departments. But if you can't write, perhaps you can type. If you can type, you may be interested in circulation or proofreading.

Whatever your interest--feature, news, sports, circulation, typing, rewriting, make-up, headline writing, advertising, proofreading, securing subscriptions, and similar.

And remember that it doesn't matter which college or school you are training in on campus. We want all of you--Cornell Artists, Liberal Artists, Nurses, Ag School Students--to help us.

With this in mind we feel that the staff of the脱贫致富 should be at least 25 strong. The work in each department will be explained and you are free to ask any questions you may have. The meeting will be short and to the point.

The脱贫致富 will have a place in the student hall and appoint for a position on your college newspaper.

Church Choir Is Largest in Campus History

The University Choir, directed by Mrs. R. B. Sieloff, is larger this year than ever before in the twoyear period since this church was erected in the center of the campus. The chorus is now being trained by the director, who has set to work to improve the choir, and to develop it into a first class choir. The choir is now composed of about 50 voices, and is expected to grow to 75 voices before the end of the year. The director has been very successful in recruiting new members, and the choir is now in a very good condition, ready to give its first performance in the near future.

The choir consists of about 20 men, 10 women, and 20 girls. The men are divided into two sections, the treble and bass, and the women are divided into four sections, the soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. The choir is divided into two classes, the first and second, and the director is in charge of both.

The choir has been given a number of good things to do, and it has been working hard to improve its singing. The director has been very successful in recruiting new members, and the choir is now in a very good condition, ready to give its first performance in the near future.

Girls Reoccupy Brick, Invade Bartlett Dorm

The changes in the dormitories this year are characteristic of the new spirit of the University. The Brick, which housed AWP-T last year, is now filled with girls and boys. The dormitory is being used as a residence hall for the Freshman class, and the boys have moved into the new dormitory, Bartlett Dorm. The girls have taken over the old dormitory, and the boys have moved into the new one.

In addition to the changes in the dormitories, there have been other changes in the campus. The University has been given a new telephone system, and the old system has been replaced by a new one. The new system is more efficient and more reliable than the old one.

Changes In Rules Discussed By Council

Thursday, September 27, the council of the Student Government met to discuss the new rules for the year. The council decided that the rules should be more strict, and that the students should be held more accountable for their behavior. The council also decided that the rules should be published in the student newspaper.

The council also discussed the possibility of adding new classes to the curriculum. The council decided that the classes should be added in order to give the students more opportunities to learn.

Staff Meeting Open To Frosh

Kalip Gopik, editor-in-chief of the Fiat Lux, announced to- day that a meeting of the paper’s staff would be held tonight. The meeting will be held in Room 14, Physics Hall, and will be open to all freshmen who are in- terested in joining the staff. Various topics will be discussed, including the logistics of producing the paper, and the expectations of the editor-in-chief. The meeting will be held in the Isis room, which is located on the second floor of the Physics Hall.
