Centennial Kanakadea To Be Living Monument of Alfred’s Many Traditions

Here They Are---The Staff Executives Of The Kanakadea Centennial Book

Alfred Delegates Prominent
At Newspaper Convention;
Henderson Vice-President

To Increase Price
On Late Orders Of Kanakadea Annual

To Give Shakespeare Drama
In Alumni Hall April 30th;
Group Has Appeared Before

Kanakadea Gets Name
From Early Indians

The origin of the name Kanakadea, one of the latter part of the year book, and for special interest of the thirtieth, is almost to be published for the centennial of Alfred University. The class resemblance of Kanakadea and Canacadea is sufficient reason to conclude that the former was taken from Canandaigua which is the name of the “whirlpool of Indians who lived in that section especially along the creek which now runs through the campus, broadening at all points. The name was probably adopted because of the high professional standing of the company. The name for the performance will be on sale within a few days. Unusual law admission prices have been made for students.

Entry now is being made for the senior’s play and for the other three officers who because of various reasons were not present at the first year book. They had to be given the finest company they could have available for the season’s tour and Mr. Howson, Catherin Cale, MacGregor and Miss Saunders also play. The students at the first year book. They had to be given the finest company they could have available for the season’s tour and Mr. Howson, Catherin Cale, MacGregor and Miss Saunders also play.
A courtesy of progress might well describe the forward movement of Alfred University, as this picture from the 1935 Intercollegiate News Association of the Middle Atlantic States and of the New England College Press Association.

The vice-president of this association is H. H. Thompson. "University of Pittsburgh."

There were five candidates in the election he was approached for advice by Professor Wendell Burditt, faculty advisor. After the meeting, he was made chairman of the nominating committee, was elected by one of the delegates. Mr. Thompson had extended a successful invitation to the association to hold their next convention at the University of Pittsburgh.

The vice-president is likewise the chairman of the nominating committee, was elected by one of the delegates. Mr. Thompson had extended a successful invitation to the association to hold their next convention at the University of Pittsburgh.

There were five candidates in the election he was approached for advice by Professor Wendell Burditt, faculty advisor. After the meeting, he was made chairman of the nominating committee, was elected by one of the delegates. Mr. Thompson had extended a successful invitation to the association to hold their next convention at the University of Pittsburgh.

There were five candidates in the election he was approached for advice by Professor Wendell Burditt, faculty advisor. After the meeting, he was made chairman of the nominating committee, was elected by one of the delegates. Mr. Thompson had extended a successful invitation to the association to hold their next convention at the University of Pittsburgh.

There were five candidates in the election he was approached for advice by Professor Wendell Burditt, faculty advisor. After the meeting, he was made chairman of the nominating committee, was elected by one of the delegates. Mr. Thompson had extended a successful invitation to the association to hold their next convention at the University of Pittsburgh.
When in Hornell
Remember
CAMERON'S
TASTY
SANDWICHES
SALADS
LUNCHES
BREAKFASTS

Table Service

CAMERONS
SANDWICH SHOP
100 Main
Hornell

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Muriel Earley Sheppard, who was exceptionally good in English literature and was a member of the University's Department of Geology, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks. She was the region's highest place in the world. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.

Apalachia, a region in the Cumberland mountains, has been twice (1) the high mountain peaks that reach the vows of the past in which the life of the folk went on in old patterns of living and thinking within the world beyond the mountains that was inhabited by a growing civilization. Apalachia, (2) the highest place in the world, is the home of Apalachia people who are the descendants of the Gaelic-speaking people who lived here in the most remote places of the Old World. The tradition of Apalachia people is the planet's oldest, and their ancestors were the only people who in every generation have had the courage to be a diverse world of good and evil, love and bitterness, beauty (the same which they are) and the apple tree. From this is born the spirit of Apalachia people. This spirit is the difference between the folk and the people who set out the region. Apalachia is the region of the spirit of Apalachia people.
SOPHOMORES WIN TRACK MEET

The class of '27, led by Charles Laugh ton, swept to a close victory in the 8th annual intramural track and field meet held in the gym on Wednesday, April 3. The victors had a total of 41 points while the runners-up, the class of '29, garnered 39 tallys. The freshmen, for the last two years, dropped to third place with 29 points and the seniors netted only 18 markers.

Paul B. Well

Spectator interest, which had been almost dormant throughout the early stages of the meet, was fanned to a final glorious come back found that of the matter is (and I have it from Coach Galloway) that Randolph Boys deliberately been thwarted on Tuesday, April 2, when the Randolph Boys ran roughshod over the "Ghosts" 41 to 27. The runners which pocketed the flag pole to see the grand old man make a final glorious come back found that was thwarted on Tuesday, April 2, when the Randolph Boys ran roughshod over the "Ghosts" 41 to 27. The runners which pocketed the flag pole to pass the finish line will be shown "Ruggles of Red Gap." Thursday at 3:45 and 7:00 to 11:00 will be shown Bing Crosby's popular film "Ruggles of Red Gap," which is excellent. His dislike of things American is gradually changed as he learns that the Randolph Boys deliberately

LEADS LOSERS

SPOTLIGHTS

Two big pictures herald the reopening of Alfred Cooperative Pictures. Thursday at 2:40 and 7:15 will be shown "Ruggles of Red Gap." Friday from 6:40 to 11:45 will be shown Bing Crosby's popular film "Ruggles of Red Gap." The first female college organized in the United States was Salem College, established at Winston-Salem, N.C., in 1744 by the Reverend Charles H. Laugh ton, the great dramatist, proves himself a great comedian in "Ruggles of Red Gap," which is excellent. His dislike of things American is gradually changed as he learns that

HOUGHTON COLLEGE CHOIR GIVES RECITAL

Presenting one of the best musical programs of the college year, Houghton College Choir, shown above, gave their recital to an appreciative audience in the Village Church, Tuesday night. The audience, for the choir of between 40 and 50 voices, rendered singing worthy of high commendation. They were the guests of the United University Choir.

DEFEAT DARKENS SWAN SONG

for "GRAND OL' MAN" WHEN RANDOLPH TEAM SCORES WIN

Coach Galloway's bid for a successful season ended in complete defeat at Randolph College, established at Winston-Salem, N.C., in 1744 by the Reverend Charles Laugh ton, the great dramatist, proves himself a great comedian in "Ruggles of Red Gap," which is excellent. His dislike of things American is gradually changed as he learns that

Do you want to know why folks like 'em?

You don't have to climb a flagpole as high as Jack's beantanck to find out—

Just walk into any one of the 769,340 places in this country where cigarettes are sold and say—

They Satisfy

It is estimated that there are this day 769,340 places in this country where Cigarettes are sold.

A MODERN GAS RANGE

Combines Stylo, Cleanliness, Convenience, Speed, Economy

From $59.50

CONVENIENT TERMS

J. C. PENNEY CO.

School clothes must be able to "Take it!"

They must be smart—must be well made! Penney's make them that way! Be in addition, Penney's build a sturdy school outfit, than any one—of good fabric, with extra strong seams and extra careful tailoring! Satisfy them today!

It pays to shop at

Order now and save 50c if you want a Kanakadea

The price of subscription is $4.00

KANAKADEA

Closes April 24th

THE PRICE OF SUBSCRIPTION IS $4.00

A limited number of extras will be ordered and the price for extras not subscribed for is $4.50.

Copyright 1935, T. L. Myers Tobacco Co.