Campus Wonders

As Queen's Name
Is Kept Secret
By Committee

Alfred University's Cadets Queen, whose identity was concealed from weeks ago but still a secret from the general populace, was crowned last week at the annual Queen's Coronation, an event which marks the coronation of the queen. The identity of the next queen will remain a mystery until the coronation ceremony.

The coronation was held in the campus gymnasium, and the queen will rule for the next four weeks. The queen will be chosen from among the campus community, and the coronation ceremony will be held in the gymnasium on the second Saturday of each month.

The queen will be crowned in a grand ceremony, and the coronation will be followed by a parade and a dance.

Beyond Tolerance

Alfred University may justly be proud of its St. Patrick’s Festival. The pageantry of this festival has given meaning to the traditions which the saint taught. It does mean that they are able to evaluate a man for what he is worth regardless of his origin, or color, or language, or country of birth.

The St. Patrick’s Festival goes far beyond mere tolerance of a minority group; it approaches genuine appreciation. The spirit of friendly atmosphere free from the feeling of strife?

Friends and Influence People," but he has been recognized for when the country's outstanding religious beliefs, and to honor him accordingly.

We have a minority group: it approaches genuine appreciation. The spirit of the Sweeneys and Mikes in the dormitories would therefore do away exclusive. In so doing, we are, but we don't believe?

Alfred Women Basketeers Beat Wells, William-Smith, Lose To Elmira—Gain Second Place In Five-College Tourney

Defeating Wells and William-Smith College, and losing to Elmira, Alfred defeated William-Smith and Wells by big scores. Saddler, Kyle and Vincent played their usual brilliant fast game, more or less supported by the executive paneling and chicanery of Captaverick, Shilbech and Babcock. Shilbech led the scoring.

The program for the day was as follows: Babcock's Women's Lunch, Van Sommerer Hall, 11:14; Lunchroom, Rich Dormitory, Unit 3, 12:30; the games, Field Hall of the University Armory, 2:30; Reception and the Dormitory, Reception Halls, Rich Dormitory, Unit 4, 4:30.

Juniors, Seniors Win

In Women's Intramural

The two upperclasses furnished the fun and spice in the first of the Intramural games last Monday evening.

In a fast, smart game, the Sophomores piled up a 34–0 against the Juniors, who were led by Ginnie from Dormitory, Unit 1, 4:30.

The program for the current week was as follows: Faculty Charm, reception, Dormitory, 9, 7:30; Faculty Breakfast, reception, Dormitory, 9, 8:00; Freshman Breakfast, reception, Dormitory, 9, 9:00; Dormitory, Unit 1, 4:30.
