

Carillon May Be Enlarged To 49 Bells; Shipped Soon

Possibility that the Davis Memorial Carillon may eventually have 49 rather than 35 bells was expressed this week in a letter to Dr. Lloyd R. Watson of the carillon committee from Omer Michaux of the Belgian firm which is selling the bells.

Michaux wrote to inquire what chance there was that the carillon might be enlarged, so that he could plan to furnish a clavier or keyboard to accommodate more bells if necessary.

Collecting of the Alfred bells from all parts of Belgium is now under way, Michaux wrote. He says more Hemony bells, regarded as the most valuable in the world, will be included than was originally thought possible.

The bells are being tuned by Jef Denyn of Mechlin, Belgium, said to be the world's leading carillonneur, and are to be shipped within a few weeks.

Jef Denyn also is preparing a tabulation of the bells and a history of each. This information will be sent to Doctor Watson as soon as it is completed.

Patients Record Opinions Of Infirmary Seige

Just as prisoners while away the long years by scratching on the walls of their dungeons, so patients in Clawson Infirmary keep amused by recording their impressions when the nurses aren't looking.

100 From Alfred At Convention

More than 100 students and faculty members of the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University are attending the 39th Annual meeting of the American Ceramic Society at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City this week.

Lectures, plant trips, and social activities will occupy those attending the meeting. Almost the entire senior ceramic engineering group of Alfred University is in attendance.

Twelve papers on phases of glass, brick and clay work were scheduled for presentation by Alfred University faculty members.

Want A Free Trip To New York? Some Student Writer To Get One

College boys are out to wrest first prize from the girls in the third annual essay contest of the Panhellenic House Association, according to present indications.

For the past two years the prize of a trip to New York and a two weeks stay at the association headquarters, Beekman Tower Hotel, 3 Mitchell Place, has been won by girls.

The fact that the number of college men who have entered the current contest is much greater than the number of women, indicates that the men are making a real effort to win this year's first prize.

"Does New York Represent the American Scene?" is the question the committee asks as the title of the third annual contest. Other aspects of this title which may be used, are, "Is New York a Vital Part of My

Reigns At Ball

Miss Ruth Wilson

Students Vote Ruth Wilson Campus Queen

"With this crown I proclaim thee, Ruth the First, to be queen," were the solemn words of St. Patrick as he welcomed Ruth Wilson at the Coronation Ceremony Friday evening in the Gymnasium.

After the fifth dance, the gym, decorated in blue, green, and silver, was roped off forming an aisle from the stairs to the throne in front of the orchestra.

While the Hudson-DeLange orchestra played "The Wearin' of the Green," Jack Merriam, as St. Patrick, followed by two guards, came down the stairs and approached the throne. Then ten maids of honor, Margaret Reilley, Elizabeth Champlin, Margaret Cudworth, Barbara Suter, Aileen Broich, Lois Burdett, Alice Matson, Marion Jacox, Anita Herrick, and Ruth Gosch, walked singly towards the throne forming a pathway for the queen.

Isabelle Ellis, as flower girl, and William McMahon, as the crown bearer, preceded the queen.

Then, amid applause and expression of approval, the queen slowly proceeded the length of the dance floor to the throne where St. Patrick awaited her. The attendants followed the queen and formed a semicircle around the throne.

Kneeling before the venerable saint, Ruth Wilson received the crown and became officially Alfred's fifth Ceramic Festival Campus Queen of Popularity and Beauty.

The identity of the queen, who had been elected three weeks ago by a student vote, remained a complete secret until her appearance at the Coronation.

The Queen, dressed in blue and silver taffeta, and the ceremonial green and silver robe, carried roses. Her attendants wore pastel picture dresses and carried sprays of spring flowers. The little colleen wore a white princess dress, and the lad from Erin wore a green Eton suit.

Students in Easter Cantata

The First Alfred Choir will present the Easter cantata, "From Cross To Crown," by Alfred Judson, at the regular church service next Sabbath day.

The choir will be assisted by the following soloists: Ahvagne Bond, Nellie Bond, Jane Crandall, Dorothy Saunders, Virginia B. Spicer, H. E. Pieters, D. B. Rogers, Leona P. Jones is accompanist, and Prof. Ray W. Wingate, director.

Fiat Lux Gets Modern Headline Type, Changes From Cheltenham to Bodoni

With this issue The Fiat Lux starts using a more modern type than heretofore for front-page headlines. The new type is known as Bodoni, the old was Cheltenham.

It has been the driving ambition of the last three editors to get some new type to replace the chipped and shop-worn Cheltenham, but until last week the printers couldn't see their way clear to buy type and still keep out of the sheriff's clutches.

Then one day, entirely unsolicited, came the announcement that The Fiat Lux might have some of whatever type it chose. So the editors held a conference and decided on Bodoni.

The new type, which is named after the Italian printer who invented it, is used on several good papers other than The Fiat Lux, among them the Pitt News in the collegiate division and The New York Herald Tribune in the open class.

Comparison of the old and new types in the headline above will show that the Bodoni presents a cleaner, "newer" appearance than the Cheltenham.

But lest the old Cheltenham go to waste, it has been put into the custody of the sports editor who will no longer have to use those spindly machine-set headlines.

New Catalogue To Be Issued In Art Course

A catalogue for the art division of the College of Ceramics will be issued in May. The text, written by Professor Charles Harder, includes curricular as well as entrance requirements, which are gradually being raised in an effort to improve the standard of students.

One of the outstanding features of the catalogue is the illustrations showing students' work in different phases of the department. Many exceptional pieces of work are being pictured.

Such a catalogue is expected to interest art students and publicize the fact that Alfred has an outstanding school in specialized art.

The layout, under the supervision of Professor Donald Schreckengost, will be in two colors, and printed by the Savage Printing Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

Newsmen To Attend I. N. A. Convention

Several members of the editorial and business staffs of the Fiat Lux will attend the Spring Convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association at Drexel College, Philadelphia, on April 9 and 10.

A two-day program of round table discussions, business meetings, and lectures on phases of college newspaper work will be on the slate for approximately 100 conventioners.

Approximately 30 colleges from the Middle Atlantic States are members of the association.

Delta Sig Guests

Among the guests at Delta Sig during the Ceramic Festival were Leman W. Potter, Al Muffit, Clifton Harris, Ed Lerz and Ralph Tesnow.

Weavers Have Son

A son, David W., was born to Prof. and Mrs. David W. Weaver at Bethesda Hospital, Hornell, Tuesday morning.

Three Nations Send Students To Alfred

Listed in the registrar's office are students from 13 states of the union, as well as three from Canada and two from South America.

Ranging from Maine on the north to West Virginia on the south and Arkansas and New Mexico in the southwest, this student list shows New York State with a majority of 576 students.

Other rank as follows:
New Jersey, 19; Pennsylvania, 15; Ohio, 4; Massachusetts, 4; Rhode Island and District of Columbia, 2; West Virginia, 2; Arkansas, Connecticut, Illinois, Maine and New Mexico, one each.

Hurt In Festival Parade, Recovers To Attend Queen

An unexpected tumble from a Festival parade float almost robbed last Friday's coronation of one of the attendants to Queen Ruth the First, but plenty of pluck and a day's rest in Clawson Infirmary permitted Lois Burdett to take her place in the procession.

While the floats were parked on Main Street for the judges' surveillance, Miss Burdett slipped from a shaky platform on the Theta Chi float, and injured her back.

She was taken to the infirmary. After a complete rest she was able to take her place in the procession of the coronation.

Stamp Exhibit In Library

The Carnegie Library this week will feature a Stamp Exhibit, which will be the product of a few philatelic students and a professor of Alfred University.

The exhibit will deal with the United States issues that were used to commemorate the National Parks. These stamps and all the other United States stamps are being exhibited by Robert Rix.

Dr. Murray J. Rice of the Chemistry Department is a noted collector of South American airmails as well as foreign stamps in general.

President Visits Albany, New York

President J. Nelson Norwood of Alfred University left Sunday for Albany and New York.

While in New York he is attending the American Ceramic Society Convention at the Waldorf-Astoria and was scheduled to speak at an Alumni dinner and meeting of the Ceramic Alumni Association of Alfred University Monday evening, March 22.

Dr. Norwood gave a special Lenten meditation address at the Palm Sunday morning meeting of the Burdick class of Park Methodist Church in Hornell.

His subject was "Easter Teaching Us of the Unseen".

NOTICE

Lillian Texiere, The Brick, reports someone took her coat at the St. Pat's Ball and left one much like it, but she prefers her own. Both coats were of black velvet with white collars. She believes it may have been taken accidentally by a visitor.

Craig, Undersea Photographer, Here April 30

Capt. John D. Craig, world-famous photographer and leader of the proposed salvaging of the sunken Lusitania, will speak before the Alfred University Forum at Alumni Hall Tuesday evening, April 30, at 8:15 p. m.

He will be speaking only a few days before the expedition leaves for the Irish coast to begin its work.

Capt. Craig will relate his experiences in filming "Eskimo" and "Trader Horn," and will tell something of the projected Lusitania venture.

Chairman LeRoy Hodge said today the Forum committee is making plans for next year's schedule of speakers and hopes to announce the 1937-38 committee in a few weeks.

Invites Sophs To Pay Dues

"Calling all Sophomores to pay dues," is the cry of the class officers as Saturday evening, April 3, and the Soph Skip draw near.

John Norwood, treasurer, states emphatically that there will not be a dance unless dues are paid at least a week before the party.

According to the plans formed in a recent class meeting, only Sophomores who have paid their dues will be allowed to attend the dance. The dance will be a class party. There will be no guests outside the Sophomore class except members of the faculty.

During intermission Ray Buckley will stage a show to be followed by a buffet supper.

Dues may be paid to the following people: Thelma House, Theta Chi; Kathryn Borman, Sigma Chi; Norma Witschleben, Brick; David Thomas, Theta Nu; James Tate, Kappa Psi; Daniel Spangler, Delta Sig; Bernhard Gentsch, Klan; Leonard Lerman, Kappa Nu; Stuart Pollock, Burdick; John Norwood, Outsiders.

Movies of Ancients

Moving pictures and slides of Greek and Roman Civilization were shown by Dr. G. Stewart Nease at the March meeting last Tuesday evening of the Sodality Latina at Pi Alpha.

The next meeting will be held in the Brick.

150 Couples Witness Coronation As Fifth St. Pat Festival Ends

Coronation of Ruth Wilson as the Alfred University Campus Queen Friday evening at the Formal Ball in the gymnasium brought to a successful close the Fifth Annual St. Patrick's Festival, which held sway over the Saxon campus Thursday and Friday, March 18 and 19.

About 150 couples attended the ball, where music was furnished by the Hudson-DeLange Orchestra.

Opening Thursday morning with a parade in which one of the two Brick Floats was awarded the loving cup, the festival continued as Jack Merriam, the 1937 St. Patrick, knighted into the Royal Order of St. Patrick two score senior ceramic engineers.

Among the industrial men to be knighted were H. B. DuBois, E. Liverpool, Ohio; Dr. L. I. Shaw, Western Electric Company, Chicago; E.

Symbolic Piece Of Sculpture Likely To Be On Campus

Construction of a piece of symbolic sculpture on the Alfred University campus was a strong possibility today following a one-man campaign in its behalf of Sanford Arkin '39.

Arkin in a letter to The Fiat Lux two weeks ago suggested that artists in the College of Ceramics might be willing to work on such a sculpture group.

Then he interviewed all the influential people he could find, enlisting their support for the project. President J. Nelson Norwood was particularly enthusiastic.

Prof. Donald Schreckengost, an experienced sculptor, consented to take charge of the work and is drawing tentative sketches now, although work probably will not begin until Summer.

Chief problem facing Arkin and those who have promised cooperation is where to get the money. They are trying to raise it among student organizations, several of which have already promised contributions.

Ag School Holds Commencement Next Week

Twelve students will be graduated from the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University, April 13, it was announced today by Paul Orvis, director of the school.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the University church Sunday, April 11. Graduation exercises will be Tuesday afternoon, April 13, followed by an Alumni banquet in Bartlett Dormitory that evening.

Dr. O. S. Morgan, director of the Alfred Ag School from 1909 to 1912, and now of the Department of Economics of Columbia University, will be the principal commencement speaker.

The students are graduating from two and three-year courses.

The seniors will hold their farewell banquet April 3. George Watrous of Elmira is class president. Theta Gamma fraternity will have a banquet April 9.

Human Relations Conference Here

An Alfred University Human Relations Conference, featured by a discussion of the problem of Peace and War, will be held here for school men, ministers, and newspapermen on April 30, it was announced today by University officials.

Detailed plans for the conference, which will include prominent men from this area, will be forthcoming in a few weeks. Meanwhile, preparations are moving forward and Dr. J. Nelson Norwood, who is arranging the conference, expects a good turnout.

Glee Club Male Quartet

Prof. Ray W. Wingate will take the Glee Club Male Quartet to Woodhuil tonight to present a concert under the auspices of the Parent Teachers Association.

V. Eskesen, Federal Seaboard Terra Cotta Company, New York City.

Mr. Eskesen was knighted by the King of Denmark several years ago.

With quips and jokes at the expense of the seniors and the ceramic faculty, Merriam opened the way for the two-day campus frolic.

Thursday afternoon at the Ceramic Lounge a tea dance was held, with Pres White and his orchestra furnishing the music. Refreshments were served.

Before hundreds of interested students, out-of-town visitors and nearby high school students, the ceramic, engineering, glass, art and industrial research departments staged their open house Thursday evening. Most popular feature of the open house was the glass blowing exhibition by two men from Corning Glass Works. A movie,

The Show Didn't Go On

Failure of Theta Alpha Phi to produce a dramatic performance of some sort for the Fifth Annual St. Patrick's Festival seemed to revert today on no one person, but the absence of such a dramatic effort in the festival must necessarily lead to some action on the part of officials before future festivals.

According to an unwritten agreement, a long play, probably "Winterset," was to be produced for the festival by Theta Alpha Phi and the Dramatics department. A short while before the festival, the powers that be decided "Winterset" was not ready for production, and asked several students to prepare a dramatic program.

Lack of time and, probably, of effort led to the failure of this plan. As a last resort, Theta Alpha Phi tried to arrange an amateur show, but this plan fell through.

Should the dramatic end of the Festival be revived or should it be replaced by some other feature? After all, the Dramatics department is an integral part of the University, and why must its work coincide with that of the Festival Board? The subject should be thrashed out by students and faculty.

On Coronations

We do not have Miss Wilson's coronation in mind at the moment, although we might well have, since it was a most colorful and memorable affair. We are thinking of something larger, in point of size: the coronation of George VI as King of England.

The avid interest with which Americans regard the coronation, seems to us to be significant, because it is a friendly interest. This country apparently has forgotten the bitterness with which it broke away from England a mere century and a half ago. Forgotten, too, or on the way to becoming so, is our aversion to most things British, from actors to kings, from Noel Coward to George VI, not forgetting the former Edward VIII.

We are coming to appreciate some of the more admirable aspects of our "mother country," to find in England some of the traits which our country is seeking. If the coronation, which appeals so strongly to our underfed reverence for tradition, strengthens the bond between the United States and England, it will have accomplished much more than providing a good show for the English people.

Publications Office

In keeping with our policy of encouraging youthful enthusiasms, we are glad that "The Saxonian" finally has a place to hang its hat, so to speak—a share in the newly-created Publications Office on the ground floor of Burdick Hall.

"The Saxonian" has moved in with a vengeance, appropriating the Fiat Lux typewriter, to be sure, but in general conducting itself with the decorum that befits a young magazine...except for one thing.

"The Saxonian" has a bad habit of referring to the new office as The Saxonian office, which it is not. It is the Publications Office. We wouldn't object much, only we fear if the misconception isn't checked at this stage, the hyper-active infant magazine may wonder someday what we're doing in "its" office and dump us out on the sidewalk.

On SS Pat And Nicholas

A word of explanation is due the reading public for the picture of "St. Patrick," which appeared on the front page of The Fiat Lux last week.

It seems a few skeptics have a notion that the picture was not of "St. Pat" at all, but of one St. Nicholas—sometimes known as Santa Claus.

Well, a saint is a saint as we see it; and when the festival board got mad at us and wouldn't give us a picture of their saint, we did the best we could.

As somebody recently asked Walter Winchell: Is the Spanish War still going on, and who's ahead?

Girls At Brick Reveal Variety Of Hobbies

More than one type of hobby seems to have made appearance at The Brick.

Photography interests Adrienne Owre. She likes to take pictures of odd things such as grapefruit centers and icy rainpipes.

When Minnie Howd was asked for her pet hobby she remarked "Say photography. Just got a new camera." Ginnie Engbers came forth with the comment, "Eating and sleeping. Just eating and sleeping."

Millie Wesp has a really complete scrapbook of Alfred's doings since last September.

Nona Haseloff and Janet Otis like to sketch. Nona's newest idea is to stand in front of her mirror and sketch herself.

Horses interest both Adel Miller and Ginnie Plummer. Adel has some 38 pictures on her walls taken from McCall's Esquire, etc. She also owns miniature horses of iron and bronze. Ginnie Plummer wishes to be quoted as merely collecting "horsy" things, such as pictures, horseshoes and horses on a small scale.

Four hundred forty-one is the present total of dogs belonging to Betty Snyder and Betsy Galusha. The pooches are of all sizes, shapes, and descriptions; are referred to by number, and may have to be introduced by a card catalogue if business becomes too heavy.

Janet Rogers says "anything to do with a sailboat. Pictures, sailing, stories, movies—anything."

Blanche Field is fond of dancing, particularly "trucking". While Madeleine Short and Sallie Cooper "just like to dance".

The acquiring of letters and dance program keeps Betsy Ryder fairly well occupied—sometimes.

Aggie Benjamin likes to design clothes. She works out her artistic ideas on paper dolls.

Dot Brown and Dot Elve would consider rattlesnakes' tail extrimities as interesting, too.

And still, no one reports studying as a hobby.

Services for Holy Week

Chapel Services for the week will deal with the various phases of Christ's last days on earth.

Tuesday Evening: "The Passion Play" will be presented in Alumni Hall by the Marionettes.

Wednesday Evening: The concluding service of the Lenten Series at the Gothic, at seven o'clock. The fourth of the series on "Giving Life a Nobler Accent" will be given. The subject of the meditation will be: "Enlist As God's Co-worker."

Friday Afternoon: A One-Hour Good Friday Services at the Church, from 1:45 to 2:45. The meditations will be on "The Seven Last Words." The University Church Choir will sing. (Those who attend may be excused from class for this period.)

Sunday Morning: Mass at Ten at the Gothic. The University Church Service at eleven at the Village Church. Sermon: "The Life Beyond." Special music by the Union University Church Choir. "The Festival Te Deum".

Marionettes Today

Rufus Rose and his Marionettes will give scenes from "Treasure Island," "Snow White," and the "Passion Play," this afternoon and evening in Alumni Hall. The Wee Playhouse is sponsoring these programs. The afternoon show will be of special interest to children. "The Passion Play," to be presented in the evening, is in keeping with the spirit of the Easter Season.

Dear Editor:
Unfortunately, I missed the coronation. I didn't have the money to go to the ball. I would not write about my difficulty except that it was shared by several friends who, like me, are working to pay their expenses.

We were sorry not to be able to attend the ball, because we like such affairs; but our particular regret was at missing the coronation.

That event, it seems to us, ought to be shared with all the students who voted for the queen, not just those who can afford four dollars for the ball.

Next year, wouldn't it be better to have the coronation early in the festival, for the benefit of us proletarians, and so that the queen might rule over more than the tail-end of the festival?

Ramblings

Visitors at the Ceramic College Open House who eyed the gilded, ceraphic pigs in the lounge—the ones on the wall—and the passionate looking snakes, little guessed that the place was a shambles the night before.

We enter the building on said evening. Two maniacs fall on our neck, moaning "Have you seen the paper cutters?" No. We haven't. Neither, subsequently, have we seen ten other people, a box of tacks or a misplaced ball mill.

Moans coming from under a pile of green cheesecloth turn out to be Ray Pape worrying about how many banners to put on Main Street.

Upstairs in the lounge Cam Paulin cuts out more pigs, while Betsy Ryder kneels on the floor gently swabbing silver paint on a swinish stomach.

Sylvia Gailar and Fran Ruggles fight over whether or not the marsh-mallow she offered him had been stepped on.

Freshman Holmes

Most of the green-topped objects scurrying about under foot on St. Patrick's day turned out to be senior engineers reverting to fresh-hood days. A shining exception was the six feet or so of dignity that chews a cigar and strikes awe into the hearts of freshmen. In spite of the badge of light-headedness, Dean Holmes was still—Dean Holmes.

Sleigh Ride

Anyone craving a free sleigh ride get in touch with Sam Foss and Harlem Harshey. It seems the two gentlemen lured an innocent rustic away from his horses and into the Collegiate. The mean things then went for a ride in the moonlight. Oh, yes, The horses came back safe.

Wee Small Hours

Seven-thirty p. m., at Pi Alpha. Innumerable curlers, hairpins, cold cream and nets repose lightly on innumerable pillows. The telephone bellows. Silence. Another blast. A martyrdom from in the shape of Winnie Eisert crawls out. "H'lo." "Is Ruth Gosch there?" "He doesn't live here any more." "Ruth Gosch!" "Oh." Silence. "Oh. Do you want to speak to Ruth Gosch? Well, I'll tell you, she's asleep." The telephone has apoplexy. "Can you wake her up?" After due haggling Ruth is inveigled to the phone. "H'lo." "H'lo, Ruth," says Bob Harding. "Just wanted to remind you not to miss your eight o'clock."

Personally Conducted

Oh. We almost forgot. A prominent NYAist was showing a gushing female through the Ceramic building. "And these," he said pointing to some heavy cut-glass with "Fostoria" marked on the bottom, "were blown at the last Open House." "Divine," breathed the No. 8 triple D. "Could I buy some?" "Money," said the gentleman, "Could not buy that glass."

She dithered over to another showcase. "Ah," said her escort, "These are priceless. We have had offers for them from all over the world." "Couldn't I just touch one of them?" "My dear Madame. These ash trays are taken out only once a year." Her eyes bugged in astonishment. "You have the cutest school!"

When Washington University student first saw a crew of men unload one thousand full whisky cases into the basement of Brown Hall, they wondered who was going to drink it all. Upon investigating they found that the boxes contained 80,000 books belonging to the Academy of Science of St. Louis.

Personalities In The News

Lois Burdett has recovered from injuries sustained in a fall from a festival float.

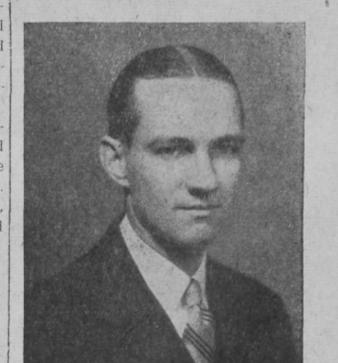

Dean M. E. Holmes turned freshman for a day last week. The green cap was for St. Pat's Day.

Mary K. Rogers expects to give "Winterset" late this month or early next.

Major E. Lampman, "St. Pat" himself last year, was knighted Thursday by Jack Merriam.

Chaplain James C. McLeod announces special religious activities for Holy Week.

"We are what we are, not because of what we've been able to squeeze out of the world, but because of what we've been able to give back to the world." The University of Southern California's Dean of public administration William B. Hendey tells us what's what about ourselves.

Students Tell Marks On Physics Papers According To Smell

When physics test marks skid below par, instructor John Madigan, at the College of St. Thomas, makes his students pay through the nose.

Displeased with poor grades on a recent quiz, Mr. Madigan, aided by chemist colleagues, conveyed sensually his general opinion that most of the answers were putrid by scenting the papers—good and bad.

Those of the A and B class were sprayed with "Paris Night" and "Eau de Cologne"—perfumes that reminded the boys of letters from "heartbeats" back home.

C and D papers wrinkled noses with the medium-strength odor of rotten eggs—hydrogen sulphide.

But the seven of the E and F class rocked stomachs with the staggering smell of rancid butter—butyric acid.

Spotlight

"AS YOU LIKE IT" March 25. Starring: Elisabeth Bergner, Laurence Olivier, Henry Ainley, Sophia Stewart, Leon Quartermaine.

Shakespeare's As You Like It has been faithfully transferred to the screen. W. A. Neilson in his book, Facts About Shakespeare, says, "His power in high comedy reaches its supreme pitch. This is a tale of romantic love, laid in some remote holiday world, acted out by a group of delightful creatures who are endowed with intellect, wit and natural affection, bathed in poetic imagination and yet handled with enough naturalism to awaken and hold our human sympathies." The picture is highly recommended to those who demand the best in entertainment and have a lively sense of appreciation.

A Silly Symphony, The Three Mouseketeers, and a comedy musical set among the mountains completes the bill.

THE MOON'S OUR HOME and KING OF HOCKEY, March 27.

Starring: Margaret Sullivan and Henry Fonda; Dick Purcell, and Anne Nagele.

With temperament in the leading role, this picture, The Moon's Our Home, promises some hearty laughs, with the contest about even between a society-girl movie star and an explorer-author. These two meet and decide to leave their 'dear public' and seek rest and peace in an out-of-the-way winter resort. The story develops as their ideas clash.

King of Hockey, the tale of a college star who goes professional and gets into trouble, furnishes some fine shots of this exciting and risky game. Milk and Money, a Porky cartoon, will give the audience some good laughs, especially the characterizations of the villain.

Campus Queen

"College Holiday," was shown at Alumni Hall.

In place of an amateur show which had been planned for presentation by Theta Alpha Phi and Footlight Club, a concert by the 70-piece Hornell High School championship band and a movie, "Sing, Baby, Sing," occupied the festivalites' attention Friday afternoon.

Chairman Ed Kunzman of the Festival Board was "well pleased with the success" of the Fifth Annual Festival.

SIDE LINES

By Ray Zurer

Spring is here, but alas, not baseball. The snow may clear, the birds may twitter, the grass may grow green, and the campus may be crowned with all its beauty, but to an old Dodger fan, all this is petty and inconsequential. The true harbingers of Spring are the crack of the bat, the thump of the ball against the catcher's mitt, the cry of "Batter up" from the world's most hated figure, the umpire, and the roar of the crowd as Leafy Doakes, Podunk Center's Babe Ruth strikes out.

An old Dodger fan reads avidly the news of the Grapefruit League. Being a rugged individualist, he points with alarm at the Dodger doings at Clearwater. It seems that a New Deal is under way. Manager Burleigh Grimes is resorting to unconstitutional practices, as he attempts to cure that delightful delirium, Dodgermania. He is regimenting the Dodgers in a manner paralleled only by one other man. (Allegany County Republican Party will furnish the other man's name on receipt of self-addressed stamped envelope).

Shades of Babe Herman! They're trying to teach all the Dodgers to run bases in the same manner. And they've engaged one of these smart college prof brain-trusters, Percy Beard of Florida U., to teach them how to run. Regimentation, we call it.

But, let's get back to Alfred. A baseball team, with our present limited facilities is impractical, if not actually impossible. Not that there isn't good baseball material at Alfred. Last year, the Alfred Town Team, made up of students and led by player-coach played six games, and dropped only a 3-2 decision to St. Bonaventure.

However, before Alfred may be officially represented by a baseball team, proper facilities must be provided. Since the weather at Alfred does not allow for outdoor work until May, an indoor cage would be necessary. It would be necessary to renovate the old athletic field, or still better to build a new field, since the present field does not allow for sufficient expansion.

A new field necessitates money. Where the money would come from, we don't know. It seems to us, however, that if those same alumni, who so generously contributed to our esthetic advancement by donating a beautiful campanile and set of bells, had heeded the age-old adage "a sound mind in a sound body" and diverted that same money to our more immediate needs, an athletic field befitting a university of Alfred's standing.

Merrill Field is totally inadequate for a college of Alfred's reputation. The present fifth of a mile running track should be at least double in width and extended to the regulation quarter-mile distance. A baseball infield should be installed at one end of the field with the outfield extending on to the gridiron. Since

Senior-Frosh Courtmen To Meet Soph-Junior Five Thursday Night

Grudge Battle In The Offing As Verbal Controversy Rages—Buckley, Vredenburg Lead Soph-Junior Quint—Schachter, Oberhanick, Shoemaker Lead Senior-Frosh Five

Pentup rivalry between the Soph-Junior and Frosh-Senior basketball men will flare forth at 8 o'clock, Thursday night at the gym, as the embattled classes hook up in a basketball game to end the verbal controversy which has been raging.

Since the Randy Boys seem to have a monopoly on the Frosh-Senior basketball talent, it is probable that their line-up will be composed entirely of Randymen. Schachter, Oberhanick, Bizet, Argyros, Glynn, and Johnson may make up the Frosh-Senior quintet.

The Soph-Junior quintet will be led by Ray Buckley and Don Vredenburg. The remaining men will probably be members of the varsity squad.

Boxers Swing Into Final Two Weeks

Candidates for the Second Annual Bronze Gloves Tourney are working hard under Professor Harrison's supervision, as they swing into their final two weeks of training before the matches.

The tourney will definitely be held during the last week before the Spring vacation. John Albright and Barney Freidman of the Blue Key, who are in charge of the tourney have not set the final date as yet.

The boxers have been working on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights under Professor Harrison's supervision. Professor Harrison believes that he has uncovered material, which would do well in intercollegiate competition. He hopes that his coaching this year may prove the forerunner of intercollegiate boxing next year.

"If any fellow wants to play on a team I am coaching, and his apparatus can't digest pie, his stomach is much too weak for him to be a football player, and I can't use him." Coach Bob Zuppke of the University of Illinois can't stomach half-baked notions about players and pastry.

the renovation of Merrill Field on such a scale would throw the stands and part of the track into the Kanakaden, a new site is necessary. The plot of land behind Delta Sig seems suitable.

Then, after our immediate needs have been secured, let the alumni look to our esthetic needs. Let them build campaniles and install melodious carillons at the four corners of the Campus. Let them build beautiful edifices, to their heart's content, but not until Alfred's athletic facilities are brought up to the standards of its educational facilities, will Alfred assume a top ranking in the small-college class.

Baseballers May Play On Town Team

Saxon athletes, who are baseball-minded, will have an opportunity to engage in this sport this Spring as candidates for Professor Don Schreckengost's Alfred Town Team.

Last year, the town team, composed entirely of students, played through a six game schedule, and dropped only one contest, to St. Bonaventure, 3-2. The victories were gained at the expense of the neighboring town and high school teams.

This year, a more extensive schedule will be undertaken. Jud Gustin, in charge of scheduling, is negotiating with several neighboring colleges for games.

Professor Schreckengost, who has played ball in the Central League, was approached last year by several students, who, being interested in baseball, asked him to coach the team. He consented and became player-coach.

Herb Mossein, formerly pitcher for James Madison High School in Brooklyn, does the hurling and Barney Freidman, his battery mate at James Madison, is on the receiving end. Freidman also has handled the slants of Bill Eisenstaat, former Madison ace, now with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"There is on most campuses a little noisy minority, but I really believe one of the serious problems we have to face is the conservative thinking of our students." Radicalism is not wrinkling the brow of the University of Michigan's President Alexander G. Ruthven.

Last Spring they won the softball title, and now having taken the basketball tourney, they will be aiming for three straight when this Spring's softball league starts.

Handy for Husbands

Bozeman, Montana—(ACP)—Grooming coeds to become "handy men" around the house, in a marriage-preparation course, is the job of Prof. H. E. Murdock of Montana State College.

The twenty-five coeds enrolled are learning how to repair waffle irons, electric toasters, electric hair-curling devices, washing machines and other household appliances.

McLane Postpones Indoor Track Meet From March 26 To April 2

Keefe Suffers Badly Sprained Ankle But Will Resume Soon—Arkin Will Be Used In Shot Put; Reports In Fine Condition

Coach McLane announced that the indoor interclass track meet will be postponed one week until April 2; the meet was originally scheduled for this Friday, March 26.

The squad swung into its third week of practice minus the services of Buzzy Keefe, who suffered a badly sprained ankle. Keefe was the only three letter man in school last year and had hoped to equal the record this year. It was originally believed that he would be out for the year, but the fighting Irishman expects to resume practice in the near future.

A particularly bright note was Sandy Arkin's intention to compete in the shot put this season. Sandy dislocated his shoulder during the basketball season, but appears ready to take up where he left off last year when he shattered the Alfred record, putting the shot over 42 feet.

Coed chatter: "Why shouldn't I go to the party with him? Maybe I'll meet someone else!"

Alfred's foilsmen are working twice weekly under Professor Schurecht's supervision in the wrestling room of the gym.

Several of the fencers have added their own equipment to Professor Schurecht's personal foils, and a larger squad is taking part in the fencing activities than at the start of the season.

"My throat welcomes Luckies—my favorite cigarette for 5 years"

"Luckies have been my favorite cigarette for about 5 years. They're a light smoke that sensitive throats welcome. Of the many trends that sweep through Hollywood, one of the longest lasting has been the preference for Luckies. I once asked a 'property' man—who supplies cigarettes to the actors—what the favorite is. He answered by opening up a box containing cigarettes. They were all Luckies."

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Hopkins verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why, so many of them smoke Luckies. Big Ten Abolishes Center Jump; No More Need For 7-Foot Centers

Chicago, Illinois — (ACP)—Prayers by Big Ten basketball coaches for seven-foot centers have ceased temporarily and perhaps permanently.

All because the Big Ten mentors voted, in a recent meeting during the sessions of the National Basketball Coaches' association, to abandon the center-jump for the 1937-'38 campaign.

It was explained that the new practice, adopted unanimously, would merely be on trial during the next season and that its permanent adoption would depend on the coaches' reaction to it after a year's testing.

Under the new ruling, the jump at center will be used only at the beginning of the game, at the start of the half, at the opening of overtime periods and after technical and double fouls.

At all other times, the ball will be placed in play behind the endline of the team scored upon, under the same procedure that follows after a successful free throw resulting from a personal foul. This throw rule, incidentally, has been practiced in the Big Ten for the past two years.

The Big Ten is not the first conference to eliminate the center jump. Last winter the Pacific Coast conference decided officially to discard it, largely as a result of pioneering by the southern division of the conference, Stanford, California, Southern California and U. C. L. A. during the 1935-'36 season.

That the step is in line with the Big Ten's efforts to speed up the game, was expressed by Harold G. Olsen, basketball coach at Ohio State University.

"Those who have had a chance to study basketball as played under the no-center jump rule felt that it provides a far better game from the spectator's viewpoint.

"It certainly makes for more action. I had a chance to observe it under actual game conditions when Ohio State played four games on the coast early last season, and these contests convinced me that the elimination of the center jump makes for a better game. Our players were unanimous in their approval of it," explained Olsen.

Schreckengost Plays Against Fargione

The Hornell Evening Tribune, sponsors of the Amateur Basketball League, announced that Andover, winner of the first half title, and Canisteo, second half winner, will play at Andover on Thursday evening; a third game, if necessary, will be played on a neutral court.

The games will feature Professor Don Schreckengost of Andover and Mike Fargione of Canisteo. Schreckengost, who led Andover to the first half title, was chosen on the All League five at the Right Forward post; he was unanimously selected by coaches and officials of the league. In spite of the dislocation of eight vertebrae in a practice session at the gym on Saturday afternoon, he will, nevertheless, lead his Andover quintet into battle.

Good Friday Organ Vespers

At the organ vespers of Good Friday, 7:30 to 8 p. m., Prof. Ray W. Wingate will present a program in keeping with the day, including the "March of the Holy Grail" from Parsival, by Wagner.

Ninety-two per cent of the freshmen at Pennsylvania State College have voted that a college woman should get married before the age of 25.

"While I would not go so far as to say that height will no longer be a prime requisite of a center under the new rule, I do believe that the jump's elimination will take some importance off height and place more premium on speed and cleverness," he concluded.

Two Alfred Musicians With Hornell Choirs

Mrs. Joseph Seidlin was piano accompanist to the combined choirs of the First Presbyterian Church of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian Church, Hornell.

Bach's cantata, "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison," was sung.

Mrs. S. R. Scholes of Alfred sang with the choir.

Editor Changes Co-eds To Cows

Morgantown, W. Va., (ACP)—Photographs of cud-chewing mulch cows instead of those of sixteen lovely coeds competing for the title of Miss West Virginia looked up at readers of the Shampain, humorous publication of West Virginia University.

Sizzling with anger at Editor Frank Neill's picture substitution, females held three hectic indignation meetings within the 24-hour period after the magazine was distributed.

The whole controversy hinged on the fact that in order to cast a vote for the beauty queen, a choice of one of the sixteen, a student would have to purchase a copy of the Shampain.

Editor Neill ran the cow photographs because the coeds and their dean, Ruth E. Noer, objected to the publication of the girls' pictures as "commercialization of beauty."

Tall Story No Lie, Jesuit Insists

Milwaukee, Wis.—(ACP)—It's not a sin to tell the kind of lie the Burlington, Wis., Liars Club tells, simply because it isn't a lie.

That is the gist of a recent lecture given by the Rev. Father Edward A. McGrath, S. J., assistant professor of philosophy at Marquette University.

"The essence of a lie is to speak seriously against your mind," argued the "Munchausen-defender."

"These Burlington liars are not seriously stating anything against what they know to be the truth. Therefore, they are not liars."

In appreciation for the defense, President O. C. ("You're Another") Hulett awarded Father McGrath a membership card, which makes him a "full-fledged liar."

Frosh In Holland Lack Hair, 'Dutchman' Writes In Letter

Alfred frosh may feel abused at having to wear caps, but at least they are allowed to keep their hair. Trials and joys of the Dutch University student are recorded in the following letter, written to an Alfred co-ed by her correspondent in Utrecht, Holland.

Dear Mary: What can I say you over the Dutch student? Well there is so much to tell. Alone over the "novit" one can write a thick book. In the first place then: how can become a girl or a boy student.

The girl students matriculate themselves in a "women's student club," but the boys who will join in the student corps are not yet ready. First of all he must shave off his hair and during the novits-time (that is 17 days) wear a little black silk cap. That shave-off means therefore that the "greens" not yet are worthy to wear the ornament of the man, a fine shock of hair.

Then begins the sweet life. For 17 days must say the novits to the other students "sir" and unhappy him who makes mistakes. Every student has to do what his elders ask him. They go through many tricks and of course there are many public and the people laugh very hard.

When a novit has done all what the older boys have said they can join by the corps. For him begins then the student life, a life from hard working days, but also a pleasure life from our students.

In a little village near Utrecht, the center of Holland, is a great boarding school for girls. Every year make the girls a little silk handkerchief with her name embroidered on it. On a certain day go all the students in motor cars or old cabs to Geist (that little village). They sing and cry very very hard and take places under the windows of the boarding school. There, make the girls open the windows and throw down the handkerchiefs. Some days later is there a great ball and on that ball must every student select the girl from whose handkerchief he has and it is his duty to dance the whole evening with that girl. Of course it is sometime not fun.

After that comes Santa Claus, the day for the rich students. They

'Roosevelt For King' Movement Attacked

Philadelphia, Pa.—(ACP)—The satirical "Roosevelt for King" movement, started at Yale University, took an editorial lashing from the University of Pennsylvania's daily paper.

"A rattle-brain scheme to attract publicity" and "in complete disregard for all that constitutes good taste," The Daily Pennsylvanian called it.

The editorial charged Yale and Princeton students with sponsoring a proposal "to make the American college man ridiculous in the eyes of the general public."

The thought of an editorial in the Daily Princetonian about the movement was characterized as "sophomoric," by the Daily Pennsylvanian, and, in tone, "disrespectful of a family which by its very position should command the courtesy of every American."

"We find the Daily Princetonian, rabid supporter of the President in the last election, shifts its allegiance like any adventurer burning to see his name in print," the statement continued.

"Heaven help the American college man if he cannot learn to divert his energies into constructive channels."

drive in open cabs or on flat cars in foolish clothes with great noses and little poems on the cars over the latest politic scandals or events. They have on the cars many wine and drink of course the whole afternoon, but also they strew flowers and gingerbreads.

The Dutch student knows how he must keep festival. Of course there are so much pleasures, so much to tell, but I assure you the American people here in Holland made eyes as dishes when they were here.
