St. Patrick will crown his Queen Friday evening at the college gym at the formal ball which climaxes the sixth Annual St. Patrick's Festival.

The identity of the Queen, elected by popular vote in a recent student assembly, is still a secret from the campus. She is one of 11 upperclass candidates for the crown. The other 10 candidates will act as attendants at the coronation tomorrow night.

The impressive coronation ceremonies will take place the last dance in the first half, about 11:30 p. m. The Queen and her candidates will walk the flower-strewn pathway across the dance floor to the throne, placed directly before the orchestra platform.

There St. Patrick will bestow the crown upon her, while the orchestra plays "The Wearing of the Green".

After the coronation, the Queen and St. Pat will remain on the throne for one dance, so that they may be congratulated by the dancers. This new feature was added to make the coronation more impressive, Walter Scott, chairman of the ball, said today.

Refreshments will be served at a booth near the stairway of the College Gymnasium.

The dance will be held from 9-2, and women are granted 2:30 a. m. permission.

Fifteen Acts Will Feature Amateur Show

Auditions for the St. Pat's amateur contest were held last Friday evening in Social Hall under the direction of Carl Swanson, contest chairman. A variety of acts and some real talent promise good entertainment for the festive crowd expected at the affair tomorrow afternoon at Alumni Hall.

The participants include Daniel Freed, pantomime; Rosey Holmes, solo; two male quartets; a 3-piece swing band from Bartlett; dances by Carol Sheldon and Amy Brandt; Dick Stillman; 3-piece Dick "Farmer" Smith, accordion, guitar and mouth-organ; Sandy Arkin on the piano, and Paul Weagar on the flute; singing by Kerwin Doering, Waldo Jones, and Mary Kelley; acts listed under "Galenas, Barreca, etc.," and the inimitable Winnie Winkus.

From Hornell come 12 year old Angelo Danniels, second Bobby Breen, and from Belfast comes Arvin Gleason, who recently appeared on Major Bowes' program.

The contest will be directed by Clinton Buehlman of musical clock fame and will feature an applause meter so the audience will be the judges. The prizes are 15 dollars for first place; 10 for second; 5 for third and 1 dollar for each of the next 5 places.

Saint Rides Good Ship 'Half-Moon' In Parade

St. Patrick rode into town on the good ship "Half-Moon" this morning at 10:30 o'clock, waved his magic staff, and opened the Sixth Annual St. Patrick's Festival.

The genial old gentleman, patron of ceramic engineering, met a parade of fraternity, sorority, and dormitory floats at the corner of Main and West University streets, and led the show to Alumni Hall. There he reigned over an all-college assembly, tossed brickbats at faculty and students, and knighted senior engineers and industrial men into the Royal Order of the Knights of St. Patrick.

The remainder of the two-day festival program is as follows:

TODAY

3-5 p. m.—Tea Dance at the Ceramic Lounge.

5-7 p. m.—Fraternity Open Houses.

7-10 p. m.—Ceramic Open House.

7, 9, 11 p. m.—"Navy Blue and Gold," movie.

FRIDAY

The white-bearded IRISH Saint will lay aside his robes and staff this afternoon and evening to join in the fun. The Green Boys and their "Jam Session" orchestra from Hornell will swing it out for the tea dance at the ceramic lounge this afternoon, after which couples will adjourn to fraternity houses for supper.

Display Ceramic Wares

This evening at 7 o'clock the ceramic open houses will begin, bringing exhibits by industrial concerns, by the ceramics classes, by the art department. Two Corning Glass Workers will blow glass in a special demonstration. Dr. Willard K. Sutton will display Chinese porcelain. The University band will play.

Meanwhile at Alumni Hall there will be three showings of "Navy Blue and Gold," featuring James Stewart, Robert Young, and Tom Brown.

Friday afternoon, Clinton Buehlman, WGR's early-morning wisecracker, will be master of ceremonies at the Amateur Show, in Alumni Hall. Some 15 acts will be presented.

The formal ball and coronation of the Festival Queen will climax the two-day festival, Friday evening from 9-2. Earl "Father" Hines and his 13-piece colored orchestra will play.

Dr. Ross, Dudley Work On Telescope

Every week-end, Dr. Fred W. Ross, professor of botany, and Philo H. Dudley, senior, journey to Rochester where they continue their work on two reflecting telescopes to be used here at Alfred University.

Dr. Ross and Dudley have joined the astronomy club of the University of Rochester, one of the activities of which is the making of telescopes.

They are enrolled in a class and have the use of the University's optical laboratory, which is well equipped for grinding lenses and mirrors. Herbert Wilder, expert optician, is the director.

New Senate Constitution Assured; White Sweaters For Athletes Voted

A new constitution for the Students' Association was assured last week when the Student Senate, tabulating votes cast in fraternity, sorority, and outsider meetings, found the suggested amendment procedure had been approved unanimously.

Recommendations for changes will be made by the Senate's constitution committee at the next meeting of the Senate, President Raymond Baschnage said.

These recommendations, along with others suggested by any member of the Senate, will be published in The Fiat Lux, and then the student groups who approved the new procedure will have their chance to propose changes.

At last week's meeting also the Senate disposed of another thorny problem—the question of white sweaters for senior varsity athletes.

The athletes got their sweaters. At least, two did—Eugene Keefe and Robert Hughes, while four others, who will qualify later in the year, will receive their awards by June.

A way of paying for the sweaters was uncovered by Leonard Lernowitz, who found that several organizations did not expect to use the full amount granted by the Senate last fall.

The motion to buy the sweaters was passed unanimously.

Spring Recess Begins At 10 a. m., April 8; No Early Permissions

Spring recess begins Friday, April 8, at 10 a. m., it was announced today by Dean M. Ellis Drake, chairman of the absence committee.

The early dismissal hour has been adopted, Dean Drake said, to accommodate in particular the large number of students who live in the New York City area and find it convenient to leave Alfred on the morning train.

The dean emphasized that no permissions would be granted to leave early except in cases of emergency.

Norwood Named Trustee Of Anti-Saloon League

President J. Nelson Norwood has been elected a trustee of the Anti-Saloon League of New York. For many years President Emeritus Boothe C. Davis was a member of that Board, as well as a frequent speaker for the organization. The election of President Norwood, therefore, is the continuation of a well established Alfred tradition.

Forensic Club In Discussion Of Constitution

Not to be outdone by some of the larger universities in New York state, the Forensic Society of Alfred University under the directorship of Mr. Smith has been active in the past few weeks in open discussions concerning the New York State Constitutional Issue. Traveling to neighboring towns the society has spoken before many clubs.

Since there are many issues included in the constitutional plan the forensic Society has chosen the single issue of having a Unicameral Legislature.

Speaking before the Exchange Club and the Rotary Club of Wellsville on February 16 and March 8, respectively, the orators presented the advantages and disadvantages of the system.

The club will speak before the Wayland Parent Teachers Association on March 16. A future date will be set soon for speeches before the Exchange Club of Hornell.

The students engaged in the work are Glenn Alty, Lewis Blackmer, John Dickinson, Jeannette Stephens, and Lewis West.

Both Dean M. Ellis Drake and Prof. Burton Crandall have cooperated in the work of the society along with Mr. Smith.

Summer Training On U. S. Ships Is Offered

To acquaint the youth of America with the opportunities of a career as officers in the United States Merchant Marine, the American Nautical Academy, National Training School for Merchant Marine Officers, Washington, D. C., announced today that boys and young men between the ages of 19 and 25 years will be allowed to secure practical ship experience on board a training ship of the Academy between June 1 and October 1.

The young men may remain on board ship for the entire period or for any shorter time they may wish, but not for less than four weeks.

There is no tuition charge for any of the courses offered by the Academy, and no obligation for future merchant marine, military or naval service of any kind is incurred by the young men.

There is no charge for instruction nor for living quarters on board ship. The only required expense is for meals, which are 49 cents. Three meals are served daily.

Due to the fact that the number of accommodations available is limited, those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity should write at once to the American Nautical Academy, National Training School for Merchant Marine Officers, Washington, D. C.

Long Live Patrick!

The festival is on. For the sixth time a parade up Main Street has welcomed a re-incarnation of Ireland's favorite saint, the patron of engineers. For the sixth time also "St. Patrick" has gone up to Alumni Hall and, to the intense delight of the student body, has taken pot-shots at the faculty and at other hitherto unapproachable institutions.

Tea dance this afternoon, open house and movie tonight... it looks like a great festival. Alfred people and the perennial visitors from neighboring towns are coming to regard "St. Pat's" as the social point-of-reference for the year, while each festival board outdoes itself to put on a better show than last year's.

To outsiders the festival is unusually interesting because it represents a spirit of religious friendliness not common in this part of the country, a whole-hearted tribute by a largely Protestant student body to a saint of the Roman Catholic Church.

Externally there is nothing religious about the festival, but the spirit of religious friendliness is not to be denied, nor is there any objection to mirth and religion existing side by side. So on with the festival... and long live St. Pat.

Survey Of Student Opinion

Germany's invasion of Austria last week appears to many experts to have brought Europe one step nearer to another general war. There is nothing academic about this war prospect; the most stolid Alfred student will realize that a declaration of war in Europe today could easily lead to the establishment of a recruiting headquarters in Alfred within a few months.

But the conviction grows that while war may be imminent it is not inevitable, and that a concerted and determined peace movement among the sane people of the nation might effectively send our war-mongering minority of statesmen back to nursing their hardened arteries.

Is there enough peace sentiment to start such a movement? What do Americans think about peace and war? About American foreign policies that might have a bearing on our continued abstinence from war? These are some of the questions that 1,200,000 college students, supposedly the leaders of America tomorrow, will be asked within a few weeks in a nation-wide poll conducted by the Brown University Daily Herald.

The poll in Alfred will be conducted by The Fiat Lux. Present plans are to print the questions in the next issue of this newspaper so that students will have ample time to study them, then to distribute copies to be marked by the students in the March 31 assembly.

Fifty Out Of Fifty

(From The New York Times)

The mathematicians ought to have something to say about the Moscow treason trial. In the last two years more than fifty Russians have stood up in court and confessed to crimes and degradations that stagger all belief.

Yet one finds a good many people here who wonder if the accused are not guilty after all. Why would they otherwise confess, since it has been proved in earlier trials that they have nothing to gain thereby?

Here is where the mathematician might help us. Assuming that all these fifty Russians in the last two years were guilty, what, by the laws of probability, are the chances that every one of the fifty would confess his guilt? It is not the way most criminals behave.

The grim death-house items in our newspapers often speak of men going to the electric chair protesting their innocence. Many of them go to meet their fate silently. The rarest cases are those who confess. Yet these are all guilty men.

But in Soviet Russia every accused man confesses. Of all the stupefying details in that Moscow phantasmagoria the mathematical paradox seems the greatest of all—at least to a layman.

Nazi Invasion Of Alfred In Lynn's St. Pat Speech

There was everything in Bert Lynn's St. Pat Address this morning in the assembly that opened the Sixth Annual St. Patrick's Festival,—everything from Nazi storm-troopers, whom Lynn had invading Alfred, to the conferring of a Doctor of Bombast Degree on a personage identified as James J. Wads-up-on-top-of-omnibus-worth.

The degree was conferred by Lynn on Al Robbins, freshman proxy for the candidate, with these words:

"Distinguished plitudinarian, misty-eyed mathematician, scourge of fusty traditionalism, rampart of rock-bound Republicanism, friend of the washing machine, discoverer of the ponderous principle that two plus two equals four, and staunch defender of the law of diminishing returns,—

"By authority of the regents of the University of the State of New York, and acting under the powers conferred in me by the trustees of Alfred University, I confer upon you, James J. etc., honoris causa, and with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining, this degree, and cause you to be invested with this hood."

The hood was—a noose.

There was poetry, too, in Lynn's scholarly address,—something about: Mary had a football man Who had a tricky toe, And everywhere that Mary went Her man was sure to go.

He followed her to class one day, Though not against the rule, Partners swung to the rural rhythms of Palmer. Dance programs were milk bottle caps. During intermission pledges cut their large candle-lighted cake and served punch to the guests.

Everyone posed for "Life Goes to the Party" pictures. Margaret Reiley, Marian Immediato, and Mona Wright harmonized on Sweet Sue and Lies.

Faculty guests were Dr. and Mrs. G. Stewart Nease, Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Hinkle, Mrs. Beulah N. Ellis, and Miss Ruth G. Stanton.

Bea Burdick, chairman, was assisted by Mona Wright, Marian Immediato, and Margaret Chester.

Theta Theta Chi sorority entertained their pledges with dancing at the house. About fifty people enjoyed the sorority records, in the dim candle-lighted rooms. A tag dance provided a novelty for the program.

Prof. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Prof. and Mrs. K. B. Floyd, Miss Erma B. Hewitt, and Miss Clara K. Nelson were the faculty guests.

Thelma C. House was the dance chairman.

St. Pat's Whiskers 'Lynching Party' Buehlman Bulletin

—BY THE EDITORS

"WHO'S going to be St. Pat?" Last week when everybody was asking that question of everybody else, the most embarrassed man, naturally, was Bert Lynn.

Scrupulous upholder of tradition that he is Counsellor Lynn felt obligated to keep the festival board's secret even at great cost to himself.

So whenever a nosy friend hinted too strongly that St. Pat was Lynn himself, Bert indignantly offered to bet sundaes and things that he was not.

This morning, of course, everybody found out that he was.

Now Bert is wondering if he shouldn't keep on wearing the St. Pat whiskers so the people he owes won't recognize him.

Our suggestion was that he call attention to the vow of poverty which St. Patrick must have taken. Surely no one would expect a penniless monk to buy sundaes.

On the other hand, how would Mr. Lynn account for the heavy money he won on Mr. Roosevelt's election?

SPEAKING, as nobody was, of Clinton Buehlman, it appears that he's the fellow who invented or at least popularized that current word-twisting craze, "Who do you think you are—ANYHOW?" and all its descendants.

For a long time the habit was confined to the Buehlman listening area, but a couple of months ago we heard it on a network, and our underpaid Broadway operative tells us Joe Cook used it as his own in a recent musical. All of which goes to demonstrate that bread cast upon waters comes back in nine days with someone else's name signed to it, so where do you think it will get you—in the long run?

DID YOU catch that rumor of a lynching party in last week's eruption of this paper? Toward the bottom of col. 6, Page 1, we solemnly reported that "Earl 'Father' Hines and his 13-piece colored band will swing for the formal ball...."

Following Up
McLeod's Talk;
One Year Ago

By JACK MOORE

"Let's cheer the boys who go out and play the game for Alfred—not jeer them—"

Thus did Chaplain James McLeod, sum up the situation as it now exists in Alfred. More and more it has become apparent that Monday morning coaches have inserted themselves into the Alfred student body.

This regrettable situation has not failed to reach the attention of shocked vicinity sportsmen. Witness Paul Fitting's statement to Chaplain McLeod following the St. Lawrence court game: "Mac (McLeod) what's wrong with the Alfred student body? I've never seen such an exhibition any place else that I've worked—"

And you don't have to take just McLeod's word for that statement. Fitting, during his three-day stay here between the Clarkson and Larry games, made statements that were in the same category. For, you see, it wasn't only at the Larry game that the students made such fools of themselves. They had to make it a habit this season.

You'll say that the students have to have a little fun. All right, have your fun—but have it when it doesn't cast a reflection on your roomie, your parents, and your Alma Mater.

One interesting question was brought up immediately following Thursday's assembly. And that was—"How many of those students responsible for the disturbance in the assembly this morning and similar ones during the past year at athletic contests have ever gone out for the sports here at school—let alone managed to 'make' the teams?"

"All right, we'll bite—how many have?"

One year ago this week, sports activities were humming along at full speed, pepped up by the nearness of the then Fifth Annual St. Pat Festival. In the March 18 issue of the FIAT LUX were stories of the awarding of fourteen Varsity A's, one service award and eleven class numerals in basketball and wrestling. Lee Hodges was the recipient of the service award, for four years of outstanding service in cross country.

At the same time, a Junior-Sophomore and Senior-Freshman basketball game was imminent, the result of a challenge give the Senior-Frosh by the Junior-Sophs, headed by Don Vredenburg and Ray Buckley.

Buzzy Keefe and Sandy Arkin were on the sidelines, as far as the game was concerned, being all ready engaged in track activities. Their absence, the story continued, had the odds favoring the Senior, Freshman five.

John L. (Three-point) Dougherty was back in the sports harness for the week with some memories, giving Sports Editor-Zurer a little rest from the drudgery of filling that yawning cavity-where-a-sport-column-should-be.

Forty-three trackmen were working out daily under the tutelage of Coach McLane.

Saxon women ended up a good second in the round robin basketball tournament at Cornell against Wells, William-Smith, Elmira and Cornell teams.

"March Of Time" Movies In Assembly March 24

A sequence of the "March of Times" will be shown at the regular assembly, Thursday, March 24.

The first subject is "Finland". The second is entitled, "The Laugh Trust" showing how Eddie Cantor and other comedians gather their material for radio and personal appearances. The third subject presents an interview with Ambassador Kennedy, recently appointed United States ambassador to England.

There is a possibility that a second "March of Times" may be shown.

Argyros And Brundage Named To Represent Alfred In National Wrestling Matches

RAYMOND Aristy Argyros of Hornell and Philip Brundage of Alfred, Alfred University's two outstanding varsity wrestlers, will represent this Saxon college at the National Collegiate A. A. matches at Penn State College, March 2 and 26.

Argyros, a junior, is entered in the 118-pound class; Brundage, also a junior, will wrestle either 126 or 135 pounds. Dr. Joseph Seidlin, coach, said Argyros and Brundage will compete in the intercollegiate if they can make the required weight classes.

Aristy won his varsity A last year as a sophomore, losing only two out of six matches, and he won two out of three matches this year. Brundage is undefeated for the last 12 matches, wrestled in 1936 and 1938. He was not in school last year.

At the N. C. A. A. meet, Argyros and Brundage will be pitted against the cream of American collegiate grapplers. It will be the first entry of either man in the Nationals.

The Alfred wrestling team this year won two out of six matches, but was hampered by injuries to Cecil Whitmore, Bernie Spiro, and Argyros. Aristy suffered an injured hand in the Toronto meet, and was out for three matches. Brundage pinned five of his six opponents and won the sixth on decision. Brundage was captain-elect of the team in 1936, but failed to return to the mats last year.

Wisecracks Considered A Part Of All Sports

To Chaplain McLeod:—
An Open Letter
Reverend Sir:

Regarding your words in the recent assembly regarding behavior at the athletic events—You, having attended the recent series of basketball games are certainly aware of the many tense situations occurring during these contests—close scores in the last few minute of play, etc. Now it is only natural to give some vent to the emotions that arise. This vent usually takes audible forms of various types. The writer has attended athletic contests in many parts and climes and has yet to attend one contest which does not boast of its share of wisecracks. Such remarks are seldom, if ever, passed with intention of personal insult towards participants or officials. Naturally these people realize this. It would be a far greater insult to curb to a great extent any emotion than to make a bit of noise. Imagine, if you can, a big league ball game—with all spectators as silent as cigar store Indians. Notwithstanding all these facts your remarks must be carefully considered and acted upon. They are well taken and will be an inspiration to us to make as good an impression as possible on those who come to join us in our sports.

Respectfully,
Ira Stark

Alfred Co-op Movies

NAVY BLUE AND GOLD—Thursday evening, March 17.

Starring: Robert Young, James Stewart, Florence Rice, Tom Brown, Billie Burke, and Lionel Barrymore.

The sponsors of Alfred Cooperative Pictures, always strive to obtain, what they consider to be, the best picture of the year for the Saint Patrick's Festival. This year they have chosen "Navy Blue and Gold".

Little needs to be said for this picture. The setting, Annapolis, is without rival for the depiction of life in a naval academy, and the cast speaks for itself. The outstanding actors are James Stewart and Lionel Barrymore.

Short subjects are: "Let's Celebrate," a Popeye cartoon, "How to Start the Day," a Benchly skit, and a travelogue, "Natural Wonders of the West."

THE HURRICANE—Friday and Saturday evenings, March 18-19.

Starring: Dorothy Lamour, Raymond Massey, C. Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, and Jon Hall.

The glamour of the South Seas, the beauty of love, and the fury of a tropical hurricane, all go into this beautifully cast picture of nature and human emotions.

If you aren't going to St. Pat's that doesn't mean that you're going to spend a dull evening, "Hurricane" will furnish plenty of thrills and excitement for anyone.

If you are going to St. Pat's, why here is a picture which will make a fitting conclusion for a perfect weekend.

Fencing Bouts Planned For Girls

A series of fencing bouts for women will be held after spring vacation. All women are eligible to enter. Practice with instruction is available every Monday night, with the exception of the following two weeks, when there will be practice only. Prof. H. G. Schurecht is the fencing instructor.

All women should check up on the number of points they need to receive an Old English A. Sixty-five points are required, and there are still several point activities before the Annual Women's Athletic Banquet. The spring badminton tournament, an Archery tournament, the fencing bouts, and possibly a spring ping-pong tournament. The points awarded for participation in the Outing Club activities should not be overlooked.

Girl Cagers Lose, 40-9, To Cornell In Play-day

Nine outstanding women basketball players went to Elmira last Saturday to participate in a series of games with New College, New York, Cornell and Elmira. They were accompanied by their coach Miss Lavinia Creighton, Miss Kirchgassner and Mrs. John McMahon.

Each team was scheduled to play two games. Alfred's team was eliminated from competition after their game with Cornell, 40-9. However, New College proved to be the best team, having previously played in Germany, and now competing with the foremost American college teams.

The Alfred team was the smallest team entered, the tallest girl being shorter than the shortest girl on any of the other teams.

Outing Club Hike

An Outing Club hike is to be held Mar. 26. Plans have been made to leave the Brick at 6:00 in the morning, to hike to the chosen site, to cook a breakfast over a blazing fire, to have a grand time. Now is the time to get out in the beautiful spring weather. The small charge of five nickels will be made, to be paid in advance, so if you don't have twenty-five cents now, start saving.

Glee Club Tours Schools Of This Area

Alfred's Male Glee Club made its second successful concert trip of the season, Tuesday, March 8, under the direction of Prof. Ray W. Wingate of the music department. The club gave four concerts, singing at Avoca and Hammondsport High Schools in the morning, and at the high schools of Savona and Bath in the afternoon. The first tour contacted the high schools at Woodhull, Jasper, Greenwood and Andover, on February 23.

At the final concert of the day, in the Bath High School the Bath Superintendent of Schools, expressed the opinion that this year's club is "the best balanced organization that Alfred has had for some years." Mr. Vanderhoef himself is a musician, and is at the present playing in the Rochester Symphony Orchestra. "There was no single voice outstanding at any point in the entire program," he said. Professor Wingate, too, expressed his satisfaction with the singing of the programs.

For the first time in recent years, this year's Glee Club boasts two quartets, a Senior and a Freshman quartet. The Freshman group is composed of Joseph Cutrona, and Maurice Crouse, tenors, Eldyn Washburn, baritone, and Franklyn Morley, bass. They sang two numbers, "Those Pals of Ours," and a humorous song, "My moustache". Of the Senior four, three have sung together for two years, Wisner Cook and Rosie Holmes, tenors, and Carl Andrews, baritone. Wayne Rood, bass, is the new member this year. This group also sang two numbers on the program, the popular "Ten Pretty Girls," and the well known travesty on the "Quartet from Ringolletto". Both quartets were enthusiastically received by all the audiences.

Dick Smith, one man orchestra, and a Freshman in the University, plays two novelty groups during the course of the program. He plays the guitar and harmonica simultaneously, and later returns with his accordion to play a group of three numbers. Wayne Rood, basso, has a group of two numbers, the sea chanty, "Time To Go," by Sanderson, and the song of the profundos, "Asleep In The Deep," by Petrie.

The Glee Club, which consists of sixteen men, four on each part, sings a forty-five minute program, opening with an Alfred Medley, consisting of "Oh Here We Are," "On Saxon Warriors," "I've Been Working On The Railroad," and "The Ray Ray Song".

Father Cleary of Cornell will present his ideas of Catholicism.

This is followed by Rhy-Herbert's arrangement of "Cheer up—It Ain't The World, It's You!" The second group consists of an arrangement of themes from "Finlandia," by the contemporary composer, Jean Sibelius, and "Jolly Fellows," also by Rhy-Herbert. The entire club closes the program with "The Song of the Marines," from the Dick Powell picture, "The Singing Marine," a humorous southern melody, "Tip Sams" (Horton) and a special arrangement of "The Song of The Bell".

Glee Club Will Present Mexican Dances, Songs

Colorful Mexican native dances and several Spanish songs will be featured by the Women's Glee Club of Alfred University, under the direction of Mrs. John Reed Spicer, at their annual concert which will be presented Wednesday, March 23.

The original dances as done by various Indian tribes of Mexico are being taught the girls, by Mrs. Elberto Ringo. Copies of authentic Mexican costumes will tend to create atmosphere.

Syracuse University school of journalism students passed a petition among fellow students in a "gullibility test". They found 115 seniors would sign a paper that at the start read like a proposal to eliminate final exams for seniors but ended up with a promise to serve five years in a chain gang. Said the journalism students: "They'll sign anything".

Brown University Gives New Inventory Tests

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(ACP)—Special examinations to show Brown University seniors just what intellectual resources they have to use in facing the world outside college gates will be given next month when the university tries a unique experiment with "comprehensive inventory" tests.

In broad terms, the tests will attempt to measure "what students know today, rather than what they have known—what they have retained and have available as current resources." Pres. Henry M. Wriston explained.

The tests will measure what seniors have earned from extra-curricular activities and from every-day social and cultural contacts on and off the campus.
