

At Alumni Meet

FRANCIS R. HUTCHINGS, who is on the Committee of Finance this year, graduated from Alfred in 1928. Upon graduation he accepted a position with St. John's School, at Ossining, where he remained three years as an instructor. He left there in 1932, to assume a similar position at his old High School, Manhasset, Long Island, where he has been ever since. He is also listed as a Coach of Manhasset teams. "Hutch" is working for his Master's Degree during the summer months, at Ohio State University.

LAWRENCE C. LOBAUGH, '27, last year's Secretary of the Alumni Association, is this year's President.

Mr. Lobaugh is recognized as one of the best sports officials in the East, where he referees football and basketball as such well-known colleges as: Army, N. Y. U., Yale, Princeton, L. I. U., and Manhattan, and is official starter at all of West Point's home track meets. He is a member and officer of the Long Island Officials' Associations in football and in basketball. Mr. Lobaugh will shortly complete his Master's degree from Syracuse University. In 1935 he married Elma Heckman, Hofstra College. They reside at Freeport, L. I., where Loby is an instructor in the high school.

JOSEPH B. LAURA chairman of the Banquet Committee for the School of Agriculture, in 1921 brought to Alfred, from the heart of New York City a bit of old world mysticism, and intimate glimpses of many Metropolitan personalities whom he knew well. The choice by his 1925 classmates, of him as the dedicatee of the Agricultural School's Year Book, unusual and striking as it was, ultimately marked only the symbol of respect and pride his character commanded. Himself a Catholic, he won high praise from a minister of a different faith, because he brought more men to that minister than any other single influence.

LEE D. COTTRELL '29, a member of Hempstead (L. I.) High School faculty, has been appointed a member of the Finance Committee for the Annual Banquet and Dance of the New York Alumni Association of Alfred University.

Mr. Cottrell was awarded his Masters Degree by New York University and is at present studying for his Doctorate.

EDWARD K. LEBOHNER '27, Secretary of the New York Alumni Association of Alfred University, has been appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for a dinner and dance which will be sponsored by the Alfred Club of New York. This will follow the football game between Alfred and Hofstra College on Nov. 12, 1938, at Hempstead, L. I.

Mr. Lebohner, since his graduation, has been in the brokerage business and represents C. M. Loeb, Rhoades and Company on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

WILLIAM J. NAVIN '25, President of the Alfred Club of New York, has been appointed chairman of the Legal Committee for the Annual Banquet and Dance of the New York Alumni Association which will be held on April 9th, at the McAlpin. Last year, Mr. Navin was President of the Association.

Mr. Navin received the Degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence from New York University in 1930. Since then he has been associate with the Western Electric Company as a patent attorney, being an authority on copyright law.

Undergrads Are Invited To Meet

President Lobaugh of the New York Alumni expect to greet many undergraduates at the banquet on Saturday, April 9, since the special price of $2 per plate for students seems to be in favor of many Alfredians who will be in the Metropolitan area for Spring vacation at that time.

He says they are more than welcome, and that he truly hopes many will take advantage of this offer, never before made to students.

It will present a good opportunity for many to greet Alumni and to see just how "the older folks act when they have long since left the 'hills of Allegany,'" Lobaugh said.

Fiat To Conduct Poll Thursday

The Student Opinion Poll which was printed in the March 22 issue of The Fiat Lux will be distributed in Assembly this Thursday, editors of the paper said today.

ALUMNI MEET AT NEW YORK APRIL 9

Glee Club Is Ready For Trip

Four high schools begged enthusiastically for more music as the University Men's Glee Club presented its program at Dansville, Mount Morris, Perry and Warsaw, Thursday, March 24. Ensemble numbers, songs by the Freshman and Senior Quartets, instrumental novelties by Dick Smith, and bass solo by Wayne Rood were cheered to the echo.

At Mount Morris the students completely forgot what time it was, and stayed ten minutes over the luncheon hour. At Perry the club gave its first "floor show," singing from the gymnasium floor to the student body seated in the bleachers and balcony. Superintendent C. R. Richardson of the Perry schools voiced the generous invitation to Director R. W. Wingate and the club, "to come back three or four times a year, and we'll be glad to have you."

A storm of applause met the popular program at Dansville, and at Warsaw the club met its warmest reception. The Warsaw high school stayed twenty-five minutes after their afternoon dismissal time, and when the club had sung its usual final number, the Alfred "Song of the Bell," they were called back to sing an extra number. This trip contacted these high schools for the first time in several years.

This 150 mile trip by the men's club marks the last tour it will take before the "big trip" to New York City. For two weeks, Professor Wingate has announced, the club will drill strenuously, before leaving on the morning of April 6. The booking of appearances for the Alfred Club has not been completed as yet, but six evening performances have been secured, as well as NBC Red Network broadcast from Radio City for April 11 at 1:15 P. M. The Glee Club will sing at the New York Alumni Banquet April 9. Alfred students have been given a special invitation to join the Alumni at this meeting at Hotel McAlpin.

Musical Selections Feature Program

Many musical features are on the program of the New York Banquet this year.

Such artists as Mrs. Seidlin and Miss Rose Becker will entertain with several selections, while Prof. Ray W. Wingate and the men's glee club will be an added attraction.

All attending will get a chance to participate when group singing of Alfred songs will be lead by Professor Wingate, and the evening will be topped off by a long dancing period with the Saxons furnishing the melody.

Berger May Come From Scotland To Attend Meet

To whom do you think alumni banquet tickets number one and two were sent? Believe it or not, to Arnold L. Berger '37, now a student in the School of Medicine of Royal Colleges, Edinburgh, Scotland.

In a letter to Alumni President Lobaugh, recently, Berger asked for reservations.

His letter says in part: "I would like to attend the Alfred Banquet, and will do so if I can make connections. I have examinations at the end of March, and don't know if I can get the boat in time, but I will try my best to do it, even if I have to fly to Ireland and catch a boat at Cobh. Will any present undergraduates be there? There are many of the old friends I'd like to see."

17 Engineers Attending Convention

Seventeen junior and senior engineers and eight faculty members are attending the annual convention of the American Ceramic Society at the Hotel Roosevelt, New Orleans, this week.

Sessions began Monday morning at 9 o'clock and will continue through Saturday. Jud A. Gustin, president of the Alfred Student Branch of the Society, is in charge of employment of students in running slides and other duties.

Senior engineers attending are: Jud A. Gustin, Allen C. Francisco, Van Derk Frechette, Richard Hamel, Douglas Hand, Rodney A. Jones, Bert M. Lynn, Metro Mickritz, John Miller, John Reid, John Schake, Alfred Smith and Ray Turck. Juniors are Richard Haecker, Robert Perry, Joseph Proe and Addison Scholes.

Also in attendance are Amero, Dammano, Caskins, King and Maupin of the North Carolina State Ceramic School, and Landers, Palmer, Ruck and Zinszer of the Alabama School of Ceramics.

Alfred faculty members who are attending are Dean M. E. Holmes, Dr. S. R. Scholes, Prof. Charles R. Amberg, Prof. Charles M. Harder, Prof. John McMahon, Prof. H. G. Schreucht, Prof. Robert Campbell and Prof. Clarence Merritt.

Miss Fosdick Chairman Of Art Judges

Prof. Marion Fosdick of the Ceramic Art Department has been invited by the Memorial Art Gallery in Rochester to be chairman of the jury for the Hanson Exhibit in April.

Carl Sandburg, Poet-Troubadour, Here April 5

Among the best known literary figures on the lecture platform is Carl Sandburg, America's "most truly native poet," who will speak in Alumni Hall, next Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. Like the troubadours of old, Mr. Sandburg has travelled about the country for many years reading his poems, singing folk songs, and collecting ballads.

Sandburg is the master interpreter of his own verse, in recitation or song. As William B. Owen of the Chicago Teachers College says, "Carl Sandburg's voice should be perpetuated on records, for like the voice of Tennyson it is an unforgettable part of his poems."

Little Schooling

Born of Swedish parents in Galesburg, Illinois, in 1878, Mr. Sandburg received little schooling as a child. He worked at various trades, such as porter in a barber shop, driver of a milk wagon, scene-shifter in a theatre, and truck operator at a brick kiln. At the age of seventeen, he left Galesburg to travel west, where he worked in the Kansas wheatfields, washed dishes in hotels in Kansas City, Omaha, and Denver and served as a carpenter's helper. Finally, he returned to Galesburg to apprentice himself to a housepainter.

Active in College

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, he enlisted in the Sixth Illinois Infantry and was sent to Porto Rico, where he remained for eight months. During his service he met a youth who persuaded him to continue his education and so when he returned in 1898 he attended Lombard College in Galesburg.

During the four years at college, Mr. Sandburg was the captain of the college basketball team and editor of the college monthly magazine and annual.

Faculty Votes Scholarship Loving Cups

The university faculty at their meeting on Thursday adopted a plan providing for recognition of good scholarship among the various groups on the campus by the award of scholarship cups.

Two loving cups, to be known as the faculty scholarship cups, will be awarded at the beginning of each semester, one to the men's group and one to the women's group which on the basis of the preceding semester's work has the highest index.

This cup will be suitably engraved with the name of the group and the date and will become the permanent possession of any group winning it four times, not necessarily in succession.

Each fraternity and sorority and the non-fraternity men and the non-fraternity women will constitute one group.

It is planned to procure these cups as soon as possible and to award them in assembly in the near future to those groups which stood highest during the fall semester.

While some of the details have not been fully worked out, the index will probably be figured as it is at present and only those who are actually members of the group included in that group's index. A minimum index may also be established. As yet the indices for the first semester have not been figured and it is not officially known which groups are in the lead.

Drew Pearson Speaks At I. N. A. Convention

Drew Pearson, co-author of Washington Merry-Go-Round and founder of the I.N.A. in 1919, will be one of the speakers at the Spring convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association at Washington, D. C., Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Pearson will attend the formal banquet of the college editors Saturday evening at the world-famous National Press Club.

Five students and the faculty advisor, Prof. W. M. Burditt, will represent Alfred's Fiat Lux at the convention. The students are John L. Dougherty, Jr., associate editor; Kay Borman, society editor; Adrienne Owre, assistant news editor; Bernie Spiro, co-business manager, and Irma Komfort, business secretary.

The first session is Friday at 1 p. m., at which nominations for association officers will be made. From 2:30 to 4:30, a makeup clinic, business session and other group sessions will be held. Associate Editor Dougherty is chairman of the makeup clinic.

After dinner Friday evening a

After graduation, Carl Sandburg travelled around the country engaged in various occupations. During this time, he was continually writing poetry.

In 1914, he was awarded the Levinson Prize by the magazine, "Poetry," for the poem CHICAGO. Two years later, he published his first volume, CHICAGO POEMS. In 1919 and 1921, Mr. Sandburg shared half the award of the Poetry Society of America.

Biography of Lincoln

In 1923, he was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature by Lombard College, and in 1928 he was Phi Beta Kappa poet at Harvard University.

In 1926, Mr. Sandburg competed his first biographical work, ABRAHAM LINCOLN—THE PRAIRIE YEARS, which is the first of a three-volume comprehensive study of Lincoln.

There is no doubt that this work will become a permanent part of American literature. It is the product of long, patient, and persistent research on the part of the author.

Lobaugh Heads Plans For Annual Banquet; Glee Club To Sing

By Joseph B. Laura '25

Reminiscences of school years that are concealed behind the curtain will be drawn aside again for a few hours on Saturday evening, April 9, in New York, at Hotel McAlpin, with the opening of the Alfred Alumni Banquet.

Things will be stirring, sentimental recollections will be revived, and there will be surprises in plenty.

President J. Nelson Norwood is among those coming. All are hopeful for Director Paul B. Orvis of the Ag. School and our former Director Archie E. Champlin, who is now conducting a school in Cobleskill.

Also assured of coming is Professor Joseph Seidlin, well-known to many an Aggie wrestler. (Professor Seidlin in the twenties created Alfred's first wrestling team and was its coach.)

The feature of entertainment for the evening will be our much talked about Glee Club. Rumor has it that they are rehearsing strenuously for this occasion. The committee backing the president, Lawrence Lobaugh '27, of the Alumni Association, numbers many and all are taking the greatest interest in all preparations for the coming affair.

We NOW go back to a recent fall evening when Dr. Lester Spier of Kappa Psi Upsilon and the writer were asked to join in a reunion with twenty-four members of the Klan Alpine at the Tudor Tavern on East 42nd Street.

This fraternity like the others in Alfred had an enviable reputation of bearing a deep and warm friendship for one frat to another. The writer, then active in Theta Gamma, well remembers, when fraternities on the campus reciprocated dinners and dances.

To have been invited this night into this fraternal group was indeed an honor and the writer was glad to accept. It was a night of fun and mischief, as was becoming to cronies of yester-years. Each one had to say or do something that evening as in the old Ricky-Dicky days.

Besides former Prof. Arthur Radach at the reunion, were Don and Toop Prentice, Ed. Lebohner, Ralph Smith, Joseph Clavelle, Harry Rogers, Max Crandall, William Navin, "Brick" Whipple, Rolly Binnings, Richard Taft, Robert Northrup.

TOO, nothing better ever was thought of than the founding of the Alfred Club in New York, as is proved on January 15, with 55 attending the luncheon meeting at Hotel Woodward. Strange as it may seem the ladies outnumbered the men. It was a grand sight to see the many gathered in fives and sevens around tables.

The next luncheon meeting of the Alfred Club will be held early in May. For the benefit of the Aggies living within the city limit and who do not know about the Alfred Club and if interested in these luncheon meetings contact William Navin, 195 Broadway, New York City.

NOW ALL this brings to point a little story of two ancient Greek philosophers. These two men were held (Continued on page three)

March Of Time' In Assembly

A sequence of the "March of Time," a reel on the Aviation College, and a RKO Pathé News reel will be shown at the regular assembly Thursday morning.

The movies on the Air College will describe the school where the candidates for the air corps of the government are trained.

The first subject of the "March of Time" is "Finland". The second is entitled "The Laugh Trust" showing how Eddie Cantor and other comedians gather their material for radio and personal appearances. The third subject presents an interview with Ambassador Kennedy, recently appointed ambassador to England.

The RKO Pathé News reel includes remarks on "America's Stand" by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, material on the limestone industry, Ambassador Kennedy's reception at the Court of St. James, fashions, and some information about the Detroit Tigers baseball team.

Fiat Staff Elects Editors Tonight

Editorial staff of The Fiat Lux will elect 1938-39 officers at a meeting this evening at 7:15 o'clock in the Publications Office, E. F. Creagh, editor, said today.

The new staff will take over the paper starting with the first issue after spring recess, Creagh said.

He explained that the reason for holding elections before vacation was to give the new editor time to organize his staff, and that the paper's policy is to send the editor-elect to the intercollegiate Newspaper Association convention.

President's Greeting

It is late March; the sun is shining brilliantly; the snow banks are going into liquidation; spring is in the air. Many alumni groups are planning their spring meetings. I am glad to follow the suggestion of one of these groups and through the special issue of Fiat Lux send the sincere greetings of the President of the University to all groups and to individual alumni wherever the campus paper goes. I commend the staff of Fiat Lux for making such an issue possible.

I predict for all groups holding spring meetings the best times they have ever had. Undoubtedly President Gordon D. Phillips of the Alumni Association, Executive Secretary John Reed Spicer and Miss Ruth D. Whitford, Secretary, will be glad to help all they can. Indeed, they have helped much already. I hope to attend several of these get-togethers myself, and am as usual anticipating an interesting time. A few groups hold their dinner meetings in the fall.

The first group to convene this spring was the Washington branch. Olean, too, comes along in March. The New York branch, the oldest, the largest of all the local alumni units and in a sense the mother of all the others, placed its meeting this year later than usual. April 9 is the date and the Hotel McAlpin is the place. Preparations have been under way practically all the year for this great metropolitan event. As the ranks of the loyal alumni who originated that group so many years ago have thinned by the natural processes of time, its management has fallen into the hands of a most energetic body of able successors. Some eight hundred graduates and old students of Alfred University live in or near New York City. By capable officers and an extensive committee system these are kept in touch with each other, with the group, neighboring groups, and with the University. There will be a lively time at Hotel McAlpin April 9. A large representation is expected.

Hoping to see many of you at these dinners this spring, I am
Cordially yours,
J. Nelson Norwood,
President of Alfred University

Civilized Students

Colleges voting before Alfred in the Student Opinion Poll of the Brown University Daily Herald show a surprisingly large amount of vehement peace sentiment. In some institutions as many as seventy per cent of the students declared they would not cross the borders of the United States in any war.

"Slackers?" If you want to call them that; it's easy to tack a label on someone. But we prefer to regard these students as typifying the civilized person, who knows that war solves no problems and who, in the words of Paul Harris, "is willing to die for his country but not to kill for it".

Possibly some of these objectors of war will remain true to their beliefs even when a firing squad waits outside, demonstrating the same kind of courage that the early Christian martyrs showed, and possibly opening the way by their sacrifice to a worldwide retreat from the pagan front.

Undoubtedly many in Alfred will vote their unwillingness to participate in any aggressive war. Will any stick to their convictions when war comes? Some of us will pray that they will. The others can at least hope.

Delta Sig Party
Klan Old Clothes
Pi Alpha Pledges

BY KAY BORMAN

Approximately 60 collegians danced at the Delta Sigma Phi House Party, Saturday evening. The fraternity had the unusual distinction of being the only house to entertain during the week-end.

Music for the dancers was supplied by the Palmer Sound System. Refreshments were served during intermission.

Prof. and Mrs. Frank E. Lobaugh and Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Hinkle were the faculty guests.

Other guests included Al Mofeit, Bill Ryan, Bill Fellows, Martin Dykeman, George Batley, and Irving Hirschfeld.

Klan Alpine fraternity will hold an old clothes dance Friday night from 8-12 at the house. Special features will be arranged this week.

Music for dancing will be supplied by Jake Dorn and his band. Don Gibbs and "Chuck" Gilbo are making plans for the dance.

Pi Alpha Pi pledges will be honored Saturday night. An informal dance will be held in the Social Hall. Party chairman, Joyce Wanmaker, promises a popular orchestra.

Also entertaining Saturday evening will be the men of Bartlett. There will be music for dancing by Palmer. According to the signs, all Freshmen are invited to the annual Brawl provided that they bring a half dollar and a "drag".

Refreshments will be served during the evening. Russell Pardoe, chairman, will be assisted by Jim Rumsey, Phil Burdick, and Vince Pettit.

The High School Gym will become a French Cabaret on Monday evening, April 4. A 17th century farce, "Le Medicin Malgre Lui," is to be presented as the main attraction of the evening.

During the performance of the play costumed vendors will sell refreshments. Appropriate songs will be sung by members of the High School and College French departments.

Spring was officially welcomed by the Outing Club at 6 A. M., Saturday morning. Twenty-five members hiked to the Gorge for breakfast. Toast, coffee, bacon and eggs were cooked to campfire perfection. Ruth Crawford was in charge of the hike.

Carl Sandburg, lecturer, poet, and biographer, will be presented at the last program of the Alfred University Forum, Tuesday evening, April 5. Special dollar admission tickets will be available. Season tickets will also be accepted.

April 7, the night before Easter vacation, is the date scheduled for the Senior Ball at the High School Gym from 9-1. The dance is closed as usual. Bert Lynn is the chairman. The music will be furnished by Art Wexel and his band from Corning.

Something new for now are suits—popular every spring—but here is a chic idea—an all wool costume suit of a thin wool dress with a heavier wool coat.

Then there is a two-piece nubbed tweed suit with a pert jacket and contrasting scarf, buttons, and belt. The graceful swing of the skirt is reason enough for walking across the campus.

In harmony with spring flowers is a country suit of British woolens in such exhilarating colors as Willow Green, Wood Violet, or Jonquil Yellow....or contrasting colors between the jacket and skirt. Shetland wool seems to be the most satisfactory for campus wear although a more severely tailored suit of stripes on black or navy with white pique gloves and hat gives a Paris touch to the spring ensemble.

Augustana College faculty members sponsored a Recuperation Party for students who had just finished examinations.

University of Pittsburgh students are now working on their second all campus movie.

Goldie Becomes
Burdick Wizard;
Ghost Abdicates

BY THE EDITORS

THE GHOST of Burdick Hall has gone back underground, dragging his chains behind him.

He left a note for us, written of course in invisible ink, to this effect:

"I know when I'm licked. I thought because I could walk through walls and things that I was pretty good, but that guy Goldie—"

Below this touching little message was a shapeless blob that looked for all the world like a ghost's tear....

WHO IS this "Goldie" who now assumes the mantle of the Wizard of Burdick Hall?

His whole name, or all of it that will go into a line of type, is I. Goldenberg, and he was born in Port Jarvis, which has nothing to do with the discussion.

Why is he a wizard?
It's a long story:

We were sitting in our room one night reading Spinoza and eating popcorn when Goldie and his artist roommate, S. Ballard, came in with a deck of cards.

"I think I've seen this one before," we said wearily, but took one from the fan of cards Goldie shoved toward us.

"WHAT card did he take?" Goldie asked Ballard, who hadn't seen the face of the card.

"The king of hearts," spoke up Stanley brightly.

We blinked. "Do that again," we said. He did it again. We held the card so that neither Goldie nor Ballard could see it.

"Seven of clubs," announced Ballard promptly. Hanged if it wasn't.

It was the same way with the next six cards. A couple of times Ballard picked the wrong suit—but what can you expect from an art student?

"IT's a code," we doggedly insisted two hours later. "Somehow Goldie knows what card it is and somehow he signals Ballard. Maybe it's the way he holds the cards. Maybe it's the number of words he says. Maybe...."

We had insisted on the deck's being shuffled. We had demanded that Goldie say nothing and make no gestures. Still Ballard had picked 'em with scarcely an error.

"Let's see now," we said to ourselves, as we sank into a troubled sleep. "Ballard and Goldie come in. Goldie says for us to take a card. Then Ballard says....."

"Anyhow," we mumbled, as the town clock wheezed three times, "Goldie is the brains of the outfit. The guy is a wizard."

Life At Alfred: III
FRUSTRATION

The fact that I'm a genius I modestly acknowledge. In fact, at times I seem to me The wonder of this college. But who is me, I sadly see A very bad condition. I am unable to achieve The height of my ambition! I twist my features out of joint, I squint and sneer and frown, But I cannot raise one eyebrow And hold the other down!

Ruth Greene, Librarian

Quotes and Unquotes

"I think final examinations are a waste of time, for I find that very few students have changed their semester grade by taking a final. The time spent on those exams could be better used for further study." Purdue University's Prof. Seibert Fairman states a view held by examination students for many a year.

"If I had enough money of my own, I'd buy a little college in the sticks where I could develop football teams without interference from faculty or alumni." Jumping Joe Savoldi, University of Notre Dame All-American, has a new formula for making gridiron greats.

"Unselected mass education is in no sense a substitute for the more highly specialized instruction and training of the gifted individuals in each generation." Columbia University's Prof. W. C. Bagley, however, does want individuals trained to meet changing situations.

President Roosevelt is most popular man in the U. S....University of Denver students believe there should be more morning classes, fewer in the afternoon.

ANOTHER reason for the Ghost of Burdick Hall's sudden departure is that he was heavily disgusted with us for the way we treated him last week in this department.

"Fine thing," he told us before leaving. "You quote me as saying The Saxonian isn't worth two bits and then you have the nerve to swipe some of The Saxonian's left-over jokes to patch up that rag of yours."

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," he said. BOY, WERE WE!

Kappa Psi Stages Fast Finish Against Bullets; Wins Intramural Title

After passing up the first game of the playoffs, Kappa Psi came back in a whirlwind finish last week to take the final two games and the trophy. The scores were 23-10 and 19-10.

This season marks the third successive year that Kappa Psi has been in the playoffs and the first time that they have come through victorious.

Munger was high scorer for the victors, piling up a score of 16 points in the two games. Rollery and Argyros split the honors for the losers with eight points each.

Banquet

But one of the two, sad to say, was vain of disposition seeking always after laurels to heap upon himself. Thereupon he was moved by an evil spirit with a design to bring about defeat and discredit to his rival, the pattern of which was a riddle cleverly arranged and conceived in his mind with an evil purpose to trap his rival in speech.

Now he thought within himself saying, "I shall get a live bird and hide it in my hand and I shall say 'O ye great man of Greece, that which I have in my left hand, is it alive or is it dead'. If he say it is alive I will crush it, and if he say it is dead I will forthwith release the bird. Then I will have trapped him and be proclaimed the greatest in the land."

Rumors of this dialogue between these two philosophers caused a great commotion throughout the land. The time for this big day came and the multitudes standing in the arena were in numbers.

The moment had come for the debate and the crafty philosopher began putting the riddle to his rival: "O ye great man of Greece, that what I have in my left hand, is it alive or is it dead?"

A gentle hush came through the crowded arena and a deep silence followed. The expression on the faces of the people was one of bewilderment for never had they heard anything like before.

After a time the humble philosopher, appearing like one insensible to the crowd about him, faced his adversary. Pointing to that clinched hand he began slowly, "O Master, that which is in your hand—you alone have the will to crush it or give it life."

The moral is this—You alone have the will to come to the banquet; you alone have the will to make it a success; you alone have the will to fill the gap of those scattered here and there by your immediate presence, and you alone have the will to make it a happy reunion. How will you show your hand?

'Land, Church, Army Caused War'—Ringo

Professor Elbert W. Ringo, the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the International Relations Club held last Tuesday evening in Physics Hall, dealt with "Backgrounds of the Spanish Civil War," touching on the political and social situations prior to the present conflict.

Prof. Ringo outlined as the principal causes of the war:

1. The great power of land owners and the great amount of land concentrated under one head.

2. The immense power of the church in politics which provided for no liberalism in government.

3. The power of the army in affairs of state.

Professor Ringo stated that for 800 years, Spain has had little time to solve its internal problems due to constant struggle to protect itself and to keep its colonial possessions.

"After losing its colonial possessions in 1898, Spain had a chance for interior development but was hampered by the church, the army, and land owners.

"The revolt in 1931 provided a liberal constitution. The government, organized at that time, made a supreme effort to solve the historic problem of Spain. However, the church and other powerful bodies balked the government in its attempt at liberalism, making it impossible."

Before concluding, Professor Ringo described the regional difficulties involved in developing a modern Spain. He said that since the beginning, the Basques of northern Spain and the people of southern Spain have had differences that have caused much of the strife of civil war. Professor Ringo stated that in his opinion the present Spanish Civil War has been brewing for many years.

Other talks were given by Richard Samuelson, whose subject "Political Situation in Spain Today" described the various political interests of Spain now, the development of political parties, and the strength of each party; and by Angelina Boffa, who spoke on "Intervention and Non-Intervention in Spain" emphasizing the intervention of Germany, Italy, and Russia in the civil war.

Chairman Lebohner Lauds Work Of Lobaugh And Assistants

Giving but passing attention to the fall of Whitney, the fall of Austria, or the rise of Snow White, General Chairman E. K. Lebohner, in his first real interview given reporters this week, knuckled right to the point and observed that the Alfred Banquet on April 9, at New York's McAlpin was substantially existant.

"I put it to you," he said, "that the decision of President Lobaugh to invite Dr. Norwood, Dr. Seidlin, Mrs. Seidlin, Miss Becker, The Glee Club, as well as 1,000 other Alfred people was inspired. The program is definitely magnificent. I am content."

He brought out that the Committee of 100, some members of which started to work on the plans last June, had achieved certain ends already and were confident the affair would surpass previous ones in all details. He considered that Ted Lobaugh's choice of co-workers had been wisely and happily made.

Joseph B. Laura, Chairman of the Agricultural School group, who last year obtained greeting visits from "Cy" Kasper, Archie Champlin and Attorney General Bennett, as well as more Agricultural students than ever before attended, felt last year's record would be surpassed.

"Prognosticator" Poole, who last year named exactly the number who would be at the banquet says, "Add at least 75 more this year since the Ceramic Convention, which brought 104 Alfredians to New York City one week after last year's banquet and in effect was a competitor, will this year be held in New Orleans.

T. J. Ahearn (football captain, 1922) has prepared unusual name plates for lapels and the feminine counterparts.

"Naturally," Mr. Lebohner observed, "the committee has had certain problems. Even though we have for example, in Joe Seidlin more than a rival of Charlie McCarthy, and in

This information is of a great deal of value to any Alfred alumnus coming to New York for the first time, or coming for a few days to the Metropolitan area. It should be put away and saved against the time when the alumnus may be in New York with none of his old friends available to help him enjoy the sights of the city.

The New York Alumni Association of Alfred University serves, not only as a means of keeping Alfred alumni residing in the metropolitan area in touch with the college, but also is of value to an alumnus coming into that area for the first time.

The period of adjustment that anyone must make to new surroundings can definitely be shortened by calling the number of the hotel and asking them for the address of any old friends who reside in the vicinity of New York City.

If it so happens that the alumnus is in New York at the time of any one of the four annual luncheons, that person will find many of his old friends and make new ones by attending one of these luncheons. Everyone attending at least has the common interest of Alfred at heart.

The college friends that you wish to see also wish to see you and for this purpose have formed a club and have made arrangements so that by calling the Hotel Woodard, you can renew old acquaintances.
