A rubber-stamp gets ready to bite back.

IT HAS BEEN REMOVED around the campus that the Senate student is governing body of Alfred University. Said rumors main- tain that he has been known to perform many, often very interesting, duties.

Recent events, coming on the heels of many other similar events, belie that statement. Last Wednesday's Senate meeting was an interesting one. It was an extremely important Senate meeting because it served to show in no uncertain terms what the actual accomplishment of the students and the Uni- versity are toward the Senate.

We base this statement on two points: 1. General opinion among the students in the Senate's activities, yet are always ready to confess the honest efforts made by the Senate to maintain the best interests of the college.

2. General opinion among the students in the Senate's activities, yet are always ready to confess the honest efforts made by the Senate to maintain the best interests of the college.

At the beginning of this school year, an extremely expensive and overworked handbook. The mere fact that for more money you will be able to get a little more information in it than other hand- books portrays the honest efforts made by the Senate to maintain the best interests of the college.

We must put an end to this. The Senate had to do was to pay for it. They ran their business, and the handbook is a business as far as the Senate is concerned. It is an extremely expensive and overworked handbook. 21 Frost Harriers Report To Expectations

Twenty-one of the members of the Cortland team, under the leadership of James A. McElroy, last Monday voiced their intention of running for Cross-Country in the fall. This is an indication of the high quality of the Cortland team after winning the state championship last year.

Of these twenty-one cross-country teammates, fifteen have had previous Cross-Country experience, and the remaining six have other track experiences which will be useful in training for the coming year.

With the exception of two freshmen, Frank Sparks and Tony Monte, who have had no running experience, the other eighteen freshmen have had previous track experience.

For the coming year, Coach McElroy plans to have two or three classes of runners running for the team. With the exception of Frank Sparks, the other eighteen freshmen have had previous experience on high school teams.

The expectations for the coming year are high, and the team has already started to make plans for the fall.
