

Pair of weekend AU women's lacrosse games moved to Rochester due to weather

3/28/08

ALFRED, NY A pair of Alfred University home women's lacrosse games scheduled for this weekend have been moved to Rochester due to poor field conditions at Merrill Field caused by inclement weather. Alfred had been scheduled to host St. John Fisher at 1 p.m. Saturday, March 29. That game will now be played at Fisher, also on Saturday at 1 p.m. The Lady Saxons had been set to entertain Nazareth on Sunday, March 30, at 1 p.m. That contest will now be played at Nazareth on Sunday at 1 p.m. Alfred received about eight inches of snow overnight Thursday and Merrill Field could not be cleared in time to play Fisher and Nazareth at home. Alfred (1-2, 0-0 Empire 8) will play its next home game on Wednesday, April 2, at 4 p.m. against Empire 8 Conference foe RIT.
