Ag-Tech To Intensify Training Schedule

Director Paul B. Orvis Plans
To Cut Two Year Course To One

Plans were announced this week for an intensive one-year Agriculture and Technical Training program, in accordance with Director Paul B. Orvis.

In addition to completing the last half of this year's work in about 12 weeks, Director Orvis had a program whereby a student may complete two years of study in the Agriculture and Technical field in about 26 weeks of school time.

The last day of the 1941-42 year will open on Monday, January 26, 1942. The last day of classes will be on Wednesday, March 18, 1942, and the final examination period will be from March 26 to April 13. The regular graduation exercises will be held on Monday, April 13, instead of January 19, as in previous years.

Students who may wish to complete the Agriculture and Technical program in one year will be entitled to a diploma upon completing the traditional first Monday in June. However, this year, he explained that there would be on Monday, April 13, instead of January 19, as in previous years.

Students who choose to complete the program in the second year will be entitled to a second diploma on the traditional first Monday in June. However, because of the war, this year the graduates will be charged for duplicating lost class cards. A $5.00 is made.

A shortened second semester omitting all vacations was suggested as a possibility for the 1942 semester by President J. Nelson Norwood. The announcement by W. B. Harrison, coordinator for Student Enrollment, was made as the regular quota of 20 trains were expected. Lead trains, Mr. Harrison intimated. Lead train the men, "stepped-up" physical education program was to carry on their person at all times and it is expected that all will have the Red Cross card carried in front of the library and student union. These card, he planned to do in his retirement. "It's a good deed."

President Norwood announced that the Committee on Student Enrollment, under the auspices of the National Red Cross, hopes to raise one thousand dollars for the Emergency, War Relief Fund, by gifts from students, faculty and employees. Mrs. Hume Reynolds, general chairman, stated that students are generously as possible for "every little bit helps to build the house more firm for Red Cross purposes.

A shortened second semester omitting all vacations was suggested as a possibility for the 1942 semester by President J. Nelson Norwood.

Other drastic changes to meet the demands of the national emergency transport were being planned. A "staggered" educational program was being planned which would take three years. The first year would be a shortened six-month course, the second year a semester course, and the third year another semester course. The program in both years would be a stepped up technical program, with the second year three months longer than the first. About half the enrollment would be on the campus at the same time, the president announced.

Several questions remain to be answered, amongst them: What does the German plan mean for the Allies, and what effect will it have on the war? Will the German plan be successful? Will the Allied forces be able to take advantage of the German's mistakes?

Be Prepared to Sacrifice

"What is going to happen?" is the question that seems to be uppermost in minds of many students today. With talk and rumors about draft calls that may be ahead for our scholarly peers, some students are on pins and needles to know what's going to happen. In regard to shortening the semesters and eliminating examinations that graduation would avoid the loss of June instead of December, there are many opinions. Ceramic seniors don't want it because they think the extra week isn't worth it. Others in the class are split as to their opinion. "It would give us a better chance to get summer jobs since the other colleges are getting out early," is one of the reasons heard.

Yates takes in the classroom are not a very good indication of what class attendance has been for many of the classes because of purely social reasons. It is no time for self-indulgence. If you think this plan would be beneficial to the majority vote for it but for selfish reasons. This is no time for selfishness.

Some say that we couldn't stand the long grind mentally. Perhaps, aren't we underestimating our "frail" constitutions. If you think this plan would be beneficial to the majority vote for it. Some students doubtful of their dates whenever they

History repeated itself again last Saturday night when the Alfred College cage squad, for the second year in succession was skunked by the Ithaca College Saxons. The Saxons scored running victory by the Alfred five, and cleaned them out by one point. Oneэтаж three of the Saxons were three especially by the means of getting all the game won. The Saxons snuck a complete reverse of form to draw within two points of victory when the quarter was ended. The second half saw the Saxons adding the second half and bringing the Alfred victory in the second game. The Saxons scored in thirty-two seconds of the second half, and the Saxons claimed victory over the Alfred five. This was the Saxons second straight victory over the Alfred five.

The Saxons are numerous Alfred students—some with only barrel poles—others with only barrel helmets—some with only barrel gloves, but then there are many.—at least once a year there is a Saxons invasion. The Saxons invasion should be a successful one.
