

Garabedian scholarships awarded to history majors

8/12/08

Three Alfred University students will receive Garabedian Western Humanities scholarships, awarded annually to students whose outstanding performance in history courses in the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences has been outstanding. Presented by the Bertha and John Garabedian Charitable Foundation of Fresno, CA, the Garabedian scholarships are presented to students who have taken at least eight credits beyond their core requirements in the Division of Human Studies (history, philosophy, religious studies or fine arts); have earned at least a "B" in those courses; and who have at least a 3.0 grade point average overall. Garabedian Scholarship recipients for the 2008-09 academic year are: Jo Fenske, a senior from Wellsville, NY, and a graduate of Wellsville High School. She is a repeat winner of a Garabedian Scholarship, receiving the award for the third year. Ann Elizabeth Halbert-Brooks, a senior Glass Science Engineering major in the Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering, who is also earning a major in history. She is a daughter of Paul Brooks and Joan Halbert of Philadelphia, PA. Kristy Marie Sirianni, a senior history major from Hornell, NY. A graduate of Hornell High School, she is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sirianni.
