Sixty-three Freshman Women Sign Preferential Slips To Four Sororities

Ending with a formal tea at each sorority house Saturday afternoon, March 2, the rushing season of the four Alfred sororities terminated last week.

The first year in which the Council's new rushing system has been in existence, the '45-'46 season ended in the pledging of 63 freshman and transfer women, Tuesday evening.

Club Makes Plans

The cultural program to be given by the Spanish Club during Pan-American Week was the main topic of discussion at the Spanish Club meeting on March 8.

Anyone who is interested in Spanish or the Spanish-speaking countries is invited to attend the next meeting of the club, which is set for Tuesday, March 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Roland Warren will speak at Jewish Services, Friday evening at 7:15 in Kenyon Chapel. All students are invited to attend.

Telepathist To Give Assembly Demonstration

There won't be much standing room left in this Thursday's assembly when Dr. Bruno Furst, memory expert and telepathist, gives his astounding lecture demonstration "Use Your Head".

His powers of concentration enable him to regulate his heart beats or fix his mind on absolutely nothing for a number of minutes. Besides being a mnemonist he is also a professional handwriting expert, tournament rank chess player, and probably knows more than all the "Information Please" experts and Quiz Kids put together.

Working for a law degree in the University of Munich in 1811, Dr. Furst studied under the late Ludwig Pohlmann, inventor of methods for teaching languages quickly.

From here he branched out to telepathy, hypnotism and speed reading. He is surprised to learn that to the American public, telepathy and hypnotism are still not much more than "night club entertainments".

Dr. Furst cannot increase your power of memory but he can make you get your "money's worth" out of it.

Banquet Ends A Successful French Week

Midst the glow of candlelight in a semi-formal atmosphere the eleventh "Banquet de la Saint-Charlemagne," the climax of French Week, was held Thursday, March 7, at Social Hall.

In France, January 28, is set aside for the celebration of Saint-Charlemagne, who is the patron saint of French schools. On this day, students who rank first in their classes present a program.

Roth String Quartet Presents Forum Program March 20th

Four internationally famous names in the chamber music world will come to Alumni Hall Wednesday night, March 20, in the personnel of the Roth String Quartet to present the fourth program of the current Forum season.

Enjoying an enviable international reputation, the Roth Quartet has given International Festivals in London, Amsterdam, Salzburg, Venice, Washington, Moscow and Mexico City and through its phonograph repertoire has reached many other countries throughout the Americas and Europe.

Graduates of the famous Royal Hungarian Academy of Music in Budapest in 1917, the Quartet's four members were invited to the United States for the first time in 1928 by the Library of Congress, Coolidge Foundation, in Washington, D. C., for the Tenth Anniversary of Mrs. Coolidge's Berkshire Chamber Music Festivals.

Winter Sports Club Lays Plans For Next Year

Winter has passed with little or no concrete action from the Winter Sports Club. However, now that spring has made its entrance and hopeful youths are dreaming of sun baths and golden tans, skiers and skaters are laying plans for a big winter for next year.

There was a meeting of the ring leaders Wednesday evening at the home of Charlotte Albiston. It was decided at this meeting that there had been enough procrastination and immediate action would have to be taken.

And so they started, and on no little scale either. This coming summer will see great action on Alfred's campus, most of it taking place by the famous water tower.

Gov. Dewey Meets With University Heads To Solve Housing Need

State Officials To Visit A. U. Campus In Immediate Future To View Situation

On March 7, a meeting was called in Albany by Governor Thomas E. Dewey for the purpose of working out plans to accommodate 85,000 veterans who will wish to attend colleges next year.

Seven Beauties Compete For St. Pat's Queen

Two redheads, two blondes, two brunettes and a lone brunette emerged as winners in the all-campus voting for St. Pat's Queen candidate last week.

Photographs of these campus belles will be poured over by executives of the large industrial concerns in the ceramic field and after some deliberation the lucky winner will be selected.

All seven girls will appear at the semi-formal dance Friday night, March 22—the climax of the St. Pat's Festival sponsored by Senior Ceramic Engineering students for the enjoyment of everyone on and off campus.

The campus beauty chosen Queen by the ceramic industrialists will lead the procession into the Men's Gymnasium, where hundreds of eager dancers will be awaiting her arrival, sometime before midnight.

Following her will be the six others chosen as "tops" for their good looks and personalities. As the climax to the procession, while cameras flash in all parts of the gym, Saint Patrick himself will crown her Queen of the Saint Patrick's Festival.

Gubernatorial greetings and best wishes from Thomas E. Dewey have provided an incentive to the members of the St. Pat's Board to make the affair completely "out of this world," as any of them will tell you.

Final arrangements for Ken Renick and his orchestra of Rochester have been made and a Syracuse decorator has been engaged to transform the Gym into a real paradise for Saint Pat's celebrants.

The Latin Club will hold a meeting on March 12 at 8:00 p. m., at Bartlett. The play, "Rudens," will be read, and further plans will be made for the annual Latin Club banquet.

NEWMAN CLUB MEETING in KENYON CHAPEL Thursday, March 14, at 7:15 p. m., Miss Mabel Taylor of the Spanish Department will be the guest speaker. All Catholic students are invited to attend.

Walters Presides at Group The program began with a general meeting in the executive chamber of the state department, which was addressed by Governor Dewey. Following this, and a general discussion, the college representatives were divided into four groups based on each college's location in the state, to discuss the specific problems in those areas.

Discussion centered around two general questions: First, What could the colleges do in meeting this problem by a more intensive use of existing facilities? Secondly, What additional temporary housing and instructional facilities would be necessary to enable colleges to meet the emergency? It was considered that these veterans would need accommodations in excess of the normal civilian frosh class requirements next fall.

Utilizing Navy Base Various suggestions were outlined by the Governor to increase the college facilities. He urged the institutions to go on double sessions, to establish extension centers, to utilize the classrooms on an all-day basis, and to provide bus service for transporting students who may find living accommodations away from the campus. Tremendous educational centers at such military bases as the Sampson Naval Training Station might be established, the Governor pointed out.

Situation in Alfred In Alfred the principle problem is housing. It is estimated that if housing were available as many as 200 more students could be accommodated at present in the Liberal Arts and Ceramic Colleges. 350 students could be admitted to the Ag-Tech Institute, but there would need to be some additions to the instructional facilities. Various proposals were made by the Alfred delegation as to how these problems could be met on this campus.

Churchill's O.S.C.

Defining the current Overall Strategic Concept, a term borrowed from the Military, as "nothing less than the safety and welfare, the freedom and progress of all the homes and families of all the men and women in all lands," Winston Churchill delivered a spirited address last week on the occasion of the conferring of degrees on him and on President Truman by Westminster College in Missouri.

The reverberations doubtless would be stilled by now had Mr. Churchill contented himself with conventional statements like that above and like his fine closing passage: "If we adhere faithfully to the Charter of the United Nations and walk forward in sedate and sober strength, seeking no one's land or treasure, seeking to lay no arbitrary control upon the thoughts of men, if all British moral and material forces and convictions are joined with your own in fraternal association, the high roads of the future will be clear, not only for us but for all, not only for our time but for a century to come." This sounds like a great and idealistic statesman, like the familiar "Winnie" Churchill who held the fierce loyalty of his fellow Englishmen during his stay at Number 10 Downing Street.

But Churchill did not content himself with anything so seemingly mild. He had "bigger fish to fry," and the largest of all was Russia. The Britisher apparently is alarmed at the size of the Soviet sphere in Europe, the emergence of the Communist parties in the eastern European states, in Germany, and in a great number of countries far from the Russian frontiers and throughout the world. Except in the U. S. and in the British Commonwealth he views the work of the Communist Fifth Columns and their absolute obedience to Russia as "a growing challenge and peril to Christian civilization."

The immediate solution to our problems is rather a novel one, but has a familiar ring. It is a bold stroke, and neatly made. Namely the "fraternal association of the English speaking peoples." Such a relationship would include "the growing friendship and mutual understanding between our two vast but kindred systems of society, the continuance of the intimate relationships between our military advisers, leading to common study of potential dangers, the similarity of weapons and manuals of instruction, and the interchange of officers and cadets at technical colleges." "If the population of the English-speaking Commonwealth be added to that of the United States, with all such cooperation implies in the air, on the sea all over the globe and in science and in industry, and in moral force, there will be no quivering, precarious balance of power to offer its temptation to ambition or adventure. On the contrary, there will be an overwhelming assurance of security."

Well, there it is. Will it be a U. S.-British alliance against the U. S. S. R.? Certainly there are forces in the U. S. which would repudiate this statement. The more radical factions would yell down the suggestion, while the more conservative, and we think the wiser, would say "let's wait awhile; we haven't seen the U. N. O. in operation yet."

Al-Vets

The newest and perhaps the most powerful organization on campus has emerged during the past week with a new constitution and a number of plans to improve existing facilities. The Alfred University Veterans Organization, growing from the Sons of the Broken Wing, has potentialities for being an organization to which the Administration can look for suggestions, and the remainder of the student body for action.

The Sons of the Broken Wing held a respected place in campus life, one to which the Al-Vets group succeeds. With such a good beginning, the new group should be an organization to which we can point with pride. So if it's luck you're needing, vets, here's to you.

Incidentally, though we can't speak for Kilroy, WE think that a bus service from Hornell is an excellent idea, Mr. Klinetsky.

Editor, FIAT LUX:

President Walters' letter on the maintenance of high scholastic standards in the University which was printed in the FIAT LUX on February 26, seems to be very timely and particularly appropriate to the situation in which the University finds itself at the present time.

In the colleges over the country where the veterans are returning to complete their education, there is definite evidence of great interest on their part in their studies and of zeal for making the most of their educational opportunities. This fact itself with a large number of veterans in college will have the effect of raising the standards of scholastic achievement on the part of all students. Alfred University finds itself at this time in an embarrassing situation because our housing facilities will be taxed to the limit in accommodating the large number of students who are applying for admission. Indeed, it is going to be impossible for the University to admit more than a fraction of those who will apply. These facts mean only one thing and that is that the College of Liberal Arts will find it necessary to limit its work with those students who are capable of doing good college work. It is well known to the students that there are certain scholastic cumulative indices which have been published which a student must earn in order to be considered in good standing and able to continue without probation. I want to say, then, that for this semester, in general, if students who are now on probation are not able to remove the probation by the end of the semester the necessities of the situation will require that such students be asked to withdraw in order to make room for students who are more capable.

I am, therefore, hopeful that the entire student body of the College of Liberal Arts will make the most of their opportunities during this semester that there may be as few compulsory withdrawals at the end of this year as possible.

Very truly yours,
 Alfred E. Whitford, Dean
 College of Liberal Arts

Veterans' Column

By George Klinetsky

A meeting was held in Physics Hall last Thursday night, for the main purpose of having a discussion on the new constitution for the Vets Club. Since the old name, Sons of the Broken Wing, was no longer desirable, a new name, Alfred University Veterans Organization, was proposed and accepted by the members of the club present. Frank Heasley presented the constitution to the quorum, and after much discussion, it was accepted with a few changes. A few of these changes will be mentioned. In order to have a quorum, 20 per cent of the active members must be present. In order to amend the constitution, 50 per cent of the active members must be present. An active member is one who has paid his initial membership fee of $1. Also, this membership fee will be the only fee which the veteran will have to pay as long as he attends Alfred University.

At recent meetings there were heated debates as to the election of officers. At last it has been decided that elections of officers will be held during the first meeting after Spring Vacation. The newly elected officers will take office during the first meeting in the Fall.

The constitution will soon be sent to the Student Senate for ratification.

St. Pat's festival is close at hand, and the Vets Club will be there with a float, and I don't mean an ice cream float. If it rains that fateful day, then we shall float our way through that parade (I had to get one in.)

Gripes were more or less taken care of at this meeting. It seems that some vets were thinking of having a bus bring students back to Alfred before closing hours, on Saturday nights. This seems like a good idea but is there enough of a demand to warrant such a facility? How about you, Kilroy? What's your opinion?

Officially, veterans are not entitled to pencils, paper, and the like, as these items are supposed to be covered by their subsistence allowance. Okay, so you didn't get your check on the first of the month. In that case, see the grievance committee, of the veterans organization, and the matter will be attended to immediately. As has been shown in the past, veterans who aren't receiving their checks regularly have done something to delay the issuance of such checks.

Social Hall

Social Hall, that nice looking building at the west end of University Place, offers its facilities to all student, faculty, and faculty-sponsored town organizations. The lounge with a large fireplace, a radio and phonograph, the dining-room, and the kitchen are available to all groups on campus.

Since its opening in 1930, Social Hall has been the location of many big events. Mrs. Ray Wingate, who is in charge of the Hall remembers the occasion of receptions for such people as Paul Robeson, Lucius Beebe, Maurice Hindus and Edwin Markham, after Forum performances. Wedding receptions, class and club reunions, club meetings, dramatic performances have all taken place at Social Hall.

Regular Programs Held

There are several regular activities at the Hall. On Sunday afternoons between 2 and 3 p.m., the R. F. A. sponsors the Music Hour, an hour of recorded classical music. Sunday evenings at 7:30, the

A.U. To Enter Full Time Intercollegiate Sports Program Next Year

Basketball, Cross-Country, Football, Wrestling, Track To Be Major Competitions

Yesterday, Coach McLane released some information that many Alfred students have been waiting for since the beginning of the war. Unless unforeseen circumstances arise Alfred will once more be going back on a full-time intercollegiate sports program next year. The Saxons will be competing against teams like Colgate, Cornell, Army, University of Toronto and many other large schools.

This coming autumn, Alfred will be playing football and be running a cross-country team. The schedule of the football games appears in this week's FIAT. In the winter, Coach McLane explained that Alfred will be supporting both basketball team and wrestling team. When spring comes Alfred will be competing in three major sports: track, tennis, golf. If basketball this last season is any indication, it should be very successful in a full-time sports program; for the first time in the basketball history of Alfred, the sporting department can show a slight profit. The ruling that "Frosh" are not allowed to play on varsity teams will be discontinued until the fall of 1947. This will mean that new men entering school will be allowed to fill varsity positions providing they have the necessary abilities.

Many former athletes are now returning to the Alfred campus. A number of these former students participated in football and track. Next week's FIAT will give you a chance to meet some of these former players whom you are really going to hear a lot about next year.

An important announcement concerning track will be released by the FIAT next week. It will explain the try-outs for the track team and the competition that Alfred will encounter in the spring.

Senate Sponsors Tourney

The Student Senate is sponsoring an inter-house bridge tournament to be played off sometime in the near future.

Anyone interested in participating should notify Carolyn Torrey '46, at Sigma Chi.

A committee of bridge players on campus is now being formed to determine a method of playing the games off.

Social Hall

R. F. A. presents its weekly programs under the fine direction of Chaplain Napier and the R. F. A. Cabinet which range anywhere from heated discussions of current events to community singing.

Every third Monday evening of the month, the Hall is turned over to the faculty for their regular meetings. On the other Monday nights Social Hall is used by the Independents.

On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons Mrs. Seidlin conducts her music appreciation classes.

Social Hall Open Two Nights

On Friday and Saturday nights, Social Hall is open to the public. There is dancing in the lounge to recorded music. Down-stairs in the dining-room are ping-pong, playing cards, chess, checkers and various other games. All are welcome to these informal get-togethers.

Any group desiring to use Social Hall may obtain permission by speaking to Mrs. Wingate. Miss Etta J. Witter is in charge of the kitchen.

Here is a unique opportunity for social affairs. Let's take advantage of it.

THE COMPLETE 1946 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE AS RELEASED

|------------|---------------------------------|
| October 5 | Hartwick at Alfred |
| October 12 | Brooklyn at Brooklyn |
| October 19 | Clarkson at Alfred (Homecoming) |
| October 26 | Cortland at Alfred |
| November 2 | Juniata at Huntingdon, Pa. |
| November 9 | Buffalo at Buffalo |

Coach McLane Announces Six Game Football Schedule

Director James A. McLane of the Department of Athletics has announced a six-game football schedule for the 1946 season. This will be the first intercollegiate football in Alfred since the 1941 squad burned up the gridiron.

The season will open on October 5, with Hartwick invading our local grounds.

October 19, will be Homecoming Day, when Alfred students, faculty and townspeople will have the privilege of welcoming for a short visit many of the alumni. This is a day on which the sororities, fraternities and other houses are open for "inspection" to the "old timers," providing a place where they can gather, reminisce and meet new friends.

Homecoming is the sort of thing that has been absent from Alfred for several years, long enough so that most of the present students are not acquainted with its full significance. Clarkson will furnish the opposition at the football game which will be played on this day.

Three games are scheduled to be played in Alfred with Hartwick, Clarkson and Cortland as the invaders.

The 1941 football squad, last of Alfred's football teams, under the direction of Coach Alex Yunevich had a record of four wins, two losses and one tie.

Coach Yunevich again is at the helm and already has started indoor drills. Forty-five men turned out for the first session and more are expected between now and next fall.

The Huskies showed decided strength over the Eagles in marking up a 32-21 win. Among the Huskies the score was pretty well divided up, while Thompson led the losers.

This week the league is starting on a new plan. Instead of the usual two games per night, there will be four games which will be made possible by playing across the court. Come down, spectators; you will be able to see two good games of basketball at the same time.

League Plays 9 More Games

The Intramural League moved at its same swift pace again this week to play off nine games, making the total played fourteen. Several teams have begun to shape up now, so it is possible to tell what can be expected of them. The team which has improved the most since the last round seems to be the Rural Engineers, who have won one game and put up two good battles in their other contests. Of the new teams the Huskies and the Ice Cubes are both strong, and the Wheaton House team has shown improvement since their start.

In the first game of the week the Eagles walked away from the Ice Cubes in the second half to draw down a 28-13 victory. For the winners, Thompson and Cornfall led the scoring, while among the losers it was quite well divided up.

The Rural Engineers won their first game by a 28-24 decision over Kappa Psi in over-time. The Engineers led most of the way, but the fraternity men closed the gap in the final minutes making the over-time necessary. Folts led the scoring for the evening with 14 points, while the opponents, Kappa Psi, placed the next two men, Farr and Dorsey with 9 and 7 points, respectively.

Next, the Huskies handed Klan Alpine a 23-12 defeat. Both teams got off to a slow start and Klan led 6-5 at the half. Then, however, the Huskies started to roll, chalking up their one-sided victory. High scorers were Grogg for the winners and Setchel, each with six points.

The Wheaton House surprised and upset Delta Sig 30-21; it was Delta's first loss. The second half again told the story as the Wheaton Club tallied 19 points during that period. Zak led the winners and Sherwood and Milligan the losers.

The Rural Engineers put up a good struggle, but were unable to hold the Ellis Manor men and thus came out on the short end of a 24-15 score. Archie was the high man with 10 markers, while Barnes of the winners and H. Zygmunt each tallied 6.

An exciting game Wednesday night saw the Ice Cubes beat the Celtics 38 and 37. Close all the way, the score was 19-all at the half. As the end of the game drew near, the Celtics led 37 to 35. However, a foul shot and a last-minute bucket gave the Ice Cubes the winning margin. For the losers, Jamison chalked up 12, followed by teammate Saunders with ten. For the Ice Cubes, Deni tallied 10 and St. John 9 points.

The next game saw the Ice Cubes back in action in a close game; again they came out with a one-point edge, downing Klan 15 to 14. Coming from behind in the last quarter Deni and Wallace led the winners, while Holman was high for the evening with 8.

Leading all the way, Ellis Man-

Pi Alpha Loses To Sigma Chi

Two interhouse basketball games have been played since the last edition of the FIAT. The highlight of the week was Sigma Chi's 27-19 victory over Pi Alpha, Monday night. Town triumphed over Brick I, possessor of last year's trophy, with a one-sided score of 55-8.

Two other games scheduled for last week were forfeited. Theta Chi forfeited to Omicron and to Sigma Chi.

The Sigma Chi-Pi Alpha game started swiftly as Sigma Chi built up a lead which was not seriously threatened until the third quarter when Pi Alpha nearly succeeded in evening up the score. The game was one of the fastest and best played yet seen in this tournament. High scorers were Torrey for Sigma Chi and Macaulay for Pi Alpha.

Barnard Speaks On Truman Administration

Dividing his topic into four groupings, Dr. Ellsworth Barnard spoke on the Truman Administration at a meeting of the newly-formed campus discussion group last Thursday evening.

Foreign Policy, the Domestic Situation Civil Liberties, and the Atomic Bomb were the main categories with which Dr. Barnard dealt. Praising the methods which the U. S. has used in dealing with Japan, he pointed to the great success which we have had in governing conquered Japan without having to use violence as a governmental tactic. In comparison, the U. S. has met with failure in Italy, where a new fascist party is coming to the front and in Germany, where "there is no evidence that we know for what purpose we are occupying".

Truman Surpasses on Argentine Issue

In Argentina, Dr. Barnard feels that Truman has done better than his predecessor, F. D. R. However, it is too late to enact a strong policy now. In Russia we have "deteriorated terrifically," as evidenced by the fact that Winston Churchill feels that the time is ripe to suggest a military alliance between the United States and Great Britain against Russia. Dr. Barnard sees Mr. Truman as too much of an optimist concerning the outcome of this situation.

Public Needed Facts

Feeling that the Administration has made a mess of the strike situation the speaker suggests that President Truman should have tried to mobilize public opinion on the side of labor presenting all the facts to the public.

Dr. Barnard interprets Mr. Truman's pronouncements "Just as liberal as those of Roosevelt," though the former hasn't a forceful enough personality to carry them through.

This group will hold its next meeting Thursday night at 8:00 in the Lounge located on the second floor of the Ceramic Building. All interested students and faculty members are welcome, both to the meeting and to the discussion which follows.

Winter Sports

(Continued from page one) of the tower. This rink will be 200 feet long and 100 feet wide. It will be flooded from the water supply in the tower and skating enthusiasts will find the ice smooth and very much to their liking. . . .

There is a possibility of having not only one but two stupendous ski trails, one very slow one for those who are just getting their ski-legs and one for those in more advanced groups. The beginners' slope will be southeast of the water tower and will give those who need it plenty of space. . . .

The center for all winter sports will be in a shelter built near the pump house. . . . This shelter will not only protect the bench warmer from snow and sleet but also from the freezing cold. It will be gas heated; that is the familiar gas stove will be installed.

These ideas are mainly Coach McLane's, Prof. Warren's and Prof. Frechette's. Leave us give credit where credit is due.

Money, in case you were wondering, for this great undertaking will come from the Athletic Board of the University and will be paid back by various means

March 16 will see two interested faculty members out by the water tower staking out prospective ski trails. Any persons who feel that they can lend constructive aid to this venture are cordially invited to be present. Other additional suggestions as to location of the skating rink, ski trails and toboggan runs may be referred to Pres. Dick Smith, who is always happy to receive them.

Dr. Warren Speaks On Russia At R.F.A. Meeting Sunday Eve.

"Democracy and totalitarianism don't mix," Dr. Roland O. Warren asserted in his discussion of "Totalitarianism and the United States," at the Sunday night meeting of the R. F. A.

In definition of the two terms, he said, "Totalitarianism is a system of government which strictly regulates the activities of all its citizens in all spheres of endeavor." Dr. Warren pointed out that totalitarianism does not necessarily involve racism or aggression. During the war, the United States was fighting Germany, whose totalitarianism did include those aspects, and she, the United States, had as her ally the nation Russia, whose totalitarianism does not include them.

"An adequate description of democracy is, he continued, "that it is a social order within a system of government" which involves six points. These are: (1) free expression of political opinion by minorities; (2) method for legal remodification of policies when demanded; (3) large sphere of choice in occupation, religion, family life, use of leisure time, and the like; (4) free development of science and humanities; (5) equality of opportunity in all phases of life; (6) economic security and just distribution of the products of industry.

Comparing the United States and Russia as to these six points, Dr. Warren said that Russia has made a sincere effort to put points five and six into practice, to incorporate them into her totalitarianism, while the U. S. democracy is sadly lacking on these two points, considerably stressing the first four.

The speaker then sketched the activities of the Russian-Allied communists during the last decade. Before Munich the "line" of the Communist Party was one of world revolution. This lasted until Hitler became a serious threat to Russia.

This record, Dr. Warren went on to say, is significantly consistent with the foreign policy of the Soviet Union, and he pointed out that it is still going on. Since the war the Communist party has excluded from its ranks several who continued collaboration with the Capitalists, a practice that had been sanctioned by the party during the war.

The question arises: Why are people turning to Russia for a solution of their problems? One reason is the excellent work carried on by the Communist underground in Europe during the war years. It is natural to conclude from this success that Communism must have something. "Economic plainning is the inevitable result of the industrial revolution," said Dr. Warren. Another reason given was that democratic Capitalism has not been able to achieve a sufficient measure of economic security. Men who are hungry are wont to revolt.

"I feel that it may take Europe a century to regain the political liberties that it is giving up in so

Ehrens '48, performed the duties of "Mistress of Ceremonies"; Roxanne Roberts '48, spoke on "La Normandie dans le posse"; June Allan '48, discussed "Visagis de la Normandie"; and Lois Sutton '48, told about "Un Monument Normand". Russell Langworthy, a veteran who spent some time in France, related a few personal experiences he had while there.

A trio composed of Jean Camagni '46, Lois Sutton '48, and June Allan '48, sang "EnRavenant des Nous" and "La Normandie," folk lore from the Norman region. Throughout the complete banquet program, Norman songs were sung by all who were present. Betty Gerstenfeld '49 and Joan Brown '49, both donned in Norman and Briton dresses, served.

Then the group moved to a more homey atmosphere, the upstairs hall in Social Hall where a demitasse was served and a "Concert de Salon" was presented. Bruce Angell '49, presented a piano recital including "Ballade," "La Plus que lente," "Pour le Piano," and "Reflets dans l'eau," all by Debussy. Jean Camagni '46, sang "Elegie" (Massenet) and "Je veux vivre de Romeo et Juliette" (Gounod). Arthur Kagan '49 sang "Chauson espagnol" (Ravel), and "Après un rive" (Faure). Norman Austin, a student at Alfred-Almond High School, highly interested in French, presented "Le Cygne" (Saint Saens) and "Romance" (d'Ambrosio). Lois Sutton '48, served as accompanist throughout the program. The complete program received much applause from an appreciative audience.

Praise should be given to Trudy Epstein '48 and Carol Sampson '47 for their work in portraying a Norman market which is on exhibition at the "Corner Store".

The Bayeux tapestry through the courtesy of Mr. Clarence Mitchell, will be kept on display in the library throughout this week. Without Mr. Mitchell's aid, the French Club would never have been able to exhibit this famous eleventh century tapestry.

many places today." To help the world to get to its feet, Dr. Warren stated that the six points of a democratic government must be applied to our institutions, for anything that is strong in the world has its power in the strength of its institutions.
