

Fraternity Rush Season Opens With First Parties Thursday, Meeting Today

Interfraternity Council Rushing Rules Will Be Explained Tonight At Bartlett; Freshman, Transfers To Visit Frats

The rules and regulations of fraternity rushing will be explained to University students by Jerome Lyons, Interfraternity Council President, at a meeting of the freshmen men at 6:30 p.m. this evening in Bartlett lounge. This meeting represents the first step in six weeks of rushing, in which freshmen and transfer students will have a chance to visit every house on the campus. Preferential night, when rushees will visit the house of their choice, will be held Nov. 18. Tapping will occur three nights later.

The first rushing party will take place from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday evening. Succeeding rushing parties will be held every Friday with an added party taking place Wednesday, Oct. 26. Before each party freshmen and transfer students will receive invitations to one of the house parties from the Interfraternity Council. In this way, rushees will have a chance to meet the men of each house.

The 7 to 9 p.m. time limit will be adhered to with a certain amount of rigidity, according to Lyons. "All prospective pledges must leave the houses by 9:30 p.m.," he warned. He pointed out that late parties would interfere with other campus social events.

Preferential night, designated for November 18, is the time when the rushees make their first and second choice of fraternities. These will be indicated on cards issued by the

Alfred Radio Show To Give Intramural Last-Minute Scores

Flash intramural scores from Saturday morning's football games have been added to the features presented on "Calling the Campus," WWHG's new radio show dedicated to Alfred students and faculty.

Fiat reporters will phone in scores to keep late risers informed as to the state of their favorite teams and these will be read as they come in.

This program, heard from 11-12 a.m., every Saturday over WWHG, Hornell, is still shaping itself according to what the students want. "We are anxious to receive any suggestions students may have concerning this, their program," said Lloyd Watson, master of ceremonies.

Last week's interview with Robert Cotton '50, secretary of ACS, was the first in a series of interviews explaining activities of the various colleges and departments in the University. Previously, in connection with specific campus activities, James A. McLane, director of athletics, and David Crump '50, and Sandra Licht '51, were heard.

In addition, the radio edition of the Fiat with timely bits of news and features is broadcast.

Mayor Asks Alfred To Conserve Water

A water shortage threatens Alfred according to Mayor W. B. Harrison. Although a test well will be drilled at Alfred Station within two weeks it is not expected to ease the situation until we have more rain.

Mayor Harrison and Superintendent of Public Works Robert Place called for conservation of water. Mr. Place said that if each person would use five gallons less water every day the saving would be about 15,000 gallons a day or eight to nine inches in the reservoir.

Mr. Place asked students especially to conserve water used in taking baths and showers. Largest water user on the campus is the Brick, which uses about one million gallons every three months. Saxon Heights is second highest with about 880 thousand gallons used every quarter year. Bartlett accounts for about 700 thousand gallons.

Affairs Committee Elects Two Officers

Daniel Foster '50, Student Senate president, and Jeanette Klimajeski '50, Fiat Lux editor, were elected chairman and secretary respectively Wednesday at the first Students Affairs Committee of the year. The S.A.C.'s meeting time was changed from Wednesday afternoon to 4:45 p.m. Tuesday.

The committee heard reports on several situations that had troubled the campus last year. Dean Edward L. Hawthorne announced that the post office's general delivery problem had been taken care of by assigning post office boxes to incoming freshmen before their arrival on the campus.

Dean T. A. Parish reported that through planning the campus parking situation had been greatly relieved to the extent that the number of parking violations has dropped to 10-15 percent of last year's.

Plans for a possible Community Chest drive were discussed by the committee, but nothing was decided because the committee wanted more information on previous drives.

Available Rooms In Town Listed On Bulletin Board

Students who are interested in obtaining rooms in town may consult the bulletin board in Dean Hawthorne's office. Dean Hawthorne has announced however, that there are few rooms available at this time.

19 AT Freshmen Practice Salesmanship Approach

Mitchell Announces 3 Tons Of Library Volumes Discarded

Almost three tons of useless volumes were discarded this summer, revealed Clarence M. Mitchell, librarian. The collections of books at both Greene Hall and the Carnegie Library have been sorted over, weeded out and reclassified.

Many collections on specific subjects were made, and are now more conveniently accessible. Among the several subjects that received this attention were chemistry, geology, and education.

Formerly, the literature section occupied all of the south wing of the main floor, and during the summer it was expanded so that it now includes almost the entire north wall. A considerable number of volumes have been bought for addition to this section, but due to the lack of library help, are not yet available for general use.

Some old newspapers and back-issue periodicals of the last century will be moved to Greene Hall for storage or discarded. This will make newer papers more easily available. Also planned, but contingent on the help available, is the display of special collections on subjects of current interest.

Leslie Shershoff To Give Talk At Zeno Club Tonight

The first meeting of the Zeno Club will be held at 8:15 p.m. tonight in room 20, Physics Hall, announced President Leslie Shershoff '50.

Shershoff, tonight's speaker, will discuss the "Duo-Decimal System," the system of numbers using 12 digits instead of the usual 10. No knowledge of mathematics beyond high school algebra is needed to understand the talk.

Sixteenth Ceramic Convention To Meet In Alfred This Week

Nearly 200 ceramic industrialists will meet at Alfred Saturday for the 16th annual convention of the Ceramic Association of New York. The meeting will coincide with Alfred's Homecoming celebration and will commemorate the 50th anniversary of the ceramic college.

He will speak on "Ultra High Speed Motion Picture Photography" and will supplement his talk with a movie and demonstrations. The meeting at 2 p.m. in Alumni Hall will be open to the public.

Dr. O'Brien received his Ph.D. from Yale in 1918 and has been employed as a research engineer with Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. and physicist with the J. N. Adam Memorial Hospital. In 1936 he became professor of physical optics at the University of Rochester and has been research professor of physics and optics since 1946.

The main address of the morning will be given by Dr. Robert B. Sosman of the department of ceramics at Rutgers University. His

Seniors Have Your Chest Sizes Ready

Seniors may place orders for caps and gowns between 1 and 5 p.m. tomorrow, in the office of the Dean of Women. Chest or bust measurements will be taken at the Dean's office, but seniors have been advised to be prepared with their own height, weight and cap size.

Mrs. Marion Gardiner, secretary to Dean Elizabeth Geen, asked that only those who have labs all afternoon come between the hours of 1 and 1:30 p.m. "Otherwise," she pointed out, "there will be no chance to accommodate those who really must come at this time."

A rental price of $2.35 will be due when the order is placed. Five dollars will be due when the gown is received. This can be paid when it is returned in its box. If the senior fails to return the box he will be accessed 15 cents.

Three To Represent Alfred At Meeting

Alfred will be represented threefold at the annual meeting of the New York State Regional Political Science Group to be held this Friday and Saturday at the University of Rochester.

Prof. C. K. Snyder, former assistant professor of political science at Alfred, will lead one of the panel discussion groups. Professor Snyder's group will discuss "The New York State requirements for the teaching of state and national constitutions and history."

Besides Prof. Snyder's panel discussion, there will be several others plus "The Hoover Commission Report," an address by Prof. James K. Pollack of the University of Michigan.

Some 200 Alfred alumni are expected to return to their Alma Mater Saturday to renew acquaintances and try to bring back the "good ole' days."

First Departmental Ag-Tech Assembly To Meet Thursday

The first departmental program assembly will be held in Ag-Tech, Thursday. This assembly period is set aside once each month to provide time for departmental and club activities during the regular assembly period from 8:50 to 10:20 a.m.

The following tentative group schedule has been released by T. A. Parish, dean of men: construction service and refrigeration students will meet in Alumni Hall to hear R. R. Humbert of the Carrier Corporation speak on "Opportunities in the Industrial Field." Business and secretarial groups, with the exception of medical secretaries, will meet in the library. Frozen foods students will plan their Fall Festival exhibit. Lab technicians and medical secretaries will meet in room 13, Ag-Tech main building.

All other departments will meet as instructed by respective department heads.

Committee Named For Inauguration

Plans now are underway for the inauguration of Alfred's ninth president, Dr. M. Ellis Drake. The official inauguration will take place Founders' Day, Nov. 3.

Senior pictures will be taken within a couple of weeks according to John Bradley, editor. Pictures will cost $1.50 for three proofs.

Bradley also announced that bids for the Kanakadea contract will be accepted early in November. Pictures for the Kanakadea will be taken by Barrett and Stuart. The Kanakadea will also accept photos and snapshots from the student body.

Rochester Bloodmobile To Visit Alfred November 1

The Rochester Bloodmobile will visit Alfred, Nov. 1, this year, according to T. A. Parish, chairman of the Bloodmobile visit.

Wavers which must be signed by parents of 18 to 21 year old students may be obtained from housemothers on the campus and in the Carnegie and Ceramic Libraries.

Chaplain Sibley Announces Church Services For Week

Chaplain Myron K. Sibley has decided that Wednesday's Chapel Service will be entitled: "God On The Block." The Chaplain thinks that the commercial attitude of man, especially Americans, toward religion, is like "asking for a lower birth to heaven."

The Sunday church service this week is related to the Chapel topic. It will be, "God Created In Man's Image." The Chaplain aims to show that "people treat God as a slave whose whims are ignored but who is expected to do man's bidding."

Graduate Records Test Application due Saturday

Graduate Records tests now are being handled through its Princeton, N. J., office instead of the New York City office, the Educational Testing Service has announced.

The next graduate record test will be given Oct. 28, 29. Applications must be at the Princeton office on or before Oct. 15 to qualify for the test.

Information and application blanks may be obtained from Dr. Stephen Clark at his office in South Hall. The graduate records tests are not required for admission to the Alfred graduate school.

Senate To Sell Popcorn During Football Games

Buttered popcorn took up most of the Senate's time in a meeting curtailed after half an hour in order that members might attend the Forum. After considerable discussion, the Senate voted to support Phil Gregory ex-'48, co-owner of the Huddle, in selling popcorn at home football games.

Gregory will supply the popcorn which will be roasted and sold by members of the Senate or vendors hired by the Senate. If the plan is approved by Coach J. A. McLane, the plan will go into effect this Saturday with 60 per cent of the profits going to the Huddle and 40 per cent to the Senate.

Dwight Brown '50, was asked to head a committee to investigate the idea of reinstating the Community Chest Drive. Brown did not accept the appointment but asked for and received a week's grace to decide whether to take the job.

The Alfred Society of Refrigeration Engineers was denied representation in the Senate on the grounds that there is no provision in the Senate Constitution which gives representation to any other group but residence units, class presidents and colleges.

Students Welcomed To Join Workshop

The Alfred Workshop for our College literary magazine held its first meeting Friday evening, and considered the group's activities for the coming year.

It was decided that henceforth meetings would be held at 8:15 p.m., Monday evening in Room 2, Alumni Hall. Anyone interested is welcome to attend and consider the material and the production of the magazine, and to offer criticism, or read and discuss their own literary efforts, whether or not they are intended for publication.

The Workshop plans to publish its magazine three times a year, and also will serve to distribute the Poetry and Prose Award offered to graduate students and seniors.

Monday, Oct. 17, at 8:30 p.m., will be the next meeting of Workshop, at which time elections for the staff members will take place.

Students Urged To Attend Conference

Alfred students will have a chance to attend the fall conference of the Student Christian Movement in Rochester. The theme of the conference, to be held from October 21-23 at the University of Rochester, is "Does Christ Make a Difference?"

The conference will be open to the student body and all those wishing to go are urged to contact Chaplain Myron K. Sibley, Adam DiGennaro '51 or Phyllis Wetherby. A meeting of those interested will be held 5 p.m., tomorrow in the Kenyon Hill Chapel. The RFA will furnish transportation to the conference.

The Play's The Thing

Some of the acting at the "Hamlet" Forum was very poor but it came from this side of the screen.

"Hamlet" was written quite a few years ago and is familiar to everyone. It is good to know that many people are so well-read as to quote passages from the play. They even demonstrated their acting ability by repeating familiar parts aloud for the benefit of those around them.

Another person was good enough to reproduce the sound of a kiss for the more ignorant members of the audience.

It is true that the seats in Alumni Hall are not plush-lined and we who must sit in them tend to become restless. Freedom of speech is all very well but we should observe the limits of common courtesy.

A Friend In Need

The handbook for social chairmen, being formulated in the office of the Dean of Women, is a booklet that has been needed for some time. Too often there is a lack of continuity in the work of the social chairman and each new social chairman is left to learn by his own mistakes.

One of the aids this handbook will provide is the enumeration of University rules governing social activities. In addition, there are suggestions for activities which are extremely helpful to the person who has the responsibility for planning successful social events.

The social chairman is an important man in any organization. Not only must he plan activities that people enjoy but he acts as public relations officer for his organization. It is good to see this "forgotten man" given a little help in his very important job.

Where Are We Going?

The situation of using "outsiders" on fraternity intramural athletic teams has been brought forward this week in Doug Grever's Raving Reporter.

According to the Intramural Constitution the first aim of the Intramural Athletic Association here at Alfred is "to promote better health" and "better feeling and sportsmanship on campus."

The argument against importing players is that it cuts out many fraternity men's chances of participation, and is therefore a direct move against the Intramural Association's aims.

Of course, enlarging one's squad with non-fraternity men very definitely strengthens a squad's chances of winning the league championship, but we wonder if the purpose of the Intramural Association is not lost in this effort to win the intramural trophy.

Text books are necessary after all, if an experiment in the class of Prof. Stephen C. Clark can be accepted as proof. Clark gave a class of 115 students a test which was covered in two chapters of a psychology text. Results proved the students with texts made an average of approximately three less errors in a forty-question test.

South American Very Amused By Alfred's Tiny Post Office

To a South American, glimpsing American college life for the first time, Alfred's post office at noontime can be a great source of amusement. And it is for Hernon Londono, a graduate student from Medellin, Columbia.

Hernon, who is taking courses in glass technology, was amused at Alfredians steadily filing in, squinting into boxes and filing out, all in a matter of seconds. "Alfred could use a larger post officer, perhaps" was his conclusion.

The 25-year-old Columbian obtained his early education in private schools and majored in chemical engineering at the Universidad Pontificia Bolivariana in Medellin. He was active in sports as soccer, swimming and basketball. In addition, Hernon is national secretary of Boy Scouts of Columbia.

Among the various traditions of Alfred, the frosh caps and frosh court antics, the Carillon concerts and the heavy schedule of college dances impressed him most. "In my university, we seldom had dances" he declared. A music lover like so many Spanish-American Alfredians, he really enjoys dancing which makes him a rarity among the many bridge and pool addicts on campus. Asked his opinion of American women, he smiled and said, "They are very peppy and more athletic than the women in Columbia but are not as beautiful facially."

Hernon plans to attend Ohio State University next year for courses in industrial organization, management and personnel.

THE RAVING REPORTER

By Doug Grever

The question we discussed with some of the fraternity athletic directors this week was, "What is your opinion of using an outsider to represent a fraternity in intramural athletics?" We have heard of several complaints about some fraternities using non-members to play on their intramural teams, so we went to the fraternities themselves and asked their opinion on the subject.

Before we even got a chance to work around to the subject of the players themselves, we were put in our place by being asked the question, "What is your idea of a two-league intramural setup?"

"What we really need," the interrogator continued, without waiting for an answer, "is two separate leagues, one for the fraternities and the other for the independents. The fraternity league would be sponsored entirely by the fraternities. They would buy their own supplies and their own trophies, which would go to the winning fraternity."

But, back to the original question, we got a few pros and cons on the situation. Allowing non-fraternity men to play gives those men who don't belong to "the necessary clique" a chance to play on a team. This increases the active participation, which in turn is the object of the intramural program as we understand it.

Another advantage of allowing anyone to play on any team is that it increases the competition by providing a greater amount of material from which to choose teams. Those fraternities that aren't too well blessed athletically have a chance to improve their standing through the use of non-members. In theory that sounds nice, but in practical application, "those fraternities having a good athletic standing sometimes take advantage of their prestige to entice non-members to play for them, thus upsetting the balance among fraternity teams."

The objections we heard to the question were not quite so loud and strenuous. The one big idea was the fact that "intramural athletics, formerly on a small scale, are becoming a little too professional, in using outside men to participate on a fraternity athletic team."

Nothing much was gained or proved by the query, with the exception of the fact that we were rather amazed how often the need for a separate fraternity league was mentioned in the discussion.

Chief Justice Harris Wiolds Heavy Gavel At Frosh Court

Mrs. Smallback has a personal waiter this week, thanks to the activities of the Frosh Court at Thursday's session. Poor Mrs. Smallback. The second session of the Frosh Court proved to be more pompous than the first, with a high judge's desk and lighting effects adding to the decorum.

Other results of the session may still be seen around campus. Down at the post office between 11:55 and 12 noon one may find Richard Wood, wrapped in a large cardboard box, trying to push himself through the Post Office mail box. If he ever gets through, he will be mailed home.

And, if a senior sees a gentleman carrying a sledge hammer and a bag of nuts, with a sign labeled "I'm the Nut Man," he may snap his fingers and D. Harrison will crack him a nut with his hammer.

Marshall Defends Freshmen
Such were the penalties handed out by last week's court, headed by Chief Justice George Harris and abetted by Justices Holstom, Immediato, Jova, Kennedy, Kiesow and Lobaugh. Standing boldly against this sort of septemvirate was defense attorney Darwin Marshall, who, although he did nothing to defend his clients, nevertheless fearlessly dared the court to do its worst. Sometimes, to prove that his clients weren't cowards, he even went so far as to suggest additions to the penalties already inflicted.

Among the other sentences which the court issued in withholding justice were these: Martin Stern was kept busy running back and forth to the Union to fill cups of coffee for the justices and also the boys in the right and left balconies. The coffee was always cold by the time it got to Alumni Hall. Martin may still be seen running around campus with a cup of coffee. Now he keeps it warm by lighting a match under it.

Barry Fleegle is carrying around a bag of apples of various kinds. If you're a senior he will give you one. Just name your band.

Harry Blatt and Bill Robins will take five times as long to get to their classes. They now have gotten into the habit of taking two backward steps after they take three forward steps.

There were other penalties inflicted too, one of which resulted in a swarm of hornets being let loose in the Ceramic Library.

Columnist To Preside
Advanced reports from reliable sources indicate that the chief justice at next week's meeting will be Jerry Smith, noted journalist.

Fiat Offers Newsriting Class Series To Students

The first of a series of five lessons in newspaper work will be given to prospective members of the staff of the Fiat Lux at 7 p.m., tonight, in the Fiat office. Attendance of cub reporters and potential members of the business staff is required at each of the next five meetings.

Jeanette Klimajeski '50, editor, who will conduct the first class, invited all freshmen and upper classmen who are interested in any phase of newspaper work to attend, whether or not they've previously attended a meeting.

"Freshmen don't need to be able to write stories in order to help produce a paper," Miss Klimajeski pointed out. "We can also use headline writers, cartoonists, photographers, typists, and proof readers as well as people to work in the advertising and circulation fields. We can find a spot for any student who wants to work, regardless of whether or not he thinks he is able."

The first lesson will be concerned with fundamentals of newspaper writing. In succeeding weeks more specific topics will be discussed. After the five week instruction period is over, an examination will be given to determine who is qualified to serve on the staff.

Interfraternity Council, and must be mailed before 6 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 19.

The fraternities, in the meantime, will present to an impartial faculty member a list of names of men whom they would desire to pledge. This faculty member, by comparing fraternity lists with the preferential cards made out by the rushees, will designate the men each house will pledge.

In making up their lists, the fraternity scholarship committees will consider only freshmen with at least a 5 mid-semester as being eligible for rushing. The fraternities have been advised to pledge no upper classman who has less than a .7 index.

From Friday, after the preferential night party, until 6 p.m. Saturday, the silent period will be enforced. During this time, no freshman is allowed to speak to any fraternity man.

Tapping will take place from 7 to 8:30 p.m. the following Monday, Nov. 21, in the frosh residences.

Radio Majors Considered Luckiest Guys In Alfred

The luckiest students on campus during this last week were the Ag-Tech radio students. These electronics enthusiasts fulfilled some of their credit hours this week by covering "The Diamond Component of Electronic Transmission" or just plain "Baseball."

You've guessed it—these lucky lads saw three of the World Series games by television. Matthew Burzycki, radio instructor, noted that no one had cut the lab this week.

"The set was completed by last year's seniors just prior to graduation," Mr. Burzycki continued, "and at first we had rather poor luck with the quality of reception due to circuit troubles." However, the picture is now clear about 80 percent of the time in spite of the fact that Alfred is not located in one of the best television receiving zones.

A Hint To Seniors On A Class Gift And Other Comment

By Jerry Smith

Traditionally, each year's Senior Class makes a gift to the University to express its appreciation for permitting its members to earn a degree and to perpetuate the memory of the class.

An outstanding example of a class gift is the stone work at the entrance on University Street, a gift from the Class of '25, President Drake's class. This, we believe, cost about $1500 but an indication of present-day prices is found in that last year it cost about $1500 to repair one of the columns.

Moreover, few classes have that amount of money to spend for a class gift. Often it is less than $100 and is merely turned over in cash form to the Treasurer or Alumni Secretary. And, we might add, forgotten.

The Class of '49 had about $100 and soon a two-faced, electric clock will be installed in the Library.

We have asked a few persons for suggestions for an appropriate class gift. In addition to the two above reasons, we generally add that the gift should be useful. All three reasons are valid, no matter what the wise guy says.

The Class of '50 is the first, full post-war class. For nearly four years it has been noted for its spirit and pep. (Have you noticed whose numerals are on Saunders' barn?) There is plenty of reasons for perpetuating the memory of this particular class.

The Seniors certainly can raise $100 or more for a worthwhile gift. The Class of '50 never took a back seat to the Class of '49 in anything. To give the matter a helping hand, we will publish worthwhile suggestions until the class can organize a committee to handle the matter. Just mail ideas to Box 921 or leave them at the Fiat office.

Alfred was as peaceful as a pile of dead leaves Wednesday afternoon at 3:23. Then came the pronouncement that made strong men quiver and freshmen swoon. Disgusted seniors snapped shut their books, coffee cups were upset, money changed hands and not a few twisted the radio dial for the first time since 1 o'clock. Tommy Hennricks (or Henrich or Hendricks or Heinrich) had slammed a homer in a baseball game somewhere in New York. It was a fateful day in Alfred.

"We expect criticism by the students," instructors in the department of business and economics told their classes last week as they announced a series of weekly films on industrial, social and other topics.

We do not have any criticism yet. We only wish the idea would spread to other departments where the material becomes just another course if there is no method of showing the textbook facts in every day application.

To quote the instructor, "Some films will show life as it is and some will show what's wrong with our way of life." Commendably, the department pulls no punches in admitting that the films in many cases are propaganda distributed by interest groups. Significantly, this is so because only from interest groups can films be secured at little or no cost.

Let us say, that as a student, we expect to find more interest in our economics course this year as a result of these films even though it means an hour of our time every Wednesday afternoon. We wish this sort of "seeing the facts at work" might be used in other courses.

How does one teach a small boy to whistle? We have urged The Lad to eat his bread crusts so he could whistle. Now our garbage has been cut in half, but whistling lessons result only in a deep-throated guttural note.

We tried the "sucking-in" method suggested by a Friendly Critic and found that eyes got bigger and rounder. That's all. Getting the tongue secured firmly behind the lower teeth has been mastered and lips are wet on 15-second intervals, but, more often than not, all we get is a popped-out, boyish tongue as a three-year-old tyke exerts stomach, back, neck and facial muscles in an attempt to be like his Dad.

Lately, it has become as important to us as The Lad, Diplomatic history, Thoreau and Whitman, economics and political thought of the Greeks lay untouched. It is not a matter of our prestige with The Lad. We can settle that by tightening a bolt on his bike.

Sometimes we wonder if we will wish we had not accepted this conquest once he succeeds and begins to whistle his three-year-old way through night and day.

An idea, now and then, gleaned from the chaff of mind's thrashings, appears a hybrid of uncommon vigor and strength. Until, on comparison, one finds the kernel identical with or surpassed by another harvest by a great mind a year or a thousand years ago.

World War II Infantry Chorus To Present Forum On Sunday

Leonard de Paur's Infantry Chorus, first important musical aggregation to spring from World War II, will be the Forum program at 8:15 p.m. Sunday evening, in the Men's Gym.

The concert will include music of the many lands they visited in army tours, songs of World War II, modern arrangements of art songs and music of different faiths and spirituals. This will be their only performance so both tickets will be honored.

This unique group was organized in 1942 by men of the 372nd Infantry Regiment stationed at Fort Dix, N. J. A series of concert appearances to stimulate war bond sales led the army to set the chorus up as a morale unit to entertain other troops.

During the next three years, the Chorus sang for American armed forces all over the world. After the war was over, the group decided to continue their work under the direction of their leader, Captain Leonard de Paur.

Freshman Harriers Follow Andresen To Overrun RPI 18-41

In their second meet, the Frosh Cross Country team scored a smashing victory over RPI, with a tally of 18-41. Per Andresen again scored easily to be the individual winner of the race.

Following Andresen were Dick Purdy, Bill White, and Jack McMullen in second, and tied for third, and Ed Mathews, Bob Ferguson and Herman May in eighth, ninth and tenth position giving the Saxons seven of the first ten places.

Saturday's race marked the initiation of the course that is to be the scene of many ensuing home races. Per's time of 13:31 therefore established the course record.

The next encounter scheduled for the frosh team is Ithaca College at Alfred, Wednesday, Oct. 19.

AT Engineers To Hold Dance In Gym Friday

Don Jones and his orchestra will provide the music for the Homecoming Dance, a semi-formal affair to be sponsored by the Alfred Student Refrigeration Engineers from 9 to 1 on Friday, October 14 at the new Ag-Tech gym.

Don Jones was formerly with

Vaughn Monroe and Randy Brooks prior to assembling his own unit. Mary Margeson, featured vocalist, will combine with the "Singing Quartet" in supplying the vocal end of the music. In speaking of the band style, Don stated that, "Instead of accenting rhythm, we prefer music that emphasizes the song. Our audiences love to dance and we endeavor to make the music as danceable as possible."

Tickets for the dance are $2.40, tax included, and are available from any ASRE member or at the Kampus Kave. In addition, a stub is attached to the ticket which entitles the holder to a 20 percent discount on any corsage purchased at the Ag-Tech flower shop.

Carpenters are making final preparations at the gym. The band stand has been finished, but there is still some work to be done on the new kitchen and cloak room.

"A false ceiling will have to be installed and new drapes have yet to be hung," Mahlon Haylor, AT, decoration chairman announced. Other committee chairmen, all Ag-Tech, are: John Barley and Kenneth Champagne, publicity; Maxwell Marvin, refreshments; Roger Meade, check room; Harold Seymour, lighting and Vern Shiesley, entertainment.

Vets: Your Checks Will Be Here Soon

In a letter to the registrars of all colleges and schools, in this area, Manager W. A. Birmingham of the Veterans Administration Buffalo regional office, informs those veterans who began training on or after Sept. 21 to anticipate receiving their first subsistence check on or about Oct. 31.

The check received at this time will cover the period from the beginning of training in September through Oct. 31.

Veterans who began training during the first 20 days of September and whose VA forms are properly processed by the school to the Buffalo regional office within a few days thereafter, will receive a subsistence check for the enrolled portion of September.

A veteran who is in the latter category and does not receive a check at the end of September should allow one week to pass before making inquiry to the VA.

"Due to the large number of checks being issued," Mr. Birmingham stated, "it will not be possible to issue all checks exactly at the end of the month."

Naval Reserve Has Several Vacancies

A few officers' billets and several openings are left for V-6 enlisted men in the Volunteer Naval Reserve unit which Harold E. Owen, Ag-Tech electricity instructor hopes to organize at Alfred.

Mr. Owen, pointing out the advantages accruing to men under thirty who affiliate, said, "Retirement pay is computed on the basis of 2½ percent of a reservist's top base pay times the number of computed years of service." Fifteen points are given for each year of membership in the active reserve, with from one to two points being added for each drill attended and 12-36 points for the completion of each correspondence course, Mr. Owen explained.

Those interested in joining such a unit should write LCDR Harold E. Owen, USNR, Box 113, Alfred, N. Y.

University Wins Award For Accident Reduction

For the second time in as many years Alfred University received third prize from the State Insurance Fund of New York for accident reduction.

The award was presented to Treasurer Edward K. Lebohnner and Athletic Director James A. McLane in behalf of the office and professional employees of the university.

Alfred also won an accident reduction award in 1948.

Students Respond Well In First Week Of RFA Fund Drive

Students have responded well to the RFA's appeal for funds, according to Adam DiGennaro, president. A total of $180 had been collected by Saturday, however, the drive will continue until next Friday.

The fund drive is being conducted through dormitories, fraternities and sororities. Faculty members have received letters asking them to donate.

President DiGennaro asked that commuters and students not contacted by an RFA representative send their contributions to Fred Schaa '51, Box 87, or to Frank Lobaugh '50.

In expressing his thanks to the students who have contributed to the drive, DiGennaro commented that the RFA received only $94 to carry on last year's program.

Ag-Tech Electronics Club To View Television Show

The Electronics Club will meet at 7 p.m., Thursday, in the Bank Building, Matthew Burzycki, faculty advisor for the organization announced.

The business meeting will be held in the drafting rooms on the third floor of the Bank Building and following this the group will go to the radio lab for a television show. A movie, "The Fundamentals of Electricity," will be shown during the meeting.

All freshmen interested in electricity and electronics are invited to attend the meeting.

Purchase Of New X-Ray Machine Now Announced

The purchase of a new X-Ray Spectrogoniometer by the College of Ceramics was announced this week by Dean John McMahon.

The machine purchased from General Electric Company at a cost of approximately $10,000 will be used by the research department and some graduates for determination and identification of components in compounds and mixtures. It may also be used for the determination of solid solutions.

Fifty electron tubes are contained in the machine which is about the size of an average desk.

World Series

Baseball has supplanted schoolwork this week and students seem to be about evenly divided between those who are elated and those who are deflated. Thursday's game aroused diverse comment. Here are two versions of the play.

Yankee Rooters
Jackie Robinson popped a fly down the left field line that fell just out of reach of five fielders and this blooper was good for two bases. Robinson got to third on a foul pop deep down the right field line caught in a position from which a fast throw to third was impossible. Vic Raschi made a sucker out of Marv Rackley, forcing him to roll to third. His fine control also made Gil Hodges hit the ball on the ground, the only trouble being that he hit the ball to a spot where no Yankee fielder could stop it. Otherwise the bouncer would have been an easy out. (Note pun.)

Dodger Rooters

Robinson clouted a tremendous smash, against the wind, to deep left field. Lucky fielding and the left field wall limited the wallop to a double. Jackie's astounding speed of foot enabled him to get to third on a feeble pop fly just past the infield in foul territory. Always dependable in the clutch, Gil Hodges smacked a sizzling drive on the ground through the Yankee infield. Had this clout been in the air, it would have gone over the left field wall for sure, though with such a superb pitcher as Preacher Roe in there tossing them up, only one run was needed.

Maybe we're wrong. Maybe there was a doubleheader Thursday.

All season the duel between the Yankees and the Red Sox has been like a race between a patched up Model A Ford and a new Cadillac. But the Yankees won more games and lost less. We can't take that away from them. They deserve a lot of credit; they are getting plenty, and extra money to pay it off with. We can't help wondering, however, how those Dodgers would have felt throwing to omnipotent Ted Williams.

Golf

The Men's Athletic Governing Board has voted to discontinue golf as an intercollegiate sport. People have asked us why. Here's why.

There are two reasons: the lack of facilities; and the lack of material.

The lack of facilities is obvious; there is no golf course at Alfred. Meets had to be played at the Wellsville Country Club and this is 16 miles away. Practice for the team was impractical, in some cases impossible and visiting teams, after traveling to Alfred, had to go this additional distance to get to the course. Besides all this, the country club was inconvenienced by the contests.

The second reason hinges upon the first. There is a lack of material, not because Byron Nelson did not come to Alfred. There is a lack of facilities. If our golfers had practiced every day, we could have had sharp golfers. But they were beaten often, sometimes in matches they could have won if they had been on edge.

So, until a golf course is laid out at Alfred, the university will probably discontinue intercollegiate competition. We, by the way, will accept any contributions.

Frosh Grid Squad To Engage Buffalo Yearlings Saturday

The freshman football team opens its season against the yearlings of the University of Buffalo Saturday at Buffalo.

"I'm skeptical about opening against Buffalo," said Coach Mike Greene. "We won't be quite ready for them. They will be one of the toughest, if not the toughest team we will meet. Later in the season we would give them a better game. The team is still rough in spots and needs more practice before it will be smoothed out."

From the 35-man squad, Coach Greene hopes to be able to put two good teams on the field.

Men who stood out in last Friday night's scrimmage and are sure to see action against Buffalo are: Albert Dianne of East Rochester at halfback, a good punter and breakaway runner; Karl Wilhelm of Mount Kisco at end, a talented pass receiver; Andy Maguire of Trenton at center, a stand-out at defense, at backing up the line; and John Capper of Brooklyn, who is neck and neck with Maguire in the race for the starting center spot. Ralph DiMico, injured in scrimmage last week, is back in training and is a probable starter at halfback.

The Buffalo frosh have already played two games and should be on edge for the Saxons. Last years frosh lost to Buffalo, 13-7, their one defeat against three wins.

Alfred To Meet Strong Buffalo Squad Saturday

At 8:15 Saturday evening the Saxon warriors meet the Buffalo Bulls in the Homecoming game.

Alfred will enter the game the definite underdog. Coach Alex Yunevich sums up the prospects in these words, "They are the toughest team we will meet."

To make things worse, Charlie Barone and Sam Maguire are on the injured list, and Bruce Tarquino is out for the season, having aggravated an old knee injury.

Rivalry between these teams began in 1902, since then have met 25 times. Alfred has won 13, lost nine, and tied four. The Saxons have dropped their last two in a row to the Bulls; last year's score was 8-0 in a game played in a pouring rain.

This year Buffalo has lost to powerful Colgate 32-0, and has beaten Niagara 26-7.

Intramural Football Season Opens With Two Games Played

Intramural football had its first full week of play this week. Five teams, however, failed to show up at game time and as a result the whole week passed with only two games actually being played. In these, Delta Sig outlasted Kappa Psi, 13-0 and Klan Alpine romped over the Diesel Lites, 43-0.

The more exciting of the two was the nip and tuck Saturday morning struggle between Delta Sig and Kappa Psi. Neither team was able to get a sustained drive going long enough to score during the first three quarters. On the last play of the third quarter, however, Delta Sig got the first break of the game when Roy VanAlsten blocked a Kappa Psi punt deep in Kappa Psi territory and fell on it on the four-yard line. Delta Sig went over from there in the final period, on a pass from VanAlsten to Dan Harris. VanAlsten's kick was good and Delta Sig led 7-0. Kappa Psi gamely tried to come back but the victors iced the game when VanAlsten completed another touchdown pass, this time to Litch Dickinson.

Klan's debut was impressive but it was never a contest after Klan recovered a blocked kick in the Lites' end zone for the first score during the opening minutes of the game. The winners scored in every period, once on the length-of-the-field punt return by Carl Ganung.

Horn and Hoof, Kappa Nu, Alpha Phi Omega and The Hardy's forfeited to Theta Gamma, Ellis Manor, Psi Delta and Lambda Chi respectively.

Saxon Eleven Downs Clarkson 27 - 0 For Year's Second Win

Alfred University powered its way to a 27-0 victory over Clarkson College at Potsdam Saturday as Jim Royston and Art D'Avanzo combined for two touchdowns each.

Royston dashed six yards around right end to culminate a 48 yard drive late in the first quarter for the initial score. Dan Biro made his only conversion to put the Saxons ahead 7-0.

Johnny Stubbs recovered a fumble to set up the second score from Clarkson's 26. A pass from Johnny Barnes to Don Lester netted nine, and Royston ran 17 yards around left end to score. Minutes later Barnes intercepted a pass on Alfred's 30 and ran back to the Clarkson 47. He passed for 30 yards to Tom Sutphen, and D'Avanzo went over from the one after four plays.

Clarkson then drove to the Saxons' 18 for their main threat, but Dom Montesanti stopped the drive by intercepting a pass on the Alfred 14. The Saxons marched 86 yards for the next score, made by D'Avanzo on an 11-yard run.

Alfred ended its field day in the third period when Bob Fischer blocked a punt in the Clarkson end zone for a safety.

Intramural Board Meeting Slated For 7:15 Friday

There will be an intramural meeting at 7:15 p.m., Friday, at Men's Gym. All organizations are urged to be present.

Saxons Suffer 21-38 Loss To RPI Harriers

R.P.I.'s powerful cross country varsity outran the Saxon harriers 21-38 Saturday at Alfred.

Tony Diamond of the Engineers was the individual winner. His time of 22:49.8 establishes the record for the 4.2 mile course, used Saturday for the first time in intercollegiate competition. Elwood Frymire, last year's winner, also of the Troy Boys, finished in fourth place.

Marty Riemer again led the Alfred squad, finishing third, 22 seconds behind Diamond. Dick O'Neil was four seconds and eight yards behind in fifth place, and John Morgan, again bothered by gas pains, finished 14 seconds later in seventh place. Frank Schroeder, showing great improvement, in 12th place, and Tom Myers in 14th place completed the scoring for the Saxons.

Paul Flurschutz was scratched just before post time because of a bad
