HALLOWE'EN AT THE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

Last Thursday evening the students of the Agricultural School were entertained by the Country Life Club at its annual Hallowe'en party.

The devil and his attendants greeted the guests on their arrival and presented each with a slip of paper on which was the following program:

If these stunts
You fail to do,
You'll be haunted
The whole year through.

1. Devil's march
2. Reception
3. Fortunes
4. Relay race
5. Old shoe stunt
6. Flying machine
7. Fly family
8. Cards for supper
9. Supper
10. Peanut toasts

The guests tried all the stunts with the spirit that goes to make such parties a success even if they did "get left." Frequent bursts of laughter from the crowds gathered about some particular stunt, proved that they were having the best kind of a time. Much credit is due the committees in charge of the "stunts" and supper. After supper the guests gathered in the field crops room where the last and probably the most interesting number of the program was had. Each person was called upon, and many pleasing toasts were given.

The party broke up at about 10:30 with the singing of the Alma Mater.

ASSEMBLY ADDRESS

Miss Little favored the Assembly last Wednesday with a most optimistic, helpful, and inspiring address upon the subject, "The Simple Side of Life" as a sequel to her address of last year, "The Humorous Side of Life." She urged the dropping of unnecessary complexities and the cultivation of that difficult and highly desirable faculty of simply being ourselves.

DEDICATION OF ABIGAIL ALLEN HALL

At the annual Hallowe'en festivities last Thursday night, Ladies Hall was rechristened "Abigail Allen Hall." The matter of rechristening the girls' dormitory has been pending for over a year, but had not yet been finally settled by the trustees. The dedicators acted upon a commission from Pres. Davis.

'VARSITY 6—MANSFIELD 6

Team Showed Improved Form, But Lacked The Punch

The Varsity-Mansfield game, always a stubbornly contested affair, found neither of these ancient rivals able to win. The Varsity came back strong after the disastrous Allegheny game, and played brilliant football, but failed in scoring power at critical times. The Varsity goal was never in serious danger after the first touchdown, the game being fought principally in Mansfield territory, but the team lacked the punch when yards meant touchdowns. The one bad decision which marred the unusually fine work of Referee Hulick, spoiled a chance for a Varsity touchdown and led to the fluke by which Mansfield scored. King's heady work at quarter and accuracy in running back punts, Brainard's fierce line—plunging for long gains, Barney's sensational 30 yd run for touchdown, and the steaming defensive work and covering of fumbles by A. Kruson and Hill were the scintillating features of the Varsity's game; while Collins, Kelly and Flietz starred for Mansfield. The Varsity displayed great improvement in tackling, Barney showing especially good form, tackling behind the line repeatedly and smashing every play he could reach.

First Quarter

Capt. Howe won the toss and elected to receive up-field. A. Kruson blocked the low kick and was downed on Varsity's 45 yd line. King tore off 5 yd on the shift formation. A forward pass was incompleting. On the next play the ball was fumbled but cleverly recovered by Hill. Brainard ripped through right tackle for 10 yards. After two line-plays and an incompleting pass the Varsity was forced to kick. Collins misjudged Bliss' long spiral and J. Kruson recovered the ball. By several short line-bucks and King's 8 yard sprint the ball was carried to Mansfield's 10 yard line. Here the Normal boys braced and took the ball on downs. Mansfield kicked on first down. King ran the punt back 30 yds. Brainard battered along down the sidelines for 10 yards on a delayed pass, but the referee called the play back, under the delusion that the speedy half-back had stepped out of bounds King passed to right end, but Flietz intercepted the ball in a clean field and ran 80 yards for touchdown. Kelly failed to kick goal.

Mansfield kicked to King, who ran the ball back 30 yards. Then by a series of fierce line-bucks the Varsity made their distance, the quarter ending with the ball on Alfred's 45 yard line. Score, 0-6.

Second Quarter

Bliss punted on the fourth down, but Mansfield again failed to cover the elusive oblate, only messing it up so badly that Barney, who was right on top of the play, scooped it up and ran 30 yards for touchdown. Goal was not kicked.

Mansfield received the kick, Barney nailing the man in his tracks. Mansfield, unable to make the distance was forced to punt, King covering cleverly. After two plays the Varsity lost the ball on a fumble. The visitors then tore off 14 yards in three downs, but fumbled on the next down, A. Kruson falling on the ball. The Varsity was forced to punt, and Mansfield for the first time succeeded in handling one of Bliss' twisters. But the ball was too uncomfortably near their goal, so Kelly kicked on first down, King running it back 5 yards. The rest of the half resulted in a very pretty kicking contest, neither team being able to make their downs. Score, 6-6.

SECOND HALF

Mansfield received up-field, Collins running the kick back to their 35 yard line. Flietz pounded right tackle for 4 yards. Buck spilled Peterson for a loss, and Wilcox found the Varsity line a stone wall. Kelly punted 50 yards. Continued on page two

Who has read the bombastic political remarks in the newspapers lately and not felt sickened and disgusted? We wish to congratulate the editor of our village paper on the fair and unprejudiced political views taken by his paper. The FIAT LUX takes the same standpoint on student affairs that the Sun does on politics—no mud slinging for ours. The fellow who throws mud gets the worst of it anyway, as a rule. In his frantic efforts to besmudge the other fellow, he sinks out of sight in the miry surroundings that necessarily encompass him. Let the mud rest, it is bad enough without stirring.

REAL SPIRIT

We people who saw the game with Mansfield, have had our spirits pumped up to the high water mark again. Wasn't that some game? Believe us, it was. When a man will play an entire game of football with a broken rib, and play with no symptoms of giving in, that is school spirit. That's the spirit that will put us once more on the athletic map.

HALLOWE'EN

Hallowe'en struck our town with a thump, but nothing was smashed, nothing serious happened. The librarian spent the night in fear and trembling, as did a few people who possessed any property that was carriable, burnable or tippable. Roger's Observatory was visited by a mob of spirits and the Brick, we mean the "Abbey," was also somewhat disturbed. The darkness of night was often tunneled with shouts. Several people were frightened by coming around a corner and meeting face to face, a whoop, carrying a pumpkin lantern.

BE ON TIME

"Be on time" is the slogan at the School of Agriculture this year, and there has been a noticeable falling off in the number of tardy marks in classes and a special improvement in the promptness with which the various meetings, especially the Country Life Club and the Christian Associations have been called to order. It pays. Few things will inspire confidence in a man more quickly than to find that he is prompt in filling his engagements. On the other hand, few things are more annoying to the busy man or woman than to be compelled to waste time waiting for the laggard or for a meeting to begin. Habits formed in youth are apt to stay with us through life. Let's get the habit of being on time.

HALLOWE'EN AT THE BRICK

At eight o'clock Thursday evening, the "imps and spirits" of the Brick and their invited guests gathered in the large dining room. Pumpkin jack-o-lanterns, autumn leaves, black cats and witches galore, transformed the room. A Hallowe'en hunt, bobbing for apples, fortune telling by palm and cards, a wizard's den, a number of Hallowe'en games and stunts, a chestnut scramble, a "penny" stroll, Virginia reel, and "eats," consisting of cider, doughnuts, cheese and glorious pumpkin pie, formed the entertainment of the evening, until the "prom" leaders led the procession out doors to one corner of the Brick. Here Mathilde Vossler told how a name had long been desired to take the place of "Ladies' Hall," and how in searching through old records, Mrs. Abigail Allen was found to be the foremost woman in the pioneer days of our college; the building was then re-christened "Abigail Allen Hall," and a bottle of cider broken on the stone foundation to complete the ceremony. A little later the Alma Mater was sung, and the guests departed, assuring their hostesses that they had had a good time.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

At the special meeting of the athletic directors, last Wednesday evening an important discussion took place. After disposing of the regular football business, the basketball question was taken up. Basketball in the past has been excelled in as Alfred's strongest sport. Baseball, on the contrary, has been our weakest. The Board decided that they could not finance both baseball and basketball, if basketball should prove a loss financially. The President appointed a committee to confer with the trustees, in regard to securing the Academy Hall as a basketball court. This in turn might involve the giving up of the present lyceum rooms. The whole question is one of great importance and will probably be taken up by the student body after Assembly.

King bringing the oval back to Alfred's 30 yard line. Bliss punted out of bounds and the ball went to Mansfield on Varsity's 40 yard line. On a shift formation Collins gained 5 yards. Nealin failed to gain, but Collins uncorked a 20 yard pass to him on the next play. Fleitz gained 4 yards, Nealon again got messed up in the Varsity defense and Brainard dexterously intercepted a pass on Alfred's 7 yard line. A shift formation failed and Bliss punted 30 yards. Here the Varsity defense again proved impregnable. On the fourth down Collins missed a drop kick from the 40 yard line.

Play was resumed on Alfred's 20 yard line. Two line plays resulted in no gain and Bliss punted 35 yards. After an incompleated pass and a futile line-plunge, Mansfield again succeeded in working a 20 yard pass, only to lose the ball on a fumble in the next down. The Varsity backs tried the line twice for slight gains, and then Brainard tore through right tackle for 20 yards, shaking off man after man. It was one of the prettiest bucks since the days of "Dal" Sarvey. Mansfield held too strongly and the Varsity was forced to punt. The whistle blew with the ball on Mansfield's 20 yard line.

Fourth Quarter

Mansfield punted and recovered the pigskin on the 50 yard line. An incompleated pass, an unsuccessful end run, and a 10 yard penalty for holding, forced Mansfield to kick again. From this time until the final whistle, neither backfield could penetrate the opposing defense, and the game resolved itself into a punting duel between Bliss and Kelly, the Alfred man slightly shading the pedagogue. Just as the game ended Buck intercepted a pass on Alfred's 40 yard line, and carried it to the center of the field on the next play, when time was called.

Adelbert Sheffield, a practical butter and cheese maker of ten years' experience, and a graduate of the Special Dairy Course at Cornell University, has been engaged as assistant in the dairy laboratories to succeed Mr. Austin who has resigned to take up practical work.

FARMERS' CLUB—R. I. U. Football Banquet

With the same good spirit that they played a losing game and accepted defeat, the Farmers' Club met the requirements of the challenge and gave to the R. I. U. and officials of the game a most enjoyable evening and banquet.

Shortly after 6:30 Thursday evening thirty-two hungry farmers and football players presented themselves at Peck's Cafe. Much credit is due to the Farmers' Club management, to an excellent cook, and good service for the sumptuous chicken dinner.

Coach Colton, toastmaster for the occasion, with a few fitting words, introduced the speakers. Manager Dunn gave hearty praise to the clubs for a clean wellplayed game and told how such contests are very helpful to the school and school spirit and to the development of a good school team. Morey gave a toast to the "Farmers' Club" and expressed the thanks of the R. I. U. for the thoroughly enjoyable time shown them. Jennison responded for the Farmers' Club, giving an excellent talk on the friendly spirit between the clubs. "Silver-tongued orator" Clawson, Capt. "Weinie," "Slow-moving" Anderson,

Travis, "Sod" "White-hope Buggy," and "Modest" Crocker, who responded to impromptu calls, were unanimous in their praise for the well played, truly sportsman-like game and the good coming from such a friendly contest.

For the benefit of each organization, the football team, and N. Y. S. A. let this be made an annual event with ever growing interest and better results.

C. L. M. C. A.

The pleasing features of the Country Life Christian Association meeting this year are the frank and informal discussions regarding the problems of the country and small village church. The following are some of the questions that have been discussed: the ideal country pastor; the character of the rural population and its relation to the country church; and methods of increasing church attendance in rural districts.

N. Y. S. A. CHAPEL TALKS

Thursday the students of the N. Y. S. A. listened to the first chapel talk of the school year. Prof. C. O. DuBois gave a very interesting lecture on "Life Insurance." He showed which kind of life insurance was the best for the farmer to take out and the relative returns as compared with the amount invested.

The students are expecting, sometime during the year, a speech from every member of the faculty.

Music Rachel Burdick
Furnished by Lucy Whitford and Elsie Thrall

Paper—Sir Walter Scott
Bernice McLease
Leaves of the 20th Century

Bessie Bacon
Music Olive Thomas

An important business meeting followed the regular meeting. The following names were proposed and accepted for membership in the Alfriedian lyceum: Marian Elliot, Mable Hood, Zulieka Richardson, Martha Cobb, Nina Howard, Genevieve Hart, Mrs Clarke.

Alleghanian

The Alleghenians opened their session Saturday evening with devotions, led by Leland Coon. Mr. Fisk's music was furnished by Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, who, accompanied by Miss Ayars, rendered a vocal solo.

G. M. Wilson in his paper on "Illiteracy in the United States"—a summary of a recent government bulletin—gave many interesting and startling facts in regard to the subject. The people living in the Cumberland Mountains were shown to possess the highest rate of illiteracy.

Sidney Burdick's music was a vocal solo by Miss Mary Saunders. The "Alleghanian" by Paul Saunders, was a very good edition.

At the business meeting following, Gustave Hammerstrom and Harold Clawson became active members of the lyceum and were given a hearty yell. Keep it up, Allies!

Orophillian

Saturday night's meeting of the Oros was unusually good. The program was opened with devotions by Mr. Crawford. R. C. Burdick read a spirited and timely paper on "Orism." Miss Elliot furnished Mr. Coon's music and was encored. The "Radiator and Review" by Forrest Wells was clever, original, and interesting and showed what lyceum practice can do for one who is willing to work. Mr. Mix lead a very spirited parliamentary practice. In the business meeting Stanton H. Davis, '17, and Mr. Willard of the Ag School were admitted to membership. After the business session the lyceum enjoyed a social hour. The lyceum was glad to welcome several visiting Freshmen, who, it is hoped, will wish to come again. A debate has been arranged for next week and a large attendance is expected.

Athenaeon

Program Nov. 1.

Devotions Mathilde Vossler
Music Mrs. Buck
Echoes Eva Williams
Music Mildred Saunders
Historical Sketches Mrs. Bliss

Mrs. Prentice
Shadow Motion Pictures
Helen Gardner, Mabel Michier

We were very glad to have with us two charter members, Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Prentice. We enjoyed their talks very much and hope they will come again to help us in our work. After the program, we had a box social. The Freshmen girls bid for the boxes, their bids being demonstrated while lunch was being eaten. Misses Rose Trenkle, Eunice Anderson, Leona Hoffman and Jessica Davis were taken in as active members and Miss Weed as an honorary member of the lyceum. The evening ended in singing college songs and giving toasts to the new members and the Freshmen.

"THE SIX FOOLS"

Those who received invitations to the Hallowe'en party of the Six Fools assembled to the number of forty, at Rogers' Observatory at 8:30. All were masked. Soon the fools appeared and led their guests to the home of Miss Mildred Saunders, where partners were chosen and the Chamber of Horrors visited. From here the crowd went to the home of Prof. C. F. Binns where they unmasked. Here the guests were entertained with a hunt for hidden coin, thimble, button and ring, with roasting marshmallows and with a recitation by Miss Binns. Partners were again chosen and the last stopping place was soon reached. It was the old granary at the rear of Chas. Green's residence. This had been decorated with banners and Japanese lanterns and provided with cozy corners. Here the Virginia reel and other dances was enjoyed. Refreshments were served, consisting of pumpkin pie a-la-mode, apples, popcorn and candy. It was voted to be one of the best Hallowe'en parties ever experienced and much praise is due to Misses Hooker, Thrall and Saunders and Messrs. Howe, Pitts and Pfaff who were the hosts and hostesses.

Y. M. C. A.

Sunday evening the Y. M. C. A. held a special meeting in honor of the Freshmen. It was well attended by members and visitors. After a short program of literary and musical content, ice cream and wafers were served and "the boys chatted" until it was time to go home.

Next Sunday evening the topic for discussion is: "John Mott and the Student Volunteer Movement." Leader, Lewis Crawford. College men cordially invited.

CERAMIC NOTES

The Sophomores are testing a sample of shale found near Bolivar. If it proves valuable for paving-brick, a plant will probably be established.

The authorities are trying to make arrangements for an electrical equipment for the school.

The upper class girls have been designing fans, stained-glass windows, and tapestry. They are now working on illuminated lettering, some of which will be rendered on vellum.

Miss Neva Place has registered as a special in the art department.

In drawing the underclass members are busy with perspective and charcoal work, the upperclassmen are delving into water-color painting-from nature and still-life groups.

KANSAS CITY CONVENTION

Reports of the Committee are very favorable. The students are taking hold of the proposition with a good will. Already a good start has been made toward securing the one hundred dollars. It is hoped that any outside the student body who feel like helping out this cause will do so; for these Student Volunteer Conventions are religious movements which effect the whole country.
