The Buffalo-Alfred football game saw the All-Campus Band go "All Out" in support of the Purple and Gold. The performance on Saturday was outstanding as a result of some good design work on the part of Pat Lattari and Bill Crowley a 15 yard lose on an attempted pass. They didn’t struggle as a result of some good defensive play by UB. They could have been a lot worse. Considering the circumstances, it could have been a lot better.

The Saxons came, they saw, they had some trouble, but they conquered. Playing on a rain-soaked Buffalo Civic Stadium field, the Saxons seemed to have trouble getting started against the heavier Buffalo Saxons. It could have been a lot worse. Considering the circumstances, it could have been a lot better.

Correction
In last week’s issue of the FIAT Lux, the caption to the picture for the story of the Purcchasing house was incorrect. The caption should have read: "The Saxons came, they saw, they had some trouble, but they conquered." Playing on a rain-soaked Buffalo Civic Stadium field, the Saxons seemed to have trouble getting started against the heavier Buffalo Saxons. It could have been a lot worse. Considering the circumstances, it could have been a lot better.

Elections are an essential part of democratic government and the only way in which government "by the people" can be enacted. The recent trend seems to be toward the greater concentration of power by governmental officials. There are two prerequisites in order to have a government which people can appreciate, enjoy and take part in. The first is that they have a right to their own individual opinion and the second is that they feel that their opinions will have some value to the government as a whole. Otherwise, what is the point of government if people cannot express their own ideas and feel that they are contributing something to the community?

The problem of passivity goes beyond the bounds of government. Passivity is a state of mind which occurs in many different areas of life. It is characterized by apathy, lack of interest and a lack of concern for the issues of the day. It is a state which can be found in all walks of life, from the classroom to the workplace. Passivity is a problem that needs to be addressed in order to ensure a healthy and engaged society.

Lost and Found

One of our campus guests stayed at a Greeklevation guest last. It is silver, with a circle of five stars as an attraction. The gift has much meaning for the American woman who lost it. She was a doctor in Turkey and Greece for over forty years. If you find it, will you please return it to your college office for an free to Mrs. Benson.

"Thank heaven, son, you finally called!

You know how moody your father gets when he doesn't hear from you any more!"

Every step to think that the full back home get handsome, now! Why was it? You may be having the time of your life as a B.M.O.C., but Mom and Dad are just sitting in the front room taking it out on each other. Naturally they'd like to chat with you. And hear about all the things you're doing. So spread a little arability into their lives while you're away — give the folks a call. Chances are, Dad'll be so glad you phoned he won't mind if you call again. You'll be so happy if you call on Sunday or any night after six. That's when Long Distance rates have new rates.
Saxon Clinic

The plans for the Alfred University Basketball Clinic have just been announced. The plan is to hold the clinic on November 13-14, 1961. The clinic is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. The clinic is open to all interested in the game, regardless of level of experience.
Participants will have the opportunity to work with professional coaches and players from around the country. The clinic will cover various aspects of the game, including offense, defense, and strategy. Participants will have the chance to refine their skills and learn from some of the best in the business. This is a great opportunity for anyone who wants to take their game to the next level.

Cross Country

The 1961 season was quite successful for the Alfred University Cross Country team. The team had several notable performances, including a win in the Big East Conference Championship. The team was led by head coach John Saxon, who has been instrumental in building the program over the years. The team's success can also be attributed to the hard work and dedication of the athletes, who trained tirelessly throughout the season. The team is looking forward to the upcoming season and hopes to continue their success.
