

President Meets Top Men

President M. Ellis Drake congratulates Donald M. Harris who finished as the top Alfred student at the ROTC summer camp in Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Cadet Charles H. Shultz, who was the number two man in the six week course looks on.

Harris, a senior in the College of Ceramics from East Rochester, is a member of Kappa Psi Upsilon, Vice President of the "Eyes Right Club" and a member of Keramos and Blue Key.

A senior in the Liberal Arts College, Shultz, of Turtle Creek, Pa., is President of the "Eyes Right Club" and is also a member of Kappa Psi Upsilon. He is starting end on the football team and last year he was voted to the first team Little All-American at his position.

Building Program In Progress; Steel Strike Delays Work

Alfred's campus underwent considerable change during the summer vacation as the University continued its extensive building program.

Ground was broken for a three story, red brick science building, which, according to President M. Ellis Drake, will be ready for occupancy by October 1957. In hopes of avoiding bad weather, the first floor will be enclosed by December 15. Because of the recent steel strike, all progress will cease until spring when the rest of the necessary steel will be delivered.

The building, located directly across from Binns-Merrill Hall, will include nine laboratories for student use, research laboratories for faculty members, a central lecture room seating 250 students and six additional classrooms. The departments of geology and chemistry and the School of Nursing will be moved to the new building. Allen Hall, presently occupied by the department of chemistry, will be converted for use of the department of biology.

According to Edward K. Lebohrer, University treasurer and business manager, the cost of the building and equipment will be approximately $620,000. L.C. Whitford and Company of Wellsville is the general contractor for the construction of the building, and Carl C. Ade of Rochester, who has designed other University buildings, is the architect.

New Library

The Herrick Memorial Library, now under construction, is expected to be completed in late February or early March, as scheduled, and will be dedicated at Commencement. According to Clarence M. Mitchell, librarian, the completion date will see the 80,000 volumes of the Carnegie Library and outside rooms moved to the new building. If the library can be furnished and the books placed in time, it will probably be in use during the Spring semester. Mr. Mitchell pointed out that the Herrick Memorial will house an estimated 200,000 volumes — nearly triple the capacity of the old library. A total of 2204 volumes has been added to the University collection since September of last year.

Athletic Facilities

Much work was also done to improve the athletic facilities of the University, including a new rest room for men under the stands at Merrill Field and a new steel curb around the running track at Terra Cotta Practice Field to replace the old wooden one.

The biggest change is probably the new addition to the east wing of the Men's Gym. It will be used for a new wrestling room and additional locker space.

The old wrestling room has been sub-divided to provide offices for the Physical Education staff, a stock room for athletic equipment, a class and projection room for the use of the teams and coaches, and a private shower and dressing room for visiting officials at Alfred games.

Castle

The Castle, badly destroyed by fire on February 21, has been partially renovated. The upperclass women's residence now has a two-story, fire-proof addition.

The entire first floor is paneled in mahogany and is augmented by a new kitchen and dining room. The Castle now has a new ceiling, new lighting fixtures and asphalt tiles and a sleeping porch on the second floor. The house accommodates twenty-two girls.

Legal Exams To Be Given

The Law School Admission Test, required of applicants for admission to leading American law schools, will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United States on the mornings of November 10, '56, February 16, May 4, and August 10, 1957.

A bulletin of information, containing sample questions, may be obtained by writing, Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

The Graduate Record Examination, required for admission to a number of leading graduate schools, will be administered on November 17, January 29; April 27 and July 6. These tests measure ability in sixteen different subject matter fields. A bulletin of information, including an application, may be obtained by writing to the above address.

Engineers Meet Today H. Simpson Chairman T. W. Hebel Speaks

Today the Steuben Area Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers will be guests of the University at a dinner meeting according to Dr. Harold E. Simpson, professor of glass technology.

Dr. Simpson is chairman of the meeting and expects an attendance of approximately fifty professional engineers from the area between Olean and Elmira. The meeting will begin at 6:30 P. M. in Howell Hall.

The featured speaker for the occasion will be T. W. Hebel, area conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Hebel who will speak on "Technical Assistance to Jamaica, British West Indies," worked for a year in Jamaica as consultant in soil conservation for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. His talk will center around the problems of soil engineering as he experienced them in Jamaica.

Charles W. Personius of American Warming and Ventilating Company, Elmira, is president of the Steuben Area Chapter.

VOL. 44, NO. 1 TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1956, ALFRED, NEW YORK Telephone 5402

Parents' Day Oct. 6th., Registration Over 200

Parents of sophomores, juniors and seniors have been officially invited to be the guests of Alfred University on its first Parents' Day to be held Saturday, Oct. 6. This day will provide parents with the opportunity to become acquainted with college life and to meet members of the University faculty. To date, at least 200 parents are expected.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in Howell Hall after which tours of the campus will be given by Student Senate members. At 11:30, parents will have time to confer with professors in whose class their son or daughter is registered. Students must make appointments with professors in advance and, on Oct. 6, escort their parents to the office of the professor where the meetings will be held.

At 12 noon, parents will be guests of the University at a special Parents' Day luncheon to be served in the Brick dining room. President Drake will give the welcoming address and introduce campus student leaders. This meeting is designed to give parents an opportunity to learn more about the present and future plans of the University.

Alfred will meet Colgate in a cross country race at 2:30 to inaugurate the afternoon activities. At 3 p.m. tours identical to those being given in the morning will commence. From 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. Dr. and Mrs. Drake and representatives of the administration, faculty and student body will be present at Howell Hall to meet the parents.

At 8:15 p.m., Alfred meets Kings Point in a varsity football game on Merrill Field. Reserved seats will be available for parents at the time of registration in Howell Hall. Sons and daughters may be seated with parents at the game.

Parents are also invited to visit special exhibits and displays on campus. Information will be available about these at the time of registration.

Facts Reveal A. U. Growth

With this semester's registration a thing of the past, a look at enrollment results should prove very interesting. There is a noticeable increase in the University's student body for the 1956-57 term. Final tabulations reveal that there are 1060 students in the colleges of liberal arts and ceramics, 97 part-time graduate students and 44 nurses currently receiving training in hospitals. Students of this group who are also veterans number 182.

Statistics such as these always focus a little due attention on the directors of admissions, who will soon begin visiting many parts of the United States to interview prospective students for next year's entering class.

Assisting Mr. Philip Hedstrom, acting director of admissions, is Mr. Paul Brown, a native of Ulysses, Pa. Mr. Brown received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Syracuse University and his Master of Arts degree at Columbia University. He was active in the School of International Affairs at Columbia and became interested in admissions while working part time at the university.

Previous to his Alfred appointment, Mr. Brown taught at Casanova College.

Miss N. Gullette Named New Dean

This year Alfred University welcomed to its campus Miss Nancy Gullette, Dean of Women. Miss Gullette is replacing Mrs. Willis C. Russell who was acting Dean last year.

The new Dean was born in Denver, Colorado but has lived most of her life in Muncie, Indiana. From Muncie she went to Barnard College where she majored in psychology and minored in corrective speech and drama.

She received her masters degree in guidance and personnel from the University of Indiana and then taught second grade in Indianapolis for a year. She has already completed the course requirements necessary for a doctorate in guidance and personal work at Indiana University.

Prior to coming to Alfred, Dean Gullette was at Eastern New Mexico University where, as "Counselor of Students," she was in charge of student affairs for two years. Among her responsibilities were student housing, and interfraternity and intersorority affairs. She also held a teaching position in elementary statistics.

Dean Gullette has also served on the executive committee of the American Cancer Society.

Campaign Clash Tonight Poli Sci Club Debates

Tonight at 8:30, in room 2, Kanakadea Hall, the Alfred University Political Science Club will begin the first of a five-week series of election debates.

Culminating on election night, November 6, these debates have been planned to inform the student body about the facts connected with the coming presidential election and to promote an active interest on the part of University students in matters pertaining to political affairs.

Tonight's meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the foreign policy issues in the presidential campaign. This meeting as well as the ones to follow will be run on a bipartisan basis, giving representatives of both parties opportunity for presentation of arguments and rebuttal.

The meeting of October 9, the second of the series, will feature congressional campaigns, with special attention being devoted to the New York senatorial race between Jacob Javits and Robert Wagner.

On October 16 and 23, there will be a Democratic campaign and a Republican campaign, respectively. At this time, the political parties will be given an opportunity to attack their opponents and to give reasons why their party should be in power.

November 6 features an election night listening party, where students will monitor radios, reporting on the results of the elections.

From the Editors . . .

the "hello" community . . .

"Alfred prides itself on its friendly spirit . . ."

Every new student entering the University is informed that it has long been the custom to say "hello" to everyone, students, faculty or townspeople, whether or not you actually know them.

It should be evident that this tradition has a quality that should not be overlooked — all it takes is a friendly smile and a warm hello — try one soon, its less painfull than you might think.

sectarianism . . .

The desire was expressed at the end of last semester to keep the FIAT forums on sectarianism continuing through this semester.

We want to re-state, that we shall welcome any opinions on this matter for presentation to the forum. Meetings will start again shortly and progress will be periodically published in the FIAT.

new face, same pledge . . .

The transition from last year's format has brought to the FIAT staff a number of technical problems . . . we hope they will be minimized in the future, but come rain, flood, late copy or what have you, we shall do our best to fulfill our function as an informative college newspaper.

P.D. Has Its Rounds In Town of Alfred

by Joseph Baim

It is not difficult, as many have found out, to obtain an interview with Wilbur Rounds, Chief of Police.

This reporter, however, being of a law-abiding turn of mind, decided to amble down to the police court of his own volition rather than wait for a personal invitation in the form of a little slip of paper balanced between the front window and the windshield wiper of a car.

The police court, from the outside, is a desolate looking building, but inside it is warm and quite comfortable. Judge Eugene Van Horn, a resident of Alfred and publisher and owner of the "Alfred Sun," presides over the court which convenes on Monday and Thursday nights.

Mr. Rounds came to Alfred from Andover two years ago. Patrolman Albert J. Rogers, new on the force, also is formerly of Andover. Between them they have had twenty-five years of experience in police work.

Alfred has police coverage twenty-four hours a day. The force is augmented by a campus night watchman and, at football games, by five Allegany County deputies and four state troopers.

In addition to the equipment usually carried by policemen, the Alfred police carry a few very formidable weapons: four different kinds of tickets. Giving out these momentos of a few minutes in a restricted zone occupies much of their time. Though all cars are ticketed by the police, the Deans of Men at Ag-Tech and the University act as judges for campus violations.

Law enforcement is not an easy job. The police investigate all the accidents in the Alfred area. The police, reminds Patrolman Rogers, are here to enforce the laws for the protection of the students, faculty and townsfolk of Alfred; co-operation is both expected and appreciated.

All fines go to the state, not to the policemen's ball, as one young man seemed to think. "We're paid the same for marchin' as for fightin'," said Mr. Rounds.

Senatorially Speaking

by Marv Bell

The Alfred Student Senate convened for its first session this semester last Tuesday evening, and although there was a noticeable recurring theme reflecting past problems which are also present headaches, these problems were overshadowed by something much more immediate.

That was the attitude on the part of the senators.

Tere seems to be (and I use the present tense in the hope of its continued existence) a feeling of "let's do something about it!" The representatives are looking at formidable woes with an "aye" toward accomplishments rather than campaign speeches. Proof? Keep reading.

Exhibit A: An organized independent vote on the Alfred campus has been non-existent for quite some time. Usual comment: "Tough Luck." This year's comment: "A committee has been formed to look into the situation. A survey will be taken, and the proper organizational movements inaugurated."

Exhibit B: There has been student apathy toward the senate, freshmen have been ignorant of its workings, and there has been insensitive contact between the general student body and their senators.

Usual comment: "We'll discuss it in select groups." This year's comment: "Sure we'll discuss it. But we'll also conduct an assembly program geared to explaining Alfred's student government. We'll publicize decisions, actions and consequences. And we'll encourage attendance at our Tuesday night meetings in Physics Hall by non-members. The meeting is an open one, and we'll be glad to entertain questions or declarations from the floor in a period during the meeting expressly set aside for this purpose. Oh yes, we'll also utilize the bulletin board in front of the Union."

Convincing isn't it. I think so. And this isn't all that the senate worked on at its first meeting of the school year. There were a few other things, like preparations for parent's day, arrangements for a pep rally and the possibility of a World University Service representative visiting the campus to kick-off the annual Campus Chest Drive.

They tell me that the first student government meeting here at Alfred was held in 1890 in the president's office. Since that time, this governing body has, of course, come a long way, evolving into what it is today. Let's hope that the spirit of the first meeting is an indication of further improvement to come . . . I hope so.

University Bank Consolidates

Students returning to the campus this fall found a new name on Main Street — The Citizens National Bank. On August 31, 1956, the University Bank of Alfred was consolidated with the Citizens National Bank of Wellsville under the latter's name and charter. The former University Bank is now known as the University Office of the Citizens National Bank. Total resources of the Citizens National Bank approximate $10,000,000.

Denton A. Fuller of Wellsville is president and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Citizens National Bank. C. Richard Fenner, formerly president of the University Bank, is vice president in charge of the University Office. Mr. Fenner and Edward K. Lebohner, formerly members of the Board of Directors of the University Bank, are now serving as members of the Board of Directors of the Citizens National Bank. Mr. Fenner and Mr. Lebohner are graduates of Alfred University and Mr. Lebohner is treasurer of the University. Mr. Fuller, a graduate of Miami University (Ohio) and the University of Buffalo, is a member of the University's faculty.

The following members of the former Board of Directors of the University Bank will continue service to the Citizens National Bank as members of the Advisory Board for the University Office located in Alfred: D. S. Burdick, J. R. Evans, I. C. Fenner, C. R. Fenner, M. E. Kenyon, E. K. Lebohner, J. N. Norwood, D. C. Peck, L. D. Sanford, C. W. Wightman, R. W. Wingate. They have long been identified with the Alfred area and many have served Alfred University well. Mrs. Isabel C. Fenner and C. Charles "Doc" Post, formerly officers of the University Bank, have been named assistant cashiers of the Citizens National Bank.

The University Bank on November 28, 1883, opened its door as a private bank with resources of approximately $300,000. On September 1, 1894, the bank obtained a charter from the State of New York as a state commercial bank. Unique in banking annals is the fact that the University Bank was the only bank in the state whose charter granted the permission to conduct regular banking business on Sunday. At the time of the recent consolidation, the University Bank had resources in excess of $1,500,000.

The Citizens National Bank, chartered by the United States Comptroller of the Currency on February 5, 1895, first opened its doors for banking service on March 18 of the same year. When the Federal Reserve Banking System was established in 1914, the bank became one of the original member banks and in more recent years the University Bank joined the system. Both banks became members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation when it was created in 1934.

Officers of the bank emphasized that banking services in Alfred will be geared to the local level and developed in every way possible to meet the general needs and special requirements of the community and of the students attending Alfred University and the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Addition to Collection Shakespeare, in Glass

by Barbara Warren

The name of Dr. Alexander Silverman, professor emeritus of chemistry, University of Pittsburgh, is one which will be long remembered in the ranks of Alfred University benefactors. For it is through the generosity of this master collector that Alfred now possesses and shares one of the most outstanding representative collections in modern glass in the entire world.

English artist, sculptor and etcher in the field of glass. Dr. Silverman was a personal friend of Locke and acquired the work through the only surviving daughter of the great artist, Mrs. Robert A. Williamson of Pittsburgh.

Presented in 1951 to the University by Dr. Silverman, the exhibit is permanently displayed in Binns-Merrill Hall. Since the group of specimens numbers over 1,000, the pieces are rotated in the display cases from time to time during the year. The most recent addition to the exhibit is a dense white glass sculptured bust of Shakespeare. Typical of the excellence of the collection, the figure is mounted on a rectangular plaque of gold ruby and is a product of the efforts of the late Joseph Locke, outstanding made by Dr. Silverman over the summer, three of which are Lockian crafts: the Valhalla Pitcher, with its scene of a Valkyrie on it carrying a fallen hero to Valhalla; an etched and cut crystal candlestick; and a thistle pattered monogrammed cup which belonged to Joseph Locke's son-in-law. Completing the list of recent contributions is an oval lalique-type bowl, made of glass produced by Dr. Silverman for the Phoenix Glass Co.

The display is arranged and maintained by Mrs. Daniel Rase who serves as curator of the collection. The Silverman exhibit is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Ballot Due; Register Now

Regulations regarding students (or others) who are or will be of voting age on or before November 7, 1956, and otherwise fulfill citizenship and residency qualifications, but who are not registered, have recently been released. According to the released stipulations, persons properly registered are eligible to vote away from their town or city of residence by way of the absentee ballot.

Potential fall voters who are residents of New York State cities and villages under 5,000 populations may be registered by their parents thus enabling them to request an absentee ballot from their local Board of Elections. Residents of New York State cities and villages of over 5,000 population or in the counties of Westchester, Broome, Nassau, or Schenectady must return to their homes if possible on the dates of registration in early October.

Under conditions prescribed by statute, absentee voting is permitted by qualified voters and may be applied for at registration or by mail to the Board of Elections up to October 27 in the locality concerned. Specifically, the absentee ballot may be applied for if: duties, occupation or business require the voter to be outside the County of legal residence on November 6, or due to illness or physical disability, the voter is unable to appear personally at the polling place on November 6. Applications for absentee ballots on this account, if not made at the time of registration, may be made between October 7 and 27.

All applications for Absentee Registration and Absentee Ballots require affidavit of the voter, and accompanying affidavit from a physician, superintendent or medical head of a hospital or other institution other than a mental institution; or an accompanying affidavit from an employer in case of those claiming to be out of state on business.

First Forum "Peer Gynt" Campbell to Direct

Douglas Campbell

by Barbara Warren

Dramatic art, as well as any other inspirational endeavor, may be found on a multitude of levels, ranging from the mediocre to the marvellous. The attainment of a record of consecutively high-level productions is something constantly sought for but rarely gained. When reached, this value serves only as a guiding mean for future projects.

Drama on a consecutively high level will be available, however, in Alumni Hall the evening of Thursday, October 18, when the Forum season opens its 1956-57 program with Douglas Campbell's Canadian Players in their production of Henrik Ibsen's "Peer Gynt."

The Campbell level is a self-imposed standard for production. Perfection is the only goal conceivable to this director. Sensitivity and insight in the casting and dramatic projection of his plays have the infallibility of a genius in the field — genius which has the earmarks of what Edison referred to as "1% inspiration and 99% perspiration."

Dramatic production to Campbell is simple, yet complex; simple in its technical aspects, complex in the projective devices he employs. Costumes and properties are kept to a minimum. In the troupe's interpretation of Hamlet, for example, Hamlet's costume simulates what an undergraduate today might wear: gray trousers and corduroy blazer, but the trousers are fitted to look like tights in silhouette and give the suggestion of the Elizabethan period. The same adaptation can be seen in the costume of Polonius, where the traditional ruff is made to look like a wing collar at the same time. The major purpose of the production to Campbell lies in getting the people in the audience involved in the play, not in producing a technical a technical spectacle, in the sense of props and costumes.

A man of many moods, Campbell's existence centers around the theater. Although his dedication at the moment is to the directing of his Players, the man is also an actor of no mean note. His most recent acting engagements have included pieces as diverse as the comic Falstaff and the tragic Oedipus.

Campbell's Canadian Players are, this fall beginning their third year of taking the theater on tour. Working out of Stratford, Ontario, Canada, the group this year has en-

Films Slated All Welcome

The Department of Economics and Business is continuing for the eighth year a program of visual education.

The program, aimed primarily for the benefit of students registered in economics and business courses, is available to all students and faculty members of the University. It is felt that there is value in the program for everyone.

The film presentations included are designed to add to the education and the intellectual stature of the Alfred student. This year's schedule presents a logical development of our economy, its problems and its achievements. This year's program, though perhaps a little different in form, is, as in the past, cumulative in terms of effect; no film is so important that it cannot be missed, nor is any film so lacking in value that it should be ignored.

Films have been selected for their ability to stimulate the viewer and/or present a particular aspect of economic life or a distinctive view of a current problem. Not all the films are objective.

On October 3, "The Golden Twenties" will be shown and on October 10, "The River" — 12:30 and 4:30 p.m.

larged and divided into two smaller groups to enable theater goers in 25 states in the U.S. and nine provinces in Canada to be entertained the Campbell way.

"Peer Gynt," the production chosen for the Forum program is a story of universal interest. People who have thought of "Peer Gynt" as an old Victorian bore are in for a very pleasant, if startling surprise, according to a release made by the company. Gynt is an imaginative combination of all men; of concern to all men; appreciated by all men.

Because so many students registered for Spanish 1-2 and 11-12, it was necessary for the department to make two sections for each course.

Dr. Rodriguez-Diaz has announced that the Spanish Club will meet only when necessary instead of holding regularly scheduled meetings as it has in previous years. The date of the first meeting shall be announced at a later date.

Herbert Greenberg, who spent the past year at the City College of Mexico, has returned to the Alfred campus to complete his senior year. He hopes to be able to return to Mexico after graduation to finish his studies. Sally Dow, another Spanish major, due to a grant giv-

New Faculty Members

When classes began, many upperclassmen were surprised at the number of new members augmenting the University faculty.

Taking the place of Mr. Gaylord Rough of the science department, who is completing his doctorate at the University of Pittsburgh, is Professor Peter Finlay. Mr. Finlay is teaching zoology and cytology. He hails from Dorset, Vermont, and is a graduate of Williams College. In addition to his duties at Alfred, Prof. Finlay is working on his doctorate in the field of parasitology. He will receive his doctorate from Syracuse University. He has also done graduate work at the University of Vermont and received his Master of Science degree from that school.

Prof. Richard Sands is another newcomer to the science department. His field is organic chemistry. Prof. Sands received his B.A. from Oberlin College and his M.Sc. from Syracuse. He is now completing work on his doctorate at that university. The new assistant professor comes from Skaneateles and is an ardent sailboat racing enthusiast. He was a research assistant at Syracuse University and is a member of the American Chemical Association.

Mr. Savo Jevremovic, who is teaching the new course in foreign trade, is new this year in the Department of Business and Economics. Last year Mr. Jevremovic was a teaching fellow at New York University. It was there that he worked on his Ph.D. thesis entitled "Economic Development of Underdeveloped Countries." He lived in Belgrade, Yugoslavia until the Communists came into power. He then there that he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He received his Masters at N.Y.U. Mr. Jevremovic is a member of the American Economic Association and the Economic History Association.

Briefs on the other new faculty members are not available at the present time, but they will be included in future issues of the FIAT.

The game between the Saxons and Buffalo will be the 34th football clash between the two schools. The series that began in 1902 shows Alfred leading with 17 wins to 12 defeats. Four games were tied.

Alex Yunevich is in his 16th year as head coach of the Saxon footballers this year. In this period he has had only one losing season. He was 3-4 in 1948.

Alfred has played only one scoreless tie in the last 15 years. AU and Clarkson fought to a standstill which marred a perfect season of 6-0-1 for AU in 1940.

The Saxons scored 190 points last year while giving up only 21 in compiling an 8-0-0 record.

Going into the '56 football season Alfred had scored in 40 consecutive clashes. The last time AU was shut out was in the fourth game of the '50 season when UB did the trick 13-0.

In the game between the Saxons and American International College the two clubs will be meeting for the first time.

In the very first game under Yunevich the Saxon footballers downed the University of Buffalo 25-13.

The Saxons gained 435 yards against St. Lawrence in football last year while giving up only 200 yards. AU won the clash 38-0.

Reader's Digest

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write

...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country... and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find... you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles—in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

Follow the directions given below. Fill in the entry blank, paste it on a post card, and get it into the mail before the deadline. Additional blanks are obtainable at your college bookstore.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Don't delay. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will win.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

Disa and Data

by Al Siegel

Football, the oldest sport at Alfred has increased in interest ever since it was formally started in 1895.

The first unofficial game was played in a clearing between the new library building, which was then the Gothic, and Alumni Hall. The opener went to Alfred 24-0 with Andover Academy being the victim. Saxon records show that only three men who played in that game for AU had ever seen a football game before it was played.

Unofficial records show that a fellow named Thatcher probably made the first tackle on that squad and he was the leader of a dozen boys who met in the present Alumni Hall to get the campus interested in football.

Not every season ends undefeated. Back in 1927 the Warrior footballers were known as the "Scoreless Wonders" throughout the nation. That year the team failed to score a point on the football field but they won one and had a tie. The Lord Jeffs of Amherst opened the season against Alfred's Purple and Gold. The result was a 19-0 win for the Amherst team, but because they used an ineligible player they later notified the Warriors of it and forfeited the contest. AU also managed to tie the U of Buffalo 0-0.

The fourteenth football coach arrived at AU in '37 and since that time Alex Yunevich's chargers have had a 79-23-6 record. This is Alfred's 58th year of the sport and the Saxon record is 169 wins, 162 defeats and 32 ties. Coach Yunevich's first season at AU produced a 7-0-0 season and last year the team was 8-0-0 as they were the only undefeated and untied club in the state and the top small college team in the nation according to some polls. The only other perfect season was '17 when the squad was 3-0.

Undefeated but tied seasons started in 1896 when the team was 3-0-2. The turn of the century saw AU with 2-0-1 and in '09 it was 2-0-2. In '40 the slate was 6-0-1 and the mark was the same in '52. Since '50 Alfred's record is a neat 36-6-2.

Last year the Saxons were one of the top clubs around. They were near the top of the nation in all statistical departments. There were good ballplayers at all positions. Five men on the club this year have received recognition at one time or another on All-American teams.

This year the squad is good. The schedule has some tough opponents but there is good material and the desire to win is there. Anything can happen and only the next six weeks can tell the tale.

For Coach Yunevich, this campaign marks his sixteenth as mentor of the Saxon grid forces.

Football, Cross Country Teams Win

Saxons Top Cortland 24-6 As Win Streak Hits Nine

by Allen Siegel

Saturday was a big day in sports. Brooklyn took the lead in the NL race. Oklahoma won its thirty-first straight football clash, Syracuse and Cornell were topped, Army and Navy won and Coach Alex Yunevich's charges served notice to the football public that his '56 edition could be another powerhouse.

It didn't take long for the capacity crowd at Cortland's College Field to find out if the Saxons were as good as a lot of people said they were.

When co-game captains Jay Abbott and Nick Teta lost the toss of the coin Cortland elected to receive. Seven plays after the kick-off Alfred led 6-0.

With first down on the Saxon 42 yard stripe quarterback Al Moresco arched a high pass to about the 25 yard line. Jumping between two State defenders Alfred's All-American end, Charlie Shultz snared the pigskin and eluded the two defenders for the remaining 25 yards and a quick touchdown. The 48 yard TD pass came on the Saxons fourth offensive play of the year.

With the Warrior forward wall holding Cortland to their own half of the field the 6-0 margin held until the late stages of the second quarter when Alfred got the ball as a result of a punt on their own 36 yard marker. On first down Moresco again faded deep for a pass and found halfback John Zluchoski two steps ahead of the last State defender on the Teachers' 24 yard line. Mr. Z grabbed the ball and in a few seconds AU's lead was up to 12-0 as the half came to a close.

Early in the second half the tide of play saw Alfred even more dominant as time after time Cortland threats were nipped in the bud. Once John Farnan intercepted a State pass on the Alfred 23 and he raced it all the way back to the close on this series of downs but Cortland recovered a fumble on the 5.

Cortland got moving only to have another one of Alfred's honorable mention Little All-Americans come up with a big play. This time Jim Ryan intercepted quarterback Roger Kane's pass on the 37 yard line and Jim ran it back to the State 17. A Jimmy Hartnett pass to Ryan netted 10 yards and a first down. After Hartnett had gotten the ball to the four yard line Ryan raced around end for the remaining distance a three TD lead for AU.

This was short lived as three plays later Sam Hulbert recovered

Finnerty Leads Field

Cortland Extra Points

Bill McAlee was injured during the third quarter of the contest... Pre-game and half time entertainment was supplied by the State band and their pep squad girls... Also in attendance was the AU and State cheering squads.

Saxon forward wall of Shultz, DeSantis, Wales, DeChristopher Teta, Carlin and Farnan were sharp considering this was their first outing and the weather was great for spectators but a little hot for football players.

Carlin came up with a beauty of a flying tackle on an attempted punt return.

A State fumble on the 47 and the Yunevichmen were off and winging again. Runs by Bob Lovett and John Zluchoski nibbled up the yardage and then a big pass from Jim Hartnett to Lovett for 37 yards got the Saxons in close.

With the ball on the two yard line Lovett carried the final touchdown over and Alfred led 24-0. The first big Cortland threat came during the middle of the final quarter against the Saxon bench as State recovered a fumble on the Alfred 30.

Sub halfback Charles Bocklet picked up 7 yards through the middle and then he raced for 23 yards and the lone Cortland tally of the day went up on the scoreboard.

The 24-6 result dampened the spirits of the many Cortland fans but the many who journeyed from Alfred for the clash were elated as the Saxons stretched their winning skein to nine.

The '56 cross country team of Coach Milton Tuttle opened the season in high gear as they scored a perfect 15-42 victory over the Griffins of Canisius College on the Buffalo course.

The Saxon freshmen also opened their season against the baby Griffins and the AU squad took a 22-37 win.

Once again it was Frank Finnerty showing the way as he copped the 4.8 mile event with a 24:03 clocking. Senior Frank Gilbert came home in the second spot. Larry Sweet, a freshman from Buffalo, took third for the Warriors. He was followed over the finish line by Dave Wilcox, with Alfred's Larry Eaton rounding out the top five.

The number six man in the race was the first Canisius finisher.

Joe DiCamillo of Schenectady was the number one man in the yearling race. Finishing second was Carl Blanchard. The third and fourth Saxonites to come over the wire were Norman Gath and Charlie Williams.

Hoopsters Start In Thirteen Days

Basketball practice for the varsity and freshman squads will begin on Monday, October 15 in the Men's Gym.

Freshman candidates will assemble at 6:30 p.m. in the gym with the varsity members reporting at 8 p.m. Coaching the frosh this year will be Lennie Rapkin. Len is a four year man in basketball, having won three varsity letters in the sport and one in tennis.

Mariners; Red Raiders Come To AU

The U. S. Merchant Marine Academy visits Merrill Field on Saturday night in the Parents' Day clash. Game time is set for 8:15 p.m.

During the afternoon Coach Milton Tuttle's cross country squad will see action on the Saxon 4.3 mile course against the Red Raiders of Colgate University starting at 2:30 p.m.

Coach Clem Stralka's Kings Pointers come into the contest after having opened against Upsala College on Saturday. Led by Co-Captains Ed Orsky and Hank Schroeder, two senior backs, the Long Islanders will be out to try and get revenge for the 19-0 white-washing last year in the mud of Tomb Memorial Field.

The Royal Blue and Gray boast of fifteen lettermen and many of them remember the first game of this series, played in '54, which the KP boys took 18-15 after Alfred had run up an impressive 6-0 mark for the season through that clash.

The harriers had a 3-2 record last season and a victory over Colgate is included with wins over Canisius and Cortland State.

Running at Hamilton, the Tuttlemen downed Colgate 20-35. Frank Finnerty took individual honors as he easily romped to a victory over the entire field that saw three of his team-mates right behind him. Second went to Frank Gilbert while Doug Smith and Dave Wilcox finished in a third place tie. First over the line for Colgate was George Chesire.

... Kings Point was topped by Upsala at East Orange on Saturday.
