Political Science Club Tonight Discusses 'The National Scene'

"The National Political Scene" will be the topic discussed by the Political Science Club this Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m. in Howell Hall.

The discussion will be broken into three main divisions: the House of Representatives, the Senate, and the relationship of the executive department and Congress.

Students will comprise the panel which will deal with these individual topics. The main objective of this first meeting of the semester is to acquaint those who attend with the problems and situations that confront the Eighty-sixth Congress today.

Those students who will speak as panel members are: Martin Unger, who will deal with the House of Representatives as it is concerned with the national political scene; Michael Jaffe, who will discuss the Senate in light of the major topic; and Paul Cohen, whose topic is to portray the relationship of the executive and the Congress.

All students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend this meeting. There will be opportunity for audience questions and comments after the initial panel presentations.

Ceramics

The College of Ceramics was visited last week by Dean Norman Reiss of the College of Fine Arts at Carnegie Technical Institute.

Dean Reiss, also the president of the Art Association of America, was here to work with the faculty members of the Design Department.

Father Lalor Leads Three Day Retreat

Father Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., former president of St. Bonaventure University and at present professor of philosophy at Christ the King Seminary, will conduct a three day retreat on campus beginning today.

The retreat will open with an afternoon Mass at 4:30 p.m. today and will close Thursday evening. Mass will be said each afternoon at 4:30 during which Father Lalor will give a short instruction.

At 7:30 p.m. each evening there will be recitation of the Rosary followed by a conference. Confessions will be heard before Mass in the afternoon and again after the evening conference in the usual place in Alumni Hall.

This will mark the first time in recent years that a retreat will be held on campus. Fr. Lalor has had wide experience speaking to and counseling young people having spent the greater part of his life in student work.

Fr. Lalor addressed the combined faculties of AU and the Ag-Tech at a meeting several years ago.

Twentieth Century French Culture Is Theme of 'La Semaine Francaise'

"La Semaine Francaise," French Week, will be observed on the Alfred campus this year March 1-6.

This annual event is sponsored by the French Club, and all students in the French department are encouraged to help with the various displays and programs.

The purpose of French Week is to familiarize all Alfred students with the various aspects of French life. The theme this year is "French Culture in the Twentieth Century." Special emphasis will be placed on contributions made by French artists, scientists, and musicians of this century.

To open French Week, a carillon concert of French music will be given by Dr. Wingate, on Sunday, March 1 from 3-4 p.m. Displays will be set up in Herrick Library and in the French room in Myers Hall.

Films covering French culture and slides taken of France will be shown to the public at a time and place to be announced later. On Wednesday night, March 4, a French motion picture will be shown in Alumni Hall.

One event which the French department thinks should appeal to everyone is the sale of "Gouter," a type of French dessert roll, in the Union from 4-5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of French Week. The girls selling the "Gouter" will be easily recognized, dressed in French provincial costumes.

The climax of French Week will be the "Banguet de Saint Charlemagne," held on Thursday, March 5, at 7:0 p.m. in Howell Hall. This affair is restricted to members of the French Club, all students who received an "A" in French, and special invited guests. The evening will be highlighted by short speeches given by the "A" students, and a period of musical entertainment.

Watch future editions of the FIAT LUX and notices posted around the campus for further news concerning French Week.

St. Pat's Board Named As Festival Plans Begin

by Paul Holway
Publicity Director, St. Pat's Board

Evidence of the approaching St. Pat's Festival has once again come to Alfred. This evidence is becoming more prominent on the faces of our virile students and with the increasing sales of Kleenex and crepe paper that will soon be transformed into the characters of Disneyland.

The activities going on in the ceramic school offer further evidence that St. Pat's is nearing. The St. Pat's Board has completed pressing and rubber scrubbing the souvenirs for the weekend and is now in the process of glazing and firing the ware.

This is not their only activity, however, as work is now under way on preparations for the annual Open House and Dance.

The Board this year consists of thirteen seniors, six juniors, and two sophomores these include seventeen engineers and four designers.

The Board's co-chairmen are Al Teter and Gerry Bucher. Heading committees are: Chuck Bradt, Publicity; Dave Pye, General Activities; and Bob Reintsema, Open House.

Other members of the Board include: Mark Bohanon, Ray Doty, Jim Fisher, Jake Fredericks, Paul Holway, Dave Stanley, Art Waugh, Don Wilklow, Earl Conabee, Ted Covert, Doug Klosen, Dick Latonzea, Hank Nester, Frank Rossi, Frank Biele, and Roger Sherman.

Advisor to the Board is Prof. C. W. Merritt.

Avoid the Rush

The Interfraternity Council wishes to announce that there will be another preferential night, to be held this Thursday evening, between 7 and 8.

Anyone who is not yet a pledge and is eligible to pledge should visit the house of his choice on this preferential night, as long as this choice is not Kappa Nu.

All men who were not permitted to pledge because of low mid-semester index and who are now eligible may be tapped Monday evening, February 23.

Cast Is Named for Footlight's "Waltz"

Casting for "The Waltz Of The Toreadors," the farce-comedy that won the New York Drama Critics Award in the 1956-7 season has been announced.

This play, which will dance across the stage at the annual St. Pat's production on Saturday, March 14, has James Chase as General St. Pe, a pompous French general dictating his memoirs but more devoted to his memories.

Patricia Katz will play his wife, who accuses the general of being unfaithful, if only in his imagination!

Judy Chase will be seen as Ghislaine de St-Euverte, the beginning to fade beauty who has been waiting for the general to keep the promise to marry her that he made to her in the time of their dancing a waltz at a ball . . . seventeen years earlier.

In addition to this entangled trio, the cast will include Robert Meltzer, as the innocent secretary, Gaston, who learns his lessons about love from the general; Jules Leon as Dr. Bonfant, whose philosophy is "One must never understand one's enemy or one's wife;" Carolyn Lum as Sidonia and Nancy Miller as Estelle, the general's two ugly duckling daughters.

Gary Spitulnik will be seen as Father Ambrose, a parish priest who knows many interesting secrets and Joan Nagan as Mme. Dupont-Fredaine, an exotic dressmaker in charge of beautifying the two daughters.

Norma Kinder is the harried housemaid and Jo-An Taylor as the new maid, and new friend of the general's.

The set design is by Jerome Reicher, who has also done the new murals in the Huddle.

A Breathless Ivan Comes A'Courtin' In Chekov's 'The Marriage Proposal'

by Bruce MacDonald
 Instructor of English

Last Thursday, Alfred's largest captive audience was treated to a dramatized version of the usual assembly fare consisting of sound, mock fury and little signification. Members of the Footlight Club, directed by Jules Leon, raved, stamped and bawled their way through and over Chekov's "The Marriage Proposal."

The farce was all about bashful Ivan Lamov who comes a'courtin' Natalia Chubukov, Joanne Wendover, daughter of a prosperous neighbor. However willing Father may be, Cupid himself is nearly shafted in running controversies over who owns the south forty and the relative merits of the family dogs. One heart attack later, the shouting dies and all are reconciled. That's what all the noise was about.

Done in the broadest comic style, the production was frequently reminiscent of Punch and Judy. Joanne Wendover was properly indignant in the battle scenes but was otherwise without femininity. Those reversals in attitude which might have been attributed to the caprice of a coquette came off as the calculated obstinacy of a shrew. The surprise was that Ivan's heart stood it as long as it did.

Michael Moses, as the father, played his role at a 45 degree angle. At times his motions were properly stylized; at times he was a chained bear. Sam Chororos, as the lover, had a hilarious scene demonstrating the failings of Stephan Chubukov's dog. Chororos took some advantage of his reversals to relieve the intensity of the piece. Leon's pantomime was fun; Pat Katz was a fine Raggedy Ann doll of a maid.

From the moment the house lights were snapped off, the speed of the play was too fast. One got the impression that Chororos was not so much the bashful lover out of words as just out of breath. Particularly in the opening minutes of the play was this true when Chororos and Wendover rushed through the preliminaries to the first bout.

Costumes were pleasant, although Miss Shenker should have sewed Moses' pants pockets shut. Staging showed a refined disregard for color and style. The pink chair was out of a bad dream; the Victorian stand was a contrast to the modern sophistication of the rope divider. We like the white panel against the black curtain.

The overstatement of the maid's make-up was fine for the style in which the play was done—the marionette atmosphere mentioned earlier.

Leon and Company deserve the appreciation of the student body. While there are rewards for the work of Thursday's production, the hazards are also numerous, ranging from gangs of hoofed fiends who arrive at 11:07 to heartless reviewers.

The play was good entertainment—the sort of student effort which should be encouraged. Students coordinating in a production like Thursday's are worth a number of visiting friars.

Alfred Will Be Tunisia in April Model United Nation Assembly

The Mid-Atlantic Model United Nations General Assembly will meet this year at Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, the weekend of April 17-19.

The Alfred delegation will be representing the country of Tunisia at this conference.

The Model United Nations Assemblies, which are presented throughout the country on the basis of various territorial areas, are sponsored by the college department of the American Association for the U.N.

The purpose of this association is to disseminate information on the U.N. and to try to interest people in U.N. functions and their significance.

The make-up of the Model Assembly consists of three main types of meetings, plenary sessions composed of the entire body, four agenda committees—political, social and economic, trusteeship, and special political—and bloc caucuses.

Alfred, representing Tunisia, will be part of the Afro-Asian bloc at this conference. In prior years, AU has represented China, Chile, India and Indonesia.

All students who are interested in finding out more about this Monday U.N. Assembly are urged to speak with any of the professors in the history and political science department.

Those students who wish to be considered for participation in this Assembly must submit their names to Profs. Leach, Engelmann or Russell by this Friday.

Opportunity to attend the Model U.N. is open to all on the basis of interest and general ability. It is not necessary for the student to be a major in the department of history and political science.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

This Wednesday night the University of Rochester invades the Men's Gym for what promises to be one of the season's most exciting games. Alfred as you will remember, beat the U. of R. in the second game of the season on a last second shot by Howie Palmer. Since then, despite the fact Rochester has gone win-less, they have lost by less than four points in eight of these contests.

The Yellow-Jackets, thirsting for revenge, will be up for this one, as will the Saxons who now have a chance to even their record and go on to the first winning season the school has had since 1953. The teams are evenly matched, and both play an exciting brand of basketball.

School spirit, that magical thing which student governments are constantly worrying about, should be at a peak. Notice I say "should be"—not will be. On this evening, the Intersorority Council has seen fit to schedule rush parties. I would like to ask Miss Gayle, if the Council can postpone a rushing session for a Forum, why is it they can't do the same, for instance to Thursday, for a basketball game?

Surely not because they couldn't plan on it, because the basketball schedule was announced at least four months ahead of the Forum schedule. It seems to me that if the Intersorority Council is as concerned about school spirit as they claim to be, that this is a very strange way to show it.

Unless, of course, they don't consider a basketball game a good place to show school spirit. If this is true, I would like to make one request—is it possible to release the cheerleaders from this more important duty to lead a group of people who do think a ball game is a good place to show School Spirit?

Respectfully yours,
 Charles Williams

King and Queen Rain at Slushy Winter Carnival

by Kathy O'Donnell

The Snow Ball was, due to weather conditions, the only part of the Winter Carnival which was carried out as planned.

Final voting took place at the dance for the King and Queen. Those chosen were Jane Kelley and Dick Crombie, both of the Ag. Tech. The court was picked from nominations submitted by each of the men's and women's residences on the campus.

Also representing the Ag. Tech were Danny Moon and Gail Meyers. From the University were Karl Edwards, Mary Cavanaugh, Jake Fredericks, and Eric Kluwe. Miss Kelley and Mr. Crombie were each presented with inscribed trophies in the crowning ceremony emceed by Sam Iorio.

The outstanding feature of Art Dedrick and his ten piece orchestra was "danceability." While his music is not of the concert or recording variety, his traditional rhythms combined with a few original arrangements make the kind of sounds that are easy for dancing.

Their featured vocalist, Miss Sandy Owens, added an attractive note to the affair. While Miss Owens is not the possessor of an outstanding voice, her "crooning" helped to promote the general illusion of pleasantness.

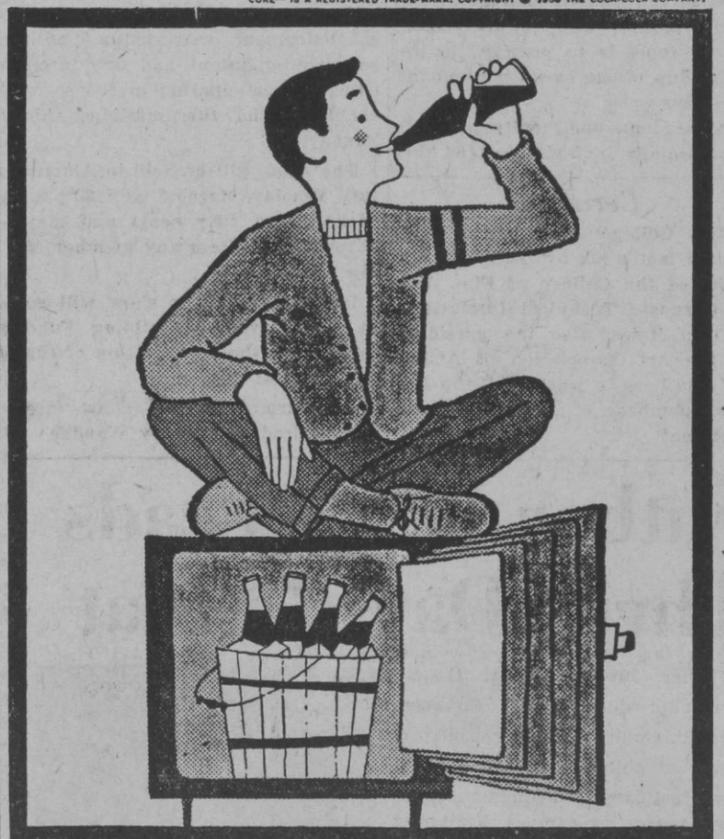

Trophies for the events including the human dog sled race, sports competition, and the snow sculpture will be held over for next year.

Wie Geht's?

Work on this year's Alfred Review, the student literary magazine which appears sometime in May is already in progress.

Editor Ruth Raider has selected a junior editorial board consisting of Patricia Katz, Steve Cohen, Joanna Burke, Barbara Broudy, Neil Drossman, Sandy Genzelman, and Angelo Pace and a senior board composed of Stan Moskowitz, Charles Froome, Judith Fairbank and Elaine Feinberg. Board members will participate in the selection of materials for the publication.

Faculty advice will be provided by Messers. Bruce MacDonald and Jack Clark and Dr. David Ohara of the English department, while Maxine Davis, Janet Weiss and Patricia Katz will serve respectively as Business Manager and Editorial Assistant, Art Editor, and Publicity Director.

The editors of this year's Review hope that by utilizing new ideas from the student body, several innovations will be introduced to the campus.

MANUSCRIPTS

Typed manuscripts of poetry, short stories and plays are to be sent to Post Office Box 681. The manuscripts are not to include the name of the author. A separate stamped, self-addressed envelope should be included with the submitted material.

Young Organizes Exchange Program Between A.U. and Gulf Corporation

Dr. George Young, associate professor of the Graduate Program in Catalysis, has launched an educational exchange program between the fundamental research laboratories of the campus and those growing up in industry.

Dr. Young has arranged to have campus scientists discuss mutual interests with a team working for Gulf Research and Development Corporation.

"It is time to get university research out of the 'ivory tower' and acknowledge that it is not in a class by itself but is doing much the same thing that industrial laboratories are doing," said Dr. Young.

According to Young, catalysts are essential in volume production of high octane gasoline, but there must be more work done so these catalysts can be improved in performance in other industrial processes.

The objectives of this exchange program result from the tendency to consider scientists working at university laboratories as people isolated from the everyday world.

As Young stated: "An important aspect of science today is the growing trend toward fundamental research in industry as well as in universities. The Gulf people felt, just as we did, that progress might be even faster if research groups had a chance to meet and talk things over."

Dr. Stanley Savage and research graduate Ralph Rozelle accompanied Dr. Young as representatives of the AU Catalysis Program to the first meeting under this program held at the Gulf Corporation's research laboratories in Pittsburgh earlier this month.

by Gail Kopper

Since Alfred's weather was its unpredictable self once again and the required snow wasn't produced, plans for sports and snow sculpture competition had to be tabled 'til another time. Though party spirits were somewhat dampened, party goers managed to have a good time anyway.

Klan Alpine had an informal party after the basketball game Friday night.

Kappa Psi celebrated the winter weekend with a "sweat shirt" party on Friday night. Their election of house officers resulted in pres. Dominick LaTondzea '60; vice pres. George Neudeck, '60; sec. Ray Pardon, '61, and soc. chairman Roger Sherman, '61.

Kappa Nu's party on Friday night was casual.

Lambda Chi had a party during intermission of the SnoBall. Fran Peterson '57 recently engaged to Nancy Hoeffner was back for the festivities. Dinner guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. William Crandall and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith.

Delta Sig had an informal party after the game on Friday night.

Back for the weekend at Theta Chi were Anne Clift '61, Carol Loveland '61, Margaret Roters '61. Marion Lyons '61 is engaged to Bob Hildebrande '59. Betty Reinke '59 was pinned to Bob Burger '60.

At Sigma Chi, Judy Oldham '61 and Liane Beeson '61 were back.

Pi Alpha has two new pledges. They are Gail Kelts '60 and Ruth Silverman '61. Back from Corning was Barbara Terhune '61.

At Omicron, Nancy Craig now of Buffalo formerly class of '61, was back.

Now for one last thought. This is something for the juniors and seniors to ponder. Is the Black Knight involved in fighting a battle, or is he living quietly in his castle?

'A Sleep of Prisoners' Will Be Sponsored by Episcopal Chapel

A reading of "A Sleep of Prisoners" by Christopher Fry will be presented in the Gothic this Thursday and Friday at 8:00 p.m.

"A Sleep of Prisoners" is a "highly imaginative, poignant drama about four prisoners of war locked up in a church in enemy territory. Thus confined, their problems are magnified as they struggle to understand themselves and the world."

Appearing as the four prisoners will be Dr. David James, research fellow at the Ceramic College; George Kirkendale, assistant professor of ceramic engineering; C. Duryea Smith III and Ronald Brown of the speech and dramatic production department. Brown will be directing the reading.

"A Sleep of Prisoners" is being sponsored by Christ Episcopal Chapel. There has been a renewal of interest recently on the part of churches in presenting drama in the church. Also, dramatists are using the myths and symbols of the Christian faith to convey their messages.

It is in connection with this revival of drama in the church that Christ Chapel is presenting the reading of several plays in the church.

A second reading, "J. B." by Archibald MacLeish will be presented March 19 and 20.

Thinclads Show Well At Buffalo St. Invitational

The Alfred University Trackmen came through in fine style last Saturday evening when they competed in the Buffalo State Invitational Relays at Buffalo. Although team standings were not recorded Alfred would have compiled enough points to place very high in the final standings.

One of the highlights of the meet was the mile run in which the Saxons' Frank Finnerty took first place with a time of 4:19.8. Frank ran a strong race and came home with yards to spare. Larry Sweet gave Alfred second place in the event with a sparkling run over the boards.

Dick Kappus streaked in second in the 75 yard finals. Ken Mattucci, Bob Ulmer and Bob Kelley qualified for the semi-finals in this dash.

The Warriors sprint medley team blazed in first with a 3:39.5 run. Hamilton College and Buffalo State finished second and third respectively. Alfred didn't seem to have much of a chance in the beginning of the relay race due to a dropped baton, but anchorman Frank Finnerty flashed ahead of the front runner to give the victory to Alfred. Frank ran one of his

Girls Compete At Syracuse

Last Saturday the WAGB volleyball and bowling teams took part in a playday at Syracuse University. The schools that competed in the playday were Alfred University, St. Lawrence University, the University of Rochester, Syracuse University, Oswego State Teachers College, and Cortland State Teachers College. The girls on the squad were: Pilar Calaf (captain), Juana Turkel, Joan Cutter, Pat Gregory, Betty Hampshar, Sandy Mathey, Linda Brayley and Shirley Haskins.

Alfred also lost in the bowling competition, first to Syracuse 511-491 pins and then to Cortland 480-445 pins. The girls on the team were: Karen Von Sauers, Elaine Scott, Grace Vaccaro, and Nan Coots.

Saxons Bow to Ithaca, 93-74: Victory String Stopped at 4

The Alfred Warriors' string of four straight victories was snapped on the Ithaca College hardwood last Wednesday night, when they were defeated by an explosive Bomber squad, 93-74. This was the Saxons' eighth defeat in fourteen games.

The one bright spot in the Alfred defeat was the sparkling performance turned in by Warren Sutton. "Suts" banged in 14 field goals and 2 fouls for a total of 30 points. This offensive spree was backed up by his fine board play as he pulled down 23 rebounds. Ithaca's Slomkowski, who Assistant Coach Al Siegel thinks is one of the best players he has seen in the last five years, sank 16 field goals and 2 fouls for a 34 point performance.

At the end of the first half with the score 45-41 in favor of Ithaca, it looked as if the game could go either way. But in the second half the Bombers' all-around play was too much for Alfred, as they were hitting consistently from the floor and sweeping rebounds from both boards. Steve Steinberg, Archie Bresnick, and Roger Ohstrum continued to turn in good performances as they scored 13, 12, and 11 points respectively in Alfred's attempt to overtake Ithaca.

With Slomkowski leading the way, the well-organized Ithaca squad hit for 44 field goals and 5 fouls for a total of 93 points, while the Saxons' 74 points were scored as a result of their 31 field goals and 12 fouls.

Hoopsters Down St. Lawrence 82-74 in Extra Period Thriller

The Alfred Saxons are a step closer to the .500 mark as a result of their victory over the spirited St. Lawrence Larries last Saturday night in a crowd-pleasing overtime contest. The 84-72 victory on their home court came after the score was 64 all at the end of regulation time.

Archie Bresnick and Rog Ohstrum were the standouts of the game as they combined to sweep the boards and score the points in the Saxon victory. Bresnick played one of the finest games of his college career as he bagged 23 points and grabbed 14 rebounds. His all-around aggressive play resulted in numerous outstanding defensive gems. Bresnick's hot hands helped the Warriors to pull away from St. Lawrence first in the second half and then again in the overtime period as he hit on assorted jumps and one handers. In one stretch in the 5 minute overtime he scored 6 points in succession. Ohstrum came through with one of his patented steady games as he too swept the boards for 14 rebounds while connecting for 22 points on his jump shots and soft outside sets. Rog bombed 3 consecutive set shots which electrified the crowd as the Larries were fighting to tie the score late in the second half.

Warren Sutton continued to exhibit his amazing rebounding prowess as he snared 20 rebounds causing the opposition unending frustration. He also contributed 12 points to the cause. Coach Pete Smith was pleased with the performances turned in by Frosh Joe Green and Sophomore Howie Palmer. Joe played very well off the boards while scoring 5 points and Howie showed his fine ball handling skill in the latter part of the game.

The Saxon starting five of Bresnick, McLarney, Ohstrum, Steinberg and Sutton dropped in 37 points in the first half as the St. Lawrence team scrapped to pull ahead. The Larries 33 point half time score was largely built up by the fine play of Daprano and Filatreau who had a game total of 23 and 17 points respectively.

In the first part of the second half, the Saxons managed to keep ahead of the team from Canton, New York as Bresnick and Ohstrum came through with some great shooting. It was at this point in the game, with the Larries breathing down the Warriors necks, that Ohstrum sank his three straight long set shots. Green and Steinberg also contributed key plays during this part of the game. With 1:16 remaining in the game, Sutton brought the 1200 screaming fans to their feet when he blocked a St. Lawrence shot with a beautifully timed leap to temporarily stall their drive to gain the lead. A few seconds later they went ahead of Alfred 64-63. With 3 seconds remaining and the partisan crowd yelling for victory "Suts" charged in on a driving lay-up, but missed the shot as he was "cut-down." With the crowd hushed in prayerful silence he muffed the first free throw and then stepped back on the foul line to sink the second attempt and to tie the game at 64 all. The game ended at regulation time with the score deadlocked. After St. Lawrence drew first blood in the anti-climatic overtime Ohstrum quickly equaled it with a booming set shot. Bresnick hit two fouls to make the score 68-65 after injuring his ankle in an attempt to score on a jump shot. He came back though to score four more vital points on a tap-in and a driving lay-up to increase the Saxon lead. After Ohstrum dumped in two more points, Bresnick scored 5 more points during some fast, hard play to bring his overtime total to 11 points and insure the Alfred victory. Jim Warner closed the Alfred scoring with a long one-hander from behind the keyhole with 8 seconds of playing time remaining.

The Warriors sank 31 field goals as against the Larries' 24, although St. Lawrence had 26 points from the foul line while Alfred had 20 via the free throw.

The Saxons will attempt to even their season record at 8 victories and eight defeats when they play host to the Yellowjacket squad from the University of Rochester on Wednesday night.

In the Freshman game preceding the varsity match, the Saxon frosh squad whipped Lambda Chi Alpha 61-46. High men for the victors were Al Walker with 22 points and Mike Benedict with 12 points. Ottman and Stanton of Lambda Chi collected 14 and 13 points respectively.

Grapplers Win; Defeat Rochester and Clarkson

The Alfred matmen easily defeated the University of Rochester squad 27-12 at Rochester last Wednesday to pull their record one match over the .500 mark.

The Saxons picked up their first 5 points when the 123 pound match was forfeited to Jim Gutierrez. In the 130 pound division, a spirited battle between Alfred's Jim Tenzel and Mickel ended in a 2-2 tie.

The Saxon grapplers swept the next three matches on pins; Dave Frey at 137 and Larry Wander at 147 pounds each won in the second period of each match, and Lyle Wiedeman pinned his adversary in the third period of the 157 pound class.

The Rivermen of Rochester won the next two matches from Dick Gross and Dennis Kohler on third period pins.

In the unlimited match, Alfred's mammoth Herman Lederberg made short work of Yellowjacket McGuire, pinning him after 1 minute and 10 seconds had elapsed in the first period.

The Alfred grapplers won their second match in a week when they defeated Clarkson Tech last Saturday afternoon on the Clarkson mats, 19-9. This win gave Coach Alex Yunevich's squad a season's total of four wins and two losses.

The first match of the afternoon, the 123 pound bout, was forfeited to John Gutierrez. In the 130 contest, Jim Tenzel won handily by a 5-1 score. Dave Frey lost a close match in the 137 pound class to Knapp of Clarkson. Larry Wander outpointed his adversary 6-3 in the next bout in the 147 pound division.

The 157 pound tussle between Alfred's fast and scrappy Lyle Wiedeman and Clarkson's Ryan proved to be the afternoon's most exciting match. "Wiedy" had the lead at the end of the first period, but from then on the match could have gone either way, with Wiedeman winning by a score of 6-5.

Clarkson took the next two bouts on points from Dick Gross and Al Gross; the team score were now 14 points for the Saxons to 9 for Clarkson, with the heavyweight match remaining. Alfred's Herman Lederberg proved too much for his opponent in this event, pinning him after 1 minute and twelve seconds of the contest. This was big Herm's fifth consecutive pin.

The next home meet will be this Saturday at 3 p.m. against Ithaca College. The Bomber squad features last year's national AAU Unlimited Division champion, a 6 foot 6 inch, 300 pound plus giant named Bob Marrilla. A good crowd is expected.
