The Eagle Has Landed

Silas Cochran completes service project, Court of Honor June 17

ALFRED—Alfred Boy Scout Troop 19 will hold an Eagle Scout Court of Honor for Silas Cochran at 6 p.m. Saturday, June 17 at St. Jude's Chapel, Lower College Drive, Alfred.

Silas attended the Annual Five Rivers Council Eagle Recognition Dinner in Elmira May 16 and was honored for earning his Eagle Rank. Five Rivers Council, the local Boy Scout Council, serves about 2700 area youth. Of those youth, just over 980 are Boy Scouts. He was one of only 45 Boy Scouts that earned the Eagle Rank this past year, the highest achievement attainable in the Boy Scouts of America.

Five Rivers Council in general and Boy Scout Troop 19 in particular, along with his friends and family are proud of Silas's accomplishment, not only because it is the highest achievement available in the Boy Scouts, but also because the average age of an Eagle Scout is 17. Silas accomplished this feat at age 15 as a high school freshman.

"While Silas is a young Eagle, he is more mature than most 17-year-old Eagle's I've met," said Scoutmaster Dan Napolitano, "He's been demonstrating his leadership skills since he was a Tiger."

A large portion of what goes into earning an Eagle Rank is the Eagle Scout Service Project, which requires the Scout to both demonstrate leadership and give back to his community.

Service runs in his family, as mother Jane and father Timothy serve on the Alfred Ambulance crew. Sister Erin will direct Camp Gorton's handicraft area this summer.

For his project, Silas chose to place fire numbers on the homes in the Town of Alfred, because volunteers with the local fire company had provided feedback stating that it was sometimes a struggle to readily find a house during an ambulance call. In order to achieve this feat, Silas first had to receive approval of the Alfred Town Board, which he happily received.

The entire project took Silas and his volunteers (Boy Scouts and parents of Boy Scout Troop 19 in Alfred, A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Company members and Alfred Station Fire Department members) 292 hours to complete, a large-scale accomplishment by any stretch.

When asked about his favorite part of the project, Silas said, "The favorite part of my project is hearing from the residents and fire company members that the signs really make finding a residence much easier, and knowing this project will have lasting benefit for the community for years to come."

When asked if there was anyone he would like to thank, Silas said, "I would like to thank the

Alfred Town Board, the community of Alfred and the A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Company for their support. Without their support this project would not have been possible."

Businesses that supported this project financially include Buffalo Crushed Stone; Deerskin Products Company; Hair Care; Hi-Tech, LLC; Old Mill Bar and Inn; Simmons-Rockwell Inc.; Snow Hill Inc. Lawncare, Landscaping and Snow Removal; The Bicycle Man, LLC;

Thrivent Financial and Tinkertown Inc. Hardware & Supply. Additional support was provided by New York State Electric and Gas Corporation; Otis Eastern Services, Inc.; Residents of the Town of Alfred; A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Company; The Alfred Sun and The Hornell Tribune.

Silas is actively involved as a leader of Order of the Arrow, serving as a Counselor in Training at Camp Gorton, and will be a staff member at Camp Brule's National Youth Leadership Training program.

He has been involved in Alfred-Almond scouting since Tiger Cubs with Pack 1026 and Troop 19.

Those who would like to attend his Eagle Scout Court of Honor Saturday, June 17 are asked to please RSVP at cochratj@alfredstate.edu All are invited to a dish-to-pass potluck dinner that will follow the Court of Honor in the church fellowship hall.

OBITUARIES

George T. Olix, a master welder extraordinaire

GEORGE T. OLIX
Founded Olix Welding

ALMOND—George T. Olix, 86, of Almond, beloved husband, father and grandfather, passed away unexpectedly at home on Tuesday, May 30, 2017 of natural causes.

George was the youngest of four children born to the late George, Sr. and Irene (Miller) Olix in Hornell on July 14, 1930. He attended the Hornell City Schools and married the late Carolyn (Beyea) Olix on July 25, 1949, at the St. Ann's Parish in Hornell. George and Carolyn were married for 65 years before her passing in 2015. George and Carolyn were both lifelong Hornell-area residents. In his younger years, George was a communicant of St. Ann's Church.

In his early working career he worked in the Freight House for the Erie Railroad and then became a master welder and pipe-fitter working three different jobs when he was first married to support his growing family. George was employed by National Cylinder, Stroebel's Welding, Foster & Wheeler, Frank Lill & Sons and was a member of Local 13 Boiler and Pipe Fitters Union.

In 1975, he founded Olix

Welding on North Main Street Extension. George's skills as an expert metal fabricator and boiler installer can be seen on many of the wrought iron railings in the Hornell area, and his work as an industrial boiler systems installer can be seen across New York State. Later, with his wife, Carolyn, he expanded the welding business to include Steuben Mechanical Contracting. George, with the help of his wife, sons and sons-in-law, designed and manufactured "Olix Air-Flo" wood and coal stoves starting in 1978. Even though he ceased production of his successful line of wood and coal stoves in 1990, many of these fine stoves are still in use all over the Northeast.

Before George retired, he enjoyed attending his children's sporting events, boating, water skiing, snowmobiling, hunting, camping, traveling in a small RV, working on his house and lawn, golfing and tinkering in his garage. He was a true road warrior who was always ready to drive anywhere on a moment's notice and passed that trait down to his children.

George also had the "gift of gab" as his wife Carolyn described his ability to strike up a conversation with anyone, anywhere. He loved to talk with people about a wide range of topics and wasn't shy about letting his opinion being known.

George had a soft spot in his heart for animals, especially several dogs he had during his life as well as a few cats that he adored. He also helped his daughter care for three horses on a daily basis for eight years. Most recently, he had three daily canine visitors who will miss him and the hot dog treats he always kept on hand for them.

George is survived by his eight children, Debra Dockstader, Steven (Lois) Olix, Danny Olix, Thomas (Laura) Olix, Dawn (Bryan) Dodge, Christopher (Tammy) Olix, Tedd (Julie) Olix and Susan Olix-Anderson. He is also survived by 22 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren as well as several nieces, nephews and cousins. In addition to his wife and parents, he was predeceased by his brother, Walter F. (Dorothy); his sisters, Virginia Olix and Cecelia (Gene) Morrison; his nephew, Walter F. Olix; and his son-in-law, John A. Anderson.

The family of George Olix would like to thank Dr. Nasar Chaudry for not only being George's doctor, but for also being a friend for many years, the Arkport Village Cafe for making him feel welcome every day for breakfast over the past few years and also his friends at the Arkport American Legion who also looked out for him. Their kindness did not go unnoticed by George or his family.

To send a remembrance to the family or to light a candle in George's memory, please visit www.brownpowersfuneralhomes.com. The family is being assisted by Gerald R. Brown, Director.

Calling hours were 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday, June 4 at the Bender-Brown & Powers Funeral Home, 354 Canisteo Street, Hornell. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at 2 p.m. Monday, June 5 at St. Ann's Church. Burial was in Hornell Rural Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family kindly requests donations be sent to the Hornell Area Humane Society, 7649 Industrial Park Road, Hornell, NY 14843.

ALFRED-HORNELL AAUW

Alfred-Hornell AAUW learns all about the DAR

HORNELL—The Alfred-Hornell branch of American Association of University Women recently met at Marino's Restaurant in Hornell. The evening's program, a talk and slide presentation of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), was by branch member Joan Sinclair. Sinclair is also a member of Allegany county's Catherine Schuyler Chapter of The DAR where she has held numerous offices. She is currently Speaker's Bureau and Genealogy Chairman at the state level.

The DAR is the largest women's service organization in the world, with more than 3,000 chapters. Founded in 1890 by an Act of Congress, membership is opened to any woman 18 years or older who can prove lineal descent from a patriot of the American Revolution. With the motto of God, Home, and Country their objectives are three-fold: Historic Preservation, Education, and Patriotism.

Local branches carry out projects to correlate with these initiatives, including but not limited to restoring and maintaining historical sites, preserving genealogical records and artifacts, providing scholarships and awards to outstanding students throughout the country, sponsoring American history essay contests, volunteering to veterans in VA hospitals and non-VA facilities, providing care packages and other needed items to America's service personnel and presenting patriotic awards to deserving individuals. Sinclair spoke of her branch being a Vietnam Veteran's 50th Year Commemoration Partner and participating in Wreaths Across America. They also recognize DAR Good Citizens with awards and scholarships and participate in local activities during Constitution Week.

Slides were shown of DAR Headquarters in Washington, DC. Three buildings are in the DAR complex, which covers an entire city block. Two of the buildings are Registered Historic Landmarks. Within these three buildings are located the DAR Museum, which contains over 30,000 artifacts used in America prior to the Industrial Revolution; the DAR Library, an outstanding center to research genealogy; and the DAR Americana Collection.

The DAR Americana Collection includes a complete collection of all the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, Revolutionary War documents and much more. There are also exhibits of notable DAR members. Sinclair named a few of these over 120 "Dazzling Daughters", including Clara Barton, founder of The American Red Cross; Anita Newcomb McGee, who organized the DAR Nurse Corps and formed the Army Nurse Corp; Mary Edwards Walker, the first woman awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for her work as a surgeon during the Civil War, astronaut Margaret Rhea Seddon, and Lt. Gen. Michelle Johnson, first woman Superintendent of U.S. Air Force Academy. She also stated that ten of America's First Ladies were also DAR members.

Sinclair provided more information as to how the DAR has participated in patriotic activities throughout history. Also attending the informative meeting was guest Patricia Teachman Moore, a former teacher in Hornell who has held a DAR membership in Colorado and Alaska.

The Alfred-Hornell branch welcomes new members. Please contact President Patricia Soper-Oakes at 607-382-2949 for more information.

Scene About Alfred

By SHERRY VOLK
Alfred Sun Columnist

While we were in Ithaca for the homeschool graduation of Clark Young, son of Alfred Sun readers, Lincoln and Julie Young formerly of Alfred, I came upon this scene as I walked in the neighborhood.

First photo (at right): Oddly, it's called the "Eight Square Schoolhouse," rather than "Octagonal," but it is beautifully restored and maintained. The front door is propped open because there are "students" inside, learning about schooling in the 19th century.

Second photo (above): Amenities for the students; a hand pump, a bucket, a curved rock holding a bar of soap, and a dipper.

Str8 Eight tourney set June 8

ALFRED-In his final tournament as an undergraduate student, Alfred State senior, Patrick Dioguardi, played four solid rounds and left Alfred a college graduate and winner of May Str8 Eight tournament, edging out local student—and friendly face you see at Tinkertown Hardware—Tim Corkey. Hopefully Patrick had time to spend that $25 gift card!

The June tournament will coincide with the early start of Reunion Weekend at Alfred University on Thursday, June 8th beginning at 8 p.m. Hopefully several alums will stop through to learn Alfred's very own game and enjoy an evening of free, family fun at the Terra Cotta Coffeehouse.

So, come on out this month, enjoy a lovely evening in downtown Alfred, and begin to prepare for the 5th annual Str8 Eight Day tournament coming in August.

Visit <http://str8-eight.com> for more information on how to play.

SUNNY SIDE UP

By ELLEN SHULTZ
Alfred Sun Columnist

Ellen's father pie baker, salad specialist

[Editor's Note: Like most of the recipes she shared with our readers over the past couple of decades, Ellen Shultz's Sunny Side Up columns are worth repeating.]

My dad loved to cook and was very good at it. He was the pie baker in our family and was also the salad specialist. This is one of his favorites which I rediscovered in my recipe box. It makes a nice change for a salad or can be served warm and, I guess, count as a vegetable.

Spicy Chickpeas

- 2 T. vegetable oil
- 1 med. onion, finely chopped
- 1 tsp. ground coriander
- 1/2 tsp. ground cumin
- 1/8 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 2 T. chopped cilantro
- 1/8 tsp. turmeric
- 1 (15 oz.) can chickpeas, rinsed and drained
- 1/2 tsp. coarsely ground pepper
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. lemon juice

In a large skillet, heat the oil. Add the onion and cook over moderately high heat, stirring, until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Add the coriander, cumin, cayenne and turmeric and cook, stirring, about 1 minute. Add the chickpeas, pepper and salt and cook over moderate heat until warmed through. Remove from the heat and stir in the lemon juice and cilantro. Transfer to a bowl and serve warm or at room temperature.

Tammy Kokot's story well done but failed to mention herself!

To the Editor:

Tammy Kokot's story about Almond's Hometown Heroes Banner Project was well done and described the impact of that project here in Almond.

She failed to mention – so I would like to – her own name: The Hometown Hero Banner project was Karl Grantier's brainchild – but Tammy stepped in at a very crucial point and did a whale of a job getting the applications and photos together so that the project could be done on time.

And besides that, she organized and promoted the reception – which by the way was very nicely done and was well attended. Thank you, Tammy, for all that you did -- and continue to do – to make this wonderful project happen!

Gratefully,

Thank you, Snow Hill!

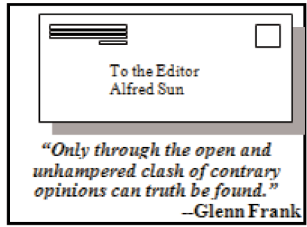

To the Editor:

Thank you Snow Hill! Many thanks to Matthew Snyder and Snow Hill Inc. for their willingness to do a bit of community service and clean up, weed, and spread fresh mulch at the small landscape triangle in Alfred Station.

For the past 20+ years Pam Jones, Don Cameron, Cindy and Tom Mansfield and I have been maintaining this landscape area since the Alfred Twenty-First Century Group first did the plantings. I felt it was time to pass the baton to someone else so I approached Matthew and he graciously agreed to my proposal. This past week the space was refreshed and looks wonderful!

Many Thanks!

Sincerely,

Grilling fire safety tips

To the Editor:

Did you know that according to a 2016 NFPA report on "Home Grill Fires", on average 8,900 home fires are started by grills each year? Costing on average $118 million in direct property damage. Or that in the year 2014, there were 16,600 patients that went to the ER due to injuries involving grills?

According to the NFPA study the main causes for these fires and injuries were due to grills that are too close to flammable objects, leaving the grill unattended, and improper cleaning of the grill.

With the warmer weather come gatherings of friends and family. There will be lots of outdoor grilling, camping out, games etc. While enjoying each other's company and appreciating the warmer weather, please keep safety in mind.

Here are a few safety tips (posted at right) from our friends at FEMA to help ensure a fun and safe time.

Knowing a few fire safety grilling tips will help everyone have a safe summer.

Only use your grill outside.

Keep it away from siding and deck rails.

Keep a 3-foot safe zone around your grill and campfire.

This will keep kids and pets safe.

Clean your grill after each use. This will remove grease that can start a fire.

Place the coals from your grill in a metal can with a lid once they have cooled.

Open your gas grill before lighting.

Keep an eye on your grill, fire pit or patio torches. Never leave any of them unattended.

Stay fire safe this summer!

INTERNATIONAL CELTIC ART DAY

Walker Metalsmiths to host open house Friday, June 9

ANDOVER—Friday, June 9 has been designated as International Celtic Art Day. The announcement comes from a group of contemporary Celtic artists, scholars, traders and Celtic art lovers, including several local to this area.

The group has been exchanging ideas on the internet since June 9, 2000. The members of this group include many of the leaders of the current Renaissance of Celtic art including Michael Carroll, Hamish Burgess, Ruth Black and Vitor Gonzales as well as local Celtic jeweler Steve Walker.

Steve Walker last week announced, "My studio, on Main Street in Andover, will be hosting an open house reception from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday, June 9. Every day is Celtic Art Day at our studio, but on this occasion, we will highlight the truly international artwork, crafts and jewelry that we carry from Celtic artists in Scotland, Ireland, Canada and even Italy."

the imaginations of today's Celtic artists shows that the style is constantly evolving.

Pat Fish, Celtic tattoo artist from California, was quick to point out that not only does June 9 fall on a Friday in 2017, it is also a full moon, the "Moon of Horses." It is hoped that June 9 will become an annual occasion for celebrating Celtic art both ancient and modern.

Fiber artist Ruth Black of Inverness was an early supporter of the concept and is excited about promoting the celebration in Scotland. The first actual event to be scheduled for International Celtic Art Day is an Open Studio exhibit by artist Angelique Moorman in the Netherlands. The concept has also had support expressed from forum members in Spain, Canada, Ireland, and Australia.

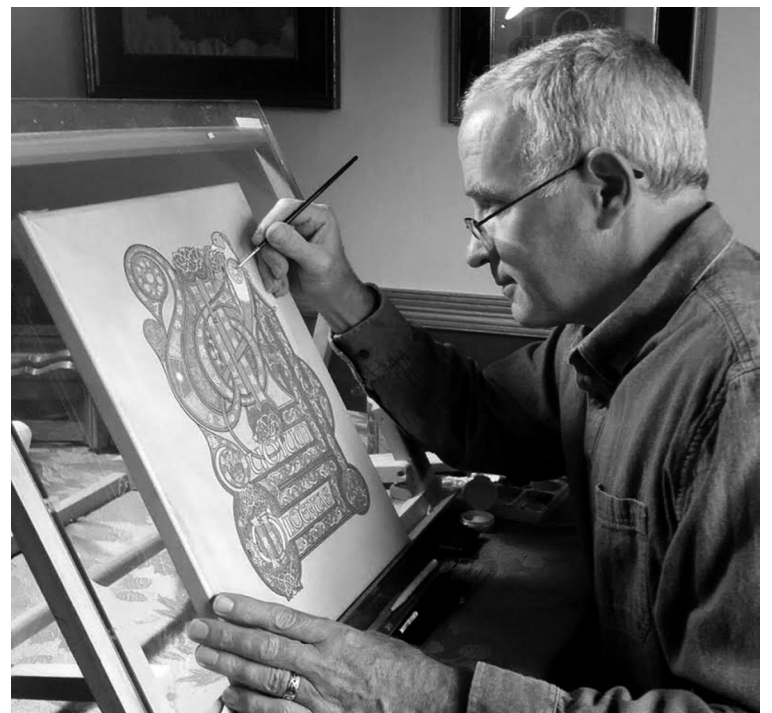

Steve Walker and assistant Lindsey Thurber hanging Celtic art at Walker Metalsmiths in preparation for the International Day of Celtic Art open house on June 9.

The choice of the ninth of June to celebrate Celtic Art seems almost obvious. The Book of Kells and the Book of Durrow, great medieval masterpieces of Celtic art, are associated with the great Celtic spiritual leader Columcille. June 9th is his feast day.

Columcille is also an excellent example of the international nature of Celtic art. In the year 563 AD he left Ireland over a controversy regarding the copying of a book and took up residence on the Scottish Isle of Iona. From there he travelled to Pictland, in Northeastern Scotland. His followers established a network of communities expanded far beyond these areas in the generations that followed. The style of Celtic art that spread across Northern Europe from the 6th to the 10th centuries followed the network of contacts begun by Columcille.

That forum, which was originally a Yahoo Group, was moved to Facebook several years ago. Philadelphia based designer and digital artist Ed Rooney recently began a discussion of the concept of "authenticity" on the forum. While the public tends to think of modern Celtic art as something copied from the past, the creativity and original designs that come from

Brooklyn College student serving as Alfred Sun summer intern

ALFRED—The Alfred Sun is pleased to announce that a Brooklyn College communications major is serving as a summer intern with the newspaper for six weeks beginning this week.

Jonathan Rossianno of Brooklyn, awarded one of 20 New York Press Association summer internships, has a background in graphic design and has his associate's degree in multimedia art and design. He is pursuing a bachelor's degree in communications at Brooklyn College.

"Jonathan has proven himself as having an eye for creativity," said Alfred Sun Editor and Publisher Dave Snyder, "He has an impressive portfolio."

At the Alfred Sun, Snyder hopes to tap that creativity in providing free graphic design services to Alfred area businesses that would like to develop a fresh logo or graphic image.

An alum of the Urban Male Leadership Academy (UMLA), Jonathan created the logo for the institution from which he was awarded an academic scholarship.

Jonathan enjoys expressing his thoughts and ideas with others.

"Jonathan describes himself as having a 'spirit of persistence, a mind of discipline, and a heart for hustle,' Snyder said, "and he's fun-loving and can do some pretty good impersonations."

He's enjoyed doing some comedy and performing spoken word and is now an author, having self-published "Cultivated By God," for which he also designed the cover. "Cultivated By God" is a poetry book that gives a unique perspective on much needed current topics of discussion. His book is available on all platforms and is inspired and dedicated to his late uncle.

"Jonathan is a go getter and we are happy to have him with us for the next six weeks," Snyder said.

Jonathan's six-week internship is one of twenty throughout the state funded by the New York Press Association Foundation.

Alfred State prof wins experimental film award

ALFRED—Alfred State Assistant Professor of Digital Media and Animation Jeremy Speed Schwartz recently took home first place in the Experimental Film category at the ASIFA East Awards ceremony in New York City.

Now in its 48th year, the ASIFA East Awards event is America's longest continuously running animation awards ceremony. ASIFA (Association Internationale du Film d'Animation) is an organization that was founded in 1960 in Anancy, France by a group of international animators to increase worldwide visibility of animated films. Its eastern US chapter, ASIFA East, is based in New York City.

Speed Schwartz's winning film, "Iterations," is described as an "abstract iterative loop with changing timeframes," in which shapes and lines overlap and affect each other across three different loops. The piece was inspired by the work and techniques of Adam K. Beckett, an undisputed master of optical printing, whose works ("Sausage City" and "Dear Janice") utilize single iterative loops. The music track for "Iterations" was developed and performed by Speed Schwartz and musician Anton Flint, of Hornell.

Prior to being honored at the ASIFA East Awards, "Iterations" premiered at the Punto y Raya festival in Karlsruhe, Germany last October, and has since screened internationally at 15 festivals, including the Ann Arbor Film Festival and Athens Animfest. Upcoming screenings include the Melbourne International Animation Festival and the Animex Festival at Teesside University in Middlesbrough, England.

Speed Schwartz said most of the animators he knows reside in southern California, and that the award has provided him a great

BEQUEST $2 MILLION

Bernsteins join Heritage Circle

ALFRED—Alfred University alumnus Gene Bernstein '69, a long-time member of the University's Board of Trustees and Chair Emeritus, and his wife, Kathy, have become the latest Heritage Circle members through a bequest commitment of $2 million toward their previously endowed scholarship fund at Alfred University.

Alfred University President Mark Zupan announced the Bernsteins' bequest, in addition to thanking Bernstein's siblings for their contribution of $100,000 to the scholarship fund, which Gene and Kathy Bernstein had previously established.

In making the bequest, Bernstein said: "Kathy and I have a deep appreciation for Alfred University and how it changes lives. It is a catalyst educating the whole student, encouraging independent thought, and raising social awareness—all within a deeply caring family environment. It is our pleasure to make this commitment and give back to a place that has inspired so many and will undoubtedly do so in the future."

Zupan noted the Bernsteins' bequest raises the total level of gifts and commitments to Alfred University to $23.5 million for the 2016-17 academic year. That is the second highest total in the history of Alfred University in terms of philanthropic investment.

opportunity to become more involved with the animation community on the East Coast.

"The outpouring of support from the animation community has been wonderful," he said, "and has been a great energy boost for the continuing independent animation work I've been doing."

Experimental animation, Speed Schwartz said, is an area of animation practice that can be difficult to define, and is often misunderstood to indicate a technique or idea that is unfinished. Encompassing innovations in technique, process, design, and structure, experimental animation is "probably better understood as innovative or avant-garde animation," Speed Schwartz said.

"Animation in popular culture is dominated by character-based works primarily for children, but there is a dedicated community of experimental animators that have existed since the earliest days of cinema constantly pushing to expand what the medium can do," Speed Schwartz said. "It's great to see organizations such as ASIFA honor the work of those animators."

For the Birds...

By BETSY BROOKS
Alfred Sun Columnist

One of the attractions at Braddock Bay for the past 30+ years is the Hawk Watch that takes place every spring. Braddock Bay Raptor Research is a not-for-profit organization that not only does hawk banding and education about raptors, but every spring hires a trained hawk counter. That person stands at a platform at Braddock Bay Park every day from early spring to early June (unless it is pouring rain) and counts the hawks, by species, migrating over the park just before making the flight over Lake Ontario.

This spring's official counter has been Bob Baez. Besides counting the hawks, he also answers any questions visitors (and there are many of them) might have. At the end of each day, the numbers for all the raptor species are posted on the Genesee Birds Website along with comments about that day's hawk watch.

For example, here is the report from May 31 last week.

Braddock Bay
Rochester, New York, USA
Daily Raptor Counts: May 31, 2017

Red-shouldered Hawk	0	1	347
Broad-winged Hawk	247	12368	37734

Mississippi Kite	0	1	1
Swainson's Hawk	0	1	3
Total:	441	19203	73222

Observation start time: 08:15:00
Observation end time: 17:45:00
Total observation time: 9.5 hours
Official Counter: Bob Baez

Visitors: A few visitors and Seth from channel 9 interviewed some folks, mostly about water issues, and hopefully got some film of eagles. Lots of good eyes on the platform to help with the high, scattered flight.

Raptor Observations:
Bald Eagles still moving in numbers.
Non-raptor Observations:
2 Sandhill Cranes.

One of the most exciting numbers on this spring's count is the number of Bald Eagles counted. Just on May 31, there were 51 Bald Eagles counted moving northward over the lake. I remember there being just one active Bald Eagle nest in western New York in the '70s and early '80s. They became endangered due to habitat destruction, illegal shooting, and DDT contamination of the fish they ate. The ban on DDT use and their protected status the last 30 years has definitely paid off. Now there are multiple nests along the Genesee River between Wellsville and Scio. And you can almost always spot an eagle at Almond Dam. It goes to show that humans can sometimes, but not always, repair the damage they've created.

'Second Sowing' workshop set for Tinkertown June 24

ALFRED STATION—Before you know it, it will be mid-summer, late July. Peas, spinach, lettuce, beets, cabbage and broccoli will be long gone from your garden. The rows stand empty awaiting the winds.

Mid-summer is the time to sow the other half of the garden. We call it "Second Sowing" (or what to do with half of the garden).

Cornell Cooperative Extension's Master Gardener Mary Lu Wells will conduct a "Second Sowing" gardening workshop at Tinkertown Hardware from 11 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, June 24.

Plant now and harvest long into the fall. You too can pick fresh from your garden a healthy, tasty, salad for your Thanksgiving dinner. As my Aunt Lily would have said, "Waste not, want not."

Space and free seeds are limited so register now. Contact Colleen Cavagna at cc746@cornell.edu or call 585-268-7644 ext. 12.

OFA needs driving vols

Driving gives most of us the freedom to go anywhere, at any time. Driving also gives us the freedom to do the simple, but necessary things as going to the pharmacy, visiting your doctor and going to the grocery store. But some older adults are not able to drive anymore.

Allegany County Office for the Aging Volunteer Transportation Program helps people ages 60 and older get to medical appointments, the grocery store, pharmacy or bank. Volunteer drivers are needed in all areas of the county. Just a few hours of one's time can make a world of difference to the person who is unable to drive anymore. Volunteers are reimbursed $.50 a mile from their own home and back to their own home.

A large corps of volunteers is needed to be able to provide rides to all the OFA clients. Volunteer drivers choose the days and times that are convenient for them. Giving a lift to an older adult can make a big difference.

Call the Allegany County Office for the Aging and ask for Karen Chamberlain for more details 268-9390, or toll-free 1-866-268-9390.

Sun Spots (By Sam Scholes Sr.): Syllables Gone Wild! Grammarians have a way of naming the next to final syllable of a word the penult, the one before it the antepenult, then the penantepenult, and so on. By applying this system, we may find that "antidisestablishmentarianism" is not the longest English word. A description of its first syllable gives us: "Antepenantepenantepenante...etc."; eleven pairs of syllables and enough letters to make the type-setting machine stutter. (Ed. Note: Wouldn't that be just the peanuttiest word?)

Almond residents are still enthusiastically talking about the largest Memorial Day Parade people can recall, and are starting plans to make next year's even bigger and better. A crowd estimated at around 300 line Main Street to view the event which boasted some 15 units. In past years, the parade had dwindled down to the AACs Band, the ROTC, the Alfred American Legion, and a handful of children representing local organizations. Mayor Leon Hanks, who fostered the idea of an expanded Memorial Day Parade, noted, "There were so many kids in the parade this year, there weren't any left to chase, along behind and beside on bicycles!"...

had been playing in the yard and found the gate to the pool fence open. She wandered in and fell in approximately two feet of water. She was unconscious when dragged from the pool, and the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation of her brother saved her life. Answering the ambulance call were Chief Kellogg, Ken McIntosh, and Karl Grantier, who rushed her to St. James Mercy Hospital in Hornell, where she was discharged a couple of days later.

It's a grave undertaking but Alfred, N.Y. is up to the task, says David Snyder, editor of its hometown weekly newspaper. For three days next week, this small village with 1,200 full-time residents and a single traffic light will play host to an international conference for obituary writers from places as far away as Nigeria, Great Britain and Spain as well as all over the United States. They will gather in the Kenyon-Allen Rooms in the Powell Campus Center on the Alfred University campus for the latest word in how to write the final word...Having the obituarists conference in Alfred is just one more way to lay to rest the rumor that the village — home to 5,000 students during the academic year — is dead in the summer. "It's really quite lively," affirms Snyder. "There's lots going on."

State University of New York Interim Chancellor John B. Clark has announced that he has appointed Alfred State College Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Ronald Rosati as Officer in Charge of the campus effective June 1, 2007. As Officer in Charge, Dr. Rosati will have all the responsibilities and authority of a campus president...

Rose Marie Jennings, 72, of 8 Martin Street, Belmont, a native of Alfred Station, school music teacher spanning five decades, professional singer, who after retirement formed a vision loss support group and developed an online support network for those suffering the same eye disease that caused her loss of vision, died on Monday, June 4, 2007 at the home of her sister and brother-in-law Phyllis and Walter Dennis of Wellsville following a long battle with cancer. She was born on May 18, 1935 in Hornell, the daughter of Milton P. and Rose (Greene) Emerson. On August 24, 1974 she married Monty Jennings, who survives...

Sixty-six descendants of John and Ruby Jacox gathered at Camp Harley in Alfred Station over Memorial Day Weekend for their 30th reunion...

ALFRED STATION SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST CHURCH 'Tutor' sermon based on Galatians 3:24

ALFRED STATION—The sermon scripture at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church on Sabbath, June 10 is Galatians 3:24: "Therefore the Law has become our tutor to lead us to Christ, so that we may be justified by faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a tutor."

Last Sabbath from the sermon scripture, Galatians 3:19-23, the question was raised, "Why the Law then?" This passage gives one more answer, that the Law is a "Tutor to bring us to Christ."

Our New Testament is translated from "Koine" Greek. The word this version translates "Tutor" refines "Tutor" for us. This "Tutor" was a Greek or Roman household slave who was given responsibility for the behavior of a boy from 6-16 years old. The slave was particularly responsible to see that the young man made it to school, paid attention and completed all assignments. This kind of supervision was deemed necessary until he was declared a man and thus an heir.

Here is Paul's argument: 1. We were under Law, 2. It is the task of the Law to prepare us for maturity, 3. The maturity comes in a moment of Faith in Christ Jesus, 4. At the point of faith the task of the "Tutor" is complete. (One closing aside, a person doesn't forget what the "Tutor" has taught.)

Join us this Sabbath, June 10, at the church meetinghouse 587 Route 244 Alfred Station for the 11 a.m. Sabbath Worship Hour, and bring your family. If you are unable to be there live Stream the Worship Hour beginning at 10:55 a.m. at: www.alfredstation.sdb.org.

ALMOND UNION OF CHURCHES

'Ongoing Power' sermon on Acts 2

By LINDA STAIGER

Message from Interim Pastor Michelle Ormsby Serra at Almond Union of Churches as reported by Linda Staiger.

If you had a message today that you wanted to spread or news to share with the largest number of people possible, what would you do? How many recall a time when the internet did not exist? Or even the telephone? You could use sky writing, ads in newspapers, radio interview...or even send up smoke signals.

Today's technology gives us internet, satellites, social media for high speed communications. Today you can use Google Translate to translate the Bible by using the camera function and look at the page through the camera...watch the words magically move from English to almost any other language.

There's an app for that... In the end, it all comes down to how we use it...or don't.

On the Day of Pentecost, thousands of people heard the Word...in their own languages. They understood.

The Holy Spirit has a power that we can't even begin to understand. The power to change and transform lives. It's like an essential breath that seems to be the very life-force itself. It came to all and filled them with power and a boldness to proclaim what it was they had come to know as truth. Jesus was the Messiah.

Those that were gathered there that day were miraculously given the gift of comprehending other languages—God broke down barriers between nations and cultures. The Gift of Pentecost is the stunning message of true equality among all people in the sight of God.

The work of the Holy Spirit is to loose God's people in the world to witness to the good news. On this day, the Disciples became Apostles...those who are sent out to deliver and spread the teaching to others.

The Holy Spirit did not just show up once back in the day. He has ongoing power...the ability to empower and change US. Too often we limit God...we think only in human terms. I can't do that, I am not a good speaker, I don't have enough money—sometimes we are right. By ourselves could be unable to do those things, but God provided the Holy Spirit for us. A power source from which to draw strength and comfort and peace.

As we celebrate Pentecost today and continue to lead lives of faith, may we too continue to learn about all that God has in store for us. May we choose to experience the light and power available to us. And to share with those around us the 'ongoing power' that God has given to us.

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, June 8

On this day in 1845, knowing that the end was now at hand, Andrew Jackson called for his wife, his grandchildren, and his servants. He thanked his wife for caring for him so well and encouraged the children to be obedient. To the servants he said: "God will take care of you for me. I am my God's. I belong to Him, I go but a short time before you, and I want to meet you all in heaven, both white and black."

At that everyone burst into tears, including the servants outside on the porch. "Oh, do not cry," he pleaded. "Be good children, and we will all meet in heaven." With these words Andrew Jackson died.

Alfred State employees receive Pioneer Awards

ALFRED— Alfred State President Dr. Skip Sullivan recently presented five faculty and staff members with the college's Pioneer Award.

Recognized at the college's employee recognition banquet were: Garth Grantier, Jeffrey Wilcox, Kent Johnson, Danielle Green, and Larry Fox. Each received a certificate and a monetary gift.

The Pioneer Award acknowledges those who have demonstrated commitment and dedication to the college mission and goals, have made contributions that have had meaning and measurable positive impact on college operations, are seen as positive role models and show creativity and initiative, and have shown a consistent level of exceptional performance throughout their employment.

Grantier, academic advisor in the Student Success Center, has had a very positive impact on the college, and especially the students from Educational Opportunity Program. These students generally need guidance to help navigate the college transition. Grantier helps guide, provide advice, and supports the students academically.

With his help, these students are becoming great learners and leaders, which is of great benefit to the college. In addition, Grantier is a member of the Faculty Senate, Pathways Leadership Team, Placement Test Committee, CDR committee, and the Summer Prep Academy Committee.

Wilcox, a lieutenant in the University

Police Department, has performed every function of the department, from clerical duties to executive and administrative duties. He has also invested countless hours into the successful reaccreditation of the University Police Department.

Wilcox has also trained hundreds in the use of Naloxone, a life-saving drug that counteracts opiates in a person's system. The department even has documented cases in which individuals who have received this training from Wilcox have saved lives. As a member of the Commissioner's Training Team, he has traveled across the state providing "Fair and Impartial Policing" training to others.

As chair of the Automotive Department, Johnson enthusiastically describes the merits of an Alfred State education to parents and hopeful students at Open House events, while recruiting at high schools, recruiting industry support for the department, and serving as a member of the advisory board.

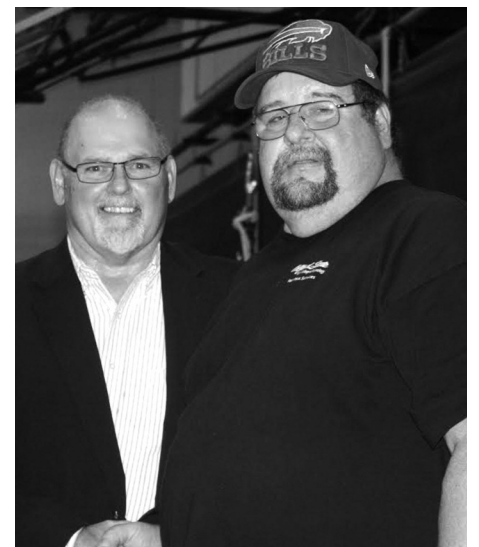

Since taking over chair responsibilities, one of his goals is to make the Automotive Department nationally recognized. The first attempt at this recognition was entering the Green Grand Prix held at Watkins Glen International Speedway. Another event that Johnson has supported was attempting to set a speed record for a one-liter vehicle at the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah. With Johnson's support, Alfred State has also participated in the ELK Charity Challenge, Fireball Run Adventure Rally, and the college's latest adventure, the Great Race.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY SPORTS ROUNDUP

AU ranked in two preseason polls, LiCata preseason All-American

ALFRED—Two publications have the Alfred University football team included in their 2017 Preseason Top 25 rankings, with both also naming standout Saxon linebacker A.J. LiCata (Lake View/Frontier) a preseason All-American.

Lindy's Sports and Street & Smith recently released their 2017 preseason rankings and the Saxons are ranked ninth and 19th, respectively, in the publications. Meanwhile, LiCata, a senior linebacker, was named a First Team Preseason All-American linebacker by both Lindy's Sports and Street & Smith.

LiCata is coming off a junior season in 2016 in which he was named an American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) First Team All-American, Associated Press Third Team Little All-American, Third Team D3football.com All-American, and Second Team Hero Sports All-American.

The Empire 8 Conference and

E C A C North Defensive Player of the Year and a D3football.com East First Team All-Star, LiCata finished the 2016 season with 153 tackles (11½ for loss, 4½ sacks), an interception and a forced fumble.

LiCata was named Jay Berwanger Division III Player of the Year by the Metropolitan New York Football Writers Association and was also a semifinalist for the Gagliardi Trophy, an annual award recognizing excellence in Division III football.

The Saxons went 12-1 last season, going 10-0 in the regular season and winning the Empire 8 Conference title with a perfect 8-0 league mark. AU earned the top seed in their region of the NCAA Division III championship tournament and won two playoff games at home (against Bridgewater State and Western New England) before falling at home to Mount Union in the tournament's quarterfinal round.

Alfred became the first team in the history of the Empire 8 to go through a regular season unbeaten and the team's 12 wins in 2016 are the most in a season in program history. The Saxons finished the season ranked 12th in both the AFCA and D3football.com final national rankings, the best ever for an AU team, and were rewarded for their historic season by earning the Lambert Cup as the top Division III team in the East.

The Saxons open the 2017 season with a Sept. 2 road game at 1 p.m. at Ithaca. Alfred opens its Empire 8 slate the following weekend, Sept. 9, at 1 p.m. at home against Utica.

More honors for Liz Thompson

ALFRED—Liz Thompson (Horseheads), a senior third baseman on the Alfred University softball team, has earned her second All-America certification of the 2017 season.

Thompson, who last month was named a National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) Second Team Division III All-American, has been named an All-American by Fastpitch News, a leading on-line source of news about high school, collegiate and professional fastpitch softball. Fastpitch News released its 2017 Division III All-American teams on Friday and Thompson earned Honorable Mention.

The Saxons' record-setting third baseman became the first two-time NFCA All-American in AU team history when she was named to the Second Team two weeks ago. Thompson was also a Second Team NFCA Division III All-American as a sophomore in 2015.

Thompson was named an NFCA First Team Northeast Region All-Star last month, an honor she also earned in 2015. She has also been named an Empire 8 Conference First Team All-Star and an ECAC North First Team selection for 2017.

Thompson started all 38 games at third base for the Saxons and batted .415 with 49 hits (including 13 homeruns and 10 doubles), 52 runs and 33 RBIs. She also stole a school single-season record 28 bases (in 31 tries), including a single-game record five against Elmira on April 9. Her slugging percentage (.847) led the Empire 8, while her .521 on-base percentage ranked third in the conference.

AU finished the 2017 season with a 21-17 record, including a 7-7 Empire 8 Conference mark. Thompson was part of a 2017 senior class that won 119 games, second most for a four-year class in program history. She graduated from AU on May 13 with a bachelor's degree in marketing.

Streater signs with Buffalo Bills

Former Alfred State football and track and field athlete Rod Streater is returning to Western New York. The wide receiver in his sixth season in the NFL signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills this morning.

The Bills are the fourth NFL team that Streater has played for. He was signed as an undrafted free agent out of Temple University by the Raiders immediately following the 2012 Draft. During his four year tenure in Oakland, he played in 36 games making 109 catches for 1,564 yards and eight scores. His best season came in 2013 when he caught 60 passes for 888 yards and four TD's.

During free agency last year, Streater signed a free agent deal with the Kansas City Chiefs. He spent all of preseason with the team before being traded to the San Francisco 49ers right before the start of the regular season. With the 49ers, Streater had 18 catches for 191 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

While at Alfred State, Streater caught 24 passes for 539 yards and six scores in 2009. This followed a freshman season in which he played safety and picked up 20 tackles and two interceptions. After Alfred State, he went to Temple and caught 49 passes for 882 yards and seven scores in his career.

While at Alfred State, Streater also was an All-American high jumper and still holds the school record in the event with a leap of 2.05 m.

Streater is known for his charitable work in the community and with his foundation, the Rod Streater Foundation.

HITS AND MISSES:

Realize I'm a week late on this, and will be on other items as was in Kentucky Memorial Day weekend, but "congrats" once more to the Alfred-Almond boys track & field team as they won another Section Five championship! The Eagles have won nine-of-10, missing out on ten straight by three points and are now on a seven-straight streak! Amazing. This run tops the streak of six-straight when Jim "Dynasty" McEvoy was at the helm of the A-A program. Wish I knew how many total sectional trophies this sport now has but tough finding out. AD Keith Holmok ... some help?

What is also amazing is the number of times the A-A girls track and field team has finished in second-place in the sectionals! Six straight and seven-of-eight? Solid teams but has to be just a "tad" frustrating.

And "frustrating" still again is trying to get results from the Section Five softball website. Go there and first thing that pops up is the 2015-16 schedule. Couldn't get results for 2017! The baseball website is great and easy to navigate. The softball one ... not so much. Know the A-A girls finished second, with virtually entire team back for next season, but was hoping to get more results. State finals in Glens Falls this weekend.

In the D1 sectional baseball championships, Lyndonville topped A-A in a tight semi-final game at Genesee CC, 4-3. The victors then went on to beat old A-A foe, Fillmore for the title. Lima Christian beat Arkport in the D2 bracket and then they knocked off Lyndonville in the qualifier round to advance to the West Region where they lost.

In the "B" baseball bracket the #1 seeded Livonia Bulldogs beat Wellsville, 11-6 in the semi-finals and then grabbed the trophy in the finals over Hornell, 12-0. Pitcher Reid VanScoter tossed a no-hitter versus the Red Raiders in the championship tilt and recorded 21-strikeouts! Yikes. It was the fourth-straight sectional title for Livonia who are in the "Final Four" this weekend.

The Salisbury Gulls defended their NCAA Division III men's lacrosse championship as they topped RIT in the finals, 15-7. It was the second runner-up finish for the Tigers from the Liberty League.

In the Division I NCAA lax championships it was all-Maryland as the Terps men beat Ohio State in the finals and the women grabbed their trophy by beating Boston College. Was the third time in history that the same school won both titles, the same year. North Carolina did it just last year. The men's tourney has been dominated by the ACC or Maryland teams since 2010 when Duke won it. 2011 - Virginia, 2012 - Loyola of Maryland, 2013/14 - Duke, 2015 - Denver and the Tar Heels last year.

The SJ Fisher softball program from the E8 finished the season as the runners-up in the NCAA D3 tourney. They fell to #1 ranked Virginia Wesleyan in the finals, 5-0 and 1-0 to complete a stellar (44-8) year. Wesleyan knocked off defending champion UT-Texas Tyler to get to the championship round versus the Cardinals. Bad news for the other E8 teams ... All-America pitcher Lindsey Thayer returns for her senior year! Her high school and college stats, plus

TOM KAZNOWSKI...peers through the glass at his dream job.

Eagles get banded

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP RINGS-Members of the Alfred-Almond Eagles Boys Varsity Soccer Team, along with their coaches, received their State Rings at a recent ceremony for family and friends. In addition to fund raisers, a generous personal donation helped purchase the rings for the entire team so no boy would have to pay out of pocket. Five team captains show off their new bling: (From left) Dylan Griffin, Cory Olix, Jake Johnston, Dustin Kinnaird and Jack Castle.

awards, are just mind boggling to date. E8 Rookie and Pitcher of Year to begin with, Pitcher of the Year as a sophomore and junior. First-team, all-E8 and more.

The Buffalo Bills have signed former Alfred State College WR, Rod Streeter to a contract after he spent the last two years with Oakland and San Francisco. Streeter played at Temple after his stint with the Pioneers.

A correction is due to the "Legend of Oneonta Little Big Man hoops" as Tom Kaznowski's dream job would be as Owner/GM of the Carolina Hurricane in the NHL, not just as the GM! The Jerry Jones of the NHL. Not sure if Kaz took in action this past weekend of the Web.com golf tour as it was in Raleigh, NC? Perhaps an ailing back halted that.

Former Alfred State College/SUNY Genesee women's hoop coach, Joe Q. French took in a NY Yankees - Baltimore Orioles baseball game last week as his beloved Yanks were in town. Qua saw LF Brett Gardner continue his hot streak with another homer.

The Pat Atwell (Andover) family was recently in San Fran where they saw the Cardinals and Giants play. Atwell later on, back in Quincy, played in the Luke Guthrie golf pro-am on the team led by David Lingmerth. Others there, besides Guthrie, were Brittany Lang and Gerina Piller from the LPGA Tour. The event was at the sweet Spring Lake GC ... where I made one of my most memorable putts ever playing at that course with Atwell. Back in the day when Lauren was at Coach Just's basketball camp along with Chels Lindahl/Cass Beasley. Golf in day, watch hoops at nite. Great time!

Coach Josh Rabe, who played baseball for Coach Atwell at Quincy with the Hawks took his alma mater to the D2 College World Series this year for the first-time in program history. Rabe played pro ball with the Rochester Red Wings and Minnesota Twins before taking over as baseball coach at QU.

Alfred State College Hall of Famer, Barb Stuckey recently took in a "AAA" baseball game in Durham as the Red Wings were in town taking on the Bulls. Drove by that stadium on way to golf at Duke University during my April, North Carolina stop-over.

Don't think it'll go seven games by any means, but the NBA finals started on June 1st with game #7 scheduled for June 18th! Can they stretch that out any longer? The GS Warriors will continue to roll in this league as long as they stay healthy with their stars all relatively young.

Not to be outdone, the National Lacrosse League has their best-of-three finals stretched out from June 4-18. The indoor season will overlap the outdoor season before a champ is (potentially) decided. The Rochester Knighthawks play in the NLL. The Rochester Rattlers play in the outdoor MLL and were at (3-3) as of this past weekend.

The fifth-annual Allegany County Ancient Order of Hiberians Road Bowling Classic was held this past weekend in Andover and while no official results were in at press time, the team paced by Dickie Joyce was believed to be the winner. Tim Mead and Pat Atwell were unable to compete due to prior commitments.

Some vanity plates spotted in Ohio on recent trip to Kentucky: DOC VIC ... Moore and Wirt, GO CAR GO ... might have been Scummer behind the wheel. NYS vanity plates: THNDRWRD, 2D WIND ... Frank many times!, OLDGUARD ... Kaz in Oneonta.

Mike Trout of the LA Angels, off on another MVP-rampage, will be sidelined for 6-8 weeks with a thumb injury. Trout has finished no worse than second the past five years in the MVP voting with two awards and was off to an even better start this year for a weak Angels team.

As a Yanks fan, enjoying this season immensely, am also hoping to see Greg Bird back in the lineup at 1B soon and perhaps to see prospect Gleyber Torres easing into that lineup at 3B. Need a starting pitcher at the trade deadline to solidify this club as "ace" hurler Marashiro Tanaka has been a huge disappointment of late. The Mets? ... season over!

Albert Pujols of the LA Angels launches homer #600. Would've been a statue of him, eventually, outside of Busch Stadium in St. Louis if he had stayed with the Cardinals.

Good trip to Kentucky over Memorial Day weekend. Stopped in Erie, Pa. on way out to have breakfast with PS-Behrend women's soccer coach, Patrick O'Driscoll. Good seeing him again! Golfed Saturday at the Northern Kentucky CC (formerly Pendelton) and Sunday at the A.J. Jolly course. Both nice, not necessarily my golf game though. Golfed with "Fish," his brother Bob, "Lefty," cousin Billy and guy named Fred whom I've golfed with before out there. Dinner on Saturday nite in Covington at Keystone. Fleetwood Mac time! And a crazy Sunday picnic gathering at the Fischer household. Saw Kim Del Barba again, her husband a scout for the Milwaukee Brewers. Their daughter, Brooke there but not sister Brittany who works at Duke! My favorite niece, "Grump" ... FOK, was off on a major trip the next day. Solid weekend. Scott O. Lorow ... MIA.

Off to the ADK's this weekend! Hooking up with Lauren in Clifton Park area and heading to Saratoga Springs (Druthers!), hoping to see the Bergin's in town from Genesee soccer, off to Lake George Outlets (briefly) and then to Lake Placid for rest of weekend. The LP Half-Marathon is Sunday, a race 3L has done three-times, but not this year. Meg Herbst (Webster) might join us for dinner at the ADK Brew Pub on Saturday as she is in Saranac Lake for the summer.

Hopefully weather ok in this "lovely" summer (?) to date!
