

Thiel Takes Victory

Varsity Again Fails to Score

Alfred went down to her third successive defeat on Friday when she succumbed to Thiel College 19-0. Thiel is a new factor in the Alfred schedule and she gave an excellent account of herself in her initial appearance on the local field. Both teams were handicapped by the water soaked field and fast, accurate play was impossible. The Varsity was again guilty of her most disastrous fault, that of allowing her opponents to cinch the game in the first few minutes of play. Two of the three touchdowns came in the first four minutes of play, after which the game settled down to a see-saw contest until the last two minutes of play when Thiel by successive line bucks, tallied her third touchdown.

The work of Capt. Kishler for Thiel was the best seen on the Alfred field for some time, his ability to elude tacklers being the big factor in the outcome. Capt. Buck put up his usual game at fullback.

First Quarter

Thiel received on her forty yard line and started on a march down the field. Kischler was gaining on every play and on a fake double pass skirted the side lines for forty yards and a touchdown. The goal was kicked.

Pfaff received and advanced 25 yards. The Varsity could not gain and lost the ball. Thiel made first down and Kischler slipped around left end for a touchdown. The goal was missed.

Alfred received and Buck advanced 20 yards. Bliss made 15 yards around right end. Buck made 4 yards, Griffiths 3, and Buck added one-half more. Bliss was forced to punt and Thiel recovered. The quarter ended with the ball in mid-field.

VARSIITY VS. ST. BONAVENTURE

Next Thursday the Varsity will line up against St. Bona at Wellsville in what should be the best game of the season. While neither team has turned out a winning team, each has in her football ability which will probably be given its greatest test in this game. In Clare St. Bona has a fullback who is ranked as the best playing on any of the small college teams this season.

The team is working hard in preparation and is determined that Thursday's game will be the turning point of the football situation.

It is hoped that a large delegation from Alfred will follow the team to Wellsville which will be the last opportunity the local followers will have to see the Varsity in action this year.

MASS MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

A mass meeting, the last for this season, will be held at Memorial Hall tomorrow evening for the purpose of arousing the fighting spirit of old Alfred for the hardest game of the year. A large crowd will aid materially in helping to stir up the proper spirit. Here's a chance to show real loyalty, the kind that makes a student body back up a team that's had hard luck, the kind that demonstrates a determination to win through sheer perseverance. Come out, if you're made of real stuff.

FRESHMEN CELEBRATE

Twenty-four members of the class of 1918 enjoyed a trip to Hornell last Saturday evening, Sheldon's auto-bus being chartered for the occasion. After an excellent four course banquet in the banquet hall of the Steuben, the party attended the production of "The Misleading Lady" at the

PROF. PONTIUS ASSUMES DUTIES IN AG SCHOOL

Last Monday morning Prof. Pontius entered upon his duties as Professor of Animal Husbandry in the Ag School, filling the position formerly held by Prof. Meade.

Mr. Pontius comes to the school well recommended and well prepared to fill the position. He was born in Henry County, Ohio and comes to us direct from his home town of Liberty Center. After graduating from High School he taught for three years in the district schools of Western Ohio. In 1910 he entered Ohio State University from which he graduated in 1914.

While in college he held numerous offices of importance. His highest honor was that of being a member of the Ohio State Judging team which represented the University at the International Live Stock Exhibition at Chicago last winter.

He was also president of the University Agricultural Society, secretary of the live stock club, known as the "Saddle and Siroin Club," and a member of the Student Council.

While in college he specialized in Animal Husbandry, his major work being in this subject. He also took minor work in the department of Agronomy. Being greatly interested in athletics he was a member of the Inter-College Athletic Committee.

After graduating last June he returned to his father's farm and was connected with the Ohio Extension Department work before coming to Alfred. He is much pleased with the work of the Ag School here and with the friendliness of the people in Alfred. It is to be hoped that we may be able to keep Prof. Pontius with us for a long time.

Ags Lose To Eldred

Eldred a Victor in Close, Clean Game—Score 7-6

Thursday, Nov. 12, the fast Eldred High School team defeated the Aggies in a closely played game; score 7-6. The team left Wednesday, arriving in Eldred that evening where they were entertained at the homes of the Eldred players. Eldred is represented this year by an unusually fast and well-balanced high school team so that even in defeat the Aggies feel that they played a good team to a standstill.

Eldred has a reputation in Alfred of being one of the cleanest teams that the Aggies play. This game added another link to this general impression. The fact that not a single penalty was imposed during the whole game speaks well for the work of both teams. It was stated that the two teams practically ran the game and that officials were really unnecessary; all who made the trip were loud in their praise of Eldred, both as players and hosts.

The work of Maure and Broad featured the Aggies' play, while Sailings at right end and Kaufman at quarterback, were the most conspicuous in the Eldred attack.

In the first quarter Maure got away for a fifty yard run and the Ag touchdown. Goal was not kicked. Throughout the first half the ball was in Eldred's territory but their defense was invulnerable at critical stages. The score at the end of the first half was, Alfred 6, Eldred 0.

In the second half Eldred came back strongly, the play see-sawing back and forth in the center of the field. In the third quarter Eldred by a combination of trick plays and line plunges, advanced the ball to the Ag's 25 yard line. On the next play Eldred's left half skirted the Aggie's left end for a touchdown. Kaufman kicked the goal. After the kick-off Alfred advanced the ball into Eldred's territory where the rest of the quarter was evenly contested, the game ending 7-6 in favor of Eldred.

COUNTRY LIFE CLUB

Thursday evening, Nov. 12, the Country Life Club held its regular meeting in the Ag assembly room. The meeting was opened by the song, "Keep in the Sunlight Aggies." The program for the evening was as follows:

Vocal Solo	Mrs. W. J. Wright
Gleanings	Miss Sherman
Piano Solo	Miss Johnson
Recitation, accompanied by piano	Miss Tuttle

At the conclusion of the program there was a short business meeting. At this meeting Miss Blowers was unanimously elected as Country Life Club editor for the Kanakadea.

Director Wright was critic for the evening and he commended the work of those who appeared on the program. The program was, he said, the best rendered this season. He also made a few appropriate remarks on the customary conduct of local audiences as compared with those of other places.

It would not be doing justice to those who appeared on the program to close without saying a few more words in their behalf. Mrs. Wright's selections were very well rendered and also very much appreciated by the audience. She responded to an encore.

Miss Sherman introduced her gleanings by a short talk on the matter of "Fitting In." She emphasized the importance of each person choosing the work best suited to his personal ability.

The piano solo by Miss Johnson was heartily encored. The recitations by Miss Tuttle were amusing and instructive in that they showed what can be accomplished by training. She also was heartily encored.

A large number of former members of Country Life Club were present showing their interest in the present student body. We trust that the programs may continue to improve as they have been doing in the past. The meeting was closed by singing "Agricultural Hall."

PROF. DEVOE MEADE LEFT LAST WEDNESDAY FOR ITHACA

Prof. and Mrs. Meade left on Wednesday of last week for Ithaca where Prof. Meade has a position in the Animal Husbandry Department of the Cornell College of Agriculture.

A dinner was given in honor of Prof. and Mrs. Meade at the Ag School Monday evening by members of the Ag School faculty.

Tuesday evening a reception was given them by the students of the Ag School. The evening was spent singing the ever-favorite Ag songs and in a farewell visit with the Meades.

At the close of the reception Lawrence Cornwall, '15, in a few well chosen words, presented Prof. and Mrs. Meade with a set of tea spoons as a slight appreciation of the esteem in which they are held by students.

The many friends of Prof. and Mrs. Meade in N. Y. S. A. and in Alfred regret very much that they have left. It is also with as deep regret that the Meades left their many friends among the N. Y. S. A. students.

N. Y. S. A. CHAPEL ADDRESSES

The regular chapel period on Tuesday was in charge of Miss Tuttle who read a very instructive and interesting paper on "Home Rule in Ireland." Considerable mention was made of the time when Ireland first came to be ruled by England and of the struggle the Irish people have been making since that time to assert their right of representation in parliament.

Many prominent leaders of different times were named, among them being Daniel O'Connell, who was without doubt one of the greatest statesmen in the English Parliament.

Miss Tuttle read a few paragraphs from Mr. O'Connell's greatest speech, denouncing the rule of Ireland by England. It is said that this speech was made before the greatest audience ever assembled, which speaks well for the position of O'Connell as a statesman.

Chapel exercises on Thursday were in charge of Prof. Watson.

In his usual unique way Prof. Watson won the interest of students at the very beginning of the period by relating some of his experiences as a preacher while attending college.

He spoke upon no particular topic, but told his audience amusing incidents of his boyhood which, however, represented some of his ideals.

R. I. U. TEAMS IN HOT (?) CONTEST

A few days ago there was an amusing but very strenuous football game held between the "Grave Diggers" and the "Tombstones." If you doubt that the game was strenuous just watch "Doc" try to run or poke Neal in the ribs and listen to what he has to say. Owing to the field's being covered with an inch or two of slippery mud, most of the team spent about half their time testing soils. We would recommend that Prof. DuBois give an examination on the "Texture of Clay Loam." After the "Tombstones" had made some four or five touchdowns the "Grave Diggers" decided to begin all over. After ringing in a new member they proceeded to wallop the "Tombstones" 20-21.

The features of the game were the line plunges of "Judge" and "Dick" and the end runs of Stout and "Doc." "Willie" took a bath in the jumping pit much to the amusement of the other players. Blackie says that he is going to buy "Sweet Orr" pants the next time—they don't rip so easily. After Stout had matched "skulls" with Bob Broad, he decided that it was time to quit.

But, above all else, be careful when you see "Stub" Boyes coming. Pass by him on the other side. His neck! Well, even though "Dick" Humphrey did use it for a resting place, it would be best for you not to notice the way he holds his head or at least mention anything concerning the matter with him.

Paul Schriver was leader at the Country Life Men's Christian Association Sunday evening at the Ag School. His topic was "The New Rural Civilization." The topic was discussed in a very careful and interesting way. A comparison of the past, present and future rural life was made, outlining some of the more important factors governing life in rural communities.

Several other members also gave interesting talks on the subject, making the meeting a lively one.

Those who desire to join the Association should see the secretary, Mark Sanford, as soon as possible.

CONVENTION OF MINISTERS

All the evangelical ministers in the western half of New York state are cordially invited to attend a Convention of Ministers to be held at Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 7th to 9th, 1914.

There are about two thousand churches in this territory representing sixteen different communions. It is hoped that at least one thousand ministers will be present.

The churches of Rochester have graciously undertaken to provide free entertainment for delegates in the homes of the city. In many cases, congregations will gladly meet the traveling expenses of their pastor, so that he may enjoy the unique privilege of this great convention without any financial burden.

"The Church at Work for the Community, the Nation and the World" will be the main theme for consideration. Men with a real experience on some vital phase of this comprehensive subject are being secured as leaders in the discussions. It is expected that these discussions will be greatly enriched by the testimony of the ministers present as delegates.

The following speakers have already accepted the invitation to address the convention:

Dr. Robert E. Speer of New York,

Bishop William F. Oldham of New York,

Prof. Samuel Higginbottom, of India,

Mr. George Innes of Philadelphia,

Mr. A. A. Hyde of Wichita, Kansas,

Dr. Worth M. Tippy of Cleveland,

Mr. Charles G. Trumbull of Philadelphia,

Mr. James M. Speers of New York,

Colonel Elijah W. Halford of New York,

Mr. W. E. Doughty of New York,

Several other outstanding leaders will be secured and announced in due time.

This is the first convention of its kind that has ever been held, though the demand for this type of meeting has been increasingly insistent in recent years.

The convention is being organized by the Laymen's Missionary Movement. All sessions will be held in the Central Church, corner Fitzhugh and Church Streets, beginning Monday, December 7th, at 2:30 P. M., and concluding with a special session for delegates only on Wednesday evening at 7:30 P. M.

In order to insure the provision of adequate entertainment for delegates, it is highly important that those expecting to attend should report as soon as possible to Mr. H. F. Laflamme, Cutler Building, Rochester, N. Y.

THE STUDENT-FACULTY SITUATION

Hitherto we have refrained from speaking of the rather strained relations which have been growing up between the faculty and students, but the situation has now become such that we feel that, in justice to all concerned, and in fulfillment of our policy frankly and unreservedly to echo student sentiment, it is our duty to state our case. Our wish is not to antagonize or offend anyone and our suggestions are made with all respect where respect is due.

We have already spoken of the fact that the students considered it an unjust act on the part of the faculty when two of the Varsity players were forbidden to go on the Mansfield trip without previous warning or opportunity to make up their back work. It has since been found that the new rule covering such cases requires that all men to be cut for any week be reported by Monday morning; this was not done in this case and the students very justly felt that the faculty should live up to the rules if they wish them to be respected by the students. This was, however, made up by suspending the rules for the Hobart game. There has also been much feeling manifested over the question of the Library rules, not so much over the rules themselves as over the spirit in which they seem to have been made and enforced. We feel that college students should be allowed more freedom than high school pupils in exercising their judgment as to what constitutes good conduct in a place of this kind. Too much whispering, or anything else that disturbs others who are trying to study, should, of course, be prohibited and guarded against by the librarian, but we feel that the method of enforcing the new ruling has been little short of childish.

To add to the general feeling of resentment came the decision of the faculty in the Hallowe'en party case, in the form of notices prohibiting from further dancing, this semester, all who danced at the party held in Firemens Hall last Hallowe'en. Well authenticated reports declared that the faculty was even considering the suspension of these students. This case has seemed to the students at large to be one not in the province of faculty ruling. In the first place, the party was not a dancing party; that is, it was not planned for the purpose of dancing alone; the company had played games until a change was desired and dancing was very naturally suggested as a pleasant means of occupying the remainder of the evening. In the second place, the party was not a general student affair, but a private entertainment. Had there not been so many guests it would have been held at a private house. In the course of planning the affair, however, it was found that there would be too many to be accommodated comfortably in this way, and Firemens Hall was hired as the only available place for the party. But it was rented by private individuals and for private purposes; we cannot see how it could be otherwise construed. The fact that the Hall is used for public purposes does not change the principle. At a public affair either admission is charged or else it is free to all who may wish to attend; no admission was charged on the occasion under discussion, and all guests received written invitations, no one attending without such invitation. In the third place, if this was construed by the faculty as being a public or semi-public student dance, why have they not taken action on other occasions, notably the Sophomore banquet of the class of 1915 and the Kanakadea banquet of the same class held last year at the Country Club in Wellsville? In both instances dancing constituted a prominent part of the evening's entertainment. In both instances there were guests from other classes. Both affairs were held in public places. The reason is obvious. Had these affairs been held in Alfred the result would have been otherwise. These are but two instances; there have been several others. But wherein does the principle involved in each case differ from that of the others? The mere fact that this affair was held in Firemens Hall in Alfred, does not change its character.

In the fourth place, there were present, by invitation, chaperones who happened to be faculty members. The duties of chaperones are, at least so we have always thought, to remain through the affair in which they are supposed to be exercising a certain regulative function and, if anything is done which does not meet with their approval, to declare themselves to those who are engaged in such action and to insist upon a change. Neither of these conditions was fulfilled on this occasion, the chaperones leaving early without having spoken a word in objection to the dancing, at least not to those who were engaged in it.

For these four reasons then; that the party was not primarily a dancing party, that it was a private affair not under faculty jurisdiction, that action has not been taken in other cases of essentially the same character, that the chaperones neither spoke to those engaged in dancing nor stayed to enforce a rule which, in their judgment, covered the case, the students in general feel that faculty intervention in this case was unwarranted and their decision unjust.

We should be glad to receive a statement of the other side of the case for publication in the columns of Fiat Lux.

We don't like the looks of some of the head lines we've had on the front pages of three of our issues, but we feel that we should give practically the same prominence to a defeat that we do to a victory. We have observed that on one occasion, at least, Rochester has relegated the account of a defeat for her eleven to the back page, employing a single column head, but though this is undoubtedly the more comfortable mode of procedure, our conscience won't allow us to do it.

The mass meeting Thursday night, previous to the Thiel game, was the most discouraging feature we have had to face since the Mansfield and Hobart defeats. The fact that not more than forty people were present is a strong indictment of the caliber of Alfred students.

How much longer is it to be before we are to realize that in bringing Alfred up to a recognized athletic standing we are confronted with a big problem? How much longer are we going to meet this question in the half-hearted, superficial manner we have in the past? Pulling a school's athletics out of a rut in which they have been for years is not the work of the first few games nor of one season. Why not face the situation in its true light and work with a more far-reaching end in view, that end to be worked for by means of a more definite and broader system?

Let us finish the season with that idea and during the coming year formulate a plan more comprehensive than we have in the past. The sooner we do away with high school methods and adopt college system in dealing with this college issue, the sooner we are going to make Alfred a formidable power in athletics.

We may expect adverse criticism to the effect that we have this week published in our editorial columns matter which might injure Alfred in the estimation of trustees, prominent alumni, parents and prospective students. To those who would raise this objection we would reply in advance that the policy of this publication, which aims to reflect student opinion in a straightforward and fearless manner, a policy which should be that of every self-respecting college paper, leaves us no alternative. College men and women are not children.

BOOTHE C. DAVIS, Pres.

B. R. CRANDALL, A. U. 1899,
RESIGNS

In the issue of the Idaho Falls Daily Post for August 12, 1914, there appears the annual report of B. R. Crandall, superintendent of schools of Idaho Falls, Idaho; following which is his letter announcing his resignation, to take place September 1, 1915.

For eight years Mr. Crandall has been at the head of the school system of Idaho Falls, during which time the system has grown from one building to five buildings, which even now are overcrowded. Largely through Mr.
 Crandall's efforts, the following high school courses have been introduced during his administration, besides the ordinary course there called "college preparatory:" commercial preparatory, manual training, home economics, normal, and agriculture. Between one and two thirds of the high school students are enrolled in industrial or vocational courses. Another feature is the short course given to those students who can not attend school the whole year.

One of the most important of these additional courses is that of agriculture. In the October number of The American School Board Journal, there is a most interesting illustrated article by Mr. Crandall on "Agriculture in Idaho Falls High School," describing the plans and work of this school in the agricultural department.

Because of what he has done for the schools, the people of Idaho Falls greatly dislike to lose Mr.
 Crandall as superintendent. The regret for Mr. Crandall's resignation and appreciation of his services in appropriate resolutions.

FORESTRY NOTES

The Arboriculturist of the State College of Forestry at Syracuse, who is a graduate landscape engineer, is making tree surveys of a number of communities in the State as a part of the extension work in Forestry of the College.
 From these tree surveys will result planting plans and suggestions for beautification not only of streets and parks, but the grounds of public buildings in the various communities. Following this advisory work, the Arboricul-turist of the College will give illustrated lectures for the purpose of letting the people of the communities know how much work of this kind means to civic development and beautification. Too little attention is being paid to trees along our country roads, in school yards and on playgrounds about the State. Systematic effort is being made by the College to interest the people of various communities in this work.
 During the past month the Arboriculturist has made reconnaissance tree surveys in New Rochelle, Newburg, Olean and in Binghamton and the work will be continued as rapidly as possible over the State. The services of the Arboriculturist are loaned to the various communities who bear his traveling expenses only. It is believed by the College that the people of the State can be interested in the forests of the State through their interest in the trees about their homes.

Second Quarter

Thiel was penalized and their left half was tackled 15 yards back of the line. Snyder punted.
 Thiel intercepted a pass and Bowman received a fumble. Thiel was fined for rough playing.
 Buck lost three yards. Crawford made 8 yards. Bliss made first down. Bliss punted and the half ended with the ball on Alfred's 15 yard line.

Third Quarter

Alfred received, Buck made 5 yards, Bliss made 6 yards, Maure tore off 5 yards, Crawford 4 yards and Buck made it first down. Varsity then made three first downs on line plunges, but lost the ball on downs. Thiel could not gain and was forced to punt. The quarter ended with the ball on Thiel's 20 yard line.

Fourth Quarter

Bliss punted with no advance by Thiel. Kischler made 15 yards Maure intercepted a pass, and Thiel duplicated his trick. Thiel made first down and Kischler went around right end for 12 more yards. A pass was thrown out of bounds and the ball went to Alfred on her 20 yard line.
 Varsity could not gain and lost the ball. Thiel played the ends and with 5 seconds to play Kisch-

NEW YORK WOOD UTILIZATION NOTES

From The New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse

The products of the forest are used more closely in New York than in any other State. The Adirondacks are very similar to the famous Black Forest of Germany, both in topography and general forest conditions, and in the not distant future will produce equally as valuable forest crops.

Over 58,000,000 board feet of lumber are annually consumed in this State for musical instruments, chiefly pianos. Spruce makes the best sounding boards on account of its excellent resonant qualities. Over 9,000,000 board feet of spruce are used in this industry. The Adirondack spruce is famous for this purpose.

The past summer has been very favorable to tree growth and many of the forest species of the State have produced a heavy crop of tree seed. The State College of Forestry at Syracuse is collecting a large quantity of seed of various evergreens and hardwoods. Among the evergreens the hemlock and balsam fir have seeded especially profusely. Effort is being made to get large quantities of the seed of white ash, basswood, tulip or white wood and other hardwood trees of value. The students are collecting a considerable quantity of seed in the vicinity of Syracuse as a part of their laboratory work. They are taught the best methods of collecting, estimating the amount of seed to the pound and stratifying for the winter.

New York consumes about 80,000 tons of material for tanning purposes, a large portion of which is hemlock and chestnut oak bark. Chestnut wood is being used also as well as foreign materials, such as quebrache wood, mangrove bark, and myrobolan nuts, to supply the demand.

The State Forestry Association organized at Syracuse in January 1913 has made rapid growth during the two years of its existence and now has over 500 members from every section of the state and from many states outside of New York. It will hold its Third Annual Meeting in Convention Hall in Rochester in January, 1915, and it is expected to have leading foresters and naturalists from all parts of the country on its program. The evening meeting will be given up to informal addresses and moving pictures showing woods operations, activities of forest schools and the life of the forester.

The boys of the State Ranger School at Wanakena, which is under the control of The New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse, are living in the woods on a 7,000 acre tract of timber belonging to the Newton Falls Paper Company. Besides making a forest map and a 10 per cent estimate of the timber, they are learning to cook and live as woodsmen. Previous to this the Ranger students mapped and estimated 3,000 acres of timber near Adams. Men in this School are being prepared to fill positions as Guards, Rangers, Tree Planting Experts and Forest Estate Managers and are put up against everyday woods problems both in the school and in the woods.

As many different kinds of trees are cut in New York for lumber as in any other state. There are about eight softwoods or conifers and about 50 different kinds of hardwoods or broadleaf trees cut for commercial purposes.

New York is the leading eastern state in the production of veneers. They were formerly made principally of such valuable woods as mahogany, walnut, rosewood, cherry, satinwood. Now our principal veneers are made of red gum, yellow pine, maple, yellow poplar and cottonwood. Veneers are thin slices of wood over a cheap backing or "core." They are made in three different ways: by sawing, by slicing and by a rotary cut process. The best are made by the sawing process. The old prejudice against veneered furniture is passing, because it is often stronger and more durable than solid furniture.

Due to the great European War, the source of supply of Circassian walnut has been cut off and we are turning to the use of our own native walnut, which is again becoming very popular. Before the war most of our native walnut was sent to England, Germany and France.

Two weeks ago the 250 men in the State College of Forestry at Syracuse held their Annual Fall Field Day and Camp Fire. The boys left Syracuse in the morning, having a barbecue at noon at one of the Green Lakes near Syracuse. A wood chopping contest was held at which R. H. Hutchins of Constable, N. Y., chopped through a 6" ironwood log in 19 seconds. Following the barbecue and wood chopping contest, there was a tent pitching contest which consisted of the taking down of a fully equipped 9x9' tent, packing the tent on a horse's back, taking it a certain distance and back to the point of beginning and then re-pitching the tent. Some amazing records were made for the pitching of a tent complete. These contests were followed by tugs of war, games and general woods sports. The students of the college get together several times a year in this way to develop a wood's spirit as well as a professional spirit.

NEW FOOTBALL SONGS

At the request of the cheer leaders, we are reprinting the three new songs anonymously submitted some weeks ago. Two of them appeared in our columns and the third in the Alfred Sun.

Students are requested to bring this issue of Fiat Lux to the mass meeting on Wednesday night in order to practice the songs.

Tune—Baby Mine
..... can not beat you out, you can put them all to rout,
For it's up to you to win, yes you must, win or bust,
For it's up to you to win, boys, you must.

Tune—I'm On My Way to Mandalay
We're on our way to play a game, Against we will defend our name.
On 's field you see.
We've got the pep, and we will win you bet,
We'll make them bite the dust today.
Play hard and fast, boys, to the last,
Make good our boast today.

OR

We went away to play a game,
Against we did defend our name.

It had to be, a victory,
On 's field you see.
We had the Pep, we had to win you bet,
We made them bite the dust today.
The boys who're true to old A. U.
Made good our boast today.

Instead of the phrase "We're on our way" in the first verse, the following may be inserted, "We came today."

VICTORY SONG

Tune—Hesitation Waltz, "Dreaming"
Play the game
Just the same,
No matter who the enemy,
Alfred's fame
Be your aim,
Old Alfred wants the victory;
She can win with the nine,
With the five, with the line;
Keep her name
Free from blame,
She must win today!

FOOTBALL SNAPSHOTS

The Yale-Princeton game was the big contest of the week. Yale by winning 19-14 scored the first decision between these two teams since 1911.

Cornell scored a 28-13 victory over Michigan, thereby settling one of the most uncertain games of the season.

Dartmouth has a tendency this year to run up high scores against teams of high calibre. Her defeat of Pennsylvania 41-0, was another example.

Young Men! Gather Around!

You're going to see the smartest lot of clothes this fall that have ever been put together for the benefit of the lively young chaps in this town. They're just the things that college men will wear; but you don't have to go to college to appreciate the merits of such clothes. They're right.

Syracuse staked "her all" on a triumph over Colgate, but the best she could do was a 0-0 tie.

Hobart held Rochester 6-3. This speaks well for our late vanquishers of Election Day.

Harvard's second string men four times found the ball within the shadow of the goal-post, but were unable to do better than a 0-0 tie against Brown.

ASSEMBLY ADDRESS

An especially scholarly and commendable address was given at the Assembly last Wednesday by Dean A. E. Main of the Theological Seminary. Dean Main's subject was "The Fundamental Four," which were: religion, science, philosophy and psychology." He stated the case of each of the last three against religion, showing how their questioning has led to a broader interpretation of the Bible and a consequent strengthening of religious truth, and pointed out the fact of their interrelation and interdependence, each being essential to the other, the greatest being religion. Science has, he said, led us to appreciate the symbolism of the Bible; philosophy has given us more logical ground for belief in God and the salvation of the soul, while psychology has strengthened and broadened our understanding.
