

VARSITY DEFEATS N. Y. M. N. A. IN RETURN GAME 11-6 The Score

The Varsity defeated the N. Y. Military Naval School at Perry, N. Y., in a loosely played game characterized by hard hitting on the part of the Varsity. The team left Thursday night in autos for Silver Lake and returned Friday. It was one of the finest trips had by the team in the last four years. The Cadets and Col. Drum, the commandant, vied with each other to show the fellows a good time, the Lake furnished a fine opportunity, and the team took a chance and spent Friday morning on the Lake.

The game was called at 3:30 with Marsh in the box for the Cadets and Blumenthal dishing them over for the Varsity.

In the first Hills was safe on an error and scored on a hit. The Varsity could not connect with Marsh in their half, Buck and Hopkins ozoned and King rolled out to Jamison. The military boys added two in the second. In the third, Buck singled, Hopkins sacrificed and King singled; Crawford rolled one toward first. Buck and King scored by brilliant base running. The Varsity added three in the fourth,

ANNUAL INTERSCHOLASTIC DANCE WEDNESDAY EVENING

The usual Interscholastic Dance will be held Wednesday evening at Firemens Hall. Dickinson's Orchestra of Corning which is one of the best in this section, will furnish the music for the evening. The dance, which is given in entertainment of the Interscholastic guests, closes the events of the day in a most enjoyable way and will be especially welcome to the participants after their strenuous day's work. Assessment will be $1.00.

CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES IN MENS' DOUBLES AND WOMEN'S SINGLES

Vars and Groves Winning Combination—Lois Holmes Takes the Women's Tournament

Miss Lois Holmes, A. A. '15, won the women's tennis singles tournament from Miss Celia Cottrell '18, while the Vars '15 Groves '16, combination were the winners over the Saunders brothers in the mens' doubles in the finals played Thursday afternoon. The sets: women's finals—6-4; 8-6; mens' doubles—6-2; 6-2; 7-5.

In the women's match Miss Holmes by her careful and persistent playing, overcame the hard drives and fast service of Miss Cottrell, winning in straight sets. A thrill was injected into the second set when Miss Cottrell with the games 5-0 against her in a determined effort to ward off defeat, took six straight games but was unable to prevent her opponent annexing the next three.

Vars and Groves in the doubles, took three straight from their opponents upon the merits of their team work and their more experienced play. E. Saunders in this match featured with his fast net work. Fast tennis which kept the large audience on edge was played through the match.

This year's tournament was the biggest success in the tennis line ever held in Alfred and was the chief topic of conversation about the campus during the past week. Tennis has always been in vogue at Alfred but last year as assistant and this year as manager, L. Randolph '16, has through fine management, put the game on a higher plane than it has ever attained before. Next year's tournament should prove even better; the popularity of this sport may

THE STUDENT SENATE

Next Year's Senate Elected Wednesday — Student Action on the Campus Rules

At a meeting of the student body Wednesday morning at the regular assembly hour the election of next year's senators was held and student action taken on the proposed revision in the campus rules as reported by the committee. The senators elected were: Juniors, Milton Groves, Lowell Randolph, Eva Williams; Sophomores: Mildred Taber and Willard Sutton. The other Junior nominations were Lucy Whitford, Leon Bassett and Raymond Maure, the latter withdrawing after obtaining a majority vote on the first ballot, while Nellie Wells and Elwood Kenyon were the other Sophomore nominations. Of the new body only Groves who was a representative in his Sophomore year and Randolph who is a Junior member of the present senate, have previously served on the senate.

The president of the Senate will be elected tomorrow at a joint meeting of this year's Senate and the newly elected one. The personnel for the present class members was completed Thursday when the Freshmen elected George Crawford as their representative next year.

It was a compliment to the campus rules committee that all the revisions reported by them for student action were affirmatively voted upon with the exception of the rule which would necessitate a Senior and Junior senator official in charge of all underclass contest. The opinion of the majority seemed to be that the possibility of having uninformed officials might produce unnecessary complications. The revision that will allow all classes to wear the col-

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEN ARRIVE

Speaking Contest Tonight

Interscholastic men began to arrive tonight getting ready for the big meet tomorrow. R. A. Crumb '11, with a team of seven from Binghamton Central H. S. arrived on train No. 1. They will be entertained at the Eta Phi Gamma House. Teams from Coudersport and Bradford have arrived and are being entertained in various places around town. Everything is in readiness for tomorrow with the prospects of a fine day, a big crowd and well contested events.

The speaking contest for young women will be held this evening at the Seventh Day Baptist Church. The following are entered:

- Miss Madelaine McNamara, Corning Free Academy
- Miss Elizabeth Murray, Haverling High School
- Miss May Phillips, Wellsville High School
- Miss Mary Elizabeth Saunders, Alfred Academy
- Miss Gladys Root, Bolivar High School
- Miss Frances Stull, Portville H. S.
- Miss Helen Kilts, Canisteo High School

The judges are: Prof. Katherine Porter, Prof. Blodgett of Corning North Side High School and Dr. Titsworth.

INTERSCHOLASTIC HEAD-QUARTERS

A. A. Shaw & Son have given the Interscholastic management the use of the store adjacent to their jewelry store during the day of the meet. These headquarters should be of great convenience and greatly facilitate the handling of the multitudinous duties which such an event includes.

An "Invitation Shoot" will be held next month soon after exams.

The second Club Shoot will be held next Saturday, weather conditions being favorable.

N. Y. S. A. CHAPEL

On Tuesday, May 11, Miss Wood gave a talk on "First Aid" and illustrated her talk by bandaging Miss Cheesman until one would think she had been through the war. The advantage of the emergency bandage for severe wounds over the roll bandage and the way to use it for different wounds was chiefly demonstrated. Although she hoped the use of the first aid box would be unnecessary, Miss Wood told where it could be found should the emergency arise.

On Thursday, May 13, Prof. Pontius gave a short talk on the coming stock judging contest to be held on Wednesday and asked the fellows to be on hand to watch the contestants.

The prizes are on exhibition at Shaw's Jewelry Store and certainly merit close competition to say the least.

COUNTRY LIFE CLUB

The Club met on Wednesday, May 12, at Morgan Hall, the guests of the Misses Wood. Each member was to represent some well known advertised article and a large number were present.

Among them were: Bromo Seltz Youth's Companion, Baker's Chocolate, Old Town Canoe, Royal Baking Powder, Gold Dust Twins, Ivory Soap, Swift's Premium Ham, Old Dutch Cleanser, Knox Hats, Scotch Tissue Paper, Dryout's Hand Leap, Mount Pleasant Military Academy, Quaker Oats and many other good ones.

Persons were given a number as he or she entered and each one was to guess what advertisements were represented.

Following this, Mr. McNary sang and Miss Tuttle read. The Misses Jordan and Bertine then directed several original stunts.

After refreshments were served, the Club adjourned feeling that they had enjoyed the evening. We wish to thank the Misses Wood for the invitation given us, and also those taking part in the program.

NEW REGULATION IN REGARD TO EXCUSES

Since so many students are tempted to delay their applications for excuses till the time limit of one week has expired, the Faculty has voted to reduce the limit to two days in order that students may feel that their first business after returning to college is to make arrangements in regard to absences.

The regulation as amended reads:

"3. Applications for excuse must be made by the student in writing upon blanks provided for the purpose and must be presented to the committee within two days after the expiration of the absence. The excuse, if granted, must be presented to the proper instructor within two days after it is issued."

This regulation goes into effect at the beginning of next school year.

ROCHESTER FORMS VOLUNTARY MILITARY ORGANIZATION

First College To Take This Step

The University of Rochester has recently organized a volunteer military corps, the first of its kind in the country. Captain Henry R. Allen (retired) of the National Guard and New York State Reserves, is in charge of the work.

The primary object in forming such a corps is, according to Captain Allen, for national defence, to train men who, in an emergency, would act as volunteer officers and, in their turn, train ignorant volunteers. The training in military drill and tactics, the value of the discipline, and the physical benefit of the work are cited by Captain Allen as elements which make the innovation a desirable one.

JUBILEE SINGERS

An excellent musical entertainment was enjoyed Thursday evening by a small audience at Kenyon Memorial Hall when the Tennessee Jubilee Singers gave a delightful program under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. The evening's program consisted of negro melodies and folk songs intermingled with humorous readings by Mr. Pryor. The pleasing bearing of both Mr. and Mrs. Pryor, together with their well-trained voices, gave to the audience a delightful view of negro life.

lege seal instead of limiting it to the Seniors as at present, was passed by a good majority, many Seniors and Juniors voting for the change.

The revision which will make it necessary that all "procs" be posted on the campus, was voted affirmatively by all except the Freshmen who opposed it rather weakly. This new feature to the "proc" contest is undoubtedly the best that has been added to this contest in the past few years when an attempt has been made in attempting to make it a fair contest. All the other revisions were unanimously favored.

THE NEW CAMPUS PICTURE MAKES A HIT

My Dear Pres. Davis:

I wish to thank you for giving me the opportunity to obtain the fine picture of the campus, which was received a few days ago in good condition. I have it framed and hung in one of my school rooms.

It is a constant reminder of many days spent at Alfred, and shows many changes in the campus, and all I note in the way of improvement, which must be a great source of gratification to you, who have had charge of the work there for many years.

With best wishes for continued prosperity and with my personal regards to you and your family, I remain

Very truly,

"Long George" was relieved in the fifth and King took up the pitching burden and kept the Cadets from denting the rubber until the seventh when three counted on a series of errors and hits. The last two innings were uneventful for both sides as far as runs were concerned.

For the Varsity the hitting of Buck, King, G. Crawford and Howe featured while for the Cadets Jamison and Colgate starred. The treatment at the hands of the Cadets was extremely commendable and their fair and sportmanlike conduct is deserving of praise.

No one is more sincerely in favor of the peace movement than we, but in spite of the results of her investigation, we would differ with Columbia as to the methods best suited for furthering it. It seems to us the height of foolhardiness to advance, at a time like this, propaganda for the discouragement of a further building up of our army and navy. It seems to us a deliberate ignoring of conditions as they are, acting upon an unwarranted assumption that they are as they should be. The movement, in principle, is right, but this is not the time for it. It is right and proper, and in accordance with western progressiveness, that we in America should set an example for the world, but, if we are to do it, in the name of Heaven, let's choose a more suitable time.

There are crises—like the one which confronts us now—when there is but one course to take consistent with national honor and the maintenance of the rights of our citizens wherever their legitimate interests may call them, regardless of what the rest of the world is doing. If we fail to uphold these principles we shall set the world an example of cowardice, losing prestige as a nation and power to do good; by such a course we should defeat our own ends. Evolution has not yet brought the world to a level of idealism that will admit of such a course of action. It is good that we should wish to aid in raising it toward that level, but we can not do it by reducing our facilities for defense nor by failing to increase them. President Wilson has taken the only honorable step in presenting his note to the German government. He is backed by the entire nation; we all realize that there was no alternative.

Here our responsibility ends, but that is no sign that the affair is ended. Suppose, for the sake of argument, that Germany decides it is not compatible with what she considers her best interests to comply with the conditions of our note. In that event, arbitration failing—as it must if both nations stand firm—what, pray, would be the result? What else but war—war unsought by us, yet forced upon us by a concatenation of events over which we had no control and to which we could react in but one way? Where then would be our idealists with their infinite faith in human goodness and their high-sounding—though platitudinous—utterances? Where then would lie the blood guilt of responsibility for our unpreparedness?

This crisis might, very conceivably take such a turn; in a thousand other possible, even probable, crises we should face the same situation. Is this, then, the time for creating a sentiment against strengthening our national defenses? What true American, what true son of the Pilgrim Fathers would answer yes?

If, however, we possessed an army large enough to protect our nation—that is, to garrison our forts and man our coast defenses—and a navy well enough equipped, both as to supplies and men, to protect our interests at sea, it is safe to say that Germany, or any other nation, would think twice before venturing to infringe our rights, with the result that we might be spared any complications at all. If, on the other hand, we became involved in a war not of our own seeking, how much shorter must it be if we were able to repel all invasion and protect our shipping, leaving business to go on almost as before? How much better must such a result be than that for instance prophesied in Cleveland Moffett's "Conquest of America" (Cleveland Moffett is by the way, a military expert, and speaks as one intimately conversant with the conditions existing in our army and navy. His article, appearing in the May "McClures," furnishes much food for thought.) How much better would this be than to run the risk of a possible loss of our existence as a nation, or at least a crippling of our prestige, and a loss of power? How would such a result help the world to attain the goal of our ideal of universal peace?

Not that we should build up any such system as Germany has had to support, but it seems so obvious as not to admit of contradiction that we should be prepared for defense—not aggression, merely defense.

The statistics quoted in our article on the report of the Anti-Militaristic League, are based upon the opinion registered by thirty-six colleges only. This fact rather invalidates their significance; it looks to us like a hasty generalization. We should like to hear from other colleges, from our alumni, or any others who are interested in this question, which is one in which we, as college people, should take a vital interest.

The agitation for additional tennis courts which has been evident for sometime, received a great impetus from the recent tournament. With only three courts it is becoming a more pressing question how to handle the increasing numbers who are every day becoming devotees of the game. It is very apparent that something should be done to meet this demand and alleviate the situation where so many persons await a chance to play. The Fiat hopes to see this question taken up by some responsible organization such as the athletic association or the college authorities. It does, of course, imply some expense, but it would seem that the situation has now become one of sufficient importance as to make it possible to find a way to finance such a scheme.

Again we would call the attention of the student body to the necessity of giving the guests of the college a hearty welcome tomorrow, and of showing them Old Alfred at her best.

RESULTS OF ANTI-MILITARISTIC CANVASS

Announcement of League

Approximately 63,000 students in thirty-seven colleges are opposed to the practice of military drill and summer camps for college men, while about 17,000 are in favor of the idea, according to an announcement just made by the Collegiate Anti-Militarism League.

The Anti-Militarism League, of which Karl G. Karston of Columbia University is president, was formed several months ago to fight the militaristic propaganda among colleges of such organizations as the National Security League and the American Legion, and particularly the agitation for introducing military training for students. In an investigation into the opinion of college students, the League has received letters from thirty-six colleges, representing 80,000 students.

In its inquiry the League says that three questions have been asked: 1, whether military drill exists and if the students favor the plan; 2, whether summer camps exist and whether the students believe they are beneficial; 3, whether lectures on tactical subjects form part of the college curriculum and with what sentiment are they received.

It is reported that efforts have been made in each college to make a canvass of the students whenever practicable, and in other cases to judge the majority opinion by questioning representative men. The results are fairly conclusive, says the president of the League.

"Of the colleges questioned," announces the report, "twenty-two show that a majority oppose the introduction of military drill, while only fourteen favor it. In other words, practically 60 per cent of the colleges register a decided opposition to military drill for students. In the twenty-two colleges opposing drill are 63,000 students; in the fourteen colleges favoring drill are only 16,700. It seems to be a fair inference that these figures represent the proportionate opinion of college men on the subject.

"Another vital point in connection with the above statistics," the report continues, "is that the presence of military drill in a college increases the military spirit. This refutes the argument of militant advocates of 'preparedness' that drill does not increase the material sentiment. Of the nine colleges which already have military drill, seven are in favor of its continuance. Of the twenty-seven which have no form of drill, twenty-two are opposed to its introduction.

"The same tendency is revealed in the facts concerning summer camps. Out of the thirty-six colleges from which replies have been received to date, six show a majority favor summer camps for college men. Three of these six have at present compulsory or voluntary military drill during the school year.

"In the case of tactical lectures the result is similar. Six colleges report that such lectures already form a part of the curriculum. Four of these six report a sentiment in favor of their continuance. Of the thirty which do not have tactical lectures only four announce an opinion in favor of their introduction."

The president of the League says that while the figures cannot be relied upon absolutely, because of the haste in which the canvass was made, the cumulative evidence establishes the overwhelming sentiment of the college men of the United States against militarism.

"The militaristic student," says Mr. Kersten, "is more aggressive and more likely to publish his views than the pacifist student. Except for this fact I believe our investigation would have shown a still stronger opinion against militarism in colleges than the present proportion of 4 to 1. The general sentiment seems to be to wait until the issue of the war in Europe has been settled and the world has a chance to see where it stands. Few of the young men questioned were ready to have the United States left defenceless. They merely went on record as believing that the existing status of the army and navy was sufficient for the present. They are opposed to any agitation now for heavier expenditures in armament.

"The attitude of the students seems to follow, to a great extent, that of the American press. There is a general belief that the end of the war will determine whether the United States shall join with Europe in a general limitation of armaments, or whether our nation will be compelled to follow in the beaten path that has so often proved the fallacy of the use of rifles and cannons as peace-makers.

"One of the most significant facts revealed by the letters is that no jingoistic sentiment exists in the students questioned. There is nothing of a desire to build up an army prepared to conquer foreign territory. The possible fate of the Phillipines arouses no particular anxiety. The demand for a greater America is barely present.

"Above all things that the answers have shown," is Mr. Karsten's further statement, "is the fact that the home of the chauvinist is not in the college and university. One must rather look for it in the secret chambers of dollar diplomacy and in the executive offices of the manufacturers of shrapnel and 14 inch guns."

ACADEMY BUILDING

Two Plans For Its Use Advanced—
Trustees Will Decide Commencement Week

As Commencement week draws near the action that the university trustees will take on the Academy building, which will be vacated as a preparatory school this year, becomes of considerable interest to alumni and students of Alfred. There have been several suggestions advanced as to the best plan to be pursued but the two that seem to be most in favor are that it either be equipped as a gymnasium or that it be fitted up into an alumni hall.

The gymnasium proposition is unquestionably the one most in accord with the student body's desires—that is until the greatly needed modern gymnasium is a reality. It would be a great advancement for physical instruction as compared with our present facilities if this action were taken while the long winter's athletic hibernation that Alfred has been obliged to resort to for several years would be a thing of the past. That this need is realized by the University faculty is shown by the fact that at the special faculty meeting Saturday evening resolutions were passed asking the trustees that they thoroughly consider such a course.

Those advancing the idea that an alumni hall would be advisable have the argument of sentiment in favor of such a course. If this plan is followed the second floor would be rebuilt for an assembly hall with a gallery, seating arrangements and improved stage, while the lower floor would be used for a banquet hall, alumni offices and rooms as might be deemed advisable. This plan has many commendable features, yet whether it would be advisable to do this temporarily at a sacrifice to the physical educational needs of the students which have come to be of such importance in our college life, is a matter of question. However, it is possible that some plan may be advanced whereby both needs may be met satisfactorily.

(Omitted from last week's issue)

About fifty members of the Athenaeon Lyceum enjoyed a picnic at Pine Crest, Saturday evening given to the Freshmen members in honor of their victory in the class program contest. At half-past six the main party assembled at the Brick for the climb up Pine Hill where some of the members had preceded them so that a blazing fire and the aroma of coffee greeted the party on its arrival. A typical camp supper was served, after which a film of moving pictures was enjoyed. Miss Tuttle entertained the picnickers with stories, and the ghost stories told by other members prepared the party for the dark descent of the hill.

The committee in charge consisted of Misses Hunt, Michler, A. Burdick and Whitney.

FACULTY RULES REGULATING ATHLETICS

New Rules Made To Meet the New Situation—Some Commendable Changes

A copy of the new faculty rules made at a special meeting of the University Faculty, Saturday evening to meet the new situation caused by the coalition of the college and agricultural school athletic associations is given below. As will be seen they follow, with the exception of a few changes which are favorable to the players, very closely the previous college faculty rulings. The greatest change is in Rule 2, section I relating to eligibility which allows a person to play when reported deficient in only one subject provided that work is satisfactorily arranged in four weeks. Heretofore deficiency in one subject has been sufficient to disqualify a player whereby two are now necessary unless the four weeks stipulation is not arranged at the termination of that time:

I. ELIGIBILITY REGULATIONS

1. Any student in the University carrying ten hours or more of work may be eligible to athletic teams.

2. If any student playing on an athletic team shall fall below a passing grade, the instructor shall notify the chairman of the athletic committee of the same before the beginning of the following week. In case the student shall be reported in two or more subjects he shall not participate in any athletic contest until the instructor shall have notified the chairman of the committee that the student has attained such grade. When the student is deficient in only one subject, he may be allowed four weeks from the time that he is reported to bring his work up to the passing grade before being debarred from the team. Instructors shall notify the committee of the removal of such conditions as soon as possible.

3. No member of the faculty of Alfred University shall participate in any inter-collegiate or inter-scholastic contest.

4. The second team shall consist of only those men who have regularly participated in practice against the varsity. The second team shall be under the jurisdiction of the coach, and no group of men other than the above stated shall represent the University in any form of athletics.

II. GENERAL REGULATIONS

1. At the beginning of each season the graduate manager shall file with each instructor a list of names from which the personnel of the team shall be chosen. Names shall be added to or taken from this list only after the graduate manager has notified each instructor of the change.

2. The coach shall have complete jurisdiction of the team in all matters of conduct. He shall be required to suspend from the team for a time commensurate with the offense, any student guilty of immoral, ungentlemanly or unsportsmanlike conduct.

3. Managers of Athletic teams on the Monday previous to an out-of-town game must file with the Committee on Absences of the College and the Director of the Agricultural School a list of the members of the team he intends to take, and also a statement of the time the team must be absent; and in case any one player will not receive excuses for his absences from classes, the Committee or the Director will give the person notice to that effect.

4. No body of students exceeding four in number (two in basket ball) shall take part in any games played out of town, outside of the regular schedule approved by the athletic committee.

5. Match games shall not be played on either Saturday or Sunday except when by special permission of the athletic committee games may be played on Saturday night.

6. All games shall be scheduled so that teams may go to and return from the contest between Monday morning and Friday evening.

7. No more than one game of basketball, baseball or football shall be played in any one week, except when the team can profitably play a series of games on any one trip away from home. Extra games may be played on days when classes are not in session. (See rules 3 and 4).

8. Five games shall constitute a baseball season, ten games a basketball season and six games a football season.

9. The Faculty permits the following teams to make a schedule:—Football Team, Women's Basketball Team, Men's Basketball Team, Baseball Team, Track Team and Tennis Team, also the corresponding second teams.

10. Second teams shall not play more than four out of town games. (basketball teams may play six games.)
