KANAKADEA TO BE OUT MARCH 20th

Secrecy Enshrouds The Book—The "Best Ever?"—Yes and Then—

Advance information concerning the 1917 edition of the Kanakadea lies chiefly in the phrase "just wait." It is known on the authority of Managing Editor Kenyon that it will appear on the twentieth of this month. Any other attempts on the part of Fiat men to dispel the secrecy that enshrouds the coming publication, meets with the rebuff as explained above.

Asked if it would be the "best ever," the various members of the board approached answered in the affirmative, with the added statement that this meaningless expression did not convey the real improvements that have been in-

JUNIOR PLAY DATE—THURSDAY, MARCH 16th

"Lady Windemere's Fan" by Oscar Wilde—A Most Noteworthy Modern Drama

The Junior class showed great boldness and bravery in selecting "Lady Windemere's Fan" for their class play. It is a big play, with a big theme, by a big writer. It was first produced in London at St. James' Theater, with unusual success. Its triumph in England was so pronounced, that New York eagerly presented it to the American public who quickly expressed their approval of it. Oscar Wilde, the author of the play, is studied along with Ibsen, Maeterlink, Shaw, Barrie, and others in all modern drama classes and "Lady Windemere's Fan" is usually conceded to be his masterpiece.

GLEE CLUB SURPASSED ALL EXPECTATIONS

Makes Good at First Appearance—Insures Future Success

On Tuesday evening, February twenty-ninth, Alfred University accepted unquestionable evidence that it possesses a splendid Glee Club. It had been known before that Professor Wingate was working with a group of some sixteen men selected from among the students to achieve that end, and once before Christmas they appeared for themselves in a short number at the Fiat Fair. However, it was not until last Thursday evening that the real test came.

The Hall was well filled despite the fact that a rival attraction at Hornell diverted a number of people from the concert. With the raising of the curtain, the club —Leland Dennis spent the week-end with his parents near Canisteo.

—A number of Ag students have secured summer positions in Wyoming County for the coming season.

—Prof. DuBois was in Hornell, Friday attending a Teachers' Conference, at which time he gave a lecture on agriculture.

—Harold C. Doty is confined to his bed at the Stillman Club with severe complications arising from a bad cold. He has been unable to sit up for the past week.

—Robert Ormsby has accepted a position of a cow testing association in Wyoming County, now in charge of Harold Peet '14. Mr. Peet has resigned to accept a position on the dairy farm of Dr. Mignin, near Castile.

—Prof. Pontius has some very valuable bulletins on stock judging by the Purdue University. It will pay those who do not have one, to get one immediately. They are worth five times the price asked, which is ten cents.

—Why such a poor attendance to the basketball game? Get out and root for your class tonight. The Juniors play the Frosh and by the result of the Frosh-Senior game it looks as though the Juniors would have their hands full.

NOO YAWK CLUB ELECT OFFICERS

The semi-annual meeting for election of officers for the spring term was held last Tuesday night at the Castle, with the following result:

President—Elliot Wight
Secretary—Alfred Decker
Treasurer—George Kull
Sargeant-at-arms — Travin Sedlacek

After voting three times for vice president the result was a tie between Pickens and Maglin. It was moved and seconded to lay the question on the table until the next meeting which will be held at 7 o'clock sharp next Wednesday night at the Castle.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

March 19th-23d — Program For The Week

So far as is known at present, the following will be the program for the 6th annual Agricultural School Commencement. The speaker for Thursday has not yet been fully decided upon. A more complete program will be given in the next issue of the Fiat:

Sunday, March 19, 10:30 A. M., at the church—

Baccalaureate Sermon

Pres. Boothe C. Davis

Monday, March 20—

Open date

Tuesday evening, March 21, at 8 P. M.

Class night at Agricultural Hall

Wednesday evening, March 22—

Reception to Senior class of 1916, given by Director and Mrs. Wm. J. Wright

Tuesday, March 23, at 2 P. M. Commencement exercises at Firemens Hall—

Address to the class of 1916. (Speaker not yet decided upon).

Thursday evening at 7 P. M.—

Alumni banquet and reunion at Fire mens Hall.

COUNTRY LIFE CLUB

Owing to the college assembly and the Pomona Grange, the attendance at the weekly meeting of the Club was very small. The program was as follows:

Song	School
Reading	Harold Spencer
Violin Solo	Mrs. Watson
Reading	Mr. Harwood
Reading	Miss Reynolds
Gleanings	C. A. Parker

At the close of the program all adjourned to the third floor where the company enjoyed a candy pull.

NOTICE

Arrangements are being made for the settlement of all bills against the Orophilian Lyceum. All accounts should be rendered to the undersigned before March 18, 1916. Bills not rendered by that time cannot be honored.

TRAINING CAMP

1916 Football Team to Have New Adventures

Several new features will be introduced into Alfred's Athletic program next fall, being necessitated by our recent success in the football arena. The greatest undertaking in the new system will be a training camp to give the squad a pre-season start to a victorious campaign. Training camps are essential to the success of any team and are supported by all of the larger schools. Our entry into a larger athletic arena demands that we give our teams the same advantages other teams have, and the athletic council is working in all possible ways to make the camp a reality. About $850, fourth of which has already been raised, will be needed to assure a camp worth while, where fifteen or twenty men can have two weeks of training under the direct supervision of the coach.

An idea of what is expected to be accomplished next year is shown by the change in the schedule policy for next year. Alfred has not been content with the smaller colleges alone, but has entered into negotiations with such teams as Bucknell, Oberlin, and Carlisle. It is quite probable that some agreement will be reached with the first two named, and in that case both will undoubtedly be played at Alfred. Should these teams be secured Alfred would see in action the best teams that have ever been brought to western New York. What ever is done, though, in the matter of securing big games, the season for 1916 is sure to be a success, and the keynote to the whole situation is the training camp, which it is confidently expected will be met by those who are anxious to have Alfred a figure in intercollegiate athletics.

FIFTY COUPLES ATTEND UNIVERSITY ASSEMBLY

The first University Assembly of the year was held at Firemens Hall last Thursday evening, March 2. Yes, it was held—no, it wasn't postponed, nothing happened to break up the plans of the committee. Moreover, it was a most enjoyable affair, and everyone of the fifty-two couples that were present agreed that it made up for the lack of events of that nature during the first semester.

The whole evening was very unique in many particulars. Hubert Bliss, '17, who was appointed chairman of the dance committee at a meeting of the college men, recently, had a very efficient corps of committee men under him. Robert Greene, '16, was in charge of the decorations and the shadow paper shades for the lights and wall decorations were all his work and reflected his originality. Ford Barnard, '16, was responsible for the extraordinary type of program, and to Laurence Burgett, N. Y. S. A., belongs the credit for securing Keating's Orchestra to perform the musical functions of the evening.

The patrons of the assembly were Professor and Mrs. Langford C. Whitford, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon F. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Ellis.

FIAT BOARD AS DINNER GUESTS

Staff to Seek Relief From Long Grind

After having performed their work faithfully during the year the Fiat staff is falling into the ways of the rest of the college, and accordingly will give itself up to an evening's dissipation. Saturday evening the staff is to be the guests of Hubert Bliss '17 and Ford Barnard '16, editor-in-chief, and managing editor, respectively of the Fiat, at dinner and dancing party at the K. K. K. house, "The Castle." Each member of the editorial and business department will have a friend as his guest so that a royally bunch will respond to the call.

ALUMNI

Charles H. Green, an Alfred student in the eighties, died recently at his home in Battle Creek, Mich. Mr. Green has lived in Alfred a considerable part of his life, and has been a visitor here quite frequently.

Miss Elizabeth Bacon '15, a member of the Leroy High School faculty, was a guest of Alfred friends over the week-end.

Marcus A. Furnald

Marcus A. Furnald of Owego, N. Y., a veteran of the Civil War, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. J. Remington, at Whitesville, N. Y. Mr. Furnald was a student in Alfred during the year 1866-67, at that time living at Wirt, N. Y.

Lieutenant Governor Eshelman Dead

John M. Eshleman, lieutenant governor of California, died suddenly at Indio, Cal., Monday, February 28th. Mr. Eshelman, who was only 39 years old, was a student in Alfred during the years 1891-92-93, at which time he lived at Villa Ridge, Ill. Soon after he left college he went to California where he met with success that finally resulted in election to his high position in the state government. His untimely death cuts short a career that gave promise of still higher honors among Alfred's distinguished alumni.

According to the campus rules the freshmen are subject to conscription for work on the college activities. This custom is rapidly becoming absolute, until now almost the merest request for such assistance meets with a negative response. Here is an opportunity for the Student Senate to impress upon the freshmen their responsibility in such matters. We do not mean, however, that it can be settled by the Senate alone, in fact its hands are tied without student opinion back of it. It is possible, tho, for the Student Senate to arouse the freshmen to their duties by assuming the leadership in crystallizing sentiment to such an end.

The Fiat is looking into the future. Its outlook cannot, however be said to be the most satisfactory, in fact it is rather bewildered. The problem at the bottom of this case is, how we shall secure prospective material for the editorial staff. Is there anybody interested? Have they any newspaper ability? If there are such people why do we not receive their assistance? These questions present themselves in our endeavor to each year make the Fiat more worthy the college. Yet the fact remains that for some reason we do not meet with any response on the part of the students to "go out for the paper," and the only work that is secured comes after appointment to the staff.

Obviously, this is not desirable and many plans have been advanced in the past to correct this. Each have, however, been of little value. One plan which has been tried with more or less success in other colleges remains for the Fiat. This is to publish class numbers, under which scheme each class, except the Seniors, would do all the work on one issue. This has many objections, but it serves the purpose of starting many in the work, which is really the most difficult part of writing for publication. We do not say yet that this will be done, but it is being carefully considered, and at present indications are that this or some similar idea will be tried.

Milton Groves, '16, president of the Student Senate, in referring to the editorial concerning the delay in setting definite dates for university events, added his suggestion to the situation, which was the propensity to postpone entertainments after the day had been set. Both ideas are causes in this complicating question, and are likewise more or less inter-related. Important activities are left with no definite arrangement until a week or two before the time it is presented, and by that time something else has been scheduled for the same time. It is necessary, therefore, to postpone one, and, of course, the one of more general interest usually is given the stage.

This process occurs over and over again, throughout the year, with the result that nobody knows a week ahead when the various activities will take place. Certainly as we said in last week's issue, this is not very far sighted from a business point of view. Add to this the fact that such a process leads to the accumulation of events, to such a time as when it is necessary to have everything in a bunch. We have a fair sample of such a time at present when the nearness of the Agricultural School commencement makes this demand.

Does not this suggest that from a point of view of time, and the traditional state of finances of students that such methods are not so conducive to satisfactory results as a more systematic plan would be. We are here in college to learn. One of the most valuable lessons should be to eliminate our "haphazard, hit and miss, inefficient" methods for one that has business and convenience to recommend it.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Members Elected — King '17,
Crawford '19, College—Eaton
'17, Parker '18, Ag

The election of members to the Athletic Association Council was held Wednesday morning, at separate meetings of the College and Agricultural School branches. According to the constitution two student members from each department were elected. Those chosen from the college were Walter King '17, for a term of one year, and George Crawford '18, who will be on the Council for two years, while the new Ag members are Harold Eaton '17, one year term, and C. A. Parker '18, for a two year term.

With the other members of the Council, who hold over, the executive branch of the Association next year will consist of: Prof. Clarke, Hubert D. Bliss '17, Walter King '17, George Crawford '18; N. Y. S. A., Prof. Pontius, Harold Eaton '17, C. A. Parker '18. At the Ag meeting C. J. Pickens '16, was elected a temporary member, to fill the unexpired term of Floyd Saunders '16, until June 23d.

SENIOR ORATOR

CAMPUS

—President Davis preached in Belmont, Sunday.

—Hazel Parker visited in Hornell over the week-end.

—Dorothy Baxter '19, and Alpha Brown '19, spent the week-end in Almond.

—Zulieka Richardson '17, was at her home in Wellsville over the week-end.

—Prof. Ford Clarke has been unable to meet his classes for the past few days because of illness.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Murdock of Hornell, N. Y., were the guests of their son, Burtis Murdock '17, Tuesday.

—Elizabeth Davis '19 and Mary Elizabeth Wilson '19, spent the week-end in Bolivar, the guests of Isabel Bradley '19.

—President Davis left today for Albany, where he will attend a State Agricultural meeting, which is to be held in that city tomorrow.

—A lecture on "The Value of a Man" was given Sunday night by Dr. Paul E. Titsworth. A silver collection was taken and turned into the organ fund.

—The Brick dance, which was to be held this evening has been postponed until after Easter vacation. The multitudinous activities at this time of the year made this action advisable.

—As mentioned in last week's issue of the Fiat, Paul Micou will be in Alfred next Sunday to present the "Cause of the Ministry" to the students. Mr. Micou is a conspicuous man among college workers, and his meetings at the Sunday church and Y. M. C. A. should be fruitful in his field of service.

ALFRED SENDS EXHIBIT

Stonington, Conn., High School has asked Alfred to send an exhibit to a general exhibit of the various colleges throughout the country. The Alfred display has been sent, and it is expected it will be instrumental in securing several students from there for next year's freshman class. Miss Maud Congdon '09, is a member of the high school faculty there, while Mrs. Grace Coon Tefft '12, formerly taught in the high school. Several present students in the college come from Stonington and Westerly, R. I., which is adjacent to the former place.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL'S MARCH MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Athletic Council will be held, Wednesday, March 8th, at 7 P. M. This is an important meeting as the revision of the Constitution will take place at this time. The original constitution was very good but certain situations have developed which will necessitate a few changes. After being passed upon by the Council, the revisions will be posted on the various bulletin boards for two weeks. At the end of the period the revised constitution will be voted on by a joint meeting of the two student bodies.

FROSH ADD BASKETBALL CONTESTS TO THEIR RECORD

Gala Night For 19ers—Take Both Men's and Women's Games

A complete sweep of the basketball honors, in the underclass contests, was registered by the Frosh, Wednesday evening, when the 19ers took both the men and women games. This was the second game between the men's teams, which contest was arranged as the best two out of three, while the co-eds were settling their differences in the single game. The teams from both classes gave a good account of themselves by staging the hardest fought underclass games ever staged in Alfred, and, while the Frosh are jubilant over the outcome, they are aware of the close call they escaped at the hands of the Sophs.

Contrary to general expectations the Soph women sustained a defeat by the Frosh in a game which required two extra five minutes of play, to determine the argument. The contest opened with a rush, the play being fast and furious. Wilson, star and captain of the Frosh team, started the scoring with a foul, then quite as quickly scored with a field goal. Jackson for the Sophs, caged the ball for two points, the remainder of the first half resulting in hard playing and equal basket shooting. The score at the end was 6-6.

The second half showed the players at their best, which brought forth steady cheering from the stands. Although the shooting was limited to a basket apiece the pace increased toward the end and when the whistle blew the score was again tied 8-8.

A five minute extra period was decided upon which was characterized by some clever work on both sides. Wilson scored with a foul, and immediately Harer scored for the Sophs with a sensational field basket. The Frosh again scored on a foul by Wilson. This extra period ended with a 10-10 score.

The final five minute half was slower, but still the determination of both sides to win never decreased. In the last minute and a half of play Brown, the Frosh forward, scored on a field basket, which the Sophs were unable to duplicate and the game went to the Frosh 12-10.

The line up and summary was as follows:

Frosh women—

Frosh Men Also Win

Immediately following the women's game the Frosh men and Soph men took the floor for the second time this season. The game, marked by clever pass-work and sensational shooting was with exception of the early part of the second half, never in doubt, the Frosh clearly being the masters of the situation.

The Frosh started the scoring when Sherwood tallied a field basket. Then Poole for the Sophs scored on a foul. Kenyon the Frosh captain scored on a pretty shot and from then on the game resulted in a snappy passing affair with an occasional basket by the Frosh. The Sophs were unable to score a field basket in this half, but managed to secure three fouls. The score at end of the first period was 11-3.

The ability of the Sophs to come back and the slowing up of the Frosh gave the former seven field baskets and one foul in the second half. Starting at full steam, the Sophs rolled up three baskets in rapid succession, which threw a scare into the Frosh followers. It was a pretty example of not giving up until defeated, and, had the Frosh not awakened to their danger when they did, a different story might have been the result. The Yearlings, however, turned the trick an instant later, and scored frequently until the final whistle, with the score 27-18.

BOOKMAN HAS FINE SERIES FOR COLLEGE WOMEN

Recommended by the Vocational Bureau—Written by Successful
Women

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, secretary of the Vocational Bureau, calls the attention of Alfred people to a series on "The New World and the College Woman" that is appearing in the Bookman. This series began in the February number and will continue for four issues in all. In a recent issue the Fiat printed one of these articles written by Mathilda Vossler, Alfred '14, on "Community Recreation."

The series, which is edited by Miss Helan J. Ferris, a Vassar graduate, who is connected with the welfare work of John Wanamaker's New York store, aims to present unusual vocations for women by women who have taken the initiative in such lines and have made good. In order to have the articles do the most possible good, and to have them reach the people most interested, the Bookman offers the four issues for fifty cents, which is half the regular price, to women undergraduates. Inasmuch as it is the desire of the Vocational Bureau to direct Alfred students into the vocation they are best fitted for, it was thought advisable, especially in view of the inability to secure vocational chats for the Fiat, which Dr. Titsworth described as "having an off year," to bring this series to the attention of the students here.

ASSEMBLY

The assembly address of Wednesday, March 1, 1916, was given by Prof. W. C. Whitford on the subject, "Borrowing Money." Prof. Whitford differentiated between the two kinds of borrowing—the wrong way, as the man who borrows with no intention of repaying, and simply because it is easier to borrow than to earn, and the judicious borrower who by co-operation gives himself added efficiency and does not mortgage his future by so doing. He gave some facts on the Student Loan Association, of which he is a member, showing the valuable work that can be done by such an organization. Next week the Fiat hopes to publish the part of the address which referred to the Student's Loan Association.

CHORUSES' ORATORIO POST-PONED UNTIL APRIL

Change Necessitated By Complication of Events

The presentation of the annual concert given by the University chorus under the leadership of Director Wingate, has been postponed. It was first scheduled to take place in connection with the Agricultural School Commencement but circumstances have arisen which makes it impossible to give it during that week.

Director Wingate plans to put the concert on during the first or second week of April, the exact date to be arranged later. The chorus will give "Paul Revere's Ride." and "Lelawala" or "The Legend of Niagara." The ladies chorus will present Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite."

The postponement of the concert renders it impossible for a few Agricultural students to take part and it is to be regretted that efforts to arrange a suitable date before the closing of the term, failed. It is probable that the chorus will present a standard oratorio at University Commencement in June, although no definite plans have been made as yet.

COLLEGE MEN AND BUSINESS

After many glibing years the young college man is about to come into his own. It is beginning to be recognized that he really has some added value, because of his college training, for a career in the workaday world. The announcement of the President of the American International Corporation that that organization purposes to recruit what will eventually become an army of employees largely from among young college graduates and train them for its use in foreign countries is the most important of a number of recent indications that the current is turning squarely in that direction. Very largely the tradition that recent college graduates are of less value in business life than young men who have had no college experience has owed much of its strength to its musty age. Perhaps the business world is just beginning to catch up with the facts in the case. Perhaps also the more practical trend of college curricula nowadays has had something to do with the changing attitude of business men, while the immensely increased percentage of graduating classes looking forward to business as a profession has also had its influence.—New York Times.

COMPLETES COURSES OF LECTURES

Dr. J. N. Norwood completed his course of lectures, which he has been giving each week to a group of Hornell women, today. Dr. Norwood is a repeater in this work, for last year he delivered a similar series, and he gave so much satisfaction that he was secured again. This year about ninety took the course, and the attendance during the ten lectures was almost always up to the full quota.

JUNIOR PLAY DATE—THURSDAY, MARCH 16

The play deals with the witty men and women of England's nobility, sincerely and satirically, without exaggerated caricature in drawing, and without extravagant fun-making in the episodes. It is classed as a comedy in four acts, but it is comedy of the highest type. The action, however, serious it may be, never stiffens into serious drama, and on the other hand, however amusing it may be, it never relaxes into the robust and boisterous mirth of mere farce. The conversation sparkles and glistens with brisk witticisms and smart sayings. And underneath this crackling of artificial wit, there is a well built play, the story of which would please in the theater, even if the words were absolutely commonplace.

The second act takes place in the drawing room at the home of Lord and Lady Windemere and if rumor can be trusted, we vouch that the twenty or more Lords and Ladies strutting before the footlights in this scene, will present a veritable, modern fashion show.

Developments more recent than those recorded in last week's issue of the Fiat have fixed the date of the Junior play, Thursday the sixteenth of this month rather than the eighteenth.

GLEE CLUB SURPASS ALL EXPECTATIONS

men entered from both sides of the stage and assembled themselves into a semi-circle close behind the footlights. The applause was very marked. One could scarcely ignore the fact that the entries at first were noticeably awkward. Later in the evening, however, they were managed much more skillfully.

The program was delightfully varied and certainly none of its merits adverse criticism. Weaknesses there were to be sure, but they were trivial in comparison with the excellence of the whole program. The broad expression of the club singing, the more subtle characterization by the quartet and the equally distinct values, incorporated into the Kanakadea under the present Junior class. Several features are known to have been added, while the artistic work under Guy Rixford '17, promises to excell anything in previous books. But here speculation must cease, and comfort be found in the information of those on the inside that they have not been content merely with the "best ever." This knowledge conveys an unusual amount of information itself, in view of the high ranking Alfred has among college year books. If this year's book really does surpass those of past years, as it has been assured, then the Kanakadea will have a still stronger claim as having no peer among college publications of this nature.

KANAKADEA TO BE OUT MARCH 20th

which the solo work, the instrumental music and the readings introduced, lent a charm of newness throughout the entire evening.

It would be a superficial view, however, to suppose that the successful performance the other night tops the success which the glee club hopes to attain. As a matter of strictest fact, it is only the beginning. The club has proved its ability to serve as genuine entertainers at home. Now, in the trips which it will take about the country in Alfred's interest, it must do as much for the unbiased stranger.

The program was as follows:

Hungarian Dance No. 6
Instrumental Trio
College Songs Glee Club
Comrades in Arms Quartet
Little Brown Church Glee Club
Vocal Solo—Sword of Ferrara

INTRA-MURAL SERIES OFF TO GOOD START

Frosh Lead in College—Seniors in Ag School

Four games of the intra-mural games were played during the first week, and the pace set by these give promise of some interesting contests throughout the schedule. The only series in which more than one game was played was that of the college men, in which the Frosh took two contests. These include the victory over the Sophs and a win at the expense of the Juniors on Saturday night. In this game the Frosh outplayed the Juniors and won hands down by a score of 42-19. The upperclass team was unable to gauge the basket, and their defeat by the overwhelming score is attributable to this failing.

In place of the schedule contest between the freshmen and senior women's teams of the college, the Ag seniors and freshmen played. This game went where it was expected to, but in the attempt the seniors came very near receiving the surprise of their life. The game was hard fought and only two sensational baskets toward the end of the game gave the seniors the victory, 18-14.

This week the games for tonight will be the only attraction. By defeating the Sophs the second time, the third game will not be necessary, while the Ag seniors and frosh, also scheduled for Saturday night, settled their differences last week. Tonight the senior and junior men of the college and the juniors and frosh men of the Ag School.

Following is the standing of the teams that have played:

	College Men
	Won	Lost	P. C.
1919—2	0	1	0.000
1917—0	1	0	0.000
1918—0	1	0	0.000

1918—0	1	0	0.000
Ag Men
1916—1	0	1	0.000

GLEE CLUB AT HORNELL MONDAY EVENING

The Glee Club thoroughly appreciates the support of the students and townspeople and will leave nothing undone to show that their confidence is well placed. At least two dates have been fixed for concerts in nearby towns, the first of which will be Monday evening, March 13th, at Hornell. Several other dates in nearby towns will be placed immediately so as to give the boys as much training as possible before starting on their eastern vacation trip early in April.

Talk up the Glee Club. Do your part toward making this live organization count for Alfred.
