THIRD SUMMER SCHOOL BIG SUCCESS

Sixty-eight Students Enrolled—
Seminary and Ceramic School
Co-operate—Unique Courses

The third session of the Summer School at Alfred University was held July 10 to Aug. 18, and in attendance, quality of work accomplished and scholastic opportunities offered, it was a great success. The ratio of increase of attendance is significant and interesting. In 1914, the first session, there were twenty-one students, in 1915, forty-nine, in 1916, sixty-eight. Of the number enrolled this past summer, forty-six were women and twenty-two men. Of course New York furnished the largest percentage of students, but Maryland came next with about twenty. The student body was a cosmopolitan one, being made up of one Persian, one Japanese, one South American, and one Hollander, to say nothing of a few Britishers, many Yankees and a fist full of Alfredites.

Three new departments or courses were added this summer: the Theological Seminary ran a session in connection with the larger one, and its courses, special and regular, were open to students of the whole school. Dr. Main's lectures on the philosophy of religion were particularly attractive to students and townspeople alike. Another innovation was the introduction of ceramic work into the summer school and these courses under Director and Miss Binns, were received very enthusiastically. Another year, with more advertising, this work will play a still more prominent part. The third addition to the work of the summer school was the course for rural teachers. This course aims to give men and women going into the rural schools work which will make them better teachers, bigger men and women, and enthusiastic rural com-

ALFRED'S EIGHTY FIRST YEAR OPENS WITH A RECORD ENROLLMENT

Entering Class Numbers Sixty-Eight. The Dormitories are Overflowing and Classes are Crowded.

For the eighty-first time Alfred University threw open her halls for registration last Wednesday.

Chapel exercises at 9 o'clock opened business when Prof. Win-gate led an introductory course in college songs for the benefit of the entering class. Pres. Davis, after conducting devotional exercises, warmly welcomed back his flock and offered to all the hospitality and advice of his office.

Following these preliminaries the threshold of the Registration office proceeded to creak under the feet of 167 seekers after knowledge. Of these 58 crossed for the first time. This is the largest college enrollment in the history of the institution and heralds a record-breaking Freshman class.

Profit and Loss

A few of the last year's attendants have dropped out either for the year or for good. The

PROCS GO DOWN FIRST DAY

Fellowship Rather Than Antagonism—Much Excitement Over Reform

Procs went down Monday morning with little enthusiasm and no sign of physical strife. In spite of the stricker laws governing the contest, the Sophomores were victorious again, as they have always been. The Senate has not yet acted on the affair but it is safe to prophesy that the decision will go to the nineteeners.

It is not strange that the Freshmen failed to tear all ten procs down, it even seems queer that they tore any down at all.

familiar faces which are missed are briefly, these. The Seniors have suffered the greatest net loss for to balance the non-appearance of John Beltz, Stanton Davis, Wm. Stevens, Edna Jackson, Carl Hopkins, Ruth Brown and Dorothy Wells, it only welcomes Harold Saunders an ex-member of the class and Ernest White, who has jumped out of the ranks of the class of 1918.

The Junior class also reports the loss of Wilhelmina Jackson.

Of last year's Frosh, Loisa Ackery, Elmer Bass, Isabel Bradley, Alpha Brown, Rachel Richmond, Asher Mitchell and Helen Ryan did not return. They, nevertheless, can boast of the addition of four new members. These are: Alfred Hamilton, Beatrice Wilcox of Syracuse, Warren Maure of Alfred and Frank Lobaugh of Pittsburgh.

The new class, however, is the

THE VARSITY MEETS ROCHESTER, FRIDAY

Upstate Team Plans Easy Victory
—Alfred's Only Out-of-town Game

Alfred has set her stakes high in her decision to take Rochester's measure, when she settles accounts with the Flower City university next Friday, but it is one that the entire student body is back of with all sorts of enthusiasm and "pep." If the difficulty Manager Whitford experienced in securing the game is indicative of the respect the Rochester management holds the Varsity, the score can al-

Turns Tables on Lancaster—Lobaugh Stars

The Alfred football season opened Friday afternoon by a game with Lancaster Training Club. The boys won 14 to 6, despite the fact that they were outweighed, had only a weeks practice behind them and were working under a captain who had never led the team before.

Because she won last year by a fourteen to nothing score, Lancaster had the game all done up before it began. Imagine her surprise when the light line held her and the still lighter back field skirted her ends for gains.

Lancaster scored during the first session by a neat forward pass over the whole team. Cottie pulled the runner down from behind on the 5 yard line, but the ball went over in the next play. Rhodes failed to kick the goal.

During the second quarter a beautiful 20 yard pass from King to Lobaugh secured Alfred's first score. This was made possible by Greene falling on a blocked punt and Crawford recovering a failure at a drop kick. King dropped a pretty goal and Alfred led 7 to 6.

Again in the third quarter after Cottrell had completed a long pass and worked the line down the field Lobaugh caught the ball from King after it had bounced off Lawler's fingers. Decker was right on hand and with his help Lobaugh evaded the four men between him and his second touchdown and placed the pigskin safely away. King's foot again realized an additional point and the score stood 14 to 6.

The team was lucky to win, for the game came on the third day of school and one man had to play who had not donned a suit before this fall. The Coach is

K. K. K. DISBANDED

Pioneer Club Fails to Secure Suitable Quarters—New Fraternity Hoped For

While the general growth of the college is evidenced by the increased enrollment this year, the obituary must be written of one of the two local fraternities which took houses three years ago. The Ku Klux Klan was organized in 1902, with a membership of ten, as a co-operative boarding club and social organization. It was therefore, until its demise this year, the oldest club next to the Clan Alpine.

Three years ago they procured the "Castle," which they have occupied ever since. This year the inability to secure the entire house, and the impossibility to secure anything suitable to the needs of such a club caused its disbandment. While the strength of the local fraternities is always problematical, and the loss of the K. K. K.'s. in particular, not irreparable, it can be hoped by the student body that the place fraternities should fill in college life will not be allowed to remain unfilled permanently by the death of one of the pioneers.

PRE-COLLEGE ASSEMBLY

About forty couples were in attendance at the Pre-College Assembly Tuesday evening at Firemen's Hall, and if this first event in the year may be taken as a criterion, the activities during the coming year will be unusually enjoyable and successful. Excellent music was furnished by Merriman's four piece orchestra, and following the dance, luncheon was served at the Alfred Cafe. The patrons and patronesses of the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reynolds and Prof. and Mrs. Ray Wingate.

STUDENT SENATE ORGANIZE

At the first meeting of the Student Senate, Friday afternoon, Anna Savage '18, was elected secretary of the body and the weekly meeting time set for Tuesday evening at 7:00.

The president of the Senate is Edward Saunders '17, all items pertaining to organized student body activity should be referred to him.

SENIORS START CLASS FEEDSClam Bake Amid Occasional Showers

The social season for the classes opened Saturday evening with a clam bake by the Seniors. Standing out in the open field back of the Eta Phi House around improvised tables in the fire light and under a gentle falling shower the wise old seventeeners had their fill of clam chowder and baked clams, baked sweet potatoes and white fish, sandwiches and coffee, roasted sweet corn, apples and plums.

About thirty of the class were present with Mr. and Mrs. Mix and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson as guests.

The success of the affair was due to the very efficient chairmanship of Gertrude Ford.

STUDENT'S HANDBOOK

After an absence of two years that most useful of all books, the Student Handbook, known in common parlance as the "Frosh Bible," again makes its appearance. It is to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. that the students are indebted for this handy volume, which organizations have put it out through a special committee of which Willard Sutton '17, president of the Y. M. was chairman.

The booklet consists of ninety pages, devoted for the most part to information, only a few pages consisting of advertisements. Practically all the information desired along general lines throughout the year is contained in the volume, including faculty regulations, student organizations, athletic schedules and the ever necessary hints to freshmen. Altogether it is a piece of work that will prove its value many times over, and it is to be hoped that it will never again be dropped.

KEEP ON PLUGGING

The fellow who "can't" sat by the road and watched the world go by. While the fellow who "could" picked up the load and got there by and by, For he gritted his teeth and he said: "I will," and he tugged with might and main, While the fellow who "can't" is sitting there still, and there's nobody else to blame.

Y. M. and Y. W. RECEPTION TO THE FRESHMEN CLASS—PRES. DAVIS SPEAKS

The Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations joined in welcoming the new students at their annual reception at the Brick on Thursday evening.

After being labeled, each student was welcomed by the Presidents, Sutton and Taber of the respective associations and by the faculty assembled in reception line. A general interchange of names kept up during the entire evening.

A most enjoyable program was given in the following form:

Address of Welcome to the Y. W. C.

A. Mildred Taber '17

Vocal Solo Hazel Stillman '19

Address of Welcome to the Y. M. C.

A. Willard Sutton '17

Vocal Solo Erling Ayars '17

Address of Welcome Pres. Davis

Both of the Association presidents and Pres. Davis impressed upon the students the value of the Associations in their college life and urged them to call upon them at all time for aid and to join the appropriate one as soon as possible.

Y. W. CABINET IN HOUSE PARTY

The annual Y. W. C. A. House Party was held at the delightful home of Mrs. Charles Stillman on Glen St., the week before school opened. The ten girls in attendance report an unusually fine time of music, pleasantry and planning of the year's work. Under the leadership of Miss Mildred Taber the Y. W. has outlined a whirling campaign of membership and the House Party was a direct inspiration to friendship and loyalty to the other members of the Cabinet.

KING '17, ACTING FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Graduate Manager Whitford has appointed Walter King '17, as acting captain of the football team. Kirke, whose position he is taking, left school very unexpectedly Thursday.

King is a born athlete, starring wherever he plays and is a fine man to lead the fellows through the season. He can do as much as any one can to remedy the difficulty the team is in by the change in leaders.

GIBBS NOMINATED TO SENATE VISITS ALFRED

Leonard W. Gibbs '99, who has just won out in the nomination for state senator in the 50th district, was in Alfred over the weekend. He and Mrs. Gibbs motored from Buffalo bringing Mrs. Taber with them.

ready be seen to Alfred's favor. It was only after extended negotiations that the game was obtained, and the purple and gold were able to make definite plans as to the contest.

This is the first time since 1906, that the elevens from these two universities have clashed in mortal combat and the 18-0 defeat administered by the Rochester team has ever since gone unredeemed. It remains for the 1916 pigskin chasers to turn the trick, and in a manner that will be most decisive.

In football annals, Rochester stands high among minor college teams, and is always a team that can be depended upon to give its opponents a hard run. This year rosy reports have been sent out by Rochester followers, and with a new coach and a large freshman class they have a combination with which they expect to make a clean record. The Alfred eleven cannot see things that way to be sure, and they are going to put their best into this and the enthusiastic support of the entire student body must be directed toward that end.

working hard and against difficulties, but if he had more material he feels sure of a team to be proud of. The men played a headier game than last year at this time. Every player followed the ball in every play and consequently fewer fumbles occurred and these usually came out with an Alfred man on the ball.

Lobaugh, a new arrival in college from the University of Pittsburgh, played the star game. Speedy and sure he secured both touchdowns. Boyd and Witter also were in every play. The most formidable Lancaster men seemed to be Zipp, Mullaney and Lawler.

Disregarding the difference in scores, the game as a whole left a far more satisfactory feeling among the students than the one last year. It was cleaner, better football with comparatively few discussions and these lost the animation that Bleich put into them last year.

JOSEPH B. SHAW, C. E.

Taking Prof. Montgomery's Place as Professor of Ceramic Engineering

Prof. Shaw comes from Ohio having received his high school education at West Lafayette, graduating in 1901. After teaching for two years, Mr. Shaw spent five years in Ohio State University, enjoying a fellowship in mechanical drawing during his last two years, 1907 and 1908.

With the degree of Ceramic Engineer as an asset, he was Superintendent of the Enamel Department of the Grand Rapids Refrigerator Co., 1909-10. During 1911 he conducted research work in the West Lafayette Mfg. Co., doing the same and superintending the Pottery department of the Andrew Ramsey Co. in 1912. 1912-15 he was Ceramic Engineer in the Pittsburg Testing Laboratory. For the last year he has been Superintendent of Schools in Centerville, Pa.

Mr. Shaw comes as an experienced teacher, research man and well acquainted with the commercial side of the Ceramic trade and should prove a valuable addition to the Ceramic teaching staff.

NEW HOUR SCHEDULE

At a special meeting of the college faculty Tuesday afternoon a new hour schedule for classes was adopted, whereby the morning classes will close at 12 o'clock and the afternoon session begin at 1:30. According to the new plan, there will be four morning periods and four afternoon classes, the last period being from 3:30 to 4:30.

The long interval between the morning and noon meals was the principal cause of the change, and the close proximity of the students to the university buildings made it possible to adopt the more desirable plan. Then too, the high school has gone back to the two-session program, and the attendance that is always considerable between the two schools also was influential in the change.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT

Mass meeting at Kenyon Memorial Hall this evening at 7:30. Everybody out and hear what Coach Sweetland has to say.

CERAMIC NOTES

The N. Y. S. C. hails the new school year with the addition of two Sophomores and fourteen Freshmen to make up for the loss of five students who graduated. There are many improvements in the equipment of the school in the line of casts, books, brick machinery, electric furnaces and rearrangement of laboratories.

Miss Binns has returned after a years absence to resume her duties as teacher of Modeling and Art. Miss Merritt having taken a position in Carnegie Institute in Pittsburg.

Nina Howard left town Saturday to visit Mrs. Buck at Silver Springs for a few days.

The first Studio tea for the Art Department will be held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

THE FIAT'S PROBLEM FOR THE YEAR

The Managing Editor Plans a Financial Success — Efficiency the Byword—"No 'Filler' to be Used

It is well for you to know that the Fiat is beginning the year with a deficit of approximately three hundred dollars. This deficit was largely accumulated during the past year, several unpaid subscriptions of which may still be realized upon, but a very substantial decrease in the load is not anticipated.

This year a more economical system in publishing the paper has been instituted. Whenever possible Frosh work has been substituted for labor for which at least twenty cents an hour was formerly paid. It is hoped that the average cost of an issue may be reduced to twenty dollars. There are thirty issues during the year, making a publication cost of six hundred dollars. A conservative estimate of the year's expense, including stationery, mailing costs, etc., is six hundred and fifty dollars.

There is considerable rumor that the days of worry over Fiat finances are past since the subscription has been placed on the tuition bills. But just a thought will show the error. One dollar and a half from one hundred and seventy students will amount to two hundred and fifty-five dollars. This still leaves over four hundred dollars to be raised to cover the year's expense alone and make no payment on the debt.

There is no way of taxing each member of the Agricultural School, it being a State institution, so the paper is left entirely to the mercy of the results of a thorough and systematic canvas of that body. Director Wright believes that it can be depended upon for support to an extent never before enjoyed. If not, it will be necessary to make it an All-College paper. Those who do not pay will receive no paper and the quantity of news in this section which will be printed will depend upon the number of Aggie subscriptions received. This source should yield at least one hundred dollars.

The annual Fiat Fair will again be held and every effort made to make it a great success and net over a hundred dollars.

The prospective assets still fall two hundred dollars short of the certain liabilities. The balance must be raised by the advertising. The support of the merchants and the departments of the University through their ads is obviously the saving feature of the paper's financial plan. Your duty then is to support the merchants in proportion to their help. Patronize the dealers who use the Fiat as an advertising medium!

You should now thoroughly understand the problem confronting the Fiat board. Remember your subscription promptly paid on your tuition bills will aid materially, but in no way insures the success of the paper.

The policy of the Fiat Lux is the greatest efficiency with the greatest economy. Perhaps an issue will often contain only six pages, but a smaller type is being used and padding will be cut entirely. "News" is the slogan and only the setting up of material of actual interest to you will be paid for.

Keep an eye on the progress of the paper, and always be free to offer your suggestions.

BRIEF COMMENT

Dr. David Childs, who was at one time head of Alfred's Chemistry department, has been given the position of Principal of Technical High School in Buffalo. Teaching under him are Wm. Welton '13, and Dorothy Wilner '13.

Dean Main is offering a course in "The Teachings of Christ" which comes T. W. and Th. at 1:30. His "Philosophy of Religion" course will not be given until the second semester.

HOMESICK?

There is such a thing, but it resolves itself into this. You are away from home, away from things that have interested you longest and most vitally. And the time when you will return to them looms up before you so large that it seems the only object on the landscape, except perhaps the long and narrow path stretching toward it.

If this be true, your remedy is "look closer to you." Let the looming date appear as the climax of a pleasant walk. See the different events of the year that line the path. See the trees—these are your class functions; see the trickling brook that borders the path the whole way—that is your school work; see that interesting little twist in the path where it leads away from the brook—that will take you through banquet week; there is a rustic little bench by the side of a spot where the brook disappears from view—that is Thanksgiving vacation; those signs along the road that appear blank are the athletic contests—what will they say when you come near enough to read; see those little blue flowers scattered here and there and which grow ever so thick in the distance near the end of the way—those are your friendships — take a bunch of them home—really the path isn't as barren as it looks.

Y. M. C. A.

The first meeting was held Sunday evening in the Association room in Burdick Hall. A large number attended. Mr. Nash, who is chairman of the program committee, gave a short talk on programs for the coming year. He suggested that, as the Y. M. C. A. was a Christian organization, the Bible should be studied somewhat more than has been the custom. Mr. Sutton, the president, then outlined the work that the Y. M. C. A. will attempt to do this coming year. Mr. Perkins then welcomed the Freshmen in behalf of the Association.

The meeting was an inspiring one. After it about twelve of the men present joined the Association. It is hoped that many more will follow in the next few weeks. Watch the bulletin boards for announcements of next Sunday's meeting.

For the contents of the sheet are a most radical change from previous years. Instead of calling the Frosh "squally brats" and predicting dire consequences should they assert themselves, the present Sophomores have extended a welcoming hand to their younger brothers with the following proclamation:

THE PROCLAMATION — THE NEW SPIRIT
1919 to 1920

Greetings, Comrads!
Welcome, Class of 1920!

The gates of Alfred open to you, the Sophomores of this University gather to meet you, and to bid you welcome. This Proclamation Season for you is different from what it has been in previous years, for the New Spirit salutes you. It was once considered wise by the second year classes to post before your eyes slurring proclamations satirical and depreciatory epithets, with the hope that such phraseology might arouse the ire and crush the spirit of the entering class. After the glorification of a High School graduation they deemed humiliation necessary. But that was the essence of the old, and useless, and belittling tradition, a tradition which lacked the New Spirit of fellowship and brotherly kindness; and that was the tradition for which they fought. Let us fight for higher things!

CLASS OF 1920, HEAR US NOW

We cast out this old tradition as we transfer the first year duties, the honors, and the privileges to the New Freshmen. We extend to you the helping hand for we remember that your feelings were our feelings, and your problems once confronted us. That your burdens may be lighter, that your pathway may be more pleasant, we rise to our better selves in extending the hand of fellowship and good will to you. You have entered upon new paths, and are in a new environment; may it never be said that you felt that you were not wanted, may it never be said jealously and ill-will were gathered along the wayside to greet you. We appeal to you to co-operate with us in raising the standards of Alfred, in enriching its traditions, in strengthening the loyalty, and in developing the New Spirit, the spirit of comradeship between all classes, the spirit that plays fair on the campus and in the classroom. We give all the greetings that the class of 1919, as friends, can extend to their new brothers and sisters of the class of 1920.

YEAR OPENED

largest item on the roll. Fifty-eight new sons and daughters have come under the Alfred banner in the 1920 company and nine of last year's entering class, having failed to remove all conditions, are now enlisted with the new recruits. Sixty-seven is a new record, a fine record and what an imposing body they will make when they all stand up in caps and gowns.

The enrollment by classes:

|---------------|
| Graduates—2 |
| Seniors—35 |
| Juniors—22 |
| Sophomores—32 |
| Frosh—67 |
| Specials—10 |
| Total—167 |

A Senior, another Junior and two more freshmen are certain to come within the week.

Trend of Registration

The registration in departments:

|---------------------|-----|
| Hist. and Pol. Sci. | 117 |
| Ind. Mechanics | 33 |
| Physics | 38 |
| Chemistry | 82 |
| Mathematics | 87 |
| Mod. Lang. | 125 |
| Class Lang. | 20 |
| English | 126 |
| Biol. and Geology | 60 |
| Phil. and Educ. | 144 |
| Seminary | 11 |
| Ceramics | 49 |

This shows a decided trend away from the classics and subjects of the feelings to the sciences and subjects of the reason. It is best exemplified in the class in Economics which numbers 26 with more than half women. Never before has the class been even half so large and never have the fair co-eds been brave enough to tackle the subject in such numbers.

The aspect of the campus which greeted the returning students was even more beautiful than ever. The grounds are in the best condition they have ever been and the dingy red of Burdick Hall has been changed into a light and very pleasant brown. A score board has been erected on the hill-side in front of the Hall to protect it from the paint brushes of the rejoicing mob on victorious occasions.

As the students went about to get their little 'red cards' signed, only familiar faces looked out from behind the professor's desks. The few changes in the teaching staff being Prof. Shaw to fill Prof. Montgomery's place as Professor in Ceramic Engineering; Miss Binns in Miss Meritt's position as instructor in modeling and Mr. Read in Mr. Weed's place as instructor in Piano.

Student Assistants

The increase in the numbers taking laboratory subjects has necessitated an addition to the list of student instructors. Willard Sutton '17, is teaching the woman's section of Chemistry I, Robert Coon '17, Harold Saunders '17, Ellen Holmes '17, and Winfield Randolph '18, are also assisting in the Chemistry department. Hubert Bliss '17, is serving in the History and Political Science department, Hazel Parker '17, in Biology, Harold Nash '18, in English and Edward Saunders '17, in Physics.

Saul Llinas, '19, of Bananguilla, Columbia, S. A., a student in the Ceramic School, is teaching the class in Spanish 2.

Outside Rooming Arrangements

In order to accommodate the overflow from Ladies Hall, new arrangements had to be made in the way of living quarters for the women, which would accord with the requirements of the social life committee. The house on South Main St., belonging to Mrs. Sullivan has been rented as a Freshman House and twelve 1920 women are residing there under the chaperonage of Mrs. Allin, who presided over last year's Senior House. Another group of women, mostly Seniors, are living in Mrs. Camenga's house on Terrace street. Mrs. Lamphear of Little Genesee, whose daughter has entered the Freshman class, will be their chaperon and housekeeper. Burdick Hall is full of men and the time approaches when the school will need two new dormitories or additional clubs and fraternities.

It is a fair guess that this is going to be Alfred's best and most prosperous year.

munity workers. The courses offered were "Teaching in Rural Schools," "Elements of Agriculture," "Nature Study and Home Gardening," "Music, Drawing, Plays and Games." These courses are, so far as we know, unique in their practical dealing with the persistent problems centuring in the rural school. This work was designed to meet the needs of high school graduates who are holders of 72-count regents diplomas, or teachers already at work in country schools. The completion of this work entitles the student to the Academic certificate. The management of the Summer School believes that they can make of these courses a real contribution to education.

So much for the serious side of the session. It was likewise a season of good fellowship and fun. Picnics, walks, automobile parties, dances, a tennis tournament, and snipe hunts helped even the most fastidious to fill leisure with pleasure.

The increasing success of the summer school venture is due to the enthusiastic co-operation of a large corps of efficient teachers, notable in this connection being the work of Principal North in advertising the school in Baltimore and its environs.
