YOUTH OF the University Church are prepared to fill Larry Casey’s truck with non-perishable food to donate to the Alfred Area Food Pantry, which is facing a desperate need for food.

Youth to fill Larry Casey’s truck with donations for Food Pantry

“During the month of August alone, 66 families were served, 8 of whom were new” says Jean Ellis, food bank coordinator. Not only are food donations down but cash donations are down as well.

So far this year they have received $3,800 in contributions and have had to spend $7,000 – the extra was made possible because of reserves from the previous year. The money is used to purchase eggs, chicken, and bread from Stearns Poultry at low cost.

In order to help alleviate the need, the Union University Church has decided to launch a blitz-like campaign to fill Larry Casey’s truck with food for the Alfred Area Food Bank, and they are inviting community members to join in the challenge.

Beginning immediately and running until Sunday, Oct. 3, we invite everyone to collect as much food as they can to see if we can fill the bed of Larry’s truck to the brim. Spread the word – ask your friends and neighbors to join in the effort.

While all non-perishable food items are welcome, the following are most needed: cereal, protein (beans, tuna, etc.), boxed meals, pasta, soups, and canned fruits.

Bring food items to the foyer of the Union University Church Center, Church Street, Alfred, during weekday mornings. Questions may be directed to the Church Office, 587.9288 or Lana Meissner, 587.9469, FMEISSNERL@ALFRED.ED.U.

On October 3, our youth will “fill that truck” and help haul it to the Food Pantry.

The Alfred Police Department made the following arrests recently:

—Tylor D. Congdon, 18, of Airpport, was charged Saturday, Sept. 25 for failure to keep right, dazzling headlights, driving while intoxicated, and blood alcohol content greater than 0.08% following a traffic stop on North Main Street in the Village of Al-fred. Congdon was released to a third party and is to answer the charges in Alfred Village Court at a later date.

I Am Alfred: a look at the people who call it home

By ASHLEY KEHOE
Alfred State College
Director, Civic Engagement and Student Leadership Programs

As a new resident of Alfred and the Director of Civic Engagement and Student Leadership Programs at Alfred State College, it is my role to actively and intentionally engage students in community initiatives.

Some of our student leaders and I have been coordinating the “I Am Alfred” Campaign. We have been collecting photos and stories of Alfred residents, to demonstrate and celebrate the diversity of our community, which we are calling the “I Am Alfred” campaign.

I have gotten some truly stellar, inspiring, and interesting responses to our questions:

SHERYL VOLK
Lecturer, Physical and Life Sciences, Alfred State College

How long have you lived or worked in the Alfred community?

I have lived in Alfred twice. I grew up here (and claim to be Alfred State’s token native Alfredian, though I actually lived somewhere else until I was 3). Including my college years (AU), that was 22 years. Bob and I were married in Alfred, then moved to the Niagara Falls area for about 7 years. We returned to Alfred permanently in 1972, built the house we now live in and that we raised our children in.

What about living or working in this community brings you the most joy?

That’s a very tough one, because there are so many things. The beauty of this gorgeous glacial valley. The changing seasons. The wonderfully safe and intellectual environment. The PEOPLE. The memories we have of our college romance; our wedding; the births of our 3 children and their marriages here; 2 of our kids and 2 in-laws graduating from Alfred State - which is the BEST place for a home-schooled kid to start college, my lifelong sweetheart and traveling companion lives and works here too. Incidentally, Alfred State itself has been a special joy these many recent years as I am able to walk to work, have an AWESOME department and other colleagues to work with, and wonderful students to enjoy. This has been my third best job - after being Bob’s wife, and those 3 kids’ mom and teacher.

What are your hobbies and pastimes?

I love to run and walk, do miles/day of one and/or the other; love to read, have 2 or more books going at a time, one on my Kindle; I love to “computer” (fiddle and play at the computer); GRANDKIDS; traveling; sewing; knitting, biking, canoeing...

Describe your favorite Alfred memory?

Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Alfred Sun that said, “We want, one thousand subscribers to the Sun.”

That goal suggested by Sun co-founder and legendary Editor and Publisher Frank A. Crumb, was met before the new millennium. But now we’d like to keep the dream alive. So we’ve set a goal of 125 new subscribers to mark the SUN’s 125th anniversary.

During Frank Crumb’s Dream Campaign, we offer new subscribers 13 months for the year’s subscription price of $27 (50c outside of Allegany County). That’s $25 off the newsstand price. And you’ll read hometown news and interesting stories found nowhere else.

If you would like to help keep Frank Crumb’s Dream alive, send your name and address or that of a loved one with check payable to “Alfred Sun” to: Frank Crumb’s Dream, P.O. Box 811, Alfred, NY 14802. We thank you and Frank thanks you!

THE ALFRED SUN, Thursday, September 30, 2010 3
Village, Town Courts

Dear Editor,

Reading the Letter to the Editor regarding the way we are treated unfairly and unhappy concerning Court Appearance, I could not but feel a bit saddened by what had been mentioned about the situation. No court appearance can be truly a joyous event and surely enough, it is not always that "uplifting" for the sitting judge either. Well do I remember when I was served as Town and Village Magistrate myself, as many of our citizens will remember. I wore the black robe for 18 years in our community. There are some things which perhaps should be pointed out, should anyone care to think about it.

The Alfred Sun comprise the very busiest venues in the entire county. We are, remember, a University and College community. We have a great many young people who do the things that you and I might not always do ourselves sometimes taking chances, pushing the envelope a bit, trying out new freedoms and new opportunities. For my part, I always liked very much working with the students and with our own "year-round" citizens as well. Sometimes the Assistant Dis-trict Attorney, a Defense Attorney and myself would have to realize just how pretty hard to ham-mer out a deal by which a defend-ant would be able to address an issue, problem for his/her offense, without carrying a criminal record for the rest of his/her life, simply for having crossed a se-rious line at the age of 19 or 20.

I often thought to myself that I remain very happy indeed that I was not "nailed to the barn door" and given a criminal record for some lack of prudent thinking at that early age! All in all, the students here are fine young people and, as people will make mistakes which they might later regret. Knowing Judge Cameron, I have great respect for her in her fairness, her ability and willingness to interpret and uphold the law, and in her will-ingness to come to a humane, though sometimes strict, disposi-tion of a matter. Frankly, I never knew Judge Cameron to be "led" through a case by any District Attorney. She just doesn’t work that way!

Judge Cameron is not a wealthy community. Far from it! Add some time, if you feel up to it, to what is the percentage is of taxable property we have within our Village and Township. We must try to maintain even a half-time court clerk. When I was a judge, we had a court clerk in the building every Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and she was also in her office for the duration of both Court nights. The money simply is not there for those hours any more. That is not what I meant to do. Things void of rear...or rhyme.

It’s not that it’s not good to do. In normal circumstances.

But it’s something could stop to do. Just when I had a chance.

And it’s taking so much time to do this thing that none did ask, it feels like I am doing this unimportant task.

The thing that I sent to do
I didn’t mean to shun;
No, this isn’t what I meant to do...
But look at it — it’s done!

87 down, 38 to go

Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Sun that said, “Wanted, one thousand subscribers to the Alfred Sun.” It’s been 125 years since legendary Sun editor Frank A. Crumb, with the Sun from 1883 to 1931, set the millenary goal.

Not knowing of Frank Crumb’s Dream, I, too, had set goal of 1000 subscribers. But as I joined the paper in 1976 that goal was finally reached in January 1999. It’s now over 900. We’ve added 32 new sub-scribers since Jan. 1, 2009.

It’s good to connect to this commu-nity. If you would like to con-tribute to Frank Crumb’s Dream, send your name and ad-dress or that of a loved one to-gether with your check payable to: "Frank Crumb’s Dream, c/o Alfred Sun, P.O. Box 111, Alfred, NY 14802. Thank you.

WEEKLY WITH FRIENDS LIKE THESE.....

Last week (September 15th-16th) I attended the Fall 2010 Confer-ence of the New York State Association of Counties ("NYSAC"). It was held in Buffalo, which made it the closest State conference since I have been on the Board of Legislators. I find two different aspects of these conferences beneficial. First, they provide me an opportunity to learn about new developments from the State level. Second, they allow me to learn what officials from other counties are thinking and doing.

I attended two different NYSAC committee meetings. The first dealt with recent State mandated changes for indigent legal services. The second dealt with old-computer systems being replaced with new programs and new standards and requirements. Only NYS is guar-ananteed any funding under the new system. There is no guarantee that any one else can actually afford to change. This does provide me an-other example of the State pushing its standards and expenses down onto the counties.

The second committee dealt with Public Employee Relations. We passed several resolutions dealing with opposition to unfunded mandates.

The State has been spending our money without spending our money in past years. Now, as far as the arresting offi- cers be unwilling to hear a rebuttal or look at evidence: He she or she would be acting beyond his/her lawful competence! A police officer cannot weigh the merits of a case or a charge! It is absolutely forbidden...by the Law...by the Law...by the Law.

There ARE countries where a police officer, if he or she be unwilling to hear a rebuttal or look at evidence: He she or she would be acting beyond his/her lawful competence! A police officer cannot weigh the merits of a case or a charge! It is absolutely forbidden...by the Law...by the Law...by the Law.

With friends like these, who needs enemies?

Allegany Artisans have plenty of ‘heart stories’

By ELAINE HARDMAN
Alfred Sun Reporter

It’s unexpected. One of us will be just standing at a show or a tea or line at a bank and someone will walk up, take our hand and talk. Another day there will be a phone call, a card or an email telling a family story — what I call a heart story.

Artisans easily talk about their work but with a little tease they’ll talk about these stories, from their customers and customers turned friends. Their faces and voices show how important those stories are.

Jim Horn and BM Bateman said that a woman came into their booth stammering with excitement. “‘Oh, this is the pin boooth!’” she said.

She explained to them that several years ago, she had purchased a heart pin for her mother, who absolutely loved it. Sadly, the pin was lost. Enormously more sadly, her mother died of cancer. Now, in tears, the woman searched for a similar pin to replace it in memory of her mother.

Also in tears, HM just gave her one.

Bob Stadtlander, a wood carver, said that an Israeli dentist who collects carved scenes for his office asked for a special piece. Even though this dentist had over 50 pieces in his collection, he was so impressed with the work Bob did that he made a special shelf for it and then ordered more pieces. “It amazes me to think that my creations are far,” Bob said. Jen Acomb’s work is half-way around the world, said Bob. Jen Acomb’s work is likely around the world too. Jen works as Steve Walker’s third year apprentice but also has her own silver studio. Jen said she brings work home to show her mother (her best customer) who will slip it on and take off to work at the hospital. On one occasion she was working with new parents and the mom commented on how much she liked a Celtic swan pendant.

Impressively, that new father paid attention to the conversation about jewelry while welcoming a new baby. Also impressively, he remembered and tracked down the jeweler to order a similar pendant for his wife.

Sue Johnson works on a long-arm quilting machine. During Sue’s first studio tour a visitor from Virginia stopped by and was impressed. While Sue claimed to be a beginner with the machine the woman gave her 6 months to practice and then started sending work to Sue to have it quilted.

Sue said, “She tells me to do whatever I think because she trusts me and says she’s loved everything I have done for her so far. To date she’s sent 17.”

There are plenty of “heart stories” among this Wellsville group of artisans, part of the Allegany Artisans who will hold their 23rd Open Studio Tour Oct. 16-17. (Photo provided)

Dance will open new Miller Theater

ALFRED—Alfred University will present a new piece by The Brian Brooks Moving Company for the opening of the new Miller Theater, part of the Miller Performing Arts Center.

The new theater will be dedicated Oct. 15, and the first performance to the public will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 16. The event is free of charge, but reservations are required; they may be made through the Performing Arts Division web site at http://al.alfred.edu/per or by calling the Division of Performing Arts box office at 607.871.2828.

The New York City-based contemporary dance group will perform choreographer Brian Brooks’ latest work, “MOTOR,” an hour-long piece for sevenancers, set to an original score by composer Jonathan Pratt.

The Brian Brooks Moving Company was selected for the opening performance of the new theater because of an enduring relationship with the dance company, which D. Chase Angier, director of AU’s dance program, first brought to campus in 2004, appropriately enough through the Marlin and Ginger Miller Dance Residency Program. Marlin and Ginger Miller are the benefactors whose gifts have created the Miller Performing Arts Center at the University.

The first phase of the center was opened in 1995. The second phase is the new $23 million building, which provides Alfred University’s Division of Performing Arts with a state-of-the-art theater.

The production of “MOTOR” will make full use of the new theater’s technical capabilities, Angier noted. Over two miles of cables will be stretched from the back of the stage to the farthest walls of the theater, creating a tunnel-like space that will encompass both audience and performers. Within the space, dancers will wrestle with themselves and one another in sequences that amplify the audience’s linear perceptions of time and experience, Angier explained.

Structuring informal movement in a formal way, Brooks builds each of the dancers’ movements off the previous one, creating a chain reaction that continues until the show’s end. Pratt, who is an acclaimed composer in the dance community, explores the same notions of continuum and perpetual motion that represent computer/neurological mechanics, and the larger sequence of space time, according to Angier.

New York Times reviewer Gia Kourlas called “MOTOR” “potent… as if the dancers were somehow the light at the end of a tunnel.” The Times noted “Mr. Brooks is intrigued by the way repetition grows to create a machine.”

The children had to have them sleep. They rubbed the dino bellies until they wore through the cloth so their mom had to patch and patch them. As many of us know, special snuggly toys become as alive as the Velveteen Rabbit and there is no “replac- ing” them. Only repair is al lowed and sometimes that takes serious negotiation.

Most artisans have stories about people naming a bowl or saying that their favorite part of the day is evening tea in their special mug. Some handmade toys are passed down from generation to generation or kitchen-ware becomes a part of family traditions or ceremonies. Hand-made things, carefully made are what the Allegany Artisans offer during their annual Studio Tour.

ALFRED—“Betty’s Summer Vacation,” a play by Christopher Durang, will be presented by the Alfred University Division of Performing Arts as the first offering of the 2010-11 theater season. Winner of four Obie Awards, including best playwriting, “Betty’s” has been called a “fierce” comedy which focuses on the tabloid-ization of American culture and is considered by many to be Durang’s best play. The play focuses on human nature’s interest in horror and gossip.

The production — for mature audiences only — opens Wednesday, Sept. 29 and runs through Thursday, Oct. 2, in the C.D. Smith III Theatre, Miller Performing Arts Center. Showtimes are at 8 p.m.

Cost of admission is $5 for the general public, $3 for students and senior citizens, and $1 for AU students with ID. For tickets and reservations, please call the Division of Performing Arts Ticket hotline at 607.871.2828 or visit the Alfred University website at www.alfred.edu/perf... This event is not advisable for children.

Stephen E. Crosby, professor of theater at AU, is director of “Betty’s Summer Vacation.” Other AU students in the production team include Marketa Fantova, assistant professor of theater arts; Joseph Seraphin, a sophomore undeclared major as Mrs. Siezman; Dana Harris, a freshman undeclared major as Mrs. Vanislav.

Also, three of the cast members will be “voices” for the play: Javier Pritchard, Katie Barlow, and John Hamolsky, all senior theater majors.

An Equity actor, director, and writer, Crosby has worked professionally in New York, Los Angeles, and in regional theaters. In the last few years he has returned to the stage as an actor, playing the role of Scrooge in “A Christmas Carol,” and performing as a touring Alaska with the Fairbanks Shakespeare Festival. He holds a master of fine arts degree from Florida State University.

Fantova has a bachelor’s degree in scenography from DAMU Theatre Academy of Fine Arts, Prague, and a master of fine arts degree in scene design from Wayne State University, Detroit.

Durang is relentlessly entertaining. His plays arouse audiences with hilarity as no subject is sacred, whether it be organized religion, homesickness, psychoanalysis, or pandemic. His imagination, inventiveness, courage and audacity infuse his work with originality which provides audiences with unruly laughter and sustained amusement.

Jim Page to perform in Wellsville

JIM PAGE, a folk singer/songwriter known for his biting political pieces he is in constant tening to. I’m a longtime admirer.”

In the tradition of Woody and Dylan, he cuts right to the heart with music you actually enjoy listening to. I’m a longtimer admirer.”

PETER COLLIN of Portageville plays high-energy acoustic guitar in the style of Michael Hedges and Leo Kottke on Sat., Oct 2nd at Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café.

Jim Page began sharing songs and material as early as the mid-60s. He has been singing and writing songs for the past 40 years and his unique style of acoustic guitar playing has earned him praise as one of the finest finger pickers in the area. Influenced by such artists as Michael Hedges and Leo Kottke, Page’s style combines the best of acoustic rock, folk, blues, and popular contemporary music.

Born and raised in California, Jim Page began his singing and songwriting career in the 1970s on the streets of Seattle, creating topical, sometimes satirical songs that provoke thought and action among his listeners. Page, a youthful 60, has been compared to Bob Dylan and Woody Guthrie. Early in his busking career, he received a ticket for singing on the streets of Seattle, a watershed event that led to his campaign to get busking legalized in Seattle.

Jim has been on the scene for more than twenty years and his reputation continues to grow. Often cited for his biting political pieces he is in constant demand by the social movements of the day. Over the years, Page has shared stages with Emmylou Harris, J.J. Cale, Bonnie Raitt, John Hammond and many other musicians.

Jim’s been writing great topical songs for as long as I can remember, bringing his acute wit and wry humor to a host of subjects that can really use more undeclared major as Buck; Petra Peers, a freshman undeclared major as Trudy; Ned McKinley, a freshman undeclared major as Mrs. Vanislav.

Open Mic Oct. 7 in Angelica

ANGELICA—Don and Karen Ash of Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café welcome musicians of all ages and experience levels to a monthly “Acoustic Open Mic” night hosted by Bob and Gena Decker of Belmont.

The monthly event is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 7, and takes place on the first Thursday of every month. The café doors open at 6 p.m. for light meals, desserts and espresso drinks. Music will begin at 7 p.m. as Bob and Gena kick off the evening playing a few songs. They’ll then introduce others in the order in which they signed in. These players will be invited to perform up to three songs. There is no fee to participate and no cover charge. The café will close at 10 p.m.

According to the Deckers, “We have been absolutely blown away by the variety of talents that are displayed at the Black-Eyed Susan Open Mic Nights. Not only are the performers diverse in what they bring, the people that come just to listen are extremely polite and responsive, making the performers feel like they’re in their own living room. We hope that more and more varied activities continue to show up and make Black Eyed Susan the place to be on the first Thursday of each month. ND, there is a place that serves such a fantastic menu...Black-Eyed Susan brings the best in music, comfort and fine cuisine.”

Commander Cody Band to play in Wellsville Oct. 9

WELLSVILLE—The Commander Cody Band will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9 at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center. Come early for dinner (served 5-9 pm).

Tickets are $20 advance purchase/$22 at door. Tickets may be purchased online, in advance, at www.wellsvillecreativeartscenter.com or at the Art Center Coffee House. For more information visit the website or call 585-593-3000.

Look in any book on the History of Rock and Roll and you will find Commander Cody and His Lost Planet Airmen.

The band's founder and leader, George Frayne, took on the stage name Commander Cody as they toured non-stop to a legion of dedicated fans across the globe and back and recorded seven original albums before breaking up in 1977.

“Hot Rod Lincoln” was a Top Ten hit and their album, “Live From Deep in the Heart of Texas” was featured in Rolling Stone Magazine as one of the best 100 albums of all time.

Other classic Commander Cody songs include “Smoke, Smoke, Smoke (That Cigarette),” “Lost in the Ozone,” “Rock That Boogie,” “Seeds and Stems” and “Too Much Fun.”

The band's history could cover pages as could a list of the musicians that moved through its ranks.

Today’s incarnation consists of Steve Barbuto (drums/vocals), Mark Enmick (lead guitar and vocals), Chris “Tiny” Olson (piedal steel), Randy Bramwell (bass) and features the old Commander himself behind the piano, leading the musical mayhem and controlled chaos, and sporting his legendary antics and ability to spark up even the toughest crowds.

This new edition of the band harks back to the instrumental virtuosity and spontaneity of the original band, and the response from critics and crowds has been overwhelmingly positive.

Here’s what others have to say about the band:

“...they take being serious very seriously.”

Why I sell Holland Grills... Last summer my wife and I attended a friend’s party. I noticed how moist and tasty the meats were. I said “Glad, you’ve become a better chef?” Glad’s said “It’s not my cooking it’s the Holland Grill!” What a Holland Grill? I asked. The rest is history!

After talking to the demo and sales rep for Holland Grills - I thought they all got way too excited about them! We’ve got our first shipment sent to us in February. Anyone who saw them at Cy’s and owned our Barbecues all excited as well as telling me that they never own another grill!

Finally I purchased one myself and my wife and I have been grilling and smoking on ours for the past two months. We’ve done chicken, steaks, roasts, burgers, piza, vegetables, you name it - I just can’t believe how interesting delicious everything comes out. Just one knob with one setting and we’re all grilling! No flaps-ups and the indirect cooking method leaves all our foods moist and flavorful. No more burnt or dried out meats! You just won’t believe it until you cook on the Holland Grill! It will change your outdoor grilling forever!

THE GLORY OF AMERICA
Thursday, September 30

Abraham Lincoln has been called “the theologian of American anguishes,” and surely no one wrestled with the spiritual aspects of the dreadful conflict more than he—this private meditation, written on this day in 1862, attests:

“The will of God prevails. In great contests each party claims acceptance of the will of God; and one must admit, without pretending to determine the issue, that both parties are equally mistaking their own purposes, and that of God, unless the one purpose of both can be the will of God. The right of God is in question; for both parties claim it; and the question is, in what sense this right of God can or can not be affected; and by what will it can or can not be affected. The will of God can be affected only by his own act. His act, in the conduct of his creatures, can be only a direct act, not an indirect act; or in other words, an act of providence, not an act of creation. Hence, if there be a will of God, there can be in view no distinctly religious issue. All the proposed objects of controversy, in their relation to the will of God, can be but matters of science: the question of God's will is a question of conscience. If the question be of science, the issue is of the human understanding, and by whom it is decided. If the question be of conscience, the issue is of human will, and by whom it is made.”

Influenza Clinics underway throughout various Allegany County locations

BELMONT--The Allegany County Department of Health will be holding Seasonal Influenza Clinics starting Tuesday, Sept. 28 at various sites throughout Allegany County. Remember you cannot get influenza from the flu shot. The vaccine is made from killed or inactivated influenza viruses, which render it incapable of causing infection.

WHO: All people 6 months of age and older should get the influenza vaccine. It is important to REMEMBER:

• Influenza can be spread by coughing, sneezing, direct physical contact (e.g., handshakes), contact with objects such as doorknobs, hand rails, and doors.
• Individuals are contagious for 1-4 days before the onset of symptoms and about 5 days after the first symptoms.
• Not all those affected individuals do not have any symptoms but are still contagious.
• Good health habits are extremely important in the prevention of respiratory infections. To prevent the spread of germs:
  • Avoid close contact with people who are sick
  • Stay home from work or school when sick
  • Cover your mouth with a tissue when coughing/sneezing
  • Wash hands frequently
  • Avoid touching eyes, nose or mouth
  • Practice good health habits:
    • Get plenty of sleep
    • Be physically active
    • Drink plenty of fluids
    • Eat nutritious meals
  • If you are moderately or severely ill when you are scheduled to receive the vaccine, your health care provider may suggest that you delay receiving the flu vaccine. This should happen, do not forget to get your flu shot when you feel better.
  • The fee for the vaccine this year will remain at thirty three dollars ($33.00) per person. However, for those who are eligible, Medicare Part B will cover this cost.
  • All insurance will be billed (please bring insurance cards); sliding scale available if uninsured or underinsured

Codispotis ride Pine Valley Rail Trail in PA

BY PAT CODISPOTI
Special to The Alfred Sun

I can’t remember the exact year that my husband and I began our bike trips. I do know that we were close to 30 and are much older now. We have taken many day trips on bike trails throughout New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont…anywhere that the most exciting are those off road trails that require a couple days or more to complete.

Our first “overnight trip” was on the Erie Canal Trail beginning in the Village of Rochester and picking up the Greenway trail heading south to Mt Morris where we ended this trip.

Our second trip was on the Ohio Erie Canal Trail beginning in Bolivar, Ohio north to Cleveland, a three day 100 mile trip. The 184 Mile Chesapeake & Ohio Canal Trail was our third adventure. We started in Cumberland, Maryland before continuing on the GAP Trail heading south to just south of Pittsburgh, PA (121 miles) This trail now completes a 338 mile trail it was not open the year before.

We also rode the Old Erie Canal Trail beginning in Rome and back, (a 72 mile round trip) and last year (2009) we traveled from the Genesee Valley Park in Rochester to Cuba, approximately 90 miles on and off the unfinished trail.

The Pine Creek Trail is our 7th anniversary celebration. About 15 years ago we took a day and rode the Grand Canyon of PA Trail beginning in Wellsboro on the northern terminus to the southern terminus. We decided on a 20 miles back beginning and ending in Darling Run. To my knowledge this was the first portion of the Pine Creek Rail Trail completed at this time. I remember the trail being incredibly scenic and cringing at the many rattlesnake warning signs along the trail.

In 2001 this portion of the Pine Creek Trail was named as one of the top 10 bike trips in the WORLD by “USA Today!” I also remember being very tired after riding on the trail for 6 hours and 58 minutes on the second day on the now completed Pine Creek Rail Trail. Our next adventure was to ride the now 62 mile long Pine Creek Rail Trail began in the middle at Slate Run Village. We drove to Slate Run in the morning (a adventure in itself since Slate Run is one of the most difficult). We began our ride at about 9:00 AM north towards Wellsville.

Starting out would be riding back to our car, we were light packed with rain gear, lunch, water, snacks but with our packs loaded with water. Generally we carry overnight necessities and enough water to make the trip a little more difficult.

Although we were actually riding uphill, the grade is only about 2% and barely noticeable. The crushed gravel made for easy peddling. The morning was especially beautiful we enjoyed the scenery and stopping to read the few signs along the trail.

Riding on the rattlesnake trail.

Our first stop was at the Rattlesnake Rock Access Area and Comfort Station. There are plenty of rattlesnakes in this area and it was only a little creepy along the trail that we saw our first! We actually rode right past a footer resting along the side of the trail. We would not have seen one at all but for the fortune of meeting up with a DCNR worker that had spotted another rattlesnake up in the rocks. That was our first warning the trail is well but we did get a good look at the skin he had just shed. We were very grateful for the DCNR worker that we had just passed another snake along the trail and walked back about 50 feet. As he was… a black timber rattler. If I can believe the warnings he was…. a black timber rattler. The timbers are rather docile and will not attack unless provoked. Although I did get a picture, I did not venture to close.

Grand Canyon of PA.

Once you get to Blackwell, this portion of the trail is called the Grand Canyon of PA Trail. It was rated as one of the top 10 bike trips in the WORLD by “USA Today!” a trail great for the family. It is breathtaking in the Fall. You are riding along Pine Creek with gorges on both sides. There is NOTHING along this segment of the trail except remote campgrounds, hiking trails, and not much else of interest on either side of the creek. On the way back, we were first greeted by beautiful Blackwell where you could buy Gatorade and snacks but that was about it.

We must have met 40 or more groups along the trail. Most were on bikes. We did see a few kayaks but in August the water level in the creek was low. We were pleased to see 4 weekenders enjoying the trail. This is the best constructed and maintained section of the trail that we have experienced.

The northern most terminus is at the Walmart. We must have met a lot of people (and dogs) enjoying the trail either on foot or bike. There are bike stations and comfort stations along the southern route but not a lot of opportunities to find a comfortable, hot, roomy, air conditioned comfort room with showers for women and then the men. Although we continued to search for rattlesnakes, we never saw one or heard the characteristic sound.

Our first major stop was at Waterville, the most populated village along our trail. We took a “coffee break” at the Waterville Inn. The Inn is actually a restaurant overlooking Pine Creek. It was a nice place to sit and have a coffee or beer. The inn has a car seat been as welcomed! A seat on bikes makes the most difficult…. We were saddle sore but we were not wet (no rain) and no breakdowns! When we arrived at Slate Run, we went into the Hotel Manor to say goodbye and hopped in the car to head home… Never again will we have a trip plan like this. We rode 118 miles in 2 days. We were on our bikes for over 12 hours and they feel like we rode a little less than 10 hours per day! And I would do it again! Our next list of our top trips is to Virginia and 200 mile one in Missouri.
