Village of Alfred invites area residents to attend public forum June 14

ALFRED—The Village of Alfred invites area residents to attend its annual public forum June 14 at the Alfred Village Hall. The forum will focus on transportation, expansion of the Village Park, and other issues. The meeting begins at 7:00 p.m.

Assembly votes to block fracking

ALBANY—The New York State Assembly reportedly passed a bill Monday to hold a moratorium on hydrofracking in New York State until June 1, 2012. A similar bill has been proposed in the State Senate.

Meanwhile, New York State Comptroller Thomas P. DiNapoli’s shareholder resolution seeking greater disclosure of the risks associated with hydraulic fracturing (“fracking”) garnered support from investors at Carrizo Oil & Gas’ annual meeting last week. The resolution received 43.7 percent of the vote, according to a company release Tuesday. DiNapoli filed the resolution as trustee of the $140.6 billion New York State Common Retirement Fund (Fund), which owns 324,994 Carrizo shares worth an estimated $11.1 million. “We’ve seen what happens when companies sacrifice safety for short-term profits,” DiNapoli said. “This vote was a call for safer, sustainable earnings from our investments. Water is a crucial part of the nation’s energy supply, but it has to be extracted the right way.” “Hydraulic fracturing can potentially poison local water supplies, pollute the air and leave us with a waste management nightmare,” shareholders wrote in the public notice to “assure that Carrizo and other companies fully appreciate the regulatory, legal, environmental and reputational risks at stake. We can’t have a repeat of the BP disaster in New York.” DiNapoli has requested reports on the potential consequences of fracking from seven companies: Chesapeake Energy Corp., SM Energy, Range Resources Corp., Hess Corp., and Cabot Oil & Gas Corp. Four firms—SM Energy, Range, Hess and Cabot—have agreed to provide DiNapoli with reports on the potential consequences of drilling activities in response to DiNapoli’s request. These reports do not relieve the company of their legal obligations. The Fund has also voted in favor of disclosure resolutions filed by other institutional investors at Chesvon, ExelonMobal, Ultra Petroleum and Enegener Corporation.

MERWIN RICHARD CLARK

World War II combat veteran
ALMOND—Hornell native and former Almond resident Merwin Richard Clark, who served in the U.S. Army during World War II, veteran of the Battle of the Bulge, died peacefully Sunday, May 29, 2011, at the age of 91. Born on Monday, November 10, 1920, in Canadian Illinois, Mr. Clark was the son of the late Erwin R. Clark and Irene (Silsby) Clark and the brother of Frank Clark. He graduated from Horse Harbor High School in 1938, and joined the Army in 1942. He served in combat with the Third Infantry Division in North Africa, in the Italian campaign and in France, Germany and Austria. He was awarded the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart. A lifelong resident of Merwin married Norma Reynolds of Hornell in 1942, and the couple had three children; they would have just celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary.

Merwin worked as the manager of grocery stores in Hornell, Perry and Westfield, PA, for a number of years. However, most of his career was spent with the Erie Lackawanna and Conrail Railroads as a brakeman/conductor. For 26 years, Conrail wife traveled the United States and wintered in south Texas for 17 years.

Merwin was a volunteer fireman in Almond, a member of the American Legion Post 1504, Belfast Robert W. Howden Chapter, and a member of the Almond Union of Churches. He had a great love for running and exercise and ran much of his life. He is survived by his wife Norma and his 17 siblings. He is survived by five children, Cinthia Clark (Donald) Chadham, Deborah (Dan) Satholf, Melanie (Rod) Austin, Priscilla (M (Lisa) Parker of Churchville; two daughters, Mary F (Ralph) Lang (Lisa) Parker of Churchville; two great grandchildren; and many grandchildren; and several dear cousins and friends; and special friend and loving companion Maureen Tobin of Belfast.

Mr. Clark resided in Belfast most of his life, graduating from Belfast Central School in 1938. He graduated from Cornell University with a bachelor of science, degree in industrial arts, and later received his MS Ed from Alfred University.

Following graduation from Cornell, he proudly served two years with the U.S. Army Signal Corps.

His first teaching assignment was in Canandaigua, New York as a teacher in Rochester. After that, he taught science in Woodhull and Alfred, where he was a member of the Boy Scout troop.

In 1966, Jack returned home to Belfast where he became a guidance counselor at the Belfast High School and served the Belfast, Angelica, and Houghton Central School Districts for several years. He retired from this position in 1991.

After retirement, he taught driver's education for Fillmore, Allegany, Wellsville and Houghton. He also coached Senior Little League in Belfast for many years. Jack loved his family and was always interested in their lives and things they were doing. He was also interested in his family and his Irish heritage, making many trips to Ireland over the years with his extended family. He loved researching and talking with people about one-room school houses in the area, local and Civil War history, Medal of Honor recipients, railroads and baseball. He also presented many formal lectures on one-room school houses and Civil War history.

He was a member of the American Legion Post 1504, the Black Watch, the Retired Teachers Association, the Loyal Order of the Moose in Belfast, and the Retired Teachers Association of Rome. He was a charter member of the Press Club of Rome and served the Belfast, Angelica, and Houghton Central School Districts for several years.

Mr. Clark was able to travel to Washington, D.C. to visit the Vietnam Memorial on November 10, 1991 when the name plaque was unveiled. His wish was to help other WWII veterans share in this very special experience. He served in the United States Armed Forces during World War II on May 27, 2011 at the funeral home. Burial was on May 31, 2011 at the funeral home, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial at 11 a.m. at St. Patrick’s Church in Belfast. The Rev. Dennis Mancuso, pastor, celebrated the Mass.

Memorials may be made to the Belfast Betterment Association.

ALEX ECKSTEIN

Lived the American Dream, returned to his Jewish roots, received the Bronze Star at Anzio Beach. Mr. Eckstein was born on November 10, 1920, in Canadian Illinois, the son of Isaiah (Isa) and Esther (Bente) (Silsby) Eckstein, 92, of Coconut Creek, FL, formerly of Fair Lawn, NJ, and Heidelberg, Germany. He passed away Friday (May 27, 2011) in Canandaigua. He was the husband of Barbara Greil of Fair Lawn, NJ, and the father of M (Lisa) Parker of Churchville; two daughters, Mary F (Ralph) Lang (Lisa) Parker of Churchville; two great grandchildren; and many grandchildren; and several dear cousins and friends; and special friend and loving companion Maureen Tobin of Belfast.

Friends called from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, June 1, 2011 and 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Thursday, June 2 at the Vincent Funeral Home, Belfast. Funeral services were held at the Vincent Funeral Home, Wednesday, June 3, 2011 at the funeral home, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial at 11 a.m. at St. Patrick’s Church in Belfast. The Rev. Dennis Mancuso, pastor, celebrated the Mass.

Memorials may be made to the Belfast Betterment Association.

BETTY ANNE GAGLIANO

of the “Greatest Generation” was most needed in the Middle East and in the European Theaters of War. One of the highlights of his service was his assignment as an assistant ad­ ministerator at the Cairo Confer­ ence, held at the famous Mena House Hotel in 1943, within sight of the Pyramids. As part of his duties, he drove Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek to the conference, and described her as a very smart and sociable lady.

After the war and his mar­ riage, Alex eventually moved his family to Fair Lawn, New Jer­ sey. He worked for the Curtis Wright Corporation, a manufac­ turer of airplane, jet, and rocket engines, for over 30 years.

Over the years, Alex was a frequent visitor to Alfred. Dur­ ing one of his visits he helped with the repointing of bricks for the renovation of Cranndall Barn building that later became the Alfred Montessori School. He was a former member of Congregation B’nai Israel in Fair Lawn, and was currently a member of the Liberal Jewish Congregation in Coconut Creek, FL. Burial was on May 18, 2011 at the Cedar Park Cemetery, Paramus, NJ.

Donations in memory of Alex Eckstein may be made to your favorite charity, or to Citizenship Counts, an organization founded by Gerda Weismann Klein, a Holocaust survivor who used to live in Buffalo and who recently received the Presidential Medal of Freedom. Almond group will hull strawberries for its 38th annual Strawberry Festival

ALMOND—The Almond Historical Society will “officially” usher in summer with their annual Strawberry Festival on Monday, June 20. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. and will continue until the berries are gone!

Hazel Bracken, who has chaired the event for many years, will again be on hand to coordinate the efforts of more than 40 volunteers. This is believed to be the 37th year the event has been held.

AHS president Lee A Ryan explains: “Our Strawberry Festival is our summer social ‘happening.’ From the early morning crew that washes, hulls, slices, and sweetens the berries and whips the cream to the waiters and servers and dishwashers and clean-up crew who come for the afternoon and evening shifts, more than 40 volunteers will serve in various capacities.

“We will be serving freshly picked strawberries, homemade biscuits from Mary Jane Reid’s kitchen, ice cream and real whipped cream. Our pavilion located behind the Hagadorn House is a perfect spot for these events and it will be held, rain or shine!”

Proceeds from the event go for the maintenance of the Hagadorn House. The house was built by Jesse Angell in the early 1830s, a prosperous merchant whose general store was located across the street from his house. In 1867, the house was occupied by the John Wetherby family. Their daughter, Cornelia Wetherby, married Dr. William Hagadorn in 1869. They resided in the house with her parents. In 1872, the Wetherby’s moved to their farm and the house became the Hagadorn Home.

The second Hagadorn generation in residence was William H. and Alice Simmons Hagadorn, who owned the hardware store across Karrdale Avenue from the home.

The third generation living there was Kenneth W. and Marie Dodds Hagadorn. Marie was a nurse and Kenneth was the postmaster in Almond. They had no children. In 1971 the house was bequeathed to the Almond Historical Society by Kenneth Wetherby Hagadorn, grandson of Cornelia Wetherby and Dr. William Hagadorn.

Presently the AHS board is making plans to build an archives room/office adjacent to the Hagadorn House, replacing the space now being used up stairs in the Hagadorn House.

The AHS board is happy to fill in with a seasonal recipe featuring rhubarb, readily available from the patch in many Alfred area backyards.

Rhubarb Crisp

Crisp Topping:

1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup flour
3/4 cup brown sugar, packed 1 t. cinnamon
1/4 cup all-purpose flour

Spread over rhubarb mixture. Bake in 350 degree oven for 35 minutes.

Rhubarb Filling:

4 cups fresh rhubarb
3/4 cup sugar 1/2 t. cinnamon
1/4 cup brown sugar, packed 1/2 t. cinnamon

In large bowl, mix dry ingredients. Wash rhubarb, then slice stalks into half-inch pieces. Add to dry ingredients, coating the rhubarb well. Place in glass pie plate.

Pour into pie plate. Melt butter in saucepan, stir into other ingredients until crumbly. Spread over rhubarb mixture. Bake in 350 degree oven for 35 minutes to 40 minutes. Serves 4 to 6. Best if served hot with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

ALFRED—Alfred University will welcome high school students entering grades 10, 11, and 12 interested in learning more about theater performance and production at the Theater Institute July 5-16. The institute will provide an opportunity for students to create and develop perspectives and skills in theater through group sessions and with a good deal of individual attention, training and experience from Alfred faculty.

The registration deadline is Friday, June 10. Students who wish to apply should fill out and mail their application form and submit the other required items as soon as possible. For a form, go to: http://www.alfred.edu/sum

The admissions committee evaluates all applications and determines which students will be accepted. (If you are not accepted the $200 deposit will be refunded.)

The $1,995 institute fee covers tuition, supervision, program materials, field trip, recreational activities, room and board, and meals beginning with dinner on the first day through lunch on the last day. Two students per room will stay in University residence halls; students may provide their own pillows, blankets, and bed/bath linens. Specially trained Resident Advisors who serve as camp counselors, mentors, positive role models and friends will also supervise students. Local students who wish to attend the Institute as commuters may do so at a $995 rate.

Morning sessions will focus on actor training, including improvisation, text analysis, character development, staging, voice projection, and stage movement. Afternoon sessions will provide students with experience in voice and stage deployment. In the late afternoons, students will choose particular areas to work on: voice for the stage, acting, design, technical theater and/or stage manage. At least one trip to a professional theater will be included in the program and the Institute will conclude with a public performance of scenes, and at least one rehearsed short play.

When not in classes or rehearsals, students will enjoy planned activities on and off campus as well as free time for relaxation. Activities include movies, picnics, swimming, indoor and outdoor games and social gatherings. Living, dining and learning together, students have ample opportunity to get to know each other and develop lasting friendships.

Faculty supervisors include Becky Prophet, AU professor of theater; Zachary Hamm, technical director for the Alfred University performing arts division; and Rebecca Weaver, adjunct instructor of voice at Alfred University.

Students who are completing doctoral studies in voice at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, who attend the institute can earn two hours of college credit by completing extra assignments and paying an additional $200. Students should indicate their interest by checking the appropriate box on the application form.

Accepted students will receive, along with the acceptance letter, additional materials including medical forms, liability releases, emergency notification form, etc. These materials must be filled out by the due date found in the acceptance letter.

ALFRED—Alfred State College President Dr. John M. Anderson recently honored two members of the college faculty with the President’s “Innovation Award” to acknowledge innovative thinking and problem solving. Honored for their “creative approaches to their respective disciplines,” Jeffrey Johnston, assistant professor, Computer Imaging and Architectural Engineering Technology, and Michelle Green, SUNY Distiguished Teaching Professor, Physical and Health Sciences Department, were honored at the College’s annual recognition luncheon. According to Anderson, “Jeff had a vision to start an Alfred State study-abroad program in Sorrento, Italy, for architecture majors. To that end, he developed a relationship with Sant’ Anna Institute (formerly Sorrento Linguistic Institute) and formed a partnership agreement, and thus began Alfred State’s highly successful study abroad program which has now completed its third year and expanded to include business majors from ASC and students from other colleges and universities.”

Of Green, Anderson said, “Michelle was a pioneer in online education at Alfred State. She took a program (health information technology) experiencing a downward enrollment trend and predicted that she could revitalize it. The program has steadily grown, and currently boasts an enrollment of 75 online students.” Pictured here, Anderson, center, congratulates Green and Johnston.

ALFRED—Alfred University is new to the art scene. The bank began hosting monthly shows featuring the work of members of the Allegany Artisans at the Wellsville branch last year.

The last show featured the work of fiber artist Sue Johnson of Wellsville. The next will have pottery and tin can folk art by Elaine Hardman, also of Wellsville. Hardman calls herself a “country Potter” working to create functional pieces for people to use every day. She is a member of the Allegany Artisans and opens her Wellsville studio during the Artists’ Studio Tour each year.

Last summer, Hardman attended the Allegany Arts Association class in Tin Can Folk Art taught by Charles Orlando of Belmont and began working with colorful recycled cookie tins and other metal found objects. Her efforts were rewarded by having 2 pieces accepted in The 22nd Annual Teapot Show, On the Road Again, sponsored by Houben-bicken Galleries and on view at Chiaroscuro in Charleston.

While Hardman’s work will be on view for all of June in the Steuben Bank lobby, there will be an opening reception on Thursday, June 9 from 4 to 6 pm with refreshments and the artisan on hand. During the opening only there will be a sale of Mommy Vases and offerings of both Anything Bowls and new metal folk art pins. There will also be a clay demonstration and a chance to win a door prize by voting for your favorite piece of work.

Black-Eyed Susan presents Abe’s Lily, Vern Lindberg in concert

ANGELICA—Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café presents Abe’s Lily and Vern Lindberg for their annual June show. This year’s performance promises his audience “great chances to sing along.”

On Friday, June 17, 7:30 p.m. at the Alfred University Center at 124 North Main Street, Wellsville.

For more information call 585-593-3000. www.WellsvilleCreativeArtsCenter.com or at the Arts Center Coffee Shop to host 6:00 – 9:00 p.m. for meals, espresso, beer and wine and acoustic desserts.

Wellsville shop to host Songwriter Showcase

WELLSVILLE—The Wellsville Creative Arts Center will feature the Lakeshore Songwriters Showcase at 8 p.m. Friday, June 17. Tickets are $14. Member tickets are $12. Tickets may be purchased online at www.WellsvilleCreativeArtsCenter.com or at the July Center Coffee House. For more information visit the website or call 585-593-3000.

Based in Rochester, the Lakeshore Songwriters Showcase is comprised of a group of highly talented singer/songwriters. This annual performance will be hosted by founder Jerry Falzone and will include Chris Wilson, Warren Paul and Jeff Riales taking turns singing and storytelling. These gatherings are in their fifth year and are drawing ever larger audiences as they build standing ovations.

Equipped with six- and twelve-string acoustic guitars, a bag full of songs and a warm personality that translates well in both his personal life and on stage, Jerry Falzone has been playing to enthusiastic crowds nearly all his life. A native of Rochester, Chris Wilson’s professional career took off in Los Angeles when he auditioned for an MTV show called “The Cut.” He became one of 10 artists to win their way to the finals of a group of 160 competitors and went on to win MTV’s “Viewer’s Choice Award” for his performance in the finals.

Warren Paul has been making acoustic music in Upstate New York since 1980. With six and twelve string guitars in hand, he presents his audience with a rare collection of original songs that showcase his versatility as a singer and a songwriter.

Born in Memphis, TN, Jeff Riales has been writing and performing music for most of his life, and his style on the guitar and piano are as unique as the songs he creates. Jeff has performed as the opening act for John Hiatt, Chris Smither and more. His songs are played on local, national and international radio.

CHAMBER PRESIDENT Brian Loucks welcomes Christina Hedstrom as new executive director of the Greater Allegany County Chamber of Commerce.

ALFRED--Wow, this year the Alfred Lions Club will surpass a quarter million dollars raised and donated in the Alfred area. Some of the activities that we donate to are: local sight, hearing and medical supplies, Allegany County Youth Court, two scholarships to Alfred Almond graduates, Allegany Senior Foundation, the area fire department ambulance service and the Box of Books.

We want to thank all the people and business that help support our many fund raisers which make our donations possible.

We are working on three fund raisers now though the end of the year. We are selling Raffle tickets for a beautiful Holiday Gift Basket with a value greater than $300. Stop in and admire it at the Alfred office of Community Bank. While there buy some of the raffle tickets or get them from any Lion’s member. The profits from this project will be used for Lion’s Sight program.

We are selling advertisement to the local businesses for the Alfred Lions Club Wrestling Tournament program which is on December 15. Then we will be selling the Alfred Lions Club 2008 calendar which has many of the area people’s birthdates and anniversaries.

Well, at least that’s what they say... Don and I wanted you to know that yesterday we served two women who read about our place in The Alfred Sun, read our readers are community-minded citizens who read their hometown newspaper! If these tough economic times are hurting your business, ADVERTISE!

If you advertise in The Alfred Sun, they will come! Well, at least that’s what they say... Advertising to fit any budget. Call Dave Snyder at 587-8110 and put the Sun to work for you today. And if you’re looking to attract customers from a broader market, ask Dave about the NYS Classified Ad Network. If you advertise, they will come!

When You Leave Your Job — Don’t Leave Your Money Behind

No matter when you leave your job, the money you accumulated in your employer’s retirement plan (such as a 401(k) or a 403(b) plan) while you were there can make the trip with you. Just be sure you don’t lose it en route.

Penalties and taxes for premature withdrawals or improper rollovers into new retirement accounts are common pitfalls to avoid.

So call an experienced agent to help take this valuable asset to its new destination.

Indonesian Initiative raises $1600; 300 hand-made dolls donated

ALFRED—The soup and bread fundraiser held May 26 for Esther Buckwalter and the Indonesia Initiative raised over $1600, an amazing amount and a testament to the generosity and goodness of the community of Alfred.

Esther’s expenses will be covered by this amount, and she would like to thank everyone who donated food and money to make the event so successful. If you had intended to give and have not done so yet, contributions will still be gratefully received.

The suitscases are 300 dolls that were handmade by area residents for preschools in Indonesia. In addition a goal of 200 dolls was surpassed. (Photo provided)

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, June 9

Moments after Andrew Jackson’s death, his friend and protege, General Sam Houston, and his young son arrived at the Hermitage to receive a final blessing. Houston grasped the hand of the old warrior, but it was cold in death. With a sob, he fell to his knees and beseeched his former master: “I lost my son this year. After a moment Houston composed himself and drew his boy to his side. “My son,” he said, “try to remember that you have looked upon the face of Andrew Jackson.”

THE ALFRED SUN
AU taps five former stars for October Sports Hall induction

ALFRED–Alfred University will induct five former student-athletes into its Sports Hall of Fame during an on-campus banquet Saturday, Oct. 8, during the University’s annual Homecoming celebration.

Members of the Hall of Fame Class include Ralph “Slick” Stabile, who set the school record in the 100-yard individual medley in 1994 and seventh in 1997. Twice (1995 and 1996), the team competed in the ECAC Update Championship tournament, winning the title in 1995.

Stiker is one of the most decorated athletes in the Saxons’ long and storied men’s swimming and diving program. He was an All-American each of his four seasons at AU and for his career earned All-American certification 10 times (eight times in individual events and twice in relays). His best performance at nationals was the 200-yard backstroke, in which he was an All-American four times, including 13th in 1998, sixth in 1999, third in 2000, and fourth in 2001. Stiker was an All-American and USILA honorable mention honors in 1996. He is one of only three Saxons ever to earn Second Team All-American recognition from the USILA.

A team captain as a junior and senior, Stiker held five individual records (100-yard and 200-yard freestyles, 100-yard backstroke, and 200-yard individual medley) and two record-breaking relays (200-yard and 400-yard freestyle). He still holds the school record for the 100-yard free (45.78 seconds) and 200-yard backstroke (1:50.36). Williamson was a four-year star on the women’s volleyball team, leading the Saxons to the program’s only NCAA appearance in 1999. The team also competed in three state championship tournaments (1997, 1999 and 2000) and one ECAC championship tournament (2000) during the span.

A team captain has a junior and senior, Williamson was a Second Team President’s Athletic Conference (PAC) all-star as a freshman in 1997, when she ranked ninth in the nation in blocks per game, and a Second Team Empire 8 Conference all-star in 2000. She holds school career records for total blocks (697), solo blocks (158) and digs (1,606) and single-season records for kills (482) and digs (552).

BELMONT--A cool, wet start to spring has put producers a bit behind on planting season however; growers are still planning for a better year’s Markets are hoping to source products grown in our region. Local foods can be harvested at the peak of ripeness because they do not need to travel as far to the consumer. By working with your local farmer you can fill your refrigerator, pantry and freezer with the freshest products our region has to offer! Local foods transport less miles than foods shipped from all over the nation or even the world. Buying local food means your dollar stays right here in our community supporting our farmers and businesses.

Houghton switching to NCAA, joining Empire 8 Conference

ROCHESTER-Houghton Col- lage will be part of the Empire 8 Conference of the NCAA Division III beginning in 2012-13. The NAIA institution is in the process of moving to NCAA Division III membership. If accepted, there will be one year of probation before Houghton College will be fol- lowed by four years of provi- sional membership before achieving full membership as a Class IIIB member.

In its statement, the Empire 8 Conference said that having Houghton join its football program would be a significant addition to the conference. "Houghton College is thrilled to be a part of the Empire 8 Conference," said Empire 8 Athletics Director H. Skip Lord. "The addition of a member institution that shares our commitment to academic excellence, athletic program excellence, and the student-athlete experience will enhance the quality of our conference." Lord also noted that Houghton College is an ideal fit for the Empire 8 Conference, with its high academic standards and athletics program. "Houghton College has a rich tradition of academic excellence and athletic success," said Lord. "Their admission of Houghton to our conference will further strengthen our commitment to excellence in athletics and academics." The Empire 8 is a member of the NCAA Division III, which includes over 1,000 institutions. The conference has been recognized as one of the top conferences in the NCAA Division III, with numerous national championships and individual awards. Houghton College has a long history of academic and athletic success, with over 100 athletic teams and 7,000 students on campus. The college is located in Houghton, New York, and is the only member institution of the Empire 8 Conference that is not located in New York state.

Mike Lorow of Angelica... apparently another great singer in the family!

The conference held a few NYS vanity plates of late: ICE MOM... traffic hockey is crazy, CUSEGRAD ... the Orange and a "classic" in SMITTYR... guess he is\'n\'t a shelf fashion either!ecessarily... get better

A unique Saturday past as it was a trip to Hornell-Arkport, six trips that I took back in those days. The annual banquet will be held July 30th at Alfred State College with air

More Six Trip that I took back in the day, from Almond with Kaz-Stu-Frank-Gids-Love. Took lot of "dandy" trips back in those days but none quite like this. Off to Baltimore to see a Yanks-Orioles series

The Highlanders have earned a reputation for their achievements in the arena of play, with more than 30 appearances in NAIA national tournaments and one NAIA national championship in the basketball tournament. In 2006-07, the NAIA began designating "Scholar-Athlete" awards to those student-athletes who achieved a combined grade point average of 3.0. Last year alone, 10 Houghton teams made the list. The conference has also been committed to promoting the value of education in athletics and athletics to the student-athlete experience.
