Ryan, Dee and Steve Lorow went to Raymond James Stadium to watch the 2011 Tampa Bay Opening Season game against the Detroit Lions and took their Alfred Sun with them. And it's probably a good thing, as they had something interesting to read while the Buccaneers were being defeated by the Lions, 27-20.

Public hearing Nov. 10 on proposed moratorium

By DAVID L. SNYDER
Alfred Sun Editor and Publisher

ALFRED STATION--A public hearing will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10 at the Town Building, 6340 Shaw Road, Alfred Station, to hear public comment on a proposed law to establish a moratorium on hydrofracking in the Town of Alfred.

It's a second go-around for the proposed law. The new proposal includes grandfathering of current active gas and oil wells within the Town of Alfred.

Should the Alfred Town Council adopt the law, it would then begin an extended study of the issues relate to unconventional gas and petroleum exploration and extraction activities.

The Town Council will also be asking for public comment on its proposed 2012 budget.

The preliminary budget for the Town of Alfred's fiscal year beginning January 1, 2012 has been completed and file in the Office of the Town Clerk located in the Town Highway Building, 6340 Shaw Road, Alfred Station. A copy of the proposed spending plan is available for review by any interested persons during regular office hours.

Salaries of elected officials were set at $3,799.00 for the Town Supervisor, $1,305.75 for each of four councilmen, and $3,779.50 for each of two town justices. The highway superintendent salary was set at $45,681.00.

The Town Council will hold its regular monthly meeting following the public hearing.

DEC expects delay in fracking study

ALBANY--The state Department of Environmental Conservation has indicated it will not meet a deadline for an advisory report on fracking. As a result, the expectation that drilling permits would be issued next year seems in doubt.

Commissioner Joe Martens said a DEC advisory panel would miss its Tuesday, Nov. 1 deadline for a report - likely by months.

Bridget Lee, an Earthjustice associate attorney, is among critics of the process for extracting natural gas - which risks contaminating water - who welcomed the news.

"Gov. (Andrew) Cuomo and the state are showing a willingness to slow the rush to drill and allow the impacts of fracking to be fully considered."

Brad Gill, executive director of the Independent Oil & Gas Association of New York, says it would be prudent to wait until all the information is in, but remains optimistic that drilling will start next year. Hydraulic fracturing - or fracking - uses pressurized water and chemicals. Gill says natural gas is a safe, efficient and environmentally sound industry, and sees permits being issued for fracking in 2012.

"The short answer to that is I hope so. The industry certainly is of the opinion that we've waited long enough. This thing has been looked for over three years now."

Lee says Earthjustice continues to call for more opportunity for public participation.

"What we'd like to see happen is, first off, DEC extend the comment period and allow the public an additional 90 days to review this over-1,500-page document and submit comments on it."

Gill remains hopeful fracking will get the green light.

"The panel should complete its work in a timely manner, and we certainly hope that 2012 will see permits flowing and wells drilled."

statewide Quinnipiac poll last month showed 54 percent of upstate voters in proposed drilling areas are growing more concerned about the environmental and public-health impacts of fracking.

Eyeglasses being collected to help Tajikistan people with vision issues

ALFRED STATION—Have you ever heard of Tajikistan? It is one of those "stan" countries in that part of the world. You know them, Afghanistan, Uzbekistan and Kyrgyzstan. The Republic of Tajikistan is a mountainous landlocked country in Central Asia. It has a population of just over 6.5 million.

Your friends and neighbors at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Church, "A 3 C church: Connect-Care-Community" have a wonderful contact in this country—Dr. Brian Zerbe, ophthalmologist, and his wife Jennifer along with their three children. Dr. Zerbe's calling is to go in to villages to help people with vision issues, (Help people see).

You can help give sight to people in Tajikistan! Do have a pair of glasses sitting around your home not being used and don't know what to do with them? Please bring them to the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church Office, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Monday-Thursday. "Old" glasses will be collected through Christmas Day.

Our thanks go to Dr. Tim McDaniel of Council Optical in Hornell who has agreed to measure each of the glasses for their benefit for sight correction. These will then be shipped to Dr. Zerbe in Tajikistan.

The church office is located in the brick Christian Education Building to the left of the church meetinghouse at 585 Route 244, Alfred Station. For further information, call 607-587-9176. Thank you for touching the lives of people you will never know.

Arc honors Roberta Youmans

WELLSVILLE—Allegany Arc recently held a reception in honor of Roberta Youmans being named one of 2011's William B. Joslin Outstanding Performers. The William B. Joslin awards are handed out annually by the New York State Industries for the Disabled, Inc. (NYSID).

Chris Koehler, Allegany Arc's Senior Vice-President of Business and Marketing noted, "2011 marks the eighth year of NYSID's Joslin Awards Program. Roberta Youmans exemplifies the objective of the William B. Joslin Award with her determination to make a better life for herself and her family."

It has been a long road to success for Roberta Youmans. She was placed in special education classes in third grade and still recalls the name calling, bullying and labels she and her friends from the class endured. School was filled with frustration for Roberta as she faced monumental challenges with reading and writing skills. She remembers working on her studies as hard as she could, but learning never came easy. When Roberta received her General Education Diploma in 1979, she dreamed of a job to show all who doubted her that she could contribute in a workplace. But frustrated by her limitations, she was unsuccessful in securing employment.

Roberta married at age 25 and raised two sons, Donald and Edward. Her lack of vocational opportunities and her husband's poor health forced her to rely on public assistance to support the family. Roberta said that becoming a parent increased her motivation to be a better role model for her boys. She once again sought employment, but had trouble filling out job applications and even reading the employment ads.

It was a very frustrating time in her life. She felt trapped by the perceptions and stereotypes of her intellectual disabilities, yet her primary focus was parenting and trying to hold the family together.

In 2000, Roberta was referred to the Allegany NYSARC's PWI vocational program by the local Department of Social Services job track program. At the age of 41, after years of social isolation and unemployment, she finally began earning the paycheck she had dreamed of as a teenager. For the first time in her life, Roberta felt a sense of control over her life, gaining a significantly improved self-concept and positive social relationships with a wide circle of friends.

Chris Koehler noted, "Roberta started as an assembler on the DNA Data Bank Collection Kits, proving to be reliable and highly focused on quality. She also worked on assembling DNA Suspect Control Kits and TBTA boom gate covers. She is now involved with quality control on the kit contracts with the NYS Division of Criminal Justice, a critical PWI contract."

Roberta was humbled when told of her nomination for the William B. Joslin Outstanding

Performance Awards Program.

Chris Koehler said, "Her struggle to overcome poverty, prejudice and limited access to the resources that most of us take for granted is compelling. The NYSID Preferred Source Program provides more than a paycheck; it offers dignity, increased self-confidence and the opportunity for Roberta and countless others to earn their own way. Roberta Youmans personifies the exceptional vocational and personal success that the Joslin Award recognizes."

Allegany Arc wants to congratulate Roberta on this distinguished honor. For more information on Allegany Arc, visit their website at www.AlleganyArc.org.

Andover's Ervolino awarded medal

LATHAM—New York Army National Guard Private 1st Class Patricia Ervolino, of Andover, has been awarded the New York State Humane Service Medal for service in New York's response to Hurricane Irene.

The award recognizes service in response to members of New York's Organized Militia who distinguished themselves by sustained meritorious service in a humane operation as a result of a natural disaster, such as floods, snow storms, hurricanes, tornados, and acts of mercy during State Active Duty service at the direction of the governor.

Ervolino, serving with the National Guard's 222nd Military Police Company, was one more than 4,000 members of the New York National Guard who responded when Governor Andrew Cuomo activated the New York Army and Air National Guard and other components of the New York Military Forces when Hurricane Irene threatened the state on August 28.

Governor Andrew Cuomo mobilized more than 2,500 members of the National Guard in advance of Hurricane Irene's arrival in New York on Aug. 27. Since then, more than 1,500 additional troops mobilized in response to the landfall and aftermath of Hurricane Irene, which caused flooding, destruction and disarray in many upstate New York counties. National Guard members were significant parts of recovery missions in Essex, Schoharie, Delaware and Greene Counties, with an emphasis on supporting devastated communities like in Prattsville, Margaretville and Keene, N.Y.

Cookbook found in Georgia junk shop

One last apple recipe. I unearthed this cookbook from a shelf of books I haven't looked at in some time. If I remember correctly, I found this book in a little junk shop that I love to browse through when we go to Tybee Island in Georgia.

The author recommended serving the pie with cinnamon ice cream. Couldn't find it, could have made my own with a pint of vanilla, but chose to use cinnamon Cool Whip instead. I discovered that with the help of a friendly stock boy.

The book is A Cup of Comfort Cookbook by Jay Weinstein published in Massachusetts in 2002.

Apple-Walnut Upside-Down Pie

1 stick butter	1/2 c. sugar
1 c. light brown sugar	1/4 c. flour
1 c. walnut pieces, roughly chopped	1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
pinch of salt	1/2 tsp. allspice
double crust pie dough	1/4 tsp. cloves
8 or 9 Granny Smith apples, peeled, cored, and diced into 1-inch pieces

Make the topping: melt butter and mix in brown sugar in a heavy-bottomed skillet over medium-high heat, until smooth and bubbling. Cook 5 min. Stir in the walnuts and salt. Remove from heat. Spread mixture into bottom of 9 inch pie pan. Heat oven to 375. Roll out bottom crust very thin (1/4") and drape over caramel/walnut-lined pie pan. In a separate bowl, mix the apple slices, sugar, flour, spices, and a pinch of salt. Fill pie with apple mixture, mounding somewhat in center. Roll out dough for top crust. Brush rim of bottom crust with a little water to seal the crusts and cover the pie loosely with top layer of dough. Crimp edges. Make several vents in top. Bake 1 hour until filling is bubbling. Cool and then reheat quickly in hot oven before inverting and unmolding. Serve with cinnamon ice cream or whipped topping.

Still crossing the street

Letter to the Editor:

Dave ~ LOVED your suggestion as to sandwich signs at the crosswalks in Almond. We had one for the crosswalk at the post office, but unfortunately, someone hit that and smashed it to smithereens in the first week of it being used.

To get that sign, our mayor had to jump through hoops because the DOT didn't want something like that on State Rt. 21—one of the highest traffic roads in Allegany County. If it can be repaired, more than likely it will be the ONLY one that you will see in Almond...ever.

I'm not sure if the public at large knew what was involved in reducing the speed in front of the school from 55 to 45, but acquiring three signs at the crosswalks would be tantamount to the battle that ensued over that. Simply because of the sheer number of cars that utilize State Rt. 21, ANYTHING that needs DOT permission and might possibly slow traffic down takes almost an act of Congress to be approved.

I grew up in Scio and the busiest crosswalk of the two in town was at the corner of Main and E. & W. Sciota Street. I crossed Main St. a thousand times or more to walk to school when I lived off of W. Sciota and then to the library when we moved "across town." All there was to indicate the crosswalk was the markings on the street. We never had a sandwich sign or even a sign indicating that it was a crosswalk and only a crossing guard on school days. People would see a pedestrian and stop for them (that's Rt. 19, folks).

I don't remember having to do the "ready, set, go ~ dash" when I was a kid to visit the library or to go to the school fields/playground. I'd stand there and cars would allow me to cross. Unfortunately, that wasn't the case for Dale & Grace Young's child in about 1986 when he did do the "ready, set, go -- dash" and was killed by a semi as his father watched. He was leaving his dad's hardware to go home.

My point in bringing up that horrible event is because I don't want that happening again in our community (I recently found out that it did happen years ago in front of the library and a young girl was killed).

When the kids leave the library, Val and I hope that those that have to cross the street make it safely. This time of year, it's dark when we close at 7 p.m. and we've walked kids to the crosswalk either by the post office or the playground to get them across safely. In the last four weeks, I've done so twice while on crutches recovering from knee surgery.

That same little boy who had the bloody nose in my previous letter and I stood at the crosswalk by the post office as car after car went on through. It took easily three minutes for there to be a break in traffic at 7:10 p.m. Instead of trying to get back, I stood in the middle with my crutches and literally held up one crutch so that a car would not continue through.

How sad is that? A woman on crutches with a child and it was as though we were invisible. Just this past Friday, at 6:45 p.m., I stood at the crosswalk in front of Flints (on one crutch now), with the intent of having dinner with my family at Muhleisens. Car, after car, after car passed without pause and then I was able to make it half way. Assuming that the car coming from the other direction would stop and allow me to continue as I was in the middle of the road, I stood there expectantly. Nope...he didn't even slow down.

I'm sure that I was quite the picture as I shook my crutch at him (I really want to bash his car with it) calling him a name that was very "unlibrarian-ish". I just hope that none of "my" kids saw that and recorded it with their cell phones to show on YouTube.

Support for caregivers

To the Editor:

We all have lessons to learn throughout our lifetimes. Life evolves and sometimes our journey takes us through turbulent waters and other times the waters remain still. These journeys become a part of us and make us who we are. We are here to learn from one another and through these lessons we can heal our relationships and sometimes ourselves.

Becoming a family caregiver for someone you love is one of those heart wrenching and at times enlightening life lessons. Your role as a family caregiver can happen abruptly or creep in slowly-unnoticed until one day you realize you are caring more for someone else than you are for yourself.

You find yourself beginning to struggle with the day to day demands and somewhere along the way you realize you have lost your identity and have allowed the caregiving role to define who you are. Your new role as a family caregiver can become as frightening as the initial diagnosis. The journey can be difficult when traveled alone; however, it does not have to be that hard and you do not and should not have to travel the road alone.

Believe in Yourself: The National Family Caregiver Association (NFCA) stresses the importance of trying to maintain a positive attitude. By believing in yourself and recognizing your strengths and limitations, it will go a long way in your ability to set goals and boundaries for yourself and your loved one.

Protect Your Health: It is critically important to maintain your physical and emotional health and well being – if you don't who will? Your good health is the greatest gift you can give your loved one and your entire family.

Reach Out for Help: Reaching out and asking for help is never a sign of weakness rather it demonstrates strength and a keen awareness of your own abilities and sense of self.

Speak up for your Rights: NCFCA encourages and stresses the importance of arming yourself with information regarding your loved one's diagnosis and treatment options.

The Allegany County Office for the Aging, New York Connects, and the Allegany County Caregiver Coalition understands that family caregiving requires constant juggling of work, family life and time for you. Without adequate support, information, education and training, we cannot possibly maintain and continually meet the needs of our entire family.

The purpose of the Allegany County Caregiver Coalition is to Support caregivers in their ever changing role, Empower elders and caregivers to stay independent, and Educate caregivers about community resources. We currently do this by holding trainings, disseminating information sheets for caregivers, and continuing to work on creative solutions to the challenges that caregivers in our rural county face. We sponsor A Little Peace of Mind Adult Social Respite Program that is supported in part by the Allegany County United Way. This group meets the 2nd Saturday of each month from 10 am to 2:00 pm at the Allegany County Office for the Aging 6085 State Rt. 19N Belmont, NY. It is staffed with trained volunteers and staff to promote a safe and fun atmosphere for care recipients while their caregivers get a break.

The Allegany County Office for the Aging hosts two support groups, one that is Alzheimer's and dementia specific and the other for general caregivers. The Alzheimer's Support group meets the third Tuesday of each month from 1:00 pm to 2:30 pm. The Caregiver's Support group meets the last Thursday of each month from 1:30 pm to 3:00 pm. We will be celebrating National Caregivers Month at our November meetings. The Caregiver Support Group will meet on Nov. 17 this month due to the Thanksgiving holiday. These support groups are free of charge and are both held at the Office for the Aging.

For information on supportive services for caregivers or to find out if your loved one is eligible for A Little Peace of Mind, contact Mary or Tobi, Care Coordinators, at 585-268-9390 or by calling toll-free 1-866-268-9390.

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID PULLEN

By DAVID PULLEN
Allegany County Legislator

FOCUS ON FINANCES

The October 24th session of the Legislature began with former Coast Guard Seaman Thomas Burnard leading us in the Pledge of Allegiance. Although many don't realize it, members of the Coast Guard have served and fought in some of the most dangerous situations during both wartime and peacetime. Their service should be honored along with that of our other dedicated servicemen and servicewomen.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance, invocation and roll call, there was a public hearing on a law providing increases to various County officers. The only person to speak was Arlene Hughes of West Clarksville. She urged that raises be based upon savings achieved by those officials. That sentiment is shared by most members of the Legislature, and was a factor in granting the proposed raises.

Privilege of the Floor was granted to Debra Quinn. She is a zealous advocate for those suffering from Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), also known as "Lou Gehrig's Disease." She speaks to educate the public and government about the plight of those suffering from this disease. Chairman Crandall also presented certificates to five (5) County employees who have completed 30 years of service. Together they have given 150 years of dedicated service to Allegany County. Finally, "Allegany County Cancer Services" presented a plaque to the Board of Legislators in recognition of its support for their program.

The Board considered eight resolutions, including Resolution 153-11 adopting Local Law No. 3 of 2011 providing increases in compensation for certain County officers. Resolution 154-11 upgraded the Workers' Compensation Office Manager compensation based upon her increased responsibilities in recent months. Resolution 155-11 created four (4) part-time (mandated) positions in the Health Department Early Intervention Quality Assurance Program. Resolution 156-11 placed Public Works Department part-time laborers in the Section 4 Salary Plan. Resolution 157-11 accepted a $12,500 insurance payment from NYMIR for damage to a 1992 International Dump Truck. Resolution 158-11 authorized the purchase of real property on Court Street, Belmont, for $1,500. Legislator Ungermann reviewed his opposition to the Court project before voting against this resolution. Resolutions 159-11 and 160-11 were not pre-filed and required a 2/3rds vote for consideration. Resolution 159-11 authorized Allegany County to act as lead municipality for a grant application with NYSERDA under the Cleaner, Greener Communities Regional Sustainability Planning Program. If approved we could receive up to $1 million to develop a regional sustainability planning program. Resolution 160-11 authorized Allegany County to apply for Grant Funds that, if received, would be used for Crossroads Waterline Infrastructure.

The Board session concluded with approval of the audited bills in the amount of $4,455,569.91. The vote on paying the bills was approved with Legislator Ungermann voting "no," which he apparently does whenever there are any expenses under the Court Facilities and Space Needs category. I find his continued opposition puzzling in light of the fact that the project is coming in well under budget, and has not resulted in an increase in the tax rate.

A Committee of the Whole Budget Workshop meeting was held at 10:00 a.m. on October 24th. Here are some important facts about the 2012 County Budget:

- It is down about $10 million because "Food Stamp" funding is no longer included, per updated federal accounting standards;
- Budget Officer Margeson reduced Department requests by more than $5 million;
- The total County Budget for 2012 will be $113,265,688;
- The 2% cap on increases in the tax levy calculated to about $716,000 using the State formula;
- The 2012 tax levy will be $28,219,857, which represents a 2.52% increase, but within the State mandate;
- The 2012 tax rate will be $16.88/thousand, which is down 2 cents per thousand from 2011, the second year with a decrease.

The 2012 Budget Hearing is scheduled for November 10th, at 7:00 pm. That is your opportunity to ask questions and offer comments on the County Budget. Be informed. Please come.

Area Boy Scouts to kick off food drive

ALFRED—Boy Scouts of America on Saturday, Nov. 5 will kick off its annual Scouting for Food drive. Scouting for Food is Troop 19 and Pack 1026 largest service project. Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts from Alfred and Almond place Scouting for Food bags on doors across the Alfred and Almond Scouting area.

Scouts will return to pick up your food donations on Saturday, Nov. 12 early in the morning. Place donations in bags on porches or outside doors for quick pick up beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 12. If your donation misses the scout pickup, please take to the nearest food pantry. All food collected will stay in our local communities, and benefit the Alfred, Alfred Station and Almond Food Pantries.

Food donations needed include canned items such as vegetables, meat, chili, soups, juices, and baby items. Boxed or bagged meals and pastas are also welcome. The ideal food donation bag would include one of each. Please, nothing perishable, frozen or in a glass container. Monetary donations cannot be accepted.

Scouting has always stepped up to provide needed service to the community. There are children and adults in our local communities that do not have enough food each day to meet basic nutritional needs. With this drive, especially right before Thanksgiving, we hope to ensure that there is enough food to go to local food pantries to help feed those in need.

Thank You all for helping feed your neighbors that are less fortunate than ourselves.

Community Chest Drive

Drive at 60.8% of goal

Dear Community,

The Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest drive is now proceeding very slowly, dollar by dollar, toward its 2011 goal for the support of our local charities. As of last week, we have received donations and pledges totaling about $20,905 or 60.8%% of our $34,360 goal. We will need everyone's help to conclude the 2011 campaign. Please do not forget the community where you work or live. Now is the time to act. Without YOUR help, we simply will not reach that goal.

The Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross is an important organization benefiting from our campaign. If we are successful our local Red Cross chapter will receive much needed support from this year's campaign. As we are all aware, natural disasters do not stop. The Red Cross provides help to more people than ever before. They establish emergency communication, shelters, give out food and clothing, and provided health assistance to victims of 'natural' events. They replace essentials needed by communities when rebuilding begins. In addition they provided counseling for families and assistance while coping with disasters. What the Red Cross does not expect, or accept, is repayment for any assistance they give during a disaster.

It is essential that we be generous after costly emergencies. Only then can we 'assist' the Red Cross in its mission and help to replenish its services. At the time of fires in Alfred, the Red Cross provides for those who have lost possessions. They are at the scene of the fires and emergencies providing much needed assistance and counseling. The blood collection and our blood supply rely on the most well known of Red Cross services. In addition, the Red Cross hosts educational programs dealing with transmitted diseases, water safety procedures, and many other programs.

The Red Cross also provides a wide range of programs and services to members of the U.S. Armed Forces. Probably the most important of these is their around-the-clock, around-the-world emergency communications network. In an average year over a million high priority messages are sent between service personnel and their families at no cost to the parties served. Red Cross volunteers at military installations and in our local communities provide counseling to members of the military and their families to help solve personal crises and deal with stress during periods of family separation. Local chapters also prepare and ship "good will" packages to service people stationed overseas. Please consider all that the Red Cross accomplishes, as you make your pledge to our campaign.

We hope that you will agree that support for the Red Cross, as well as our other campaign organizations, provides services that are essential to our community as well as the greater whole and helps to make the Alfred area a special place in which to live and work. We ask those of you who have not yet made a donation or pledge to join your friends and neighbors in making our drive a success. Thank you to those who have been so generously given to our campaign. If, for some reason, you did not receive a pledge card, donations may be left at the Alfred Pharmacy in Alfred, the Canacadea Country Store in Alfred Station, or may be mailed to Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest, Box 603, Alfred, NY, 14802. We look forward to your support.

Sincerely,
Your Community Chest Board

Lions cancel tourney; cheese sale planned

By BRAD BOWDEN
of the Alfred Lions Club

The Alfred Lions Club regrets to announce that the Wrestling Tournament held in December for the past 13 years at Alfred-Almond Central School will not be held this year because a sufficient number of schools are unable to participate.

The all-day Saturday wrestling tournament usually attracts about 40 students from 8 to 10 schools to the event which is a major competition for the youngsters to be involved in. It

Winter coat drive deadline Nov. 13

ALFRED--The Union University Church of Alfred will again this year sponsor a "Winter Coat Drive."

Coats and other winter clothing items will be donated to the Cameron Community Ministries in Rochester. Winter clothing items, preferably packed in trash bags, can be dropped off at the Union University Church Center on Church Street, or at Hair Care, 15 N. Main Street, Alfred.

The deadline for clothing donations is Sunday, Nov. 13.

is attended by hundreds of people and raises a significant amount of money for the community as well.

Local Businesses contribute to the event by buying ads in our program in support of the community effort. While budgetary issues may be the primary problem for the schools, the Alfred Lions Club looks forward to holding the wrestling tournament next year and will be contacting schools early next fall.

The loss of this major fundraiser will limit the Lions Club from contributing to the following organizations that have received our support for forty years: the Alfred and Alfred Station Fire Companies, the Alfred Ambulance Company, the Alfred-Almond scholarships Guiding Eyes for the Blind and individuals in need.

In the meantime, the Cuba Cheese Company has agreed to help the Lions Club with a Cheese Sale for the holidays. Expect an Alfred Lion to knock on your door during November to take orders. Your order will be greatly appreciated and help us to overcome this emergency.

Cheese orders will be delivered to your door before Christmas. If you would like to phone in an order, please call one of the following Lions Sales Team leaders: Phil Phillipson 587-8239, Jon LeGro 587-8133, Leo LeJeune 324-4386, Rob Riber 587-8262, Chuck Fox 276-6698. Also, donations are welcome.

Flexible Comedy coming to AU

ALFRED—Jonathan Burns always thought he was "special"...Turns out...he is!

He will bring his Flexible Comedy to Alfred, with a performance at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 5 in Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall, on the Alfred University campus. Admission is free and is open to the general public.

At age 12 a magic shop opened near his hometown of Johnstown, PA. He would show up every week and come home with new tricks. He would then try out his new skills on his family, friends, and basically anyone who would listen.

Eventually, someone took notice and asked him to perform at their daughter's birthday party. He bought a sparkly vest, threw all of his tricks in a suitcase, shoved some silk scarves up his sleeves, and wowed those kids for about 20 minutes (it was a pretty long scarf)! Maybe it was the $20 he made or the sparkly vest, but this is when he decided showbiz was for him.

In 2000 he began college at Millersville University; this is where his act began to break away from traditional magician's tricks, and he began to experiment with other skills including juggling, stand-up comedy, contortionism, and sideshow stunts.

After school he decided to begin his career as a fulltime performer since then his talents have taken him to stages across the United States and to festivals in Canada and China.

Next stop? Alfred, New York!

JONATHAN BURNS will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 5 in Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall, AU campus. Admission is free and open to the general public.

Lecture series accompanies 'TableSpace' exhibit

ALFRED—"TableSpace" Lecture Series Nov. 8-10 will bring noted ceramic artists and an author to the School of Art & Design at Alfred University for a three-day event that includes four lectures open to the public, as well as workshops with students.

The lecture series is being held in conjunction with "TableSpace," an exhibition at the Fosdick-Nelson Gallery, Harder Hall, on the Alfred University campus. The exhibition, which features the work of 14 ceramic artists from North America, Europe and the Far East, will be on display at the gallery through Dec. 1.

Andrea Gill, professor of ceramic art at AU, is organizing the related lecture series, which is funded by the Marcianne Mapel Miller Fund for Ceramic Art.

Participating in the lecture series will be Ole Jensen, ceramist and designer from Denmark; Howard Risatti, author of a book that explored the contemporary craft movement; and Mark Pharis, a ceramic artist and member of the faculty at the University of Minnesota. Jensen and Pharis are among the artists whose work is included in the "TableSpace" exhibition.

Jensen, considered to be one of the foremost Danish craftsmen and artists today, opens the public lectures at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center.

Jensen, one of the artists whose work is included in the exhibition, lives and works in Copenhagen. His work includes tableware, but also a range of other products, too, from sofa beds and other furniture to lamps, clothing and household implements.

Educated at The Arts and Crafts College in Kolding, Denmark, and at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Copenhagen, Jensen has exhibited his work internationally and has earned numerous awards. His work is found in the collections of the Danish Arts Foundation, the Danish Museum of Art & Design, the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, as well as museums in Germany, Sweden and Norway.

Jensen, Risatti and Pharis will deliver a gallery talk at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, in the Fosdick-Nelson Gallery.

Risatti, author of the acclaimed "A Theory of Craft: Function and Aesthetic Expression" published in 2007, by the University of North Carolina Press, will speak at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, in Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall, on the AU campus. His lecture will focus on the state of contemporary crafts.

In his book, Risatti addresses "fundamental questions about craft and its unique qualities that differentiate it from fine art."

He is a professor emeritus of art history at Virginia Commonwealth University, and is also the author of "Skilled Work: American Craft in the Renwick Gallery," and "Postmodern Perspectives: Issues in Contemporary Art."

Pharis will deliver his talk at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10, in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, Pharis returned there as a faculty member in the Department of Art. A studio potter, he focuses on functional work and "has helped define an important movement in studio pottery sometimes identified as 'mingei-sota' ware,' referring to the Mingei tradition in Japanese folk crafts."

Pharis' work has been included in numerous exhibitions and can be found in the collections of the Victoria and Albert Museum, the Gardner Museum in Toronto, the Everson Museum in Syracuse and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, among others.

Civil War history at Baker's Bridge meeting

ALFRED STATION—The November meeting of Baker's Bridge Historical Association will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 14. If you are interested in the topic being presented or the history of the area, please join us at the Meeting House at Alfred Station where Dr. Spencer Annabel will present an account of "The Second Battle of Manassas."

Dr. Annabel's talk will describe this battle which began on August 28th, 1862. General John Pope had been brought to the Eastern theatre of war to consolidate three Union Armies stationed in the Shenandoah Valley. He was very boastful, announcing that he was used to seeing the backs of his enemies and that he would bring the hard hand of war to Virginia.

He achieved the consolidation of the three armies after the Union defeat at the battle of Cedar Mountain. He significantly underestimated his Confederate foes. During the Battle of Second Manassas he became obsessed with the destruction of Stonewall Jackson's Corps and ignored the arrival of General Longstreet's Corps on his left flank. This ultimately resulted in the Union Army losing this battle.

For more information on Baker's Bridge Historical Society, visit www.bakersbridge.org.

Amandine Club meeting 2 pm today

ALFRED—The November Allen Civic Amandine Club meeting will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3 (today) at the Alfred Seventh Day Baptist Parish House.

Almond 20th Century Club Library

By TAMMY KOKOT
Almond Library Director

On Nov. 8th, from 11 AM 'til 5 PM, the Almond 20th Century Club Library will hold its annual Soup & Sandwich Luncheon. The culinary prowess of Mary Anne Reitnauer will result in a home made vegetable beef soup that will satisfy the heartiest of appetites.

Accompanying the soup, will be fresh made sandwiches consisting of tuna, ham salad & egg salad. And to top it all off, diners will have a multitude of choices of sweets to finish off a fantastic meal. But the food doesn't stop there! One may purchase a "to go" pint or quart of soup as well as baked goods that will be for sale. Keep in mind that the soup goes fast and the "to go's" are on a first come, first serve basis (and it goes fast!).

Things are a bit different this year ~ no rummage sale. Instead, we will be having a basket auction in addition to our book & bake sale. We are still accepting donations for the basket auction (may be dropped off to the library Mon., Wed. & Sat. ~ 9:30-1 and Tue. & Thur. 1-7).

A wonderful addition to our annual event is the presence of local author, Connie Mullen of Canisteo who will have available copies of her book ~ "Hello-Goodbye My Precious Child: A Mother's True Story of her Special Child's Journey from Heaven to Earth and Back to Heaven". Connie will have books for sale and will autograph.

One Time, One Meeting

The Practice of Zen Meditation

By BEN HOWARD

CONTEMPLATIVE MEMORY

In his essay "Reading Oneself," the writer and teacher Sven Birkerts describes the experience of encountering a long-forgotten page of his own prose. As Birkerts tells the story, he agreed to read the book manuscript of a student whom he had taught many years before. When his former student arrived at their meeting, she brought both her manuscript and Birkerts' written evaluation of her work, which she had saved from her days in his course. Typed on the Selectric II he was using at the time, Birkerts' prose seemed foreign to its author:

And suddenly there's this feeling, I've had it before—more and more in recent years. I am reading something I've written and I not only don't recognize the sentences—they've gone from me—I also don't quite map to the mind that produced them. It's very much like catching your shopwindow reflection for a split second before you realize it's you. Almost always, the shock is negative. I look like that? With these sentences it's the opposite. My eyes catch sight of what my hand did. Reading, I actually admire the images, the figures of speech, the confidence of the rhythm. Not the rhythm I would write in now. But I feel it as distinct.

For Birkerts, this encounter with his earlier self was comparable to contemplating an old photograph. "The looking," he observes, "is mainly about taking in the differences."

Birkerts' anecdote vividly illustrates what many people feel in later life: the long trajectory of one's experience, the felt discontinuity between one's younger self and its present manifestation. But Birkerts' story also illustrates a mental faculty that the philosopher Henri Bergson, in his Matter and Memory (1896), defined as "contemplative memory." Contrasting this faculty with "motoric" memory, which a musician employs when playing a piece by heart, Bergson identified three distinguishing components of contemplative memory.

First, the process is spontaneous: memories arise unsummoned, often in the form of images. They are not the result of an act of will. Second, the remembered experience is clearly seen as having occurred at a time and a place in the past. It has a date, and it is unrepeatable. And last, what is most prominent in the remembered experience is the difference between then and now. Conditions were different then, and so were we, and in remembering the experience, we are not reliving it. Rather, we are viewing the past from the vantage point of the present. When we do so, and when the previous two elements are also present, we are exercising "contemplative" memory, which Bergson regarded as the purest form of memory.

As even a few minutes' reflection will verify, few of our memories are so pure. In Sven Birkerts' case, the presence of a tangible document—a datable, typewritten page—kept him, as it were, on the contemplative track. He had little choice but to view the object of memory as a thing of the past. But in ordinary life, the process of remembering is likely to be far more capricious, selective, and faulty. If the remembered experience is emotionally charged, we are more likely to be engulfed by it than to contemplate it in a spirit of disinterested inquiry. If it is a painful memory, we may find ourselves engaging in what the historian Roy Foster has called "therapeutic forgetting." And if the memory has a moral dimension, we may enlist it in the service of self-exoneration, or self-glorification, or self-abasement. We may make it mean to an end, serving the ego's insatiable needs.

In Zen, as in other meditative practices, we train ourselves to do otherwise. By sitting still and following our breath, we also follow the flux of our experience. Almost certainly that experience will include passing thoughts, many of them memories or fragments thereof. Some of those memories may be fond. Others may be wrenching. But whatever they happen to be, we train ourselves to acknowledge them without dwelling on them, or analyzing them, or allowing ourselves to be swept away. In the language of the classic texts, we open ourselves to the "ten thousands joys" and the "ten thousand sorrows." But even as we contemplate the past, we remain grounded in present awareness—in our upright, stable posture, our full awareness of breathing. In this way we cultivate an intimate but balanced relationship with what we remember. And over time, this way of relating to the past becomes a way of being, which we carry from the cushion into our everyday lives.

So it was with the poet and Zen practitioner Matsuo Basho, who visited Kyoto, the former capital and cultural center of Japan, in 1690. Mindful of the city's noble past, he wrote one of his most celebrated haiku:

Even in Kyoto	Kyo nite mo
how I long for old Kyoto	Kyo natsukashi ya
when the cuckoo sings	hototogisu

This poignant haiku records a moment of heightened awareness, prompted by the Japanese cuckoo's two-note call. Fully cognizant of what is present, Basho is also aware of his longing for what is not. What is present is the Kyoto of 1690; what is absent is the storied, glorious city of earlier centuries. Bringing contemplative awareness to bear upon his present state of mind, Basho acknowledges the arising of a universal human feeling. Bringing contemplative memory to bear upon an image from the past, he evokes the transitory nature of all conditioned things.

Mogel, Rothenberg open visiting artist series

ALFRED—The opening lecture of the 2011-12 Visiting Artist and Lecture series for the School of Art & Design at Alfred University (AU) was held Thursday, Oct. 27 in Harder Hall on the AU campus.

Lize Mogel and Stephanie Rothenberg presented a lecture, "Global Geographies of the Physical and Virtual," to open this year's series, "Two are Better than One."

"We present two or more guests at each lecture to help compare, contrast and question the ideas presented," explained M. Michelle Illuminato, assistant professor in the Foundations program for the School of Art & Design and one of the series' organizers.

Engaging a broad range of media and strategies, artists Mogel and Rothenberg will present projects that map the effects of globalization on both territory and people, Illuminato explained. "Mogel's counter-cartographic experiments connect the real history and collective imaginary about specific places to larger narratives of global economies. Rothenberg's interactive installations and participatory online artworks explore new models of outsourced global production incurred through digitallabor (collaboration through the Internet). Together their work exposes the underlying systems and invisible hierarchies of globalization, mapping a socio-political circuit of both physical landscapes and virtual worlds."

Mogel is an interdisciplinary artist who works with the interstices between art and cultural geography, according to Illuminato. She creates and disseminates counter-cartography—maps and mappings that produce new understandings of social and political issues. She has mapped public parks in Los Angeles; future territorial disputes in the Arctic; and wastewater economies in New York City. Mogel is co-editor of the book/map collection "An Atlas of Radical Cartography."

Rothenberg is an artist and educator using performance, installation and networked media to create interactions that question the boundaries and social constructs of manufactured desires. In 2009, Rothenberg co-founded REV-, a non-profit located in NYC furthering socially-engaged art, design and pedagogy.

In The Alfred Sun 50, 25 and 10 Years Ago

Compiled By DAVID L. SNYDER

FIFTY YEARS AGO, NOVEMBER 2, 1961

The pot of Alfred town politics, normally quiet, has been brought to a low boil by last minute write in campaign by two town of Alfred residents. The SUN learned late yesterday that Frank L. A second development in the town elections followed on the heels of the Snyder announcement. Ben Palmer Jr. of Alfred Station Road has announced that he will run also on a write in campaign for the justice of the peace (inactive) post presently held by L. Eugene Reynolds of Alfred. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, OCT. 30, 1986

Harold and Beverley Snyder of Alfred were honored recently for having the third best quality standards in their milk production for Dairylea for the past year, during the 67th Annual Dairylea Meeting Awards Banquet. ...The Snyders milk 35 Holsteins with a herd average of 18,000 lbs. of milk per lactation, on their 300-acre farm...

Researchers at the NYS College of Ceramics at Alfred University think that tiny beads dated 600 BC may contain clues to chart ancient Indian trade routes and--more remotely--to develop a container for nuclear waste. No larger than a thumbnail, the glass beads, found in an archeological dig at Nevasa, India, were used for ornamentation during the Chalcolithic Period. They were brought with other artifacts to the College of Ceramics...Chemical composition of a glass indicates that raw materials made it, said Dr. Arun K. Varshneya, professor of glass science who is supervising the ancient glass's analysis...

Alfredians--Marcie Emerson, Alfred Station, was awarded the Kenneth Casey Memorial Plaque at the 4H Achievement Program held at Friendship Central School. She owns 21 head of Holstein calves, heifers and cows, some of which she has shown at the county and state fair...At the last Alfred-Almond school board meeting Susan Wortley was appointed school nurse...Andrea (Odle) and Moseph McConnel of Milas, MA announce th birth of a son, Andrew Scott McConnell on Oct. 21, 1986. Maternal grandparents are Dorothy Odle, Alfred; Eugene Odle, Alfred...Youth is when you blame your parents for all your troubles; maturity is when you learn that everything is the fault of the younger generation...

Almond Notes--The "Messiah" will be performed Dec. 15 at the Almond Union of Churches. All singers are invited to participate. The first rehearsal will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 2. The group will be conducted by Nathan Hardy and accompanied by Irene Conderman...The Election Day Rummage Sale will be held Nov. 5 at the Twentieth Century Club Library. As usual, there will be old and new clothes, games, odds and ends, plants, craft items, baked goods, lunch and a quilt raffle. This year's quilt, which may be seen at the Library, is a rather special memorial because it contains several blocks made by Gertrude Hamliin and Doris Wells, late librarians and expert quilters. These and blocks by other club members were assembled by Eloise Baker and Doris Paine. Raffle tickets are available from any club member or at the sale. Chairman for the sale are Velma Sherman, general chairman; Joanne Wells, kitchen; Hazel Bracken, dining room; Marjorie Mason and Serena Zirkelbach, bake sale; and Hazel Bracken, Virginia Rood and Joanne Wells, advertising.

Andover-the-Hill--The Andover Chamber of Commerce held its monthly meeting at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 15 at Dagwood's Restaurant. Albert DeTandt led the business meeting with about 23 members and guests present. The speaker for the evening was Reid Harvey with his friend, Bob Swain, who have started a new ceramic business in Andover. Mr. Harvey has bought the old fire hall building on Main Street and is making slip-cast porcelain pieces. His company is called Geoplay and he had examples of the type of ceramics to pass around for members to see. Mr. Harvey worked for 11 years in Liberia helping to make stained glass windows in churches of all denominations. This also created jobs for the people in these communities and Liberia had all of the natural resources for ceramics...Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phelps of Andover were honored with a dinner at Coslos Restaurant in Almond by their children, for their 50th wedding anniversary. Althea Rawleigh and Robert Phelps were married Sept. 26, 1936 in Fremont, with the Rev. Garland G. Lacey officiating. Jessica Leigh Sweeney weighed in at 8 lb. 3 oz. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker of Andover are maternal grandparents...

Even with an impressive 34-9 win over Cortland State could not help the Alfred Saxons in the national rankings, as at press time the SUN learned that AU had dropped from 15th in the nation to 18th. The big test will be Saturday, however, as Alfred hosts a tough University of Buffalo team at 1:30 p.m. at Merrill Field. A win would enhance AU's chances of a NCAA Division III tournament bid. At press time, the SUN learned that the national rankings for Division III are as follows: 1. Dayton 2. Central, Iowa, 3. Ithaca, 4. Juniata, 5. Mt. Union, 6. Augustana, 7. Wisconsin-River Falls, 8. Salisbury State, 9. Buena Vista, IA, 10. Emory & Henry, 11. Montclair State, 12. Case Western, 13. Wagner, 14. Union, 15. Susquehanna, 16. Hope, 17. Concordia, 18. ALFRED, 19. Coe, IA and 20. St. Thomas...

TEN YEARS AGO, NOVEMBER 1, 2001

In the wake of the tragic events of Sept. 11 and the numerous anthrax casualties, many Alfred University students are admitting to being overly anxious. "People who are highly anxious suffer from heightened sensitivity and fear opening their mail," says Alfred University Student Development Counselor Cathie Chester. Anxiety as a nationwide phenomenon is causing panic among AU community members, forcing them to reconstruct and reevaluate everyday routines...

Kenneth W. Snyder, 70, of 5568 Jericho Hill Rd., died Friday, October 26, 2001 at St. James Mercy Hospital in Hornell. Kenneth was born on February 21, 1931 in Alfred, the son of Ernest and Fern Jacox Snyder. He is survived by his wife, Bonnie Jamison Snyder. He was a graduate of Alfred-Almond Central School, Class of 1949, and a lifelong resident of the Town of Alfred. Ken was an entrepreneur, having been awarded the Henry C. Langer Jr. Businessman of the Year Award in 1989. However, having been raised on a farm, Ken was always a farmer at heart. Ken worked as a meat cutter for the Jacox Grocery Store in Alfred, helping the business to expand. He established Ken's Sinclair in 1955, built the College Mobil Station in 1959, built, owned and operated Squirrel's Nest Motel in 1961, and built, owned and operated the Coachlight Motel in 1972, currently known as the Hornell EconoLodge. He also built The Coachlight Steakhouse in 1975, presently known as Rupert's at the Lodge. He was an elder of the Alfred Seventh Day Baptist Church, a charter member of the Alfred Lions Club and he had coached Little League baseball and Church League Basketball. Ken served for several years on the Alfred Town Council and 20 years on the Alfred Educational Foundation Board. He was an avid tennis player and sports enthusiast...

Dr. Robert A. Condrate Sr., emeritus professor of spectroscopy, School of Ceramic Engineering and Material Science, Alfred University, was made a Fellow of the Canadian Ceramic Society at its national meeting in Toronto, Canada, in September...

In a wild shootout Saturday afternoon at Wightman Field in Wayne, NJ, the Alfred University football team rallied from an 11-point halftime deficit to defeat William Paterson, 40-33. AU (3-5) used three big plays to outscore the hosts 27-9 in the second half and defeat the Pioneers (2-6) for the second time in as many years...

The Dugout--As the World Series meanders along this week with its final destination set for the Arizona desert over the weekend it very well could be the end of an era for this current group of New York Yankees. No, this team won't disband as did the Florida Marlins a few years back after they won the MLB championship... Household names to Yankee fans like Paul O'Neill (Reds), David Justice (Indians), Scott Brosius (A's), Chuck Knoblauch (Twins) and maybe even first sacker, Tino Martinez (Mariners) could be elsewhere or retired as the 2002 season emerges...

Enter church through back door

ALFRED STATION—Did you come to the front door of the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church meetinghouse and left because you couldn't get into the Sanctuary to join the 11 a.m. Worship Hour? Try again for your friends and neighbors at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church, "A 3 C church: Connect - Care- Community" really want you to share in a different worship space and experience in the church Social Rooms. Enter through the church's back door. Why? Because the sanctuary remodeling is still progressing and we have not returned to its use for the Worship Hour Experience.

This last Sabbath, we focused on the three different categories of humankind according to Pauline theology: the "Natural" man, the "Fleshly (Carnal)" man and the "Spiritual" man. This Sabbath, Nov. 5, the sermon focus returns to the book of Jonah. In the second chapter, we Jonah is in the deep and despair, By looking over Jonah's shoulder the hope is that Scripture will give us insights into practical ways to deal with our own seasons of despair.

There are no strangers at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist church come and being part of the family. The Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church meetinghouse is located at 587 Route 244 in Alfred Church. The meetinghouse is located down from Robert Lawrence Trucking, Canacadea Country Store, and Baker's Bridge Antiques; across from Hillbottom Pottery; up from the Alfred Knitting Studio, Way to Gro, Hi-Tech Ceramics, and The Bicycle Man.

If you are in need of information about Salvation, The Sabbath, or Seventh Day Baptists you may call the church office at 607-587-9176. Remember if you cannot join us in person the 11 a.m. Worship Hour is streamed at www.alfredstationsdb.org. Make the Sabbath a priority and Come and Worship.

Historic time at Alfred Station church

ALFRED STATION--This is an historic time at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church, "A 3 C church: Connect - Care- Community". The Sanctuary Project as part of an overall restructure of the Station church's facilities took a giant leap last week. The plaster is down, the wiring is going in and the audio equipment is ordered.

As many of you know the 11 a.m. Sabbath Worship Hour is being held in the Social Rooms. It is a learning experience. At the initial service together we sang the songs of Praise in what seemed to be a strange land, learning to hear one another as we worshiped as community.

We once again heard the power of the Lord's Prayer said in close proximity to our brothers and sisters. Together we focused on the Scripture from the book of Jonah hearing that sometime it takes a fish to bend our will to Heavenly Father's will.

This Sabbath, Oct. 29 the morning sermon is titled, "What are you digesting?" focusing on I Corinthians 3:2. The question the texts opens what needs to happen for a believer to be nourished for Spiritual life and growth.

As we meet for this unique Worship Experience there is room for you. If you are a regular at worship invite a neighbor and introduce them to the Lord Christ through the worship experience. If you haven't been to a Worship Service in a while don't stay away. Home is where everybody knows your name. Worship is done as family and you belong. If you have never come to Seventh Day Baptist Worship Hour, why not come if for no other reason than curiosity and you will find open arms to embrace you in the Love and Grace of God.

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, November 3

Like Charles Finney, Samuel Adams felt that the Christian must take an active interest--and if called to, an active role--in the governance of the Republic.

"He therefore is the truest friend of the liberty of his country who tries most to promote its virtue, and who, so far as his power and influence extend, will not suffer a man to be chosen into any office of power and trust who is not a wise and virtuous man... The sum of all is, if we would most truly enjoy this gift of Heaven, let us become a virtuous people."

SLATER.

Foundation holds annual meeting

BELMONT—The Allegany County Area Foundation held its annual meeting Monday evening, hosting nine nonprofit organizations for a dessert reception in the Crossroads building's conference room. "We were thinking about how to share what the Foundation has done in the last year," said Doug Roorbach, executive director, "and since I'm a visual guy I liked the idea of having as many of the organizations that received grants set up tabletop displays and share with our guests what they did this year."

"We want you to know that we did not invite you here to thank us," said Carolyn Miller, president of the Foundation, when she addressed the meeting, "rather, we wanted the opportunity to thank you for the service you have given to the community."

In his brief remarks Roorbach noted that the Foundation has approximately $7 million in assets, which allowed it to give out more than $200,000 in scholarships to 42 Allegany County students and grant thousands more to nonprofits in the area.

Those included Comfort

House in Wellsville, which got a grant to help pay for kitchen appliances and the Allegany Arc, which received a grant for its "Arc Art" project last spring. Each had representatives at the meeting to share with guests, as did the Wellsville Community Center and Leadership Allegany.

So did the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross, which purchased training materials with a grant it received from the Foundation.

Joining them at the meeting were the Genesee River Wilds Project and the Allegany County Historical Society, each of which received money to help it organize and receive its nonprofit status.

A picture of Ron Taylor, president of the Historical Society, receiving the grant from Bob Christian, the Foundation's first executive director, was on the cover of the ACAF's annual report, unveiled at the meeting.

The report details the Foundation's financial figures, lists donors and scholarship winners and tells the stories of a large endowment fund given to the Richburg-Wirt Historical Society by a bequest from Francis and Betty Bartoo.

The Foundation manages endowment funds for several other area nonprofit organizations as well, including the SPCA Serving Allegany County and Cuba Hospital. Each of them had representatives at the meeting Monday night.

Looking forward, Miller announced that the Foundation was in the midst of raising money for a special fund to be named in honor of Christian, who retired at the end of May this year.

HITS AND MISSES:

Starting out with "congrats" to Alfred-Almond sophomore Meghan DioGuardi as she won the individual title in the Section Five State Qualifier tennis tournament last weekend. The A-A star topped a girl from Pittsford Mendon as Pittsford Sutherland girls finished 3-4. Not bad for a player from A-A taking on the strong Pittsford programs! "Guessing" she'll make the AGR list again this year. Player of the Year? DioGuardi advances to the state tournament now with her win.

The Alfred-Almond girls and boys soccer teams were still alive in sectional play as both had semi-final games this week. The boys were slated to take on Lyndonville while the girls had a meeting with #1-seeded Fillmore. Ouch. Championship games were set for Friday for the boys and Saturday for the girls. Could very well be an Eagles-Eagles collision (again) in the boys title game, Fillmore and A-A. The boys blanked Genesee Valley last week while Fillmore clobbered Mount Morris.

Coach Kristy Sherman's (Arkport) Brockport girls soccer team nipped Webster Schroeder, 2-1 in quarterfinal "AA" soccer play last week. Her Blue Devils are (17-1) on the year and are probably headed for a championship meeting with #2-seeded, Webster Thomas. Coach Brown's Schroeder program finished up at 7-8-3.

Received a text last week from Jess Herbst (Webster) after her Vermont women's soccer team lost in the playoffs to Albany, 2-1 in a game where it snowed all during the contest. Albany scored the winner in the second OT, two-minutes before both squads were headed to PK's to decide the outcome. Yikes. Tough loss but first playoff outing for the junior at UVM.

Alfred held on to top Rochester, 24-17 in Division III football action at UR to up their record to 5-3 with games left at Ithaca and home versus Utica. Guessing the Saxons can qualify for an ECAC Bowl with a (7-3) record but probably not host one.

In other Division III football action it was: SJ Fisher blasting Utica, Hobart staying undefeated over WPI, Buffalo State topping Brockport, Cortland nipping TCNJ and Ithaca easing by Frostburg, 13-10. Also, #9 Wesley stopped #10 Salisbury, 23-14. Salisbury and SJ Fisher will decide the E8 title this week as the Cardinals travel to Maryland.

The Hornell Red Raiders (9-0) are in the Section Five Class "B" finals again ... surprise, surprise! Coach Gene Mastin's football program blanked Midlakes to advance and now play Livonia in the championship contest. A team they have already beat and shutout once this year.

Wellsville is in the class "C" football championship game versus Wayland-Cohocton.

The St. Louis Cards are MLB champs and now need a new manager. The Atwell's in Missouri and Fred Schwartz in Almond are estatic with the WS win.

Some NYS vanity plates spotted: GTX 7777, DR JIMBO ... Kelly of the Bills, GOLFIN48 ... guessing not North & South Dakota, BLONNDIE ... not navigating too well down route 104 and OVATION ... Frank got a par!

Former A-A/Bona baseball player, Brian S. Granger is now an Assistant DA in Macon, Ga. Wow!

Look alikes: Geneseo women's soccer player Shannon Spusta and Alfred State women's soccer coach Anne Gaisser Holmok (when she was that age).

The AP men's preseason hoop poll is out with North Carolina, Kentucky, Ohio State, UConn and Syracuse, 1-5. Duke somehow "only" in sixth! The Tar Heels and UK would have to be favored to play for the men's championship game at the outset.

The President's Cup in golf is set for mid-November. Tiger Woods in form for Team USA?

The St. Lawrence women beat Clarkson in soccer to qualify for the Liberty League playoffs and an opening round contest with #2-ranked William Smith. Ouch. Guessing the Coyle's are off to Geneva this Saturday.

"Doc" Moore's (A-A) cross country teams at Alfred State are Region III champs.

Holmok's women's soccer team at ASC got beat in the Region III semi-finals.

Off this Saturday to a sporting event but just not sure where? Had plans to go to Ithaca with noted area photographer Leo Nealon to see AU football and probably still will. If Geneseo beats Cortland in soccer and Fredonia tops New Paltz, will then head to Fredonia instead to see SUNYAC championship. Outside shot at A-A soccer championship game or "AA" girls soccer championship game, Webster-Brockport.

Saxon goal line stand preserves 24-17 win at Rochester

ROCHESTER--Alfred University's football team (5-3, 2-3 Empire 8) defeated host Rochester Saturday, 24-17, as the AU defense thwarted a potential game-tying score with a goal-line stand in the closing seconds.

The Saxons' defensive stand Saturday became necessary after Rochester drew within a touchdown with just under two minutes left, then drove to the AU 2-yard line after recovering an on-side kick in Saxons territory.

A pass interference call gave the Yellowjackets the ball on the AU 2-yard-line with 17 seconds remaining, and no timeouts. Three incomplete passes later, the clock read: 0:00. The umpire lifted the ball in the air, indicating the game was over.

AU jumped out to a 21-0 lead midway through the second quarter and led 21-7 at the half. The Saxons opened the scoring with 3:19 left in the first when freshman wide receiver Christian Smith (Lackawanna) lofted a 47-yard TD pass to sophomore wideout Josh Phillips (Syracuse/West Genesee).

The Saxons made it a three-touchdown lead courtesy of a pair of short scoring runs by senior linebacker Nick Clark (Canisteo-Greenwood). The first, a three-yard run, came 1:35 into the second frame and capped an eight-play 37-yard drive that started after Rochester was forced to punt out of its own end zone. The second, from a yard out, ended an eight-play, 68-yard drive that was highlighted by a 39-yard pass from Kilcarr to sophomore wide receiver Justin Oliver (Rocky Point) to the Yellowjacket 2-yard line.

The Saxons added to their lead on their third possession of the second half. Senior kicker Eric Rockwood (Allegany-Limestone) booted a 22-yard field goal with 4:25 left in the third to give the Saxons a 24-7 edge.

Rochester closed to 24-14 and appeared ready to carve deeper into the AU lead early in the fourth, when they blocked a Rockwood punt and took over possession at the Saxons 26. However, on the Yellowjackets' first play from scrimmage free safety Ryan Quinliven (Union-Endicott) intercepted the ball in the AU end zone, giving the Saxons a touchback.

Rochester moved to within a touchdown after a field goal with 1:57 left and the ensuing on-side kick attempt was successful, with the Yellowjackets recovering at their own 48-yard line. Rochester drove to the AU 2-yard line, but the Saxon defense made the plays necessary to thwart the threat.

Senior quarterback T.J. Kilcarr (Nanuet/Clarkstown South) hit 16 of 25 passes for 181 yards, with Phillips catching five passes for 108 yards. Sophomore tailback Austin Dwyer (Hornell) led AU with 42 rushing yards on 14 carries.

Junior tackle Mike Raplee (Dundee) had 10 tackles (nine solo) to lead the AU defense. Senior linebacker Wes Smith

Senior Elliott Thorpe (Highlands Ranch, CO/Thunder Ridge) stopped this St. John Fisher penalty kick late in the game to preserve the Saxons' 3-2 win. (Photo by Leo Nealon) (Turbotville, PA. Muncy) had nine tackles and Clark had five. Senior linebacker Brady Bonacquisti (LeRoy) had seven tackles and an interception.

The Saxons play Empire 8 rival Ithaca at Butterfield Stadium Saturday, Nov. 5. Kick-off is at 1 p.m.

Men's soccer team finishes strong

The men's soccer team (7-8-2, 1-6-0 Empire 8) concluded their 2011 on a high note, picking up a pair of victories. The Saxons defeated visiting SUNY Cobleskill 4-0, Tuesday evening before topping host St. John Fisher 3-2, in Empire 8 action to end the season.

Against Cobleskill, the teams played to a scoreless first half, with Alfred holding a commanding 11-2 advantage in shots (5-1 in shots on goal) and a 7-0 edge in corner kicks. The game remained tied until 8:21 into the second half, when junior midfielder Tony Gai (Burke, VA/Lake Braddock) broke through the Cobleskill defense and chipped a shot past the Tiger goalkeeper.

Junior forward Frankie Mannino (Elmira Free Academy) scored at the 67:12 mark off an assist from freshman midfielder Nicholas Milliman (Randolph), and 29 seconds later, Mannino assisted on a goal by junior forward Rigel Johnson (Cattaraugus-Little Valley), giving the Saxons a 3-0 advantage. Mannino hit a low cross from the left side through the goal box that Johnson one-timed passed a lunging Faulkner. Junior midfielder Sam Miller (Kinsman, OH/Badger) closed out the scoring with an unassisted goal with 19:30 left in the contest. For the game, AU held a 23-4 advantage in shots (14-2 in shots on goal) and had 12 corner kicks to one for Cobleskill.

Senior Elliott Thorpe (Highlands Ranch, CO/Thunder Ridge) started in goal for AU and made one save in 70:30 of action. Sophomores Samuel Guy (Binghamton) and Jacob Bird (Auburn/Skaneateles) split the remaining time in net, with Bird making one save. Faulkner finished with 10 saves for Cobleskill.

In the Fisher game, the Cardinals netted the game's first goal just 33 seconds into the contest. J Mannino responded for the Saxons netting a pair of goals in a 75 second span to take 2-1 lead. Sophomore forward Jeffery Thomas (Canandaigua) (one assist) increased AU's lead to 3-1, at the 35-minute mark as he slid one past the keeper. The Saxons led 3-1 at halftime.

AU maintained their two-goal advantage, until the Cardinals notched their second goal to make it a 3-2, game with just over 18 minutes remaining. Fisher had a chance to tie it up as they were awarded a penalty kick at the 82 minute mark, but Thorpe came up big for the Saxons, denying the Cardinals' shot. Thorpe finished with six saves.

Women's soccer sidelined

The women's soccer team (3-11-0, 0-7-0 Empire 8) was idle last week as inclement weather postponed both games scheduled. The Saxons will not make up the game at Morrisville Morrisville (10/27), but rescheduled the home game against Penn College (originally scheduled for Oct. 29) for Monday, Oct. 31, at 7 p.m., on Merril Field.

Volleyball team takes two at tri-match

The Alfred University volleyball team (10-17, 1-6 Empire 8) wrapped up its 2011 season by sweeping contests against Cazenovia and Penn State-Abington in a home tri-match Saturday afternoon in the McLane Center. Earlier in the week the Saxons lost at host Houghton College 3-2 (25-15, 25-15, 22-25, 22-25, 16-14).

Saturday past was a day to travel, once more, as it was off to Oneonta to see the Geneseo women tangle with the host school in an opening round SUNYAC playoff soccer contest. Took off from Penfield with Randy Beale as the Knights were looking to top the Oneonta team, again, at their place in conference playoff action. In 2009 Geneseo stunned Oneonta, 1-0 in the semi-finals and eventually won the championship to secure an automatic NCAA berth. The two teams tied in league play this year with Oneonta getting the tiebreaker on a 1-0 victory, head-to-head.

I had received a text from Mike and Hazel Coyle from Oneonta graciously extending an offer for Beale and myself to stay at their place on Friday nite and then heading to the game the next day. Hazel said ... "the snow should be melted by the time you get here!" Snow? Yikes. It was October on the calendar. The Coyle's were off to Canton on Saturday morning to see St. Lawrence play soccer where their daughter, Eileen is a GA on the staff. Eileen Coyle was a high school hotshot at Oneonta, played junior college ball at Herkimer and two years for Geneseo. So the Coyle's were heading north and we were traveling southeast to run into snow!

Zipped across the NYS Thruway, exiting at Herkimer and headed down route 28 towards Oneonta. Snow covered hills everywhere contrasting with many leaves still on the trees with some decent color still abound. Quite the mixture to say the least. Stopped in Milford ... "Home of the Wildcats" at a diner called Jackie's for breakfast and then took off for the Oneonta campus. The setting for the soccer field at Oneonta might be the best one we play on all year. Athletic Center in one "endzone," a gentle slope on the sideline away from the respective benches, trees on the far side providing a nice backdrop and an excellent pressbox in the middle for taping the games and calling out the goals.

The day was brisk but not unbearable as Geneseo got on the board in a hurry. Kelly Bergin received a nifty feed and the Knights were up barely five-minutes into the contest. Great start! Oneonta is not the powerhouse they were in the past when they dominated league play but still a respectable program. The first half featured some rugged play, some tight action and it ended with Geneseo up by the lone, 1-0 tally. A solid contingent of Geneseo parents were on hand, as always, to cheer on the team and things were looking good at the break.

Second half play was quite different as a side wind embarked on the field as did snow. Heading directly across the playing field at the two teams gathered on the sidelines. Not a fun second period for fans to endure, not terrible, but rough. With plenty of scoring opportunities by both squads in the second stanza it easily could've been a 4-3 game. Either way! Ah yes, soccer. As it was there was no scoring and the Knights were victorious in Oneonta again. Virtually as soon as the game ended, and the handshake line was complete, it was off to the athletic center for warmth. I've always found it amazing that the most important games of the year in soccer (and football) are often played in the worst weather around here. The girls are wearing flip-flops to games in August-September and on this Saturday they had on football-style parkas for warmth as the snow swirled in the playoff contest.

With the win Geneseo advanced to the second round for a date with Cortland, the #1-seed. Geneseo beat them in that 2009 title game but since then the Red Dragons have won three straight games ... 1-0, 1-0, 1-0. The two were set to play in Cortland yesterday (11/2) with the finals set for this Saturday. Geneseo now has an overall mark of (14-4-1) as they drilled Elmira earlier in the week and might be able to receive an at-large berth to the NCAA's if they were to make it to the conference championship and lose. Might. Have no idea strength of schedule as compared to other programs in a similar situation.

After chatting with some of the players and Coach Wiley it was soon time to head home. The Verdino's off to Brooks BBQ first, parents scattering in every direction and Steph Bergin has two totes for me compliments of my daughter Lauren! Great. One filled with bricks. Another solid day, a fun day despite the weather and a good game to watch with a great outcome! Can't make Cortland game so hoping for win to perhaps watch championship tilt on Saturday.

Adviser, AU Pep Band

FOR THE RECORD

Records were made to be broken.

Penn State's 10-7 win over Illinois Saturday gave Coach Joe Paterno 409 career football coaching wins, breaking the Division I coaching mark of 408 career wins held by Eddie Robinson of Grambling. This is Joe Pa's 46th season.

To find a coach who's been at it longer than Paterno, one needs to turn to Division III. Head Coach John Gagliardi (pronounced Guh-lahr-dee) is in his 59th season of coaching football at St. John's University (Collegeville, MN). He got his start with a four-year stint at Carroll College in Helena, Montana. And, while Paterno was getting the Division I record on Saturday, Gagliardi got coaching win No. 482 as his Johnnies ran all over Carleton, 47-14.

Meanwhile, Alfred University Coach Dave Murray, now in his 14th season at the helm, got his 91st win with the Saxons, 24-17, Saturday at Rochester's Fauver Stadium. His record at Alfred is now 91-53-0, while overall, including stints at Cortland State and Lebanon Valley, he's at 135-93-1.

Speaking of records, AU senior placekicker Eric Rockwood, a graduate of Allegany-Limestone Central School, is certainly getting his kicks in while rewriting the Saxon record book. How many rocks would Rockwood kick if Rockwood would kick rocks? If he has his way, he'd like to kick his way into the NFL.

Rockwood matched the school record for most field goals in a game (4) with kicks from 24, 26, 37 and the game-winner from 29 in AU's 32-29 overtime win over Hartwick. That mark is shared by Tim Peters in 1986, Kris Johnson in 1982 and Don Hockenberry in 1971. At last count, Rockwood was tied for sixth in the nation this year for field goals per game, at 1.57, among Division III kickers.

The ginger-haired Boston Red Sox fan, son of Steven and Mary-Ann Rockwood of Allegany, earlier this season eclipsed Chris Reynolds' career Point After Touchdown (PAT) record of 144. Rockwood currently has 156 extra points...and counting.

He already had broken Reynolds' record for consecutive PATs (48) with 50 straight, sandwiching a few kicks around his perfect 2009 season when he was 47-for-47. He had the benefit of playing in 13 games in 2010 when he made 56 PATs, the most in a season by a Saxon. Reynolds had held the mark at 48 PATs in 2007.

Maybe 13 is unlucky. Rockwood's attempt to match Chris Reynolds' single season field goal record (13) Saturday was his first miss after he had made 12 straight this season.

"I dont think 13 is unlucky," Rockwood said, "It was just a missed kick."

A stalwart for the Saxons since earning the starting spot as a freshman, he missed a 44-yard attempt at Rochester that had the distance but was just wide left. In the third quarter, he had connected on a 22-yarder to give AU a 24-7 lead.

That field goal was set up in part by his excellent punting. At Rochester Saturday, he averaged 38.4 yards for five punts—three of them inside the 20—with successive punts downed at the 2- and 1-yard lines, respectively.

Rockwood earned Empire 8 Special Teams Player of the Week honors after the Hartwick game. In his first game since being inserted as the starting punter, he averaged 41.4 yards on five punts, with three landing inside the Hartwick 20-yard line. He made both extra point attempts and all four field goal attempts, including the game-winning 29-yarder in overtime.

Rockwood's Homecoming game-winning kick was his greatest thrill, but a close second was the 31-yard field goal with 7 seconds remaining that lifted AU to a 31-28 win over St. John Fisher at Growney Stadium back in 2009.

With two games and perhaps an ECAC bowl game to go, Rockwood would like to top 13 field goals for the season.

After that, he's set his sights on an NFL special teams combine with hopes of earning a paycheck for kicking rocks.

"I met a kicking specialist who said he thought I could kick in the NFL," the accounting major said, "He gave me a kicking tip that has made a world of difference for me this year."

He'd like to use his accounting degree to account for his NFL paycheck. But for now, he's counting up the field goals and waiting on the sidelines, waiting for Coach Murray's call for "Field Goal!"

EXTRA POINTS: Neither team could mount much of a ground attack Saturday. AU finished with just 75 yards rushing, while the 'Jackets had 93. Total yardage was nearly even with UR getting 306, AU 305...Austin Dwyer (Hornell) netted 42 yards rushing on 14 carries. T.J. Kilcarr (Nanuet/Clarkstown South) was 16-of-25 passes for 181 yards, while freshman wide receiver Christian Smith (Lackawanna) was 2-of-2 for 49 yards and a touchdown...A majority of the crowd at Fauver Stadium Saturday were Saxon supporters. With the AU roster filled with local high school products, the team enjoys a good following...Saxons (5-3) travel to Ithaca Saturday to face the Ithaca College Bombers (4-4) at Butterfield Stadium on South Hill. AU hasn't won on South Hill since 1982, a 20-7 win.
