Alfred State hosts Economic Development Summit

ALFRED—Educators and business/industry representatives gathered recently at Alfred State's Lake Lodge for an economic development summit: "Strengths of Academics and Business Partnerships." The event was sponsored by Alfred State (ASC), Corning Community College (CCC), and Jamestown Community College (JCC). Keynote speakers were Dr. Mark Estepp, Washington, DC, Metro Area of the Appalachian Regional Commission, who served as facilitator; Bill Cunningham, senior manufacturing engineer, Dresser-Rand (D-R), Wellsville, who spoke about the D-R/ASC partnership; Sandy Sleggs, assistant director of Human Resources, CUTCO Cutlery Corp., Olean, and James Stitt, president, CUTCO, who spoke about their company’s partnership with JCC; and Jesse Gugino, director, Continuing Education, JCC, who also spoke about that college’s relationship with CUTCO. Each panel member concurred that partnerships between academia and industry are mutually beneficial but that more can be done—must be done—to broaden the scope of the benefits to those communities they serve.

Class of 2010 graduates find jobs in their fields

ALFRED—The majority of Alfred University alumni in the class of 2010 responding to a campus survey report finding work in their undergraduate field of study. Alfred University’s McComsey Career Development Center has released the 2010 Destination’s report, sharing the results of a survey of students from the class of 2010 on their current employment and graduate school enrollment. “Despite the sluggish economy, it appears that our students continue to experience success following graduation,” said Mark McFadden, director of the Career Development Center. Seventy-nine percent of the class of 2010 responded to the survey. Of the undergraduate respondents, 55 percent have found employment in their field of study, while 41 percent are attending graduate school. Seventy-eight percent of graduate students who responded reported finding employment, with 18 percent continuing into another graduate program. “One trend that is not surprising is the number of students opting to attend graduate school,” McFadden commented, noting that this number has increased 4 percent from last year and 18 percent from 1998. “No doubt the challenging economic times with no foreseeable relief in sight play an important role in the higher trend towards obtaining an advanced degree.” Only 3 percent of students who responded to the survey reported that they were currently seeking employment, a decrease of 2 percent from 2009 and below the national unemployment rate for recent college graduates, which is 4.3 percent. Geographically, New York State attracted the largest number of 2010 graduates, with just over half of respondents remaining in the state, followed by Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Ohio, and Washington state. Students have also relocated internationally to countries including New Zealand, Japan, Lebanon, Denmark, and Sweden.

Sale of Kinfolk Foods totebags raises $500 for Comfort House

ALFRED—To celebrate Kinfolk’s 30th year in business in Alfred, Carla Cock sold tote bags that raised $500 to be donated to the Comfort House in Wellsville.

The bags were designed by Alfred artist Hope Zaccagni and silk-screened by Phil Curran at the Alfred Sports Center. Kinfolk is a natural foods store owned by manager-owners Elliott and Jessica Case since 1985. It offers a wide range of fresh produce (mostly locally grown), rice and beans, cooking supplies, vitamins and supplements, coffee and tea, green cleaning supplies, and many other items.

The store is open 7 days a week, 10-6 on weekends and 12 to 5 on weekdays. In addition, fresh fish, bagels, and breads are available Thursday afternoons, and customers can always special order any item in bulk. Kinfolk has served the Alfred community for 30 years and it’s still going strong. Thank you Kinfolk!

Almond group meets Sunday, Nov. 13

ALMOND—Craig Braack, Allegany County Historian and Al- mond native, will present his program, “The Legacy of Lincoln” at the Almond Historical Society’s annual meeting Sunday afternoon, November 13 at 3 p.m.

The Hagadorn House, located at 7 Main Street, Almond, will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. for tours. Mary Ellen Westlake, AHS exhibit chairman, is planning appropriate Civil War displays in the Linn Family Gallery to coincide with Craig’s talk.

At 2:30, the annual meeting will be held, at which time a report of the building committee will be presented by Kim Costello. On August 31, 2011, ground was broken for a 28 x 42 building, adjacent to Hagadorn House, which will house the AHS office and archives room. Constructed by David Gillette and Jeremy Robert, the build- ing is designed in the style of a one-room schoolhouse, with a single room for the small room present for an office in the upstairs of Hagadorn House. Handicap accessible, more secure from fire, the new location will provide much-needed space for the archives room workers and visitors. Don Jeffers of Jeffers Con- struction, assisted by Larry Perry, broke ground and dug the foun- dation for the project. At present, the building is buttoned up for winter, and plumbing and heating facilities will be installed soon.

Election of officers will also be held, and the annual report of President Lee A. Ryan will be given. Following the meeting, re- freshments will be served by AHS board of directors members Cindy Blake and Teresa Johnstun.

Plans are also being made for the annual Christmas Open House at Hagadorn House to be held on Sunday, December 4. From 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The theme chosen by Mary Ellen Westlake and Hag- adorn House decorations will be “Grandma and Grandma’s Toys.” A children’s choir led by Randi Corkey and accompanied by Donna Ryan will present a concert at 2 p.m. at the Alfred Union Church next door to Hagadorn House. Christmas cookies by Mary Jane Reid and hot wassail prepared by Kitty Baker will be served throughout the afternoon.

ALFRED—Alfred University, in conjunction with local fire companies and police, recently took a tabletop emergency drill concept one step further by conducting a full incident simulation between the multi-agency in- command centers on scene and John Dougherty, AU Public Safety Chief, incident commander at the scene.

Operational objectives and situation updates were communicated to the AU response team, and teams were rotated to assist in order to achieve the objectives. The operational period of two hours was compressed to 15 min- utes, and action teams reported their status to Dougherty at the designated intervals.

Haase noted a short de-briefing followed the drill with strengths and weaknesses summarized and documented. Strengths, weaknesses and rec- ommendations resulting from the simulation will be discussed during a more detailed de-briefing at some point in the near future.

The drill was largely a success, reported Haase, bringing to light potential problems that may exist in the event of an emergency, which will allow for internal changes to be made to the campus response plan while enabling better communications with local responders.

Alfred University is looking to host another drill in the near future that will encourage more partic- ipants.

Always on the lookout for a new chili recipe, I opened an e-mail that said Recipe4Living. Because I write a newspaper column about food, I am constantly sent e-mails trying to sell me something food related or just get me to mention their product in the paper. This recipe was in the message and it intrigued me because of the addition of lima beans. I’m not sure it really qualifies as chili since there are no tomatoes in it, and I don’t believe I have ever seen limas in a chili recipe. Anyway, I made it and served it to friends and it was a hit.

Crockpot Beans

1 can kidney beans
1 can pinto beans
1 lg. can pork and beans
1 can lima beans
1 lb. ground beef
½ lb. bacon
1 c. ketchup
¼ c. vinegar
1 med. onion
2 T. liquid smoke
salt and pepper to taste

Brown and drain ground beef. Open all cans of beans and add beef and beans to crockpot. Fry, drain, and crumble bacon and add to crockpot. Dice onion and add with remaining ingredients. Cook on low 4-6 hours, stirring occasionally. (I drained the limas, but not the other beans.)

Tomato-less chili with lima beans a hit

Last weekend, we spent two gloriously beautiful days in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. As Bob says, we like to have mini-adventures, and this was a very sweet one. As we were ascending a hill, we came up behind traffic moving very slowly. Ahead, we suddenly saw, against the beautiful blue sky, a white plume of...steam, not smoke. We were moving so slowly behind this gorgeous steam engine that I was able to jump out of the car and run up the slope to catch it. What a sight!

Basic utility vehicle makes its maiden voyage

ALFRED—The award-winning 2008 BUV (basic utility vehicle) created by Alfred State College mechanical engineering seniors, under the guidance of their project advisers, SUNY (State University of New York) Distinguished Service Professor and Department Chair Dr. Edward Tezak, and Ray Gleason, instructional support technician, has finally reached its destination: Kananga, Congo.

BUVs are, according to the Institute for Affordable Transportation (IAT), simple, rugged vehicles that can carry 1,200-pounds of cargo. Their purpose is to help meet peoples’ everyday needs at the ends of the earth. More than cars, BUVs are geared to provide opportunity and freedom, promote trade, and reduce poverty in rural areas of developing countries.

A BUV should be able to be assembled almost anywhere, by almost anyone. The necessary equipment is also very simple: even small repair shops should have the tools to build a BUV. Using primarily off-the-shelf parts, the unassembled BUV skid pack will cost about $1,300 before duties and freight. They are designed for warm climates, slow speeds (up to 20 mph), and unpaved rural roads.

One major challenge in 2008 was to design a three-wheeled vehicle based on the rear clip of a small pick-up truck, with a school bus attachment which connects to the rolling chassis. The bus is intended to serve school children and orphansages in Africa. Tezak received a message, that after much time and red tape, the BUV reached its destination where it will be used as a mobile library.

Pictured here, this group of BUV “fans” watched as the ASC vehicle made its maiden voyage!
According to Dawkins (Who’s don’t the talkin’) If Jesus were living today, He’d think it was odd To believe in a God Of whom he’s the son (so they say).

With steadfast reliance On logic and science, He’d “see the light,” Dawkins insists; Imagine a man So divine (if you can), Because (you may know) He believed he was God in the flesh; As these Jesuses go, With such creed-heeding while His religion would fall with a great crèche.

So this clear contradiction One who is, thinks he’s not? That’s absurd. He’d be sayin’s to Dawkins, Official Newspaper of the Village of Alfred, the Town of Alfred

College honors Charles Joyce

Alfred—Smiles were the order of the day recently as Charles P. (Charlie) Joyce, president, Otis Eastern Service, Inc., Wellsville, was presented with the Alfred State College “Presi- dent’s Medalism” at its annual President’s Society Dinner.

Presentation was made by College President Dr. John M. Anderson and Alfred State College President’s Council Chair Patricia K. Fogarty. The medalism, a replica of the one the president wears during annual convocation cere- monies, is “awarded to those who have made outstanding contributions to Alfred State College. The College recog- nizes and commemorates the ef- forts of supporters and advocates dedicated to the mission of Al- fred State.”

In his remarks, Anderson noted that “Charlie has always worked closely with the Applied Technology department in Wellsville, often supporting the college with access to equipment and special items, such as crane operators. He was instrumental in helping to work directly with the IUOE (International Union of Operating Engineers) at the local and national levels and setting up and attending meetings with national and local representatives. He continues to give Alfred State College access to his larger heavy equipment for training exercises in our heavy equipment operations program.”

Charlie participated in the planning for the 40th An- niversary of the Applied Technol- ogy Center, Wellsville. Based on his ideas, the college instituted an annual “Taste of Wellsville” program to attract both faculty and local merchants host program events and food tasting, attracting approximately 800 visitors to the campus.

Anderson continued, “Charlie Joyce quietly supports the community, and it is very difficult to track all the private things he does for the community and the region. He is well deserving of this recognition, because the criteria by being active nation- ally, regionally, and locally and needs to be publicly recognized for his giving of both time and financial support.”

Otis Eastern, founded in 1936, is one of the nation’s leading heavy construction companies with an annual revenue of $33 million. The company operates in more than 30 states, with offices in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Minnesota, and Oregon. The company is a subsidiary of Otis Industries, Inc., an $8 billion company headquartered in Wellsville, New York.

Joyce is a resident of Wellsville where he lives with his wife Sherry Walton. The couple has two children, both re- cent college graduates, Casey and Anna.
Boy Scouts scout for food Saturday

ALFRED—Troop 19 Boy Scouts of America and Pack 1026 Cub Scouts on Saturday, Nov. 5 kicked off its annual Scouting for Food drive by placing bags on doors in the Alfred and Almond area. This is the largest service project our local scouts do each year.

Scouts will pick up your food donations on Saturday, Nov. 12 early in the morning. Place donations in the bags needed outside doors for quick pick up beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 12.

If your donation misses the scout pickup, please take it to the nearest food pantry. All food collected will stay in our local communities. Food Pantries.

Food donated may include canned items such as vegetables, meat, chili, soups, juices, and baby items. Boxed or bagged meals and pastas are also welcome. The ideal food donation bag would include one of each. Please, nothing perishable or in a glass container. Monetary donations cannot be accepted.

Scouting has always stepped up to provide needed services outside our community. There are children and adults in our local communities that do not have enough food each day to meet basic nutritional needs. With this drive, especially right before Thanksgiving, we hope to ensure that there is enough food to go to local food pantries to help feed those in need.

Community Chest Drive

Drive at 71.2% of goal

Dear COMMUNITY:

The Community Chest Appeal is now in the latter phase of the campaign and may be in jeopardy. We are in need of your contributions in order to avoid possible reductions to services. This is the second year of our goal (other things), that Ambassadors may also be as well equipped, that elderly will be forced to pay for Lifeline assistance, that the Alfred Station Fire Department will not be able to accept.

The drive at 71.2% of goal.

We are asked occasionally what is the difference between the Alfred Station Community Chest and the United Way. The Community Chest dedicates our funds primarily to the local community. The campaign or overhead expenses for the Chest amount to less than 1% of our 2011 goal of $34,360 in support of local charities.

As of this week, we have received donations and pledges totaling $24,463 towards that goal. It is uncertain whether or not we will be able to reach our final goal. Please, as many as possible.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to those of you who have already made a commitment to the campaign; and, we ask those of you who have not yet made a donation or pledge to join your friends and neighbors in making our drive a success. If, for some reason, you did not receive a pledge card, donations may be left at the Alfred Pharmacy in Alfred, the Canadice Country Store in Alfred Station, or may be mailed to Alfred-Station Community Chest, Box 665, Alfred, NY, 14802. We look forward to your support.

Sincerely,
Your Community Chest Board

Legislators recognize Area Foundation

BELMONT—The Allegany County Board of Legislators recognized the Allegany Area Foundation at a recent meeting, making a donation to the organization and granting privilege of the floor to Doug Roorbach, executive director of the ACAF.

Roorbach thanked Curt Cran dall, chairman of the board, as well as each of the members for their regular support. “I know that you have been long-time supporters of the Foundation,” he said, “and I want you to know that we do not take that for granted, especially in these difficult economic times.”

Crandall noted that the legislators raise money for their “flower fund,” from which the donation came, through activities such as their annual clam bake, and then donate some of the money for worthy causes in the county. “This is not taxpayer money,” he said, adding that the legislators are especially pleased to support nonprofit organizations whose impact is primarily in Allegany County.

“Last year the Foundation gave over $200,000 in scholarships to 42 of Allegany County’s students,” Roorbach said, “and granted thousands more to organizations as diverse as Allegany Arc and the Genesee River Wildlife Project. We have endowment funds for the SPCA, Cuba Hospital and several libraries in the county, too.”

He told the story of the Bartoo family, who left a $100,000 gift to the Wirt Historical Society, in honor of the work of the Foundation’s first executive director, who retired in the spring.

The scholarship was presented as part of the 33rd annual Majors Night, during which alumni of the department’s degree programs were invited to discuss their careers and offer advice to current students. The SUNY Oneonta Department of Earth and Atmospheric Science offers some of the college’s fastest-growing programs. In the past two years, the number of students pursuing majors in earth science, geology, meteorology, water resources and earth science education increased by 45 percent.

CATCH ME IF YOU CAN

After indulging in more than a fifty year addiction to them, about three months ago I found myself without any small, furry, caged animals. The reason: the gerbil I had owned for a few days had escaped his cage. I have had many kinds of animals in my life: two dogs, a hamster, two hamsters, two cats and a fish. Now I follow a recipe when doing his housekeeping. First, I grab one gerbil, and attach a lid with breathing holes. Two of our friends contribute theirs to these also account for his contrariness.

ePLACE offers November classes

By RIMA O’CONNOR

ALFRED—Alfred Box of Books ePLACE offers the following classes for November:

Prepare for Cyber Monday: Find Deals and Shop Online With Confidence—4:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 17.

We all know about Black Friday, but did you know there is also an online shopping day called Cyber Monday? It takes place the Monday after Thanksgiving, when many online stores offer good deals at certain times throughout that day. In this class we will talk about how to follow these special offers strategically (and there is a strategy!) in order to get the best deals possible. Then you will learn how to place your orders safely online. (If you are already comfortable with this part of the process, you are welcome to leave the class early.) Anyone who attends this class will also receive a list of local businesses that have lots of great gift ideas.

Get Free Books for Your Kindle—4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 30.

Now you can borrow library books by downloading them directly to your Kindle, or use the free Kindle app to do the same thing with your computer. Once you take this class, you’ll be able to hole up this winter and let it snow while you settle in with a cup of something hot and new that book you pulled off the Internet from home.

Participants in all classes need to have basic mouse and keyboard skills unless otherwise specified. For more information or to register for a class, call or visit the Alfred Box of Books, 607-587-9290, I West University Ave. in Alfred, or send an email to mullings@tns.org.

Columbia prof to deliver Lefkowitz Lecture

ALFRED—Professor Marianne Hirsch of Columbia University will deliver the second annual Leonard and Saradona Lefkowitz Lecture in Jewish Studies at Alfred University at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 15 in Nevens Theatre in the Powell Campus Center. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Entitled “Fantasies of Return: Memory and Postmemory After the Holocaust,” Professor Hirsch’s illustrated lecture will explore memories of the vibrant Jewish community of Czernowitz (in modern day Ukraine), which, though vanishing after World War II, left an inspired legacy in Jewish literature, culture, and memory. A reception will immediately follow the lecture where audience members can engage Dr. Hirsch in further conversation.

Dr. Leonard (AU ’57) and Saradona Lefkowitz endowed this lectureship within the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences to help cultivate knowledge and understanding about Jewish cultural and historical experiences.

Dr. Mary McGee, Dean of the College, notes that “Dr. and Mrs. Lefkowitz have had a lifelong devotion to Jewish heritage, culture and study, and this annual lectureship allows the Lefkowitzes to share their passions with Alfred University on an ongoing and long term basis.” In choosing someone to deliver this annual lecture, the Lefkowitz Lecture Selection Committee, which includes faculty and students, looks to find an outstanding scholar and engaging speaker who will have broad appeal across our Alfred Community.

Dr. Hirsch is such a scholar, her work, which integrates multiple disciplines, illuminates our understanding of cultural memory through her examination of history, literature, art, family, and photography.

Marianne Hirsch is the William Peterfield Trent Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Columbia University and Professor in the Institute for Research on Women and Gender. Born in Bucharest, Romania, she received her undergraduate and graduate degrees at Brown University, then taught at Dartmouth College before joining the Columbia University faculty. Author and editor of more than a dozen books and numerous articles, she is a sought after speaker. She is particularly well-known for her work in feminist studies and her books on photography. Among her books are The Mother/ Daughter Platte Family Frame: Photography, Narrative, and Postmemory: The Family Gaze; and Conflicts in Feminism. Her book The Generation of Postmemory: Visual Culture After the Holocaust, will be published in 2013.

Copies of some of her books, including her most recent book, co-authored with Leo Spitzer, Ghosts of Home: The Afterlife of Czernowitz in Jewish Memory and History, will be available in the Alfred University bookstore in the week leading up to the lecture. Ghosts of Home is a communal memoir, providing insight into the city where her parents grew up and survived the Holocaust.

Recipient of several prestigious awards and fellowships, Dr. Hirsch has served as the Director of the Institute for Research on Women and Gender, and Co-Director of the Center for the Critical Analysis of Social Difference at Columbia University. She is currently the second vice president of the Modern Language Association of America. Her course topics range around her areas of interest and expertise: “Introduction to Women and Gender Studies,” “Trauma, Memory and Performance,” “Feminism and Diaspora,” and “Rights and Return.” “The Novel and Feminist/Queer Literary Theory,” “Contemporary Middle East and the Holocaust” and “Heroines/Disaster: Novels and Feminist Literary Theory.”

Guitar legend to perform in Angelica

ANGELICA —Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café (22 W. Main St., Angelica) welcomes local guitar legend Brian Voorheis of Friendship, on Friday, Nov. 11. Saturday’s performer is pianist Annie Wells of Rochester, playing original jazz and pop tunes with smooth, polished vocals. Both shows run from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There is no cover charge, but guests are expected to contribute to the musician’s tip jar.

Brian Voorheis will rock the room on his guitar with harmonica and vocals, playing folk, blues and rockabilly music that spans more than 40 years of an impressive musical career. VOORHEIS has performed at folk clubs, ballrooms, bars and festivals around the San Francisco bay area in the ‘60s and ‘70s, including the Avalon and Fillmore ballrooms. During that time he opened for The Grateful Dead and Hot Tuna; for The Flying Burrito Bros. & Big Mama Thornton; for Charlie Musselwhite and Dan Hicks.

He co-wrote “Rockabilly Funeral” with Blackie Farrell which was recorded separately by Commander Cody, Bill Kirchen, and the Wranglers. He marries his talent and intuition with the experience of years of playing with a ton of notable musicians. The result is remarkable music.

On Saturday, Nov. 12, the café is pleased to welcome back composer and performer Annie Wells of Rochester. Annie’s style combines a rich blend of jazz and popular songs influenced by such well-known artists as Billie Holiday, Miles Davis; Aretha Franklin; George Gershwin; and Blackie Farrell. Jeff Speck, of the New York Times, says that she has “one of the nicest singing voices around” and the late, great Chuck Cunninale said her voice “is amazing.” Ms. Wells has also performed in the Rochester area since she was seventeen... Over the past year she has performed in Rochester at The Little Theatre; The Four Walls Gallery; and Abilene; as well as at the Fulton Springs Library as part of its Tunies by the Tracks series. This year she released her fourth CD titled, “Fell Me”. Learn more about Annie’s music at www.annewells.com For more information, please visit www.black-eyed-susan.com or phone 585-466-3399.

Shared art exhibit featured in Angelica

ANGELICA—The Angelica Sweet Shop and Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café are pleased to present a shared exhibit of multiple works in watercolor, oil and pen & ink by former Cuba, NY resident Barbara S. Learn. Learn studied art at The Pratt Institute in the 1930s and worked for a time as an apprentice under the tutelage of Robert Noel Blair, a prolific Western New York artist. She worked in a variety of media including oil and pen and ink, but she is known for her vibrant, fluid, natural landscapes in watercolor. Her work has been shown at Buffalo’s Albright-Knox and Lakeview galleries.

She painted with the North Truro, MA art Association and the Olean Art Association, and received many awards for her work. She was diagnosed with leukemia while in her 50s, and lost her battle in 1973.

Her daughter Katie Williams of Cuba and her granddaughter Barbara Williams are working cross-country from New York to California to make these original paintings available for public viewing. Framed and matted prints and note cards from the original paintings are available at both exhibit locations.

The Angelica Sweet Shop is open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and until 7 p.m. on Fridays.

Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café opens for meals at 11 a.m. Monday through Friday and at 7 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

For more information or to inquire about exhibiting your work in Angelica, call 585-466-7070 or e-mail info@angelicasweet-shop.com

Alfred State coding program gets approval

ALFRED—Alfred State College is pleased to announce that its coding & reimbursement (CRS) certificate program, a comprehensive coding program, has been awarded the status of approval by the American Health Information Management Association (AHIMA) in conjunction with the American Medical Association, CPT Coding and Reimbursement Program. This approval is effective for five years: Sept. 16, 2011, and expires on Sept. 1, 2016.

The AHIMA approval identifies comprehensive coding education programs which have been evaluated by a peer review process against national minimum standards for entry-level coding professionals. This process allows academic institutions, healthcare organizations, and private companies to be acknowledged as providing an AHIMA-Approved Coding Certificate Program.

The approval designation assures healthcare providers that graduates of the Alfred State coding program have the necessary job skills to attain success in entry-level coding positions. Students are guided through a comprehensive coding curriculum providing them with more than 264 hours of instruction in ICD-9-CM and CPT coding and reimbursement methodologies.

Name that street! That’s the feeling of the Alfred Village Planning Department this month. For three new streets in the upper Sayers Street area of the village, Mayor John Jacob called for residents interested in submitting names for the streets to make it writing to the board. The board also discussed using the name “Hunting Hills” for the new development and agreed that the extension of Sayers Street would be henceforth known merely as Sayers Street.

SOUTH ALFRED, N.Y. — Dennis Dinger, assistant fire chief in Al-fred, visited the Alfred-Almond fourth graders to tell them about fire safety and prevention recently. He demonstrated the equipment used so children wouldn’t be afraid of a fire and how to rescue them in the event of a fire. Here, he shows how a fireman would crawl on the floor to rescue people from a burning building.

ALMOND—Patrick Greaney, Travis Harvey, Michael Timbrook, and Zachary Woughter represented Alfred-Almond Central School as delegates to the American Legion Boys State convocation at Morrisville State College near Syracuse.

The A-A delegates were sponsored by the Alfred-Almond American Legion Post 370. Delegates to Boys State were chosen by their schools for their leadership, character, scholarship, and service. They joined over 1100 delegates from throughout New York.

Boys State and Girls State are sponsored annually by the American Legion in each state. Prominent graduates of Boys State include President George W. Bush, John F. Kennedy, and Ronald Reagan.

Boys State is primarily a leadership action program in which top high school juniors participate in a course in practical government. Delegates join a political party and elect officials to all levels of government - from town and county to state legislature and the judiciary. They will also elect delegates to the national Boys or Girls Nation in Washington, D.C.

In addition to government, delegates can participate in a variety of sports, publish a daily newspaper, and play in a marching band. The week culminates in a review ceremony at Morrisville. Delegates leave with a working knowledge of governmental organization and the concept that quality government depends on our active participation. Interested students should contact their counselor, school principal, or (local representative) in the spring of their junior year to be considered for next year’s Boys State program.

"Cougarts" are also in order for Coach Gary "Doc" Moore (A-A) as his Alfred State women are national champs in cross country! The ladies traveled to Westfield, MA and emerged victorious in the one of those coaches that is constantly recruiting, on the road all over the place and to see all of that come together with a champi- onship and award is most fitting.

The Hornell Red Raiders (10-0) are sectional football champs for the 11th time after they drilled Livonia in the "B" finals, 58-7. The two-time defending state champs will play Alden (10-0) next from the Buffalo region in quarter-final action.

Meanwhile, the Wellsville Lions (8-2) football team are sec- tional champs for the first time. Wellsville beat Wayland-Cohocton by the slimmest of goals in sectionals, 7-6. Coach Moore ... an A-A Hall of Famer, was named NJCAA Coach of the Year. I would certainly hope so. "Little" biased here as Moore is a friend of mine but an honor beyond-richly deserved. The SUNY Geneseo women's soccer team (14-4-2) lost in the semifinal round to #1 seeded Cortland, at Cortland, 3-2 in PK's after a scoreless regulation and two overtimes. Ouch. A very competitive and tight conference. Cortland then fell in the first round of the New Paltz, 3-0. That loss probably cost Coach Wray's team a shot at the Division III NCAA championship. Lack, Cortland got bid as did Stevens (champs) and Ithaca from the EC. The Red Dragons finished as the #9 seed and in the conference semi-finals. Also in is William Smith (1.0-0-2) ... ranked #2 in the country behind Messiah, obviously. Was hoping to hit the road again this weekend with Randy Beale from Pennfield to watch some more Geneseo soccer. Not to be.

3L is playing on a soccer team in NYC thanks to Mike Jock, brother of former Geneseo teammate, Rian. She happy to be playing soccer again as she gears up for a 10k run in Cincy on Thanksgiving Day.

The Brooklyn Pickle.

Off to Alfred this Saturday with Nealon to watch some more AU football.

This week is a salute to my Uncle Butch and veterans ga- rden on Veterans Day, November 11th. Thank You!

This week is a salute to my Uncle Butch and veterans ga- rden on Veterans Day, November 11th. Thank You!
Where do I start this week in the "local" world of sports? With Gary "Doc" Moore's NCHA championship women's cross country team at Alfred State College? Or with the 21-19 victory by the Alfred Saxons on the football field at Ithaca? Yes, At Ithaca! Or with fact that the Alfred-Almond girls and boys soccer teams each grabbed a sectional trophy over the weekend past? Whew. Some great action and achievements by local teams, high school and college.

Will begin with the Alfred University victory over the Bombers in Ithaca mainly because I went to the game. Little easier to write about an event you were actually at rather than getting details from others or just reading about it. Not that I ever do that! Anyhow, it was a pretty eventful game as Nealon wanted to get some shots during warmups. Plenty early as Nealon wanted to get some shots during warmups. Leaving me time to settle in along the fence, near the Saxons bench where we came in to wait for Nealon. Fully expected to see AU-Ithaca only play there every-other-year.

Although Nealon didn't play because he was still having a rare, medically serious episode for them, coming into the contest at (4-4). Alfred was only slightly better at (5-3) but perhaps gearing up for an ECAC Bowl berth with a key week for the Bluejays. Even "tougher" one for Fillmore. Both of those teams tied with Cornell for top honors in the intercollegiate and university IHSAA participation at its first Intercollegiate (IHSAA) show of the 2011 season (Oct. 22). The newly formed team is new to the conference for the first time at Alfred University.

"I think the team's performance was remarkable," said head Western Coach Joe Salomone of his team. "They went up against some serious varsity players. Even some others from well-established programs like Cortland and Elmira. The Saxons dominated the entire game and it was a great win for us."

The newly constituted Alfred State College team was recently formed as a "club" team under the direction of Vicki Bolton, AU AU-Y Distinquished Teaching Professor, and Jessica Hutchins, lecturer, both in the Department of Physical Education and Veterinary Technology.

Long-time West Almond amateur golfer Chad Merrell and 4-year varsity player Marjorie Dougherty was tapped as Western Coach to ready the 17-member team for the annual AU horse show. Nealon's horse show season (Oct. 22-March 3).

The Saxons' horse show team at the show, which will be held at the Great Western Equestrian Center in Westfield. There is a lot of buzz on campus about the first period I heard a familiar voice from a guy standing about a mile away. It was Terry Williams talking about the game. And I was off to Ithaca on a beautiful fall day in November with noted area photographer, Leo Nealon. He is on "double assignment." He was also one of the camera operators of the game. After stopping near Geneva for breakfast at Magees Diner we got there plenty early as Nealon wanted to get some shots during warmups. Leaving plenty of time to settle in along the fence, near the Saxons bench where we came in to wait for Nealon. Fully expected to see AU-Ithaca only play there every-other-year.

Merrill in Alfred. Austin Dwyer of Hornell had a good game as did Moses or Dave Snyder or Woody & Sue Lange. Saw none of them.

Wow! Entirely different as AU-Ithaca only play there every-other-year.
