

Alfred Closes Championship Football Season

Six Victories Out of Seven Games Gives Her Lead of Minor New York Colleges

"...Behind this list of forty eastern football teams come Bates, Maine, Delaware, Stevens, Columbia, Trinity, ALFRED, Bucknell, Worcester Tech., Rensselaer Poly., Rochester, Vermont, Norwich, Franklin and Marshall, New Hampshire, Connecticut Aggies, Rhode Island, Buffalo and St. Bonaventure," so reads the New York Sun for December 2.

When Alfred made a record of four victories out of six games in the 1915 season and stood with 105 points against her opponents 41, the school was elated, praises were sounded for all, and a vision of a wider known and famous Alfred was seen.

In spite of all the enthusiasm and aspirations, shown by the student body then, things looked bad for a winning combination when the squad gathered in September. The men were light, the squad was small and the school seemed to be invaded with the fatal idea of taking a winning team for granted. The Coach met disappointment on every hand and less a man than he would have given up in despair.

Little daunted, however, he set out to put to test his maxim that "hard work will win." Taking as a foundation Capt. Kirke, King, Bliss, Decker and Boyd of last year's Varsity and calling in Witter, Williams, Crawford and Brainard from the 1915 reserves, he began his system of training. One of the most noticeable points in this, is that it shows a yellow streak in a man before his first night's practice is over. A week of it will put a man in fine physical condition and the fitness of the men which it placed on the gridiron for Alfred this year would be an honor to any Coach.

ROBERT E. WITTER AG '17, 1917 VARSITY FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

At a meeting of the football men Nov. 28th, Robert E. Witter, Ag. '17, of Warsaw was elected to lead the 1917 Varsity football team. Mr Witter has made a name for himself this year in the fullback position. Weighing only 138 pounds, he played the heavy man's place all year with most satisfactory results. He always came out of the pile smiling and many yards from where he started. To see him without a bloody nose was uncommon.

With such a bundle of energy at their head next year's team is bound to be a winner. Mr. Witter will enter the College next fall and it is hoped will bring his brother, who played an end position on the Syracuse eleven this year, with him.

On the day before the first game of the season, Capt. Kirke left school unexpectedly. He not only left a hole in the center of the back field but demoralized the whole squad. King '17, was appointed to take his place and playing at full back a Frosh, Reid, who had not been out to a practice before, the Varsity faced its first opponent, which was no less than the heavy semi-professional team from Lancaster. The 14 to 6 victory was a surprise to all and was directly traceable to Lobaugh, who began his good work at this early date by completing two passes for touchdowns.

What to do for a regular full back for the Rochester game was a question important. MacClelland had come back to Ag School and the Coach, with keen foresight, questioned at the time, put Witter 138 pounds, who had played a tackle in the Lancaster game, in to the place. The result of the game

INTERMURAL BASKET BALL

First Game Tomorrow Night

The basket ball is in the air but will not settle into Varsity hands until after Christmas vacation.

In the meantime, Physical Director Wiske plans to improve the time and uncover possible material by an intermural tournament. The upper classes will all compete before vacation and the exciting underclass contests will be early next year.

Games will be played on Wednesday and Saturday nights, both men and women teams entering.

The schedule:

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13, 1916

College men, Juniors vs. Frosh
N. Y. S. A. men, Seniors vs. Juniors

SATURDAY, DEC. 16, 1916

Everyone is going to get behind this movement and make an exciting series. Schedules of practicing times will be found on the various bulletin boards

Fiat Lux Fair Lifts Debt

Great Financial and Social Success---$250 Cleared---Programs Excellent

"The world helps him who helps himself" was well backed by the manner in which the town and school people supported the Fiat Lux Fair which came last Wednesday and Thursday evening. It was the climax of a long period of hard work on the part of a few people, who were loyally helped by all who were asked for aid

It was all a grand success. The hall was crowded both nights; the Ag school play was a brilliant affair; the international Minstrels, were clever, snappy and harmonious, the booths were well patronized and when the manager has collected all the various accounts, they will show about $355 receipts, from which a net profit of about $250 will appear after a final balance. This final report will be found in next week's Fiat.

"Miss Doulton's Orchids" on Wednesday evening, was a most excellently played comedy of misunderstanding. The trouble all started when Bess saw Owen buying orchids for an old flame of his and Kenneth's, a Miss Doulton—actress, when she had previously heard Kenneth on the day after his engagement to Polly, ask him to send Miss Doulton five dozen American Beauties. This implicated Ken and when she saw Miss Doulton receive the orchids, Owen was tangled in the deal. It came out all right when Gordon in order to make Bess forget that he had the "proposal habit" and prove man's honesty, cleared up the trouble, by finding that Ken had ordered the roses for a friend and Owen had changed the order to orchids as the florist did not have five dozen roses. The curtain dropped just too soon for the audience to see the last scene between Bess and Gordon.

Miss VanOrman, as Bess, had the most difficult part of the caste and deserves only praise for her work. The entire caste was well chosen and performed brilliantly. The difficult occasions demanding emotion and hysteria were excellently carried out by Miss Black, and Mr. Galloway, as leading man, took command of the inquest in a meritorious manner. The work of Miss Tuttle, in training the caste, was in a great part the cause of its success.

AG JUNIORS SUCCUMB TO FROSH

A 21 to 0 Score Registered by Team Of Veterans

The annual Frosh-Junior football game of the Ag School was played last Wednesday as scheduled. The day was typical of real football weather and the field was in fine shape and very fast. The game was full of excitement from start to finish and it is to be regretted that there was such a noticeable lack of support on both sides.

First quarter

The Frosh won the kick-off and kicked to the south end of the field. Galloway gathered in the pig skin and carried it to his six yard line. After making several unsuccessful attempts to buck the opponent's line the Juniors punted to the Frosh. Day received the ball and worked it down the field for 30 yards. The Juniors fought fiercely but Frosh were successful in making their downs. The Juniors held the Frosh at their 50 yard line until they received a punt which brought them a short gain. On the second down McConnell recovered a fumble for a touchdown. McConnell kicked the goal in great shape.

The Juniors received the kick-off and were well under way at their 60 yard line when the whistle blew for

FOUNDERS' DAY TOMORROW, INSTRUCTIONS AS TO PROCEDURE

Dr. John Balcom Shaw, President of Elmira College, will deliver the Founders' Day address, tomorrow at the regular Assembly period.

This annual ceremony is a very significant one in the school year, marking the initial appearance of the Seniors in the caps and gowns. The procedure of the event is somewhat complicated and is herewith explained so that all will know how to act. All classes will gather in the assembly room except the Seniors; as the speaker, faculty and seniors enter, the other classes rise. After the address, the freshmen pass out first, with the exception of the door holders, and

A very successful year is looked forward to under the leadership of its able officers.

WHITFORD RE-ELECTED GRADUATE MANAGER

Interscholastic Manager's Report Accepted

Langford C. Whitford '12, was re-elected athletic graduate manager at the December meeting of the Athletic Council Monday evening. His unanimous selection came after his expressed desire to be relieved from the exacting duties connected with the office and although the Council appreciated his viewpoint it could not act according to his suggestion simply because he seemed the only one to complete the work so ably started. Whitford has been, next to Sweetland, the biggest factor in Alfred's athletic rejuvenation, and by his untiring work has placed the athletics on a definite basis. A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of making the managership a salaried position. The work connected with it has come to be very extensive, consuming time beyond all justice to be performed gratuitously and the only thing that now stands in the way of making it a remunerative position, is the inability to devise some method to procure the money.

The report of Edward Saunders, manager of the 1915 Interscholastic Meet, was adopted and his recommendation that a change in management be made, discussed.

The Interscholastic report was in brief as follows:

The Eighth Annual Interscholastic

Field and Track Meet was held on the Alfred Field on Wednesday, May 24, 1916.

The Meet was the largest in history, 100 athletes registering from 22 different schools. More than usual interest was shown in the Speaking Contest, there being 13 men and 9 women speakers.

The financial report is as follows:

Amount in Fund.....	$176 08
Receipts from 1916 Meet.....	280 94
	<hr/>
	$457 02
Disbursements .....	$332 64
Receipts .....	280 94

Deficit of 1916 Meet.....	$ 51 70
Amount remaining in Fund...	$124 38

The deficit can be directly traced to the purchase of new hurdles ($47.50) and to the refunding to two schools of $20 as half of the traveling expenses incurred by them in coming part way to Alfred before, they could be reached and notified of the postponement of the Meet.

The postponement also, had much to do with the deficit; as the crowd, while large, was undoubtedly smaller than it would have been had the meet been held as planned.

The Meet has grown to such proportions and requires so much labor to manage, that it is unjust to ask a student to handle it. The greatest worry and work comes only two weeks before final examinations, and the yearly change in managers tends toward a lack of continuity and consistency and a strong recommendation is hereby made that some sort of graduate managership method be arranged whereby the students do the work but do not have to shoulder the responsibility when their greatest efforts are needed for the successful completion of their school's work.

DIRECTOR BINNS AT DEDICATION OF CERAMIC BUILDING, UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

"...The main address of the afternoon (of the dedication) was given by Prof. Charles F. Binns, director of the New York State School of Clay Working and Ceramics, and past president of the American Ceramic Society. He traced the history of ceramic art from the earliest time, when only burned bricks and abode walls were the creations of clay workers, through the creation of the finest pottery and porcelain of the present. Though the lecture was technical, it was embellished with bits of human interest that kept the theme alive."—The Daily Illini.

Director Binns with a subject "The History of the Ceramic Arts," had the principal address of the Session of Dedication of the new $150,000 building that has been built for the Department of Ceramic Engineering at the University of Illinois. The other speakers of the afternoon were Governor Dunne of Illinois, President Abbott of the Board of Trustees, and President James of the University.

The building is said to be the best equipped ceramic laboratory and lecture building in the world.

A joint meeting of all the Christian Associations was held Sunday evening in Agricultural Hall, with good attendance, to hear the delegate's report of the recent students' Conference at Cornell. Edward Saunders was the first speaker and he gave his impression of the general convention, discussing its scope and aims, and its bearing and connection with the worldwide mission movement. The successive speakers then gave the message of the prominent speakers at the conference.

Artha Sherman talked on the Rev. William Fetler, of Petrograd, Russia, an exile, banished because of his preaching against the state church, whose address was a living plea for Christian enlightenment throughout the world. The address of Joseph C. Robbins, Foreign Secretary of American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, was related by Miss Madyne Wilson, while Gladys Pidcock brought the message of Rev. George J. Geis of Burma, India, who is an authority on the awakening of the East. LaRue Hull spoke of Mr. Galloway's talk and announced that he would visit Alfred soon. Miss Elsie Binns' talk dealt with the address of Mr. J. Lovell Murray, Educational Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, which was an eloquent appeal for the work and its possibilities. Rev. Paul R. Abbott's address was the theme of Allen Witter's paper, which was a vivid description of the place the missions have assumed in China. Mildred Whitney brought the message from South America, giving a synopsis of Samuel G. Inman's talk. He is secretary of Continuation Committee of Latin American Congress and he urged a cooperative and directing policy for the United States dealings with South America, and Mexico in particular. Willard Sutton closed the meeting with a direct appeal to the support of the local associations in the mission work. Henry Hughes, president of the C. L. M. C. A. presided over the session.

"ALFRED MONTH" IN BUFFALO

Tea, Luncheon and Dinner Given

November was certainly "Alfred Month" in Buffalo, for in that time there occurred four social functions in that city for Alfred Alumni. A tea on election day for the women at the College Club, a luncheon given by Mrs. Leonard W. H. Gibbs and Miss Adalyn Ellis at the College Club in honor of President Davis, a dinner, also in his honor, by the men at the University Club and a dinner at the Y. M. C. A. during the New York State Teachers' Convention.

Forty-five different Alumni attended from one to three of these gatherings as follows: Pres. Davis, 2; Prof. David H. Childs, 2; Dr. Bessie Lee Gambrill, Rev. J. W. Crofoot, Rev. Andrew J. Purdy, Prof. Ford S. Clarke, Principals Elmer S. Pierce, 2; Frank C. Shaw, Wm. M. Dunn, Geo. A. Place, Hon. L. W. H. Gibbs, 3; Mrs. Jessie Mayne Gibbs, 3; H. B. Milward, Mrs. Fanny Bonham Milward, 3; Miss Adalyn Ellis, 2; Laura Shaw Chamberlain, 2; Margueritte Rodebaugh Ortman, Mildred F. Saunders, 2; Elizabeth Sullivan, 2; Mrs. Sullivan, Florence Lyman Shedd, Irene Martin Preis, Mrs. T. M. Davis, Howard S. Langworthy, Annis Rainy Langworthy, 2; W. N. Langworthy, Elnea L. Langworthy, Mrs. D. B. Langworthy, Helen Langworthy, Robert Corey, Eldyn Champlin, 2; Myrtle Evans, Ina M. Withey, Ethel M. MacLean, Helen A. Gardiner, Cecile E. Clarke, Mary Lee Stillman, Marian P. Stillman, Ruth A. Rogers, J. Pauline Peterson, Ruth E. Hunt, F. Olive Thomas, Nina E. Palmiter and H. B. Griffiths.

Buffalo also heard from Alfred last month as Pres. Davis was the November speaker before the Collegiate Alumnae at the College Club. He also spoke at Technical High, of which David H. Childs is principal, Seneca Vocational school, Elmer S. Pierce, principal, and before the Schoolmaster's Council.

Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, besides singing at the Alfred tea, sang at a special service at the Riverside M. E. Church.

At the N. Y. S. T. A. attended by 7000 teachers, Dr. Gambrill, Dr. P. E. Titsworth and Prof. Childs gave addresses.

Also one of Buffalo's three senators successful in the November election was an Alfred man, who was widely advertised during his campaign as a graduate of Alfred University.

The Buffalo papers have given a good deal of space to these events with last Sunday's Express write-up of the football season and team.

DR. COLVIN TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, will speak tonight in Kenyon Memorial Hall at eight o'clock on "The Prohibition Movement." Dr. Colvin, who has been secured by the local branch of the I. P. A., is one of the most able speakers on the prohibition platform today and has a message that is most vital. His preparation has been unusually thorough. Following his graduation from college he pursued five years of post-graduate work in three large universities, Columbia, Chicago and California. Here his studies in Constitutional Law and Politics, Economics, Sociology and allied subjects gave him a broad grasp of the great problems of the nation.

Dr. Colvin has spoken in 270 American and foreign colleges and is particularly adapted to work among college men. In addition to his lecture work, he is an author of note, having written much for magazines besides his work, "The Bicameral Principle in the New York Legislature." His years of travel and observation throughout the United States and Europe, and his constant study of the liquor and related problems have made him an authority on this most pressing public problem. You should avail yourself of this opportunity to hear Dr. Colvin.

The Glee Club appeared in full force following the last curtain and rendered the grand old "Soldiers' Chorus" from Faust, responding to an encore with "Silly Willie's" boat-rocking stunt. The Club has not received its first trimming and about thirty men were in the chorus.

After enjoying a liberal patronage at the booths the fair adjourned until Thursday evening.

The curtain then rose to the harmonious strains of the entire International Minstrel company. The opening medley was an energetic and well sung group of selections which put the audience in excellent humor and aroused their interest in the following program:

The jokes were excellent, snappy and too short to be tedious. Of the musical selections, those by Clausen and Mary Saunders were undoubtedly the best received. Harmonious and loose jointed they were most pleasant to hear or see.

Close behind them came Blumenthal with his Scotch ditty—a most interesting imitation of the famous Lauder.

The selection by Harrington and Ethel Smith, "Wilhelmina, I Vant You" was the prettiest of the evening. Their wooden shoe dancing act was a winner from the start.

Shofu's rendering of his national hymn was very well taken. Rarely is Alfred treated to the sounds of the Oriental tongues.

With the drop of the curtain, brisk trade started up on the floor of the hall—all that was left in the booths at 9:30 was put on the auction stand. For an hour Perkins' voice rang out with his "once, twice, sold" until the booths were empty and the people had spent nearly their last sou. An interesting part of the trade was in fortune telling by Lina Perkins '20, which was of a professional type.

The floor was then cleared and the younger folk enjoyed dancing until twelve. All were asked to stay to this and the gentlemen were asked to pay. Really, it was hard to do anything at the fair without paying for it.

Now that it is all over the Fiat Lux wishes to express its most hearty appreciation of the support given it by all; for the donations of the merchants; for the donations by the townspeople to the fancy work booth and to the food sale held Thursday afternoon in the Bank window; for the time spent by the students in the various parts of the fair; for the excellent music furnished by the orchestra made up of Robert Coon '17, Alice Cranston '18, Beatrice Wilcox '19, and Frobisher Lytle; for the willing aid given by the Frosh.

The success of the Fair was due to the untiring efforts of Manager Perkins, Hazel Parker and Marian Elliott.

The committee chairmen:
Manager—Ernest H. Perkins
Fancy work—Marian Elliott

ASSEMBLY ADDRESSES

The second of the series of addresses on literature planned for this year was given by Prof. Hart, Nov. 29, the subject being "The Illiad." She gave a very clear synopsis of the story of Homer's great classic and many scholarly comments on his style and ideals.

Prof. F. S. Clark spoke December 6, on Matthew Arnold's "Culture and Anarchy," as a supplement to the general plan being followed this year. The book is a protest against the increased materialism and industrialism that is obliterating all cultural tendencies.

—President Davis and Dean Main returned today from St. Louis, where they have been for a week, in attendance at the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

—The 1915-16 Year Book of the University has been received from the bindery. This is not the catalogue but contains the several reports of officers and departments of the University.

—The date of the annual banquet of the New York City branch of the Alumni Association has been set for February 21. The Syracuse branch will probably hold a banquet during Christmas vacation.

—On Saturday evening of Thanksgiving vacation, the Eta Phi men who remained in town entertained a number of their friends at an informal dinner party. Music and dancing were enjoyed the remainder of the evening.

—Corral Barney, ex-'16, who has been employed by the United States Rubber Co., located at Akron, Ohio, is suffering from a severe attack of tuberculosis of the lungs. At present he is in the Hornell Sanitarium, where he arrived from Akron, Saturday, accompanied by Dr. Walker and two nurses. He will probably either be taken to Raybrook or sent to Denver, Col.

SECOND ASSEMBLY DANCE BEST YET

Fifty-six couples crowded the floor at the second assembly given Tuesday evening, Nov. 28th, in honor of the football team and each of the first line squad was made a guest of honor. The decorations were most unique. Footballs bearing the scores of the season hung from the lights, an exact duplication of the large athletic scoreboard stood in the center of the stage and the floor was marked out with white wax to remind the heroes of the game of the gridion.

In the intermission, the election of Robert Witter as 1917 football captain was announced by Graduate Manager Whitford. The election had taken place Tuesday afternoon but the announcement was retained until the dance, the old hall never before housed such an uproar as followed. Mr. Witter rose from the gallery and thanked the men for the honor.

Prof. and Mrs. L. C. Whitford and Prof. and Mrs. Wingate acted as patrons. The decorations were in the hands of Edna Henry '20, and a following of Frosh.

Films developed and printed at the P. D. Q. Club. For further information "See Ham." Work guaranteed.

GLEE CLUB TO BEGIN ACTIVE WORK AFTER VACATION

Look Up The Possibilities Of a Date In Your Home Town

The Glee Club plans to begin active operations upon its return after Christmas vacation. Practice time has been doubled and with the good start that they showed themselves to have made, at their appearance during the Fiat Lux Fair, a fine program is assured.

No definite dates have been arranged and it is asked that those who go home over vacation look into the possibilities of a concert in their home town in the winter or spring.

See if there is not some organization which would be glad to manage the concert for a third of the receipts, and entertain the club over night. The speciality of the men this year will be glee work although enough other numbers will be introduced to vary the program.

ALFRED CLOSES CHAMPIONSHIP FOOTBALL SEASON

was a most pleasant surprise to all. Working in mid season form and rushing the Rochester team for a winning score in the first half, which was the way she won every game of the season, Alfred with her 140 pound back field, using green men and suffering from the loss of her captain, in one bound, jumped into prominence in the football circle of the minor colleges of New York. On this 27 to 0 victory is based her claim to the championship of this circle for it showed her superiority over Rochester who since then has won from Hamilton Clarkson Tech., Buffalo, Hobart, Vermont and has lost a 35-6 game to Colgate and a 7-10 contest to Allegheny College. That Alfred retained this superiority to the and was evidenced by her 33 to 0 victory over Hobart in late season, while Rochester less than a week previous could only down the Geneva team 25 to 0.

Having filled the full back's position the Coach now was forced to find a half back to take the place of Cottrell, who had had his arm broken in the Rochester game. This was no small task, but in the two weeks before the Thiel College game, he trained up a new Ag man, Galloway of Buffalo Technical High, to the place. The 21 to 7 victory over Thiel came only as a result of Alfred's indomitable energy and belief in her ability to win. Although much outweighed the team had the game all won at the end of the first period with 14 points to its credit. At no game was there more spirit shown, the team felt that it just had to win and that was a big point in the victory.

The following week Alfred met her only defeat of the season, 19 to 7, at the hands of the St. Bonaventure team. The contest was played in Wellsville and was a hard, strenuous game, the Alfred team although outweighed 15 pounds to the man was game to the last minute, securing its only touchdown in the last three minutes of play. The charge made that St. Bona had secured Alfred's signals was well supported when she could only hold the Hobart team three weeks later to a 0 to 0 score, while Alfred had the week previous buried Hobart, 33 to 0.

To practice the squad for the coming game with Hobart College, Alfred next put her crippled team, that had survived the St. Bona game, against the Silver Lake Military Academy. Playing a team, half of which was scrub, she sent the heavy cadet aggregation home with a 20 to 0 defeat. This was the only off day the Varsity had all season and is forgivable in the light of subsequent evidence.

The game with Hobart the next week was the climax of the season from a local point of view. Not since 1907 had Alfred won from the Geneva team or met her on her home field. Trained to the limit and on edge for the fray the Alfred men walked over Hobart by a 33 to 0 score. The Geneva bunch was beaten before it took the field and the game was far too one-sided to call for the lack of sportsmanship, with which Hobart has since charged her victors and it perhaps brought more satisfaction to the purple and gold camp than any other contest of the season.

From an external point of view, however, the last game of the year was undoubtedly the grand climax. To close the season and give the men a chance to match their skill against that of a well known team, the management brought the famous Carlisle Indians to the Alfred gridiron. In the cleanest, fastest game of the year Alfred added another victory to her list by a 27 to 17 score. This was a bold stroke and brought Alfred into national recognition.

The lion's share of the credit for this season of seasons for Alfred goes unquestionably to Coach Sweetland—the man who talked, thought and taught football all fall, the man with the ability to make the men work and the man Alfred wants to lead her to an even more successful season in 1917. In no way can the students begin to express their admiration for and appreciation of the Coach.

The fact that six out of the seven games were played on the home field and that they were all games with great possibilities is the result of the untiring labors of Graduate Manager of Athletics, Prof. L. C. Whitford. The difficulty he experienced in scheduling some of the games would have proven insurmountable to most any other and his efforts cannot be too highly praised.

The most prominent player of the season was undoubtedly Capt. King, who took up Kirke's hastily discarded mantle. At quarter back, he was in a large part the key note to Alfred's victories. Alert, fast and possessed of a football mind he ran the team accurately and wisely. He registered 56 of the points of the year and kicked 14 out of a possible 18 goals after touchdown. He will not finish his ceramic engineering course until 1918. His work in the Carlisle game leaves a most auspicious memorial to his year as Varsity captain.

The "find" of the year was in Witter at full back and he has been duely rewarded for his meritorious work, by election as 1917 captain. The innumerable and lengthy gains his 138 pounds of fight and energy accomplished, were often the indirect causes of the ability of other men to score. Although a senior Ag, he will be in Alfred again next year as a college student.

Lobaugh at left end had a mysterious way of pulling forward passes out of the air in any position and this coupled with his speed enabled him to secure eight of the 22 touchdowns of the season. He played "safety," after Cottrell's accident, and was an example of the word, fast and a sure tackler, not a single "get away" was registered against him. He has two more years in college.

The work of Williams at right half was little short of marvelous. Weighing only 128 pounds he could find a hole most anywhere in the line and no straight arm could go low enough to keep him away from a runner's ankles, a target for which he had a deadly aim. "Dick" graduates this year.

Galloway at left half was the only heavy man in the back field and was a tower of strength on the defensive, effectively backing up the whole line. His ability to charge for gain increased steadily during the season as did his passing skill to which many long gains were traceable. He will prove a valuable part of the team next year.

Brainard at right end was perhaps the grittiest man on the team. He was injured in the Rochester game but continued to play until the St. Bona contest in which under the brunt of the charges of their beef, he was completely disabled. After several weeks in bed he was out again and able to play a part of game with Carlisle, at guard.

With Brainard out, Grady came into his position and proved his value in the Hobart game by securing two of Alfred's touchdowns. With him and Lobaugh racing down under a punt, the receiving player had little chance to run the ball back. "Jack" is an Ag frosh.

At the center of the line was Boyd, who even added to the name he made for himself last year. He was a sure passer and as Alfred's most powerful defensive man, was often the cause of the failure of hostile drives.

By his side played Bliss and Greene, two solid well-nigh invulnerable guards. Bliss completes four years of good work on the Varsity and is the first to receive the major "A." Greene, the only contribution of the College Frosh, was one of the steady, reliable men who never starred but was always to be depended upon to hold or open up a hole.

Decker at right tackle was in every game, every minute, and never left anything to be desired. His loss by graduation will be much felt and to fill the berth he has occupied for two years will be difficult.

The other tackle position was held down by McConnell. "Eddie" came into the first team in mid season after MacClelland's departure. His specialty was in getting through and throwing the runner for a loss and many fumbles were due to his mixing.

Crawford was general utility at quarter, half and end position. His lack of weight was against him, but was overbalanced by his grit. In "Walt's" absence he could be depended upon to keep the team winning.

Cottrell was put out of commission in the Rochester game and his loss was a great blow. He, however, has two more years at Alfred.

Walch and Day both played in Varsity games. Walch showing up especially well at guard in the Carlisle game. Both will be valuable material for next year.

As to the 1917 team little can be said. Seven or eight old men will be back and under the leadership of Witter much will be expected, providing Sweetland can be secured again.

If he returns it will be contrary to his expressed purpose and will be more for sentimental than for pecuniary reasons. To even ask him to return at the salary paid this season would be unjust, but this will be provided for—in the meantime do your most for the 1917 team. Get your athlete friends interested in Alfred.

form on either side of the steps in a double column and allow the Sophomores to pass between them. This class continues the double line on out the walk toward the Brick and is joined by the juniors. As the seniors pass down through the line, the other classes give their yells for them led by the Frosh and when the seniors get to the end of the line, they form in double column and allow the faculty and speaker to pass through. The seniors then lead off with a yell for the speaker and for the president.

PITTSBURG RATED LEADING FOOTBALL TEAM IN EAST

The New York Sun has given the following as, in its opinion, the twenty leading college football teams of the East:

- 1 Pittsburg
- 2 Colgate
- 3 Army
- 4 Brown
- 5 Yale
- 6 Georgetown
- 7 Harvard
- 8 Princeton
- 10 Pennsylvania
- 11 Washington and Jefferson
- 12 Rutgers
- 13 Navy
- 14 Syracuse
- 15 Pennsylvania State
- 16 Cornell
- 17 Tufts
- 18 Lehigh
- 19 Fordham
- 20 Springfield

Pittsburg with its immaculate record and with over 200 points better than its opponents, is undoubtedly the leader. Colgate is placed next even though she lost to Yale, 7 to 3. This set back came in early season and was not given to the same team that covered Brown 28 to 0 in the final game of the season.

the first quarter. Score, 7-0 Frosh favor.

Second quarter

The second quarter was exceptional—fast and strongly contested, the ball shirting from one side to the other. The Frosh penalized frequently for being continually off-side. The Juniors at times making the larger gains. The Frosh now held the Juniors for a punt which was recovered by McConnell for a touchdown. McConnell kicked the goal midway between the iron posts. Frosh again kicked to the Juniors with the Juniors making little gains until they were forced to punt. Frosh now having the ball made their downs once and then tumbled recovered by Galloway. The Juniors now rushed the ball down the field in a series of brilliant plays. The most startling moment was the Frosh holding the Juniors one yard from their goal. The first half ended with the ball on the 20 yard line and the score 14-0. Frosh favor.

Third quarter

Galloway made a brilliant kick and the Frosh were held on their 30 yard line. During this quarter the Frosh tried many line plunges but failed to make many long gains owing to the great defensive game played by Walch and Galloway. This quarter ended without any further scoring.

Fourth quarter

The last quarter was more exciting than any of the preceding ones. The ball going from first to one side and then the other. Grady received it for an end run and owing to his great speed and experience, he easily evaded the Junior tacklers and made an 80 yard run for a touchdown. The goal was kicked by McConnell in fine form. The Juniors did their best to avert a shut out, but the superior experience of several of the Frosh was invincible.
