ALFRED—Court reporting and captioning students at Alfred State are marketing National Court Reporting and Captioning Week, Feb. 17-23 by participating in a national veteran’s oral history project coordinated by the National Court Reporters Association (NCRA), the leading organization representing stenographic court reporting and broadcast captioning professionals.

As part of the project, students will use court reporting methods and equipment designed for capturing, storing, and retrieving information. The oral accounts of service that they collect will be donated to the Library of Congress where they will be preserved as part of American history. On campus, students will also be promoting the profession on social media, and they will be welcoming returning graduates to campus to share their career insights.

Alfred State’s associate degree and certificate programs in court reporting and captioning are the only NCRA-approved programs in Western New York. Both programs are online and typically take four semesters (including a summer session) to complete.

“Court reporting and captioning is a highly technical profession that requires great skill and knowledge,” said Francine Staba, associate professor of business. “These professionals make invaluable contributions to the legal and deaf and hard-of-hearing communities each and every day.” As a result, career opportunities for new graduates entering the field are plentiful. The profession offers both flexibility and significant income potential. In New York State, for example, the average annual income for reporting professionals is $83,400.

Alfred State’s court reporting graduates typically find work in the field within six months of graduation and are qualified to be a close-captioner for live events, broadcast and videography purposes, freelance court reporters, medical transcriptionists, rapid text entry specialists, and real-time reporters.

To learn more about the upcoming events for National Court Reporting and Captioning Week at Alfred State or to learn more about the program, contact Danielle Green at greendr@alfredstate.edu or Melissa Blake at blakemj@alfredstate.edu.

Houghton—Fourteen students celebrated their graduation from Leadership Allegany on Friday, Feb. 15 at Moonwink’s Restaurant in Cuba. Leadership Allegany, an intense 10-month program sponsored by Houghton College and the Greater Allegany Chamber of Commerce, honed leadership skills and provided students with an in-depth, insider’s view of Allegany County industries, including government, the judicial system, manufacturing, agriculture and more.

Pam Witter, chair of Leadership Allegany, described this year’s graduating class as purposeful. “Students came to the program with purpose and curiosity. And they came to serve. They went above and beyond expectations.” Witter was especially pleased with the community service projects organized by this year’s graduates and with the impact they had throughout the county.

Three Leadership Allegany students organized Celebrate Service, Celebrate Allegany, a community service day held last October that involved 450 college students serving at 65 locations throughout the county.

Another group of students organized Allegany Forever. It’s this type of transformative leadership and service that Leadership Allegany seeks to inspire throughout the county. Leadership Allegany alumni, Odeney Carty ’12, encouraged graduates to “continue along the path of service. If help is needed, lend a hand. Most of all, if your community calls, think about how you can strive to make the impossible a reality. Go forth and make a world of difference.”

More information about Leadership Allegany can be found online at www.leadershipalle- gany.org.

Scene About Alfred

Alfred Sun Columnist

HEY, Barbecue Bandits; what do ya’ think of this? I was running in Terlingua, TX, one day and noticed something strange about this tractor. I wondered why someone had put such odd cowling around its engine. A day or two later, I had the answer. Here are Ron Vaillance (holding a coffee mug) from Brisbane, Australia, and Bobby Chamberlain of Bobby’s Blues and Barbecue. Bobby, whose business was not yet open for the season was preparing delicious traditional Texas barbecue treats for Ron and his family on this 1939 International Harvester. The “cowling” I’d wondered about is Bobby’s smoker, seen here by Ron’s right elbow.

CREATIVITY AND COOPERATION

The February 11th session of the County Legislature illustrated how creativity and cooperation can bring significant benefits to our communities. This session began with the People’s Porch being set up by Air Force Senior Airman Justin Smith. That was followed by a presentation by Eric Larrson, BP Department Manager for the Sic-clair Refinery Project. He shared a short video describing the cleanup process in Westville. This project involved cooperation between business, local schools, colleges, businesses, and many others.

The resolutions that were considered and approved also illustrated dynamic cooperation. Resolution 27-13 proposed establishing a state innovation sector, with funding from state and local government proposal for an “Innovation Hot Spot” within Allegany County. This resolution was withdrawn so further work can be done before it is reconsidered by the Legislature. Resolution 31-13 accepted NYS Tourism Matching Funds for the County tourism program. The Commissioner of Development will match these funds and use the combined total to promote tourism in our County. Resolution 31-13 approved an agreement between the County and Greater Allegany County Chamber of Commerce under which they will manage and coordinate the County Tourism program for 2013.

Resolution 29-13 accepted a payment from our insurance carrier (NYMIR) for damage to a County vehicle. Resolution 30-13 re-appropriated funds from three grant programs. This represents funding from 2012 that has not yet been spent, but for which uses have been identified. Resolution 32-13 approved continuation of an agreement between Allegany County and the Allegany-Western Steuben Rural Health Network to provide mobility management services in Alle-gany County for 2013 and 2014. This service has resulted in significant savings on mandated transportation services, while increasing transportation options of county residents.

Unfortunately, our County is mandated to participate in numerous programs, and is given little or no say in the programs or how programs are structured or managed. In other words, there is a lot of state and federal and very little local. Many of the programs are supposed to be “cooperating” rather than “cooperating” there is mounting evidence that New York State is poorly run, and is ignoring pressing needs of its citizens. Recent Congressional reports say New York for its bloated, inefficient and mismanaged Medicaid program. NYS spends more than twice as much as any state on its Medicaid program. The bipartisan Congressional report claims that more than $15 billion was overbid to Medicaid. Allegany County could save millions of dollars if we were permitted to “customize” the Medicaid program to fit local circumstances and needs. The circumstances and needs of NYS or Buffalo are totally different from those of Allegany County. Albany needs to recognize this and permit us to develop and operate our own programs.

The State Comptroller also issued a report last week declaring that local governments need to fund public infrastructure needs for facilities such as roads, bridges, water and sewer systems, schools, public safety (including police and fire services), public health and economic development. The Comptroller estimates that local governments need to spend more than $2.2 billion on water, sewer and highway systems over the next 20 years. However, last year local governments spent only $1.3 billion on such projects. This is less than one-tenth of what is needed to keep up with aging infrastructure. How are local governments supposed to meet these urgent needs when they are mandated to spend millions of dollars for State mandated programs, while subject to a 2% tax cap? Governor Cuomo and the State Legislature have not offered any suggestions or solutions to these large problems.

The reality is that local governments cannot keep up with the demands. Because of the State mandates local governments have cut services or canceled needed projects for public infrastructure. This cannot continue. I applaud Comptroller DiNapoli for confronting this problem. New Governor and Legislature need to enact some meaningful fiscal reforms.

Tom Reed on sequester, state of union

REED: STILL NO ACTION FROM SENATE TO AVOID SEQUESTER;

Congressman Tom Reed sees sequestration cuts going into effect before Democrats come to the table with a solution Rep. Reed Tuesday highlighted the upcoming March 1st sequester deadline and the plans the House has proposed to realign the sequestration cuts saying it is likely political pressure will be needed before the Senate comes to the table to negotiate.

“Right now, we’re looking at a situation where the cuts do go into effect next month and unfortunately, we haven’t seen any movement from the Senate to avoid the sequester or work with the House to realign the cuts,” said Rep. Reed.

In the time since the White House suggested the sequester is a solution in 2011, the House of Representatives has acted on two pieces of legislation to realign the indiscriminate cuts associated with sequestration.

“We believe there is a better way to cut spending than the arbitrary cuts found in the sequester and are prepared to make cuts elsewhere but we need action from the Senate. We’ve seen nothing but rhetoric and a renewal call to raise taxes coming from the White House.

“With the unemployment rate near 8% nationally and closer to 10% here in the Southern Tier, another tax increase would only further burden taxpayers. The Democratic Party already got their tax increases and though they want even higher taxes, the fact is this is a spending problem. We need to downsize the federal government, not increase taxes on families to fund an even bigger one.”

Sequestration is currently slated to go into effect March 1st. “Unless Democrats put forth a plan, it is looking more and more like we will see these cuts go into effect next month. It may take political pressure as a result of the cuts before Democrats come to the table.”

REED RESPONDS TO STATE OF THE UNION ADDRESS, HOPES THESE NEXT FOUR YEARS ARE FOR ‘INNOVATION’

Congressman Tom Reed Statement on President Obama’s 2013 State of the Union Address.

“If the President believes, as I do, that getting Americans back to work will drive the country’s economic growth, he needs to commit to creating an environment that allows all Americans to succeed. How we go about doing that is where I disagree and I differ. I believe the focus needs to be on growing jobs, not government.”

What’s missing is action. We’ve heard some of the same sentiments coming from the President in previous speeches but the fact remains we have more than 12 million Americans unemployed and a $16.5 trillion national debt. Anyone looking at our country’s finances can see what job creation is being stifled under our debt and the threat of higher taxes. Our debt and the threat of higher taxes create uncertainty in our economy which keeps job creators and entrepreneurs on the sideline.

A bigger government requires more taxpayer dollars, your tax dollars unlike the President, I believe taxpayer dollars should be spent on investing in infrastructure, public safety, national security and economic development rather than simply continuing the same failed government bureaucracy. Another tax increase from this administration means fewer dollars in American families’ wallets.

The President wants to raise taxes again but I believe there is a better way. We need to adopt policies that provide the opportunity for all Americans to prosper – not policies that increase taxes on them and punish their hard work. We should be encouraging innovation and ingenuity, not restraining what punishes them.

We’ve been open about our desire to work with the President in moving our country away from high unemployment and out of debt. We’ve reached to the White House but have received no response. But our door remains open. I truly hope these next four years are different.”

Dale Inglett to open exhibition Friday in Cohen Gallery

ALFRED—Alfred University’s Cohen Gallery will showcase an exhibition of new paintings and drawings by Dale Inglett, assistant professor of studio art, beginning Friday, Feb. 22 with an opening reception at 5 p.m.

The abstract works in the show represent a new direction for Inglett, with contrasting smeared, scraped, and fluid surfaces with flat geometric shapes. Inglett’s works, which have previously been informed by figuration, now suggest elusive and shifting forms, atmospheric effects, and perceptual phenomena.

Inglett earned a bachelor of fine arts degree in studio art from Augusta State University (now University of Georgia). He then continued his education to receive a master of fine arts degree in studio art from the Lamar Dodd School of Art at the University of Georgia. He has served in his current position at Alfred University since 2007.

His work has been exhibited in numerous solo and group exhibitions across the United States. In addition, he has been the recipient of numerous grants and awards, including a Strategic Opportunity Stipend from the New York Foundation for the Arts.

The event is open to the public free of charge. An open discussion will follow.

The exhibition runs through March 22.

The public is invited free of charge. An open discussion will follow.

More than that, it is a deeply moving and personal family memoir at once richly historical and told in a compelling narrative style.”

The New Horizons Forum, sponsored by the School of Arts and Sciences, showcases current scholarly, creative, and public service work by faculty, students, administrators, professional staff, and invited guests. Follow the Forum at www.alfred.edu/life-on-campus/new-horizons-forum.

Higby and the students will offer insights into the collaboration between the School of Design’s ceramic art program and the Central Academy of Fine Arts in Beijing, China. They will also share their experiences in China’s legendary Porcelain City of Jingdezhen.

Higby is a world-renowned ceramicist and educator. His works are on permanent exhibition in museums such as the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, the Victoria and Albert Museum of London, and the Museum of Modern art in Tokyo.

As a professor and the Robert C. Turner Chair of Ceramic Art in the College of Ceramics, he has been recognized as a Krasus Distinguished Professor and is the recipient of the Master of the Media and Distinguished Educator awards from the James Renwick Alliance and the American Craft Museum.

Red Cross to hold ‘Savor the Flavor’ in March

CUBA—The Southwestern New York Chapter of the American Red Cross invites everyone to join us once again at an exciting, fun-filled occasion where restaurateurs and food service businesses are invited to put their signature cuisines on display and out for the public to enjoy. This is an exciting opportunity for our local restaurateurs and caterers to show off their culinary specialties to members of our community.

The American Red Cross is hosting three events of Savor the Flavor: A Taste of Allegany County will be held on Sunday, March 3 from 12 noon to 3 p.m. at the Cuba VFW; a Taste of Chautauqua County will be held on Sunday, March 3 from 12 noon to 3 p.m. at the Jamestown Savings Bank Ice Arena.

One of the greatest things about Southwestern New York is that we enjoy food, friends, and giving back to the community and the Savor the Flavor events puts all three under one roof. This special fundraiser has two goals in mind: to help promote the Savor the Flavor events and the Savor the Flavor program and tickets to the event. Becoming a sponsor of Savor the Flavor is a great way to show your support for the American Red Cross.

In the past years, each event has had over 12 restaurants/caterers along with over 250 people that wine and dine together to celebrate the Red Cross. Due to the overwhelming success of the past year’s event, it is recommended to purchase tickets in advance.

Senator Cathy Young meets with Allegany Women’s GOP Club

HOUGHTON—Senator Catharine Young joined President Shirley Mullen as guest speakers at the Allegany County Women’s Republican Club meeting on Feb. 2, at Houghton College. The topic focused on how Houghton College and its neighbors can work together to make a better community for both the students and the residents of the surrounding towns, with an emphasis on how important the people of this region are to the college and local legislation.

According to President Mullen, one of the goals of Houghton College is to be a good neighbor and good citizen to the county. She continued to explain how the college is accomplishing this through various ways. Among those mentioned were athletic programs, music and arts programming, and the financial investment into the local communities by the college, and its students, faculty and staff spending in the local economies.

Senator Young continued by reviewing programs and initiatives that are currently being worked on in Senate, including the budget review. Like President Mullen, she focused on the local community and how it will be affected by any changes in legislation and tax laws. “Houghton College has a long-standing relationship with the surrounding townpeople, who give as much back to it and the community and the college as the college gives to it”, said Senator Young.

During closing comments Senator Young said, “Some of the best ideas are from people like you [community members]. Sincerely thank you to all of you.”

Books of Book Library Director

The Box of Books is running a contest for our patrons. Guess the amount of money in our pickle jar on the front desk and win a book. I know that is amazing that the library would be giving away books, but we have to stick with what we know. The contest will run until the end of the month. The winner will be just as the work study count the money.

If you have been lucky enough to come into the library in the last few weeks you will surely have noticed the amazing condition the library is in. Our work study students work very hard to keep our building clean and inviting. I hope that you notice the library that needs attention please do not hesitate to let anyone working at the front desk know.

A former workstudy, Liz Van Houter has taken over the program directing the library. She has been extremely successful at making sure that work is as easy and fun as possible. Liz has been at Al-"

HITS AND MISSES:

It’s time in high school basketball and starting out with the girls this week. Alfred-Almond (8-9) grabbed a #7 seed in the Class D1 bracket and the Eagles opened up against #10 Lyonsdale & Waite. The winner of that contest then faces #2 Jasper-Troupsburg. Elba (18-0) is the top seed in this classification. Airport was seeded #6. Airway won a six seed in D2 with a (11-6) mark that has Whitesville in the top slot. In B2 play Hornell is the #2 seed with Wellsville in at #3. A potential semi-final contest. Coach of Argyle’s (A-B) struggling squad opened up play at Wilson Magnet in AA action. Lyndonville brings up (tough) memories for me as that is who we played in the sectional my senior round one and we lost.

Switching to the boys hoops the Eagles of A-A limped in with a 2-19 record to the sectional in the #11 seeded spot. They opened up against Prattsburgh who was a #6 seed and the winner of that game gets #3 Fillmore. Only the 1-4 seeds in this bracket had winning records. Yikes. #1 is someone called University Prep. Think out of Rochester, probably a “combo” school program but really not sure. If the A-A Eagles limped into the sectionals, Andover (1-17) was crawling. They are a #13 seed and played Finney first in D2 play. Could be quite the finals in B2 action as Hornell (16-2) and Wellsville (15-3) are seated 3 and 4.

A (belated) “congrats” to the Alfred-Almond wrestling team as they grabbed a sectional championship this year in Class D. B’Anyhow, the Eagles nipped Kendall, 173-170 to add to a bulging trophy case at A-A. Sectional champs were: Dan Woughter, Keith Vosburg, Sam Gorman and Connor Calkins while Jake Chalker was a runner-up. Go Eagles!

One year removed from a talented group of senior wrestlers at A-A, the current #2 seeded in their recent Class “D” swim championships held at Batavia. York was the winner.

Geneva’s (Seneca Falls) #2 ranked state team at Alfred State College won the Region III indoor title by a whopping 266-200 margin over Delhi. It was the 10th indoor championship that Moore has guided as the head mentor of the Pioneers in his Hall of Fame career at the school. Next up... the nationals. Think they are in.

Argyle and Cazenovia also took part.

Gasden and her Cedarville University Yellow Jackets women's basketball squad are at (15-8) on the year with three regular season losses. Gasden is at 17-15 points per game. She is out of Pennsylvania..

The Eagles found themselves 17 points behind Kendall going into the Class B medal rounds. Through perseverance and a never give up attitude and while Kendall imploded on the mat, the A-A squad had four Sectional Champions, one runner-up, one third, one fourth and one sixth place finisher; climbing back into the lead in the last contested match of the evening to win the title.

ALFRED-ALMOND – On the heels of leading the Alfred-Almond Central School wrestling team to its first Section V championship in 22 years, Dan Woughter and Connor Calkins are headed to Albany this weekend to compete in the State Wrestling Tournament.

“Connor and Dan both have legitimate shots of placing at this weekend’s State tournament,” their coach said.

Woughter and Calkins qualified for the State Tournament as “wild card” entries after finishing second and third, respectively, in the Section V “Super Sectionals” held at Brockport Feb. 8-9. As a squad, A-A finished 7th of 51 teams.

It’s just the “frosting on the cake” for the Eagles, whose prowess in the medal rounds of the Section V Class B Wrestling Championships at Red Jacket High Feb. 2 allowed them to edge Class B leader Cattaraugus for a narrow 173-170 victory.

For purposes of alignment at the 2012-2013 Class B regional tournament, Section V schools competed in Classes AAA, AA, A, BBB, BB and B.

The Eagles captured Section V title (its first) in Sectionals; in Super Sectionals, lost 3-1 to John Pizzella of Waterloo for a narrow 5-4 decision; then defeated Jared Reed of Letchworth in 11-2 major decision.

Miguel Quintana - 3rd place at 195 pounds in Sectionals; in Super Sectionals, lost to Aaron Paddecchi of Warsaw, 7-2; in consolation round, lost to Jeff DeLyons of Keshequa, 8-2; in consolation round, lost to Tray Duvall of Addison, good for second place.

Huntsboro Moses (ex-AU) – 1st place at 113 pounds in Sectionals; in Super Sectionals, lost 3-1 to John Pizzella of Waterloo for a narrow 5-4 decision; then defeated Jared Reed of Letchworth in 11-2 major decision.

Kimberly Gaige – 1st place at 152 pounds in Sectionals; in Super Sectionals, lost 3-1 to John Pizzella of Waterloo for a narrow 5-4 decision; then defeated Jared Reed of Letchworth in 11-2 major decision.

Gabe Gude – 1st place at 170 pounds in Sectionals; in Super Sectionals, lost 3-1 to John Pizzella of Waterloo for a narrow 5-4 decision; then defeated Jared Reed of Letchworth in 11-2 major decision.
