Beautiful 'Barn' born...after L-O-N-G labor

By SHERRY VOLK
Special to the Alfred Sun

ALFRED—Courtney Ashraf commented, as I chatted with her, that many people have visited her over the months as she labored at her very visible work-site on North Main Street, her family's (Khalid and Mary Ashraf) home where she grew up.

We'd been curious as we passed by, but had never stopped until Bob (Volk) came home on Wednesday, Oct. 9, and said, "You need to take your camera and go to Ashrafs'; they're having a barn raising and it's fascinating."

When I arrived, the site was peopled by workmen, and various visitors, who stopped to watch, give encouragement, or simply enjoy the Alfred community's pleasure in the event on a gorgeous fall day.

Courtney graciously gave the following information.

In May, a 24 by 36 foot concrete pad with a 12 by 12 foot extension was poured. This became her workspace.

She enjoys traditional woodworking, including furniture making, carving wood bowls and spoons, and prefers, actually loves to use traditional hand tools, not power tools. Designing and creating this structure is an extension of that love.

The building is to house her workshop and she is pleased that it adds to the property where she grew up.

The structural members are local wood, primarily spruce, with beech and cherry knee braces (the angled cross pieces that give stability to the structure; see photo). Lumber was sawn by Eddy Lumber Company on Vandermark Road. The shop is a traditional post and beam timber frame.

Courtney repeatedly and gratefully remarked on Sean Hyland's (Hyland Timber Framing) involvement with planning the building and teaching her how to do the fitting that is necessary to lock members together using no metal; no nails or bolts. Ash splines and hickory pegs lock pieces into place. Courtney loves that the area around her home town is rich in a variety of beautiful woods and commented that some of it came from her grandparents' land (Roland and Pat Hale farm on Hamilton Hill).

Courtney did much research on the craft of timber framing as well, learning as she chiseled her pieces.

Raising the heavy timbers is dangerous work, but before this spectacular event took place, Courtney commented, "After I cut the joinery, Bob (Myers) and I, with the help of a few very generous friends, were able to assemble the 'bents,' or cross sections of the frame on the ground, as well as test-fit all pieces of the frame that would be joined later during the raising (Please see photo for the perfect fit achieved). Sean and his crew then raised this frame, lifting all pieces into place."

The primary vertical members were in place by late Wednesday. On Friday, Oct. 11, the outline of the edifice was visible.

Eventually, this attractive structure will house Courtney's woodworking shop. Asked if the second floor would be storage, she said that she might be interested in letting other artists use the space. The extension, which reaches toward the street, will have a bathroom and other amenities to make full-day use of the facility possible.

As Courtney's magnum opus, progresses, look for updates here...or pass by and see for yourself this lovely reminder of years past, as it develops.

Local woman makes good...

...food! Peg (Brown) Eisenhardt, owner of Hedgerow Farm Bakery, spoke at the Amandine Club meeting on Oct. 10. The club, formed in the late 1800's by Amanda Burdick, had and has as its purpose giving women social and intellectual opportunities.

After routine business, including a thought for the day by President Amanda Snyder, Peg chronicled her experience, beginning as a dining room manager for a Red Lobster in Rochester, her journey through the Nursing program at Alfred State College, and finding that her love for her family trumped activities and employment outside her home.

She has been able to be a stay-at-home mom, the vocation that she delightedly mentioned several times. Opening the bakery has facilitated that, and two of her sons currently work with her in the endeavor.

Peg's primary, and most sought-after product, is her artisanal breads. Most popular, she says, is ciabatta, but she also makes multigrain bread, funky bread (ask her), various herb-flavored breads, focaccia, baguettes, and many others. In addition, she bakes delicious muffins, scones, cookies, cupcakes, and is willing to tackle almost anything. She regaled her listeners with the story of a cake she had baked, twice (the first one cracked when she tried to frost it), just that morning. She "doesn't do" cakes, she says, but the customer prevailed upon her, causing a "yes" to just fall out of her mouth (she says), to her great

PEG (Brown) EISENHARDT consternation when the project failed the first time.

In addition to the baked goods, Peg makes soups, pasta dishes, burgers, sandwiches, desserts, and again, is very receptive to customers' suggestions of what they would enjoy. Everything Peg serves is homemade, except, she acknowledges, mayonnaise and pickles. At her suggestion, I found Hedgerow Farm Bakery on Facebook, where Peg posts daily menus. She commented that this online social medium has been very good for her business.

Peg is looking "up," not just at how she might increase her business and better serve her customers, but literally, as her business is below street level, almost anachronistically, located beneath the Kampus Kave. Take the few steps down, and grab a cuppa' Ithaca Roaster "Gimme Coffee," or some delightful treat...or both. This local woman makes good...everything!

A.E. Crandall Hook & Ladder Fire Company new ladder truck.

Sunday, Oct. 20 from 1-4 p.m.

Come play with the new ladder truck

ALFRED--The A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Fire Department has a new truck and wants to invite everyone over to play with it.

Come one. Come all. AE Crandall is throwing a party at the fire hall Sunday, Oct. 20 from 1 to 4 p.m. to celebrate its new ladder truck. The Department bought a 2006 ladder to replace its 28-year-old ladder truck and the truck is finally home in Alfred.

"We are very excited to finally get the truck," said Chief Zachary Hamm. "But it will be a couple of months before it's in service." The Department will need to outfit the new ladder truck with gear and hoses, and then practice for actual emergencies. In the meantime, the old ladder truck will still be in service.

"This is a huge step forward in capability," said Assistant Chief Paul Weaver. "There's a 22 year difference in ladder truck design.

The new truck is more capable and much safer, both for us and the people we are trying to rescue."

The new truck features a 100 foot ladder with a platform. The platform has its corners cut, allowing the truck to approach at an oblique angle, an improvement over the the previous design, according to the chief. The oblique angles allows for more maneuverability during a rescue.

The new truck can also pump 2000 gallons a minute, much faster than the old truck.

Although usually deployed in the villages (such as Alfred, Andover, Wellsville) with hydrant systems, the tankers can supply the ladder with water in rural areas. And the old ladder has been deployed to barn fires. Additionally, the new ladder truck has a small water tank, carrying about 300 gallons.

Please come join us. Cupcakes and goodies will be available.

Additionally, fire extinguisher training for village residents will be ongoing.

Of the Alfred Lions Club

ALFRED—It's back by popular demand! From Saturday, Oct. 19 through Sunday, Nov. 10, members of the Alfred Lions Club will conduct a door-to-door fund-raising sale of Cuba Cheese and other quality products.

Alfred, Alfred Station, Almond, and adjacent locations residences and businesses were supportive of our successful 2011 Cheese Sale and we look forward to a similar outpouring of support this fall.

If you are not at home, an information form and order form with contact information will be left and the Lion member may stop by another day.

What could be easier and more convenient than to order a selection of cheeses, spreads, and other quality Cuba Cheese products at your doorstep from our "Rrrroaring Good" Lions and have your order delivered to your doorstep in time for family and friend gifts, holiday open-houses, and hostess gifts?

At the same time, participation in the cheese sale will benefit the Lions' continuing support of both Alfred and Alfred Station Fire Companies, the Alfred Ambulance Company, and the annual college scholarships for two Alfred-Almond Central School June graduates.

In addition, the Club responds to 'people in need' requests (often eye examinations and glasses), donates to 'Guiding Eye' Dog training programs, Allegany County Office for the Aging meals on wheels and on-site luncheons such as the one at the Union University Church Center. The Club also donates to Camp Badger (Alfred Lions have helped with its maintenance), the New York State Lions Camp in Spencer (near Ithaca) that provides camping experiences for people with disabilities and for returning veterans and their families.

Among the club's service projects are the 'Medical Equipment Loan Closet from which people can borrow health assist equipment, the collection and recycling of glasses, hearing aids and other small electronic equipment and highway clean-up.

The club is also coordinating with a local community group to help in the renovation and reactivation of the Little League Field in Alfred Station.

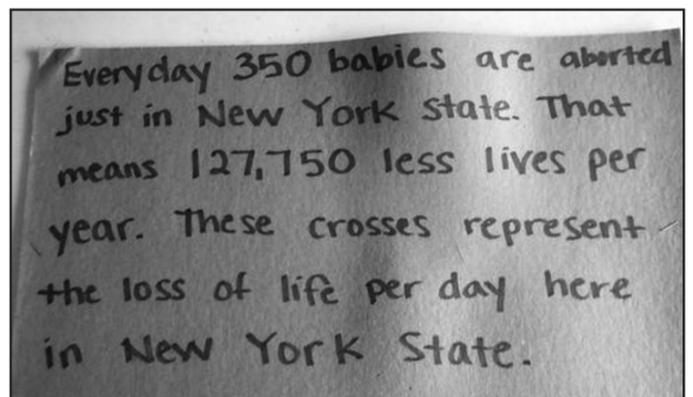

Don't miss this 'Cheesearific' Cheese Sale. It is a great cheese sale to support the great activities of a great Lions Club! The Lions will be knocking at your door.

Union University Church will sponsor UNICEF drive

ALFRED--The Union University Church will again sponsor the Community UNICEF Drive.

All children, youth, and adults in the Alfred/Alfred Station area are invited to join in this year's UNICEF Drive starting at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27.

It's a bumper year for apple trees

This has been a bumper year for our apple trees. I even resorted to making applesauce again, though I hate paring the things. Whether you believe in the Johnny Appleseed legend or not, our area certainly has a plethora of apple trees.

This recipe appeared in the Sunday edition of the Democrat and Chronicle newspaper recently. I thought it sounded like fun, no paring, and might make a terrific new thing to tuck in school lunches.

Apple Chips

Combine 5 tps. sugar and 2 tps. cinnamon. Use a mandolin or handheld slicer to very thinly slice one apple crosswise into rounds, removing the seeds. Put on 2 parchment-lined baking sheets in a single layer, then sprinkle with half the cinnamon-sugar. Flip apples and sprinkle with the remaining mixture. Bake in a 275 degree oven, flipping once, until just crisp, about 1 1/2 hours.

Another peek at peaks

To the Editor:

Due to the fact that a very great article entitled 'Peaks of Allegany County' appeared in the Fall 2012 issue of the Spotlight, I saved it, as an old timer from Allegany County. One of the neat endeavors of growing up there was being a Boy Scout, while a teenager, and hiking all over the wonderful peaks.

One of the strong remembrances of an Allegany peak was atop a very high one on Deer Creek Road, where our Scout troop hiked to for an overnighter. Our Scoutmaster, William Monroe, had researched this hill and found some Indian relics which showed that they had encamped there a long time ago. At the time we arrived there, the awe of that peak gave us a real thrill due to the openness and lack of tree

We unloaded our sleeping gear and strode all over the top area to vision the very interesting dozen of huge boulders that the glaciers had planted there many years ago. These boulders were as large, or even larger, than the biggest barns we had ever seen. Some were on an angle into the ground and rising up near a hundred feet which would give us a good protective area to sleep, very well protected.

Known locally as 'Little Rock City' the oil well drillers, because of its unusual park like appearance, did not drill within the rock area. However, there were many oil wells all over that productive area, along with pump houses nearby, a few miles from my hometown, Bolivar.

As Boy Scouts, one of the emissions we could not resist was to become 'mountain climbers' and walk and stand on top of the monstrous boulders. When digging down a foot through the soil we would find the whole hilltop consisted of solid rock.

After visiting the little rock city area a few years back, the area has now become a forest which now hides the boulders, to some extent. Now while thinking back, I have often wondered why this unusual and beautiful hilltop couldn't have been made into a great state park.

Again, as a Boy Scout, we once hiked to the top of 'White Hill' near Allentown and also was thrilled by the natural wonders on the top. It was very hard to believe seeing a huge swamp on top where we saw Geese and Deer. On the trek downward, south toward the hamlet of Alma, there were also many large rocks and boulders. While descending we also watched a bobcat scooting around the rocks.

This all boils down to the fact that Allegany County, with its many Peaks has some very interesting sights for hikers. Years ago when the town of Bolivar was the hub of oil production, over 40% of Allegany County taxes came from that source, and, as I've written previously, gasoline was selling for 8 gallons for $1.00!

Community Chest goal set at $38,275
Campaign kicked off Oct. 1

Dear Editor:

The Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest kicked off its 2013 drive the week of October 1. We have held our budget meeting and have set our goal for this year at $ 38,275 (over one thousand dollars more than last year). Again this year the need for charitable donations around the world continues to be great. However many of the organizations we support here in Alfred and in Allegany County have experienced funding cuts from other sources. We want to be able to provide at least as much support for them this year as we have in the past. But only with your generosity will this be possible.

We hope that those who have been so generous in the past will continue to help the agencies that provide support for our young people, for our older citizens, and to the less fortunate of our community. We also encourage new members of the community, and those who have not donated recently, to step up and replace the gifts of those who have left the area recently.

When reached, our goal will be divided among the following organizations as indicated:

Alfred Ambulance Operation	$ 9700
Support for "Lifeline"	$ 4000
Alfred Station Fire Company	$ 3500
Alfred Box of Books Library	$ 3000
Allegany County Association for Blind and Visually Handicapped	$ 1000
Baker's Bridge Historical Association	$ 300
Allegany ARC	$ 550
Allegany Co. Mental Health Assoc.	$ 1800
American Red Cross, Southwestern NY Chapter	$ 6000
Allegany Co. SPCA	$ 1000
Allegany Rehabilitation Associates, Inc.	$ 700
Boy Scouts -- Cub Pack 26	$ 900
Scout Troop 19	$ 900
Five Rivers Scout Council	$ 2200
Literacy West New York, Inc.	$ 1000
Senior Nutrition Site	$ 200
Comfort House of Allegany County	$ 1200
Campaign Expenses	$ 325

Area residents and those employed in our community will soon, if they have not already, receive pledge forms and an appeal letter. Donations may be left at the Alfred Pharmacy in Alfred, the Canacadea Country Store in Alfred Station, or may be mailed to Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest, Box 603, Alfred, NY, 14802-0603. With the generous support of the entire community, our member organizations will be able to continue to serve us in the splendid way we have come to expect.

Sincerely,

Lines about a Woolly Bear of Very Little Brain

The amount of the black, the amount of the brown –
You're the greatest at weather forecasting in town
When the upcoming winter's the issue.

But it seems to me, cute woolly bear caterpillar,
You're turning me into a cold-blooded killer.
(I confess, though, I won't need a tissue.)

Cuz in spite of the debt which to you-all is owed,
You about send us weaving all over the road
In order to try and not squish you.

You're so smart you can tell us how winter will be,
But not smart enough speeding autos to see...
Well...it's awfully good luck that I wish you.

"CAPTIVATING" SUCCESS STORY – THE ALLEGANY COUNTY JAIL

Last week I toured the Allegany County Jail with Sheriff Rick Whitney and Jail Administrator Chris Ivers. Our Jail represents a significant success story. While we might wish that jails were unnecessary, the reality is that they are an unavoidable necessity. However, our jail facility and programs go far beyond being a "necessary evil."

Our jail can currently contain a maximum of 163 prisoners. It usually houses between 125 and 150 prisoners, about equally divided between local prisoners and federal prisoners. Most of the federal prisoners come through the Federal Marshalls' program, with a smaller number coming from the Immigration Service. Local prisoners are those arrested and awaiting trial, or those sentenced to serve "local time," which means sentences of less than one year. Local prisoners are 100% county expense. We get reimbursed from $90 to $100 per day for federal prisoners.

From many perspectives the Jail performs a valuable social ministry. When inmates arrive they are usually going through crises of a criminal, psychological, social, family or economic nature. They are frequently in poor health and emotionally distraught. The Jail usually deals with individuals at their worst and most vulnerable levels. It cleans them up, clothes them, gets them healthy, and helps stabilize them. They typically become calmer, healthier, and better adjusted during their stay in Jail. Sheriff Whitney and the jail administration encourage inmates lacking a high school diploma to enroll in G.E.D. programs. Those having work skills are encouraged to develop and improve them so they can obtain employment when they are released.

Our Jail has implemented some valuable innovative programs. For several years the Jail has planted a large vegetable garden. This year the garden has produced over 14,000 pounds of fresh produce. This is all used in the jail to save on food purchases. (By the way, the Jail spends an average of only $1.30 per meal per prisoner, which is far below average for most households.) The Jail also established a joint program with conservation groups to raise pheasants for release to the wild. This week it will begin releasing about 1,500 pheasants around the County. These game birds will attract hunters and visitors, and will encourage tourism. Both programs provide activity and training for inmates that can benefit them upon release.

Our Jail was not designed to make money, and it doesn't. However, our Jail is currently costing County taxpayers far less than it used to. Before our new facility opened we had to send many local prisoners to other counties. Our old facility was too small and didn't meet state mandated standards. We paid to "house-out" our prisoners, and paid to transport them to distant facilities. We now "house-in" virtually all of our prisoners, as well as 60 or more federal prisoners daily. The old jail required 13 Corrections Officers for 40-50 prisoners. The new jail requires 14 Corrections Officers for 125-150 prisoners. Obviously, the new Jail is much more efficient.

The new Jail wasn't free. It cost about $23 million to build, which was financed by the issuance of bonds. Since 2004 the County has paid a total of $13,152,178 for principal and interest on those bonds. Since 2007 the County has collected total revenue from housing federal prisoners of $12,864,344. That means that federal "housing-in" revenue has paid all but $287,834 of the current building cost for the Jail. That money was "loaned" to the Jail capital fund from the General Fund. As soon as that "loan" has been fully repaid, any surpluses will be placed in a Reserve Fund to use to pay off the remaining bonds. We should reach that "break-even" point within the next 8-10 months.

Our Jail demonstrates what can be accomplished by capable, creative and innovative leadership. The Sheriff and Board of Legislators have worked together to provide that leadership and achieve those outstanding results. Sheriff Whitney and his staff deserve our thanks for a job well done.

Allegany Artisans open their studios this weekend

Seventeen potters, sculptors, tile makers and several jewelry makers are among the fifty artisans whose studios will be open to the public in New York's Allegany County on October 19 & 20.

Ceramic art backbone of tour

ALFRED—Alfred University has been a center for excellence in the study of ceramic technology, design and art since the creation of the New York State College of ceramics in 1900. It should be no surprise that Allegany Artisans, a community of artists that has emerged in Alfred and the surrounding area, is rich in works of clay.

Many small workshops do not keep regular retail business hours. Artists who sell at galleries, festivals or through other channels still often host studio sales. The occasion of the Allegany Artisans on the weekend following Columbus Day gives artists of many media an opportunity to join together for a coordinated promotion towards a much larger audience than they might be able to reach as individuals.

Fine arts, jewelry, blacksmithing, fiber arts, wood working, even taxidermy are represented among the fifty studios exhibiting in 2013. Now in its twenty sixth year, the Studio Tour draws hundreds of visitors and art-shoppers to many of the studios.

Marsha VanVlack, who makes one-of-a-kind hand-made stoneware tiles in Whitesville, was drawn to the hills on the New York - Pennsylvania border to relocate her family from Florida in the 1980s in part because of the local community of artists. Her work includes painting of area landscapes using glazes on single tiles and large mosaics.

Kay Brooks, in Belmont, makes hand-thrown, high-fired, functional pottery including dinnerware sets and much more in a variety of brilliant colors.

Mark Herol Corwine of Andover describes making pots, "allows for many of my interests to become tangible. The work is one of a kind, although classical proportions and forms are evident throughout. Most of my work is assembled from thrown and hand built red earthenware, however I will use any method that leads to my desired outcome."

Len Curran's jewelry collection, in Alfred, is comprised of one-of-a-kind pieces: earrings, bracelets, necklaces. She uses various types of glass, metal, wood, fiber and recycled materials. Each design is a creative combination of textures, bright colors and forms.

"Gods Mud Pottery" by Wellsville's Marshall Green makes bowls, cups, sculpture and more. "Each and every piece of work that leaves my studio is truly unique. I take immense joy in creating "beautiful" works and ultimately hope these pieces find their way into homes that will appreciate & love them."

"Hillbottom Pottery" by Bruce Greene is on Main Street in Alfred Station. He makes functional, wheel thrown stoneware for the table. Lamps, lanterns and flower arrangers a specialty.

Elaine Hardman points out the practical nature of her food-safe pottery and microwave to table to dishwasher serving vessels. In addition she makes colorful earrings with pure niobium wires, hammered copper bracelets and silly sculpture at her studio "StoneFlowerPottery" in Wellsville.

In addition to her paintings Hanna Juekoff makes ceramic jewelry, and wall pieces. In Wellsville Hanna is exhibiting a new line of mixed media and upcycled jewelry. Ceramic clocks and mirrors will be on sale as well.

Richard Lang is one of the most well known Alfred ceramic artists who can claim to have been born locally, completed all of his education in Allegany County and who still runs a full time art pottery studio locally. He makes both functional and artistic ware.

Eugenia Frith Meltzer in Alfred enjoys the challenge of the teapot. "All my teapots, whether very large figurative ones in stoneware, or very tiny whimsical pieces in porcelain, reflect my quirky sense of humor."

Peter Midgley in Wellsville crafts beautiful functional ceramic pieces and a variety of unique sculptural vessels. The work is in stoneware, porcelain and Raku. Peter will demonstrate the Raku firing process, weather permitting.

In Houghton, Nancy Petrillo's "A Stone's Throw Pottery" has designs inspired by nature, captured in porcelain. All are hand-decorated in a variety of methods and glazed in jewel-like colors. Berry bowls, espresso cups, yarn bowls and more for your everyday use or special occasions.

Three sisters will be exhibiting in historic Angelica. "Creekbed Pottery" is the studio name for Linda Ross. Functional & fun Linda's work is always changing. Terri Ross goes by "Mud Puddle Pottery" Her 'happy pottery' glazes range from deep down earthy browns to rich Jamaican blue ocean. Staci Cury's "Firefly Pottery" makes functional pottery inspired by the natural world. Staci aims to uplift the spirit through pottery that illuminates the simple, organic beauty of nature.

Kathy Stedina's Andover studio, "Serendipities" offers hand-built ceramic serving pieces and vessels, pressed with local hand gathered leaves. She also makes hand quilted wall art, pillows, bags, pin cushions and small blankets. Repurposed vintage textiles and trims, hand painted or dyed fabrics with contemporary materials.

Karen Tufty-Wisniewski digs her own clay from the Alfred Station shale pit, which was first mined back in the 1800s by Alfred's Celadon Company. Karen uses this durable clay at her workshop in Andover to make bread pans, lasagna dishes and pizza pans at Tufty Ceramics.

Allegany Artisans is a cooperative organization for the promotion of professional quality local arts and crafts in Allegany County in rural western New York State. A color brochure, that maps the trail to the various studios and workshops, is available at many local businesses. Studios are open to the public from 10 to 5 on both days of the event, October 19 and 20. For more information call 1-800-488-6347 or visit AlleganyArtisans.com.

NOTES from the BOX OF BOOKS

By ELIZA ORDWAY
Box of Books Library Director

The Box of Books has been awarded the Foundation for Southern Tier Libraries Grant this year to help us with our goal of making our main entryway more easily accessible for those with small children or for those using assistive devices. Many of you know that our door is extremely heavy, it sticks, making it appear locked when it is not, and it is a crowded entry way to maneuver when you are pushing a stroller, using a wheelchair or walker. The ultimate goal here is to have a on automatic door opener installed to help eliminate these challenges. To prepare for the door opener we hope to have the sidewalk leveled, the lighting and electricity run to accommodate the openers with this Grant money. We are extremely grateful that the Foundation is understanding of our needs and our unique situation of limited grant availability and recognize our needs.

'Year There Was No Summer' story will be told

ALFRED STATION--Bakers Bridge Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 21 at the Meeting House at 5971 Hamilton Hill Rd., Alfred Station.

Our speaker for the evening is Susan Wake, an accomplished "natural artist" who lives in Howard where she creates memory inspired art, folk art and fine art. Her portfolio encompasses over 100 original paintings employing acrylics, oils, watercolors and pastels. Susan is one of the founding artists involved in the "Palettes of Keuka" and numerous other first time art events and exhibitions.

Susan's talk has been described as "eye opening, highly informative and inspirational." She will be telling us the two moving local stories that make up her presentation "The Signs of Past Times." She will tell the true story of "THE YEAR THERE WAS NO SUMMER" also known as "EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FROZE TO DEATH."

The second story deals with pioneers from Steuben and Allegany Counties. The tale is full of adventure as we travel with the first two women of European descent by horseback, wagon, sled, steamboat, mules and on foot from Western New York over the Rocky Mountains to Oregon Territory! Susan uses the spoken word and posters of her storybook paintings (the original mural sized paintings reside in the Howard Museum) to illustrate her stories.

We extend a warm welcome to anyone interested in our topic or the history of the area. For more information about Bakers Bridge Historical Association, please refer to www.bakersbridge.org.

ALFRED--Jeremy Speed Schwartz, assistant professor of Digital Media & Animation at Alfred State, delivered a talk as part of TEDxBuffalo, an independently organized TED event, on Tuesday Oct. 15 at 11:24 a.m. at Canisius College's Montante Cultural Center. Professor Speed Schwartz discussed experiments and collaborations in science and art. Alfred State also broadcast the event live on campus in the Student Leadership Center's small event space.

Speed Schwartz's talk, titled "Imaginary Science: Experiments and Collaborations in Science/Art," is a presentation of some of his work with the League of Imaginary Scientists, an interdisciplinary art group focused on collaboration with scientists in various fields. Their work combines video, interactive media, animation, sculpture, and performance. "In the past, we've worked with biologists at MIT, NASA geophysicists, and most recently scientists at the Memphis Ground Water Institute," Speed Schwartz says. "The focus of the talk is the benefits we as artists gain from working with people who have radically different methodologies."

AU business school one of best

ALFRED—Alfred University is one of the 295 outstanding business schools in the country, according to rankings released this week by The Princeton Review, the education services company.

The company features AU's School of Business and its MBA program in the 2014 edition of its book, "The Best 295 Business Schools" (Random House/Princeton Review, Oct. 8, 2013, $22.99).

"Once again, we are pleased to be included in The Princeton Review's guide," said Nancy Evangelista, AU associate provost and dean of the College of Professional Studies, which includes the School of Business. "It is one thing for us to tell prospective students how good we think our program is, but it's even better when affirmation comes from an outside source that impartially looks at hundreds of programs across the country," continued Evangelista, emphasizing the "very positive rating for our MBA program. The feedback from graduate students is a critical component of The Princeton Review ratings, and once again our MBA students have plenty of good things to say."

Both the graduate and undergraduate programs at Alfred are accredited by the AACSB, a distinction only a small percentage of business programs in the world achieve.

AU's profile piece in the book reads, in part: "If you're looking for an 'intimate environment' for your MBA experience, Alfred University is well worth a look. This program serves a population of just a few dozen graduate students. The result is a 'solid business school that's convenient,' where 'students are not just another number.' As one student told us, 'The greatest strength of Alfred University is its size.' The classes are around 30 people, and 'the interaction is incredible.'"

The school recently added an MBA accounting program that qualifies accounting students to be able to obtain their CPA license (the teachers 'are some of the strongest teachers in the business school'), and there are also graduate assistantships available to any full-time MBA students who are willing to assist graduate faculty members in their area of interest in exchange for a portion of their tuition. The school is especially strong in entrepreneurial studies."

According to Robert Franek, Princeton Review senior vice president-publisher, "We recommend Alfred University as one of the best institutions a student could attend to earn a business school degree. We chose the schools we profile in this book based on our high regard for their academic programs and our reviews of institutional data we collect from the schools. We also solicit and greatly respect the opinions of students attending these schools who rate and report on their experiences at them on our 80-question student survey for the book."

The Princeton Review's survey asks business school students - some 19,000 students at the 296 schools - about their school's academics, student body, and campus life as well as about themselves and their career plans. The school profiles are based on institutional data it collected during the 2012-13 academic year and/or its student survey for the book. The Princeton Review does not rank the business schools in the book on a single hierarchical list from 1 to 295, or name one business school best overall.

Free concerts at Houghton conference

HOUGHTON--Houghton College will host the National Conference for the Christian Fellowship of Art Music Composers (CFAMC) Oct. 25-26 in the Center for Fine Arts. The conference will include six concerts that are free and open to the public.

Concerts will be held Friday, Oct. 25 from 2-3 p.m. and 4:30-5:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Friday's third concert will be from 7:30-9 p.m. in Wesley Chapel and will feature the Houghton College Philharmonia, Symphonic Winds, and College Choir.

Saturday, Oct. 26 concerts will be from 11 a.m. to noon in Wesley Chapel, 1:30-2:30 p.m. and 4:15-5:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Over 35 compositions will be performed during the six concerts.

"CFAMC conferences are intended as opportunities for art music composers, with a shared faith commitment, to experience genuine Christian fellowship," said Dr. David Davies, Houghton College professor of composition and theory and member of CFAMC.

The CFAMC is comprised of professional and academic composers, avocational composers, church musicians, and many others who support the CFAMC mission. Conference attendees will be coming from across the country.

The CFAMC was founded in 1994 by Houghton's own Dr. Mark Hijleh, associate dean for academic affairs and professor of composition and conducting. Hijleh served as the organization's president for over a decade. "This conference is something of a homecoming for CFAMC, as the very first conferences held by the fellowship were also at Houghton," said Davies.

DUBBED as House 53, this house in Wellsville, constructed by students in Alfred State's School of Applied Technology, is now available for purchase. (Photo provided)

Ed Foundation to sell new house; Ridge Walk open house planned

ALFRED--The Educational Foundation of Alfred Inc., a private foundation dedicated to improving the college community through support of educational programs, will host an open house showcasing a brand-new home (dubbed House 53) now available for purchase.

Students in Alfred State's School of Applied Technology built the home, which will be on display during Wellsville's annual RidgeWalk, Run, Race, Ride on Oct. 20 from 2 to 4 p.m.

"The Educational Foundation exists to enhance learning opportunities and improve the community through education," says Julie Hart, the foundation's president. "This home was built by students, which provided them with hands-on experience in their fields, and the proceeds from the home's sale will help create more opportunities like this in the future."

This 2,078-square-foot, two-story home includes an attached two-car garage and full basement. It is vinyl sided with a stone front and sits on 3.16 acres. The house has four bedrooms and two and a half baths, including a master bath with its own whirlpool tub, shower, and walk-in closet. It features a vaulted ceiling in the parlor, a woodburning fireplace, a formal dining room, custom oak cabinets with concrete countertops in the kitchen, and a breakfast room with a sliding glass door that opens up onto a large back deck. The home is a showcase of energy efficiency and technology, with a combination of hot water baseboard and radiant floor heating; a professional-quality phone, data, and communication networking system; and a centralized cabling and termination center for video. The asking price is $225,000.

The home, located at Meservey Hill Heights on Foundation Drive in Wellsville, New York, will be open to the public and prospective buyers during Wellsville's 21st RidgeWalk, an annual celebration of healthy outdoor experiences.

The RidgeWalk, Run, Race, Ride is part of the Eastern Grip Trail Running Series and regularly attracts hundreds of runners and mountain bikers of all ages and fitness levels. Participants enjoy the great outdoors in everything from casual two-mile road walks to eight-mile mountain bike races. The festivities culminate in a celebratory bash at Big Hill horse farm, with refreshments, music, and kids' activities.

The question of whether the State Department of Public Works will continue to service the northern section of Main Street from the intersection of Church Street north to the intersection of Route 244 may well be wrapped up in a request made this week by the village board...The trustees indicated at their Monday, Oct. 7 meeting that they would ask the State Public Works Department to widen North Main Street from Church Street as far north as Pine. The village may learn at the same time whether the state will continue to service that portion of Main Street as they have in the past...

The bid of the Ostwald Company of Staten Island for blazers for the senior band was accepted by the Alfred-Almond Central School Board of Education at a meeting Thursday night. The bid of $1,716.50 was accepted for the 50 blazers after the board considered carefully tailoring details and examined the fabrics of the various models which met the board's specifications....

The Alfred Saxons today have little belief in the old adage about ball control in football. They ran 75 offensive plays against 46 for St. Lawrence. They had the 14-5 edge in first downs and 205-142 total net yards gained. But St. Lawrence won the honors, 14-0. The difference was two pass interceptions. Jim Michaelson grabbed off the first one in the opening two minutes of the game and returned it 37 yards for a touchdown. In the third period, Carl Hoffman, a guard, intercepted and returned 78 yards for a touchdown. That was all the Larries needed...Picked as Alfred's back of the game, Bob Codispoti had a busy afternoon. His report card: 22 carries for 76 yards. Caught one pass for five. Intercepted a pass. Recovered a fumble. Returned three kickoffs for average 21. Returned three punts for average of nine. Had three tackles...

Alfred Tech cross country coach Bill Havens seems to have come up with a find in former Alfred-Almond runner, Karl Barron. The little Construction Technology freshman has brightened Havens' days recently for two reasons. First, Karl is keeping Alfred Tech's cross country in the running by helping Pioneers harriers to a 1-2 record thus far with two first place team finishes. The second reason is that Barron is a fine lightweight wrestler and it is a sure thing that Havens has a spot for Karl on his fine mat squad...Karl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Barron of Almond.

Researchers at the NYS College of Ceramics at Alfred University last week announced that they have found a new way to fabricate ceramic superconductors by using a glass-ceramic processing technique. The new fabrication method brings the production of ceramic superconducting products closer to a commercially feasible operation. Drs. Arun K. (Photo) AOW Honors Newcomers—Alfred State College's Association of Women (AOW) held its annual newcomers' dinner and membership reception in September. Posing for the photographer are several women new to the college community, plus members of the AOW Board of Directors including Lila Beth Hunter, honorary president; Sandra Bicker, assistant director of alumni relations and development; Nadine Shardlow, counselor with the Center for Learning Assistance, Wellsville campus; Judith Dresnack, MacKenzie North residence hall coordinator; Vicki Beitz, Main Gate A residence hall coordinator; Susan Hunt, AOW executive president; Kathy Sawicki, instructor, Social and Behavioral Sciences Department; Sally Bingaman, women's basketball coach; Nancy O'Connor, secretary in the Counseling Center; Dr. Eunice Davis, instructor, Social and Behavioral Sciences Department; Linda Staiger, vocal music instructor at Alfred-Almond Central School and wife of an ASC faculty member.

The month of October marks the fourth anniversary of the grand opening of New York Pizzeria in Alfred Station. Located on Route 244, across from the new Steuben Trust office, the building was erected under the direction of Lorenzo and Franco Pumilia. Lorenzo owns a small pizzeria in another part of the state. He wanted a large pizzeria and belived the college town of Alfred would provide a good business location. The business opened in October 1984 and proved successful. However, Lorenzo missed being with his family in Utica and sold the pizzeria to Gerry DiPaola. Finding the continual separation from his family in Frankfort a difficulty, he sold the business in August 1987 to current owners Marion Kellogg and Zack Whitwood...

As the song goes, "All God's children get weary when they roam, gonna make ya wanna go home, gonna make ya wanna go home." Alfred's football team has come home, finally. But perhaps not soon enough. Four games on the road to start the 1988 season resulted in a dismal 1-2-1 record. The Saxons may have taken the "wrong week off" as they had an open date Oct. 1, giving them two weeks to prepare for the trip to the North Country to face an up-and-coming St. Lawrence team. The homestanding Saints clobbered AU, 35-14...While SLU held AU tailback Ray Rogers to 67 yards on 27 carries, QB Paul McDonnell came out of a throwing slump, completing 12 of 20 passes for 210 yards and one interception. AU actually outgained SLU 348-338, but the Saints made their yards count on the scoreboard...

The Kindergarten classes observed the demonstration and enjoyed learning about the truck and seeing the equipment.

Alfred State College recently honored its retired faculty and professional staff at the first annual Pioneers' Day. Pioneers' Day was developed as a means for retired faculty and staff to return to campus to reminisce about yesterday, talk to current faculty and staff about what's happening today, and hear the college's president, Dr. Uma G. Gupta, envision the future of the college...Pioneer Retiree Awards were presented to those retired faculty and staff who left their imprint on the college, given this year to Warren L. Bouck of Alfred, dean emeritus, School of Liberal Studies; Gary T. Fraser of Hammondport, dean emeritus, School of Engineering Technologies; Robert L. Love of Canandaigua, dean emeritus, of the former School of Allied Health; George R. Morgenfeld of Almond, vice president for academic affairs, emeritus; William W. Ernest G. "Hondo" Burdick, 82, of Andover passed away peacefully at home on Friday, Oct. 10, 2003 following a lengthy illness. He was born June 5, 1921 in Wellsville to Ernest G. Sr. and Ida K. (Stump) Burdick. Mr. Burdick served in the United States Army from 1942-1962, retiring as First Sergeant. His tour of duty included the South Pacific Theater during WWII and Korea during that conflict. After retiring from the military, he owned/operated the Village Coffee Shop in Wellsville and Ernida's Good Food in Andover...

For those of you that unfortunately missed last year's epic pantomime "Cinderella" starring President Rezak of Alfred State College in a farewell performance, you are in a for a treat! Because the same band of thespians (the Alfred Community Theatre) who brought you last year's little ditty are attempting a second annual Alfred pantomime. To remind, lest you forgot, a pantomime is a great holiday tradition in the UK and Canada. It is a very silly play loosely based upon a children's story, full of current affairs jokes that is splendid fun for all the family. There is a whole treatise on the history of pantomime at a website called It's Behind You Dot Com...So what is our story this year? It is Snow White and the Tinkertown Seven. It is the story of a beautiful maiden, Snow White, cast out by her mean and jealous stepmother (Queen Armadillo, who is a man, naturally) into the dark woods with her trusty steed Dobbin. Snow White soon stumbles upon the set of a reality show in which contestants are forced to live in a small cottage with OWLCADA. Oh don't worry; they are not terrorists, just a band of Out of Work Leaders, CEO's And Despotic Aliens (OWLCADA) with a rather unfortunate choice of acronym. This has, naturally, led to them being under the scrutiny of the FBI, but a spokesman for OWLCADA said that they are not changing their name because they "thought of it first." Unbeknownst to Snow White she is being hotly pursued by the Queen's arboreal henchmen Forrest Stump, Woody Gumtree and Plank Sinatra who are to make sure she never returns...

(Photo) Winning Third Graders: Alfred-Almond Central School third graders designed buttons to be worn by the Citizens of the Week in the Catch A Kid Who Cares program throughout the year. These nine artists designs were selected. Winning artists are Sarah Mullen, Namita Neerukonda, Allie Henry, Kristy Williams, Jesse Beam, Logan Peck, Jenny Acker, Kelly Jo Sanford and Shelby Allen.

Coach Dave Murray's Alfred University Saxon football team (3-3, 1-2 Empire 8) broke open a tight game with a 27-point third quarter en route to a 41-6 Homecoming victory Saturday over visiting Hartwick.

Hornell woman to run marathon to support Patriot Guard Riders in memory of her late husband

HORNELL—Kelly Perkins of Crosby Creek Road, Hornell, will run the Marine Corps Marathon in Washington, D.C. on Sunday, Oct. 27 in honor of her late husband, Jonathan Perkins.

Kelly, a member of the Patriot Guard Riders of New York State, is accepting sponsorship to raise funds for the Patriot Guard Riders' Help on the Homefront charity. She tells her story best:

"Jon and I met in Katterbach, Germany in 1981 while both serving in the U.S. Army. After a wonderful friendship, we came to realize that we wanted to spend our life together in marriage. We took our vows on January 7, 1984 and were lovingly committed to each other for over 28 years. We enjoyed our life together and the family we raised. Our children are a testament to Jon's integrity, work ethic and compassionate spirit.

"We heard about the Patriot Guard Riders in Summer 2011 and immediately became part of an organization that supports our military, past and present. Our first mission was Devin Snyder; a mission that affected us so deeply. We continued to participate in missions throughout the rest of the year, and even into the winter and spring of 2012.

"On Friday, April 6th, I registered for my first half marathon in Buffalo, to be run Memorial weekend 2012. On Easter Sunday morning, April 8th, Jon died of a massive heart attack. When the day finally came to bury Jon, so many Patriot Guard came and stood at his funeral. We can never fully express what having them there to honor his memory meant to us. Just thinking about it even now fills me with gratitude. Jon would have loved this mission!

"I did run the half marathon with my son-in-law and continued to run to help with the sometimes overwhelming grief. Last December, I decided to run the Marine Corps Marathon in honor of Jon. Because Jon and I love(d) the Patriot Guard, I want to give all proceeds that I collect to Help on the Homefront. I am thankful to God for His mercy and grace through this time of both pain and healing, and for His protection as I train.

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, October 17

On this day in 1777, British General John Burgoyne, outmaneuvered and surrounded at Saratoga, New York, surrendered his entire army. Burgoyne was actually a brilliant field commander, but he had no military experience to prepare him for fighting an enemy that disappeared in the woods and seemed to know his next move before he did:

"The great bulk of the country is undoubtedly with the Congress, in principle and in zeal; and their measures are executed with a secrecy and dispatch that are not to be equaled. Wherever the King's forces point, militia...assemble in twenty-four hours."

County's 10-year plan promotes business, tourism

BELMONT—The Allegany County Legislature Tuesday, Oct. 15 adopted a 10-year comprehensive plan for 2013-2023 aimed at stronger business and tourism development by coordinating and implementing enhanced efforts in four major categories—lowering property taxes, promoting county image and reputation, collecting and storing digital data, and addressing regional sustainability.

The new plan builds upon the first comprehensive plan developed in 2008 that resulted in several major accomplishments, including the expansion of broadband internet service throughout the county, the retention of new owners for Swain Resort and its ongoing renovation, creation of a county chamber of commerce and manufacturing council, and construction and renovation of the Allegany County Courts system facility and renovations in the County Office Buildings.

“The 2013-23 Comprehensive Plan is another well thought-out document that provides the strategies and subsequent actions we need over the next 10 years for Allegany County to prosper as an attractive place to live, to visit and to grow your business,” said Curtis W. Crandall, chairman of the Allegany County Board of Legislators.

Regarding the four major strategic categories, the plan’s stated goals, supported by a number of prioritized actions, are to:

- Reduce the individual tax burden by increasing the property tax base throughout Allegany County and reduce the cost of government
- Improve the pride that Allegany County residents feel and show in the county
- Create a central data repository for county-related planning and geographic information to use in programs and projects
- Create and maintain conditions under which communities utilize resources in the most effective ways to permit social and economic growth, while also preserving natural resources

Among the prioritized actions called for in the comprehensive plan to achieve these goals are:

- Build-out the Crossroads area that is planned for I-86 and Route 19 Area
- Construct the 417 East waterline near Wellsville
- Communications and broadband expansion
- Improvements and development at Swain Resort

- Internal marketing and public relations campaign for Allegany County Business and Development
- Agricultural development and improvement of markets for products
- Job creation through technology transfer
- Maintenance and enhancement of a priority list for infrastructure development
- Increase inter-governmental/municipal cooperation

“The planning process was an extensive effort by many representatives of different county constituencies and was entirely produced with in-county resources without any external expenses,” said County Planner Kier Dirlam. “The plan provides a great roadmap for our future.”

The Allegany County 2013-23 Comprehensive Plan is available online at <http://www.allegany-planning.com>

The comprehensive plan was developed through the Allegany

County Comprehensive Planning Board, which included county legislators Theodore L. Hopkins, District I; Kevin S. LaForge, District IV; and Frederick Sinclair, District II; county planning board members Aaron Dale Foster of Andover, Lee Gridley of Wellsville and Charles Jessup of Alfred Station; and at-large members Edward Eicher of Wellsville, Richard Ewell of Wellsville, and Michael Johnson of Grove.

Martha speaks to county's Democrats

By ELAINE HARDMAN
Special to the Alfred Sun

WELLSVILLE—Martha Robertson is tired of attacks on Social Security and handouts to big corporations – corporate welfare – and thinks the best way to change things is to unseat Tom Reed and get her voice in Congress. Robertson presented her qualifications to a packed room at the Wellsville Country Club and then boldly took questions directly from her audience.

Martha’s been a teacher and business owner while being a mother and grandmother. She has been on the Tompkins County Legislature for over a decade and has been its Chair since 2010.

Martha is on the New York State Association of Counties and serves on statewide commissions regarding mandate relief and Medicaid redesign, both of which would be on her to-do list as a national representative. Martha’s mom taught her that it’s not enough to care about what happens, you have to step up and make it happen.

In Tompkins County she has made it happen with economic development and permanent jobs that can’t be outsourced as well as investments in education.

Responding to one question she criticized Reed for his vote for the government shut down saying he stopped veteran’s benefits, cancer trials and head start for thousands of citizens.

She pointed out that Tom Reed’s law firm’s focus is on collecting medical debt from people, most of whom went bankrupt while running up tremendous debt from huge copays and services not covered by their insurance.

She also criticized Reed for being on the Ways and Means committee but not personally paying his taxes on time.

Someone asked her about fracking and she said that Tom Reed has accepted $159,000 from gas industry sources in the last 2 filing periods. While people say that fracking is progress, what they mean is that fracking

She wants fracking to be looked at as a totality. Do a health study to see how the practice affects air and water in the area and its impact on workers. Do a cumulative impact study. If there are 7,000 trucks driving to and from each well, what does that mean for the roads?

Do a cost benefit study. Martha said that states are doing benefit studies looking at the money that would flow into an area because of fracking but she said a fiscally responsible study would also look at the costs to the area and see what the total impact is.

She noted that the majority of New Yorkers oppose fracking according to polls. If the people don’t want fracking, elected leaders have to listen. Fracking jobs are temporary and so they don’t address long term problems. One real problem seems to be that farmers need financial help to keep their farms. The answer has to deal with that problem long term and not be distracted by the fracking bubble.

School taxes were also questioned. It’s hard, Martha said, to pay school taxes in a bad year. When taxes are based on income, you pay more when you do better but when taxes are based on land value and you have a bad year, it’s harder to pay. We have to look at how we pay for things and we have to ask the 1% to pay their share the way they used to.

Martha Robertson can be reached at 607-220-6538. Her website is MarthaForNY.com. Her presentation was sponsored by the Allegany County Democratic Party.

HITS AND MISSES:

The exciting, wild, action-packed season for the Alfred Saxons (3-2) football squad came to a halt over the weekend in Ithaca as the Bombers stopped AU cold, 17-6 in front of a Homecoming Weekend crowd at Butterfield Stadium. Ithaca improved to (4-1) on the year after a loss the week prior to Hartwick ... Alfred's next opponent. It is the first E8 conference defeat for Alfred as league play will extend on out now for most. SJ Fisher and Salisbury, both undefeated early on in league play, collide this Saturday.

In other NCAA Division III football news of note, it was: the SJ Fisher Cardinals (5-0) blasting Hartwick, 37-14 ... Salisbury crushing Buffalo State, 34-6 ... Utica pouring it on over Frostburg State, 44-27 ... St. Lawrence nipping RPI, 14-10 ... and Hobart (5-0) rolling along over Springfield by a 49-21 tally.

Stephen Baker and his UPenn men's soccer teammates played to a 0-0 tie at Columbia in Ivy League action on Saturday night. All the Bakers were there, plus Katie and Kelli Norton along with my daughter, Lauren for the NYC outing. UPenn is at (4-6-1) on the year with the Columbia contest the first of three-straight Saturday night outings.

It was a weekend split of soccer games for Christy Kaznowski and her Western Carolina Catamounts women's soccer team as they fell to Samford, 2-1 but rallied to top Chattanooga in overtime, 1-0. Team is 7-6-1 overall, 2-4 in Southern Conference action. Pretty sure Kaz and Patti were at the game on Sunday ... as Kaz not at the Syracuse-NC State football game on Saturday.

As the Section Five tournament nears, Coach Kristy Sherman's (Arkport) girls soccer team is at 6-3-4 on the season with three regular season games left on the slate. The Webster Schroeder Warriors are at (8-2-3) after topping Penfield but falling to Fairport.

Just a batch of NYS vanity plates spotted of late: LDYBUG 5, ZZYYGG, BLAZES ... Pulos, PEACE LG, WICKEDMR ... Scummer's golf game, MRGNLWAY ... of the Broncos?, HEAVYMTL and BLKISBTL ... on two sweet cars headed up Interstate 87, AHS XC 1 ... have to check with "Doc" Moore on that one, 2D RINK ... go Bruins!, ADKS 4ME and ADK LOON ... near Saratoga area.

Speaking of Alfred State College cross country coach, Gary "Doc" Moore ... an A-A Hall of Famer, he ran in the Baltimore Marathon over the weekend and tallied a 3:29 mark in his first marathon run in 13-years! This according to Big D in Florida. Moore qualified for the 2014 Boston Marathon with that time and was fifth in his age group (55-59) as well.

Carlye Baker, daughter of John and Colleen Baker of Fairport, is running the Marine Corps Marathon on October 27th.

Daughter Lauren is running the New York City Marathon on November 3rd.

Some great action in the MLB playoffs with Detroit-Boston and Los Angeles-St. Louis going at it in their respective leagues with the winners advancing to the World Series. Sticking with the Cards and Red Sox.

Had an opportunity a number of years ago (think 1979) to go to a World Series game in NYC at Yankee Stadium, Dodgers and Yanks. Joe Beckerman from Hornell invited me to go along, got to see Ron Guidry pitch and the Yanks win! Great seats.

Former Quincy Hawks baseball coach and ex-MLB scout, Jim Pransky has written a book titled: "Josh and Josh, Small Towns, Big Leagues" which is about Josh Kinney and Josh Rabe, both former QU Hawks stars and both who made it to the big leagues! Pat Atwell took over for Pransky at Quincy, coached Kinney and Rabe at the D2 school and is mentioned "big-time" in the book. Pransky was a scout for a number of seasons and knows former A-A catcher, Top Shop first sacker and ex-MLB scout as well, Brian S. Granger. More on this book next week.

Joe Girardi has inked a contract to manage the NY Yankees for four-more years. Have to believe roster changes galore are in the works for the Yanks. Mariano Rivera ... retired, Andy Pettitte ... retired, Derek Jeter ... able to bounce back?, A-Rod ... suspended?, a bunch of key free agents including Robinson Cano and can "Tex" return to 1B after missing most of year with a wrist injury? Could be some rough times ahead for NY.

Julie Jock ... awesome cookies.

Michelle Milkovich ... hope back on your feet.

Some great action in the NFL over the weekend past ... again. Peyton Manning and the Denver Broncos zip along undefeated, Tom Brady rallies the Pats over the Saints and Drew Brees, the Bills lose at home in overtime, the KC Chiefs are still undefeated and the NJ Giants are winless. Yikes. Great game this week as Denver & Manning head to Indy to face the Colts. Old QB versus new QB.

It was off to Lake George and Saratoga this past Columbus Day weekend for three-rounds of golf with McDrip ... hailing out of Newburgh. As it turned out, we couldn't have asked for a better weekend, weather-wise. Absolutely perfect, a sun-drenched, late fall couple of afternoons in the ADK's and not bad at Saratoga on Monday either. Saturday we played at Top of the World overlooking Lake George. Spectacular views! No contest this day as McDrip fell, 95-

105. On Sunday morning it was off to Cronin's Golf Resort in nearby Warrensburg and what a place. Very unique course, beside the Hudson River and with some great views as well. Foliage was past-peak but still pretty sharp to see while playing. McDrip narrowed the gap but dropped a, 95-99 decision. We finished up at the Saratoga Spa Golf course on Monday and the Alfred State grad finally came away a winner, 98-99. Ouch. Paired with others each day, including a former football player at Hobart. All great guys, fun times.

Cronin's ... most enjoyable place. The owner is a character! Great time in Lake George Saturday night, Sunday the town was deserted.

A-A grads Jake Taft and "Mr. 195" hit the links at Eagle Bay in Florida over the weekend past (minus Our Man Frank) and Taft prevailed, 89-105.

Off to Alfred on Saturday with AU photographer, Leo Nealon to take in the Saxons-Hartwick football game.

At Butterfield:

Bombers' ball control stalls Saxons, 17-6

ITHACA—The Alfred University football team dropped a 17-6 decision at Ithaca College in an Empire 8 Conference matchup Saturday afternoon.

After a scoreless first quarter, Ithaca jumped on top with two second-quarter touchdowns to take a 14-0 lead at halftime. The

Stellar defense leads A-A boys to 13th straight

ALMOND--Legendary Alfred University Football Coach Alex Yunevich, considered by many as a defensive genius, always said that if his team can prevent the foe from scoring, there's a good chance of winning.

Alfred-Almond Boys Soccer Coach Burt Turner may never have known Alex Yunevich but it would seem his Eagles are following that philosophy with much success this season.

The Eagles, who gave up two goals to rival Arkport in the second game of the season, have become very stingy, quite remarkably giving up only one goal since--to Jasper-Troupsburg on Oct. 3. And, 38 seconds after that J-T goal, A-A retaliated with Colin Johnson netting a goal, adding the game-winner five minutes later in that 2-1 win.

So the Eagles have outscored their opponents 37-3 in winning 13 straight games en route to a gawdy 14-1 record. Yet, having been moved up this year to Class C2 in Section V and competing against many Class D schools in the Steuben League, the Eagles will likely be seeded only fourth when the Section V Tournament brackets are announced on Saturday, Oct. 19.

While A-A's defense has been stellar with goalkeeper Sam Gorman having recorded 13 shutouts this season, the Eagle scoring of late has been just enough to win.

In games played last week, A-A recorded three wins by identical 1-0 scores.

A-A 1, Addison 0

Cory Olix, assisted by John Mormino, netted a first period goal at 24:54, which was all the Eagles needed for the win over Addison on Monday, Oct. 7.

A-A 1, Genesee Valley 0

In a battle with Allegany County rival Genesee Valley Thursday night, Oct. 10, the Eagles eked out a 1-0 win in overtime as Colin Johnson, assisted by Levi Lawrence, netted the game-winner at 84:32 of the game.

A-A 1, Campbell-Savona 0

Levi Lawrence, assisted by Nicholas Muhleisen, scored the game winner in the second overtime period at 95:39 to give A-A a 1-0 win over Campbell-Savona on Saturday, Oct. 12.

The Eagles were to play at Haverling-Bath in its regular season finale in a tune-up for the Sectionals.

Bombers added a third-quarter field goal before the Saxons broke through with a touchdown with 9:49 left in the game.

AU freshman quarterback Tyler Johnson (East Syracuse-Minoa) hit senior tight end Alec Ladonis (Nescopeck, PA/Berwick) with a four-yard scoring toss to cap a 13-play, 73-yard drive that took 4:21; the extra point failed and AU trailed 17-6. AU had two more drives, but both ended in interceptions.

With the loss, AU falls to 3-2 overall, 1-1 in Empire 8 play. The Bombers improve to 4-1 (2-1 Empire 8). The teams were evenly matched, as Ithaca out-gained AU 380 yards to 371 and held a slight 22-20 advantage in first downs. The visiting Saxons, however, had three turnovers, while the host Bombers made no miscues.

Johnson completed 21-of-43 passes for 292 yards, a touchdown and two interceptions. Senior wide receiver Jonathan Ruffin (Copiague) caught six passes for 146 yards; senior wideout Josh Phillips (Syracuse/West Genesee) caught five for 50; and senior wide receiver David Lee Tack (Newark) caught three for 52. Alfred was held to 79 yards rushing, with Johnson accounting for 59.

Ithaca tailback Rakim Moore ran for 170 yards and a TD and quarterback Tom Dempsey threw for 166 yards and a touchdown to Brendan Wojtowicz.

Sophomore middle linebacker Corry Wallace (Mastic Beach/Longwood) had a game-high 13 tackles (one for loss, one-half sack) to lead the AU defense.

Senior linebacker D.J. Welch (Avon) had 10 tackles (one-half sack); sophomore linebacker Peter Diak (West Henrietta/Rush-Henrietta) had nine tackles; and senior defensive back Seiji Hinton (Freeport) had two tackles for loss.

Linebacker Jake Santora (nine tackles) and defensive back Tom Scanlon (forced fumble) each had an interception to pace the Bomber defense.

Alfred is in action next on Saturday, Oct. 19, at 1 p.m. at home against Hartwick.
